CATALOGUE

OF THE

ASHMOLEAN MANUSCRIPTS.

No. 1.

An oblong octavo volume, clasped, containing 240 leaves of paper.

Album Amicorum, quod secum gestabat Dominus
"LVDOLFF VON DEM WERDER: 1618."

The autographs, mottos, and armorial bearings of a great number of German nobles, clergymen, and men of letters, are recorded in this book, as memorials of the possessor's friendship. The latest are dated 1627; in which year also the autographs of the family of Nassau were written at the beginning of this book: namely, of Prince Frederic Henry, Charles Louis, Rupert, Maurice, Elizabeth Louise, (ff. 8—12.) and Henry Count de Nassau, f. 22.

No. 2.

A small book, consisting of 44 paper leaves, in 24^o.

1. "The Nativity of Mr. Tybinham's child, shewing whatt accidents shall happen to it in this life, with directions to the Parents through the various and most important encounters of this life." f. 3^a.

Under this title Ashmole has written, "This was done by Mr. JO. HEYDON, an Ignoramus and a cheate." (See No. 339, art. 11.)

2. "The Scheame of the Nativity of Mr. Tybinham, from which is given geomantical directions and annuall judgement for his better conduct through the various and most important encounters of this life, and usefull for non but himself." f. 24—29.

No. 3.

An oblong clasped pocket-book of asses-skin, in 12^o. on which are written with pencil—

Schemes of the naticities of Andrew Clugh (f. 2^a), Edw. King of Houndsditch (2^b), Anne Tanner (6^a), Wm. Redding (8^a), Mrs. Harris (10^b), Eliz. Haynes (12^b), Mary Atkin, and Barbara wife of John Horrobin of Low-Layton (16^a), Mr. Cowell (16^b), Tho. Bruen (18^b), Anne Cook of Lothbury, and Eliz. Wandale (20^a); by JOHN BOOKER the Astrologer.

Various memoranda of Births, etc. among which (f. 12) are notes of the birth of Wincellaus Hollar the engraver, and of his son James.

The skin is interleaved with paper, containing—

Astrological tables of the situation of the planets throughout the year, at the latitude of 51^o. 42'.

On the last leaf is this sapphic stanza, subscribed by JOHN BOOKER:

"Si quis errantem videat libellum,
Reddat; aut collo dabitur capistrum,
Tortori vestes, volucricque corpus,
Ossa sepulchro."

No. 4.

An oblong book, in 12^o. consisting of 71 leaves of paper; written about the year 1600.

1. De morbo gonorrhœa et ejus remedio. f. 1^a.
2. De 16 figuris Geomantiæ, cum diversarum notarum explicatione. 5.
3. "Hic incipiunt Flores quæstionum et judiciorum veritatis artis Geomantiæ. De quæstione primæ domus." 7—11.
4. "Of the planets or 7 dayes of the weeke with the figures attributed unto them." 28^b.
5. "To know a man's name by this Alphabet" (consisting of dots arranged in various shapes); with various geomantical figures and tables. 29.
6. "Tabula imaginum figurarum, cum naturis et proprietatibus suis." 32.

To this title (written with blue ink) is added by the same hand, "Rich. Regis 21." and in the lower corner of the page is written "Ex Martino Hispano." This article and the following seem to be exact transcripts from an antient MS.

7. "Rosarium Regis RICHARDI de figuris affirmantibus et prohibentibus effectum quærentis et rei quæsita in xxxv questionibus per ordinem alphabeti subsequen." etc. 40—42.
8. "GERARDUS Crimenensis. Si interrogatus sis utrum cibaria in convivio lethalia sint." Variæ quæstiones ex eo auctore decerptæ. 44.

9. "Observationes ex libro Geomantiae compilato per magistrum MARTINUM HISPANUM Abbatem de Cernatis in ecclesia Burgen. Si quis quasi-erit utrum moriatur eger." 47^b.
10. Variæ figuræ super quæstionibus de ægrotis. 49—52.
11. Quando Geomantia non debet exerceri. 53^b.
12. Figura quæ accidit super Johanne de Gorham infirmo. 54^b.
13. Two square figures, drawn 29 July 1605, and 3 Oct. 1597. f. 57^b.
14. Rules for questions on sick people; some in English, some in Latin. 58.
15. "De amicitia et odio planetarum." 62.
16. Virtutes planetarum, secundum Ptolemæum et Cardanum. 62^b.
17. Tabulæ domorum cælestium, et membrorum corporis humani. 63^b.
18. "De domibus et significationibus earum." 64^b.
The rest of this article is at f. 56 and 68.
19. Rules "In erecting of a figure," and various remarks of the like kind, from f. 65 to the end.
20. Figures set up on different occasions. 67^b—70.
One was "for my father being troubled with a hote ague. Anno 1605. Septem. 14." f. 68^b.

No. 5.

A small volume in 8^o. consisting of 42 leaves of vellum, in thick parchment covers, with a horn back: neatly written in the XIVth century. This curious little book is now preserved in a case.

FRATRIS NICHOLAI DE LINEA, (SEU LINNENSIS,) S. T. P. Carmelite, opus quod nuncupatur "Kalendarium," ad latitudinem et longitudinem civitatis Oxoniæ compositum, "pro quatuor cyclis decennovenalibus immediate sequentibus" annum 1386.

Ista autem in eo continentur:—

1. Præfatio, operis naturam et usum exponens. Quia Christus Jesus. f. 1^b.
2. Calendarium ipsum. 2.
3. "Tabula eclipsium solis pro primo ciclo cujus principium est annus Christi 1387, finis vero 1404." item pro aliis cyclis; et eodem modo lunæ eclipses notantur. 29.
4. "Figure eclipsium Solis" (30^b.) et Lunæ (31^b.) cum descriptionibus brevibus.
5. "Tabula festorum mobilium." 33^b.
This table shows the days of the month on which the feasts of Septuagesima, Easter, and Whitsuntide should fall, by the cycle for the year set in the first column, and the Sunday-letter over the top.
6. "Tabula ad sciendum in quo signo fuerit luna quolibet die quantum ad medium motum." 34.
7. "Tabula pro littera dominicali inveniendâ," post annum 1381. f. 34.
8. A Picture showing what parts of the human body were imagined to be affected by the signs of the zodiac; with voices, or descriptive labels, in Latin. 34^b.

9. "Tabula ad sciendum quis planeta[rum]* dominatur pro omni hora diei et noctis incipiendo diem ab ortu solis;" cum disticho de eorum virtutibus. 35.

* Vide No. 210, f. 10^b.

10. "Nota quem humorem quisque planeta eicit.—Saturnus." 35.
11. "Tabula ad inveniendum dignitates planetarum in signis." 35^b.
12. Tabula docens ubi sit "Ascendens" in quoque signo "in eireulo directo," et "Equaciones domorum ad latitudinem 41 gra. et 40 minutorum." 36.
13. Canones ad usum istarum tabularum, sub his titulis rubricatis:—

"Canon pro gradu solis inveniendõ in signis omni die.—Canon tabule conjunctionum et opposicionum solis et lune.—Canon ad sciendum horam de clok in solis ortu et occasu.—Canon ad [etc.] omni die artificiali.—Canon ad sciendum horam inquam diei artificialis.—Canon tabule eclipsium solis et lune.—Canon tabule festorum mobilium et littere dominicalis.—Canon pro gradu lune inveniendõ in signis omni die.—Canon pro ascendente inveniendõ.—Canon ad sciendum tempus aptum pro sanguinis minutione.—Canon pro medicinis dandis et recipiendis." f. 39—42^b.

In fine sic—"Explicit Kalendarium [fratris] NICHOLAI DE LINEA." Media vox deleta est.

Throughout this curious little volume the Arabic or Indian numerals are used, which began to be applied to astronomical calendars a century before, and to other purposes in the fourteenth or fifteenth century. These tables were composed at the request of John of Gaunt, Duke of Lancaster, as a continuation of the tables formerly composed by master Walter de Elvenden, for three cycles, or 57 years, which ended in 1386. (Vide MS. Digb. 176.) Chaucer thus mentions the present work in the beginning of his treatise of the Astrolabye: "The thirde partye shall contayne divers tables—and many an other conclusion, after the Kalenders of the reverent clerkes, frere John Somer, and frere N. Leine." See Bishop Tanner's Bibl. Britan. p. 546, and Tyrwhitt's Glossary to Chaucer, in v. 'Somer.' Compare the MSS. No. 370, No. 391, v. and No. 789, viii.

No. 6.

A very curious book, consisting of 14 quarto leaves of vellum, folded into the 24^o. size, gathered at the lower extremity into a back which forms a semicircular thumb-piece, having a loop to admit a string, for the purpose of hanging it on a girdle. It contains—

An ancient Calendar, with divers astrological notes and tables.

Each month occupies the inner side of one leaf. On that half of the other side which is folded inwardly, are written various astronomical and astrological rules, with technical verses, and their explanations. Thus, behind August—

"Incipit tractatus de dispositione hominis secundum constellaciones. Sciendum est quod signis."

Behind October is a piece of old English, beginning—Ciprianus sayth Also yr be sume dayes unhappy and perlois to worke: a list of them follows. Septembe: has been cut out. On the front of each folded leaf are written the name of the month, and prognostications of the weather, etc.

The three last leaves are wider; their contents are—

1. "Tabula DIONISII de magno ciclo paschali," cum explicatione sic incipiente, Ista tabula dicitur. "Tabula Planetarum," cum explicatione incip. In ista tabula doctur qualiter omnis plancta dominatur in die naturali.

Tabula festorum mobilium.

2. "Tabula Lune ad sciendum in quo signo sit omni die et in quo gradu signi:" cum regulis ad discendum inde tempestatem.
3. "Tabula eclipsium Solis pro tribus ciclis," (scilicet ab anno 1411 ad 1462,) item Lunæ: adjicitur "Canon" explicativus.

On a fly-leaf at the beginning of this book, is an antient note, beginning, "my brother Richard Bataille tolde me how that Thomas Mery of bisshope fford is diseasid:" and on one at the end are prognostications from the wind, beg. Sunt quidam Philosophi ventorum et temporum periti. In the Calendar is noted (by a later hand) the obit of Edw. Woode, 19 Aug. 1499.

No. 7.

This MS. (which cannot now be found) was, in 1697, thus described in Dr. Bernard's general Catalogue of MSS. (No. 6657.)—

"Calendarium circa annum 1390. membr."

No. 8.

A piece of vellum, of the size of half a folio leaf cut lengthwise; written, on both sides, early in the XIVth century. It is folded up into a small square. On the inner side is—

1. A prognosticatory Calendar for the thirty days of the moon's age, arranged in four columns, which are headed with the following rhymes: "pys rewle ys gode for lettÿge of blod—pys for iug . . . hosbond & wy . . . & for to lyue gode lyfe—pys of chylde & zong what day is ougt & what is nozt—pys . . . god for takÿg"

Compare the curious poem at the end of No. 189. On the back are the two following articles:

2. A table showing the dominion of the planets for every hour in the week.
The good planets are distinguished by red letters. Above are five or six lines of English text, too much worn to be intelligible.
3. A Picture showing the influence of the celestial signs on the members of the human body.
More rudely drawn than the one in No. 5. art. 8.

No. 9.

An imperfect set of astrological tables, consisting of 5 parchment leaves, each folded up to the size of six inches in length and one inch in breadth; which are attached to a parchment label at the lower extremity. The first is indorsed—

1. "Regula tabularum." Sic incipit, Ad noticiam hujus kalendarii est primo notandum.
2. Part of a Calendar for the year 1451, containing the three first months.
3. The months of July, August, and September for the same year.
The other two portions are lost.
4. "Tabula que docet que planeta regit omni hora diei." Item, "Tabula que docet invenire literam dominicalem et annum bisextilem. Et alia tabula de festis mobilibus." Etiam planetarum explanatio, inc. Planete sunt septem.

5. "Tabula lune ad sciendum in quo signo est." Item, "Tabula lune ad sciendum gradum." Cum regulis ad usum earum: Quando luna est in ariete.

No. 10.

A parchment roll, consisting of 6 membranes, fairly written early in the XVth century.

The Statutes of the Order of the Garter, as ordained by HENRY V.; translated into English.

The first words are, In the worshiþe of God, saint Mary the glorious virgine, and saint George: the last are, And also the said collar shall not be sold, put to pledge, given nor aliened, for nede or cause whate soever that it be. The original draught of this translation is contained in No. 14, and the text from which it was made is in the MS. here next following.

No. 11.

A paper roll, consisting of 6 sheets, written in Ashmole's time.

The Statutes of the Order of the Garter, as ordained by HENRY V.; in French.

Beginning—[Al honneur de Dieu et de la glorieuse, and ending se besoyng en estoit. This is probably a transcript of the roll which Ashmole procured from the Earl of Denbigh, and from which he printed the fourth article of the Appendix to his great work on the Order of the Garter, 1672, fol. See No. 20, and the foregoing roll.

No. 12.

A vellum roll, consisting of 5 membranes, written in the XVth century.

Genealogia Regum et Principum Britannorum Saxonum et Normannorum, usque ad Henricum V. diducta, et per aliam manum ad Edwardum V. continuata.

This roll wants the uppermost membrane or membranes. The genealogy is accompanied with paragraphs of history, of which the first words on the left-hand side are, qui contemporaneus regi Francorum Karolo magno; and the next paragraph begins, Iste Henricus cum Hors fratre suo. On the right hand the first words are, ad mare vastaverunt, and Iste Constantinus. After the beginning of the Heptarchy, the succession of the Archbishops of Canterbury from S. Augustin, runs down the left side, and that of the Welsh princes down the right side. At Edward the Confessor is written "Prophecia regis Edwardi dum ageret in extremis sibi divinitus revelata," with "Exposicio prophecie." William the Conqueror begins, Iste Willielmus dictus nothus: and the last paragraph ends, ubi dominus Edwardus debuisset succedere ex linea descendente dicti Philippi pulcri. Compare the Arundel MS. in the Heralds' College, No. 29, art. 12.

No. 13.

A parchment roll of 8 membranes, ingrossed and painted in imitation of the original; probably for Ashmole; for it seems to have been made in his time.

Procession of the Abbats, Bishops, and Temporal Peers, to "The Parleament holden at Westm' the iiiijth day off February, the thride yere off oure Sovereigne lord Kyng Henry the viijth."

Above each peer is painted his shield of arms with his name. An account of this roll has been communicated to the Gentleman's Magazine for September 1832, vol. CH. ii. p. 200.

No. 14.

A pamphlet, consisting of 6 sheets of paper, in folio, written in the time of Henry VIII. It was formerly kept as a roll, but is now bound with Nos. 18, 19, 20, and 31.

A translation of the Statutes of the Order of the Garter, as ordained by HENRY V.

This seems to be the original corrected draught from which the roll No. 10 was fairly transcribed. After the first 11 pages the reader must turn to f. 8, and from f. 9^a to 6^b, where the concluding paragraph (article 41) is written. These Statutes went quite out of use in 14 Henry VIII.

No. 15. (A.)

A curious vellum roll, consisting of 6 membranes, written in the end of the XIVth or beginning of the XVth century. The head of this roll is torn and much defaced.

1. Blazon of the Arms of the Sovereigns of Europe, in French.

The last, (Le Roy de Poyne), is followed by this entry:—“Le Senate de Rome port de gules a cynk lettres dor cest assavoir S. P. Q. R. et il les port enbelif en ses armes que signifient Signatus populusque Romanus.” Three like rolls are in the Harleian collection, marked A. 5, 6, 7.

*2. Blazon of the Arms of the English nobility in the time of Edward III., to the number of 10 Earls, 72 Barons, and about 750 Knights; in French.

Thus beginning—“Le Conte de Lancastre* port les armes le Roy Dangleter a un label des armes le Roy de France.” The last 24 names were added by another antient hand; of which the first is Mons' Augustine de Styward, and the name immediately foregoing is Mons' Robert Pouterell. The last membrane being blank on the obverse side, the reader must now turn to the back of the roll; where may be found the following articles.

3. An imperfect collection of Heraldic Charges, chiefly crosses.

4. A short treatise on Heraldic Bearings, beginning—

Fyrste as harowdes recorden was atte the Sege of Troy with inne the towne and wyth owte for the dowtynesse of the dedis that was shewed on bothe partyes and for as moche as ther was so howey multitude of pepyl that one myghte nowste be knowe from a noluyr, etc.

Ending—he beryth sylver and gowlys belly.

This article is on the second and third membranes.

5. The Earl Marshal's fees at a coronation.

Fairly written in the time of Q. Elizabeth, on the fourth membrane. This antient document begins—Le Countie Mareschall doit aver le palfrey le roy ove tout le harneis.

6. A long list of Peers and Knights.

Written in the XVth century, but on what occasion it does not appear. The first name is “Erle of Huntynghone,” and the last “S' Ric' Tempasse.”

7. A computation of the number of parish churches, knights' fees, etc. in England.

Written by the same hand as art. 5.

No. 15. (B.)

On a small roll of paper, 4 inches wide, and 5½ sheets in length, are neatly tricked, by a hand of the time of Q. Elizabeth,

* Annis 1345—51. Compare the valuable collection of painted Arms of the same period, in No. 805, iv.; and Mr. Grimaldi's roll, which is printed in the Collectanea Topographica et Genealogica, (Dec. 1834,) II. 320—8.

Twenty-five Coats of Arms, of the Princes of Europe.

Those which have names written over the top, are:—4. “The armes of the Danis king. [5] Duke of Normandie. [6] The armes of the King of Ireland. [7] Prince of Noort-walles. [8] The prince of Southwales. [9] Duke of Cornwalle. [10] Erle of Chester. [12] King Henry the second. [13] King Henry [i. e. Edward] the thirth. [19] The Erle of Anyoie. [20] Duke of Aquitaine. [22] Erle of Marche. [23] Erle of Olster. [24] Erle of Gloucester.”

No. 16.

A vellum roll, consisting of 3 membranes, indented along the top through the word Cyrogaphum.

“Registrum omnium librorum vestimentorum reliquiarum calicum et aliorum diversorum ornamentorum Libere Capelle Regie infra Castrum de WYNDESORE etc. Anno regni regis Ricardi secundi octavo tempore domini WALTERI ALMALY tunc ibidem Custodis factum etc.” (8 Ric. II. 1384-5.)

The heads of this inventory are thus noted in the margin: Membr. 1. “Libri in choro—Libri diversarum scientiarum cathenati in ecclesia—Libri legum in armario—Vestimenta—Cape—[m. 2] Panni—Jocalia et reliquie infra tabulam summi altaris—Jocalia et reliquie semper stantes super summum altare extra tabulam—Reliquie non incluse—Morsus—[m. 3] Calices—Corporalia—Paxille—Candelabra—Turribularia—Naves—Cruces—Phiole—Pelves—Superaltaria—Mitra pro episcopo puerorum—Pixides—Crisatorium—Campana—Baculi—Parure—Pecie [scilicet panni pretiosi]—Auricularia—Quissini—Tuaill'—Albe et Amict' sine paruris—Velum cum ridello—Feretra—Tapeta—Gladii cum galeis—Mantella—Jocalia et reliquie in erario—Corone—Coffr' cum botell'—Sudaria—Vexilla.”

There are many additions and interlineations, made subsequently by antient hands: compare the other roll, No. 22, which was made twenty-five years after this. A transcript, made at second hand, is in No. 1123, ix.

No. 17.

A small roll, consisting of 3 sheets of paper, written in the XVIth century; torn at the top. It is indorsed thus,—“Consernyng Garter King at armes:” to which is added, (as it seems by the hand of Fr. Thyne, Lancaster Herald,) “as the said garter woold have hyt, but he never had hyt thus, nor never shall have, I trust.”

1. Articles relative to the duties, privileges, and fees, belonging to the office of Garter principal King of Arms.

They begin King of armes of thordre named garter, the which for the dignite of and end thus: and to save the sayd officers in asmoche as they maye keepyng right and equite. Then follow—

2. “Certain articles concernyng the other Kinges of Armes.”

Beginning—Item the other—but it was left unfinished in the third line.

No. 18.

This and the two following numbers were formerly folded up in separate sheets, and kept among the rolls: they are now bound in a volume with No. 14 and 31.

ASMOLE's notes of the Ceremonies to be performed by the Knights and Officers of the Order of the Garter, in celebrating the feast of S. George at Windsor, "Anno 1661."

The following titles are indorsed on these papers :

- "1. Proceeding to y^e chapterhouse on the eve of the feast. Knights elect and Deputies called into chapterhouse. 1661." f. 1.
- "2. Ceremonies performed at the entrance into the quire. Fetching in the K^{ts} elect etc. Their installacōn." 3.
- "3. Ceremonies performed in service tyme on the eve. Proceedings out of the quire, [and] to supper." 5.
- "4. Proceeding on the feast-day in the morning to y^e chappell. The grand procession." 7.
- "5. Proceeding to the offringe." 9.
- "6. Ceremonies in the hall at dinner." 11.
- "7. Evening of the feast and next morning." 13.

This article is headed, "Observacōns 13 Car. 2. at Windsor:" the next is a little narrow book of 12 leaves.

8. "A breife ceremoniall, if the feast of St. George be held at Whitehall." 15—20^b.

No. 19.

Like Ceremonials for the year 1663, by ELIAS ASHMOLE, esq.

The first 6 articles exactly correspond in title and substance with those in No. 18, except the addition of marginal notes, which consist of corrections or additions concerning the actual observances.

7. "Offring of atchievmentes." f. 13.
8. "Notes prepared for the Installation 3 June 1672." 15, 16.

No. 20.

Six sheets of paper, containing—

1. Notes prepared by ASHMOLE as the skeletons of the ninth, tenth, eleventh, twelfth, thirteenth, and sixteenth chapters, of his work intitled "The Institution, Laws, and Ceremonies of the most noble Order of the Garter," which was printed at London, 1672, in folio.

Their agreement with the execution of the plan may be seen in the "Contents" prefixed to that volume. The next leaf contains—

2. Notes used in preparing the eighth section of chapter xvi. (p. 443.) f. 13.

This is followed by one sheet, also written by ASHMOLE, and intitled—

3. "Some things to be observed by the right hoble the Earle of Craven. Proctor to his highness the Prince Elector Palatine of the Rhyne, in reference to his Installation at Windsor." 14.

No. 21.

A vellum roll, consisting of 3 membranes, fairly written at the time to which the document relates.

The Act for the Attainder of Henry VI. and many of his adherents therein named; which was passed by the first Parliament in the reign of Edward IV. 1461.

It begins thus—"For asmoche as Henry late Kyng Henry the sext. ayenst the honoure and trouth that owe to be stablysshed in eny xp'ien Prynce:" and ends thus—"And also ccclvij. li. xvj. s. iij. d. ob. yet oweyng of the dette of the seid Rob't son of Wault' [Hungerford] yf the seid sōme can be puel due."

This Act is not printed in the authentic edition of the Statutes of the Realm, published by authority of the Commissioners for Public Records; but occurs on the Rolls of Parliament, vol. V. p. 476—482. The roll itself belonged to Lord Bruce, as it seems from Ashmole's transcript in No. 862, art. 35.

No. 22.

A vellum roll, consisting of 3 membranes, indented along the top, and indorsed "Ex parte Precentoris."

"Registrum omnium librorum vestimentorum reliquiarum calicium et aliorum diversorum ornamentorum Collegii libere Capelle Regie infra castrum de WYNDESORE Anno regni regis Henrici iij^{ti}. post conquestum undecimo tempore domini RICARDI KYNGESTONE tunc ibidem Custodis factum." (11 Henr. IV. 1409-10.)

The form and contents of this roll closely agree with No. 16.

No. 23.

A very curious vellum roll, consisting of 6 membranes, written about the year 1310, in a fair text-hand, and ornamented with various colours. At the top (which is much worn with age, and torn) is—

A picture of Edward I. with this rubric, "Edwardus Rex pater istius regis."

Then follows a circular scheme, representing—

The situations of the seven Saxon Kingdoms; with descriptions of them, and an account of the dimensions of England.

Then begins the text of the roll, thus—Par ceste figure leu poet sauoir les diuers regnes que furent iadis en Engleterre. It shows—

The succession, genealogy, and history of the Kings of England, from Brutus to Edward II., in French; with pictures of them in the margins.

The plan somewhat resembles that of No. 12, but the composition is different. The second paragraph begins—Deuant la natiuite nostre seigneur. Mil. & CC. anz. Brutus le fuiz Silius. The Saxon period begins—Le secund Rey de Westsexe. After Harold is inserted the descent of William from Rollo; and then the text begins—Icestuy Willem le conquerour Dengleterre. The last words are about Henry III.—Il regna .lxj. aus et .xx. iours & trespassa glorieusement de cest siecle. En lan de grace. Ml. CC. lxxii. Et fu enterre a Weymoster. Amen. It seems, therefore, that this work was compiled early in the reign of Edward I., as the history does not reach so far as the genealogy. Over the picture of Edward II., in the margin, is written "Edward qui ore est;" and the pedigree has been continued to Richard II. by a later hand; for which purpose an additional piece of parchment was tacked to the roll.

By the second hand is also written, on the back of the third and fourth membranes, the succession of the—

"Summi pontifices post Christum" et "Imperatores Romanorum," usque ad Urbanum VI. et Fredericum II.

A like roll is quoted and described in Hearne's Robert of Gloucester, p. 286-7.

No. 24.

A paper roll, consisting of 8 sheets, much torn at the foot. On it are tricked, in a hand of the time of Q. Elizabeth—

The Arms (with the quarterings, supporters, and crests) of many English Noblemen, chiefly Knights of the Garter.

The first names are—"Therle of Comberland—Therle of Sussex of the garter—Therle of Huntingtone of y^e garter."

No. 25.

A narrow vellum roll, consisting of little more than 3 membranes, written in the XVth century.

A Pedigree of the English Kings, from William the Conqueror to Henry VI.; illustrated with a set of verses on each, and their pictures in small medallions.

They begin thus—At Westmyster William i crowned was; and agree with the text of the Arundel MS. 58, which was printed by Hearne in his third appendix to Robert of Gloucester, p 585—595. The following couplet has been added by another hand—

"He weddid þe kynges douster of sissile margret the which wold to yngl' never good ne profet."

Also ten lines of prose, recording the dates of battles fought between the houses of York and Lancaster, in the reign of Henry VI. See the note on art. 50 of No. 59.

No. 26.

A vellum roll consisting of 2 membranes; written in a text-hand of the XIVth or XVth century, with illuminated capitals.

Genealogia domini nostri Jesu Christi ab Adamo, more chronologico, diducta; adjectis ad latera notis historicis, et ubique sacræ scripturæ locis.

At the head is written this couplet in rubric.

"Biblia quod capiat mentes, quibus ars memorandi Scitur: in auxilium prodeat istud opus."

The first column begins with elegiac verses on the days of creation and the ages of the world; Primo facta die duo, celum, terra, leguntur. The middle or chief column begins thus—Adam anno CXXX genuit, and ends with the genealogy of Jesus quoted from the gospel of Luke; then the word Explicit. The ordinary interpretations are set over the Hebrew names occurring in this roll.

No. 27.

A long vellum roll consisting of 4 membranes, written in the XVth century.

Genealogia ab Adamo, per Sem ad D. N. Jesum Christum, et per Japheth ad reges Britonum, principes Walliæ, et reges Angliæ Saxonicos et Normannos; cum varia oratione ad ostendendum quod Rex Edwardus IV. optimo jure coronam Angliæ habebat.

The text begins—Cum expulsus fuisset Adam et Eva de paradiso fecerunt sibi tabernaculum et fuerunt septem dies plorantes et lamentantes in magna tristitia; and the first paragraph ends thus, hii qui renascendi sunt ex aqua et Spiritu Sancto in vitam eternam. The second is shorter, Audi fili mi et narrabo et revelabo tibi misteria futura—Et iterum edificabunt domum Domini, et alior erit novissima quam prima etc. Then follow several passages relating to the laws of inheritance: the first is about Moses and the Jews; beginning Accesserunt. hic autem agitur de divisione terre.—Jus primogeniture—Si autem omissio—Nemo succedere potest in eorone possessionem—Istam historiam allegat auctor pro rege Angliæ—"Bridlington. in libro primo capitulo v^o. Secunda historia." These passages are all written on the right-hand side of the pedigree, and seem to be extracts for the most part from a commentary on John of Bridlington's Curmina Vaticinalia.

The paragraphs on the left side begin thus:—"Iste Mathan qui descendit de David—Hely et Jacob—Ezechiel. Multas ob causas—Christus tres dignitates—Woden idem est quod Mercurius—Prophæcia secundum Bedam. Dicitum est de omnibus regibus Britanniæ." Very little text occurs thenceforth to the foot of the roll, where the pieces that begin as hereafter noted, are written around the circle containing the names of Edw. IV. and his four children. "Secundum BRIDLINGTON lib. 3^o. cap. 9^o. Amodo de tauro (5 versus) Gildas de eodem. 6^o. Mens cor. (4 v.) Secundum BEDAM de eodem. 6^o. Scoti cum Britone (5 v.) Antiqui versus directi cuidam sancto viro Gu[a]lens' de adventu Norm. Gens Normannorum concensu fulta priorum. (13 v.) Sanctus TULLIUS HIR' de eodem 6^o. Regi Britanniæ dicas solicite. Aquila de eodem 6^o. Tolle caput Martis." (22 v.)

On the back of the roll is another part of this work, containing a pedigree showing the descent of nations from Noah, copious extracts from the commentary on Bridlington, a pedigree of the descendants of K. Edw. III. to Prince Edw. (V.) followed by extracts from Bridlington iii. 12, from "Libro Sanctorum, in vita sancti Edwardi. . . . et prophætia Quidam vir Dei in diebus illis—Item MERLINUS. Deinde revertentur (prosaice)—Sanctus EDWARDUS confessor. Sanctus Edwardus rex et confessor in extremitate vite—cui honor et gloria. amen." Also another of his prophæcies, beg. Sanctus Edwardus in extremitate vite positus vidit astantes duos monachos. Then 4 verses Hic cruce signatus—requiret. On the right hand of the pedigree are—"Tempore regis Richardi secundi quidam spiritus dixit ad eum. Post te regnabit Diabolus" etc., and 18 verses intitled "Vaticinium secundum BEDAM. Villa super Twedam," also 12 short rhyming couplets ascribed to "Sanctus THOMAS Cantuariensis hoc tempore. Senes erunt sine sensu."

There is another pedigree, which shows the descent from Louis son of Philip king of France, to Edward IV. on one side, and to Henry VI. on the other. The name of the former is written at the top of a large circle, wherein is written in red "Hec sunt nomina istius Regis qui sanctam crucem xp'i inveniet secundum diversas prophæcias autenticas;" that of the latter in like manner over a circle containing—"Hec sunt nomina Regis istius qui injuste coronam Britanniæ vel Angliæ occupavit secundum eandem." These are accompanied by an extract from the revelations of S. Bridget (lib. 4. cap. 3.) thus headed—"Sancta BRIGITTA floruit ab anno Domini 1355. et postea" etc. (inc. Orante Christi sponsa beata Brigitta) and another from "libro primo cap. v^o. de BRIDLINGTON. Nota pro Rege Angliæ dicens. legifer instituit .i. Moises etc. Ista historia." Another piece, headed "Ut in evangelio veritas est," begins labiis me honorant, and ends thus, tormentis infernorum.

The whole work concludes with the following pieces:—(1) an extract from the articles or manifesto of "Sanctus RICARDUS SCOPE Archiepiscopus Ebor." against the murderers of Richard II., beginning Videte et intelligite quomodo Henricus Derby, and ending excommunicamus eosdem. fiat fiat; the whole of which is printed in Wharton's Anglia Sacra I. 362—8. (2) an assertion of the right of Edw. IV. to the crown of France, through Roger Mortimer Earl of March who was proclaimed as right heir 9^o Ric. II., beg. Si velimus stare jure divino, ending jure sui patris. (3) "Ecce jam probatur verum quomodo et quando reliquæ Arthuri et Cadwalladri recuperabant. s. anno Domini 1460 nunc preterito [etc.]—fiat voluntas Dei in celo et in terra." (4) A long passage about the prophæcies of the Sibyl, the eagle, Merlin and Cadwallader; beg. Nota sapienter per Sibillam tempore regis Salomonis, end. ut supra predicta. (5) On a comet, and its forebodings, from the Catholicon.

The contents of this roll being so multifarious, it has been thought proper to detail them minutely: the Cottonian MS. Vespas. E. VII. (f. 64 et post) contains many articles much resembling them; and many very curious remarks and collections on the subject, may be seen in the notes and appendix to Creton's French poem on the Deposition of Richard II. in the twentieth volume of the Archæologia. The notices of the children of Edward IV. herein contained, form one subject of a letter to the Gentleman's Magazine, for Sept. 1832. (vol. CII. ii. p. 200.) by the writer of this Catalogue.

No. 28.

A long paper roll, in two parts marked A and B; the first three sheets of which are lost, and the fourth much mutilated: the latter roll or part contains the sheets marked xx—xxx. It is largely written, with the lines wide asunder.

Draught of the Statutes of the Order of the Garter, ordained by HENRY VIII.; corrected (as it seems) by his own hand.

The first part ends with this article, which follows the thirteenth article in the copy printed in Ashmole's appendix:—"Item it is accorded that yf any of the erles baneret or bachelliers dyeth, that he that shall come into his rowme, be he erle banneret or bacheller shall holde the same stal that hys predecesseurs helde; unless it be the soveraynes pleasure to preffer to the hyer stall some other off the more auuncien brytherin and the new electe then to take the inferior place." (Addition by the royal hand.) It is subscribed thus, "Entratur in Rotula domini Regis istuc;" and indorsed on the last sheet, "the bouke of the Register of the Knightes of the Garter."

The second part ends thus, "for any necessitie or cause that may be fall. Finis." It is thus indorsed, "Thes boockes is of ye order of ye gartore."

No. 29.

A fairly written paper roll consisting of 5 sheets of paper, the first of which is much mutilated.

Articles exhibited to the Knights of the Garter, by the DEAN and CANONS of WINDSOR, in answer to the claim of the three Poor Knights.

It ends thus—the corps of there prebende oonly except which is but xl. s. See the next roll.

No. 30.

A fairly written paper roll, now consisting of 3 sheets, one or more between the first and second having been lost.

"The Replicacōn that the thre pover contemplatif KNIGHTES of the Kinges college of WYNDESOR make to the answer of the Dean and Chanones of the same."

This consists of several articles, petitioning the King and Council for the repeal of an Act of Parliament passed in the 22 Edw. IV. whereby the Dean and Canons of Windsor were released from the maintenance of the 26 poor knights appointed by the statutes of the College, of whom only three were surviving. The Lords Darcy and Dudley being mentioned as the last elected Knights of the Garter, this affair must have occurred early in the reign of Henry VIII. See No. 1124, ii. art. 9, and No. 1125, f. 20.

No. 31.

Nine sheets of paper, formerly rolled up together, but now bound into a volume with No. 14 and others. The first six contain—

1. Arms of Knights of the Garter,

Tricked within stamped outlines of a shield with a garter. They are not all arranged in order of time; and many are noted as "lyving A^o. 1576."

2. Succession of the Knights, in the Sovereign's, in the second, and in the third stall, to the time of Q. Elizabeth. f. 13.

3. An alphabetical Index of names of Peers, containing some that were not of this order. f. 15.

No. 32.

A narrow parchment roll, little more than 8 membranes in length; written in the time of Henry VII. or VIII.

Sixty colored coats of Arms of Welsh families, with the names and descents of Mothers shortly detailed in the Welsh language.

The first is, paly of 7, argent and sable: "John ap David ap Bened ap David ap Ll'y vych ap Ll'y goch ap Gruff' ap Mad ddu a Ddue, yr arvan velod," i. e. bore the arms above.

No. 33.

A small quarto MS. consisting of 5 quires of 16 leaves each; whereof the first leaf, and the outer pair of leaves belonging to the last quire, being lost, there are now 77 leaves of paper, written in the latter part of the XIVth century.

Romance of the Adventures of the Emperor Charlemagne, and his Douze-Peers, against the Saracens; a Poem in two parts.

This unique and extremely curious poem seems to unite the stories of the three romances relating to Charlemagne, described by George Ellis, in his Specimens of early English metrical romances (vol. II. p. 283 to the end); namely, Roland and Ferragus, Sir Otuel, and Sir Ferumbras. It begins thus, imperfectly.

"... Charles dog as þay awayward . . . edde
Mo þan a housand werrour . . . slove þa as . . . fiodde & drow hym . . . wiþ on his host þt was þere ac Olyuer was y wounded . . . at þt tyme wiþ a spere ¶ þat nyxt was Charles wiþ winter y wet: & auantid his kniȝtes
& sayd þat þay had bo . . . bet: þan ys ȝonge barons bolde."

The former half of this romance is in the doubly rhymed alexandrine, or common ballad measure; the latter in stanzas of six lines: the end of the one and beginning of the other are in the following lines, (f. 45.)

"þus Barons toke þan way ful riȝt: aȝenward to þe tour.
ate ȝeate fond hy þat burde briȝt: þt let hē in wyþ honour.
þe ȝeate þey made faste: þe dragbrigge vp dros sche þe sarazyns þey habbeþ sore agaste: & þay buþ in sautee.

NOW buþ þes barris of honour } Flo þay ȝūne calle.
y come aȝen in to þe tour }
To hurre þay by toke Aspayllarde } For þyng þt miȝt
And prayede hure kep hi in syker warde } befalle."

The last stanza, except an additional one written at the foot of the page and partly illegible, is the following. (f. 77b.)

"¶ Wan þye lordes had seyȝen hur naked } en hure ray toke
In alle man'e wyse weel y naked } lekyngne.
Was non of hē þt ys fleche ne raas } sche was so fair a nob' kyng ne barou ne non þt was } þyngne."

The book is not more curious than its ancient covers, which are now preserved in a case with it. They are a triple envelope of parchment flapping over the right hand cover, and consist of two sheets. The outer one is a letter executory of a bull of pope Innocent VI. for the presentation of Thomas de Pilton to the vicarage of Columpton in the diocese of Exeter, then vacant by the death of Peter Moleyns; which bull, being addressed to the Abbats of Schirbourne and Cerne, and to John de Silvis dean of S. Agricola at Avignon, was executed (by the last named) in the present letter addressed to the Bishop of Exeter. The foot, containing the date, is cut off; but the bull is dated at Villa-nova, 3 id. Maij, anno 5, which is 1357. The inner cover is a very long and imperfect public instrument, stating that before mass on the seventh sunday after trinity, in 1377, in the chapel of Holne in the diocese of Exeter, Roger Langwan rector of Lydelynche (dioc. Salisb.) publicly read and expounded an instrument which recites the proceedings and final sentence in the court of Rome, in consequence of the consecration of a burial-ground adjoining to the said chapel, which was prejudicial to the rights of John Brygge the vicar of Bucfastleghe, to whose parish-church the right of burial belonged, the said chapel being a member thereof.

These covers are most remarkable for having preserved a curiosity not equaled in any collection of MSS., and that for antiquity is unique of its kind; namely, a part of the Author's original corrected draught of this poem, written on the back of the documents already described. From the outer cover the writing seems to have been erased, to fit it for being made the external part of the volume; and it is much worn and discolored: but traces of letters may be still seen on the edge turned over close to the initial R., and some few scraps are written around the edges of the document, which may be read in the poem with some variations. Thus the lines—

“As Charles stod by chance at conseil wt his feris Whiche þat were of faunce his oȝen dozeperers,” are read at the foot of f. 3^b thus—

“As Charles was in his grenæce: stonyng among his feres.
& cōsaillede wt þe grete of fanuce: & wt ys doþþe peres.”

Other fragments may be compared with the text on f. 4. The inner cover is folded double; and the draught, being written on the inner side, has been kept free from dust, though it is much worn at the edges and folds. The sheet contains four large columns of text, each equal to 2½ pages of the MS. * half of the breadth of the fourth column was cut off to reduce the flap to a convenient width. The first line of the text that occurs on this sheet, is the ninth from the bottom of f. 4^b. Fram hym ys falle ys blod adoun: how migte he fiste more, and the last is the fourth from the foot of f. 10. y shal scabye hem nigst & day: þat bileueþ on Mahounde.

The discrepancy between the draught and the copy are surprisingly great, and analogous to the variations that have been often complained of as existing between the texts of MSS. of old English poetry, though of equal age, and written within a few years from the author's time. Not only is the orthography changed, (sometimes for the worse,) but words of more modern or polite usage are put in the stead of others which had first come to the author's mind: even the phraseology of whole verses is altered. Both in the draught and in the MS. are frequent corrections made over erasures, words are supplied between the lines, and additional verses are written down the margin or below the page: so that this volume seems to have been the first copy of the romance, and is (so far as can be ascertained) the only one existing.

The covers suggest these conclusions;—that the author was a clergyman, lived in the diocese of Exeter, (probably in that city,) and composed his work shortly after 1377, or, early in the reign of Richard II.

No. 34.

A large folio volume, containing 180 leaves of parchment, written in the latter part of the XVth century; with illuminated capitals.

JOHN HARDYNG'S Chronicle of Brittain, in “balade,” to the beginning of the reign of Edward IV.

The prologue begins thus: The most substaince of power and of myght Thurgh age destelled in to debelyte Of me that am this tyme an aged wight, f. 2: where, in the margin, it is noted by another ancient hand, “John Hardyng maker of these cronycles.” Opposite to this page is pasted a large old wood-cut, representing a priest with a book, colored, and ornamented with fragments of illuminated decorations: over it is written this inscription, in small capitals, “The portratyre of Iohn Hardyng maker of these chronicles.” At his foot is a shield party per bend sinister argent and gules. In this MS. the chapter on the King's title to his lands, the author's excusation, and the itinerary of Scotland, are omitted, which are in the printed copies; nor are there any of the prose passages which are in Selden's MS. and in the Harleian MS. 661. It ends with the 240th chapter of Grafton's larger edition, 1543, 40. (whereof a fine copy, seeming to have belonged to the Royal Library, is in this collection, No. 716), in these words: For langer þan ye have hem in suljeycyone Trest never truthe in hem ne perfeccyone. Underneath is this note: “bought the 14th. day of february. 1604. pretium 20s. Pe: Fanwood.” f. 177^b. A short notice of this MS. may be seen in Sir Henry Ellis's edition, (1812, 40.) preface, p. xvi.

No. 35.

A large folio MS. written (in double columns) on paper, in the former part of the XVth century; consisting of 182 leaves.

JOHN GOWER'S Confessio Amantis, a moral Poem, in eight books.

This MS. is imperfect at the beginning and the end: the first leaf is wanting, and the first line is—So stant the pes un evenc

* Each of which contains 38 lines.

partid, (which is the last line on the first leaf of Berthelet's edition, 1532, fol. Bodl. F. 1. 16. Art. Seld.) a little before the rubric “Here he telleþ howe of olde tyme here was used no symony ner knewe of none.” A leaf is wanting between ff. 2, 3. The last lines are these—

“þe moste mater' of hir speche hit was of knighthode & of armes
And what it is to ligge in armes wþ loue when it is chiened þer was bele Isode and Lancelote Stode wþ gūnore & galahote
* wþ his ladi & as me þought'
I sihe where Josān wt hī brought.” f. 181d.

Three leaves seem to be wanting to make up the rest of the book, whereof a fragment (half of the second leaf) is preserved, containing the first and fourth columns, beginning—The preste anone was redi þo (Berthelet f. 190^b. l. 19); and ending thus . . . ft of his pleyenges. One parchment leaf (183) follows, with some unimportant old writing on it.

The rubrics in this copy are in English, which are usually (as in the printed editions) in Latin: few of them occur beyond the middle of the seventh book. The early part of the prologue being lost, as well as the conclusion of the work, it cannot be known of which edition or text this MS. is: and it may be observed, that the omission of the compliment to Chaucer in some MSS. does not prove that any quarrel happened between the two poets in their old age, as it was thought by Tyrwhitt and others; for the edition dedicated to Henry IV. was set forth after the death of Chaucer (in 1400), when it was impossible to “meet” and “greet” him. This MS. has not been noticed by Todd in the list contained in his Illustrations of Gower and Chaucer, 1810, 80.

No. 36, 37.

These two numbers belong to a folio volume, consisting of a great variety of papers, to the number of 348 leaves; which were bound together in Ashmole's time, the back being stamped with his escutcheon, as his other MSS. were. The beginning of each separate paper is shown by this mark, ¶.

A Collection of ENGLISH POETRY of the Seventeenth Century; partly in the handwriting of ELIAS ASHMOLE, esq.

¶ 1. “Upon the meeting of the King and Queen upon Edge-hill. Now let them vote, declare, contrive.” (8 stanzas of 6 lines each.) f. 1.

At the end is a note in Ashmole's short-hand or cypher: and the like after art. 4. An invocation to the Muses in number nine, in power great, (10 l.) and a curious prologue consisting of 10 English leonines (Reader I salute the, because that a frend I repute the) are prefixed to this poem, which consists of an answer to "A question demanded of a frend in a letter, To know whether Papist or Puritane were better." (132 l.)

442. A satire on the political changes in the time of the Common-wealth, detailing a "Progeny" of 16 descents from the devil: beg. Noe pedigrees or projects of aftertimes I tell. (24 l.) f. 228.

443. When Charles hath got y^e Spanish gearle. (21 st. of 4.) f. 229.

Of this ballad only 11 stanzas are contained in article 121 of No. 36.

444. The corrected draught of ASHMOLE's congratulatory poem on the restoration of Charles II., intitled Sol in Ascendente. f. 230—7.

It was published anonymously in 1660, and this MS. proves that he was the author. A printed copy is bound up in No. 36, art. 11.

445. A pastoral ballad, in English and Latin. Cloris since thou art fled away. (5 st. of 6.) Clori tuum post abitum. f. 238.

446. Ballad in "The praise of Saek." English and Latin. *Old poets Hippocrene admire. (5 st. of 6.) Sunt fontem Pegasi laudantes. f. 238.

* Copied from No. 36, art. 260.

447. "The eure of melaneholy. Why are you soe melancholy." (7 st. of 11.) English and Latin. 238^b.

The Latin of the two first stanzas is wanting, and the English of the third and fourth. These three articles (445—7) are neatly written on one sheet, and are well composed. The following leaf, containing part of the Collection of Epitaphs, ought to follow page 199: see the note on art. 413.

448. (171) "On old Thomas Parr*. Stay walker, stay thy hasty pace, and reade." (6 l.) Subscribed "EDWARD ALDRICH." f. 240.

* His original portrait is preserved in the Ashmolean Museum.

449. (172) "On J. E. of C.* Here underneath this stone doth lye." (6 l.)

* James Earl of Carlisle, who died in 1636.

450. (173) "On Mrs. M. Aldrich. Loc in this grave a mayde dothe lyc:" (4 l.) by "ED. ALDRICH."
451. (174) "Uppon the death of Mr. George Chamber, priest, M^r in artes of Queens Colledge in Cambridge. Come gentle coscens come with furerall blackes:" (16 l.) by "N. CHAMBER."
- See art. 453.
452. "Uppon Mr. Geo. Hulbert and his youngest children that dyed manye yeares before their father and elder brother, in St. Martin's in the fields is this ingraven on a fayre marble stone in the churchyard. Death thought these young ons old." (4 l.)
453. (175) "Another on Mr. George Chamber, pri[c]st. When thou fillst sieke, deare George." (10 l.) By "NATH. CHAMBER esq." f. 240^b.
454. (176) Elegy "On prince Charles [who was] borne and died at Greenwich. Snatch[et] from our longing hoping eyes." (32 l.) ib.
455. (177) On the same. Lett other weepe for what thay lost. (6 l.) ib.
456. Recipe to make a medicine of eel-powder. f. 241.
457. Extracts from article 302 of No. 36, 37. (16 l.) f. 242.
458. Recipe to make "An excellent water for all diseases and accidentes of the heade. Take of rosemarye 6 ounces." f. 243.
459. A collection of Medical Receipts, some subscribed as by Dr. J. NEWMAN. page 223.
460. Of the medical virtues of sundry plants. p. 220.
461. Medical Receipts. p. 209—8.

These three last articles are by the hand of Nicholas Burgh.

No. 39.

A folio volume, consisting of 109 leaves of paper, written in the latter part of the XVth century.

The Life of the Virgin Mary, a poem.

"This boke was compiled by Danne JOHNE LYDGATE monke of Bury, at þe exitacōn and steryng of oure worshipfulle prince Kyng Henry the Vth, in the honure and wirshippe of the birthe of þe most glorious maide wyf and modire of oure lorde Jhū Crīst, chaptride and markide aftyr this table that folowethe."

The table contains the titles of 88 chapters. f. 1.

The prologue (9 st. of 7 lines) begins thus, O thoug[ht] fulle hert plunged in distresse. 3^b.

The poem, consisting of 833 stanzas, begins—[O] floure of vertue fulle longe kepte in close; and ends thus—"To kepe and save from alle adversite. Amen." 4—109. Another copy is in No. 59.

On the parchment which lines the wooden covers of this volume, are many vestiges of its former possessors; among which are the names (probably the autographs) of Sir T. Bourchier, Anne Bourchier, and Sir Will'm Rous knight, at the beginning; and at the end, Isabell Bourchier, and the following stanza:

"O ye women wyche be enlynded be the enflawens off yor nature

To be as pure as gold reffyned
In yowre trowth tendure
Arme yor sselfe in strong armure lest men assaye yowr sekerness sset uppon yor brest yor sselfe to assure
A myghtty scheld of dowbelnesse."

No. 40.

A small folio volume, written in the XVth century, in a fair text hand, and adorned with rubrics and with large illuminated capitals; containing 97 leaves of vellum.

THOMAS OCCLEVE'S poem on the Art of Government and Practice of roval Virtues, compiled from the prose work of Egidius Romanus De regimine principum; dedicated to King Henry V. when Prince of Wales.

It consisteth of three parts.

1. A poem wherein the author describes the affliction that his troubles had brought on him, and relates his dialogue with an old man that he met in the fields, who persuaded him to address the Prince for relief. It begins thus—Musynge up on the resteles besynes. (288 st. of 7.) f. 1.
2. Prologue to the Prince. Ilye noble and mysty Prince excellent. (30 st.) 37.

Chaucer's picture is not in this copy at the place noted in the margin "Comendacioun of Chaucer:" and the passage which it illustrates (Although his lyfe queynte be, etc.: see Ritson's Bibliotheca Poetica, p. 60) is omitted in this copy. It ends thus—"Explicit prologus."

3. "De principum regimine: Incipiendo de fide servanda. Noue gracios Prince, asen þt þe croone." (468 st.) 39^b—97^b. It ends thus—"That knoweth he who[m] no þing is hid fro. Explicit Egidius de regimine Principum. Grace growth aftir governaunce." This poem must have been written between 1408 (the year of Gower's death) and 1413, when Henry came to the crown; mention is made in it of the burning of a heretic "not longe ago," who perhaps was William Sautry, burned in 1407. The author in his prologue professes to have compiled this work from the (spurious) epistles of Aristotle to Alexander, and from "Gilis regiment," with interspersions from "a booke [which] Jacob de Cessolis Of the ordre of Preehours made, a worthi man, That the Chees moralized clepid is." There is a large English translation of Egidius in the Digby MS. 233, in two folio volumes. See also Lydgate's poem in the Ashmolean MS. No. 46, art. 4.

This volume formerly belonged to the poet William Brown ("Liber W. Browne, 1612"), who has made honorable mention of Occleve in one of his pastorals: he supplied three leaves that were wanted (ff. 65, 70, 74), added 2 stanzas (at f. 40^b and 80), and wrote many marginal notes in a neat hand. There are, however, instances in which he has either supplied blank lines or altered the text: see f. 7, 10^b, and 52^b.

There is another fine and curious copy of this poem among Sir William Dugdale's MSS. in this Library, No. 45.

No. 41.

A small folio volume, containing two MSS. on vellum: of which the former was written in the XIVth century (ff. 135), in a bold hand, and contains a handsome copy of—

- I. "The Prik of Consciens," a religious Poem in seven parts, by RICHARD ROLLE of Hampole. ff. 1—130.

The first leaf has been long lost, for over the first line (Monkynde is to Godus wille, which is the 63rd line in No. 52) is written this couplet, "Stimulus cōsientie, thys boke ys namyd I tel the;" and the same note occurs at the end, with the year 1567. On the last page of two blank parchment leaves that are prefixed, Ashmole has written this note: "This treatise de Stimulo Conscientiæ was written by Richard Rolle alias de Hampole, a hermite, who dyed on Mich'as day 1349, and was buried in Hampole Monastery neere Doncaster in Yorkeshire. Vide Baleum fo: 431."

In this copy the beginning of each part is distinguished by a rubric and a large gold letter. The rubrics are as follow: "Prima pars de miseria humane conditionis." f. 1^b. (The leaf on which the second part began, is torn out from between f. 9, 10.) "Liber tercius de morte." 20. "De quarta parte istius libri qui loquitur de penis purgatorii." 33^b. "Incipit quinta pars istius libri que loquitur de penis purgatorii." 50^b. "Sexta pars libri, qui loquitur de penis inferni." 84. The seventh (f. 99^b—130) has no rubric, and ends thus—bat for aune love on rode gan hyngre.

On f. 131 is written a rhyme, showing that Antony Alderle was the owner of this book in the year 1567 before mentioned. Compare other copies of this poem in No. 52 and No. 60: an abridgement of it is in No. 61, art. 32.

The second part of this volume is a portion of a MS. consisting of 32 leaves or 4 quaternions; whereof the first and the last leaf, the fourth and fifth (from between f. 135-6), the twelfth and thirteenth leaves (from between f. 141-2), are lost. The contents are:—

- II. 1. The latter half of a poem on the Passion of Jesus Christ, in alexandrine verses; beg. Throw hys hond wyth hammur knak . þai mad a gresely wound: (69 lines) ending—Marie and cristes passionne . us help a sorow. Amen. f. 134.
2. An imperfect religious discourse: beg. Iche crysten soxle hath þre myghtes. resoun wyлле mycnde. 135.
3. The latter part of a devout poem: To zeld him hys lyffe have I no myght: (7 st. of 4.) ending—Whyt þ' to wone w' owtyn eende. Amen. 136.

These three articles seem to have been written at different times, toward the close of the XIVth century; the following tract in the XVth.

4. "Here ben þe titles of þe chapiteles of þis bok folwyng, whic[h]e is clepid þe Chastising of Goddes children. 1^m. bat holy men and gode men be more tempted." 136^b.

The chapters are 27 in number. The prologue begins thus: In drede of almytty god, religious suster, a short pistil I sende you, of þe mater of templacionis; þe wheche pistil as me thinkethe may resonable be clepid the castising of goddes children. This copy ends abruptly in the fourteenth chapter, f. 159^b.

No. 42.

A quarto or large octavo volume, containing 257 leaves of vellum, numbered by an antient hand with Arabic figures. It is fairly written in a text hand, of the middle of the XIVth century.

A Paraphrase on the Sunday lessons from the Gospels, with exhortations drawn from them, and illustrative tales and legends; in antient English verse.

The prologue, which begins Fadir and sonne and haligaste, shows that the author was a Priest, and gives a favorable view of his character: the following lines are a specimen of his versification:

"Forthi sall ilk a p'choure schawe þe gode þt god hase gert him kuawe
For wha swa hydes goddes gift
God may chalange him of thift." (f. 1^b.)

"Forthi þa gospellis þt all wayes
Er redde in kirk on sonundayes
Apon ynghlisse .i. will vndo
If god will lene me gace þ'to

For nameli on þe sonundaye
Comes lewde men þaire bedes to saye vnto þe kirk and forto lere
Goddess lare þat þai þare here
For certis als grete mist' haue þai
To witte what þe gospell will saye
Als lerid men for bathe er bogt
Wip cristis blode & sall be brogt
Till heuenes blisse full menskfulli
If þai liue here rightwislye." (f. 2.)

It contains 126 lines, and is followed by another preface (of 40 lines), intitled, "Causa sive ratio quare istud opusculum incipiat ab adventu domini. Ser. Or þe fulthe of tyme was commen:" and the work begins thus—"Incipit ewangelium prime dominice adventus domini una cum expositione ejusdem. Inicium ewangelii," etc. Saynt marke begiunes his gospell. f. 3.

After the 24th sunday from Pentecost, are the lessons for the purification of the virgin Mary (f. 232) and the vigil and feast of John the Baptist: which are followed by "Sermo in festo apostolorum petri et pauli. þir werldes princes hase service" (251^b), which ends thus at f. 257^b:

"To þt ilk blisse he vs bringe þat for oure lufe on rode walde hinge.
W. Amen. S.

Explicunt ewangelia dominicalia locius anni in vulgari lingua exposita."

Whether this W. S. . . . were the author, or only the transcriber, is uncertain. The style, language, and easy versification correspond so much with the Cursor Mundi (see the Catalogue of the Arundel MSS. p. 101-3), as to suggest that the author of both poems was the same. It resembles the work contained in the damaged Cottonian MS. Tiberius E. VII. but is not half so long, though it contains nearly 20,000 lines.

No. 43.

A quarto or large octavo volume, containing 269 leaves of vellum, written in a small fair hand about the year 1300. The first 3 leaves (as the old foliation shows) have perished, and the last 5 are in a very mutilated state.

Libes of Saints and Legends of the Festivals, in the order of the English calendar, composed in alexandrine verse by ROBERT of Gloucester, the author of the antient metrical History of England.

This copy hath no rubrics; but the names were written in the upper margin in the XVth century from the first line of each legend, which lines here follow.

1. Wolston. (ακεφ.) "Vor þulke þt þe kyng to truste: failed hi wel uaste." f. 4.
2. "Seint Fabian bi olde dawe: good mon was inouȝ." 6.
3. "Seynt Sebastian was aman of gret honour." 6.
4. "Seynt Anncis þe holi maide: wel zong heo bigan." 7^b.
5. "Seynt Vynecent ī spayne was: & to acistene biscop com." 10.
6. "Seynt Julian þe confessour: ibore was at rome." 12^b.
7. "Seyn Julian þe gode herbiour: of noble kūne com." 13.
8. "Seyn Bride þe holi maide: of hirlonde was." 15.
9. "Seint Blase wel clene lif: ladde wipþoute hore." 18^b.
10. "Seynt Agace þe gode maide: ī cisile was ibore." 21^b.

11. "Seyn Scolace þe holi maide: holi was of lyue." 23^b.
 12. "Seyn Valentyn þe martir: goodman was inouȝ." 24.
 13. "Seyn Julian com of heie mē: as we fyndeþ iwrite." 25.
 14. "Seyn Mathi apostelis: as ȝe scholleþ iwite." 28.
 15. "Seyn Oswald þe biscop: was ibore her ī engelonde." 28^b.
 16. "Seyn Chadde þe holi mō: was of engelonde." 31^b.
 17. "Seyn Gregori þe ȝfessour: ī cicile was ibore." 32^b.
 18. "Seyn Pat'c com þoru godes ȝ^ace: to p'ci ī irlonde." 34.
 19. "Seyn Edward þe ȝonge martir: was kyng of engelonde." 41^b.
- Extracts from this legend are printed in Hearne's glossary to Robert Mannyng's Chronicle, p. 628-9, from "Mr. Sheldon's MS."
20. "Seyn Cutbert was ibore: her ī engelonde." 45.
 21. "Seyn Benct was ibore: ī þe lond of mursie." 46.
 22. "Seynte Marie dai in leynte: among op' dawes gode." 48^b.
 23. "Festen meble þ' beþ icleped: viue ī þe ȝer'." 48^b.
 24. "Leynte comeþ þ' aft'ward: þ' six wuke ilastep." 49.
 25. "þe holi feste of Est': comeþ aft' leynte anon." 51.
 26. "Seynte Marie egipciake: ī egypte was ibore." 52.
 27. "Seyn Alfē þe martir: þ' good mō was inouȝ." 56.
 28. "Seyn Jorge þe holi mon: as we fyndeþ iwrite." 59.
 29. "Seyn Marc þe holi gospellar': wide wende alonde." 60^b.
 30. "Letanye is asong: as ȝe mowe ofte ise." 61.
 31. "Seyn Peres þe frer' p'chour: In þe cite of beronye." 62.
 32. "Seyn P[li]clip & .s'. Jacob: apostles tweie." 62^b.
 33. "Seyn Jacob was our lordes kun: our levedi sost' sone." 63.
 34. "þe holi rode þe swete tre: riȝt is to hadde ī mūde." 63^b.
 35. "A noble emperour þ' com seþþe: þ' het ȝstantyn." 66.
 36. "þe holi rode was ifoūde: as ȝe witeþ ī may. & an hansed was ī septembre: þe holi rode day." 68.
 37. "Seyn Quiriac þe biscop was: p'chede godes lawe." 71.
 38. "Seyn Brendan þe holi mon: was of Irlonde." 71^b.

From this legend four lines (bis faules songe—scholde don) from f. 74 not "72") are quoted in Ashmole's Order of the Garter, p. 507, and repeated thence in Hearne's glossary to Robert Mannyng (p. 671), with a copy of the same as they stood in "Mr. Sheldon's excellent MS."

39. "Seyn Dunston was of engelonde: icome of gode more." 80^b.
40. "Seyn Aldelm þe cōfessour: was mā of noble lyue." 83.
41. "Seyn Austyn þ' cistendom: broȝte īto engelonde." 84.
42. "Seynt Barnabe þe apostel: þ' good was & hendē." 85^b.
43. "Seyn Jon was þe beste bern: þe holi baptist." 87.
44. "Seyn Pel' was wiþ our lord: of alle apostles hext." 88^b.
45. "Seyn Poul was a lup' mon: ar he ȝu'ted wer'." 95.
46. "Seyn Swiþin þe ȝfessour: was of engelonde." 98^b.
47. "Sein Kenelm þe ȝonge kyng: þ' holi martir is." 100.
48. "Seynt Margarcte: was holi maide & good." 104^b.

The life of S. Margaret printed by Dr. Hickes (Thesaurus, I. 224—231) from a MS. in Trinity College Cambridge, is altogether different from this, though written about the same age, in the same kind of verse, and only two lines longer than this life, namely 314. The copy in the Vernon MS. in the Bodleian library, begins like the present copy, and ends thus—Nou god for the love of seinte Margarete: ne lete us neuere therof misse: the last line in this copy is—þ' þu bidde uor ous þ' me mote: to þe joie of heuene wende. Another metrical life of this saint is in No. 61, art. 36.

49. "Seynt Marie Magdaleyn: þ' god uor ȝef hir' sūne." 108.
50. "Seyn Cristine þe holi þīg: as ic ȝou telle con." 112^b.
51. "Seyn Jame þe apostel: riȝt is to hadde in mone." 117.
52. "Seyn Cristofer' was sarazyn: In þe lond of canaan." 120.
53. "Seue sleparis were holi mē: as me haþ itold binore." 122^b.
54. "Seyn Laurance good mō was: and in st'ong martirdom." 124^b.
55. "Seyn Ipolit þe martir: knyȝt was of gēt hon'." 127.
56. "Seynte Marie godes mod'r: fām þe apostles was noȝt." 128.
57. "Seyn Berthelmeu þe apostel: com of kynges blode." 131.
58. "Seyn Gilis þe holi mō: ne loued noþīg sūne." 134^b.
59. "Seyn Matheu þe eu'angelist: apostel he was iwis." 136.
60. "Seyn Justine of heie mē: In antioch' com." 137^b.
61. "Seyn Michel þe archangel: & is felawes also." 138.

The Arundel MS. 8. contains this legend, (which ends thus, þ' we mote to heuene come: after þ' we beþ dede, f. 139^b.) art. 67, and another legend of S. Michael, as one article.

62. "Seyn Jerom was swiþe good clerç: & wis in alle þinge." 139^b.

A modernized copy of this, (written in the XVth century,) divided into short stanzas, is in the Cottonian MS. Caligula A. II. f. 133^b.

63. "Seyn Lig' þt biscop was: & holi mon inouȝ." 141^b.

64. "Seyn F^unces þe frer' menour: good mon was inouȝ." 142^b.

65. "Seynte Feiþe holi maide: of suyþe heie mē com." 149.

66. "Seyn Denys was in þe olde lawe: payn as oþ' wer'." 150^b.

67. "Seyn Michel in novēbre: haþ ek anoþ' day." 151^b.

68. "Seyn Luc þe eu^angelist: non apostel nas." 154.

69. "Seynte Fredeswīde: was her of engelonde." 155^b.

70. "Ellene þousend v'gines: þt vair eōpanye was." 157^b.

71. "Seyn Simon & .s. Jude: twei breþ'en wer'." 160.

72. "Seyn Qⁱntyn þe martyr: of þe 9treie was of rome." 162^b.

73. "Seyn Albon þe holi mon: was her of engelonde." 164^b.

74. "Alle halwen day we holdeþ: one tyme of þe ȝer'." 165^b.

75. "Alle soulen dai anerþe: riȝt is to holde heie." 166^b.

76. "Seyn Eustas a noble knyȝt: of heþene lawe was." 169^b.

See the note on No. 61, art. 1.

77. "Seyn Leonard þe ȝfessour: alonde eode her'." 172^b.

78. "Seyn Martin was ibore in the londe of Sa-barie." 174.

79. "Seyn Brice wiþ .s. martin: was is dekene anerþe her'." 176.

80. "Seyn Edmond þe ȝfessour: þat liþ at poun-teneie." 177.

Extracts from this life of Abp. Edmund were printed by Hearne in his glossary to Robert Mannyng, p. 607—9, 611, from Mr. Sheldon's MS.

81. "Seyn Edmōd þe kyng of wā we makeþ feste." 184^b.

82. "Seyn Cecile of noble kūne: ibore was at rome." 185^b.

83. "Seynt Clemēt was ibore at rome bi olde dawe." 188^b.

84. "Seynte Kat'ine of noble kūne com: bi olde dawe." 195^b.

85. "Seynt Andreu þe apostel: was .s'. pet'rs bro-þer." 199.

"A miracle of S' andreu: fel late h' alonde." 200^b.

86. "Seyn Nycholas þe holi mon: þt good ȝfessour was." 202.

87. "Of joie & blisse is al my song: kare to bi-leue." 208^b.

This legend is on Advent.

88. "Seynte Lucie þt holi maide: ī cicile was ibore." 212.

89. "Seynt Thom^as þe gode apostel: imartred was ī Inde." 214.

90. "Seyn Anastace was ibore: at rome bi olde dawe." 219.

91. "Seyn Steucne was a giw: and of giwes he com." 220^b.

92. "Seyn Jon þe eu^angelist: þt apostel al so is." 222.

At f. 224 are two lines left blank.

93. "Seynt Oswold þe holi kyng: of þe on ende of engelonde." 228.

94. "Engelōd glad þ^u beo: vor þ^u miȝt wel eþe. & al holi chirehe also: for one mōnes deþe. þe erchebiscop .s'. Thomas. þt hir' wel der' boȝte.

wiþ his derworþe brayn: þt þe scharpe swerd soȝte.

Gilbert was his fad^r name: þt tiwe man was and good." 228^b.

The last of these lines is the first in other copies: see the Arundel MS. 8, f. 80^b, noticed in the Catalogue, p. 14. Ashmole hath cited 5 lines of this legend, from f. 253, (His knyȝtes—Richard le brut), in his Order of the Garter, p. 21.

95. "Seyn Edward þe gode kyng: riȝt is to habbe ī mūde." 260.

This legend is very much mutilated throughout: of the leaves 266—9, only forworn fragments remain.

This MS. belonged to Silas Taylor in 1672, when Ashmole's work was published; about which time he drew up the list of its contents, which is in No. 826, f. 62; and copied artt. 28, 29, 30, 16, and 23, into No. 1115, f. 7—11^b. The name of a former possessor, "John Tayllor off Brydstow," is written on f. 189; probably an ancestor of Silas Taylor, who is mentioned in No. 243, f. 225^b, and whose nativity (16 July, 1624) is calculated in No. 332, f. 107^b. There are memoirs of him in Aubrey's Lives, p. 555—7.

No. 44.

A small quarto volume, containing 97 leaves of paper; written about the middle of the XVth century: im-perfect at the end.

Romance of Alexander the Great, in irregular and alliterative blank verse; beginning thus—

"When folk ere festid & fed fayn wald yai here
Sum farand ying efter fode to fayne vare hert
Or yai ware fourmed one fold or yaire fadirs oyer Sum is leue to lythe ye lesing of sayntis yt lete yer lifis be lorne for oure lordes sake
And sum has langing of lufe lays to herken
How ledis for yaire lemmaus has langor endured

v. 15] And I forwt zow all euillis to eschewe
Of ane Emperoure ye agefullest yt ener armys hanntid yt was ye athill Alexandire as ye buke tellis."

This poem is divided into parts or fits, each intitled in Latin, a Passus; which either are wrongly numbered, or the leaf containing the fourth title is lost. The twenty-seventh begins on the last leaf thus—"Vicesimus septimus passus Alex'i. Oure bold kyng in Babiloun nowe bildis up a trone;" and ends—Poliponeus and Pentapolis and Palestyne ye riche.

It is different from the romance published by Weber in the first volume of his collection of Metrical Romances. The splendid Bodleian MS. 264 contains part of the story of Alexander in the same verse as this poem, which may be considered the production of the same author; but it contains only the account of his visiting the Brahmans, and translations of the spurious letters to and from their king Dindymus. It is there intended as a supplement to the great French romance, (as may be seen in Weber's introduction,) and seems to be unfinished: the rubric over the last illumination is, "How Alixandre picht a pelyr of marhyl here;" which being the concluding subject of the twenty-first passus in this MS., the two poems are quite independent of each other.

The metre and dialect much resemble Piers Plouhman, and the romance of the Knight of the Swan in Caligula A. II. f. 123b. It consists of about 5800 lines.

No. 45.

A small quarto volume containing four MSS. bound together. The first MS. is fairly written on paper in the court-hand of the time of Henry VIII. On f. 2 (which bears the autograph of "W^m. Browne" the poet) is a neat drawing, with pen and ink, of an author presenting a book to a lady, with these words, "Prenes en gre." Beneath are two monograms of the words "Maid Maria." On the upper part of the page is this title:—

I. "The Story of the Erle of Tolous;" a Romance in old English verse, beginning—Jesu crist in trinite. (207 st. of 6.) f. 3—31^b.

It ends thus—Amen amen for charite. An older copy is contained in No. 61, art. 19. It was printed in Ritson's collection of Metrical Romances (vol. III. 93), from Bp. More's MS. 600 at Cambridge. In the large flourished initial J is written the name of the scribe mo-rga-nus; and at the end are his initials "M. D."

The blank leaves of this book are occupied by various pieces written by WILLIAM FITZWILLIAM, in the reign of Q. Elizabeth: namely—

"The [medical] wartue of parsnyes." 1^b.

"The houbell peteson of Wylliam Fytzwil'm of the anchant hows of Sprodbrought in the county of Youreke esquier," to some officer, for the payment of a debt owed to him by John Worte of the Queen's guard. 2^b.

Note that "My cossen Willyam Dyear was mar[r]ied the 17 dave of marche 1602." 2^b.

"To macke a good poudynge." 31^b.

A contrast of the foolish ceremonies used by Papists, to the manner in which "Cryste plainly and puerly menestred the sackrement to his desypelles w^t oute any serrymones." 32.

"Becon in the juell of joye. If right be racked and over roun." (2 st. of 4.) 32.

*"The hard and troubelesome lyfe of WILLYAM FYTZWILLYAM vj sone of John Fytzwillyam of Sprodbrought and Haddelsaye, from his chyeldhod," etc. 32^b.

An interesting but unfinished piece of autobiography: it is noticed by the rev. Joseph Hunter, in his account of the Fitzwilliam family, History of South Yorkshire, (1828, folio,) vol. I. p. 340.

Of the benefits bestowed on us by Jesus. 33^b.

Moral and religious sentences: beg. Myschape is the touchestone of fryndshype. 34.

"A short lyne howe to leade your lyfe." 34^b.

Prayers. 35.

On faith, hope, charity, temperance, prudence, fortitude, and justice. 36^b—8^b.

"There be ix wartus apartanyge to a knyght, foure of thame ys sperytwall, v temporall." 39.

On the enormities of some Roman pontiffs: a poetical fragment: beg. Thaye do yet say the flesh of men Ar thaye not monstros terants then. (36 l.) 39^b.

On true wisdom: beg. The apostell James callythe. 40.

On human frailties and passions. 40^b.

Notes of some of the popes. 41.

The second MS. was written in the XVth century, on thin parchment, which is much hurt by damp. It originally contained 56 leaves, but 29 are lost, namely, ff. 8—17, 24—40, 44—5.

II. A Discourse "Of Knyghthode and Bataille," in old English verse; beginning—

"Sum tyme it was þe gise amonge þe wise
To rede and write goode & myghti thinges
And have þerof the dede in exercise
Plesauce herin hadde Emperours & kinges
O Jesse floure whos swete odour our king is Do me to write of knyghthode and bataile
To thyn honor and chiuaders tauaile."

The mention of "Edward King of Fraunce and Englonde" in the fifth stanza, and the variety of pieces of ordnance named at f. 50^b, show that it was written in the reign of Edward IV. It is a modernized abridgement of the four books of Flavius Vegetius de re militari, perhaps either from the French translation by Jehan de Mehun, (of which several MSS. are in the Royal Library in the British Museum,) or from the English version made by command of Sir Thomas Berkeley, in 1408, which is contained in MS. Laud. 416, MS. Lansdown. 285, and other MSS. The contents of the four parts (each beginning with an illuminated letter) are recited in the conclusion; and the last words, addressed by the author to his "littel book," are—

"Thy writer eek pray hym to taken hede
Of thy cadence and kepe ortographie
That neither he take of nor multiplie." f. 53^b.

Each opening of the leaves hath a running title and the number of the part, and every stanza is marked with one of the letters A—H, there being eight stanzas on each leaf: by which means very ready reference is made to any matter, from—

"The tabil vpon the book of Knyghthode and Bataile aftir the number lef and Fre therof." 54.

"Finis libri." 56^b. There is a complete copy on paper in the Cottonian library, (Titus A. XXIII. containing the same number of leaves,) from which some extracts have been published by Dr. Meyrick, in his Critical Essay on Antient Armor, vol. I. 168—9, and II. 237.

The third MS. consists of 18 leaves of paper, and contains a transcript of—

III. CHAUCER'S Coke's Tale, with the prologue, and the spurious tale of Gamelyn.

Written by Ashmole. At the end are some of his notes in short-hand, which seem to relate to the spurious tale of the Ploughman. Another transcript of Gamelyn by Ashmole's hand is on 20 leaves inserted between ff. xx—xxi. of Godfray's edition of Chaucer's works (1532, fol.), No. 1095.

The fourth MS. is written on paper, much stained by damp; and consists of 56 leaves, including that which bears the following title—

storye of the course of the Sonne from the Creacion to this tyme. By JOHN GLANVILL of Lyncolnes Inne gentleman."

The author's dedication "To his much respected friend Mr. Frauncis Kynnaston at his father St. Edward Kynnaston his house at Oteley in Shropshire," dated 18 Feb. 1613, states that the work was composed 8 years before, when he "was but twentie yeres olde." The subscription at the end is "Lincolnes Inne, Augusti 26, 1609." It is composed in the same metre as the following complets severally prefixed to the eight books, as "the argument."

- I. "Preface, scope, invocation, Chaos brought To perfect worlde, sunne-coache by Vulcan wrought." f. 2b.
- II. "Phebus made Sunne-god, the tale of his breeches
And Mars his finger, his and Hermes speeches." 8.
- III. "Darkenes is chas'd, Sol doth his office find Pleasant at first, but chaungeth soone his mind." 14b.
- IV. "The Mannor Dale descryde, of Fortune's rage
'Gainst Magicus, his Amye in marriage." 22b.
- V. "A thirftie speeche is made by Armiger,
His daughter loves, he (vext) imprisons her." 28.
- VI. "Sol's horse is cosen'd, Magicus doth make His will, and throughe the aire his journey take." 36b.
- VII. "Magicus hinders Phebus love-sports, he Armiger, and Candidula chaunged be." 42.
- VIII. "Snite for the winged horse, and howe descyded.
Th' yeare bipartite, th' yeare in fowre partes devided." 50.

No. 46.

A handsome quarto volume, covered with leather curiously stamped and gilt. It consists of 163 leaves of vellum, fairly written in the XVth century. The handwriting seems to be the same as that of the copy in the Harleian MS. 2278, which is said to have been the dedication-copy. The capital letters are more beautifully adorned and illuminated than in the Harleian copy; but it contains only one picture, which represents the author presenting his book to the King, and is much defaced: it differs from the illumination described in the Harleian Catalogue (II. p. 640), and appears from f. 87 (as mentioned below) to represent Edward IV.

I. The Life and martyrdom of Saint Edmund King of the East Angles, composed in English verse by JOHN LYDGATE, monk of Bury S. Edmund's. f. 1—49.

The preface, wherein the author shows the occasion of his undertaking, begins thus (without a rubric)—The noble story to putte in remembrance Of seint Edmond mayde martir and kyng (17 st. of 7); and is followed by an invocation to the saint, beginning—O precious charbounce of martirs alle. (5 st.) f. 4. The poem itself (which consists of 267 stanzas) begins thus—In Savonye whylom ther was a kyng, f. 4^b; and ends—Eternally: for to regie in blysse. Expt."

II. The Life and martyrdom of Saint Fremund, cousin to Saint Edmund, by the same author. f. 49^b.

The three stanzas, beg. Now glorious martir which of gret meknesse, which connect this life with the foregoing, are joined to the end of this part in the Harleian MS., and followed by a long Latin rubric: but in this MS. they begin on a fresh page, and introduce "a litel prologe," beg. Who can remembre þe meruclys merveyllous; (23 st.) and ending—Off Burchardus folwe I shal the style,* f. 53^b. After 97 st. of the Life is an invocation to the saint, beg. Now hooly Fremund martir maide and kyng, (3 st. f. 69^b.) which introduces the story of—

* See Wanley's note in the Harleian Catalogue.

III. The Miracles and Translation of S. Edmund. f. 70.

The 87th stanza is followed by an epilogue, or invocation to the saint, and prayer for the king, beg. O glorious martir which of devout humblesse; (8 st. f. 84^b.) at the end of which is written in the margin with pencil, (by the same hand,) Go litte boke &c', which words are the beginning of six stanzas addressed to Henry VI. in the Harleian MS., but here omitted: a copy of them is however contained in No. 59, art. 7.

The stanzas of this epilogue and of the rest of the book consist of 8 lines each. Next follows the Description of S. Edmund's banners, (beg. Blyssed Edmond martir and virgyne, f. 85^b.) which is placed at the beginning of the Harleian MS., from which it has been printed by Sir Harris Nicolas in the Retrospective Review, N. S. vol. I. 98—100. It is remarkable that the last stanza is artfully accommodated to Edward the fourth in this copy, to whom it seems to have been dedicated or presented: which fact, however, is no better proof that Lydgate lived until his reign, than that drawn by Wanley and Ritson (Bibl. Poet. p. 89) from the Harleian MS. 2251; * because the last part of this volume, evidently compiled after Lydgate's death, was written by the same hand as this part. Then follows an account of the later miracles of S. Edmund, one of which is said to have happened so lately as 28 April, 1441 (see f. 92), related in 58 st., beginning—Laud of our lord up to the fraunce is reysed (f. 87); and ending—Be derogacione doon to his frenehysse. Expt." f. 96. Thus far is contained in the Harl. MS. 2278.

IV. The book of "Secretys" of Aristotle, or "Labor Philosophorum namyd alsoe De regimine principum," composed in verse by JOHN LYDGATE. f. 97.

This poem has no rubric title. The prologue begins—God almyghty save and conserve our kyng; and after 19 stanzas (of 7 lines) is this marginal rubric—"Here is þe fourme[e] of þe first Epistil[1] that kyng Absaun[are] sent to his mas[tir] Aristotiles," f. 100. The next rubric is at the top of f. 101—"This ristoyssh rehersch name of the philisopre callyd Philip born in Parys which was translataur of this book." At f. 103 is this rubric—"Here is to remembre a nothir prologe;" whence it appears that Philip undertook the translation at the request of Guydu, archbishop of Coblentz (Covaleuce); but the prologue itself seems to begin at f. 103^b thus—Undir your benigne gracious support. The 18 stanzas following the next rubric ("Here folwith the ijde pistil that kyng Alysandre sent to his maister Aristotiles, f. 107—110) were printed by Ashmole in his Theatrum Chemicum, p. 397—403, with eight stanzas about the philosophers' stone following this rubric—"How Aristotil declarith to Kyng Alisaundre of þe stonys." f. 119—120.

At f. 131, after the words Deth al consunmyth whych may nat be denyed, is this rubric—"Here deyed this translatur and nobyl poete, And the yonge folwere gan his prologe on this wyse [f. 131^b]. Tendirnesse of age and lak of elloquence." This "follower" or continuator was BENET DE BURGH, canon of S. Paul's, who died in 1483; he mentions Lydgate in the second and thirteenth stanzas of his prologue. See Ritson's Bibl. Poet. p. 50 and 72, and compare the MSS. Laud. B. 24 and K. 53, and Harl. 2251, art. 117; in describing which, Wanley observes, that "this work was of mighty repute in days of yore, and is pretended to have been translated out of Greek into Arabic or Chaldee, by one John a Spaniard, and from thence into Latin by Philipp a Frenchman; and so into English verse (with many interpolations and omissions) by Lydgate, at the request of K. Edward IV. as it may seem; by cause Dan John lived not to finish his work." (Harl. Catal. II. 581.) Another version of it, by Hoccleve, has been noticed in No. 40.

The last part of this poem is—"Off the craft of Phisonomye which doth trete of the qualtees and condicions of ech membir and of the ymage of Ypocras:" it ends thus at f. 160^b—"Above alle hevenys supra celestial. Amen."

On one of the blank leaves that follow are written these lines—

"A man withe out marsi no marsi shall have in tyme of ned when he dothe it crave but all his lyve go lick a slave

Questa altra sorte."

* See the Harl. Catal. II. 578.

Probably by the same person who wrote his name thus at f. 49—
"T. Tresami .M. et Amicorum. credo. 1588." At the top of the same page is written "Edward Woorsoppe me tenet." A third possessor was "Wm. Browne" the poet, whose autograph is on the first page.

8. "HENRY LORDE MORLEY to his posterity. Never was I lesse a lone then beyng alone." (16 l.) 9^b.

This is said to have been "Wrytten over a chamber dore wher he was wont to ly at Hollenbyrry." It has been printed from this MS. in the British Bibliographer (1814, 8vo.), IV. 107.

9. Another poem by "HENRY LORD MORLAY:" beg. All men they do wysse unto them sclfs all good. (22 l.) 10.

Printed by Dr. Bliss in the quarto edition of Wood's Athenae Oxon., I. 118.

10. Chevy-chace, or the "Hountynge of the Chivyat:" beg. The Perse owt off northombarlonde and a vowe to God mayd he. 15^b.

"Expliceth quoth RYCHARD SHEALE." From this MS. (which he calls "an old MS. communicated to me by a learned friend") Hearne printed this ballad in the fourth appendix to his preface to Guil. Neubrigiensis, p. lxxxii-viii, in 1719; and his opinion that Sheale was the author of the poem because his name is subscribed, has been controverted, it having the appearance of greater antiquity: it is, however, certain that Sheale was the author of some pieces in this volume, (see art. 46, 48, 52, 57,) and it is not unlikely that he was the writer of most part of it, and added the names of the authors to the pieces, where he knew them. (See art. 47.) This ballad stands foremost in Percy's Reliques, where the long lines are divided into couplets: in the same volume (I. 231, 1765, 8^o.) is also given the more modern ballad, of which two different black letter editions are in Wood's collection in this Library, No. 401, and No. 402, p. 29. See further observations on this MS. in the British Bibliographer, IV. 97 et seq.

11. A dialogue: beg. I hard latly to a ludy. (4 st. of 4.) 18^b.

Subscribed "fynis quoth G. F." and another copy scrawled by the side—"fynis quoth CHRISTOPHER CURTIS."

12. A ballad of good counsel: beg. Take hede in tyme whylste youthe dothe reane. (17 st. of 4, each ending—"In tyme take hede.") 19—20, 21^b.

This and the following six articles, and part of art. 25, are in a handwriting different from the rest of the MS.

13. A ballad, probably a Christmas carrol, (19 st. of 4,) beginning thus—

"Aft mydnyghte when dremes dothe fawle Summe what before the mornynge gray me thought avoyce thus dyd me cawle
O lustye youthe aryes I say." 21^b.

14. A favorite ballad, on the prospect of death: beg. I lothe that I dyd love. (14 st. of 4.) 23^b.

"Fynys quod Lord Vaux," namely, THOMAS LORD VAUX. See Ritson's Bibl. Poet. p. 378-9. It is reprinted from Lord Surrey's poems, in Percy's Reliques, l. 161-3, under this title—"The aged lover renounceth love." It is called the "Image of Death" in the Harl. MS. 1703, art. 25.

15. An elegy: beg. The lyf ys longe y^t lothesumly dothe last. (10 st. of 4, and a couplet.) 24^b.

16. Description of a country-life by a lover: beg. My frynd the lyf I leud at all. (60 l.) 25^b.

17. A religious ballad: beg. When I do carell to mynd. (11 st. of 12, each ending—"That knowledge wythe owt grace is worce the yngnorance.") 27.

18. Another, on Solomon's choice: beg. The rear and grettyst gyfte of all. (7 st. of 8.) 29^b.

19. A ballad describing the murder of Lewes and Edmond West, two gentlemen of Aitton in Yorkshire, who were beset and slain by John and George, two sons of the Lord Darcy*: beg. In historyes off olde to rede. (56 st. of 4.) 31.

* George Lord Darcy was succeeded by his son John in 1557. This ballad (modernized) is printed in Evans'es collection of Old Ballads, vol. IV. p. 16, ed. 1810: see British Bibliographer, IV. 106.

20. Ballad on true wisdom: beg. Remember man thy frayle estate: Repente thy folles paste. (104 lines, or 52 st. of 4.) 35^b.

Subscribed "Amen. quoth RYCHARD SHEALE."

21. Another moral ballad, by the same hand: beg. Who lovithe to lyve in peas and merkithe every change. (82 l. or 41 st. of 4.) 37^b.

22. An allegorical dream: beg. As I lay of lat musynge in my beile. (17 st. of 8.) 39^b.

"Amen. quoth T. S. P."

23. A complaint of one who lost his heart: beg. In a comly closct when the tyme was. (33 st. of 4.) 42^b.

"Finis. Amare et sapere vir deo conceditur. [Publius Syrus.] q' T. S. P."

24. Ballad on credulity and incredulity: beg. Considerynge this world and the incres of vice. (14 st. of 8.) 45.

Each st. ends with the word hear-say. "Finis. T. S. P."

25. A lover's description of his mistress: beg. Though weddyng go be destenye. (188 l.) 47.

The two last pages are written by the same hand as art. 12, yet it is subscribed "finis T. S. P."

26. On the vices of women: beg. Of lyghtnes moste unsaile whiche many women shewe. (62 l. or 31 st. of 4.) 50^b.

This and the following article are subscribed "Amen quoth HENRY SPONARE."

27. Ballad complaining against vice: beg. Thys myserable world indec, this day for to be holde. (32 l. or 16 st. of 4.) 51^b.

28^a. A ballad against hypocrisy and error in religion: beg. Of late as I layde me to reste uppone my bedc. (15 st. of 8.) 52^b.

The first st. ends—The[y] may seke longe yenoughe y^t lyst-ithe not to fynde; and the others in like manner. It is subscribed "Finis q' H. S." i. e. SPONER.

28^b. Another, also in the form of a dream: beg. As I lay slombrynge in manner of a trans. (17 st. of 8.) 55.

Most of the stanzas end as the first—y^e [i. e. They] all streanye cleese who shuld first begyne. "HARRY finis SPONER."

29. Another: beg. In a pleasante carbar very quaynte and quadrente. (14 st. of 8.) 57^b.

The stanzas end thus—Saying vice throughe vyolence hath put vertu to flyght, or in like manner. This and the following are subscribed "Finis quoth HENRY SPONARE."

30. Dialogue between John and mother Jone, to whom he complains of his wife's ill conduct: beg. My jornay lat as I dyd take. (9 st. of 7.) 60.

*31. Exhortation to Christians to bear the cross: beg. A wak all fethfull harttes a wake. (13 st. of 7.) 62^b.

This and the next are subscribed "finis SPONER."

32. A religious ditty on death: beg. When ragynge dethe doth drawe his durte. (16 st. of 6.) 64.

33. A song of praise to God "for his mercy." Considerynge Godes mercye greute. (12 st. of 6.) 66.

"Finis quoth SPONER."

34. The complaint of the poor to the rich: beg. A wak rych men for shume and here. (24 st. of 4.) 67^b.

"Amen quoth HENRY SPONAR."

35. "A grace befor dynner. O God of goddes and kyng of kynges." (16 st. of 4.) 69^b.

36. "A grace aftare dynnare. O fathar deare so opulente. (14 st. of 4.) 71.

"Amen quoth SPONARE."

37. Jocky's wedding; a Scottish ballad: beg. Our Jockye sale have our Jenny hope I. (37 st. of 4.) 72.

"fynys quoth WALLYS."

*38. Description of the Castle of Honor, by the Lady Intelligence: beg. Wanderyng on my way as I was wont for to wende. (15 st. of 8.) 76.

A curious allegory in alliterative metre. The moral is told at the end of every stanza, thus,—good ordar ys ever in that place w^her as honore ys hade in highe estimacion. "Fynis qd JOHN WALLYS."

39. A woman's lamentation lest her sick husband should die: beg. Good audience harken to me in this cace. (15 st. of 8.) 78^b.

Each stanza ends with these words—to have a newe (husband). “Finis qd J. WALLYS.”

40. A maiden’s lamentation for being unmarried: beg. In a surtayn place a poyntyul for pleasur. (10 st. of 8.) 81.

Each st. ends thus—that my tyme wyll be paste or I shall be gonne. This article and the next are subscribed “Finis qd. JOHN WALLLES.”

41^a. An enigmatical ballad on a “mandrayke” or the like: beg. In an arber of honor set full quadrant. (13 st. of 7.) 83.

The first stanza ends thus—And ever she sought and she wylt not what, At ye last she fownd and seyde it was that: the rest in like manner.

41^b. A ballad in praise of women: beg. Yf love wear all lost for lacke of lybartye. (9 st. of 8.) 85.

The refrain is, Hil myght be fownde in women, ar them if I lye. (See art. 67 and 68.) “finis qd J. W.” i. e. WALLIS.

42. A ballad in praise of patience: beg. When all men hathe spoken and all men hathe saide. (10 st. of 8.) 86^b.

Refrain—Then thes men that ar pacient and hathe shrowes to ther wyvys. Subscribed “Finis qd JOHN WALLLES.”

43. A ballad in praise of women: beg. When the wyntar wyndys bee vanysshed a way. (10 st. of 12.) 88.

Refrain—For all the falshede in this wor[ld]de Fyrst sprange out of a woman’s trewthe. Subscribed as the foregoing.

44. Good wishes to women: beg. I wolde no man wear anggre but all women pleasyde. (13 st. of 8.) 90^b.

Refrain—and I wold no woman war thus as many men be. The epithets in this ballad are curious, and alliteratively collected. “Finis qd WALLLES.”

45. On moderateness: beg. All myghtty God unercat and with out measur. (13 st. of 8.) 93.

*46. The Tamworth Minstrel’s complaint of his misfortunes and poverty: beg. O God what a world ys this now to se. (154 l.) 95.

This poem gives a curious insight into the quality and occupation of a Minstrel. The author was also a pedlar, and his wife was a “sylkewoman:” he describes the wares that she sold, and says that “At Lychfeld merkyte and Addarston good costonars she fownde, And also in Tamworth wher I dwell she took many a jl.” (i. e. pound.) He was way-laid and robbed of sixty pounds, when going out on a journey, whereby he was reduced to distress; and he says that “my good lord and mastar whom I sarve”—the Lord Strange—took compassion of him. It ends thus—

[If] “every man a lytell wold satisfye my nede, to helpe a poor man owt of dett it ys a gracious dede.

Explicite quoth RYCHARD SHEALE.” (See art. 48.)

The whole is printed in the British Bibliographer, IV. 99–104.

47. From a dissimilynge frende unjuste, etc. “Good Lord defend us,” etc. (8 l.) 98.

*48. The Minstrel’s farewell to a kind host: beg. Sir for the good chear, that I have hade heare. (24 l.) 98^b.

This piece seems to prove that the names subscribed to the poems in this MS. are not those of transcribers, but of the authors, at least it shows that the person whose name is at the end of art. 46 and 10, was able to rhyme. He desires his host to permit him to resort to his good table, “he caus my name is SHEALE;” says, “both mutton and veile, ys good for RYCHARDE SHEALE;” and asks him, “all though I be a ranger, to take me as no stranger, I am a yong begynner.” The corrections indicate that it is an original piece, either composed or spoken extempore. It is printed in the British Bibliographer, IV. 105.

49. A prayer: beg. Allmyghtye God our hevenly fathar. I confes, etc. 99.

50. Song on the ill qualities of women: beg. In Bocas un[d] Guydo I rede and fynde. (12 st. of 4.) 99^b.

Refrain—but I wyll say nothinge.

51. A ryme made after a time of scarceness caused by war. (15 l.) 100^b.

In long lines. It begins abruptly thus—yt this great ware may stay, but nowe be ye way.

*52. Praise of the valiant champions of the northern border: beg. Wt in ye northe contre, many noble men ther be. (18 l.) 101.

From the mention of “ye yerle of Northumberland and Sir Harry Perse his brothar,” and “my Lord Dacars,” this ryme must have been made between 1557 and 1569. It ends—“God save ye yerle of Shrovesbyrry. finis.” This article adds to the probability that SHEALE was the author of art. 10.

53^a. An exhortation to repentance: beg. A ryse and wak, for Crystis sake, a ryse I say a guyn. (13 st. of 6, in long lines.) 101^b.

53^b. Reflections on “ye thre and thritti psalme.” 102.

54. The crab-tree’s complaint and last will: beg. Fyrst whan thow nature all thynges brought to pas. (11 st. of 4.) 102^b.

Written “Anno. d. 1558,” partly in small text-hand.

55. A doleful ditty with this refrain—“on drope off good hoope a voydes dessperacion;” beg. Yff I durst butt I dare nott for drede off dyspleysure. (12 st. of 8.) 103^b.

“finis quot[h] JOH’N WALLYS.”

56. The good Physician: beg. Considerynge the great goodnes off Gode full off myght. (14 st. of 8.) 106.

Refrain—good physition, or hevenly phisition.

*57. “An Epithe off the dethe off the ryghte honorable lady Margrete Countes off Darbe, w^c departyde this world the xixth day off January and was buryede the xxijth off phebruary in anno domini 1558. on whosse soll God have mercye amen quoth RYCHARDE SHEALE.” 107^b.

The name of the author, “Richard Sheale,” is repeated in a fair italic hand. It is probable that by mistaking one figure in this title, Mr. Hearne (when he published art. 10) said, “I find that this Rychard Sheale was living in the year 1588, and that he was the author of many other poetical things.” (Guil. Neubrig. p. lxxxviii: and see Ritson’s Bibl. Poet. p. 329-30.) The first line of this piece is—O Latham, Latham, thow muste lamente, for thow hast loste a floware. f. 108. It recites her dying words, and describes her burial at Armeskyrke, in 47 four-lined stanzas, written in long lines like art. 10; and ends thus—“When yt we shall wende hence a way in heaven to have a place. amen quoth RYCHARD SHEALE.” 109^b. Part of it is printed in the British Bibliographer, IV. 98.

58. A ditty from the 73d psalm: beg. Sleepyng in my bed, but even this othar nyghte. (4 st. of 8.) 109^b.

Refrain—Qui obtinuerunt divitias.

59. An imperfect song: beg. My fancie did I fix. (2 st. of 4.) 110^b.

60. A love-song, "To the tune of 'lusty gallant,' I rede howe that the marbellstone Throwgholed ys by rany dropps." (16 st. of 8.) 112-4.

Subscribed "OLYVER CURRANT, JOHN FYLDYNGE."

*61. "A newe ballad entytuled Lenton Stuff, for a lyttell munny ye maye have inowghe. To the tune of 'the Crampe.' Lenton stuff ys cumme to y^e towne." (14 st. of 7.) 115^b.

"Finis quothe W: ELDERTON." Not noticed by Ritson in his list of Elderton's ballads, Bibl. Poet. p. 195-8: it describes the articles sold in the market in time of Lent. At the top of f. 116 is written "Robert Wallis of Stanwige."

62. Song on the loss of an inconstant mistress, "To the tune of 'the downeryght squyre.' Ons dyd I aspyre to loves desyre." (4 st. of 16.) 118.

63. Assurance of faithful love (a neat song): beg. My Kebbell sweete in whom I trust." (5 st. of 6.) 119^b.

64. Troilus and Creseida: "To the tune of 'Fayne woold I fynd sum pretty thyng to geeve unto my lady.' When Troylus dwelt in Troy towne." (17 st. of 4.) 120^b.

65. The judgement of Solomon: beg. Wysdow woold I wyshe to have. (9 st. of 6.) 122.

Refrain—"Wherewithon very well Salamon in Israel." This ditty seems to be unfinished.

66. A lover's dream. On tyme I layde me downe to rest. (6 st. of 4.) 124.

67. Song in dispraise of gossiping wives: beg. Wemen to prayse who takes in hand. (7 st. of 8.) 125^b.

Refrain—Ar thena and if I ly. (See art. 41^b and 68.)

68. Song in contradiction to the foregoing: beg. When woman fyrst dame Nature wrought. (7 st. of 8.) 127.

Refrain—I pray you aske them yf I lye. Subscribed "WYLLIAM CASE." The pages 128^b—131, 132^a, 133^b, 135^a, and 136^b, are vacant.

69. A circular table called "Spera furti," with a rule to discover theft. 131^b.

70. "Sphera Pithagorica," another magical table. 133.

Compare No. 189, ii.

71. A lover's complaint far off at sea: beg. My hart ys leved on the land in lauger of my lady deare. (11 st. of 4.) 134.

The line "I so sycke make my bed I will dye nowe," is added to each stanza. The poem is obscurely written, and is in the Scottish dialect.

72. A satirical character of monkhood: beg. If that I must in order tell. (12 l.) 135^b.

73. On the mystic design of the "disguises" or ornaments of prelates: beg. The albe and surplisse white doe note. (12 l.) 135^b.

74. Epigram on three things insatiable: beg. Theare bee three things doe well agrce The church the court and destinie. (6 l.) 136.

A note of three others (namely, priests, women, and the sea) is added in Latin and English.

75. Epigram on pilgrimage to Rome: beg. Nor horse nor man. (2 l.) 136.

76. Advice to a cuckold: beg. Cuckold my freinde if thou wilt mee belevre. (8 l.) 136.

77. A clown consoling himself on his mistress becoming the vicar's wife: beg. Adew my pretty pussy. (6 st. of 12.) 137.

78. A lover's trial: beg. At bewtysse bar where I dyd stand. (6 st. of 6.) 139-8^b.

The author's name was GEORGE —. On f. 140^b is a badly written form of discharge for payment of an annuity, in Latin.

79. Have over the water to Florida:* beg. The prymerose in the greene forest. (7 st. of 6.) 141, 140^b.

* This title is taken from the first line of the third stanza.

On the last page (141^b) is twice written "Gabriell Penn 1640:" he was probably the writer of pages 135^b-6.

No. 49.

A small MS. tract, consisting of 8 leaves of paper in quarto: bound between the MSS. numbered 51 and 50.

"The Changes, or a Vicissitude of change of Gover[n]ment, being a vindication of the present actings of the Army in dissolving the late Parliament: Wherein divers objections are answered relating to the severall translations and changes of Government since the yeare one thousand six hundred fourty and two unto this present Revolution, and some particulars proposde as a furtherance to our much desired liberty, by JOHN WARD." [1653.]

On the back of this title is written "The epistle dedicatory to the Army and Common-wealth of England." The poem begins thus—So then: at length there's yet some hopes, I see, Once to enjoy desired liberty: and ends—With victoryes and absolute successe. It seems to have been written out for the press. The author was probably the same person who published two sermons in 1645, 40. noticed in the Bodleian catalogue.

No. 50.

A tract bound with the foregoing and the following MS., and of the same size and number of leaves as No. 49.

A Fable of a disputation between the Horse, the Goose, and the Sheep; ascribed to Dan JOHN LYDGATE, monk of Bury.

To this modern transcript (intituled "Disputaacio inter Equum, Ancam, et Ovem") is prefixed the following note:—"Gave the originall Manuscript to my worth[y] friend Elias Asbmole esq^r. 11th. March 1677, given me by Edw. Baldwyn in Fleetstreet executor to Tho. Baldwyn in Chancery lane, amongst whose papers and bookes the same was found." This person who gave it to Ashmole was John Stansly, whose autograph is written in the MS. No. 754, which is the MS. mentioned in the note. For particulars of the poem, see the account of that volume.

No. 51.

A small quarto book, bound with the MSS. No. 49 and 50, and consisting of 20 leaves of paper.

ANN BOWYR'S writing-book, containing—

1. Exercises, or Extracts from various English poets, as Chaucer, the Earl of Surrey, the Mirror for Magistrates, etc. f. 1^b, 7^b.
2. Copy of the curious inscription set on the tomb of Thomas Grey, Marquis of Dorset (who died in 1530), after his re-interment by reason of the rebuilding of Astly-church in Warwickshire, in 1608. f. 5^b.

A note states that his body was taken up 26 May, 1608. Of his death and burial see Dugdale's Baronage, l. 721.

3. Alphabets and moral sentences, some copied, some unfinished; at the end, f. 17—12.

No. 52.

An octavo volume, consisting of 65 leaves of parchment, neatly written (in columns) in a small text-hand, in the latter part of the XIVth century. It contains a fair copy of—

RICHARD ROLLE'S "Pricke of Consciens:" beg. þe myth of þe fader almychty; and ending thus—"pat for us vouchd save on rode to henge.
Amen." f. 1—65.

In this copy the prologue is not detached from the first part of the poem, nor are the seven parts distinguished by rubrics: they begin at these places:—I. f. 1^a, II. 7^b, III. 12^b, IV. 19^a, V. 27^c, VI. 43^c, VII. 50^d. The dialect of this copy is the Northern, in which the poem was composed: see other copies in No. 41 and 60.

On the back of the last leaf are these lines, written in the XVth century—

"Son lett not ydelnesse gou enslombre
Nor wydnesse of clothys gou encombre
... . your lone p'cious put your reflygh
... . reward gou as it is rygte."

No. 53.

A small quarto volume, containing 81 leaves of paper gilt at the edges, beside three on which are written the title and introductory pieces: it is very neatly written, as for a presentation copy; and the royal arms are stamped on the covers.

"Chaucer's Piller, beinge his Master-peece, called the Squiers Tale, w^{ch} hath binn given [up as] lost, for all most thease three hundred yeares: but now fownd out, and brought to light by JOHN LANE. 1630."

On the back of the title is an acrostich (forming "Maria Anglie. C. M.") from "The Muse to the soveraigne bewtie of our most noble and illustrious ladie the virtuous Queene Marie, wief of our adreaded soveraign lord King Charles:" which introduces an affected dedication, followed by 8 lines from "The Muse to the fowre winds," by "J. L.," and 6 lines to the author by Thomas Windham, of Keinsford co. Somerset, esq. one of the Justices. On the fourth page are 4 stanzas from the fourth book of the Faerie Queene by "The poet Spencer, uppon the loss of that peece of Chaucer's." Then follow the "Description of the Squier by Chaucer" (in his prologue to the Canterbury Tales, v. 79—100), and "The Squiers prolog, as it is in Chaucer," and "The Squiers tale as it is in Chaucer," the text of which begins on f. 1.

The two first parts of this poem, and the two first lines of the third part, are copied from Chaucer: at the end of the second (f. 10^b) is this note—"Heare followeth my suppliment to bee inserted in place of that of Chaucer's which is missinge. J. L." This long poem, which bears no just proportion to Chaucer's tales, consists of twelve parts or cantos, to each of which is prefixed a summary stanza of 4 lines. At the end are an "Epilogus" (f. 79^b), "The Marchantes wordes to the Squier, and the Hostes wordes to the Marchant as they are in Chaucer" (f. 80), and "Comparatio," f. 80^b.

On the back of f. 81 Ashmole has written an extract from Lydgate's "Temple of Glass," about Canace the heroine of this story.

PUBLI VIRGILII MARONIS Opera, scilicet—

I. "Bucolica. Prima Egloga inter Titurum et Melibeum." f. 1.

Præmittitur istud argumentum. "In hac egloga introducuntur duo pastores, alter securus ocis et cantilenis indulgens, alter cum gregibus suis patriam linquens et exulans. Per ocientem intenditur Virgilius, qui amissos agros recuperavit, et de eorum restauracione gaudebat: per exulantem intenditur Mantuanus conquirens de agrorum amissione. Titurus interpretatur, major aries in grege: ita Virgilius doctor fuit inter Mantuanos. Melibeus interpretatur curam boni agens: per quem intelligitur quilibet Mantuanus qui de bobus quam de agris consolicitabatur. Melibeus itaque a finibus suis recedens, et Titurum sub arbores videns, admirans ait o Titire." In margine explicatur faqus "Anglice a beche tre." Hæc manu prima. No. 56.

Codex pergameneus, foliis 103 constans, in Italia sæculo XVto scriptus, caractere Romano, cum pictis deauratisque literis initialibus.

PUBLII TERENTII Comœdiæ sex.

Exemplar bonum et satis pulchrum, cui titulus nullus adest: in fronte vero stat epigramma illud hexastichon quod in quibusdam editionibus dicitur (ut in Variorum editione 1662) "ex antiquo cod. ms. in bibliotheca Regis Gall." fuisse depromptum, incipiens Natus in excelsis tectis Carthaginiæ atlæ. Præmittitur cuique suum fabulæ argumentum, prologusque suus; et nomen numerusque fabulæ in ima parte paginarum ubique notantur. In calce, literis majoribus ita lusit scriptor "¶ Amen ¶ Laus tibi Christe. Laus tibi semper. ¶ Deo ¶ gratias ¶ Amen."

Isti fuerunt olim possessores. Ad initium Adelphorum in summo angulo folii 51, scriptum est "Reginaldus Pole est huius libri possessor. Amen dicam," etc. ejus manu passim habentur notulæ. Alter eorum qui post Cardinalem Polum habuerunt codicem, Polidorus Warrington scilicet, vel potius Thomas Pattinsonus ex Æde Christi, paginas haud paucas pessime scribendo fœdavit, nomenque suum indignum passim reliquit. Quin et ille qui nomen sic posuit f. 102b. "Ego Cuthbertus Huton ex comitatu Cornub; commissus pro Doctore Lupton," scripsit Anglicæ quædam de vaticinio quodam Merlinino pro anno 1510, in margine f. 69b.

No. 57.

A quarto volume, containing a MS. most neatly written on 123 pages of paper. On a blank leaf at the beginning are these notes written by Ashmole:—"John Dee Aº. D'ni 1577. This following booke (called Norton's Ordinal) was transcribed by the hand of D^r. JOHN DEE, and had been bound in purple velvet."

The Ordinal of Alchimy, written by THOMAS NORTON of Bristoll.

This title is copied from the first article in Ashmole's collection of ancient alchemical poems, intitled Theatrum Chemicum Britannicum (London, 1652, 4º.), whereof his own interleaved copy may be found at No. 971-2. The Latin prologue is not in this MS. nor any title; but, as Ashmole observes in his notes, (p. 437.) "from the first word of the Proeme, and the initial letters of the six following chapters (discovered by acromonosyllabiques and syllabique acrostiques) we may collect the author's name and place of residence: for those letters (together with the first line of the seventh chapter) speak thus—Thomas Norton of Bristo, A parfet master ye maie him trowe." The first line of the work is—To the honor of God one in persons three; and it ends thus—

"All that have pleasur in this booke to reade prae for my sowle, and for all quicke and deade in the yeare of Christe M.CCCC. seavente and seavene this worke began: Honor to God in heavene."

Dr. DEE hath subjoined an Index of the names of 35 "Authors recited in this booke." It was not from this MS., nor from those in No. 1445 and 1464, that Ashmole's text was taken, or his MS. collations were made.

No. 58.

A small octavo volume, consisting of two books bound together: the former, written by the hand of Ashmole when young, contains three poems.

1. "The pleasant Fountaine of Knowledge: first written in French anno 1413, by JOHN DE LA FOUNTAINE of Valencia in Henault, and translated, 1644, by WM. BACKHOUSE of Swallowfeild in com. Berks esq^r." f. 1.

The translator's name was added afterward by Ashmole, who was his adopted son. The poem begins thus—When as ye merry moneth of May, and consists of 1070 lines; beside these at the end—

“All this worke wch is soe highly prised
May in these two verses be comprised.
If thou dissolve ye fixt, and make itt fly
And ye flying fix, thou shalt live happy.
“1644. December 28. Laus Deo.” f. 23.

2. “Planetus Naturæ. The Complaint of Nature against ye erronious Alehymist, by JOHN DE MEHUNG. Here Nature her complaint doth showe.” 27.

Over against this title Ashmole has written 19 lines of the original French text, beg. “Natura coarguit sophisticum sufflatorem. Prologus. Il adjuce [leg. advint] eng jour que Nature.” f. 26^b. The translation begins thus—Alas how sorrowfull am I, (f. 28.) and consists of 986 verses.

3. “The Alehymyst’s Answer to Nature. Meeke and milde ye Artist you see,” etc. f. 1.

The work begins thus—“The Alehymist. Now my most sweete mother Nature,” and consists of 826 lines, beside 2 couplets at the beginning. At f. 49^b, 67^b, and 68, are several notes from French and Latin alchymical books in Ashmole’s later hand.

The last article seems to have been part of a larger book; it consists of 18 leaves, the first page of which is marked “251.”

4. “A treatise of ye Phillosophers stone wrighten by SYNESIUS ye Greeke abbot; taken out of ye Library of ye Emperor.” 72.

This tract begins—Whearas ye anciente philors. It is corrected in many places by Ashmole’s hand. At the end is a list of the names of six philosophers or “Authors seited by Sinesius who lived anno 430, temp. Tbead.” with references to the old paging. De Synesio vide Fabricii Bibl. Græc. I. 414, VIII. 221—448; et Saxii Onomasticon Literarium I. 467—8.

Not one of these tracts is printed in Ashmole’s Theatrum Chemicum.

No. 59.

A folio volume, containing two MSS. written on paper. The former is of the XVth century, and consists of 134 numbered leaves; beside two leaves of parchment at the beginning. On the back of the first of them is written in large flourished letters the name of the collector and writer of the book, thus—

* ma. iove. D. Shirley * and below this, eight verses (beg. Non homo mireris si copia tu fluateris), four of which are also at f. 43. At the top of the next page is this note, “Iste liber datur in vadium David Gare Aº. Domini Milli^{mo} cccc^{mo} lxxxvjto”—written above the following ancient list of contents, which is by the same hand as the rest of the volume.

“First þe content hole of þis booke called morolisacõn. first founde by olde Philozophres and subtyle Poetes declareþe by þe recapitulacõn of þe chapitres. and þe refraydes þeire sensible doctryne þe compilacõn of gode thewis [fo. 1.]

A confessional devoute
A devoute invocacõn to oure ladye [39^b.]
An Invocacõn to hir by þabece [i. e. the abbess.]
a comedye of worldes variacõn [31^b?]
a refraide as þe crabbe goþe a comedye of þe fyndinge of sciences
An Invocacõn of o Intemerata
A translacõn of illumina ocl’os meos
A preservaõn vnder þy mighty hande
A doctryne of Stans puer ad mēsam [98]
A howe gracious things been saide of þee
A meditacõn of þe passion. loke on my woūde

And of þe kynges sith þe conquest [76]
A comfort þat þe synner despeirs him not
A dyaloge of fortune and pleintyff [37]
A translacõn of þe salme levavi ocl’os meos
An holy meditacõn by þe piour of Bridlington [64]
A compleynt of nulle sinful devises diuers
A testament of Lidgate ful gode
A desolacõn of þe cite of Rome [13]
And thanne fyve tragedyes for hüfrey duc of Gloucestre made by Lidgate.
A feyre Cronicle of thre kyngs of Colen.” [100.]

It will be seen from a complete enumeration of the contents of the MS. that the above list could not have had its proper place in this, but in some other volume of Shirley’s poetical collections, (see Tanner, p. 668, Ritson’s Bibl. Poet. p. 101, 2, and Warton’s H. E. P.), which mistake may have been caused by the coincidence of the first and the last article in the list being the same as in this MS. The references within brackets show which of the poems are herein contained, and where.

On the back of this (the second) parchment-leaf is this title, written in a good old hand—“Certē peeces of Lydgates, Chaucers, and Gowres woorkes, but ye moste are Lydgates.” The collection begins on the next page.

1. “Here begynneþe þe boke made of þe Govern-ance of Princes compyled by þat renōmed Phillosophre danne ARISTOTILES and sent to þat excellent Emperour and Prince invincyble. Alexandre of Macedoynne. þe whiche is eleped and called. þe secrete of secretes. and tresore incomperable.” f. 1—12^b.

This is a prose translation of the Secretum Secretorum, perhaps made by SHIRLEY, several passages being marked in the margin “nota per Shirley.” It is the same work as, in Lydgate’s metrical version, is called the book “of all good thewes,” (see Ritson’s list of Lydgate’s works, art. 52. p. 72.) and begins thus—Marmaduke the soue of Patryke. The fifteenth chapter thus ends—“to absteyne þee frome to muche eting and superfluite is þe sovereyne medecyne generally. Et sic explicit * decretum Aristotellis. And begynneþe abstracte brevyaire † cōpyled of diuers balades.”

* Sic pro Secretum.

“Here begynneþe [þe] boke eleped þe Abstracte Brevyaire compyled of diuers balades, roundels, virilayes, tragedyes, enoyez, compleyntes, moralites, stornes, practysed and eke debysed and ymagyned, as it sheweþe here folowynng.” f. 13.

The foremost in this curious collection, is—

2. “þe Tragedye of Rome by LIDEGATE. Rome remembre of þy fundacion.” (29 st. of 7.) 13.

The 19th st. is superscribed “Lenvoye by Lidgate,” and begins, O noble pryncis of hys discreõn: this latter part has for its running title the “Tragedye of Prynces that were vicious,” as that of the former is “þe desolacõn of Rome.” The whole ends, Tanoynte youre eris to make you lecherous.

3. “þis moral Epistel sent kyng Amasias to kyng Johas, made by Dann JOHAN LIDEGATE þe poete of Bury. Unto kyng Johas of Israel was sente.” (8 st. of 7.) 16^b.

See the note on art. 14^a. See Ritson’s list, No. 72 and 158: he refers to another copy in the Harleian MS. 1704.

4. “Balade moral of gode counseyle made by GOWER. Passe forþe þou pilgryme, and bridel wele þy beest.” (5 st. of 7.) 17^b.

Chaucer’s ballad of good counsel (correctly printed in Todd’s Illustrations, p. 131-2) seems to have been borrowed from this.

5. Here now foloweþe a balade ryal made by LYDEGATE aftter his resorte to his religyõn. withe þe refrayde, 'how every thing draweþ to his semblable.' Trete every man. as he is disposed." (24 st. of 8.) 18.

The running-title is "Naturel balade by Lidigate. Ritson, No. 64. Another copy is in Harl. 2251.

6. "A glorious prayer til oure Ladye by LIDEGATE. Or* 'dilectus meus' shewde dileccõn." (9 st. of 8.) 21^b.

* The first word is omitted in Ritson's list, No. 195. This article has only a running-title: it is macaronic, the Latin being taken from the Canticles.

7. "Here foloweþe a balade ryal of Invocacõn to saint Edmund at pinstance of kynge Henry þe sixst, made by LIDEGATE. Glorious martir þat of devoute humblesse." (14 st. of 8.) 22^b.

This is the conclusion of the author's Life of S. Edmund, as it is in the Harl. MS. 2278, and supplies six stanzas wanting in the fine copy in this Library (No. 46, f. 84b), namely, from the ninth, intitled "Lenvoye au Roy Henry le sisme" (beg. Go lytel booke: be ferful, quake for drede), to the fourteenth, which ends—Because it is of youre foundacyoun. Another copy is in Harl. 1704: see Ritson's list, No. 245.

8. "Here begynneþe a notable proverbe of Esopus Æthioppyn in balad by Dann JOHAN LIEDEGATE made in Oxenford. An olde proverbe haþe bee seyde and shal." (4 st. of 8.) 24^b.

Esop's fable of the dog and the shadow. Ritson, No. 44.

9. "Here foloweþe next a moral balade to my Lord þe Prince [Henry], to my Lord of Clarence, to my Lord of Bedford, and to my Lord of Gloucestre, by HENRY SCOGAN at a souper of feorþe* merchande in þe vintre in London. at þe hous of Lowys Johan. My noble sonnes and eke my lordes dere. (24 st. of 8.) 25.

* So for worthy.

Ashmole has noted in the margin, that it was "Printed toward the end of Chaucer's works [f.] 380," in Godfray's edition, 1532. (No. 1095.) See Tyrwhitt's list of pieces ascribed unto or usually printed with Chaucer, and Ritson's Bibl. Poet. p. 97. The running title, is "Balade by Scogane to my foure lordes, þe kynges sonnes." Against the 14th st. Shirley has noted, "Geoffrey Chaucier made þes thre balades next þt folowen;" whence Ashmole has accordingly noted in his copy above mentioned, "These 3 following verses were made by Geoffrey Chaucer."

10. "Here foloweþe a balade by a grete clerk made, þat is cleped PRESBITER JOHANNES, to adverteyse þe hye prynces þat haue þe power of þe pepul, to gov[er]ne hem in counsel and vertue. Yere is no damage more man to purpose." (11 st. of 7.) 28.

The running-title is, "Balade of gode conseyle by s' John þe preeste."

11. "Here foloweþe a poetical balade of wpsdamc made by þe Munke of Bury cleped JOHAN LIDEGATE. Counseyllier wher þat ever þou be." (14 st. of 8.) 29^b.

This, like art. 5, is called in the running-title "A naturel balade by þe poete Lidigate." Ritson, No. 84.

12. "Here foloweþe a balade made of þe transmūtacõns of þis world, w^t þe refrayde 'as a midsomer Roos.' Let noman booste of konnyng ne vertue." (14 st. of 7.) 31^b.

Running-title—"Poete LIDEGATE with refrayde of þe Roos." Another copy is in Harl. 2251. Ritson, No. 68.

13. "Here foloweþe nowe a moral balade withe Refrayde 'if hornes were awaye,' bytwene nature and bewte etc' by LIDEGATE. Off god and kynde procedeþe al beautee." (7 st. of 8.) 33^b.

- 14^a. "þan foloweþe now a notable moralisacõn made by LIDEGATE of a fabul poetical, how trees chose hem a kyng betwene þe Ryal Cydre of þe hye mountayne and þe thowthistelle of þe lowe valeye. þis moralisacõn is in þis same boke tofore*. And wryt a poletyke balade w^t refrayde to fynde a frende at nede. Whane Aurora toke of Tytan hir leve." 34^b.

* See art. 3, which Shirley was about to repeat here: it is not Jotham's parable of the trees (in Judges ix. 7—15), as it might seem here, but is taken from 2 Chron. xxv. 18, through the medium of Josephus. The present article is only the first 12 lines of the following one, with verbal variations.

- 14^b. "Here begynneþe a Polletyke Balade ryalc made by þat approbate Poete LIDEGATE þe Munk of Burye w^t with* þe gode Refrayde 'To fynde a frende at neode.' Late whane Aurora of Tytane toke leve." (17 st. of 7.) 35.

* So in the MS. Ritson, No. 83.

15. "Here foloweþe nowe a compleynt of þe pleintyff ageinst fortune translated oute of Frenshe into Englysshe by þat famous Rethorissyen GEFREY CHAUCIER. This wrecched worldes transmūtacõn:" (10 st. of 7.) with "Lenvoye by Chauyer." (10 l.) 37.

Ashmole has noted that it was "Printed at the end of Chaucer's workes, 381^b;" and in his copy (No. 1095) he has added the Lenvoye (compare art. 19), which is not in Urry's edition, where the poem is intitled "Balade of the Village without paintyng," p. 548. Another MS. copy, intitled "Pleyntif encountre Fortune," is in Magdalen College, at Cambridge, No. 2006, p. 124.

16. Here nowe folowe þe names of þe nyent worshyppullest Ladys þt in alle cronycles and storial bokes haue bee founden of troupe of constance and vertuou or reproched womanhode by CHAUCIER. Grete reysone Cleopatre is þy kyndnesse." (9 st. of 8.) 38^b.

The running-title is, "þe Cronycle made by Chaucier." It seems to be an abridgement of Chaucer's Legend of good women: the names are—Cleopatre, Adryane, gode Dydo qwene of Cartage, Lucreste of Rome, Phillees, Thesbe of Babilloigne, Isiphyle, Ypermistra the gode wyff, and, the Qwene Alceste. "The ix Ladies worthie," printed in Urry's edition, p. 555, is altogether a different poem.

17. "Here foloweþe next a deboute balade by LIDEGATE of Bury made at þe reverence of oure lady Qwene of mercy. A thousande stories I koupe to you reherce." (11 st. of 7.) 39^b.

Ritson, No. 194. This copy contains only the first nine, the eighteenth, and the nineteenth of the 35 stanzas printed in Chaucer's works, Godfray's edition, f. 374, Urry's, p. 538. Some of the readings of this MS. are preferable.

18. "Nowe foloweþe here next a questyone, made in wyse of balade by þat filosofre LIDEGATE dann JOHAN. Wheþer is moste preferred in þe worlde þ^t nowe is, 'Amor vincit omnia' or 'Mentiris quod pecunia.' Eche man to followe his owen fantasye." (17 st. of 8.) 41.

At the end are six "Versus Philosophorum," whereof the first 4 agree with those on the first parchment leaf: they seem to be part of this article.

19. "Here begynneþe a balade made by þ^t worþy knight of Savoye in frenshe calde sir Otes Graunson. translated by CHAUCIERS. There nys so hye comfort to my plesaunce." (8 st. of 6².) 43^b.

* Beside a st. of 10 lines, almost word for word the same as at the end of art. 15, intitled "Lenvoye by THOMAS CHAUCIER to alle prynces and princesses of þis translacōn of þis complaynte and laye." It begins thus—Pryncesse reseceyveþe þis compleinte in gree.

20. "Here begynneþe a devoute Ënboracōn to sainte Anne by þat solempne religious LIDEGATE, made at the commaundement of my Ladie Anne Countesse of Stafford. Thowe first moever þat causest al thinge." (11 st. of 7.) 44^b.

Ritson, No. 232.

21. "Here folow[e]þe nexst a complaynte made by LYDEGATE for þe departing of Thomas Chaucier in to fraunce by hes servauntz uponne þe kynges ambassate. Every maner creature." (15 st. of 15.) 45.

The refraide is, "whane I see my ladye dere." The occasion was in the 6 Hen. IV. Another copy is in Harl. 1704. Ritson, No. 140.

22. "Now here foloweþe a balade made by LIDEGATE, of wynnere, for desporte and game per Antyfrasim. The world is now full of al variance. (11 st. of 7.) 47^b.

The last stanza is, "Lenvoye. w^t refrayde of doubulnesse:" as is that of all the poem. Ritson, No. 23.

23. "Here nowe foloweþe an holy mēditacōn made by þe Religious manne LIDEGATE dann JOHAN þe Munk of Bury. After þe stormy tyme cessinge þe raync." (180 l.) 49.

Subscribed "Fiat Amen. per Shirley." Ritson, No. 102.

24. "Here foloweþe nowe a glorious Ënboracōn to oure blessed ladye made by þat vertuous LIDEGATE in balade wyse. in cheosing of Valantynes at þat self feeste. with þe Refrayde 'I love one best of alle.' Sainte Valentyne of custume yeere by yeere. (19 st. of 7.) 52.

Ritson, No. 193.

25. "Nowe here foloweþe nexst a balade made by þat solempne clerk LIDEGATE dann JOHAN. presented to kyng Henry þe sexst his soverine lorde. þe day of þat royal solemnysacōn of his coronacōn at Westm. Most noble Prynce of cristen Prynces alle." (18 st. of 8.) 54.

Ritson, No. 134.

26. "Lenvoye to þe kyng Henry þe sixst by LIDEGATE A[nd] folowing begynneþe þis balade ne[x]st folowing of þe Ënboyc of þe same to þe Qweene. And þane shoule yee rede nexst a devoute seyinge of 'verbum caro factum est.' 3c devoute people wheoche have observance." (4 st. of 8.) 56^b.

Ritson, No. 210.

27. "Now condeþe here þe dyte of Verbum caro factum est, and nexst foloweþe a pntous complaynte of a Chapellayne of my lordes of Gloucester Humfrey etc. whome god assoyle þat noble prync. A solytarye ful sore compleyninge. (20 st. of 7.) 57.

The running title in one place is, "Complainte made by LIDEGATE of my ladye of Gloucester and Holand etc.;" in another place, "Compleynte of my ladye of Holand, Tragedye made by LIDEGATE." Ritson, No. 137.

28. "Here folowen þe names of þe ordre of Knightes of þe Garter made at Wyndesore, þe yeare þat Sigismounde Kyng of Rome and Emperour of Almayne was in Englande þe yeere of kyng Henry þe fyfte reyhnyng." 59^b.

Copied by Ashmole into the 23rd volume of his Garter Collections, No. 1119, xvi.; and by Stowe into the Harleian MS. 545, f. 127^b, art. 10.

29. The following stanza by the Collector of these Poems. 59^b.

"Yee that desyre in herte and have plesaunce
Olde stories in bokis for to rede
Gode matiers, putt hem in remembrance
And of þe ober take yee none hede
Byseching yowe of your godelyhede
Whane yee þis boke haue over redde and seyne
To JOHAN SHIRLEY restore yee it ageine."

30. "Ënboyc by LIDEGATE. Here foloweþe an Ëpistel made by the same LIDEGATE sende to Sibille with þeschewing of ydelnesse. The chief gymnyng of grace and of vertue To exclude slouþe is ocupacōn." (21 st. of 7.) 59^b.

The first running-title is, "By þe poete Lidgate an Epistelle vertuous." The subject is, Mulierem fortem quis inveniet? Prov. xxxi. 10—31. Ritson, No. 141 and 73.

31. "Nowe here nexst folowung ys made a balade by LYDEGATE sente by a poursyant to þe Shirreves of Londoñ acompanyed with peire breperne vponne Mayes daye at Busshopes wode at an honourable dyner eche of hem bringginge his dysshe. Mighty Flourra goddes of fresshe floures." (16 st. of 7.) 62^b.

Ritson, No. 146. It was printed from this MS. among the Illustrations of the 'Chronicle of London,' edited by Sir Harris Nicolas (Lond. 1827, 4^o.), p. 257—260.

32. "Here nowe filoweþe nexst, a devoute Ënboracōn to oure Ladye with þe refrayde 'Stabat mater dolorosa'.* Heyle goddes moder dolorous." (21 st. of 4.) 64.

The running-title is, "A dolorous Invocacōn til oure ladye by the Priour of Bridlington." Ritson, No. 186. All the stanzas but the first begin with the letter O. Lydgate composed another poem on the virgin Mary, called the fifteen Oes: see Ritson, No. 181.

33. "And nowe foloweþe here a devowte Ënboracōn made by LYDEGATE to sainte Denys at þe request of Charles þe Frenshe kyng to let it be translated oute of Frenshe in to Englysshe. O

- þow chosen of God protectour of Fraunce." (9 st. of 8.) 65.
Ritson, No. 251.
34. "Here now foloweþe a pytous lamentacōn of oure ladye shewde to saynt Auneyon of Cristes passyone made by JOHN LIDGATE. In the touret of a toure, I stode musinge on þe moone." (11 st. of 4 long lines, or of 8.) 66.
The refrayde is expressed in this running-title, "Complaynte of Amore langued." Ritson, No. 201.
35. "Here nexst foloweþe þe wrytinge of þe doctoure saint Austyne what mede man resceyveþe þ^t devoutely hereþe his messe. Nowe understonde beþe more and lesse." (34 l.) 67.
This is neither the Merita missæ ascribed to Lidgate by Ritson, No. 222, nor No. 223 on the same subject.
36. "And now folowen þe wordes of monissbone of oure lord ih^u crist saide to saint Jerome and to saint Gregoire. Who so ever he beo þat useþe to swere by þe holy membres of oure lorde ih^u Criste." (Prose.) 67^b.
The running-title is, "Of þe swering by þe holy membres of Cryst."
37. "Nowe foloweþe here nexst a devoute and holy salutacōn of oure ladye made by an holy Ankaresse of Maunssfeld. Heille glorious virgynne grounde of al oure grace." (5 st. of 8.) 68.
38. "Here foloweþe a devoute rortacōn to meeve menne devoutely to þe ymage of pyte by orisounes and preyers. O wretched synner what so ever þowe be." (4 st. of 8.) 68^b.
39. "Nowe foloweþe þe salme of Deus in nomine tuo translated owte of latyne into englishe by LYDEGATE dann JOHAN. God in þy name make me sauf and sounde." (8 st. of 8.) 69.
Ritson's No. 163. Another copy is in Caligula A. II. f. 62b. Lydgate paraphrazed some other psalms in like manner.
40. "Here nowe foloweþe þe doctryne of many gret Clerkes approved, made in baladewyse and translated oute of divers langages in to englishe. By sapience tempre þy corage." (7 st. of 7.) 70^b.
The running title is, "Doctrynes of wisdame." Ritson, No. 77. Another copy is in MS. Harl. 2251.
41. "Here nexst foloweþe þe fourre complexyons of mankynde, with þe doomis of hem made by discrete Clerkes. Off gifftes large to love haþe gret delite." (3 st. of 7, each followed by a distich.) 71^b.
Different from Ritson's, No. 79, on the same subject. It is a translation of the verses—Largus amans: see No. 342, i. 5, § (5).
42. "þe filosofar writeþe for a sobereine notabilitie* þat fourre thinges makeþe þe prudence of man to falle. Worship wymen and unwelldy age." (7 l.) 72.
Ritson, No. 82, who refers also to the Fairfax MS. 16.
* This phrase is borrowed from Chaucer's Canterbury Tales.
43. "Profecia Merlini. Gens erit australis." (distichon.) 72.
44. "þe seyinge of wysemen. þat man is wys and weele fortunate." (13 l.) 72.
45. Six "Questyones. Who was ded and never born? Adam," etc. 72^b.
46. "þe ten comandementz. þowce shalt have one god and no moo." 72^b.
Five couplets: the second commandment is left out, as it usually was before the Reformation.
47. "Devoute and vertuos wordes. þere is none so wyse man but he may wisdame leere." 73.
Beside the 4 lines thus beginning, this article contains 10 lines, beginning—þou þat wered þe crowne of thornes, Felle doune þe pryde of wommens hornes; and 8 couplets in long lines, beg. Love gentyl Jhesu fervently. Adversete take pacyently.
48. "Augustinus dicit—Quod prima die quando anima exit de corpore, exit ad Jherusalem," etc. 73.
This vile theological stuff is partly called in the running-title Dieta sacre pagine!
49. "Here nexst foloweþe a truwe cronicle of Englishe vercefyed in Latyne. with þe diuers dates. abstracte by Cronicles of Englande." 74^b.
This article consists of 37 leonine verses, with a date at the end of each, like to Sir Geo. Wharton's versified chronology in his almanacks: it begins thus—" Hic nato xp'o mundi numerus datur isto—v M iiii^{xx}, xix.;" and ends thus, after the year 1433—" Finis adest mundi, queratur vita secundi.—M^lcccc." etc."
50. "Nowe here folowen þe names of þe Kingis of England frome þe conquest of Due William of Normandy. T[h]is mighty William Duke of Normandic." (15 st. of 7.) 75.
The running-title, "þe regnunge by LYDEGATE made Of kynges after William Conq[ui]rour," shows that this is an authentic copy of his verses on the Kings down to Henry VI., on each of whom is written one stanza. The verses that are not unfrequently found in MSS. of this age (as in the Ashmolean Roll, No. 25) are quite different: one copy however (Julius E. IV. f. 1—8) has the first 5 lines of the genuine verses prefixed (with 5 other lines) to the common text.
51. "Here now foloweþe nexst a scripture in latyn prosed in feyre cadence, whiche saint THOMAS of Caunturbury martyre and martyr* lefft wryten in auricaleo he beinge Archebusschoppe. Cum ego Thomas." 77.
* So MS. See Arundel Catalogue, p. 4. A French translation is printed in the Archæologia, vol. XX. p. 266-7, from Bouchet's annals of Aquitain.
52. "Prophecia Merlini doctoris perfecti. Whane lordes wol leese þeire olde lawes." 78.
These 4 couplets are perhaps the correct form of what is called CHAUCER'S Prophecy in the printed editions of his works (at the end of the table of contents in Godfray's edition, No. 1095), and in a modern MS. in this collection (No. 781, art. 92); which last differs from the copy in Todd's Illustrations (p. 120) only in the transposition of the third and fourth lines. The third couplet of this copy is not in those now mentioned.
53. "Alia prophesia. Cesaris imperium per tempora longu patebit." (9 v.) 78.
54. "Nowe filoweþe here nexst þe doctryne of þat solempne and holy doctour saint Austyne. articulated in prose. for þe savacōn boþe of body and soule to alle cristen nacōn. Kknowe þy self seyþe and teeþe us saint Austyn þat glorious doctour." 78.
It consists of long sentences with appropriate headings; as Chastite, Prayer, Drynkis, Fastinge, etc. The last is "Despyte of worlde," on which subject the following article is subjoined.

55. "Nowe eondeþe here þe prose of þe holy doctour saint Austyne, and nexst filowynge begynneþe a ensaumple of þe same putte in vereyfical metre of Rymc. Why is þis worlde beloved þat fals is and veyne?" (40 l.) 83.

Part of another copy is in No. 1524, vi. 2, having considerable verbal variations.

The verse Cur mundus militat sub vana gloria, is written in the margin (by the same hand that wrote the short title at the beginning of this book) to denote that this art. is a translation of the celebrated poem "De contemptu mundi," (No. 1397, art. 10.) which has been variously attributed to S. Bernard, Jacobus de Benedictinis, and Walter Mapes, and is under the name of Goliath (by which the last named writer is often denominated) in the Cottonian MS. Titus A. XX. f. 68. Vide Leyseri Hist. Poet. p. 421-2, 2003, et 786.

56^a. "Here nowe nexst folowe þe wordes of Jerome þe prophete. Quando scens erunt sine sensu." 83^b.

56^b. "Profesye or a lessone of sainte Jherome prophete." 84.

In prose and beginning thus:—Heremias deus sapiencium anno ab incarnacōe mundi. vij^m. v^c. xxxvij. It is the same as the "Prophacia Hameri, dei sapientum," in Claud. E. VIII. f. 1^b. more properly called Hermeri in the burnt MS. Otho D. VIII. Vide Smithi Catal. Bibl. Cotton. p. 76.

57. A prophecy that the Roman empire should come first to the English, and then to the French: beg. Velit aut nolit. Also this saying of "Sibille la sage. Rustica gens. optima flens, set pessima gaudens." 84^b.

58. "Here folowen now þe seþinges of wysemen, of Prophetes, of Poetes, of Phylosophres, of hooly men, of gret and autorysed Clerkes, of þe olde testament and of þe nuwe. David. Ye tyme approcheþe of necessite." (115 st. of 7.) 84^b.

The running-title is for the most part "Wisdame with right." The last 9 stanzas are a kind of epilogue or l'envoy to a noble lady, in which the translator says "Myne auctour and I hope be named JOHAN;" [LIDGATE?] and that he had enlarged on the original French. It ends thus, In heven have youre habitacyone.

59. "And here nowe foloweþe ne[x]st a doctryne of Curteysye cleped in Latyne. Stans puer ad mensam domini. translated in to Englysshe in balade wyse by LIDGATE þe religious [munk] of Bury. My dere chylde first þy self enable." (14 st. of 8.) 98.

It ends thus: "Put al defaute uponne Jahan Lydegate. Expli- cit." This poem was printed by Wynkyn de Worde in black letter; (see Ritson, No. 16): which edition has been reprinted in Dr. Dibdin's edition of Ames and Herbert, (1812, 4^o.) II. 222—4. There is another translation in No. 61, art. 7; and another MS. copy of this in Caligula A. II. f. 13.

60. "Here nowe foloweþe an holy solempne and a trewe cronicle of oure cristen feythe, translated oute of Latyne in to Englysshe by þe grettest doctours of our naeōn. licenced by þe chirehe, þat entreteþe of þe birthe of Cryste after holy scripture:" (f. 99^b) namely the "Cronicles of þe thre Kinges of Coloyne. The vertue and the mighte of almyghty god of heven." 100.

38 chapters in prose; ending—and here so abyden in to þis daye etc.

61. "Thus nowe here eondeþe þis wondurfulle and honourable translacōn of þes thre holy kynges of Ynde þ^t first worshiped Cryste in Bedlene after his birthe And foloweþe nest þe cronyele of þat mighty Patryarche cleped Þrestre Johan nowe of Ynde. Prestre Johan þat is lord of Ynde and all þe kynges þat beon under his dominacōn." 128^b—130.

In this article is described the manner of keeping the feast of Epiphany in the East: part of it containing an account of the place where John baptized, is intitled "Capitulum xxxix." as though it were part of the foregoing article. It ends thus, And also þe sarasines þat beon of Machametis lawe and oper turkes have þeos.

Thus far extends Shirley's MS. Most part of f. 130 has been cut off, leaving imperfect a piece written on the back of it by a different hand, viz.

62. Form of confession on "The morow of screfte," or at Shrove-tide: beg. I am a knowe to god and to our lady. 130^b.

The four following articles were written by different hands, on spare leaves, in the XVth century.

63. "Pulvis pro petra comedendus ter in die si infirmus voluerit est iste. Take perscly sed. the sed of sawifrage." 131^b.

64. "A gode powder for all maner sekenes yn a manys stomak and for the dropese and for the gaundys." (131^b) Remedy "For heme þ^t haþ a pavelles coche" (perilous cough). 132.

65. "Ther ben iij frydays in the yere that who so that ever fast hem devoutely" etc. (132^b.) "There bene iij perlous moundays in þe yere," etc. 133.

66. For why goode lord thou haste me saved and kepte. (1 st. of 8) 134^b.

This last article is among much scrawl on the last leaf of the MS. On the reverse of f. 133, is the autograph of the poet "W. Browne Inter. Templi, 1614." and on f. 1. "Liber W. Browne." On f. 131 is fairly written "Fra. Walsingham," but perhaps not by Sir Francis himself.

This MS. seems to have fallen into Stowe's hands, among whose papers are transcripts of art. 2, 3, 7, 9, 21, (see also art. 2.) in the Harleian MS. 367. f. 83^b—87. artt. 29—33.

The other MS. contained in this volume was written in the time of Q. Elizabeth, in the secretary-hand. It is intitled—

67. "Here beginneth a booke of [the Life of] our blessed Lady Maiden Moder and Wife, of our lord Jhesu, compiled by Danne JOHAN LIDGATE Monke of Bery, at the exhortation of our most excellent Prince King Henry y^c fifte. In honour glory and worship of her nativite and of her most holy livinge and conversation from her birthe to her purification." 135—182.

This copy begins with the first chapter (omitting the prologue) and contains only 31 chapters, ending thus at f. 180, "That have ful faith and hole trust in thy name Amen." Next follows "Comparatio turturis et columbe. Nowe as me semeth in this hye ferye," 180^b: after 12 stanzas and one in Latin, is this colophon (181^b) "Here endeth the booke of the life of our lady made by Dan Joh'n Lidgate monke of Bury at thinstauce of the most Christen kyng Henry the fift," followed by a l'envoy of 3 st.; and then at f. 182, "here endeth the life off our lady." The following article is written on two leaves by the same hand.

68. Part of LYDGATE's translation of the Book of Joh'n Bochas, beg. In his studye allone as Bochas stode. (17 st. of 8.) 183—4.

No. 60.

A folio volume consisting of 138 parchment leaves, the margins of many of which are cut off, and the first and last leaves are wanting. Below the first page is this epigram, written in a fair hand of the time of Q. Elizabeth:—

“While I am poore, to riche men will not give.
Lest justly fole, men terme me whilst I live.
Or yt the world suspitions[ly] will say
The poore man beges, when he dothe give away. W. A.”

The name of Wyllyam Harrys (sæc. XVI.) is twice written on the margin of f. 30. The MS. is written in a good hand of the XIVth century; the chief work that it contains, is thus intitled:—

“Incipit Stimulus conscientie a Ri'co Heremita de HAMPOLE compositus gracia Dei subdito terminatur. The myzt of þe fadir almiztty.” f. 8.

This is a very valuable copy of the “Prikke of conscience,” whereof two other MSS. in this library have been already described, namely No. 41 and 52. It is well known that few MSS. of it agree; and this copy differs materially from those above mentioned, being larger, and containing longer Latin quotations in rubric (which are common in this author’s works) and insertions of Latin text. At f. 19 is this rubric, “Incipit secunda pars huius libri de peruersitate et immundicia huius mundi etc. The world þat is fikil and disceyvable.” F. 27, “Incipit tercia pars huius libri de morte et quibus racionibus mors ab hominibus est timenda. This thriddle part is of deþ as y rede.” F. 39, “Incipit quarta pars huius libri de penis purgatorij. First whan god wolde make alle thynges.” F. 54^b, “Incipit quinta [etc.] de die iudicij et signis eius et de adventu Antieristi. This fiftte part is of þe day of dome.” F. 82^b, “Incipit sexta [etc.] de penis inferni. Manynen here spekiþ of helle.” Hearne has printed a considerable passage of this part (beginning at the fifteenth line, But first I sole xow shewe where is helle) as an anonymous fragment, in his glossary to Robert Mannyng’s chronicle, p. 582—4; see also p. 527—8.

Between the two lines, To eken her peyne for her synne (the last line about the seventh pain of hell, at the foot of 87^b.) and The eigte peyne as þe book shewþ us, there is a large addition of 32½ pages (ff. 88—104) of sermonizing Latin prose, chiefly consisting of quotations from the scriptures and the fathers, and interspersed with English metre. It begins—Nunc sequitur de pena que est mutua visio dampnatorum; and ends—vobis tribuat et veram penitentiam antequam vos de hoc seculo tollat. Amen. It contains a remarkable invective against bad clergymen, thus beginning—

And þise bishopis þat kũnen litil goode
And þise vnkũnyge abbotis and þiouris
And many othere rekles doctouris
And also þise falce Erchedekene þt aboute the cũtre wa [] ke
And maynteynen falce preestis in euery halke,” etc. f. 97.

F. 112, “Incipit septima pars huius libri de gaudijs celi. Dyverce hevenes god ordeyned and dyverse thynges.” The last leaf being lost, this copy wants the last 21 lines, and ends thus at f. 138^b, And he þat shal it here oþer see.

The first 7 leaves of this MS. were written by the same hand as the rest, and the work that they contained was most likely by the same author; but it is so imperfect as to be not easily described. It begins . . . “non desit n . . . elus boni nec sciencia;” and the fifth line is English text, thus beginning—

Maoy a man wiþ eigse shal it see” etc. (18 couplets.)

Next page (1b.) Amos. tenebrescare faciam, 12 lines of Latin: then Thanne þei shal maken a doleful mane That leyn now on crist þis stane, 26 couplets: then two pages of Latin, “Distincōe. xla. ¶ Omnes huius seculi.” f. 2—3: then—Me þyakeþ a cursid losel is he That can nevere in to þe se; 29½ couplets (about an unskilful “lodis-man,”) after which one leaf or more is lost. F. 4 begins in Latin, et tanquam nuucius precurrens, and the fifth line begins 7 couplets thus—Alle goode wordis and goode werkis; and after 2 lines of Latin (beg. Paulus omnia que scripta sunt) are 43 couplets in which are recounted many antient Romances, (beg. Alle þyagis þat wryten are) which are censured as unstructive, the author allowing the use of true history in the two following pages of Latin, Non reprehendo eos qui gesta Imperatorum. Forty-three more couplets are all the rest of this fragment, which are continued from the line preceding the last Latin passage, and end thus at f. 7^b.

“For þanne shal no mede wiþ outen merre
Be mettid for deep þon bettre or werre.”

No. 61.

A very tall and narrow folio volume, consisting of 161 leaves of paper of the largest size folded down the length of the sheet. On a fly leaf at the beginning, is fixed a torn leaf containing a spoiled copy of 30 lines of the first article, and part of a list of the contents of the volume, which are—

A collection of Metrical Romances, Lays, and other poems in old English, made by one RATE, in or before the time of Henry VII.

The volume is written in a coarse but legible hand; each page contains about 50 lines. Between most of the poems is drawn a fish with leaves and flowers, across the page, to distinguish the articles.

1. The romance or legend of “Scynt Ewstas.” (77½ st. of 6) beginning thus:—

[A]“I yt be on godes lore
Lytell mykyll lesse and more
Lystyns to me a stound
Of a knyght of hethenes
That myche had of werldes blysse
Of gold and penyes round
Hys name hyght Placydas
Wt Tracyane ye emperoure he was Ryght wyse manne of rede.” f. 1.

F. 5 “God yt grace us send. Amen. Explicit vita se'i Eustachij.” This poem is different from one at the end of Caligula A. II. (f. 135—8.) which is only a copy of the legend in No. 43, art. 76, divided into four-lined stanzas. Another and much older copy is contained in MS. Digby 86; and the original French is in the Royal MS. 7498 (3), f. 65, at Paris.

2. A satirical ballad; beg. Thus ryghtwysnes do now procede; with the refrayde “Conveyd by a lynce ryght as a rammys horne.” (8 st. of 8.) 5^b.

Ascribed to LYDGATE: see Ritson’s list No. 125, referring to the Harl. MS. 1706.

3. A Father’s moral and religious instructions to his son: beg. Lordynges and ȝe wyll here. (25 st. of 4.) 6^b.

It ends thus—“The chyld yt w[as] in bedlem borne. Amen quod RATE.” The like subscription occurs at the end of many of the articles.

4. A Mother’s instructions to her daughter; beginning—Lyst and lythe a lytell space. (208 l.) 7.

5. The romance of “Desombas. [H]ende in halle and ȝe schalle here.” (137 st. of 6.)

This romance of Sir Isumbras has been analyzed by Mr. G. Ellis in his Specimens of early English Metrical Romances, 111. 153. The copy in Caligula A. II. f. 128, begins differently: this ends—When yi dede were.

6. A lay of the Commandments: beg. Herkyngs serys yt standes a bowte. (14 st. of 4.) 16^b.

See art. 14.

7. A version of the Latin poem of Sulpitius, Stans puer ad mensam: beg. Jhc cryste yt dyed uponne a tree. 17^b.

The first 6 stanzas (of 8 lines) are a prologue: the first stanza of the poem agrees with LYDGATE’S version, the rest is different and much longer; there being altogether 31½ stanzas incorrectly written. The last line—“To he have downkyne what he wyll styll by hym yu byde. Amen quod RATE.” See No. 59, art. 59.

8. Damc Curtagy’s moral instructions: beg. Who so cver wyll thryve or the, Muste vertus lerne and curtus be. (156 l.) 20.

9. Distichon à Tibullo. Tempore felici. 21^b.
10. Cautions in buying estates. Who so wyll be wcre in purchasyng. (22 l.) 21^b.

Also in the Lansdowne MSS. 470, and 762 art. 2; from the former of which it is printed in the Catalogue of that collection, part ii. p. 130.

11. Oraculum ad Persea (nempe—"O Asside Asside dico te Romanos superare"); et tetrastichon incipiens Tres infelices in mundo dicimus esse. 21^b.

12. An evening hymn: beg. Ih'c lord well of all godnes. (5 st. of 4, and 3 lines.) 22.

13. A morning hymn: beg. Ih'u lord blyssed y^e be. (7 st. of 4.) 22.

14. The two first stanzas of art. 6 repeated, more correctly. 22^b.

15. A hymn to the virgin Mary: beg. Mary moudour wele y^e be. (41 l.) 22^b.

16. A quarrel among the Carpenter's tools, about their spendthrift and drunken master: beg. The shypp ax seyð unto y^e wryght. (288 l.) 23.

A very ingenious and curious fabliau. The carpenter's wife joins in the discourse at the close.

17. An eucharistic hymn: beg. Welcom lord in form of bred. (6 st. of 6.) 26.

18. A legend of the Crucifix embracing and kissing a young knight, who after long enmity forgave another that had killed his father: beg. By twya two knyghtes be yond y^e se. (116 l.) 26^b.

19. The romance of the Erle of Tolous: beg. Ih'c cryst in trinite. 27^b.

It ends thus—"Amen fore charyte. Amen qd RATE." See the other copy in No. 45.

20. The romance of "Alybeus Dysconius. Ih'u cryst owre sayyowcre." 38^b.

It ends thus—"Of Ih'u cryst all so: differently from the copy printed in Ritson's collection of Romances, H. 1—90, from Calig. A. II.

21. The romance or botord of Sir Corneus, beginning—All y^t wyll of solas lere. f. 59^b.

Printed from this MS. in Hartshorne's Ancient Metrical Tales, (1829, 120.) §. xii. under the name of "The Cokwold's daunce," p. 209—221.

It is a translation, much varied, from the Lai du Corn, or Story of King Arthur's Horn, by Robert Bizez, preserved in the Bodleian MS. Digby 86, f. 105^a—9c, which is mentioned in Tyrwhitt's Introductory Discourse to the C. T., and lately published, with a reprint of this, by M. Fra. Michel: but the person therein called Garadue (not 'Garaduc'), or Cradoc, is herein called Corneus, quasi a cornu. The two last stanzas follow:—

st. 41] "A knyght yer was w^t oten les
That servyd at ye kynges des Syre Corneus hyght he
He made y^s gest in hys game
And namyd it after hys awne name
In herpyng or othere gle
42] And after nobull kyng Arthour
Lyved and dyged w^t hono^r
As many hath done senn
Both cokwoldes and oyer mo
God gyf us grace y^t we may go
To hevyn Amen Amen." f. 62.

22. A gest or legend of a lady who slew her two children and herself for jealousy, at the suggestion of the devil through a witch, while her husband was praying to the virgin Mary; who for his sake restored them all to life: beg. Lordynges curtase and hen[d]e. 62.

It ends thus—Un to joy y^t we may wende, Lord fore yⁱ holy grace.

23. The romance of Sir Clegys: beg. [L]ystyns lordynges and ze shall here. 67^b.

It ends—There is joy w^t outene ende, and supplies 3 lines that complete the text printed in Weber's collection (l. 331—354), which have been published by Prof. Conybeare in the British Bibliographer, IV. 17—19. The original French is in the Royal MS. 1798 (3), f. 21, at Paris.

24. "Festum omnium sanctorum:" a metrical legend of the institution of All-hallowes day, and of the state of souls in the other world: beg. Ih'u cryst of myghtes most. 73.

Ending—Wyth gode hert y^t it so be, Sey we amen for charyte.

25. Romance of the Creation of the world and fall of man, with an allegory of the King and his four daughters, Mersy, Sothnes, Ryghtfulness, and Pese: translated from the French of ROBERT GROSTHED, Bishop of Lincoln. 78^b.

It begins with this short prologue—

"Jhū cryst hevyn kyng
Be at my be gymyng
There is no man y^t may helpe
Bot he hath nede of godes helpe
Fader and sone and holy goste
One god of myghtes moste
He helpe us at oure nede
W^t outene hym may we not spede
I sate and lokyd on a romance
Was made in the lond of france
GROSTED it made oute of dyvine
All in french out of latyne
V. 79.] He saw all men hade not vertu
To know latyn ebrew and grew
The[re]fore in french he mad it yer
That men myxt wyte what it were git may not all men frenche understand
And namely men of Ingeloud
Therefore soth as I ye tolde
Ryme on Inglych make he wolde
That men myght have yer of solace
Now god yer to gyfe us grace
De principio er[ea]cionis mundi."

It ends thus—"My wyll it is I schall save ye. Justicia et pax osculate sunt." There is a copy of the original French in the Bodleian MS. 4057, intitled "Tractatus domini Roberti Grosete [in lingua] romana. De principio creacionis mundi."

26. The romance of Epotis*; or legend of a dialogue between the emperor Adrian and the child Jesus: beg. All y^t wyll of wysdome lere. 83.

F. 87^b. Here endys y^s talkyng. God grante us all hys blyssyng.

* Under this name it is mentioned by Chaucer, C. T. v. 13826. Other copies are in the Cottonian MSS. Calig. A. II, and Titus A. XXVI: another untitled copy is in this library, No. 750, art. 36. The story is impudently attributed to S. John: the real origin is to be found in those spurious pieces relating to the philosopher Secundus, etc. which are described by Fabricius, Bibl. Graec. tom. XIII.

27. The romance of the Passiō. "Passio Domini nostri. Lystyns lordynges I wyll zow telle Oft mckyll pete I may zow spell." 87^b.

This long poem (of more than 1800 lines) ends—And y^t it myst so be, Amen Amen for charyte. 105^b.

28. "Testamentum Domini. Wyte[t]h wele all y^t bene here." (30 l.) 106.

Ending—In weynes of y^t ych thyng, Myne awne sele yer to I hyng: below which lines is drawn a shield charged with a cross between 4 suns, and in the centre a heart with a sun in it. See No. 189, f. 109.

29. "Lamentacō beate Marie. In a chyreh as I game knelle Thys endres day fore to here messe." (12 st. of 8.) 106.

The last line—Fore thy sonne dysed my dere sone dere, is also the refrain.

30. "The governans of man. Fore helth of body cover fro cold y^t hede." (10 st. of 8.) 107.

Ending—Thys resate is of no potekary, Off mayster Antony ne of master Hewe, To all deferente it is dyatary. Explicit the governans of manne." Another copy is in Harl. 2251, ascribed to LYDGATE; also in the Lambeth MS. 444, art. 10. See Ritson's list, No. 61, "Advice for health."

31. "Septem psalmi penitensiales:" videlicet—

Domine ne in ira etc. Lord in thyne anger up take me noust.

108. Beati quorum remisit etc. Blyssed be y^t whos werkes wronge.

109. Domine ne in furore etc. Lord blame me not when y^t arte vrothe. 110^b.

Miserere mei etc. Mercy god of my mys dede. 113.

Domine exaudi, etc. Lorde herkyn y^t my prayer. 115.

De profundis, etc. To ye fro depnes I have cryed. 118.

Domine exaudi etc. Lord god lystine my orisoun. 118^b.

These psalms are composed in eight-lined stanzas, to each a verse of Latin text being prefixed; as in the beautiful poem on the same psalms in MS. Sloane, 1853, which is quite different, having this continual refrain—Ne reminiscaris Domine. This article is subscribed thus—"Nomen scribentis benedicat lingua legentis. Amen quod RATE."

32. Stimulus Conscientiæ Minor: or an abridgement of RICHARD ROLLE'S Prick of Conscience. 120.

This poem begins—Almyghty god in trinite Fader and sone and holy goste, in the same manner as the author's Commentary on the Lord's prayer, and as the legendary Chronicle of Wilton Abbey (Lond. 1830, fol.) It consists of eight-lined stanzas, with short Latin passages interspersed. The last lines are these:—

"Do now as ge have herd me seye
And for þe love of ouer Lord Jhu
Fore hym specyally y^t ge wyll praye

That ys tretys in Inglysshche drew

f. 128] That he hym zeld y^t on gode frydey

That Jues nalyd on ye rode and slew

And grante hym lyue y^t lastes aye

In heven where joy is ever mour new

Explicit stimulus concienzie minoris

Nunc finem feci da m[i]chi quod merui."

33. "The Staspons of Jerusalem. God that schupe both heven and helle." 128.

This religious romance is a tale told by a pilgrim "of the pylgrimage y^t I have gone," (v. 4.) partly in eight-lined stanzas and partly in couplets: it ends thus—For to be hold y^t blyssyd face.

34. The complaint and warning of Sir William Basterd-feld's* ghost: beg. All crysten men y^t walke by me." (37 st.) 136.

* So the name is written in the text, line 7. The first stanza is of 6, the others of 8 lines. It ends—And unto blys y^t sall schall fare. Amen quod RATE."

35. Romance of the Resurrection: beg. When Jhu was in grave leyd, The bysschop unto an oyer seyde. 138^b.

This legend is composed in different kinds of ryme, and is very unlike the conclusion of art. 27. It tells the names of some of Pilat's knights, and some of it is borrowed from the gospel of Nicodemus. The lying author says at the end—

"This is trew y^t I you telle

As is ye trew gospell

Wt outyn lesyng

They y^t ys talkyng herd sey

God send hem grace to take ye wey

To ye blisse wt out endyng." f. 144^b.

36. The legend of Saint "Margarete. Old and zong y^t here be, Lystyns a whyle unto me." 145.

Ending—"Pray we all y^t may so be, Amen Amen fore charyte. Amen quod RATE." See the note on No. 43, art. 48.

37. "Sequitur septem peccata mortalia." Exhortations of Jesus against the seven deadly sins. 150^b.

These verses begin—"Arens pride. Wyth scherp thornys y^t be kene." There are 2 couplets against each of the sins, and 2 concluding couplets.

38. The romance of "Kyng Orfew. Mery tyme is in Aperelle." 151.

The romance of "Sir Orpheo," printed by Ritson, (H. 248,) begins and ends differently from this copy; the last words of which are, "Prey we all fore charyte. Explicit Orfew."

39. An excellent paraphrase of part of Ecclesiastes, intitled "Y'anpte. O vanyte off vanytes and all is vanite." (11 st. of 7.) 156^b.

40. The gest of King Edward and the Forest of Shirwood: beg. Jhu y^t is hevyn kyng. 157—161^b.

It ends imperfectly with this (the 87th) stanza—

"When ye kyng hys bugyll blew

Knygtes and fosters wele it knew

And lystnid to hym yer

Many manne y^t wer masyd and made

The blast of y^t horne made yem glad

To ye towne yan gan y^t fare."

No. 64.

No. 121.

On the interleaves of WILLIAM LILLY'S "Anglicus, Peace or no Peace," and Ephemeris for the year 1645, are written with his own hand—

The author's explanations of his predictions, consisting of Historical Notes of various events and transactions in the year 1645, with remarks and figures set on various occasions.

These notes also occur:—May "16. 4. 40^o a. m. natus filius Mr. Raworth." May 18, "Sir John Meldrum died."

No. 162.

Prefixed to the fourth book in this quarto volume is a leaf fairly written by one whose name has been cut off the title-page.

"Ratio consyderandi thema revolutionis;" regulis tribus.

On a leaf at the other end are—

"Tabula fortitudinum et debilitatum planetarum."

"Tabula quantitatis horarum temporalium," cum regula.

At the end of the fifth book ("A Prognostication everlasting of right goode effect," by Leonarde Digges, gent. 1564.) is a leaf containing—

"The cause of the leape yeare and varyacō of o^r tyme from o^r anceto's, [by] JAMES CARRE," written in 1593.

No. 174.

A quarto volume, containing a great variety of papers, bound together without arrangement: many of them are folded into each other.

1. "The Nativity of JO: STANSBEY astrologically handled," by himself. p. 1—67.

He was born in Derbyshire, 7 March, 1628—9, and seems to have made these calculations while out of employment in London: several particulars of his life are set down at p. 55. See the note on No 50; and No. 240, artt. 102, 134.

2. Letter from SAMUEL HARRISON to Mr. Richard Napier, jun. (dated 21 Apr. 1632). 72, 86.

Accompanying—

3. A Certificate that "Richard Naper alias Sandy, sonne of Robert Naper alias Sandy knight and Barronett, was baptised" at S. Martin's Outwich, London, 10 May, 1607; attested by the signatures of Robert Botheby, Wm. Swarland, Samuel Harrison, and Bryan Flansall, in 1627. p. 73.

4. Sir KENELM DIGBY'S figure set on his own Nativity, and account of his own Accidents until his knighthood. p. 75—9.

By this interesting paper it appears that the celebrated coincidence of "The day of birth, of death, of victory" alleged in his epitaph, is mistaken as to the first: for he was born on the eleventh of July, not 'June.' See No. 36, art. 130.

5. Nativity of Tho. Lane (8 June, 1607). 87.

6. ——— "Don John of Austria son to ye Spanish King" (29 May, 1630), set by FRANCIS BERNARD. 89.

7. ——— some royalist (3 Feb. 1615—6), with his accidents, by LILLY. 91, 96.

8. ——— "Esq. Shelly" (18 Jan. 1636), by LILLY. 93.

9. Anonymous letter stating particulars of the birth (18 Aug. 1615) and life of some person born in Suffolk. p. 101.

See art. 34.

10. Mr. NAPIER'S note of the birth of John (15 Nov. 1566), Robert (7 Sept. 1591), Thomas (whitsuntide, 1596), and Ambrose Throckmorton (5 Feb. 1599). 103.

11. Two figures on the nativity of R. N[apier] (27 July, 1625), set by Sir RICHARD NAPIER. 105.

12. Mr. NAPIER's figures on the cases of Eliz. and John Evington (1597). 107—8. 117.
13. Letter from FRAN. TIRRELL to Mr. W. Lilly, consulting about "the time of marriage," with a figure of his own birth (6 Apr. 1636), dated 26 Aug. 1655. p. 109, 116.
14. Sir RICH. NAPIER's nativities of Peg Ersfeild and two Thomas Ersfeilds (1628, 1635, 1636). 111—4.
15. LILLY's astrological remarks on "the great conjunction of ♃ and ♀" in 1641, written "partly to satisfie some private friends." p. 119, 193—202.
16. LILLY's figures on the nativ. of Kath. Wright (27 July, 1637), and for E. Gregory, "de amovendo." p. 121—2.
17. Calculation of the nativity of Richard Naper, jun. (26 Apr. 1607), in the handwriting of Mr. W. BREDEN. 123—4, 127—8.
See No. 240, art. 34, etc.
18. J. MAUNSELLI notationes connubii sui cum Dorothea Smyth, in eccl. de Walbrooke, Londini, 26 Oct. 1580, et nativitatibus ac baptismi novem suorum liberorum (1581—97) Havershamiæ. 125—6.
19. LILLY's nativ. of Mr. Clavell (11 May, 1601), who died in 1643. p. 132.
20. "The age of us all;" being the dates of the birth of William Elyott (30 June, 1587) and his 6 brothers and 2 sisters. 133.
21. Births of four children (1600—11), named John, Thomas, Lodovick, and Bridget p. 135.
Below is written, "on St. Tho: day between 10 and 11 in the same yeare the K: was borne."
22. Nativ. of Francis Hebb (23 May, 1606). 137.
23. LILLY's figure for Hannah Polsted, who died in 1676. p. 139.
24. "The planets in King Charles his nativity," as noted by LILLY. 141.
25. Figure for the Duke of Lennox (born 7 Mar. 1639), with note of his accidents, and death in 1672. p. 143.
- *26. "Genitura Phillipi Sidnei:" with his accidents (29 Nov. 1554). 145—6.
27. ASHMOLE's nativ. of Mr. Michael Parney (27 June, 1624, at Devizes). 147.
28. ASHMOLE's note of the birth of Frances Howard, Countess of Essex (26 Aug. 1591), and of the death of William Earl of Pembroke (10 Apr. 1630) on the day that had been foretold by Mr. Sandford his tutor. 149.
29. FR. BERNARD's note of the birth of the great Turk's son (1 Jan. 1641—2). 151.
30. LILLY's nativity of General Lambert (7 Sept. 1619), with notes of his accidents, and of the birth of the Chancellor (16 Feb. 1608). 153.
31. LILLY's nativity of (20 June, 1618), and memoranda. 155—6.
32. ASHMOLE's nativity of Prince Rupert (17 Dec. 16 . . .) 157.
33. FR. BERNARD's and LILLY's nativity of the King of Sweden (8 Nov. 1622), and Lilly's figure on his revolution for 1658. p. 159, 162, 161, also 167.
34. A letter requesting farther advice (by the same hand as art. 9). 163.
35. LILLY's nativ. of Joseph Lytbrook (20 Sept. 1650). 165.
36. Note of the birth of Anne Reaves (29 Sept. 1647, in Southwark), having the king's evil; written by her father to Mr. Booker, with his notes also. 169.
37. "Accidentia Gervasii Mapleden," a ship-master; written by his own hand. 171.
The title is by Booker.
38. BOOKER's nativ. of Jo. Stuekey (7 Aug. 1654, at Stanes). 175.
39. ————— Tho. son of Tho. Tanner (17 Aug. 1648), and John Tanner (25 Mar. 1652). 177.
40. ROBERT PINK's account of his own accidents; an apprentice in London. 179—180.
Booker has noted "Vide nativitat' in libro."
41. Note of the births of John and William Carpenter (1644 and 1650). 181.
42. Speculum of the planets, for "Mrs. Mary Culleyn." 183.

No. 176.

A quarto volume, containing several MSS. and papers, written by different hands: the first consists of 30 leaves.

- I. The Nativity of a gentleman (born 26 March, 1594), calculated by WILLIAM LILLY to the year 1655. ff. 1—27.

At the beginning is this note, "Ex dono Guil: Lilly 27 Nov. 1657, 9 a. m. E. Ashmole." At the end is a short epistle subscribed "yr servant W. L."

* More properly 1559, as it appears from several entries in the MS. No. 181.

II. "St. Philibert Vernac's Nativity calculated by CAMPANELLA in the king's prison at Naples:" and discoursed on in Latin. ff. 30—47.

This title is by Ashmole's hand, as also at the end the following note. "This nativity was Sr. Philibert Vernots who was borne at Utrich in Hollada [14 July, 1590] calculated and written by ye hand of Campanella, while he Sr. Philibert, and the Duke of Ascott, were prisoners together, under ye restraint of the Duke . . . Osoona viceroy of Cicilia. Bestowed on me by Mr. Lilly 30 May 1651 p. m." Lilly's calculation of the same nativity is in No. 243, art. 25; see also No. 240, art. 47.

III. "Calculus astronomicus cœlestium motuum syderum quum planetarum ad tempus natalitium D. G. armigeri juxta novas observationes et recentes tabulas Eras. Reinholdi et Copernici hypotheses." ff. 52—111.

The native's name is erased from both the title and the figure of the nativity (at f. 54^b), which is set for 17 Aug. 1551. He was an only child, and there is a curious description of his parents at f. 61. This work is partly in Latin, and partly in English: it was compiled in 1581, and at the end is this note:—"Here after follow ye figures of revolūt' from 1581 to 1604, for 24 yerres exactly sett downe." (f. 77^b.) The proposed set of figures is not complete; they extend from 80 to 105^b, including the astrological observations in Latin. The following pieces of English poetry, by a hand somewhat different, but almost equally old, are interspersed at ff. 97—101.

1. A lover's complaint, being forsaken by his mistress. If care may cause men erye, whye doe I not complayne. (29 st. of 4, in long lines.) 97.
2. Another. My ladye hath forsaken me that longe hathe bene her man. (6 st. of 4 or 8.) 98.
3. Macaronic verses, the complaint of a pregnant female. Up I arose, in verno tempore, and found a mayd, sub quadam arbore. (8 long lines.) 98^b.
4. A woman's resistance. I can be wanton and yf I wyll, but yf youe touche me I wyll erye howe. (6 st. of 4, in long lines.) 98^b.
5. Let be, wanton, your busynes. (1 st. of 4.) 98^b.
6. Lost ys my love farewell adewe. (1 st. of 4.) 99.
7. "Nay my love, nay farewell adewe:" beg. Though ye my love were a ladye fayr. (3 st. of 4.) 99.
8. Alas myne eye whye does y^e bring. (4 l.) 99.
9. Adewe pleasure welcome mournyng. (4 l.) 99.
10. "Ah my hart ah:" beg. Ah my hart! ah! this ys my songe. (7 st. of 3.) 99^b.
11. Sauns remedye, endure must I, in paynes deadly, for my m'nes. (6 st. of 2 or 8.) 99^b.
12. Parting parting, I may well synge, hath caused all my payne. (4 st. of 2 or 8.) 100.
13. Alas to whom should I complayne. (1 st. of 4.)
14. Adewe adewe my hartes lust. (1 st. of 4.)
15. O what a treasure ys to love certeyne. (1 st. of 4.)
16. Come over the borne, Bessy. (2 st. of 6.)
17. This nyghtes rest, this nyghtes rest, adewe farewell this nyghtes rest. In a garden, etc. (6 st. of 3 or 6.) 100^b.
18. On seeing Henry VIII. and his daughter (Mary?) dance. Ravished was I that well was me, o Lord, to me so fayne. (6 st. of 4.) 100^b.

7. Epistiuncula Jos. THOMPS[ON] ad Lillium, de annulo perditio; cum figura ab eo inde posita, 6 Jan. 1646. f. 206.

A letter to Ashmole from the same person is in No. 826, art. 143.

No. 179.

A quarto volume, consisting of seven MSS. bound together.

- I. “The Lord Treasurer Clifford's nativity, calculated by Mr. GADBURY” (p. 1): or, “The Nativity of a person of honor, born 1630, August 1, 10^h 15' A. M. astronomically performed 1670." pp. 26.

Written by Mr. Ashmole's hand, as also another calculation of the same nativity, in No. 243, art. 28.

II. "Sr: Edward Walker's nativity, calculated by Capt. G. WILARTON, at Oxford 1645."

This tract, consisting of 9 leaves, is written in Ashmole's cypher or short-writing. The date of the birth is 24 January, 1611.

III. An anonymous nativity (11 July, 1603), calculated to 1623. ff. 27.

IV. "ALKINDUS de Judiciis, ex Arabico Latinus factus per ROBERTUM Anglicum, an. Dom. 1272." pp. 62.

The translator's preface begins thus—Quaquam post Euclidem; and the work ends thus—mors sequitur in proximo. Finit Eber Alkindi, translatio Roberti Angligeni: Anglici de ch. e. 81. l. e." Compare the antient copy in No. 369: this is a transcript by two different hands, made about 1600. Other of the translator's works are mentioned by Tanner, Bibl. Brit. p. 636.

V. Albumasaris, sive "APOMASORIS Arabis apotelesmata de significatis et eventis Insomniorum, ex Indorum Persarum Ægyptorumque disciplina. Ad Hugonem Ebercilium doctorem suum et utroque origine fratrem, LEO TUSCUS imperatoriarum epistolarum interpres de somniis et oraculis." pp. 53.

This is also a modern transcript, and seems to have been made by Ashmole. The prologue begins thus—Quaquam optime præceptor optimum imperatorem Manuel: and the 121st chapter ends—insidias rex hostibus suis struit.

VI. Fragmentum alius operis, de somniorum interpretatione. ff. 13.

It begins at the 22d chapter, the title of which is "De nutibus oculorum et contractione nuptiarum ex Indorum disciplina;" and ends—si plebeius est, in the 50th chapter. It seems to be by Ashmole's hand; and a sheet, written in his cyphers, intitled Trigonometria, is inserted between ff. 12, 13.

VII. A playne discourse and humble advise for or gracious Queen Elizabeth her most excellent Ma^{tie}: to peruse and consider, as concerning y^e nedfull reformation of y^e vulgar Kallender, for y^e civile yeares and dayes accountung according to y^e tyme truely spent." pp. 66.

Probably written by Dr. DEE: see the note on No. 186, iii. This transcript is not contemporary with his time.

Bound up at the end of this volume is a printed tract, intitled "Easter not mis-timed. A Letter written out of the country to a friend in London concerning Easter-day." (London, 1664, 4^o. pp. xi.) This note is written on the imprimatur-leaf—" ½ 9 April 1664. h. 1. p. m. pr' 4d."

No. 180.

No. 183.

A thick quarto volume (containing 748 pages), at first ruled and planned as an alphabetical book of English-Latin phrases, by John Messenger, whose name is on the first leaf. Mr. Ashmole has intitled its present contents thus:—

“Figures set by Mr. JOHN BOOKER upon Horary Questions. Volume V.” Being his astrological Practice-book, from 2 Jan. 1654—5, to 31 Dec. 1656.

The figures were set regularly on the first page of each leaf to 365; the book was then turned up, and the opposite pages were filled unto the back of the second leaf; in like manner the book is now paged, except that the 7 last leaves, written from the end, are paged as 366—380.

The author has thus inscribed the first page, “John Booker. A Jove principium. Januarij 20. 165³ in diem ♂ h. 8. 49^o mane. Astrum felix.” On the back of the same leaf (p. 748.) are—

No. 186.

A quarto volume, consisting of several MSS. bound together; they were written by different hands, and most of them in the XVIIth century; the first is of the XVIth.

I. "Ad inuictissimum principem Henricum ejusdem nominis octavum serenissimum Anglorum regem et fidei defensorem, JOANNIS ROBYNS sui collegii in Oxonia canonici, libellus de accidentibus futuris." f. 5—14, 4^b—1.

This book contains observations on the Comet which appeared in 1532, and treats of the indications thereby afforded as to the event of the war between the Emperour and the Turk; also on drought and scarceness foreboded by the planets, in 4 chapters. It is subscribed thus—"Oxonie in collegio regali anno d'ni 1534: decimo calendis maij." Concerning this MS. and its author, see Tanner's Bibl. Brit. p. 638. In the preface he says that he was writing "quasdam elucubraciones in euangelium Mathei;" which were not known to Tanner, nor to Wood, Hist. et Antiq. Oxon. II. 178.

II. "Il Catastrophe del Mondo." A tract on "the catastrophe or revolution w^{ch} is to happen" soon after the year 1660. f. 16—32.

Written by a catholic physician (see the enl), and translated from the Italian (as appears from the title here copied from f. 15), probably by Ashmole in his younger days, in whose handwriting it seems to be. The paging of some other copy is noted in the margin, "1—35."

III. Tractatus "De Periodis imperiorum fatalibus, et presentis temporis articulo. Ubi dolor ibi manus." f. 34—42.

It ends thus—"Actum ult. die Xbris anno Servatoris 1631." On the first outer leaf (f. 33) is this note, "vide 26 Febr. 1583, manuscript. Doctoris Jo: Dee in Ephemeride Stadij," by Booker's hand; which induced Lhuud to call this article "Juannis Dee tractatus" (Dr. Bernard's Catal. No. 6662); whereas that note is only a reference, for some purpose foreign to the subject of the tract, to Dee's Diary, written on the margins of Stadius in this Library, No. 487, where this entry occurs—"I delivered my boke to the L. Threasorer for the correction of the Kalender." See No. 179, art. 7. The present article is in the remarkably neat handwriting of Sir Richard Napier: compare No. 204, f. 157, and No. 174, f. 123, 125.

IV. "A discourse on that prodigious Comet or blazing meteor, which appeared to the terrour and affrightment of many nations M.DC.XVIII.

"This fiery impression was the forerunner of the bloody warres of Germany now of 23 yeares continuance, and of the death of Matthias Emp. of Germ. our gracious Q. Anne, and of many other eminent persons throughout Christendome. Written in Dutch by D. SAXUS FONTANUS. With a catalogue of the most memorable Comets in former ages aswell before as after the incarnation of Christ, with their severall remarkable events, into this present yeare 1643," etc. (pp. 35.) ff. 43—64.

Licensed to be printed, 3 June, 1644. "Whitsun eve it came out of press." This is the foul copy used by the printers. "A preface to this cometriall discourse," on a large folded leaf, is prefixed, between two pages of the title. At the end it is noted, "written the 22 of December ano. Dom. 1618 stilo nouo;" and f. 64^b, "Perfected out of all notes I have. Englished by W. PHILLIPS."

V. "Ad inuictissimum ac potentissimum bello et prudentissimum Siciliae regem Alfonso, Dialogus in Astrologiae defensionem cum Vaticinio a Diluuiio usque ad Christi annos 1702, JOANNIS ABIOSI Neapolis regni ex balneolo mathematicarum Professoris, artium et medicinae Doctoris." 65.

The interlocutors are Ptolemaeus and Sophista. It ends abruptly at f. 125, where the catchword consequenti is not redeemed.

VI. "An astrological discourse of such accidents as may happen in England this present yeare 1642, predicted by the ingress of the sunne into the first minute of γ , and by other ye^e configurations and lunations of this whole yeare." 126—130^b.

Composed and subscribed by "WILLIAM LILLY: propria manu." (130^b.)

VII. "An astrological judgment upon this present yeare 1644, properly referred to England and some adjacent kingdomes, by WILLIAM LILLY." 132—143^b.

VIII. "An astrological judgment upon the sunn his entrance into Aries: probably contrived to belong to England, as also other countrys." 145—154.

IX. A like judgement for the year 1652, but without the scheme of the heavens. 155—163.

Subscribed as art. vi.

X. "Mr. WILL: LILLY his answer to Mr. Wharton's scheame for K's: march from Oxford May 7: the answer printed June 22. 1645, with his observations upon the parelij or 3 suns scene in London 19 Nov: 1644: being K. Charles his birth day 1600, with the eclipse of the sun

Aug: 11: 1645, whose influence continueth in force from Jan: 1646 to December 1647: almost two years. 164—176

This tract is followed by a paper containing a description of some emblematical picture. 178—9.

XI. "An abstract of the Almanacke of Pe[ter] Harrine y^e yonger Troyan of his [predi]ctions." 180—4.

Another transcript of this article is in No. 244, f. 152—3, wherein the name is correctly called DE LARRINE. This MS. is incorrectly written, and the upper corner has been eaten off.

XII. "Astronomy the Wisemens best guide to conduct them unto Christ. Or a meane country Sermon preached before a simple and meaner auditory, January 7, 1649. By NATHANIEL SPARKE, Minister of the word at the parish of Cooling in Kent." 185^b.

22 pages beside the title. This sermon is on Matt. ii. 1—2, and seems to have been prepared for the press.

No. 187.

Three MSS. written by Italian hands in the XVIIth century, forming a small quarto, or large octavo, volume.

I. Tractatus "De Ceremoniis Magicis," tribus partibus constans: prima "Qualis esse debeat artifex," secunda "De incantatione," tertia "De horis quæ servantur in operibus magicis." f. 1—27^b.

The first part contains 12, the second 8, the third 6 chapters.

II. "Lampas Vitæ et Mortis, omniumque graviorum in homine παθῶν Index: cui annexa est cura morborum magnetica ex Teophrasti Bar. Munia: itemque omnium venenorum Alexipharmacan. Studio atque opera JOANNIS ERNESTI BURGRAVI Neost. Palatini. Lugduni Batavorum ex typographio Henrici ab Haestens anno CIO. IO. X." ff. 79.

A beautiful, but imperfect transcript from the printed book, of which an edition, printed at Franequera in 1611, is in the Bodleian Library.

III. A treatise of Magical Sigils, Incantations, and Operations, in Italian. ff. 95.

It begins thus (after the figure of a sigil)—Dirai 3 P'r n'r, et 3 Ave marie, e 3 credi.

No. 188.

A quarto volume, consisting of several MSS. bound together. The first was written in the time of Henry VIII. and contains 98 leaves.

I. De aeris temperie a stellis affecta, opus astrologicum, incerto auctore.

The following are the heads of the tracts or chapters that are titled:—

"De domino anni. Quicumque in aliquo angulo." f. 2.

"De quotidiana mutatione aeris." 3.

"De naturis stellarum fixarum." 20.

"De fortitudine planetarum." 25.

"De temperie et complexione 12 signorum." 37. Observationes temperieci "A^o domini 1534.^o corrente." 40.

Tabulæ fortitudinum planetarum et stellarum, solis et lunæ. 51^b.

"Sequuntur debilitates planetarum in comparatione ad solem." 77.

"Apogia planetarum anno domini 1535." 80.

At the end of this MS., on a single leaf, is written another tract in 7 short chapters—

"Libellus de usu naviculæ," sive instrumenti cuiusdam meteorologici. 97.

On the first leaf of this MS. are written some irregular verses by a less antient hand, beginning abruptly thus—Within my trembling hand My pen doth shake for feare; also some Latin sentences collected from antient authors, chiefly the lawyers, which are continued at the end of the MS. f. 95^b—6^b. By the same hand are also, on f. 95, some notes headed "Lanke 1;" and, on f. 98, the names of eighteen "Mowers 1618," and twelve "Bakers."

The second MS. contains pp. "9—105."

II. "De furto" inveniendō tractatus, inc. Prima domus et ejus dominus rem furto sublatam denotant. 11—19.

Written by a different hand from the following treatise, and both are of the XVIth century.

A familiar introduction to Astrology, partly in the form of a catechism; with rules and tables for horary questions: beg. What is a signe? f. 25.

III. "1597. Thema cœli sole arietem ingrediente, cum prædictione FRANCISCI JUNCTINI sac. theolog. doctore," usque ad an. 1602.

A small tract of 8 leaves, written by the hand of the rev. Rich. Napier.

IV. De furto inveniendō tractatus astrologicus, inc. An furatur necnon?

This is a transcript on 33 pages, made by Ashmole, and is for the most part written in his cypher.

V. "Here beginneth the booke of BALEMYNE De Sigillis planetarum." pp. 38.

This is a translation which seems to have been dictated to an amanuensis by Ashmole, by whose hand the title and these first words—Forasmuch as it is necessary for such, numerous corrections throughout, and the two last pages, were written.

No. 189.

A quarto volume, containing four MSS.: of which the first was written in the XVth century, and is much worn and decayed.

I. "Here begynnythe the boke of Astronomy and of philosophy contrivyd and made by þe wysest phylozophers and astronomyars þ^t euer were sythe þe world was be gonne þ^t ys for to sey in þ^e lond of greke.

And ifyrst þys boke tellyth how many hevynys þer be and afterward he pronounceythe and declaryþe of þe course of þe gouernauces of the pl." . . . f. 1.

It ends thus—she shalle neuer forsake þ^t foly. Explicit." f. 67.

On the following page are written by the same hand, Rules—
 "To knowe what tyme is good for any body to go fro home to spede his nede or nat. Fyrst take hede." 67^b—8^b.

Among the antient scribble on the 3 last pages are these names:
 "Iste liber constat Roberto Daniell."—"John a Parke dwellynge in mylke strete."—"y Gylbart Banystur." The book seems therefore to have been written in London.

II. The second MS. consists of 40 leaves (f. 70—109), rudely written, on lines ruled with red ink, in the XVth century. On the upper corner of the second page is a distich, written in a cypher of Arabic numerals for the vowels; which may be read thus—

Qui scripsit certe RICARDUS nominatur aperte
 Quod si queratur recte WRAXALL cognominatur.

On the middle of the last page but one is the following inscription: "Dominus Ricardus Coscombe prior de Muchelney est possessor huius libri." This being in the same handwriting as the other note, (though without cypher,) shows a probability that both names mean the same person. The handwriting of the book is very different: its contents are the following.

"Here is thechynge ande the informacion of the golden table begymes þ^t PICTAGORAS the noble philosepher that labored alle the worlde a bonte to seke and wyne wytte wysedome wounders and merwayles. And he cam to a kynges house þ^t hyght Apolonus," etc. f. 72.

"To know þ^e rysinge and þ^e goynge downe of þ^e Son euery moneth in the yere as it folowyth. In Januario hora octava." 84.

"The experimentys of the lunesons. The furst mone is good to begyn alle thynges." 84^b.

See this in French, in No. 342, f. 25^b.

"Nowe wyll I shewe þ^e vij. days of þ^e weke and declare þ^e vij planettes. And as þey doþ^e reygne.
 For euery planett raynet in þ^e furst houre of hys owne daye in þ^e mornyng tyll þ^e sonne ryse or a lytle after. As one sonday." 86^b.

It is not certain whether these smaller treatises are parts of one book: there is much connexion between the three bearing the rubrics last copied (though at the end is written "Deo gracias") and the following pieces, of which the first rubric is, "Here after it shewyth and declareth more largere þ^e knowlege of þ^e vij dayes," etc.; and the last, "The disposycyone of þ^e 7. planettes in their propur oures reynynge of a tachment or imprisonment."
 The last words are—brekes oute of prisone and seapone. (f. 102.)

Tokens "Off the thonderes" in the various months, and of the year as it begins on any day of the week. If it thondere in January. 102.

This article, which filled up 2 vacant leaves, seems to be in the handwriting of the Prior of Muchelney.

A collection of Hymns and religious ditties, in old English; of which the refrains and the first lines are—

1. "Quid ultra debuit facere, þ^t lorde þ^t dyed for þ^e and me." Cryste made manne yn þ^s maner of wyse. (9 st. of 4.) 104.
2. Regem regum a mayde hath borne. (7 st. of 3, with short Latin refrains.) 104^b.
3. "Saluum me fac Domine." Fadyr and sone and holy gost. (6 st. of 3.) 105.
4. "Parce mihi Domine." (Same beginning and same length.) 105^b.

5. "Alma redem[p]toris mater." Saete lady nou ze wys." (12 st. of 3.) 105^b.

6. "Lullaye." Thys yonder nygth y sawe a syzte. (5 st. of 6.) 106^b.

7. "Alleluia allelnya Deo patri sit gloria. Saluator mundi Domine, Fader of hevene yblessyd þ^u be." (4 st. of 3.) 107.

8. Omnipotentem semper adorant, Operacyons he-venly and yerthly all. (18 st. of 4.) 101^b.

9. The virgin Mary's doleful exhortation. Thou synfulle man of resone, þ^t walkest here up and downe. (3 st. of 7.) 109.

10. Wette ye alle that bene here. (41 l.) 109.

This is a version of what was called Carta Christi or Testamentum Domini: it is longer than the copy in No. 61, art. 28:
 and pretends to grant an indulgence of 26030 years and 11 days.

11—24. Fourteen Hymns to Jesus, in seven-lined stanzas; thus prefaced, "God þ^t ys myghtfulle, Spede all ryghtfull, Helpe alle nedefulle,
 Have mercy one alle synfulle."

The first begins thus—O Jh'u cryste of everlastynge swet-nes. (8 st.) f. 110. After each follows "Amen, pater noster, Ave maria." The last begins and ends thus—O Jh'u þ^u verey vyne and fecundiall y foundene—Amonge thy seyntes to prayse þ^e w^t þ^e priese paternalle (f. 115): it is followed by four barbarous verses, beg. Plango meum.

III. The third MS. is written in a small and difficult German hand, of the latter part of the XVth century. It is imperfect at the beginning, and contains—

1. A treatise on Astrology, in old German. f. 116.

At the end is written, "Explicit Deo gracias," and a long note in German.

2. Tractatus medicus, sic incipiens, Pro dolore capitis; in cuius fine dicitur "Explicit tractatus qui intitulatur Thesaurus Pauperum magistri PE-TRI HISPANI quondam Pape." 137.

3. A tract on urines, in German. 137^b.

This note at the end—"Cum gratia et privilegio. Deo gra-tias" (f. 142^b)—suggests that it may have been copied from a printed book.

4. Astrological observations on the days of the week, and tables of planets. 143.

5. "Een pock zalue," and other medical pieces.
 148—159.

6. "Tabula equacionum domorum ascendencium," cum aliis tabulis, regulis, et collectaneis astrolo-gicis, aut Latine aut Germanice. 160—200.

IV. Fragments of MSS. written on paper in the XVth century.

(1.) Two leaves of very old and thick paper, tinged with red; whereon are drawn astrological figures, with remarks written thereon, namely—

"Questio pro furto 26 die mensis februarii anno 1427 imperfecto, hora 9. 10. minuto et hora Jovis; quis habet? ubi est res?" 201.

"Questio utrum res est in villa illa vel non. hora 10a. et hora Jovis 14 die mensis marcij anno Christi 1427 imperfecto."
 201^b.

Figura quatuor super eclipsibus et conjunctionibus anno 1427 occurrentibus. 202.

"Nativitas filii [spatium pro nomine] die martis et hora veneris videlicet hora prima post mediam noctem tempore eclipsis lune 11 die septemb." (Iude figura.) 202^b.

"Figura nativitatis Agnetis Crulle filia[e] Johanne Crulle post mediam noctem," etc. 30 Apr. 1432.

"Figura nativitatis Lucie filia[e] Johanne [spatium] hora fere 8 ante prandium 19 die Aprilis anno Christi 1432," &c.

(2.) Calendarium ecclesiasticum et astronomicum. 203—9.

Tractatus de Astrolabio pars, unica pagina, qui incipit Astrolabii circulos et membra. 209^b.

(3.) The latter part of a poem on the tokens of the year, according to what day of the week mid-winter-day falls on. 210.

Beg. "Thursday. And crystmas day one thursday be." End. "Sun whatte may falle in every londe. Explicit." f. 210^b. See No. 342. f. 28.

The proper terms applicable to certain beasts and birds. An hare in his forme. 211.

Ending thus—a Bitore vntached: f. 211^b is blank.

(4.) A fragment imperfect at the beginning and end, neatly written on eight leaves, f. 212—9, which have been bound disorderly: they should stand thus, 216—7—9—3—8—2—4—5.

On the ages and complexions of mankind: beg. That age ys hote and moyst. 216.

"The iij^e tymes of the yeer" (i. e. seasons): "The iij^e wyndys:" with their effects on people of the said complexions. 216^b.

"To knowe by phisnomye the condicioun of dyuers people. Here folowythe certeyn rewles [etc.] Alexander the grete conqurour yn al his werrys was yrewled by Arystotylle," etc. 217.

These "rewles" are introduced by a legend about "Ypocrates" (Hippocrates) and Philemon, which latter person is said to have been the founder of this science. Toward the end of the piece are some irregular rhyming couplets, written as prose (That man ys best yn mynde, and wel ymade yn kynde, etc.); and the last words are—course of the xij^e synes yn the mone etc.

"The xxxⁱⁱ dates of the mone:" a Romance or Lay of Physiognomy and Prognostications; thus beginning—

"Lordynges lasse and more: Lystnethe alle to my lore
And I shal yow tell byfore: What tyme so a childe be bore
Of that childe what shal hym byfalle: to his endyng and happys alle.

And what bytokenethe your dremyng: that ye metyn yn your slepyng.

Good or yvelle or vanyte: Alto gyder hyre shal ye.

And also what tyme ys good: A man or womman to be lete blood.

Al thyng that ys to done than: As saithe the Jew to the xp^en man.

To teche yow I haue ythoughte: What tyme ys good and what ys noughte." 213^b.

The ninth page ends thus, in the judgements on the 23d day of the moon's age.—Stee no thyng y counseil the; yf thou do ahonged shalt thou be. 215^b. Compare the curious table in No. 8, which is of the same kind of prognostication as this lay.

No. 190.

A quarto or tall octavo volume, containing several MSS. and papers bound together.

I. "Telescopium Uranicum, or an Ephemeris of the motions of the two great lights, and the other five planets for the year of man's redemption by Jesus Christ 1659. Wherein their defects," etc. "By JOHN BOOKER, a student in astrology and physick," etc. f. 1—24.

2. "Telescopium," etc. for 1660. f. 25.

3. "Telescopium Uranicum, or in plaine English, an Almanack and prognostication for the yeare of Christ's incarnation 1661," etc. "The one and thirtieth impression. Cum privilegio et gratia Regiæ Majestatis." 48—69.

These are Booker's original MS. copies of his almanacs, from which they were printed. About the third one, see art. 6. One leaf of his MS. almanac for 1663 is also preserved in this volume, namely, f. 71. Printed copies are in this Library, in the volumes No. 257, 261, 262.

4. "VINCENT WING'S Almanack for 1641." 73—83.

This is likewise the original MS., and is noted as above by Ashmole on the title-page, which begins thus—"Gniw. An almanack and prognostication," etc. A slip of paper follows, on which are written "Some Instructions for the printer." f. 84.

5. Figures on Horary Questions and Nativities set by BOOKER: written on separate papers. 85—108.

Those which have names, are for—

Anne Lewis and Eliz. Williamson; de futuro matrimonio. (1646.) 85.

Jo. Oliffe (1646). 88.

Mr. De Bret, 20, Oliphant Taverne (1645). 91.

Rich. Luckins of Horsham, about Will. Southwood, a runaway. 91.

"Barbara Davies at Bosomes Inne for a cloke" (1647). 92.

"Nat. Roger Pollard 4 Junij 1622." 94, 96.

Mary George (1645). 98^b.

Mr. Paulson (1647). 99.

"John Hedges nat. 21 Decemb. 1627. London." also for "Mrs. Marsh friend," and "Mrs. Hedges" (1647). 100.

Anne Wright (1647). 101.

Andrew Leake (1646). 102.

Th. Atkins, and Mrs. Snelson of Shoe lane (1646). 105, 108.

Mr. Holloway. 105^b.

John Beaumont; and "Mrs. Wilkins, Mr. Quintin's sister, de morbo filij sui" (1647). 107^b.

6. "To the Kings most excellent Matie: the humble petition of JOHN BOOKER," for license to print and sell his Almanacs, which he had been hindered in publishing. 109.

Corrected draught.

No. 191.

This quarto volume contains four MSS. bound together. The first one, closely written on paper, in the XVth century, is stained with damp, especially at the beginning and end; and the first seven leaves are much damaged.

I. Tractatus, Tabulæ, et Collectanea Astronomica seu Astrologica, per Oxoniensem quendam* scripta, circa annum 1440: scilicet—

(* DEX nomine? vide artt. 20, 26.)

1. De temporum electione pro morbo curando, libellus mancus; cujus in fine—"Explicit hic liber JON' LAUNDE modo R."..... f. 1—6.

At the end of art. 17, this is referred unto as Kalendarium Joh' Lavonde.

2. De usu tabulæ Dionysii, inc. "Qui subtilitatem et utilitatem tabularum infrascriptarum cognoscere v[oluerit], respiciat tabulam Dyonisij supra quam in margine imm numerum figuris algorismi sic scriptum. 1323. qui sub

..... f. 6.

3. "Tabula DIONISIJ." 6^b.
4. Prognostica per loca planetarum tempore nati-vilitatis, inc. Si fiat questio de nativitate viri. 7.
5. De loco lunæ, inc. Multum prodest scire in quo signo et in quo gradu signi sit luna omni die secundum Ptholomeum in libro almagesti: cum tabula signorum. 7^{ab}.
6. Opportunitates capiendæ secundum lunæ locum: inc. Quando luna est in ariete. 7^b—8^b.

At the beginning is this marginal note:—"Nota de hac materia in libro N. T. et in libro M' J. N. ad tale T." The last words are—"cum modica pluvia consuevit etc." ut habes in libro tuo nigro."

7. "Proprietates planetarum, et tabula eorum-dem*." Septem sunt plauete." 9^{ab}.

* Scil. triplicitatum, et "Quis planeta quem humorem proi-dit."

8. "Dignitates planetarum. Sunt autem in signis quedam fortitudines que dicantur dignitates planetarum." 9^b.
9. Versus memoriales de septem artibus liberalibus
 (inc. Gra[mmatica]. loquitur, 2 v.) et de chordis musicis. (Grumbabas. Albannis. 4 v.) 11.
10. "Tabula continuacionis motus solis;" ab anno 1385 ad 1469. f. 11.
11. "Tabula ad inveniendum dignitates planitarum in signis zodiaci." 11^b.

"Explicit hic totum k'p' ROGERI FEDWARDYNE."

12. Calendaria duo; seu tabulæ motus et locorum planetarum, pro "Anno gracie 1438 incom-plecto," et anno sequenti (1439), quorum literæ dominicales \mathbb{E} et \mathbb{D} . f. 12—23^b, 23—31^b.

Four leaves, that contained the first four months of the second year, have been wantonly torn out. From 9 and 18 Oct. to 28
 Dec. 1439, (29^a, 30^a, 31^a.) is a series of Meteorological Observations written on the margins; of which a translation was communicated into the Ashmolean Society 30 May, 1834. Over f. 30^a is a note of the nativity of John Overtone, 8 Nov. 14 . . .

13. Excerpta curiosa e THOME AQUINATIS (seu
 'de Alquino') de veritate theologiæ libro ii. cap.
 8, 9, 7, 3 et 4; de elementis, aeris phænomenis, planetis et orbibus caelestibus. 32—4.
14. LOCUS AUGUSTINI de celo: inc. "Celum videtur esse triplex, ut dicit Augustinus de cognitione beate vite sic inquires. Stephanus quoque non corporis oculis Deum in celo ultra firmamentum vidit." etc. 34.
15. "In libro nono PETRI* ALFENSI. capitulo
 vij. Responsio Petri naturalis de generatione nubium et pluviarum. Videndum itaque tibi est
o Moyses." 34^b.

* MS. Petrus. Vide plura in artt. 16, 18, 19.

16. "Item libro. x^o. cap^o secundo. Quid sit diabolus. In libro PETRI ALPHUNSI. Diabolus o
Moyses subtilis quidem et spiritualis res est."
 34^b—5.
17. "Eleccio temporum in medela corporum humanorum. Eleccio temporum multum confert." 35^b—6^b.

Ending in the following curious manner:—"Quod quidem dominium satis possunt perpendere pastores pecorum in coitu anima-lium per sexum et colorem fetus consequentis. etc." Hic caret de ista materia sed non habetur plus in libro KYRKBY. Sed require iij^o capituli [sic] de tali materia in principio hujus libri in kalen-dario Joh' Lawnde. Explicit." See art. 1.

18. "Incipit hic PETRUS ALPHUNSI. Ista 4. capitula sequencia inveniuntur in libro Petri Al-phunsi qui de Judeo Christianus effectus [est] qui continet xij libros. In libro primo capitulo primo in fine dicitur sic. Moses Judeus dixit." etc. 37—9.

The second, third, and fourth chapters, with two diagrams, constitute this article: the next is from the same work.

19. "Tabula stellarum fixarum que ponuntur in Astrolabio, verificata Paris. per instrumentum armillarum anno gracie 1246. cum longitudine sua a principijs signorum in quibus ipse sunt, et latitudine earum ab orbe signorum: et hic sunt scripta nomina earum ab eo qui tabulam fecit sicut vere in Arabico nominantur." 39^b.

At the foot of the page (after this distich—"Ingenium. mores: famam. res. corpus. honores. Tot perdit vere: bona clericus pro muliere.") is written "Explicit hic de PETRO ALPHUNSO."

20. "In libro BOICIJ de disciplina scolarium cap^o vij quod sic incipit Cum nihil discipulus para-
pho. ¶ Superioris. in glosa de illa materia dicitur ibidem sic." 40—5.

The article extracted from that commentary on Boethius, relates to the orders of angels, the elements, the zodiac, planets, etc.; and ends with four distichs on the four complexions of man, beg. "Sanguineus. Largus. amans. hillaris: videns rubeique colo- ris." (See also No. 342, f. 53^b, and No. 345, f. 64.) It is subscribed—"Explicit hic glosa de vij^o c^o libri Boicij. quod DEY."
 Vide et art. 35.

At the top of the following (blank) page are written by other ancient hands—"Joh'es Gylbert manen' cum Nich'o Collys juxta advincula de e Powlys in London."—"Brownfeld Thomas." 45^b.

21. Positiones stellarum in zodiaci signis delineatæ.
 46.
22. Distichon de pluvia: inc. Celum inspectum. ib.
23. "In libro responsionum Magistri NEMROTH ad discipulum Joaton. Dico enim quod de oriente." etc. ib.
24. "In parvo quaterno* JOH' SOMERCOTES inve-nitur sic. Sunt autem in figura zodiaci quedam fortitudines." Excerpta inde varia astrologica et computatoria. 46^b—7^b.

* MS. quaterna; sed in fine—"Explicit parvum quat' Joh' Somerkotes."

25. "Tractatus Magistri ROBERTI GROSSO-CAP'.
Ad prenoscendam diversum dispositionem aeris futuram." 48—9.
26. Circulus docens Ventorum nomina loca et qua-litates; cum hoc disticho—

"Quid notat ista rota michi die et postea pota.

Vel properante pede: sine potu surge recede. quod DEY." 49^b.

27. Circulus ostendens fortitudines, vel "testimonia planetarum essentialia et accidentalialia." 49^b.

Belonging to art. 25: by the side is a note referring to the works of Italy, Ptolomeus, and Nemroth.

28. "Dignitates planetarum hec sunt. ut patet in ista tabula Egypciorum:" cum explicatione. 50.
29. Octo figuræ circulares, ad explicandum aspectus planetarum, eclipses, climata, &c. 50^b—2.

The last portion of the text of this article is in old English, ending—"after þe is [read it] has more dignites or les. &c. secundum Magistrum."

30. De qualitatibus signorum, "Secundum Magistrum. Notandum quod Aries Taurus." etc. 52^b.

In fine—"Hec est regula generalis a Magistro docta."

31. De loco lunæ, cum tabula. "Multum prodest scire in quo signo et in quo gradu signi sit luna omni die, secundum Ptholomeum in libro Almagesti." etc. 53.

With this rubric above:—"require hanc tabulam in penultima quaterno hujus libri proximo post conjunciones lune."

32. Descriptio figuræ rotundæ quod "vocatur instrumentum lunæ." 53^b.

The outer circle of a Volvelle (see the last article of this No.) is here drawn, but it has never been completed: against it is this note,—"Require materiam hujus circuli in fine hujus libri super coopertorium fixam." But the old cover of the MS. being lost, the volvelle is lost also.

33. Figura quadrantis nitide delineata. 54^a.

34. Excerptum "ut hominum astronomiam calculancium destruerentur errores;" inc. Astronomus namque cum futuros. 54^b.

Art. 33 and 34 are written on a half leaf inserted in the MS.

35. Excerptum de usu quadrantis et de planetarum qualitatibus; "In libro BORCII de disciplina scolarium, in glosa de c^o. viij." 55.

36. De anno Arabico;—

"Nota quod primus annus Arabum incepit anno gracie. 603. completo. et jam Anno D'ni 1439. completo. erat annus Arabum 836 completus in mense Maij. 17. kalend." 55^b.

37. Modus judicandi de anni tempestate, e quodam libro de anno 1249 disserente: inc. Cum dispositionem aeris ad aliquem terminum certum velis pronosticare. 55^b.

38. "Introitus Solis in Arietem An^o gracie. 1440. ad latitudinem Oxonie. die 11. hora 16. minutis 21. 2^{dis}. 22. diebus equatis." scil. horoscopus (56^b) cum planetarum locis, et toto calculi processu descripto, juxta tabulas Magistri REED. 56—7^b.

One passage is in English, at f. 57^a.

39. "Tabula proporcionis ad inveniendum partem proporcionale fraccionem," et alia; sc. "Hec predicta tabula dicitur Tabula Multiplicacionis:" etiam de arte multiplicandi, inc. Multiplicatio per se vel per alium alicujus numeri est. propositis duobus. 38^{ab}.

At the end is a short piece, beg. Nota quod in calculacione per tabulas Reed non multum indigemus plures partes Algorismi s. calculacionis vel numeracionis preterquam Addere Subtrahere et Multiplicare, etc.

40. "Canones Magistri WILLIELMI REEDE Ciestrensis Episcopi. Volentibus pronosticare futuos effectus planetarum in inferioribus." 59—61^b.

In fine—"Prima (Anglie prime) est dies in qua vera est conjunctio, et potest dici hora. Explicunt canones Magistri W. Reede."

Vide art. 42.

41. "Tabule THIRK"* de motu solis et planetarum. 61^b.

* Erased: but see art. 43.

42. "Incipiunt tabule Magistri WILLIELMI REEDE Episcopi. [Quarum prima est] Tabula de medijs motibus in annis collectis, verificatis ad meridiem Oxonie, cujus latitudo ab equinoxiali est 51 gradus 40 minuta, et ejus longitudo est occidente 15 gradus et 15 minuta." 62—76.

In fine—"Explicunt tabule Reede."

43. "Tabule Magistri. W. THIRK in uno folio. W. Layborne." 76^b, 78^b.

One of the two on the first page ("Tabula conversionis horarum in gradus equinoctial.") is crossed out. See art. 41, 48.

44. "Tabula declinacionis solis sive zodiaco secundum BRE" * Cum regulis. 77^a.

* Simon Bredon: see Tanner, p. 122.

45. De motu planetæ Saturni quædam. 77^b.

The upper part of this leaf, and of the next, is so much decayed and torn, that the first words are lost.

46. "Nota quod luna moratur in quolibet signo [etc.] ut patet in libro WILLIELMI LAYBORN. Mercurius," etc. 77^b.

47. "Introitus Solis in arietem A^o D'ni 1439 incompl. die Marcij 11. hora 10^a. minutis 32 secundis 6." scil. horoscopus, cum commento sic desinente—"Hec patent per Albumasar in libro de revolucionibus unnorum." 78^a.

48. "Tabula ad extrahendum horas et suas fracciones ab ista tabula prescripta* pro annis futuris;" scil. ab anno 1389 ad 1501. f. 78^b.

* Part of art. 43, written on this page, and ending thus—"Tabule Magistri WILLIELMI THIRKE in folio. W. Layborn."

The second MS. written on paper (with three or four leaves of parchment interspersed) in a difficult hand of the XVth century: thus intitled by Dr. DEE (see also f. 138^b, 145), "Diversi libri Astrologici."

- II. 1. "Introductorium" quoddam ad magisterium judiciorum astrorum, sic incipiens, Postulata a Domino prolixitate vitæ." 83—120^b.

2. Tabulæ stellarum diversæ, ex Albumasare et aliunde, cum regulis. 121—2^b.

3. "De latrone et de furto. Scias quod use' est significator rei furate." 123.

4. "De natura stellarum*," tractatus e PTOLEMEO (ut videtur) excerptus. "Thol's. Cognita res est quod opus." 128^b.

The third MS. is a thin paper book, written in the time of Edward VI., imperfect at the beginning. ff. 164—186.

- III. 1. Orationis in proditorem quandam invecitivæ pars posterior, in cujus fine "Dixi R. H." f. 164—5.

2. Quot "stellarum discrimina" (sex nempe) a Ptolomæo ponuntur. 165^b.

3. "Ptolomæi phenomene repetitio brevis, cui annexuntur flosculi commenti in Aratum;" scilicet numerus et magnitudines stellarum, etc. 165^b—174^b—7^b.

5. Astrologica quædam; seu "Astronomie aphorismi. Zodiacus orbis in quo 12 signa infixæ sunt." 178—185^b.

6. Calculationes quædam, an. 1548 scriptæ. 186^b.

The fourth MS. is a thin paper book, written in the XVth century (ff. 191—211): the last leaf is of vellum.

- IV. * 1. Robe=songs, neatly set to music, in two or more parts.

- (1) Now wolde y fayne sum merthis mak. (6 st. of 4.) 191.

- (3) Go hert hurt wt adversite. (5 l.) 192^b—3.

- (4) Thus y compleyne my grevous hevynesse. (6 l.) 193^b—4.

- (5) Alas departynges ground of woo. (8 l.) 194^b—5.

- (6) Lufwil wt variance. (4 l.) 195^b—8.

Of all these except the first and third, the words are written on both pages. The first is in one part, the third in three parts.

2. An astronomical Calendar, with paschal tables, tables of planets etc. and a Volvelle: to which is prefixed an ample explanation of the whole, in old English, beg. "Thus stondis þis kalender to vndirstonde it in his foorme and ordre. First þer stondiþ a table in augrim." 197^b—211.

Either some leaves of the tables are lost, or they were never finished: the ecclesiastical part of the calendar is not filled up. On f. 209 is a curious table of eclipses from 1184 to 1688, denoted by strokes and dots in little spaces. The "volvelle" (see MS. i. art. 32. is a circle drawn on f. 211, within which other circles moved upon a centre-knot; but they are now lost: the description of it at f. 199, and the Latin piece at f. 53^b, will serve to illustrate those in No. 210, 369, 789.

No. 192.

A quarto volume consisting of several MSS. bound together. The first contains transcripts of the following antient astrological treatises, neatly written by the hand of Capt. (afterward Sir) GEO. WHARTON.

- I. 1. "Incipit tractatus JOHANNIS DE ESCHYNDONE quondam socij Aulæ de Merton in Oxonia, de significatione conjunctionis Saturni et Martis in Cancro, quæ erit isto anno Christi 1358, octavo die Junij; et de significatione conjunctionis magnæ Saturni et Jovis quæ erit anno Christi 1365, in 30 die Octobris hora 15^a minuto 15. Sicut dicit Ptholomeus." p. 1—106.

"Explicit tractatus magistri J. Asschynden de conjunctionibus, cum laude Jesu Christi. Exam' G. W." This is a fair transcript, from No. 393, i., artt. 36, 37; with corrections and notes by Ashmole, who also fixed a slip of paper at the end, with this note, "In y^e other cobby thus—Explicit tractatus magistri Johannis Eschinden, de conjunctione Saturni et Martis in Cancro 1357, et de conjunctione magna Saturni et Jovis 1365."

The author, who was also called John Ashton, was a Wicklivate, and is mentioned by Wood, Hist. et Antiq. Oxon. I. 186, 192; and by Bishop Tanner, Bibl. Brit. 54—5; to neither of whom was this work known. Two antient MSS. of it are in the Bodleian Library, Digb. 176 and Seld. 79.

At the end of this MS. are two figures drawn by Ashmole, and thus inscribed within:—

- (1) "Ter maximi regis Edwardi tertij hujus collegij fundatoris nativitas anno Domini 1312. Nov. 13." ("Erat hoc schema in fenestra domus, quæ aliquando fuit M^{ri}. Bruen, Canonici de Windsor.") p. 109.

- (2) "Nat. Edwardi filij regis Edwardi tertij post conquestum 15^o die Junij anno Domini 1330. ex manuscripto veteri* M. Allen." 110.

* Now probably among Digby's MSS. in the Bodleian Library.

2. Tractatulus, cujus in fine dicitur "Explicitiunt judicia HERFORDENSIS multum bona et utilia." pp. 1—17.

Inc. Sunt partes Planetarum 7, signorum 80, annales 10: et desinit sic, res est eligenda. Forsan idem quod Rogeri Herefordensis Introductorium in artem judiciariam astrorum, a Tannero memoratum, Bibl. Brit. p. 641.

3. "Judicium magnæ conjunctionis Saturni et Jovis, anno Dom. 1345^o. Rogatus a quibusdam amicis meis." ff. 1—10.

—"specie indisposito. Explicit." (Forsan e codice Digb. 176 auctore ASHENDENO.) This tract is followed by four figures, on a total eclipse of the moon and other phenomena in 1345, (f. 10^b.) and by two on the entrance of the sun into aries 1457. (f. 11.) See No. 209, ii. art. 6.

4. "ASCHYNDEN de tribus conjunctionibus. Carissime et reverende, quoniam fidi cujusdam." f. 12.

"Explicit Aschynden de tribus conjunctionibus" anno 1309, anno præcedente scriptus libellus.

5. "Prognosticon EUSEBII Cæsariensis. Notandum est secundum Eusebium Cæsariensem in cronicis suis." f. 17.

6. "Prognosticon MILONIS Toletani de conjunctione facta anno Domini 1357. Universis Christi cultoribus." 19.

7. "Incipit tractatus seu Judicium magistri JOHANNIS DE MORYS, de conjunctione Saturni, Jovis, et Martis, anno Domini 1345. Tres Principes ex militia superiori." f. 20.

This author is not noticed by Tanner, nor elsewhere in Dr. Benard's Catal. of Oxford MSS.

8. "Prognosticon magistri LEONIS Hebræi, de conjunctione Saturni et Jovis, anno Domini 1345. Quoniam fuit declaratum antiquitus." 21^b.

At the end is a note that this unfinished work was translated from the Hebrew in 1344, by "Frater PETRUS DE ALEXANDRIA ordinis fratrum heremitarum sancti Augustini, cum adjutorio magistri Salonis fratris carnalis prædicti magistri Leonis."

9. "Nativitas nocturna. In nomine sanctæ et individuæ trinitatis, Patris et Filij et Spiritus sancti, incipit Judicium Nativitatis ejusdem nobilissimi regis Angliæ, (sc.) Henrici Quinti, qui natus est anno Domini 1376, completo, 16^o die Septembris, 22 minutis post 11^{am} horam completam." f. 26—36.

This is a complete discourse on the genethliacal figure, wherein it is predicted that the native should die in his 53rd year. Ashmole has prefixed the following notes, on f. 25^b.—"There is great diversity among our historians concerning the nativity of Hen: the 5th. According to Speede and Brooke Yorke Herald, he was borne A^o. 1388. a^o. 11. R. 2. 'The old Chronicle in Bild' Cotton: sub effigie Vitellij A. 16. saith a^o. 10 R. 2. Sam: Daniell, Sr R. Baker, and Hollinshed, he dyed the last of Aug: 1422, in the 38 yeare of his age. But by the following Scheam of his Nativity it appears to be 1376 (A^o. 50 E. 3) and so he was 46 yeares old when he dyed."

This article and the 5 foregoing (4—8) were transcribed from No. 393, artt. 31—35, 44.

Many blank leaves follow. The two next MSS. are neatly written by Ashmole's hand.

II. "Astrostercon: or a discourse of the fallinge of y^e Planet: Wherein by the true though straunge discoverie of the cælestiall orbes, and manner of their action upon inferiour subjectes, that rumour with his consequence is subjected to the censure of the simplest; vulgar Astromancy examined; and true Physiologie confirmed. With an astrologieall prediccion of the state of theis seaven yeares next cominge, from certaine notable positures of orbes and their configuracons happening within y^e same. By E. G.* Mathem." pp. 75.

* EDWARD GRESHAM. See the other copy in No. 1807, i.

III. "A recitall of y^e cælestiall appariccons of this present Trigon* now in being, written by Sr CHRISTOPHER HEYDON, Knight." f. 2—19.

* Which began 14 Dec. 1603. The work seems to have been written in 1618. See the notes on another copy, No. 242. art. 9.

IV. An astrological tract, the first chapter whereof is "What is Direccone, and how many folde:" with Ashmole's notes in cypher. f. 35—52.

No. 193.

The Medical and Astrological Practice of the rev. RICHARD NAPIER, M. A. from 23 Oct. 1606 to 27 Jan. 1608. In two books. (ff. 346.)

The former book begins thus:—"In nomine sanctæ triados et ad ejus gloriam Octob. 23. 1606." On the first leaf are various notes of moneys etc. of which the first is "Lent to Mr. Shaxton my Curate, Decemb. 22. 1606, xxs." In like manner the second book is thus inscribed in front, "Incipit hic liber in nomine sanctæ triados ad ægotantium juvamen, desolatorum solamen, ad Jehovæ gloriam et honorem June 1. 1607." f. 197. The three following pages are blank; the next is headed "Receipts for Physick from Octob. 18. ½ hor. 1. 30 p. m. 1606." f. 199.

Memoranda of his own private transactions are scattered through Napier's folio practice-books, and they are for the most part badly written.

The importance of these volumes is very considerable to genealogists. They furnish innumerable proofs of kindred, by usually naming the husband, wife, father or mother, brother or sister of the patient; and they state in almost every case the age and dwelling. Often the time of birth or of death is recorded. Where no extensive information is to be gained, yet there is the fact that such a person was living at a certain time and place, which alone is in some cases important. Many of the other particulars recorded are scarcely less curious than these are valuable; and most of them are unique.

No. 194.

Mr. R. NAPIER's Practice, from 9 Dec. 1629 to 3 June 1630. (pp. 436.) With an Index.

The Index of the names of patients is fairly written on 5 leaves at the beginning of this volume.

The first leaf (before p. 1) is inscribed "In nomine sanctæ Triados illiusque gloriam, Decembris 9, 9 h. 12. 1629." Like inscriptions are prefixed to almost all of his practice-books. On this leaf and at the end of the book, are—

Various medical receipts, miscellancous memoranda, astrological figures, etc. some of which are curious. p. 437—462.

The chief medical recipes are mentioned on the last page of the Index. This and many other volumes have been perused by Ashmole, many notes of his writing being inserted on loose papers, to mark certain places.

No. 195.

A volume consisting of several quires of folio paper of different sizes (ff. 246) bound together, which had been written separately. It is thus intitled by Ashmole:—

"Figures set by Mr. SIMON FORMAN upon Horary Questions. 1598. Volume III:" being his Medical and Astrological Practice from 20 Feb. 1598 to 8 Feb. 1599.

These notes are written in double columns, each containing one, two, or as many figures (each with the question, the notes, and judgement thereon) as it can hold. The querents' names are written larger than the rest. Many curious miscellanies are interspersed, chiefly at the beginning and end of the quires: of which the most remarkable in this vol. are—

Forman's calculation of his own nativity (31 Dec. 1553) 69—72.

"A note of certain goodes that Robert Langdell hath at pawn 1598. 31 Mai." 73.

Note that the peace between France and Spain was proclaimed 27 May, 1598. f. 73^b.

Verses by "Forman. Great was the star that Beathleem bread." (4 l.) 73^b.

About the pregnancy of Eliz. Parker, his servant. 73^b, 101^b, 196. (See also No. 219, f. 136^b.)

Of the fatal consequences of some of Doctor Por's medicines. 90^b.

Note of the sale of the fruit growing in his orchard at Lambeth, 11 June 1598, to Rob. Flemyng of Dowgate, (signed by him and John Bradishe) for 20 pounds. 151^b.

About his being "warned before the Doctors the 14 Feb. 1594," his fine, imprisonment, and suits at law until 1597. f. 195. (See also No. 226, f. 285, 292^b.)

"1598. The Cotpurs we I had in examination about my purse, ar thes and their fellowses." (18 names) 196^b.

Abbreviations in some antient MS. explained. 196^b.

"Gould [coins] in valem" 245^b. Other notes are on the next leaf.

No. 196.

Mr. R. NAPIER's Practice, from 25 Apr. 1615 to 19 Feb. 1616. (f. 2—186^b.)

Miscellaneous memoranda, f. 2, 187—190^b.

Ff. 187—8—9, are much torn.

No. 197.

Mr. R. NAPIER's Practice, from 17 Feb. 1603 to 6 Feb. 1604: in three books. (f. 1^b—146.)

1. "Incipit hic liber in nomine sanctæ triados febr. 21 h. 1603." f. 1.

2. "Junij 15 ♀ 1603. In nomine sanctæ triados Amen." 51.

3. "In nomine sanctæ triados Novemb. 14 ☾ hor. 12 in mer. 1603." 101.

Notes of books lent, etc. f. 1.

Note of the death of Q. Elizabeth and proclamation of James I. f. 14, 16.

No. 198.

Mr. R. NAPIER's Practice, from 24 Sept. 1616 to 6 June, 1617. (f. 2—191.)

No. 205.

A folio volume, consisting of several MSS. and papers bound together; being—

- Dr. SIMON FORMAN's Astrological and Magical Tracts and Collections: the chief of which are:—
1. "De Furto et re amissa: [et primo] de bonis immobilibus." A large treatise on the discovery of stolen goods and description of the thief, under several heads; with examples. f. 1—120^b.
 2. Rules and examples of the Prognostication of various matters; with a table of contents prefixed. 122, 123—208^b.
 3. "De Planetis." Of the influences of the planets; with tables. 209—230.
 4. Rules for questions of Pregnancy, Absence, etc.; with other astrological miscellanies. 231—285^b.
 5. Forman's own nativity (1 January, 1553—4). 286—9.
 6. A quarto tract on the discovery of Theft, partly in Latin, and partly in English. 290.
 7. Two geomantical figures to find "Whe[the]r Dauson will pay me my money the next court-day" (24 Jan. 1610), and "Utrum amor crescit aut decrecit inter me et G. Cole" (4 Aug. 1611). 314^b.
 8. "De Luna;"—"De amicitia et odio planetarum," et similibus rebus: also a fragment on Theft. 315—331.

No. 206.

A folio volume, containing 436 pages neatly written.

Dr. SIMON FORMAN's Rules, Observations, and Tables for judging Nativities; with a table of contents prefixed.

The first piece in this volume is imperfect, thus intitled, "The comment of Jhon of Saxon upon the text of Alcabitus, translated by S. F. 1601." p. 1—4.

Dr. FORMAN's calculation of his own Nativity. p. 218—225.

A book of Nativities set and judged by Dr. FORMAN. p. 226—436.

No. 207.

Mr. R. NAPIER's Practice, from 17 Feb. 1603 to 5 Apr. 1605; in five books. (f. 1, 60, 109, 151, 197—242.)

Note about the wandering Jew being then in Germany, and of the devil appearing to the miller of Foxley. 59^b.

Miscellaneous memoranda. 60, 196^b.

No. 208.

A folio volume, consisting of several curious MSS. and papers of Dr. Forman's, bound together.

1. Dr. SIMON FORMAN's tables and calculations of his own Nativity and revolutions to 1602; with curious and minute accounts of his accidents. f. 1—74.

2. A discourse "Of Cako" and "Opus magnum." 78—93^b.

It begins thus—Cako is a mean mineralle and of som yt is called Carcadis, and it is a substaunce in mynes. The following subscription shows that it is either a transcript or a translation by Forman: "Finis 1598 Novemb' 10 per Simonem Formanem. Autoris incogniti."

3. A discourse "Of the minerall stone." 94—7.

4. "Opus Minerale. Adrop in Grecke is as moch to saie as Saturnus in Lattine." 98—101.

5. "Of the vegitable stone" (102), with verses* that "Another saith of the vegitable stone thus, The ayerie blod of the berrie red." (43 l.) 102^b—3.

* Printed in Ashmole's Theatrum Chemicum, p. 362—3: see No. 792, where Ashmole hath noted the same variation which occurs in the first line of this copy. It is also in No. 1485, iii. art. 9.

6. Fragment on the composition of the Elixir, and of Mercury. 104^b—7.

7. Of the things signified by Luna. 108—111^b.

8. "A discourse of the Plague written by SIMON FORMAN gent. practizar in phisicke and astrologie, 1593, and verie necessary for alle men to reade and truely to remember." 110.

Subscribed also by him at the end, f. 134.

* 9. Dr. FORMAN's history of his early Life, in thirteen chapters, unfinished. 136—142.

This is the most curious and entertaining autobiography that has been met with; being written in the style and form of the black letter prose romances. It begins thus—"In Dei nomine. Amen. This is the Bocke of the Life and generation of Simon the sonn of Will'm the sonn of Richard," etc.; and ends with the chapter of his going to study at Oxford.

10. Letter from FRAUNCIS HAIWARD to Dr. Forman, desiring to have his faithful judgement on the subject of their former conference (namely, marriage), when he should come to her: with his figure and judgement on this question (2 Mar. 1600). 144—3.

11. Collections and rules about casting out Spirits, discovering stolen or lost goods, the state of persons absent, the cause of death, etc.; with many examples of figures set on real cases in the course of FORMAN's practice. 145—199^b.

* 12. "The Bocke of Plaies and Notes therof per FORMANs for common pollicie." 200.

This book was begun a few months before his death, and contains notes of only four plays which he witnessed; namely— "In Richard the 2 at the glob 1611 the 30 of Aprill." 201. "In the Winters Talle at the glob 1611 the 15 of maye." 201^b—2. "Of Cinobalin King of England." 206. "In Maekbeth at the glob 1610 the 20 of Aprill." 207—7^b.

* 13. "Of the name of Forman, and howe yt came up firste, as we have found:" with Pedigrees of the family, and a short account of Dr. FORMAN's own Life. 214—27.

See note on No. 240, art. 7. This and the following article are in quarto.

14. "The letters and vovells howe they stand on for a nother, and for howe many letters, as I my self doe write them in my bockes." 228—31.

These are Hebrew letters with points, used for secret writing.

15. "The Argument between FORMAN and Deathe in his sicknes 1585. September the 4th. O deathe y^t dauncest in thy shite." 235—48.

This is a poetical dialogue in four-lined stanzas, subscribed "finis quod [per supra] Simonem Forman." (In large octavo.) It is noticed by Ritson, p. 209; and extracts are given by Dr. Bliss, in his edition of Wood's Athene Oxon. II. col. 101—3.

16. Fragment of a dialogue between a lady and a complaining lover: beg. But here allon to sighe and mone. (15 st. of 4.) 249^b.

Written on a leaf of paper containing some old writing-exercises. The last line is this, "And put me from my paine. Finis." The following poems are uniformly written on 2 sheets of paper folded in octavo, by Forman's hand: art. 17—21.

17. A poem in praise of Henry VIII. and queen Elizabeth. Late use I walked on the waie. 250—60.

In four-lined stanzas, 20 of which are in the prologue. The ninth leaf is nearly all torn out.

18. Verses addressed to the "Lord of Warrick," (What doth more glad the harts of men: 16 st. of 4.) subscribed "SIMON FORMAN 1578, Januari the 10th." 260^b—1^b.

19. Verses by "THOMAS ELLIS in prais of Fro-bisher. Yf Gretians stout did right extolle." (12 st. of 4.) 262.

Subscribed "Finis qd' S. Fo." The authors of this and the next are not to be found in Ritson's Bibl. Poetica.

20. "JOHN KIRKHAM of Martin Frobisher. Youe Muses guid my quivering quill." (14 st. of 4.) 263, 264^b.

Subscribed "Finis qd' Simon Forman." On the two pages between are written the names of "The 4 fluds of Parradise" (263^b), and—

21. Consolatory Verses written by a scholar in his adversity. Piraemona that thunder bolts. (5 st. of 4.) 264.

22. Part of a large magical circle; or two sections of an arch, round which are written numbers, and the names of the Hebrew letters repeatedly: on parchement. 265, 266.

No. 209.

A folio volume, containing four MSS. written on paper.

I. Two hundred and seven Select Figures set on Horary Questions, with the astrological judgement given on each, and the actual event or consequence; by WILLIAM LILLY. f. 1—104^b.

These are very neatly drawn (out of his practice-books and papers) and discoursed on: there is one figure with its judgement on each page (except 95^b, which is blank), and ff. 105—30 contain only the frame of the figure stamped, but not filled up.

II. Scripta quaedam et Collectanea RICHARDI FORSTERI M. D. et Collegii Medicorum Londini Præsidis. f. 131—203.

I. Notationes quaedam astrologicæ. 131^b, 179.

2. "Usus sequentium Tabularum Proportionum ad 3, 5, 6, 10, vel 30 graduum;" cum ipsis tabulis. 133—144.
3. R. FORSTERI epistola "Ex[c]ellentissimo eruditissimoque viro D. Johanni Antonio Magino, Patavino, mathematicum in almo Bononiensi gymnasio Professore celiberimo, amico suo honorando," inscripta, opera ejus laudans, ipsiusque Forsteri observationes astrologicas comprehendens. (31 Jan. 1606, a Londino.) 144^b—6.
4. De trigone aqueo historiola. 147.
5. "Auctores qui magis rationabiliter loquuntur de Accidentibus Mundi juxta Eschenden." 148^b.

Dr. Forster's valuable copy of Eschenden's Summa is in this Library: see No. 576, and the note on No. 241, xi.

6. Excerpta ex Eschendeni Prognosticatione quam "scripsit 1345 de hiis tribus ♂^{us} [Sat. et Jovis] et eclipsi universali:" cum earum figuris. 149—150^b.

See a copy in No. 192, art. 3.

7. Observationes Eclipsium annis 1604 et 1605, f. 150^b—6.
8. "Ex Augustino Nipho de calamitatum causis, lib. 2^o. enunc. 25^o." cum cæteris ejusmodi excerptis. 163—4^b, 170^b.
9. "Canones Johannis Vernej de auræ mutatione, Norimbergæ 1546," excerpti. 164^b.
10. Excerpta ex Alberti Pighij astrologiæ defensione, (Paris, ex off. Steph. 1518.) cum figuris eclipsium annis 1518—9, et prognosticationibus. 165—170.
11. Excerpta ex "Historia Anglicanæ ecclesiæ Nicholai Harpesfeldi." 171—2.
12. Regis Edw. III. epistola ad Pontificem, (15 Julij 1338) "Ex Thomæ Otturborne chronica." 172—4.
13. E concilio Lateranensi an. 1215 celebrato. 174.
14. "Ex Augustino Nipho lib. 1^o de Signis stellarum Helionoricis." 174^b—6.
15. "Ex Lucio Bellatio, Senensi physico," qui an. 1493 scripsit. 176—7.
16. "Exemplar literarum quas Comites et Barones Angliæ miserunt Bonifacio papæ super negotio Scotorum, anno regni regis Edwardi I. 28, anno domini 1300." 177^b—9.

Printed in the Fœdera, and repeatedly. See Nicolas-es Synopsis of the Peerage, (1825, 2 vol. 12^o.) p. 795 et seq.

17. "Ex Christophori Pezelij præceptis genethliacis." 179^b—84^b.
18. "Doctor Taylor cœpit ægrotare apud Hygate 1609, August. 30:" cum figuris et calculis super eo tempore. 182, 185—5^b.
19. Similes super tempore quo "Thomas Dennis miles decubuit, [scil.] 1613. Junij 27." 187^b—8.

The leaves 180—203 in this MS. are vacant, and ff. 204—10 in the next; which is a fair transcript with wide margins, written (as it seems) by Mr. Lilly.

- III. "JACOBUS ALKINDUS de Judiciis, ex Arabico [Latinus] factus per ROBERTUM Anglicum, anno Domini 1272." 211.

F. 259, "Finit liber Alkindi, Translatio Roberti Angliginæ de chebil." See the notes on No. 179, iv., No. 434, and No. 369. This copy has been collated and corrected by another MS.

- IV. The Nativity of, born (in Latitude 56^o) 15 May, 1630; calculated and astrologically discoursed on by WILLIAM LILLY; with judgements from 1641 to 1689. f. 266—294.

Largely and fairly written in a book (ff. 264—318) containing many blank leaves. A sheet is fixed in, containing the figures of the revolutions from 1651 to 1670. (f. 304—5.)

No. 210.

A folio volume containing several MSS. bound together.

- I. A thin book consisting of 11 leaves of thick parchment, written in the latter part of the XIVth century. On the first leaf is written by a later hand "Precium istius libri xl. d."

Calendarium fratris RICARDI THORPPE, pro 532 annis post annum 1386; cum apparatu astronomico et physico.

The contents of this curious pamphlet follow.

1. "Hec figura subsequens ostendit motionem sive accessionem lune ad solem et est eciam etc." f. 1.

This is a circular figure moving on a centre-knot within a graduated circle on the back of the first leaf: not unlike that which is called a volvelle or lunarie in No. 191, iv. 2. The above title is written by the same hand that marked the price of this book.

2. Calendarium ipsum. 2—7.
3. Auctoris (Tannero ignoti) præfatiuncula, sic incipiens:—
"Universis veras solis et lune conjunctiones temporaque eclipsium solarium et lunarium in .40^o. cielis ab anno Xpi. 1387. inchoante scire desiderantibus, Frater Ricus Thorpp' Augustinensis presens opusculum inter alias scolasticas sollicitudines votorum facilliter delatatum." 2.
4. Eclipses Solis ab anno 1386 ad 1460, cum iconibus. 2^b—3^b.
5. Eclipses Lunæ ab anno 1387 ad 1461, cum iconibus. 4—6^b.

These 3 articles are written below the pages of the Calendar.

6. Tabula Paschalis, annis 1386—1891 idonea: cum regula sic incipiente; M^d. quod in ista tabula continentur 22^e linee in latitudinc. f. 8.
7. Tabula bissextilis, usque ad annum 1479. f. 8.
8. "Regule Ebor." scilicet "Tabula annorum communium et bissextilium," et "Tabula clavium festorum mobilium simulque aurei numeri," cum regulis. 8^b.

By a hand of the XVth century.

9. Figure of a man, showing the dominion of the signs in his body; with a rule for Phlebotomy, beg. In tempore calidissimo. f. 9.

In two columns, one on each side of this figure, is written in a small and early hand of the XVth century—

10. A poem on the humors of the body, and fit times for bleeding: beg. God made alle man kynd y' lyves on ye erthe. (110 lines.) 9.

The last line is—And excuse me dere frend for ya
Much of what was written toward the right-hand margin is faded and lost.

11. "Tabula lune ad sciendum ejus signum omni die." 9^b.

12. ————— gradum omni die. 10.

13. ————— quis planetarum regnat in qualibet hora diei et noctis." 10^b.

14. "Flebothomia magistri JOH'IS DE MIRAPICE. Incipit tabula flebothomie tradita Rasim vij^o. Almassoris." 11.

15. Homo Venarum (ut alicubi dicitur), cum descriptione. 11.

On the back of this leaf (11^b) is written the name of "Thomas Longland de Fastonsley."

II. A thin book written about the beginning of the XVIth century, on thick paper, in a large and fair hand, with many rubrics: ff. 16—43. See also MS. IV.

Several small tracts and collections on the art of Physical Astrology, written by R. ATKINS: the chief titles of which are—

"After alle judicialles of astronomy and the sayeng of Guido Bonatus, of Tholomeus, of Haly, of Novem Judicium, of Amicus medicorum. If hit be for a phesicion or a surgyn to take cure uppon hym or not." 16.

"Iff a sicke man schal lyve or dye." 20.

"Tractatus verus de urina non visa. Bycause in ye liver." 22.

At the foot of 23^b is written with other ink "Note this well quod R. Atkins."

"A Judgement uppon phesicke." 25.

"De motibus planetarum." 26.

"The proprietis of the planetis." 29.

"Of the chusing of joyrneys." 31.

"To know to what partes of the world the fugytyf ys gone." 36.

A tract thus intituled at the end, "Explicit liber YPOCRATIS de naturis signorum juxta presenciam lune et aspectus aliorum planetarum ad ipsam in signis varijs existencium." 36^b—42.

This title was afterward subscribed, (the original colophon being "Sufficit de judiciis s' motum lune in 12 signis explicit.") and is taken from the sentence of the tract:—"As sayeth Ypocras best of phesicions who knowiþ by astronomy þt no man schuld put hym selfe into þe hondys of an unkonnyng leche that knowiþ not in astronomy. And I lokyd in a boke of Ypocras and I founde ryst grete and good knowlych and necessary to al phesicouns."

"De mutacione aeris per singulas menses." 43.

III. A MS. written by an Italian hand in the XVIIth century. (Compare No. 401.)

De Arte Genethliaca, seu de nativitatibus judicandis, tractatus; cujus caput primum est "Locum Planetarum ex ephemeridibus cognoscere." 45—79^b.

A figure given as an example at f. 50^b, is set for 29 Sept. 1573, at Rome; about which time or soon after the work may have been composed.

IV. A MS. like the second in this volume, (heretofore described,) and written by the same hand. The inner margins are much decayed with damp. It begins with the following passage all in rubric:—

"Here begynnyth þe mervelus and the sothefast connyng of Astrology founde and provyd trew CC yere or Christ was borne by þe grete philosofer PTHOLOMEUS. Honorabil it is to know every daye thorow out the yere in which signe the ☾ is, for the filosofer sayeth the ☾ is þe next planet to the erthe and þerfore he hath more vertu and effecte then other planettes to erthly thynges and more schynnyng to the creature of man. So that by the ☾ and by ye complexion of the signe that the ☾ is in, ye may know what is good to do or not do leve or take begynne or reste, as I my selfe have provyd by my workyng." 81.

After treating of the 12 signs is this rubric—

"How a person schal demond his question." 87.

Several astrological rules and collections follow.

Of horary questions. "Wherefore come you and in what inencion." 92.

In the middle of the page at f. 94, below the rules "for sekenes," is the signature of the writer in rubric. "Per me R. ATKINS."

"To know if a man be seke or note, and where of his sekene is, of color blode flemme or melancoly;" and other like rules. 94^b—7.

V. Figures set on Horary Questions by WILLIAM LILLY, from 30 July to 30 Oct. 1649. f. 100—163.

The former half of this MS. has 6, the latter 4 figures, on each page. Some of the blank frames on f. 98—9^b, contain schemes dated in April. Part of the last leaf is cut out.

No. 211.

Mr. R. NAPIER's Practice, from 4 Apr. 1633, to 12 Nov. 1634. (p. 2—502.) With an Index.

"In nomine sanctæ triados Ap. 3. h. 5. 45. p. m. 1633" p. 1.

The Index of names, by the same hand as that in No. 194, is written on four leaves at the beginning.

Various medical notes, recipes, and memoranda of books lent, etc. p. 503—23.

No. 212.

Mr. R. NAPIER's Practice, from 1 July, 1631, to 17 March, 1632. (p. 1—515.) With an Index.

The Index of names is prefixed as in the foregoing volume. The five leaves on which it is written have been gnawed by mice or rats, which have made a great hole in the MS. as far as the 54th page.

Medical recipes and miscellaneous notes. p. 516—528.

No. 213.

Mr. R. NAPIER's Practice, from 12 Sept. 1619, to 18 April, 1620. (f. 1—175^b.)

This book is much stained with damp at the beginning, where the fragment of a leaf shows that one at least has perished.

Various medical and miscellaneous notes, curious and interesting. f. 176—188^b.

Among these are very curious predictions of the future lot of many considerable persons, whose nativities had been cast by

Mr. Napier, f. 184^b—5^b. On one of these (beginning Mr. Booth, 184^b) Ashmole has written this note at the foot of the following page:—"My Lord Delamere was borne the 18 of Dec: 1622. He was the only son Mr. Wm Booth had that liv'd to inherit. His birth was 3 yeare and a halfe after this prognostick."

No. 214.

Mr. R. NAPIER'S Practice, from 11 Sept. 1632, to 3 Apr. 1633. (p. 9—422.) With an Index.

The unfinished Index of names (reaching only to p. 290) is written on four leaves inserted between pp. 4—5.

Nativity of "The young Lord Bridgwater," (29 May, 1623) on the second and third pages not numbered.

Various medical notes, p. 2, 8, 423—434.

Nativity of the "Hon. Domina P. N. nata Lond. Aug. 17. 1610." p. 3.

This article is by the same hand as the Index.

No. 215.

Mr. R. NAPIER'S Practice, from 26 Dec. 1605, to 21 Apr. 1606: in two books.

1. "Hic liber compos. in nomine sanctæ triados et ægrotantium emolumentum. Decemb. 26. Ȳ. h. 8. 30. ante m. 1605." f. 1.

Also his Practice from 25 Sept. 1626, to 20 Feb. 1627.

This latter book is much rotten and stained with damp; it consists of four quires bound together in the following disorderly manner:

From 5 Dec. 1626, to 27 Jan. 1627. f. 244.
 — 25 Nov. ———— 5 Dec. 1626. f. 284.
 — 25 Sept. ———— 25 Nov. ———— f. 292.
 — 29 Jan. 1627, to 20 Feb. 1627. f. 350—69.

No. 225.

A folio volume, consisting of a great number of papers and fragments, chiefly folio sheets, bound together: thus intitled by Ashmole:—

"A volume of Mr. JOHN BOOKER's Nativities."

Prefixed are two papers written by the same hand as art. . . of No. 36—7: the lowest quarter of the first one is torn off at the fold.

1. "Epigramma querimoniale ad te Mathematicum Londinensem,"* a quodam cui sinistrum fractum fuerat brachium ab adversario, qui tum in carcerem conjecit ipsum: disticha quatuor, cum epistola. f. 1^b.

No. 226.

A volume, consisting of several quires of paper bound together: thus intitled by Ashmole:—

"Figures set upon Horary Questions by Mr. SIMON FORMAN. 1597. Volume II:" being his Medical and Astrological Practice from 20 Jan. 1597, to 20 Feb. 1598. (f. 1—309^b.)

Interspersed are the following articles:—

Account of many of his dreams: the first is about walking with the Queen, and being very familiar with her. 44—5, 89^b, 132, 310.

Miscellaneous notes. 89^b, 132^b, 137, 180^b, 268^b, paper stuck on 271, 285, 310, 310^b.

Agreement between S. Forman and Ann Wallor, of Ashly in the forest of West-Bearc, to pay 500*l.* to him for a silver groat then received, if she should make any promise of marriage without his permission. (With signatures; 14 June, 1597.) 120.

No. 227.

Mr. R. NAPIER's Practice, from 20 Feb. 1627, to 7 Nov. 1627. (f. 1—266^b.)

Medical recipes and notes. 267—7^b, 268^b—9, 273^b, 276—6^b, 277^b.

Receipts in Cookery:—

"To make an amber jelly," 268; "To make past for a pasty of venyson," 270^b; "A hasty pudding," 271^b; "A bag pudding," etc. 272; "A receipt for a blemandger," and "To make a fyne creame tart," 274; "A hare," 275^b.

Miscellaneous memoranda. 270, 271, 274^b—5, 277, 278—8^b.

No. 228.

Mr. R. NAPIER's Practice, from 17 July, 1598, to 26 Feb. 1600; in six books.

The first book or quire is of much smaller paper than the others : on the first leaf are several astrological calculations, dated 14 Aug. and 1 Sept. 1598.

1. Notes from 17 July to 27 Sept. 1598. f. 2—36^b.
2. "This book [was] made Octob. 4 die ♀ 1598." It extends from 4 Oct. to 24 Feb. f. 39—84.
3. "Feb. 25. die ☉ h. 6. 30. In nomine patris et filij et spiritus sancti Amen." 86—136^b.

Lilly's own accidents.

II. "A collection of auntient and moderne prophesies, wth some observations uppon them by WILLIAM LILLY student in astrology." 22—6, 46^b.

These are only some remarks collected for the tract printed in 1645, 4^o, of which a printed copy is in No. 548. iii.

At the end are figures on the Natiivities of the following persons:—

Mr. Hollis-es kinswoman (born 4 Aug. 1626). 26^b.

Dns Wilcocks (17 Nov. 1624). 27.

Mr. Prickman (9 Dec. 1624). 27^b—30.

Coll. Morgan (10 Dec. 1604). 30^b.

Note of the births of "H. Earle of Peterborough, the eldest soon" (19 Oct. 1623), John (18 June, 1626), and Elizabeth (6 Oct. 1627); and original note of the Earle's illness. 39^b. Also a figure on the nativity of Lady Elizabeth. 40.

Major Sanders (20 Oct. 1616). 40^b.

. nata 22 Nov. 1623. 41^b.

Dna Stewart (7 May, 1621). 42^b.

The Lady Abergavenny (22 May, 1621.) 43^b.

Mrs. M. Jackson (14 May, 1631, in Yorksh.) 44.

"Filius dñi Aytlahe" (29 June, 1630). 44^b.

Dns Quintin (23 June, 1617), with his accidents. 46.

III. "Merlini Anglici Ephemeris; Astrological predictions for the year 1661, by WM. LILLY student in Astrology." 47—60.

This is the copy from which was printed the introductory part of Lilly's Almanac for 1661, of which his own copy is in No. 264, art. 1.

IV. "Merlini Anglici Ephemeris, or astrological judgments for the year 1667, by WILLIAM LILLY," etc. 61—9.

At the end is the autograph of Roger L'estrangle, with the note of its being "Licensed Octob. 29. 1666." (Each of the following articles has the like certificate at the beginning.) The author's own printed copy is in No. 593, art. 2.

V. "Merlini [etc.] for the year 1668, by WILLIAM LILLY," etc. 70—9.

Printed copy in No. 593, art. 3.

VI. "Merlini [etc.] for the year 1669," etc. 80—92^b.

Printed copy in No. 593, art. 4.

VII. "Merlini [etc.] for the year 1670," etc. 94^b—107.

Printed copy in No. 593, art. 5.

VIII. "Merlini [etc.] for the year 1671," etc. 108—121.

The last leaf but one is addressed as a letter thus, "For my honored freind Mr. John Macock printer thes in St. Jones near the Lord Berklys." In this and other MSS. may be seen several passages suppressed in the printing for want of space and other causes. The leaves marked 120—1, are two advertisements for insertion in the almanac, the latter of which (beg. The Elxir proprietatis) was written by Ashmole's hand; they are both in the printed copy, which may be found in No. 603, art. 1.

IX. "Merlini [etc.] for the year 1672," etc. 123—133.

Printed copy in No. 603, art. 2.

X. "Merlini [etc.] for the year 1673," etc. 134—143^b.

Printed copy in No. 603, art. 3.

XI. "Merlini [etc.] for the year 1674," etc. 144—156^b.

Printed copy in No. 603, art. 4. The last passage relative to Dr. Forster's collated copy of Eschuid (Venet. 1489, fol.), then in Mr. Ashmole's Library (and now marked No. 576, which see), is in his own handwriting on a slip of paper. This article is followed by printed proof sheets of some part of it, ff. 157—160. See No. 242, art. 17.

XII. "Merlini [etc.] for the year 1675," etc. 161—171^b.

Printed copy in No. 603, art. 5.

XIII. "Merlini [etc.] for the year 1676," etc. 172—9.

At the end among the advertisements is a note to be printed "At the end of Decembers observations," mentioning Lilly's sickness, who had been reported to be dead. See printed copy in No. 617, art. 1.

XIV. "Merlini [etc.] for the year 1677." 180—9^b.

XV. 1. "A Paraphrase uppon St. Thomas a Becket's prophcy and some others: wherein is delivered that success which the Dutch and French or other Princes their confederats may expect in the now warrs against his Ma^y of Great Britain; astrolicall observations concerning the Dutch and French in their new association. A quo tu Calchas Græcis oracula cantas. Of the number 666; whether so much to be dreaded as vulgarly it is. By W. L[ILLY]." 190—200^b.

Ashmole has noted below the title, that "This tract was finished about the end of March 1666." A like note occurs in the other copy, No. 371, iii. On f. 195 is fixed a paper containing a corrective remark by the hand of Sir Edward Walker: see his letter to Lilly, in No. 240, f. 121.

2. Letter from W. LILLY, addressed "For my reverend patron Elias Ashmole esq." about the foregoing tract; with a copy of the prophecy of the Lilly, from a book printed at Paris in 1530. (Hersham, 1 July, 1672.) 202, 205^b.

This prophecy (whereof two copies are given in the tract) begins thus—Liliun regnans in superiore parte. A translation of the same is on a broadside attached to f. 201^b, printed "by Richard Janeway in Queens-head-Alley in Pater-noster-Row, 1689," under the following title:—

"A copy of a Prophecy sent by the late honourable Algernon Sydney esq; in the year 1666 from Montpelliers, to B. Furlly of Rotterdam, and by him accidentally found among old papers, Febr. 1^o 1689."

3. "The Propheyc of Marlion. When that DDD are together knit" (52 l.), with "The declaration of the saying aforesayd." 203—4.

This article was written by Ashmole's hand: another copy is in the foregoing tract, at f. 194.

No. 242.

A folio volume, consisting of several MSS. and papers bound together. Prefixed (f. 1) is a fine impression of a folio copper-plate, thus inscribed below, (with Ashmole's arms)—"Instrumentorum Mathematicorum Usus. Colendissimo viro Elie Ashmole de medij Templi socio armigero Tabulam hanc merito consecrat R. B."

1. "An Astrological Discourse with Mathematical Demonstrations, proving the powerful and harmonical influence of the planets and fixed stars upon elementary bodies, in Justification of the validity of Astrology." By Sir CHRISTOPHER HEYDON, knight. pp. 22.

This title is taken from the edition published at London in 1650 (in 120.) "by Nicholas Fiske, Iatronmathematicus," to which was prefixed a recommendation by Lilly. It is mentioned by Ashmole in the corner of the first page of this MS., which, being the original, was perhaps bestowed on him for his encouragement of its publication: this fact appears from the preface "to the reader," most part of which is here given from Ashmole's copy, No. 297.

"RICHARD FORSTER, Doctor in Physick, one of the Colledg of Physicians in London, in Astronomy very learned, and in Astrology no less skilful, as many yet living do very well remember; for although he was Physician to Robert Dudley, that great Earl of Leicester, yet did he survive him, and dyed long after King James came into England: by this Doctor's means Sir CHRISTOPHER HEYDON Kt.* of the county of Norfolk, became not only a lover but an admirable Student in Astrology; and to say truth, I do not find in all my reading that any of the Ancients did exceed him in Knowledge herein.

"Some years after K. James his coming into England, this learned Knight, to manifest his gratefulness unto Doctor Forster, from whom he acknowledged his initiation into this study, did present unto him in London, in a well written hand, this ingenious and deep piece of Philosophy which I now make publike. Doctor Forster, as my self well know, received it as an inestimable jewel, and preserved it in his study amongst the rarest and choicest pieces therein; but death depriving this learned Doctor of life in that year he was President of the Colledg, by great providence this ensuing treatise came into my hands; which I have carefully preserved with great respect, both to the Author and matter it self.

"I have many times endeavored its impression, but without success; for until of late years such was the error or rather malice of the Clergy, who only had priviledg of licensing books of this nature, that they wilfully refused the publication: But of late casually shewing this Manuscript to my worthy friend ELIAS ASHMOLE Esq; he earnestly desired it might be made publike, freely offering to be at the charges of cutting the Diagrams in brass, that so the work might appear in its greater lustre."

The last half-page is omitted in the printed edition.

2. Letter from Sir CHR. HEYDON "To the right wor^{ll} his verely lovinge frend Mr. Dr. Foster," sending some of his discourses to read. (28 Jan. 1607.) f. 14, 17.

A copy is in No. 423, f. 109. This and the two following letters are original.

3. From the same "To ye right worshipp^{ll} my much esteemed frend Mr. Dr. Foster at his house in St. Antlins;" a longer letter, about his own astrological observations. (1 Mar. 1607.) 15—6.
4. "An astrological judgment upon the great Conjunction of Saturn and Jupiter 1603, being its first entrance into the fiery trigon, sent by way of letter from Sr CHRISTOPHER HEYDON K^t. to Doctor Foster." (2 Apr. 1608.) 18—19^b.

This title is taken from the copy printed at the end of art. 1, in the edition there described, p. 98—111. See Lilly's remark on this MS. in his Autobiography (1774, 8vo.) p. 55.

The following four articles form a book neatly written by Ashmole's hand.

5. "Sr. CHRISTOPHER HEYDON'S Dyary and Prognosticacōn for the first six moneths of the year 1608." 20—5.
6. "An exact Calculation from the Norman Conquest, of the Cycle of the Sun, the Dominical Letter, the Golden Number, and how often Easter-day hath fallen upon ye 25: and 22 of March since ye time." 26—9.

Note at the top of 29^b. "The preceding calculations of the cicle of the ☉ &c. were made by Capitaine GEORGE WHARTON at my request. E. A."

7. "Observatio Eclipsis Solaris habita Romæ, die 12 Augusti 1654." 29^b.

F. 30 is blank: over f. 31 is noted by Ashmole, "The following Dyary was written by Sr. CHRISTOPHER HEYDON."

8. "A Meteorological Dyary and Prognostication for this present yeare of our Lord 1609: calculated according to the most exact observations of Tycho Brahe for the city of London," etc. 31—59.
9. "A Recitall of the celestially apparitions of this present Trigon now in being." pp. 21.

On the first leaf of this tract is the following note:—"I suppose this to be the worke of Mr. Denham: he lived in Distiffe lane: he followed the Erle of Combreland: he left Mr. Jones his Executor." Ashmole added, "This is the handwriting of William Backhouse of Swallowfield in com' Berks esqr. But I have since met wth this treatise written in Quarto in a small hand, and about the latter end of King James's reigne, wch saies Sr: CHRISTOPHER HEYDON was the Author: having the following title"—(see No. 350, art. vi.) "wch treatise I bought out of Mr. Richard Saunders study after his death. E. Ashmole." f. 60.

10. Figures on the laying of the foundation-stone of the Exchanges at Amsterdam and London, with chrono-astrological notes of great fires and other events; by F. BERNARD. 74—5.

The frame of these figures is printed from a neat copper-plate, as also art. 13.

11. Ashmole's figure on "The first stone layd of Ald. Wade's house at the end of Milk-street in Cheapeside." (10 Apr. 1667.) 76.
12. Figures and calculations on "King Charls his position of the first stone at the Royall Exchang. Octo: 23. 1667:" in BERNARD'S hand. 78.
13. Four figures on the foundation of cities, etc.: by F. BERNARD. 79, 80.
14. "Positio primi lapidis in fundamento Bursæ Amsterlodamensis, 1608 Majj 28;" figura, cum notis historicis per ASHMOLIUM. 81—2.
15. Letter from FRANCIS BERNARD to Mr. Lilly, on the application of judicial astrology to buildings and cities. (27 May, 1664.) 83—4^b.
16. From the same to the same, a classical letter on astrology (with seal of arms), dated "Christchurch Walk, May 29, 1666." 85—6^b.
17. An elegant letter from the same to the same, mentioning Mr. Ashmole, and thanking Lilly for publishing a fragment of John Esehuyd*. ("April 3. 1677. London, St. Sepulchres Church-yard.") 87—8^b.

* See the note on No. 241, art. xi.

18. Letter from EDM. CARENT of Hammersmith to Mr. Lilly at Hershams; with five figures of royal Nativities*. ("London, March 20th. 66.") 90, 89.

* "Rex Hispaniarum natus 1653.—Rex Suecicæ filius Caroli Gustavi.—Jacobus filius Ducis Eboracæ natus Julij 12. 1663. [vide No. 243, f. 161^b.]—Daulphin of France nat. 1661.—Infans Hispaniæ nat. Novemb. 6. 1661." f. 89.

19. Observations on the irregularity of Easter as observed by the Church of England, in order to a reformation of the style; subscribed "G. WHARTON." 91—2.

"The original of this I delivered his Maty. Febr. 19. 1663." This article (in the author's handwriting) was enlarged and printed by the author, Capt. (afterward Sir) George Wharton, in his Almanac for 1665; and was reprinted in his Works by Gadbury, (Lond. 1683, 8vo.) p. 33—6.

20. JOHN BOOKER'S copies of his letter to Jeremy Shakerley (dated "☉ intrante γ 165³," London), and of that person's letters "to Mr. Christopher Towneley at Carre hall in Lancashire," and "Mr. Henry Osborne" in the Strand, dated "Suratt in India Jan: 14 [and 15] 165³." f. 93, 94^b, 95—5^b.

Shakerley's letters to Lilly are in No. 423, ii. art. 17—25.

Mr. Dynes, steward of the ship Smyrna-Merchant, the bearer of these letters, not being able to find the persons to whom they were written, would have burned them but for the interference of a friend of Booker's; to whom they being given, he published part of the second, relative to the comet of December, 1652, in his Almanac. This was the occasion of Booker's acquaintance with him, and in the present article he commends his Tabulæ Britannicæ, and requests him to revise them.

21. Letter from Sir EDW. WALKER, Garter king of arms, to Elias Ashmole, esq. relating an account of the King's speech to the Parliament, and the long discussions among the Lords in consequence thereof. (16 Feb. 1676-7.) 97.
22. Letter from VINCENT WING "To his generous friend Mr. John Booker at the Guildhall in London or elsewhere;" accompanying the calculations in the three following sheets. ("From North Luffenham Rutl." 19 Feb. 1643.) 99.
23. Calculations of the two great conjunctions in 1644, and of the eclipses of the sun in 1645 and 1652 (each page subscribed "VIN. WING"); viz.—
 "Calculus mot: Saturni et Martis ad ult. diem Maii 1644, hor. 1. 39' pomerid: idque ex tabulis Lansbergianis." 100b.
 "Calculus motuum ♃ et ♄ ad diem 27 Julij 1644. 10. 8' idque," etc. 101.
 "Calculus eclipsis ☉ anno 1645, quæ in nostro horizonte apparebit, ex tabulis Danicis C. S. Longomontani." 101b.
 "Calculus hujus eclipsis solaris ex tabulis Lansbergianis." 102.
 "Calculus magnæ et totalis ferme eclipsis ☉ quæ in nostro hemisphærio videbitur anno 1652 idque," etc. 103b.
 "Calculus prædicti defectus solis quæ accidit anno 1652, 28 Martii, horis 21. 40' 29" tempore æquali." 104.
24. "The effects of the severall oppositions of Saturn and Jupiter that do happen in the years 1672 and 1673, astrologically treated off by R. EDLIN." 105—115.
25. "The effects of the conjunction of Saturn and Mars in Aries July the 8th. 1674, astrologically handled by R. EDLIN." 117—9.
- This person was the author of two larger printed discourses on like phenomena in 1659 (120. No. 116 and No. 1564) and 1664 (40. No. 543), the latter of which he dedicated to Ashmole. The latter of these MS. articles is an imperfect transcript by Lilly.
26. In Ptolemæum annotationes aliquot, manu cujusdam docti. 121.
27. Note of an eclipse of the sun, 1 June, 1676, observed by Ashmole at South Lambeth. 122.
28. Three old prophecies. 123.
 (1) "A prophecy found of late in ye Abbie of St. Bennet in Norfolk. If 1588 be past then thrive." (21 l.) See the note on No. 47, art. 45.
 (2) "Paulus Gesnerus of Missinia ye German astrologian in his silken thredd of ye world, wch is perfected at Madglenburge An. Dom. 1574, taken out of ye originall booke yt is in Trinity Colledg Lybrarie in Cambridge, left there by Dr. Nevill Mr. of ye house, wch he had out of ye Queenes closet." (See Dr. Bernard's General Catalogue of MSS. part iii. No. 299.)
 (3) "Ther is another antient prophecy of one Capestranus, found in ye Recordes of Canterbury to this effect. The Lyon," etc.
29. "Severall observations taken of a meatuar," (subscribed) "By And: Norwood Bart. in Barbadoes:" indorsed thus, "A description of our comet Feby 25. 1667." 124.
30. ASHMOLE'S note of the apparition of "an army of horse" and "a firy-man," seen on Blackheath, near Albury in Surrey, 15 May, 1643 ("ex relacõe Guili. Oughtred"); and figures on the nativity of "Elias Ash: son of my cosen John Ashmole." (28 June, 1653.) 125.
31. Form of two parhelia seen at Blonte Point in

- James river (lat. 37 $\frac{1}{2}$ °) 14 Feb. 1648-9, drawn and attested by "DANIELL HOARE." 126.
32. Extract of a letter relating to a comet and dreadful earthquake in Pega, dated 20 Dec. 1664. f. 127.
 "This was sent from Sr: Rich: Hatton's Br: a marchant in the East Indies." So subscribed by Ashmole, to whom there is also a note by R. B. attesting the extract.
33. Form of a kind of parhelia shaped like a cross, "scene at Great Gidding in Huntingdonshire neere Stilton upon the roade:" with figure set thereon, 16 Aug. 1651; and notes in cypher by Ashmole. 128.
34. Letter from ROBERT STERRELL, relating an account of three parhelia seen at Stambridge Magna in Essex, 4 July, 1675; with a present of a pair of eel-skin gloves. (13 July.) 129b.

With seal of arms. "To his worthily honoured friende Elias Ashmole esqr. at his house in Sheere-lane:" who set a figure thereon. f. 129.

35. ASHMOLE'S note of three parhelia seen, 19 Apr. 1667, by Sir Nich. Coomes, at Hemsted in Herts; and figure set thereon. 130.
36. Account of strange portentous appearances in the sky, seen in the Park in Southwark, 29 Dec. 1675. f. 131.
37. "Pourtraict of the new wonderful blazing star," etc. seen in Austria 12 Jan. 1664. 132.
 A printed broadside, licensed 7 Mar. 1663-4: "Sold by E. Brewster at the Crane in St. Paul's Church-yard. 1664."
38. Extract of a letter from "Hamburgh 31 Mar. 65," relating the appearance of a comet seen at Berlin and Cassell. 133.

Underwritten "Major Wood."

39. Astronomical observations of the comet seen 22 Apr. [1677]; subscribed "J. H." 134.
40. Letter from H. COLEY to "his ever hon^d friend Elias Ashmole esq." sending a copy of a letter from Lewis Yates, indorsed thus, "A brief account of ye place and motion of ye comet (as much as could be taken at one observacõn) seen in Malago in Spaine, Munday Aprill 16th. stilo vet. 1677." 135—6.
41. ASHMOLE'S astrological remarks on "the comet [which] was scene by Mr. Flamsteed the 22 of Apr. 1677." 137.
42. Account of Mercy Almer, a child who was blown up in her cradle by gunpowder, upon the leads of the church in Tower-street, London, without being hurt. 137b.
 A note on f. 75b. shows that this happened 4 Jan. 1650.
43. "Canon Gubernauticus. An arithmetical resolution of the Paradoxall Compas." 139—153b.

Over this title is written "the diameter 50 ynches." These tables were neatly written by the hand of Dr. DEE. Compare No. 1789.

At the end of this quire of paper are written invertedly the two following articles, by Dec's hand also, but not so fairly.

44. An arithmetical treatise on Fractions. 160^b—156^b.
45. Questions and observations about draining and imbanking the Fens. 156—4.
46. "A Fundamentall Diagram appli[c]able to any hypothesis, wherin is demonstrated how by one observation to fynde out y^e proportion of y^e semidiameter of y^e epicycle to y^e lyne ge together wth the middle and true anomalies of y^e epicycle and there equation, alwayes presupposing y^e middle longitude given by the tables and y^e line EG fownde or knowne." By Sir CHRISTOPHER HEYDON. Also six other mathematical and astronomical letters to Mr. Briggs, with diagrams and calculations. 162, 164, 168, 168^b, 169, 170, 170^b—1.

The second of these articles is dated "Beaconsthorp 10 Novembr. 1603;" the fourth "14 December 1609;" with the sixth (dated 21 Apr. 1619) is a piece intitled "The observ. of ♂ An^o 1588. 6^o Novembr. h. 6 min. 50 mane in the 23^o. 16 ♀ computed according to Kepler's hypothesis." The last is dated 12 Mar. 1619. They chiefly relate to comets. This was the author's own MS. and on its first blank leaf Ashmole has written "Ex dono Guiliel: Lillij. 1666."

48. "Astrologieall Aphorismes profitable for the readinge of the astrological effects and judgments of Ptolemie." 172—5.

"The ende of the aphorisms." This and the following article are transcripts by Ashmole's hand.

49. A discourse of some remarkable Nativities;—the first, of Edward VI. to which is subjoined that of his father Henry VIII.; second, of William Casanate, a famous physician; and "Of that most famous and illustrious Prince of Badofia, Claudius Lavallus, [born 27 Mar. 1515] the third geniture," to which is added that of John Fred. Prince of Saxony, born 30 June, 1503. f. 176—186.

The figures of the two first nativities have not been inserted, and the transcript is unfinished.

50. "A treatise touching the defence of Astrology." 187—196.

This is a fair (but unfinished) copy of Napier's MS. in No. 204, art. 5, and No. 240, art. 58.

The following articles are papers found loose in this volume, and now fixed at the end.

51. Figure on the conjunction of ♂ and ♃, 15 Feb. 1642. f. 199.

Underwritten thus, "Mathew Fiske his owne hand. He calculated this."

52. "Descriptio et schema eclipsæ Aug. 2. 1654. in plaga orientali." 199^b.

53. Certificate from the register of Allhallows the less, in London, that Edward Gresham, gent. was buried 14 Jan. 1612; signed by "W^m. Salisbury No^vy publick." Also an extract by Ashmole from "Mr. Gadbury's collecc^on of Nativities p. [179—]180," relative to Gresham and his almanacs. 200.

See Ashmole's note on the leaf following the title of No. 313.

No. 243.

A thick folio volume, consisting of a great variety of papers bound together, which are in general:—

Nativities, and other Astrological Papers, by BREEDEN, NAPIER, BOOKER, LILLY, and ASHMOLE.

1. GUIL. BREDENI calculatio elaborata eujusdam nativitatis, 19 Jan. 1591. f. 1—19.
2. Ejusdem epistola ad Ric. Napierum, de illius nativitate, cum figura inde posita. (Thorntonix, 9 cal. Nov. 1628.) 22—4^b.

Addressed in English thus, "To the worshipfull Mr. Richard Napier Rector of the parish church of Linford give these." The figure is thus inscribed by Ashmole—"Richard Napier Rector of Great Lynford in com. Buck: a famous Physitian and Astrologian." (4 May, 1559.)

3. Richardi Naperi suæ nativitatis calculatio. 25.
4. Nativity of Robert son of Sir Rob. Napier, knt. and bart. (10 Aug. 1602.) 26.
5. "Figura nativitatis Richardi Napeir" filii Rob. Napeir militis et bar. (25 Apr. 1607.) 27.

By his own hand, as also the foregoing and the following article. Subscribed thus by Ashmole—"Sr: Richard Napier Knight, Phisitian; Richard Napier Rector of Great Lynford in com: Buck: was his uncle and made him his heire."

6. "Figura nativitatis [ejusdem] Ricardi Naper junioris erecta per doctissimum mathematicum GULIELMUM BREDENUM, Thorntonix." 28.

* Afterward Bp. of Bristol. See also No. 332, f. 64^b—5.

No. 244.

A tall folio volume, consisting of several MSS. and papers bound together. The first MS. is written on thick parchment, in double columns of large and coarse writing.

I. Dr. SIMON FORMAN's book of Cabala, and names of Angels and evil Spirits; containing cabalistic tables, rules, and observations, extracted and translated from various old authors. f. 1—22.

The pages 2^b—6, the last, and some others, are blank. To this MS. art. 14, of No. 208, seems to relate.

II. I. "The Account of the years of the wordle gathered by my selfe [S. FORMAN] out of the wordle 1610 the 8 octob. and this is a true account after the Bible." 25—33^b.

These chronological notes are interspersed with many fictions in the genealogy of the patriarchs. On the last page are, "The difference of authors in the yeares and age of the wordle, out of Ptolomie fo. 144;" and a summary of these collections.

2. "FORMAN of the motion of the 3 superiour heavens, his Argumentes." 34.
3. "Of the 3 superiall heavens."—"Of the primo mobile." 35.
4. "Of the 9 heaven." 36—41^b.
5. "Of the 8th heaven." 44—54.
6. "A table of the motion of the 8 heaven, that I found in an old parchment bocke. In the which bocke it was thus written. In showinge to make an instrument to knowe the beginninge and endinge of the 28 mansions, he said Mansiones spheræ 8^æ sunt 28," etc. 54^b.
Forman copied from 1300 to 1400, and noted that he added the following years, to 1620. Compare No. 1522, f. 114, and the following article.
7. "Tabula motionis 8^æ spheræ quæ movet ab occidente in orientem per septentrionem vz. 8^o gradus et 37 minutes and 26 secondes in 640 annos. after Thebite and others and then retorneth backe again from the south to the north to his first pointe in 640 years more." 55—60.
Subscribed thus, "Finis per FORMAN 1610. And this tabell is true." See also art. 19. Between this and the next article were found several sheets written by Ashmole's hand, which are now bound in the volume No. 1786.
8. "De 4^{or} Elementis per FORMAN." 72—5.
This article is in English, and contains two tables; the first ascribing seven qualities to each of the elements, received from the seven planets; and a discourse on the virtues and the spirits of the elements.
9. An astrological and magical discourse "Of the fixed Stars," with tables of their position, etc. 77—87.
10. Table of "The [zodiacal] stars as calculated to the yeare 1607, by FORMAN, from Ptolomies tyme, and his calculation, which is 1467 yeare agoe." 88—90^b.
11. "De horis planetarijs, qui observandæ sunt in omni opere magico, et quomodo capiuntur." 91—2^b.
12. "De temporibus. Non omni tempore operandum est in hac arte." 94—5.
13. "Of the settinge or redusinge a figure to the 8th heaven, ad faciendum annulum etc." 96—6^b.
14. "De motione 8ⁱ cæli" e Picatricis lib. 2. cap. 4, et aliis. 97.
15. "De stellis fixis," et alia de 8^o cælo. 101—4^b.
16. "Of the 9 heaven." 105, 109^b.
17. "Demon[em] invenire genituræ, secundum Marsilium Ficium de vita cælitus fo. 189" et alios. 106—8.
18. "The places of the fixed stares," etc. 109, 110.
Compare art. 10.

19. "Tabulæ motionis 8^æ spheræ moven[tis] ab occidente in orientem octo gradus in 640 annos secundum ordinem Picatricis, et in totidem annis recedit iterum ad primum stationem vel locum suum." Ab anno 181 ad 450, et ab anno 5 ad 640. f. 111—3, 114.

20. A table showing what day of the month, and what proportion of a year, as divided into 30 degrees, belongs to any day of a common year.
Neatly drawn on a large folded sheet; not by Forman.

21. "This tabell is taken out of Cornelius Agrip. fo. 127, [showing the antient characters] of the 12 signs and 7 planets etc." 116.

Compare the 2 last pages of Agrippa de Occulta Philosophia (Antv. 1531, 4^o), at the end of No. 524.

22. Two cabalistic or magical circles. 117.

23. "A table by which you may know how long the effects of any eclipse (either solar or lunar) shall continue operating." 118.

Neatly written on the first page of a sheet, by the same hand as art. 20.

III. An astrological treatise "Off theft." 120—9^b.

This MS. seems to have been written before or about Forman's time: ff. 1—10.

IV. Prayers and religious ceremonies before invoking the presence of the Angel Raphael, and after his appearance and departure; by the rev. RICHARD NAPIER. f. 130—2.

This article consists of 5 large quarto leaves of parchment, of which only 4 $\frac{1}{4}$ pages are written on. It seems to have been folded quarterly, and carried in the pocket.

V. Fragments of an antient medical treatise, chiefly relating to diseases of the eyes and throat; beg. and styr y^t w^t a green aschelyn styke and y^t wylly torne to blaek powder and y^t ys good for yis grevaunce. 135—142.

They are ff. 170—1, 97, 91, 96, 182—3, of a large folio MS. written in a small running-hand in columns, on paper of the XVth century.

VI. "Of findinge Hyleg and Alcocoden in a nativity: per FORMAN:" and "Of the grade ascende." 143—5.

VII. 1. Letter from SAMUELL TUCKER to Mr. Booker, about the nativity (2 May, 1652) of a girl afflicted with an ague. (Lyme in Dorset. 19 Feb. 1654—5.) Also the draught of BOOKER'S answer. (8 Mar.) 150—1.

2. Another from the same, about the nativity and accidents of his friend R. C. (born at Lyme 1 July, 1637), with figure and calculation thereof. (Lyme, 15 Sept. 1655.) Also BOOKER'S figure thereon. 149—8.

3. "Abstract [of the predictions] of the almanack of Peeter de Larriné[y] the younger Troyan of his predictions." 152—3.

This is another transcript of the article contained in No. 186, f. 180, and is corrected throughout, as also the title copied above. The year for which these monthly predictions were composed, is indorsed "1623," on the following leaf (154), which belongs to this article.

4. Fragment of a tract on the nature of the Signs, by Forman, including Leo, Virgo, Libra. 156—8.

VIII. 1. A discourse "Of the Spleen or Milte called splen or lien;" or, "The anotomy of the splene or milte," by Dr. FORMAN. 160—5^c.

2. Significations of the planets in various signs; also the prognostications of scarceness, war, and earthquakes; and the meaning of prodigies in the air: by FORMAN. 166—171^c, 176.
3. The virtues of certain herbs and drugs, arranged alphabetically, A—D. 172—4^b.
4. "To drawe out the proportion of any man," in painting. 179.
5. "Of Adam and Eve." 187—7^b.

This contains a fabulous account of their many twin-children, four of whom were said to be giants: partly from the Fasciculus temporum.

6. "The Bocke of Gigantes* and huge and monstrous formes, gathered by SIMON FORMAN, Ann. 1610." 192—9.

* Descended from Noah. This is a singular collection of fabulous genealogies, and was one of the last of Forman's writings.

No. 290.

This volume contains a printed tract ("De Medicis et Infirmis collectanea, in ordinem centiloquij congesta, authore Hieronymo Manfredo." Nuremb. 1530, 120) bound between two thick lots of blank leaves; on the first 12 of which are written—

LILLY's figures on the lunations and eclipses of the year 1642, including a figure on "Portsmouth surrendred 4 Septem." and one on "The King lost at Winchester" 11 Dec. (f. 8, 11.)

No. 304.

This volume having been inscribed by Lhuyd as "Ex dono—Vaughan, Coll. Æn. Nasi schol." seems to have been put in this place to fill the chasm caused by the loss (many years ago) of the printed books numbered 304 and 305. It was in the possession of Thomas West in 1602: see f. 1 and 67^b.

A small quarto volume, containing 70 leaves of vellum, written in the XIIIth century, in a fair text hand, and embellished with many drawings (not inelegant) and with capitals and inscriptions in various colors.

On the first page are 3½ lines (written by the first hand) now almost obliterated; the last words of which are Quia que magis apparent retia vitat avis.

1. Tabula docens uter e duobus vincet, sub novem combinationibus: inc. "Prime combinacionis distinctio. Unum et unum. Minor corpore vincet." 1^b.

This table prognosticates according to the number of letters in names. Compare No. 399, art. 16, and No. 396, f. 203.

2. Proœmium sic inc. Materia hujus libelli est: effectus et efficacia lune et aliorum planetarum. Necnon et constellationum quam habent in rebus inferioribus. 2.

There is a copy of this prologue among sundry extracts written about the year 1300, on f. 104^{ed} of the Bodleian MS. 2177. Albumasar is quoted here; and at the end are these words: "Titulus vero talis est"—

"Experimentarius BERNARDINI SILVESTRIS: non quia inventor fuit, sed fidelis ab Arabico in Latinum interpres." 2.

On the upper half of the next page is a drawing which represents two persons seated: "Euclides," on the dexter side, uplifts a sphere with his right hand, and with his left holds a telescope, through which he is observing the stars; toward whom "Hermannus*," on the other side, holds forth a circular instrument hanging from his fingers, which is superscribed "Astrolabium." The lower half of the page contains a farther preface, intitled at the foot—

"Prima hujus operis rudimenta," inc. Primo fiat linea casualiter numero punctorum non computato in punctacione: in fine "Explicit basis operis. s. Regula." 2^b.

Examples of these points made with rubric, and gilt over, are on the lower part of the foregoing page, in several groups intitled "Constellaciones."

"Tabula Prima. I. De Vitu*. Quid erit dic. Quere a sedente super. Orientalem faciem. Turris Saturni." 3.

* This column is superscribed "Themata questionum."

"Secunda Tabula. Lunacio. Oriens turris Saturni. Qui supersedes responde. Quere. In viii^{ua}. Luna." 3^b.

"Tercia Tabula. Etas Lune. Prima luna. Redi. Responde. Vade et Reverte. Cum fuero. xxv^{ta}." 4.

"Tabula Quarta. xxx^{ma}. Redij. Responde. Perge ad Judicem. Fatorum. Amazane. j^o." 4^b.

These four tables are the directories to the single line in the following pages in which the sors required is given; each of them consists of 28 lines, and the last column of the fourth table gives the names of the 28 Judges of the fates, whose oracular responses are contained in so many pages, every page containing also the same number of lines, and superscribed respectively with the Judges' names. The first leaf of this curious metrical work is cut out; the third page begins thus; "Albaton: 111^{us}. Venit qui compedes divina potencia solvit. The last (superscribed "Algargalar: xxviii^{us},") ends thus, "Opta que Dei sunt favebit Dominus ipse." Explicit libellus de Constellationibus." 5—16^b.

2. Ejusdem libri Arabici, alia versio metrica, versibus leoninis; sic incipiens, "Almazane Judex primus. Hoc ornamentum decus est et fama ferentum." 17—30^b.

The last line is, "Vite solamen cupis. hoc tibi det Deus. Amen. Explicit hoc opusculum." Another copy, wanting the two first pages, is in No. 342, art. 2, and a third, fairer but still more defective, is in No. 399, f. 54—8^a; to each of which are prefixed the directory tables that stand before the other version in this MS. and serve equally for that article and for this. See also Digby's MS. 46, containing "Liber Fortunæ per Bernardum Sylvestrem." In the Royal MS. 12 C.XII. is contained not only this second article (f. 108—123^b), but a French version of artt. 5 and 8 (f. 94—105^b), written in the time of Edward II.

3. "Documentum subsequentis consideracionis que

* This is Hermannus Contractus, a celebrated mathematician of the eleventh century, who wrote a discourse "De compositione sive mensura Astrolabii, et de ejus utilitate," and was vulgarly considered its inventor. Vide Fabricii Bibl. med. et inf. Lat., et Muratorii Antiq. Ital. III. 932—6.

Socratica dicitur. In prenoticiis Socratis basilici que in subsequenti folio scribuntur: hoc est rudimentum." 31.

On the next page is a picture of "Socrates" and "Plato," the former writing at a small desk, and the latter standing behind him. At the foot of that page, and of the next one opposite, is the following explanation of the use of this part of the MS. written by the same hand as the numerals with which the lines on some pages are numbered. "Exm. of thes here be to tables. oon above. and the other be nethe. An erit bonum ire extra domum vel non, as it apperith in the begynnyng a bove. and þer is A in þt quaterne, þen loke for þt question in þe seconnd table. and þer is B in þt quaterne, þen turne þe lef and on þe hyn parte is AE. And if your number þt ye toke in þe cerkel be 4. þen agaynst is descendyng is. ficus fructus. then serche in Spera fructuum. for ficus. and þer he seith. Ite ad Regem Hispanie. [f. 32] And when ye come there. telle 4 verses or Judgements. And the 4th. shalle telle your Judgement. And after this way warke the residue. And ever first take your noumber in the Cerkelle sodenly thynkyng on the question." It would seem hence that a leaf or schedule containing the inceptive circle has been lost.

"Tabula consideracionis prenoticiorum secundum Basileum SOCRATEM." 32.

This title is written below a page divided into 32 compartments, in which are written 16 questions, distributed differently in the upper and lower divisions.

Tabula inscripta "Computentur capita epigrammatum." 32^b—3.

Sphæræ tredecim depictæ, scilicet—

- "Spera specierum." 32^b.
- florum. 53.
- fructuum. 33^b et alia 34.
- bestiarum. 34^b.
- volatiliū. 35, 35^b et 36.
- civitatū. 36^b, 37, 37^b, 38 et 38^b.

Responsa xvi Regum; quibus rubrica "Primum locum teneant rubricæ in computacionibus. Rex Tureorum. Quod vis erit et bonum tibi eveniet." 39—40^b.

5. "Manifestacio operis subsequentis. In prenoticiis Pitagorice consideracionis: primo jaciuntur puncta casualiter." 40^c.

(Index thematum sive quæstionum. 41.

Written by the less antient hand, on a slip of parchment half as wide as the book.)

On the next page is a picture of "PITAGORAS," in a square as large as a page of the text, not within several circles as it seems from the foregoing preface that it should have been; and perhaps there is the same error at f. 31^b. Above it is written by the later hand, "There is ij bokes of this warke every of them 36 Jugges;" and below, "Take your question first. exm. si erit fortunatus in pueris. þen sodenly take your number as if be. x. then tell descendyng frome þe question x. and þt endeth upon question 14. and then loke amonges þe Judges at þe 14 chapter. and there telle downward 10 verses. and þer is your Judgement. et sic de alijs."

Tabula xxxvi quæstionum, quarum "1. Si puer vivet. Vade ad Columbam." 41^b—2.

Responsa xxxvi Avium. "Columba. Judex I^{us}. Iste puer vivet satis et prosperabitur in diebus suis." 43^b—52.

Each of these judges gives twelve answers in single lines of prose: there are two on every page. At the end of each rubric is a picture of the bird, with its number in curious Arabic figures. The fourth half page has been wholly erased and rewritten by the other hand, every line of it being a hexameter, and different from the leonines at f. 53^b in art. 7.

6. "Duodecim filii Jacob Judices veritatis et indices.*—De cogitacione. Responde. Quere in libro prophetie. J^{ude}." 52^b—5^b.

* This rubric is written down the side of a picture containing the heads of the twelve Jewish patriarchs, each inscribed with his own name. The lower half of the page is occupied by the table, under which is written by the later hand, "In this warke reken downewarde til ye come to þe ende of your number and there procede. Responde. quere in libro prophetie. and there telle so many verses as your number is. et ipse ostendet Solucionem. The sercle of 12 noumbres servith for this boke also." The first rubric and line are—

"Judas Judex Regalis confitens veritatem. Primus Judex. Velle Dei nosse casu non est tibi posse." 53.

Each gives twelve answers, all in leonine verse. At the beginning is written by the first hand "this warke conteyneth but 3 leves. 12 Judges:" and at the end "Finis hujus operis."

7. Prognosticorum Pythagoreorum versio metrica, sic ine. "Gosal. Judex primus. Qui presagus vel primicerius interpretatur. Sub fulis vita fiet diuturna beata." 56—63^b.

This version differs from art. 5, in being composed in leonine verses, and having all the names of the 36 Judges (or birds) in Arabic, most of which are in Latin in the other version; nor are there any drawings. In the margin at the beginning is this note by the less antient hand: "this boke is the boke of Pitagoras as is before at þe 36. Questions and it is alle oone warke." Also in the margin at f. 59, is written "hic deficit versus de debito," against a vacant line in the text. The last verse is, Eger eris sanus scias quamvis veteranus.

8. Prognostica, quorum judices sunt septem Planetæ, Serpentarius, et duodecim Signa zodiaci: sic ine. "Sol Judex I^{us}. Mittam te ad amicum meum. et dicet tibi verum. Certe tibi dico. prope est ut gaudeas. et mutes fortunam." 64—71^b.

At least 3 leaves are wanting after the last page of this volume, which contains only the sixth sign, "Virgo XIII." The last line is, Sanabitur infirmus. da gratias Deo. There does not seem to be any directory table.

The first leaf of this MS. is much worn and torn: but the cause of the mutilations in other leaves has been that the parchment was mended with paste before it was written on, which when loosened by damp has lost hold of the attached pieces. Thus nearly all f. 7 is lost; ff. 10, 18, 24, 56, 67, have suffered by the loss of their patches, and 45 and 48 by having pieces wantonly cut out.

No. 312.

In a quarto volume, interleaved, and having much paper at the end, are written—

ASHMOLE'S Notes on "Christian Astrology modestly treated of in three books," by William Lilly, 1647; most of which are in cypher or shorthand.

Also a Poem—

"To my worthy friend the Author, on this judicious and deserving worke," subscribed "E. ASHMOLE. Octob' 1. 1647."

Another copy by his own hand is in No. 36—37, art. 252. No. 377 is an Index to this volume, by Ashmole.

No. 313.

In an interleaved quarto volume containing several tracts published by Lilly in 1644 and 1645, are written—

ASHMOLE'S Astrological and Historical Notes on "England's Prophetical Merline, foretelling to all nations of Europe untill 1663, the actions depending upon the influence of the conjunction of Saturn and Jupiter 1642—3."

Among which are—

A note disproving the charge of plagiarism against Lilly, by Gadbury in his Collection of nativities, proving by a certificate of Gresham's burial* that he could not have been the author of the MS. treatise written after 1618, from which it was alledged that Lilly had drawn his materials. f. 1.

* See the original in No. 242, art. 53. The discourse in question, seems to have been the "Recital of the celestial apparitions" really written by Sir Christopher Heydon. See No. 192, iii. No. 242, art. 9, and No. 350, vi.

Figura super nativitate R. Henr. VIII. cum apotelesmatibus. f. 16.

"This scheme was given me a^o 1645, by Mr. Alestrey of Christ-church in Oxford (after Dr: in divinity and Provost of Eaton Colledge.) He copied it from a Tablet then hanging in the chamber of Mr. John Gregory, then of that Colledge, a man eminently learned." Another copy is in No. 243, art. 30.

Note that "By a MS. in the hands of Arthur Earle of Anglesey (1672) it appears that Q: Mary was borne the 18 of Febr: being Munday about 4 a clock in the morning. a^o 7. H. 8." Also a note of the nativ. of King Philip. (1527) f. 20.

Figures on the nativities of Robert Dudley Earl of Leicester (7 Sept. 1534, died 1589) and Q. Eliz. (7 Sept. 1533.) f. 20^b.

Figure on the nativ. of James I. (19 June, 1566) with note of two schemes thereof set by Dr. Napier in his diary. f. 21^b.

Sir Chr. Heydon's figure on the eclipse of the sun in 1605, thought to have signified the powder-plot. f. 25.

"Dc'or CORBETT to Mr. Alesbury upon the comet y^t appeared A^o. Dⁿⁱ 1618 mense Novembris. Jacobi 16^{vo}. My brother and much more, hadst thou byne mine." (60 l.) 33.

The discrepancies between this copy and that in the edition of Bp. Corbet's Poems printed in 1647, (p. 31—3) are enough to show that it was taken from a MS.

Note that the figure on the nativity of a Gentleman (10 July, 1585) at p. 120, is on that "of W^m. Legg, yeoman of the standing wardrobe in Whitehall, formerly a silkman in Lumber street."

The notes on the other tracts in this volume, are very scanty.

No. 321.

On 9 leaves at the beginning, and 9 at the end, of a quarto volume containing printed books, (the first of which is intitled "Speculum Ægrotorum, the sick mens glasse," by John Fage, 1606.) are neatly written—

1. "A most excellent receipte for the curinge of rotten or bained Sheepe."

This is on the lining of the cover.

2. A collection of Receipts for the curing of many diseases. f. 1—12.

3. A continuation of the same, written by WILLIAM LILLY. f. 12—18.

No. 328.

An octavo volume containing 131 leaves of vellum, 258 pages of which are well written in a set Saxon hand (except the Latin in pages 206—247, which are in a Roman hand) of the XIth century.

It is the oldest book in this Library, and is thus described by Wanley, in his "Antiquæ literaturæ septentrionalis liber alter," (annexed to Hickes-es The-saurus, Oxon. 1705 fol.) p. 103:—

"In bibliotheca Ashmoleana habetur codex membr. num. 328 notatus, cum propter vetustatem tum elegantiam literarum spectabilis. In eo continentur quam plurima de Computo Ecclesiastico tam Latine quam Saxonice scripta."

He then transcribes the first sentence, and enumerates the titles of thirteen parts or articles: but as the work is one, and the rubrics are far too numerous to be exhibited here, it may be enough to give a correct general title, and some particulars, referring for others to printed books; first noting that on the parchment fly leaf Ashmole has written "Bridfrithus Ramesiensis. Claruit a^o. 980. sub Ethelredo Anglorum Rege."

* BYRHFFERTII Monachi Ramesiensis, de universis antiquis tempus computandi methodis opus miscellaneum; seu ex ejus Commentariis in ven. Bedæ tractatus chronologicos, compilatio curiosa: partim Latine, partim Anglo-Saxonice.

[Pag. 1, lin. 1—4] "IN XPI NOMINE HOC OPVS INCIPIAM. Incipit computus latinorum ac grecorum. hebreorumque et egiptiorum. nec non et anglopum." etc. [lin. 12—14] "Her onginð zepim eþæft æfter leðen þarum. 7 æfter grecum. 7 iudeiscum. 7 egiptiscum. 7 englisum þeodum. 7 ma oðra."

The occasion of the work is thus narrated in the introduction. "Hesternæ die dum serenus iubar aurei solem [leg. solis] tenebras depullisset cordis interioris antri, theologia exorta est, idem sermo de Deo, dehinc de inceptione compositi, et post hec de diebus solaris anni. Diximus quod solaris constat duodecim mensibus, [p. 15] et quinquaginta duabus ebdomadibus et sex horis quas antiqui appellare quadrantes. Deinde descripsimus nomina duodenorum signorum, et duodecim mensium, sicque alacriter plurima diximus sicuti adhuc plura placet referre." A little before this passage, it is said, þæt þing þe zemetton on þamefize: (p. 14.) and several places indicate that it was compiled for the use of monks. (See p. 243.) The "prologus" or "prohemium" ends at p. 22.

Between pp. 54—5 is inserted a paper containing this note by Sir W. Dugdale:—"The Author of this booke is called Brihtferth, as appears in some places thereof. Bale (fo: 128) and Pitsæus (pa: 177) doe mention him by ye name of Bridfertus Ramesiensis, and y^t he flourished about the yeare 980." His name occurs in this grammatical example at p. 96, "þyðlee ic þæt eþeðe. Býrhtferður þre zepuric bene. beneque docet ille þæt dycipulur." Again at p. 152, "ORATIO PATRIS býrhtferði. Sp's alme veni" (etc. see Wanley, p. 104.) And lastly thus at p. 168, "býrhtferð mæfpe þreofte zent on þā tþelþtan zede, æfter þā bycorpe eadnoðe."

The most remarkable rubric is this at p. 134, in capital letters:—"Valetate patres dignissimi et filii ecclesie karissimi. Spiritus alme veni [sine] quo non diceris umquam Munera da lingue. II. Incipit Tertia Pars." The book ends thus without a rubric:—

þær þu hæfþæt miltre ȝ bllyre abutan ende. (p. 258.)

This is not the MS. mentioned with much approbation by Leland (Collectanea, IV. 23), though Hearne (Langtoft, II. 661) thought that it was. Other writings of Byrhtferth are extant among the works of the venerable Beda, who is often mentioned in this work: see pp. 36, 37, 39, 188, 234.

Short extracts from this MS. were printed by Somner in his Saxon Dictionary (v. kyppiole et tuma) in 1659; the former of which was copied by Ashmole himself in his Institution of the order of the Garter (1672, p. 507), and by Hearne in his Glossary to Langtoft's chronicle, p. 670; who has also printed an extract from this MS. at p. 661, and says that "it contains many things that are really very curious, such as will give great light in many respects to such as deal in the Saxon times." To the latter of his quotations, Somner has prefixed some general remarks on this work. See also Tanneri Bibl. Brit. p. 125.

The upper part of the fourth and nearly all of the seventh leaf, are torn off. On 2 of the 4 blank pages at the end of the volume, were written, in the XIIIth or XIIIth century, in the charter-hand—

Versus 39, "De aureo numero—de diebus egyptiis—de bissexto—de regularibus—de primis mensium diebus—de clavibus:" quorum primus, Aurcus hac arte numerus formatur aperte. p. 260—1.

No. 330.

A small 8°. volume, containing 165 leaves.

Figures set on horary Questions, medical and other, from 15 May, 1614, to 13 June, 1619, in London.

Each page contains one figure, neatly drawn and inscribed. The author is not known. There is no index of the names.

No. 331.

A book of the 12°. size, containing 188 leaves: on every page is the outline of an astrological figure, "Printed for Sam. Satterthwaite at the Sun on Garlick-hill." These words are printed at the foot of the first page, at the top of which is written part of the following title:—

"Figures set for Dr. Wharton upon severall occasions," from 27 Apr. 1650 to 5 Sept. 1654, by ELIAS ASHMOLE. f. 12^b—35.

Most of these relate to persons whom the querent (see No. 243, art. 125) had thoughts of marrying: he seems to have at length chosen one Mrs. Andrews (25 June, 1653); see f. 34. Some names of patients occur.

Other figures on horary Questions, set by the same, from 11 Dec. 1671 to 3 Nov. 1673. f. 37—46.

These are—"de puteis vel fodinis Coventry," 37; "Da Chr. Crossley an uxore," 37^b; "pro uxore: Eliz. On the two fly leaves at the beginning, beside some short-hand notes and a table, are these births noted:—Cos: Greene 24 Dec. 1625. towards evening 6h, p: m: and "Elias Ashmole 15 May, 1654, son to my cos: Jo: Ashmole." f. 1.

No. 333.

An octavo volume consisting of thirteen MSS. of different sizes bound together, which formerly belonged to Booker.

The first is a fragment of a most exquisite little MS. in 12^o. of the XVth century, with many rubrics, and beautifully gilded and painted capitals, on vellum.

I. Calendarium ecclesiasticum, cum versiculis. f. 4—9^b.

Beside other insertions by different antient hands, are these notes:—18 kl. Mai. "Bellum de Barnet. Anno d'ni M^o. cccc. lxxvj^o." (5^b.) 4 non. Mai. "Bellum de Tewkesbire, Anno d'ni. M^o. cccc. lxxj^o." (6.)

Breviarii Sarisburiensis pars. f. 1—3, 10, 11.

The first page of this MS. is fortunately preserved: it is surrounded by a fine border, and begins thus:—Dominica prima adventus domini ad vespertas secundum usum Sarum pulsatis campanis more solito accensus que luminariibus executor officii dicta oratione dominica. s. Pater noster et ave maria officium vespertarum exequitur. The leaves are not set in proper order.

II. "BOWKER 1633. A new Almanack and prognostication for the year of our Lord God 1633." etc. 12—19^b.

This is the original MS. but reaching only to May.

III. Astrological figures on the lunations etc. in the year 1634, calculated and judged of, by BOOKER. 20—46.

One is on each page.

IV. "Prognosticon astrologicum, anni M.DC. XXXV. futurum habitum breviter enarrans." etc. "Authore J: BOOKERO p: p: m. mathematico." etc. 47—54^b.

This is imperfect, and does not seem to have been the printer's copy.

V. "A prognostication. BOOKER 1640. Of the fower parts or quarters of the year." 55—62.

This is part of the original MS. of his almanack for 1640, on the last page whereof is this note, "Augusti 80. 1639. Imprimatur Sa: Baker."

VI. BOOKER's prognostication; being part of his almanack for 1644. f. 63—7^b.

It seems to be only the draught. The next art. is a small 120.

VII. BOOKER's profections, and other tables and calculations, for March—June, 1647. f. 70—82.

VIII. Figures set on lunations and eclipses in 1648, by BOOKER. 83—106^b.

In stamped outlines, two on each page. At f. 97^b is this note:—"I subscribed Wharton's almanack thus for 1648, May 17, 1647, h. 9. a. m. When George Wharton can prove Will: Laud late archbishop of Canterbury to be a martyr, then I suppose ye Parliament will permit this almanack to be printed at Oxford. In ye interim it may be so suppressed that neyther old nor young may vend it at London. Caveat emptor. J: Booker."

IX. "JOHN. BOOKER incept. 7^o Februarij 1648. Typus ♀ ♂ et ☐ luminarium totius anni 1650, ad meridianum Londini." 107—129.

On each page of ff. 108—120 are 2 figures. At 123 is a table of the law-terms in 1650. On the first and last pages is a figure of a hand with the lines described.

X. "The profections good and badd happening in the year 1654, being the 53 current yeare of the native's age:" by BOOKER. 131—4^b.

F. 130, 135—6 are blank.

XI. "Omnes lunationes totius anni 1660, ad meridianum Londini.—Authore Jo: BOOKERO. 'Οδε πονος εφημερος ♀ 10 August. 1659." etc. 136—149.

Eteosticha in laudem Caroli II. et alii versus. 154^b, 155^b—6.Memoranda. 157^b.

XII. "The conclusion of the second booke of a discourse concerning a new Planet, tending to prove that tis probable our earth is one of the planets.

"The precedent or first book is called the discoverye of a new world, or a discourse tending to prove, that tis probable there may be another habitable world in the Moone, with a discourse concerning the possibility of a passage thither. London. Printed by John Norton for John Maynard." etc. 1640. f. 160—4^b.

Copied from a printed book? Ff. 158—9 and 165 are blank.

XIII. "Anni a nato Christo 1649 synopsis compendiaria. Or a new almanack for—1649" etc. "By JER. SHAKERLEY, Philomath." etc. 166—191^b.

After the folded leaf of figures on the quarterly full-moons and the eclipses, is, "A short discourse of the systeme of the world." f. 183—190^b. This MS. is neatly written: of its author see No. 242, art. 20.

No. 334.

This and the next are small but thick octavo volmes, of the same description as No. 329, except that they are somewhat larger. This contains 183 leaves.

No. 336.

A volume in 12°, containing two MSS. neatly written.

I. Figures on horary Questions, from 31 March, to 15 Oct. 1611. f. 1—80.

On each page are 2 figures: those on the last page (80^b) are dated 24 May and 17 July, 16... The names of the querents and the subjects are always given; but the writer's name does not appear, and the hand is different from that of the following MS.

II. Figures on horary Questions, from 6 May, 1619, to 5 June, 1620. f. 90—157^b.

This MS. exactly corresponds in form and appearance with No. 330, and was written by the same hand.

No. 337.

A volume containing five MSS. in 12° or small 8° bound together. The first part is neatly written on paper, in the text hand of the XVth century; the first and last page being blank.

I. An astrological treatise of Elections of Times, in old English. 1^b—19.

Thus beginning:—"For as moche as every sciens or craft is an art for his utilite Therefore utilite in astronomy stoundith not only in knowyng of the cours and mevyng of hevyn But pryncipally in pronosticacions and eleccions of tymes. Therfor in this tretis I wol determyn of eleccions of tymes principally the whiche be necessary to know in the begynnyng of all workyng." It ends with these barbarous verses:—

"Pisces habens lunam noli curare potagram.
Carno viam frustra sit pocio sumpta salubris.
Embrie conceptus epileuticus exit ab alvo. et cetra."

This tract has neither title nor colophon, and the rubrics of the paragraphs are in Latin.

II. 1. Figures set on horary questions, from 4 Dec. 1564, to 3 Dec. 1565. f. 20—50^b.

2. Excerpta ex Aristotele, de anima, simul et de eadem veterum philosophorum sententiæ, et conspectus analyticus facultatum animæ. 51—5^b.

3. Sententia "Mea" de anima, 14 articulis constans. 56^b—7.

4. Eight figures on horary questions, from 1 Dec. 1565, to 21 July, 1566. f. 57^b, 57, 56, 55^b, 55, 52.

This MS. seems to be wholly in the handwriting of Dr. JOHN DEE, except the following article.

5. Phrases a quodam puero selectæ, quarum prima Contende cum Germanis. 53—4.

III. 1. A Manual of Astrology, containing remarks on the signs, planets, and aspects. 58—65^b.

The first leaf of this MS. (written about 1550) is lost. On the margin of f. 58 and 62^b are entries of the same kind as the following article.

2. Dr. DEE's accounts of household-expenses, and other memoranda, from 22 Jan. 1589, to 11 Oct. 1591. f. 65^b—71^b.

3. Astrologica quedam de natura signorum, de mansionibus, et "de emptioibus et venditionibus." 72—4^b.

This is written by the same unknown hand as art. 1.

IV. Astrological collections and short tracts on the discovery of theft and other matters, by means of figures on horary questions; partly in Latin, and partly in English. 75—100.

This MS. seems to have been written about the year 1600: it begins thus—An accessio sit tibi utilis. (Compare No. 364.) Distinct articles seem to begin at ff. 84^b, 85^b, 87, 96.

V. 1. The "7 deadly sinnes," and "their contrary virtues," etc. 103.

2. "Notes taken out of the booke of Christian Prayers." 103—4^b.

3. "Merlyn's prophesies. Betwix xxx & x the right fayth shall decay;" and other prophesies. 107^b—110.

This article is inserted by the hand of Sir Richard Napier. The rest of the MS. is neatly written in a small hand, seemingly about 1600.

4. "A prophecie taken out of these authors followinge. S. Thomas Becket, Tho. of Ashedoune, S. Beade, Marlin, S. John of Bridlington, M. Hoggen of Norfolke, William Ambrose, William Silvester, Tod, William Thought abbot of Ireland, Patriarke Armonie, Salomon, Mahomet of the Jewes, Mahomet of the painmes." 112—135.

This tract begins thus, Marlin saith the time shall come; and ends—the whyte gray hound. Its leaves are numbered 1—23, though it is not written on separate paper.

* 5. An Alphabet of heraldical Cognizances, showing by whom they were used: beg. Antelope, Henry 8. f. 136—9.

6. "Notes taken out of the booke cauled the Contempt of the world and the vanities therof." 140—2.

This title is written on f. 130^b. The MS. was written by the same hand as No. 343, iii; probably by one of the Napiers.

No. 338.

This volume is of the same description as No. 329: it contains 176 leaves, and is written from both ends unto ff. 120, 119.

25. Judgements on the nativity of a youth named George Miles (29 Aug. 1600). 114—5.
26. Excerptum e Magino, p. 251, "pro revolutione." 117.
- XXVII. Prognostica e sonitibus et accidentibus petita, secundum signum in quo luna sit: sic inc. "1662. Luna in Ariete. I. Sonitus parictum." 119—142^b.
This curious tract seems to have been transcribed by Booker's hand.
- XXVIII. Figures, calculations, and judgements on the nativity of a lady, born 2 Feb. 1596. f. 145^b—154.
Composed about 1638. The figure of the nativity is in a large circle on a folding leaf, f. 147. Sixteen leaves belong to this MS. (143—158.)
- XXIX. Sir RICHARD NAPIER's account of the births, etc. of his mother and several members of his family: viz.—
The birth of Mary dau. of John Robinson and Christian Anderson (2 Feb. 15 . . .), her marriage to Sir Rob. Naper Kt and Bart. (27 Jan. 1594), and the birth (tuesday after easter, 1596) and christening of her dau. Anne. 162^b.
Dates of the christening of the same Anne, of Richard, Christian, and Magd. Naper (1596—1605). 163^b.
Dates of the births and christening of Sir Rob. Naper, Richard N. (the writer), and Alexander N. (10 Aug. 1602, 5 Apr. 1607, and 2 Apr. 1609.) 164.
Notes of the births of Tho. Ersfield (11 Aug. at Luton), Paul Naper (28 Feb. 1624, at Luton, died Jan. 1629), Rob. N. (27 July, 1625, at Woodbridge in Dorset.), and Sir Tho. Ersfield (30 Apr. 1599). 164.
Longitude and latitude of Linford, London, and Oxford; and some astrological notes. 164^b.
30. N. FISKE's figures on the nativity of Wm. Gerold (17 Nov. 1622) and the revolution thereof in 1648; with remarks. 165—8.
Booker has written underneath the figure, "Vide nat' filij ejus in libro 2 figurarum meo." F. 167^b is a paper on which Booker has noted that Gerold was married 23 . . . 1648, and imprisoned in that and the following year.
31. Accidents of a Captain in the army, who was matriculated at Oxford 2 Mar. 1638,* and married 17 Apr. 1644. f. 170.
* By comparing the Register, this date appears to be wrong.
32. Notulæ quædam astrologiæ manu Dⁿⁱ R. Naperi. 171.
33. BOOKER's notes of the birth of Walter Ryley

- (19 Feb. 1607, at Newbold in Staff.) and Mr. Ralph Macroe. (8 Mar. 1622, in Thames-st.) 172.
34. Short letter from NICH. CULPEPER to Mr. Booker, in favor of a friend* to have reference to his ephemerides. 173.
* "Nat. h 20 July 1611, Tho: Loseby apud Melton Moubray com' Leicester." Note by Booker.
35. N. FISKE's figure on a question of theft, for Margery Redford, wife of Richard Retford of Hounslow; with a note to Booker, requesting his advice. (21 Aug. 1650.) 174^{ab}.
36. Annotationes temporis nativitatum Johannis Jesson, et sex sororum et unius fratris sui (10 Dec. 1609,—1624). 175.
Written on the back of an account of "Mathew Budden's charges," likewise in the native's handwriting; whose notes are subscribed by Booker thus, "Nat' Joh'is Jesson, M^{ri} Brise' manc' etc' of Lincolns Inne."
37. BOOKER's figures on horary questions from 6 to 11 Dec. 1666, for—
Mr. Robinson. 176.
Mr. Bullock, Peter Price, and Mrs. Mary George (born 10 Jan. 1635—6, at Althorne in Essex). 177.
Mr. Petty, Esther Porter, and Sara Stroud. 178.
Mrs. Dennis, Marg. Ray, Wm. Blayton of Penningfield, and Mr. Ludford. 179.
38. BOOKER's figure on a question for Ed. Farly (2 Jan. 1647). 180.
39. ——— scheme of the heavens when "The Earle of Essex went forth of London" and "The K: [was] at Nottingham." (9 Sept. 1642.) 182^b.
40. Table showing what day of a common year, a given day of any month is in number. 184.
Written within a printed frame: it seems to belong to the following article.
- XLI. N. FISKE's tables for profections and directions; with rules and examples showing their use. 185—192.
In the first example he says that "Marie Petts—was borne 1607 Feb. 6" (185^b), and in another "example, I was borne 22 of July." f. 189.

No. 340.

A small quarto volume, containing six MSS. of different sizes. The first consists of 12 leaves of parchment, and was neatly written in the year 1519.

- I. 1. An astronomical Calendar serving for 20 years, namely 1520—1539. f. 1—6^b.
2. Eclipses solis et lunæ, a 23 Oct. 1519 ad 7 . . . 1530. f. 7^{ab}.
3. "This tabul showith every yere by the yerys of oure Lord [1520—1600] what is [the] dominical letter, and what is þe pryime of the mone, and every lepe yere, and the indiccōns of Rome." 8.
4. A table showing by the "Prymes" and "d'nical letter" when the movable feasts happen, and the number of weeks and days between the principal festivals. 8^b.

5. A table to find the epacts by the golden number. 8^b.

This is added by a later hand; probably Forman's: compare f. 21^b—2.

6. "This tabul shewith what planet raignith every houre of the day and night begynnynge þe day at soune rysynge." 9.
7. "This tabulle shewith in what syne þe mone is in every day by her age from chonge to the next chonge." 9^b.
8. Tabulæ ascendentium, seu tabulæ domificandi. 10—12^b.
9. The rule for the use of the same tables, beginning thus:—For a declaracōn of thes tabullis be fore wryten wyche byn callyd the tabullis to domifie the 12 howses of the hole cumpas of hevyn," etc. 13^{ab}.
10. "This tabul shewith which degrees of every signe be masculyne and which femynyne." 14.
11. "This tabull shewith which planets be lordes of the terme of every signe and in what degrees." 14^b.
12. "This tabul shewith the qualitees or colou[r]es of every degre of the zodiake." 15.
13. "This tabul shewith whiche degrees be callyd puten:" also "Thes degres be called ekenyng of fortune." 15^b.
14. "This tabul shewithe which planet hathe moste dignyte in every signe." 16.
15. "This tabul folowynge shewithe the aspectes of all the signes betwene them self." 16^b.
16. "Here folowithe a rewle to know whiche be good planettis and whiche be evylle and which be indifferent or meane planettis." Also many other short rules and tables relating to the planets. 17—20^b.
17. "This tabul shewith how many degrees and mitis. or mitis and 2^{is} every planet movet[h] in houres." 21.
18. "Regula investigandi novilunij diem unoquoque mense. Numero epactarum." 21^b.
19. "De inventione pasce[h]atis in perpetuum." 22.

These two articles were added in 1579 by the same hand as art. 5. Over the title of art. 18, is written in small text-letters "Est iste liber Bartholomei Grene. prætiū 5^s," but not by the same hand. On f. 22^b, "Roger Danyelle fil' Rob'ti D. de longa Melford in com' Suff' yo. def' app' Jo. Gardener pisc' a festo na. Jo. a^o xix^o nono" (1529 or 1539?)—by whose hand are written on the following page—20. Quædam de distributione signorum, inscripta "Signa velud anguli celi." 23.

This note, "E. R. 1560 borne ye 30 of August being friday at 9 or 10 at night," and a note showing when the law-terms begin, were written by the same hand as artt. 18, 19. The 3 last pages are blank.

- II. A MS. consisting of 12 leaves of paper, neatly written in a very small hand, about the end of the XVth century. In the flourishing over the first page, is written with the same rubric as the initial letter, Ogyll. The last 5 pages are blank.

Tractatus incipiens ita—Nomina instrumentorum astrolabij, et desinens—"talīs est comparatio stature tue ad plu[ni]ciam. Explicit Practica Astrolabij." 29—38.

See No. 1522, art. 10.

- III. This MS. now contains 19 leaves, the first one being lost: it was written about the end of the XVth century, on paper.

1. A physiognomical treatise on the Planets, beginning imperfectly thus:—Here may be axid a questyone for whate cause is Saturne i counte for the fyrste planet. 41.
2. "Here begynneth to what arte and crafte thes planettes desposyth a man to be moste apte unto. Fyrste Saturne" etc. 42.
3. "Here ye schall knowe howe longe every planett abydeyth in every signe and in þe zodyac and ye schalle undarstonde" etc. 42^b.
4. "Her begynneth a trefyse of the xij Sygues whyche thay be and how they reynge in ordar in the zodiac and whate powre and strength thay have by hyr hevynly influence a monge erthely creaturs in thys erthe a mounge us." 43^b.

Subscribed "by me EDMUND WYLLYAMS." 45^b. After the first line of the following tract, the handwriting loses neatness and has a slovenly appearance: nor are there any more ingrossed words with flourished capitals.

5. "Here schalle ye knowe every parte of a man's body in the whych every signe hathe hys place yn" etc. 45^b—54.

The last words are—"Now ye have harde þe properteis qualiteis natures and þe deviacionis of þe xij signes wt þe vij planettis schortly compilid [by] þe which wt study and diligent labr a man may know many diffien[1]teis and marvaylls þe whiche in defaunte of labr and lernynge is nott appertly knowyn &."

6. "[N]ow for as meche as manys lyfe lyethe of tyme in juberte and perelle for þe defaugthe of kunynge of þis sciens y'fore y purpose to schew y^o shortly how ye schall know whate tymys be most perlous to geve any sike man any potacions laxis" etc. 54—9^b.

The last words are—"And yf a man take hede to this lytylle trefyce wysely than his [read he] is lykely by goddis grace to have lytylle nede to wastable fysicke &c."

- IV. A MS. in 8^o containing 22 leaves of parchment, (ff. 64—85.) written (as it seems from f. 78) in the year 1501; and, by the hand of THOMAS SCALON, as it appears by a comparison of No. 346 and No. 391.

1. "Canon tabule equacionis domorum. Ut intres duplici introitu." 64.
2. "Canon tabule continuacionis veri motus solis in horis minutis 2^{is} et tercijs. Pro vero loco solis inveniendo." 64^b.
3. "Tabula recte ascendentium." 65.
4. "Tabula 2^e domus et 12^e ad latem 48 g^a et 16 mi^{is}" 66^b.
5. "Tabula 3^e domus et 11^e ad longiem 32 g^a et 55 mi^{is}." 68.
6. "Tabula 1^e domus et 7^e ad latem 52 g^a et 19 mi^{is}." 69^b.
7. "Tabula conversionis horarum et suarum frac-

- tionum in gradus et suas fractiones, et est multum utilis." 71.
8. "Tabula reductionis longitudinum ad horas et m^a horarum." 71.
9. "Tabula ostendens tempus quo sol intret unumquodque signum in "anno bisextili 1401" et tribus sequentibus annis. 71^b.
10. "Tabula equationis temporis ingressus \diamond in signa verificata per \llcorner crescentem." 71^b.
11. "Tabula aspectuum \diamond et \llcorner inter se * Δ \square et g ." 71^b.
12. Alie duae tabulae, cum haec nota:—"Nota quod ab g g repertis in Ephemeride Johannis de Monte Regio minue semper 48 m^a." 72.
13. "Tabula multiplicationis digitorum." 72.
This is the common multiplication-table.
14. Tabula horarum et minorum g et g aliorumque aspectuum lune ad \odot et planetas." 72^b—3.
15. "Tabula continuationis veri motus solis in horis m^{is} 2^{is} et terciis 1402." 73^b—4.
16. "Motus capitis draconis in horis m^{is}. 2^{is}. 3^{is}. ae 4^{is}." 74.
17. "Tabula equationis dierum cum suis noctibus." 74^b—5.
"Hec tabula facta est Cantabrig' anno d'ni M^o ccc^{mo} xxx^o et supponit augem solis esse in fine primi gradus g p ."
18. Alia "Tabula equationis dierum cum noctibus suis." 75^b—6.
19. "Tabula longitudinum et latitudinum civitatum" xxxiii, quarum prima est Babilon. 76.
20. "Tabula minorum proportionabilium" solis et lunae. 76^b—7.
21. Tabula longitudinum et latitudinum praecipuarum stellarum in zodiaco. 77^b.
22. "Radices planetarum extractae de tabulis M^{ri} HOLBRUK ad meridiem Cantabrigie Anno d'ni 1460 completo." 78.
In the upper corner of the page is this note, "1501^o d'ni, 6844^o mundi;" and the following, written by the same hand at a later time,— "whenne þe yere of cryste was. 1492. thenne were þe yeres of þe worlde. 6691. and this ys after Cronica eronicarum." Another copy of this article, written by the same hand and superscribed with the same year 1501, is in No. 346, f. 20^b.
De Magistro Joh. Holbrook, qui ob. anno 1437, vide Tannerum p. 408—9.
23. Tabulae signorum seu domorum caelestium; eum sequente regula sic inc. Cognito gradu Solis in quocunque signo sit per instrumentum vel per almanak; et des. sic, "Et iste modus est satis preciosus pro judicijs questionum secundum S. J. STYKE de NORWICO." 78^b—81^b.
The following article seems to belong to this.
24. Alia tabula, cujus in caele—"Explicit tabula domificandi M^{ri} J^{no}is de NORWICO:" subjectis versiculis de domibus et exaltationibus planetarum. 82^{ab}.

These two articles are also found written by the same hand, on paper, in No. 346, f. 35—9, and No. 393, ii. art. 1. The author here named master John Styke of Norwich, seems to be the same person as JOHN STUKEY of STUCHEIUS a monk of Norwich, whose theological works are described by Bale, xii. 99

(see Tanner, p. 607:) but in the latter of the MSS. referred to, another author is named.

The next page and the last are vacant: the following article seems not to have been written by the same hand.

25. Tabula ostendens quo tempore fit "ortus solis" per totum annum. 83^b—4.
26. "Hec tabula ostendit altitudinem solis in fine ejuslibet hore equalis in principiis et mediis singulorum mensium totius anni ad regionem ejus latitudo est 51 g^a. 50 m^a." (seil. ad Oxoniæ.) 84^b—5.
- V. A small book consisting of 17 leaves of paper, whereof only 7 pages toward the end have been written on by an antient hand, about the year 1500.
1. "Probata fuit hec spera putagorie [leg. Pythagorica] per dominum Henricum ducum Lancastrie coram regem Francie pugnante[m]: et de d'ne Johanne Annisley quarum duarum hec sunt seuta."

The circle is drawn between this barbarous title and the—

2. Canon "Pro noticia pictagorie summi philosophi secundum speram presentem de vita et de morte" etc. cui nomen subscriptum est "Edmūd Cheyne." 107^b—8.
3. Tabula numerorum combinatorum, eum haec regula—"Si vis scire utrum eger evadet vel non, numera nomen egri et nomen stelle in quo die eger decubuit, et si nomen egri devincerit vivet si autem non sed numero stelle morietur. hoc exemplum de contencione Hectoris et Patroeli, de conjugatis Theodosius et Gaza, de fratribus Leo [et] Alexander, de pugna Turnus et Eneas." 108^b.
4. Species virtutis, analytico modo seu tabella expositae. 109.
5. Medicine "for þe maygreyme * R' a h. betayne." etc. 110.
* Explained by a later hand contra Hemierianiam.
6. Versus de cibis:—"Alimenta melaneoliam generantia." (3 v.) "Alimenta in modica quantitate multum nutriunt." (2 v.) "Nutrientia et impinguantia." (4 v.) 110^b.
7. De motu lunae quaedam, inc. Luna singularis diebus. 110^b.

The rest of this book was written by the same hand as the marginal notes in No. 346, (about the time of Q. Eliz.) and contains—

- Various astrological medical and magical Collectanea; among which are—
"Ad faciendum lumen sine igne tam pro die quam pro nocte." 95^b.
Conditiones quae in chirurgo requiruntur, "definitio chirurgiae," etc. 98.
"To gett the stones of a swallowe" from its brain; with remarks on their supposed virtues. 99—100, 102.
"A rare seerett wth a toade;" seemingly an extract from a letter written by "A. Andrewe." 100.
Tres sunt in acre Reges quibus imperium maris et terre datum est. Sub his sunt quatuor spiritus sive Episcopi etc. 103^b—4.

(Ff. 97^b, 98^b, 105—6, 109^b are blank.)

VI. SIR RICHARD NAPIER'S astrologico-medical practice, from 17 Sept. 1635 to 24 Feb. 1635—6. ff. 111—180.

No. 341.

A small quarto volume, much reduced in size and injured by the binder's knife, so that the numerous marginal notes are partly destroyed. It contains 176 leaves of vellum, and was written in Spain (see art. 4) little later than the middle of the XIIIth century, in a rapid small text-hand.

1. De universa arte chronologica et computistica liber, in tres partes divisus; quarum "prima continet ea quæ naturaliter sunt de scientia compoti, secunda ea quæ auctoritate et usu, tertia pars continet [multas] tabulas et rationes tabularum." Incip. Omnia tempus habent et suis spatiis transcunt universa. 1—60^b.

The contents of this curious and valuable work are shown in the second page of the preface. It seems to have been compiled in the years 1263, 1264, and 1265, from ff. 5; 9, 43, 44^b, 48—9; and 59. The errors of the vulgar computations are here shown (see f. 42—3), and the last chapter contains an account of preceding chronologers, from Hippolytus to Garland in the year 1038. (f. 58.) It ends thus—Hec igitur de temporibus et compoto naturali temporum et secundum usum ecclesiasticum dicta sunt in tantum ut simplices instructionem et sapientes pluris investigationis cupiant occasionem. Laus Deo semper amen. It is probable that the author of the following tract wrote this work also.

2. "Incipit tractatus fratris EGIDIJ ordinis fratrum predicatarum, de essentia motu et significatione Cometarum. Quonian multorum animos audivi stupefactos ac intellectus suspensos occasione cujusdam stelle caudate." 61.

The comet that gave occasion for this tract, appeared in France from 3 cal. Aug. to 5 non. Oct. 1264: at the end it is said to have betokened the death of pope Urban III., also prelia [et] strages, ut in regno Hispanie [et] Anglie fuit in ipso anno, hyemes ventosa tempestuosa, et erat aquarum habundantia et vini penuria.* Before these closing words is an account of other ancient comets, especially those which appeared in the years 840, 1062 (read 1066), 1222, and 1239. (f. 75—6.)

3. Tractatus de crepusculo, ex Arabico Latine factus: inc. Ostendere autem volo quid sit crepusculum et que causa necesse faciens ejus apparitionem, in hoc tractatu. 76^b—81.

Between the concluding words (vapores ascendentes ex terra et ilud est quod volumus) and the following colophon, is the space of 14 lines. "Hic ejus finis est quod intendit in hac epistola, quedam autem sequuntur in arabico que ego pretermisi, quia in illis nulla est utilitas. non enim continuando in eis ubi quedam in quibus laudat Deum more Sarracenorum, et post reprehendit quod quidam querebant quid fructus esset in hoc quod ipse dixit in hac epistola. et dicit illos esse redarguendos qui non reprehendunt insensibilia cum sensibilibus, et quia in eis que dicunt nulla est utilitas, ideo pretermisi ea. Explicit." Three blank pages follow.

4. (1) "Equatio domorum ad latitudinem quinti climatis de signo arietis [et ceterorum signorum] a septentrione 41 g^a. et 30 mi^a. sub quo sita est Serencogusta." 83—8^b.

Saragossa, capital of the kingdom of Aragon.

* Forte leg. hyems.

(2) "Ascensiones sexti climatis cujus latitudo est 45 gradus et 22 minuta. et ejus hore equales sunt (spatium) et 30 minuta." 89—90^b.

(3) "Ascensiones septimi climatis," etc. 91—2^b.

(4) "Tabula but. i. motus solis et lune et dimidia quantitas circulorum ipsorum et dimidium quantitatis circuli geuzahar." 93—5^b.

(5) "Tabula motus solis et lune in uno die." 96.

(6) "Tabula conjunctionis solis et lune secundum medios motus ad annos Arabum collectos admodum diem civitatis." (sic.) 96^b.

5. Problemata geometrica super circulis celestibus: inc. Kardaga est porcio circuli constans ex .15. gradibus. 97—105.

The last words are—quod est distancia augis ab ariete et hoc est propositum: and a circular diagram is on the next page.

6. Demonstrationes quedam trigonometricæ: inc. Ponum ergo duas lineas. ag. ug. supra punctum g. concurrentes. 106—110.

The first paragraph is followed by 17 others, all beginning Et dico quod: then begins another part, thus, Post hoc afferam divisionem et reiterabo figuram, followed by the same number of paragraphs beginning with the same words as before.

7. "Cum volueris scire horas diei transactas per altitudinem solis. Nota quod tantum sole." 110^b.

8. De quantitate anni solaris et lunaris, retrocessione solstitorum et primationis lune, deque cyclo lunari, quedam circa an. 1235 scripta: inc. Quantitas anni solaris. 111—2.

9. Capitula tractatus de algorismo, (inc. De additione numeri ad numerum), et libri cui titulus "Incipit nova compilacio compoti Jhōis de Sacro hoscō. ibi compotus:" simul et excerpta ex eodem libro. 112.

A copy of the latter work is in No. 1522, art. 6.

10. De signis zodiaci. Nota quod zodiacus est circulus obliquus. 112^b—4.

11. "Incipit Perspectiva fratris JHōis DE PECHAM* [in compendium redacta, sic incipiens] Prima pars perspective que est de radio directo traditur in tribus libris primis. In primo docetur quomodo visus per ipsum compleatur. In secundo particulares intentiones visibiles distinguuntur. In 3^o. errores in singulis assignantur. et cause errorum." 115—120.

* The name is written "pehāt" in this MS. The last words are—et hoc dico secundum dispositionem diaphanorum plurorum. explicit. That this is only an abridgement appears from the complete copy in No. 1522, art. 18.

12. "Incipit liber HERMETIS tractans de .15. stellis et de .15. lapidibus et de .15. herbis [et] .15. figuris. Inter multa alia bonu que antiqui patres sapientissimi naraverunt philosophi: Hermes ab Haydymon pater philosophorum antiquissimus." 120^b—8.

This tract is rightly intitled by an old hand "Quadrupartitum Hermetis." The 15 figures are curiously drawn on the last leaf but one, and are followed by three paragraphs, each beginning Dixit Messalah.

13. "Incipit ars minuiciarum exposita a magistro RICARDO DE G Cum minor quantitas aliquotiens sumpta majorem componit." 129—142^b.

The frequent corrections that occur throughout this tract, suggest that it may be the original MS.: if so, the loss of the author's name is the more unfortunate, it having been cut off the upper margin slantwise. The last words are—sed quod si multo major fuerit priori numero tunc oportebit hoc evenire. Explicit brevis ars minutiarum."

14. Brevis descriptio constellationum, simul de climatum distinctione: inc. Hic locus et ideo postulat promissa solvere. 142^b—3.

15. Schematis domorum celestium descriptio. Nota quod domorum angulares. 143^b.

16. De altimetria quædam: sic inc. Geometrie .2. sunt partes principales. theorica et practica. 143^b—4^b.

The following 26 leaves are a MS. well written in text hand of the XIIIth or XIIIth century, incorporated with the volume.

17. De astronomia liber antiquus, sic inc. Ex quatuor clementis hisdemque totis in sperc modum globatus. Cum scholiis. 145—169^b.

The first scholion is this—"Hic tractat de prima parte astrologie .i. de situ mundi." On the third page it is noted "Huc usque de situ mundi, anodo de circulis .i. de secunda parte astrologie." Greek words and phrases are frequent in the text, written in the mixed character used in the Latin MSS. of that age. The last words are, aut retrogradari furit: below which is this ancient pencil note:—"Anno d'ni 1274. 8 die februarij tempus arab' 671 menses 7." On the reverse of the following leaf (170^b) are written 8 lines of text, seemingly begun in a wrong place, as they are part of page 169a.

Of the remaining 6 leaves of the volume, 5 are written by the same hand as the former part of it, and the last is blank.

18. Carmen de arithmetica, cum scholiis: inc. [H]ec algorismus ars presens dicitur in qua. 171—5^b.

It ends thus—"Tot crescunt solidi cum tot numeris numeratis. Explicit Algorismus." The last line but 2, is the 30th from the end, in the copy No. 1522, art. 1 (which see), and the last in No. 360, i. art. 4.

No. 342.

A small quarto volume, containing six antient MSS. on vellum. The first 54 leaves (including one at the beginning not numbered) seem to have formed one book, consisting of several tracts written by different hands in the beginning of the XIVth century.

1. *1. "Via ad Terram Sanctam. Porce que le Reaume de Jerlm est apeles le Reuume qui est Rois des Rois." 1—6^b.

This tract begins by declaring the disgracefulness of leaving the Holy Land to infidels, and shows the most convenient ports for expeditions thither from France, England, and other European kingdoms, and describes the Levant geographically and nautically. The last page but 2 has this rubric—"Ce est le chemin de la berrie de Gadres jusques au Caire et les herberges et les aigues:" and the last words are—De Quiriacos au Caire, quatre lines de bon chemin. It is written in a fair text-hand.

2. "Tractatus de Sorte. De vita quid crit dic: vade et quere a scdente super orientalem faciem turris saturni." 8—22^b.

With these words begin the four directory tables, written on 2 leaves which have been cut through, and were nearly loose: the next leaf, which contained Almazene and Anatha, the two first of the 28 Judges, is lost; but they are extant in a better MS. No. 304, this being a copy of the second "liber experimentarius" in that volume. The first line of Albaton is—Fracto captivus: evadet carcere vivus; (see No. 304, f. 18.) and the last line of the whole is—Vite solamen cupit hoc deus det tibi amen. Each page is superscribed with its number in Arabic figures: the handwriting is of the time of Edw. I. or II., closer than, and not so fair and bright as that of the following 7 leaves.

3. (1) "De lune numero et sompnii eventu. Luna prima omnibus agentibus utilis est." 23—5^b.

(2) "Quo tempore aperienda sit vena. Quando vena aperienda sit cave tibi .v. lunam." 25^b.

(3) Prognostications for every day of the moon's age, in French. La prime lune est bone a comencer totes choses. 25^b.

This is a free version of art. (1), of which there is an English version in No. 189, f. 84^b.

(4) Prognostication of the weather, according to the day of the week on which midwinter-day and new-year's day fall, in answer to these questions:—

Mestre Joc vos requer que del jur de Noel les aventurs et les secree me diet. 28.

Mestre des calendes de Jeniver voderay ioe oyer la difiniciuns volunters dist e lucidara. 29^{ab}.

There is an English poem on the same subject in No. 189, f. 210. In the Cottonian MS. Cleop. B. IX., f. 25^b, a Latin copy is ascribed to Esdras and Josephus.

(5) Tristichon hocce (29^b)—

"In septem stabis. minus yma petens numerabis

Post septem sursum numerando perifice cursum.

Sicque novem tractus numerus dat quod petit actus."

These verses are also written on f. 7^b, with the same rubric as the title of art. 2.

The tracts on ff. 30—49, were written in the scholastic text hand, early in the XIVth century.

4. (1) "Sortes ALBEDACI. Dilecto regi Persarum vates Albedacus salutes majores." 30—4.

This begins the prologue. The tables consist of 30 oriental words, each heading 12 short sentences: the first is Gosul.

(2) "Sortes medi^{bus} decijs. Deus miseriatu^r nostri. Deus in adjutorium meum." 34^b—6.

The prayer prefixed calls this article has sortes apostolorum tuorum: it consists of triple combinations of the numbers 6 to 1, with a prognostication on each. The 3 next pages are blank.

(3) "Tractatus de Spatula. Refert Ablandius Babilonius inter antiquissima Græcorum volumina cartam vetustissimam in qua de spatule agritōne non nulla continebantur præcepta apud Athna[s] se invenisse." 38—40^b.

The last words are—ad notarum quidem numerum adversariorum deprehenditur multitudo. On the margin against the end of this and the beginning of the next tract, is the following difficult note. "Hic est tractatus quoniam in eadem pariter contingit reperiri. non tamen arbissi philosophi ord' inter Babilonios in hoc negotio precellebat ascriptum liber abdalaben zeleman de spatula hugonis translatio et de ipso negotio tanquam experta descripsit."

(4) "Liber ABDALABEN ZELEMAN de Spatula. Quicumque alicujus discipline instituta subtili discrecione prudenti et studiosa rerum investigacione." 40^b—6.

At f. 43 is a chasm of two thirds of a page in the text. The tract ends thus:—"In tertia rex host[?]um morte afficitur. Explicit liber de spatula."

5. (1) "Incipit Computus Manualis [M^{ri} J. DE

PULCRO ANNO Hispano*.] Intencionis est in hoc opusculo artem ostendere qua ex juncturis manuum ad omne certum tempus uti^a certa que negotia composita per annum presentem pro rudice habitum possunt facillime inveniri. 50—2.

* This name is added by another antient hand, and is unknown to Fabricius. The last words are—“probacio hujus per ultimum principium patet. Explicit comptus manualis.” It is a different tract from No. 361, art. 17, and No. 357, art. 1, 4.

(2) Disticha xii ad festa reminiscenda secundum ordinem calendarii: inc. “Januarius. Cir. ste. io. pu. vig. epiph.” 52^{ab}.

Different from those at f. 141^b.

(3) Homilia super Orationem Dominicam, inc. Volumus vos fratres kurissimi purvam vobis udmonicionem de oratione dominica facere. 52^b—3.

The last words are—illuc nos vocare dignetur qui [vivit] ac regnat in secula. Amen.

(4) “Septem petitiones sunt in oratione dominica sicut patet in his [septem] versibus. O Pater alme tuum fit nomen sanctificatum.” 53^b.

(5) Disticha quatuor de complexionibus humanis. “Sanguineus. Largus amans. hilaris.” 53^b.

See No. 191, f. 45, and No. 59, art. 41.

(6) Versiculi salubres. Vis esse incolumem. (5 v.) cum uno ac altero nullius momenti. 53^b.

(7) Excerptula ex Augustino et Ambrosio. Quinque sunt digiti dy’ (lege Diaboli) primus est pudor confessionis, etc. 53^b.

The 4 leaves containing these 7 articles, are very closely written in a small hand resembling records of the time of Edw. I. At the foot of f. 51, the name “Thomas de boecomio” is written invertedly, and at the foot of the last page is the name “penham.”

II. “Tabule Astronomicæ:” scilicet—

“Tabula equationis argumenti lune.” 54.

“Tabula conjunctionum mediarum in annis expansis:” cum regula inc. Ad habendum tempus conjunctionis medie.” 54^b—5^b.

This table is for the “anni Christi imperfecti 1346”—1424; in the first of which years it was written.

“Tabula conjunctionum mediarum in mensibus Christi.” 56.

“Tabula oppositionum mediarum in mensibus Christi.” 56.

Tabula ostendens motum et locum lunæ, pro 15 diebus. 56^b—9.

Diagrammata nitide depicta; sc. “Figura solis, figura lune, figura draconis, figura .3. superiorum planetarum et veneris, figura retrogradacionis, figura mercurii.” 59^b—61.

Versiculi 12 de conjunctione et aspectibus: inc. Si planete duo signo junguntur in uno. 59^b.

“Tabula equacionis domorum in latitudine .51. graduum et 40. minutorum.” 61^b—3.

“Tabula lune in annis expansis et collectis.” 64.

“Tabula equacionis lune” cum regula.” 64^b.

“Tabula lune in mensibus” seu “Tabula medii motus lune cum argumento ad extrahendum verum locum lune quolibet die.” 65—6^b.

“2^a. tabula solis.” 67—9^b.

This table is written in a hand more antient than the rest, and the third leaf of it is lost.

III. This MS. is not so large as the others, and consists now of 26 leaves, a small part of its original quantity. Of these, ff. 69, 82—4, 93—4, are blank vellum; and the remaining portions, ff. 85—92, 70—81, have been transposed. They are here described in their proper order.

1. “Ista continentur in hoc volumine.” 85.

The names of 14 tracts antiently contained in this MS. are here written by the same hand: of these, the only articles now existing, are those numbered 16, 18, and 22 in the following analysis: the smaller pieces are not mentioned in this list. Part of it is printed in the General Catalogue of MSS. No. 6691.

2. Laus et virtus herbæ Gentianæ. Basilica herba .i. genciana. 85^b.

3. “Versus de valore Agnus dei. Balsamus et unda cera cum crismatem unda Conficiunt agnum.” (36 v.) 85^b—6.

These occupy a page and a half, written in the XVth century.

4. Twelve antient English verbs, with the corresponding French and Latin words: thus—Speven. vomer. Nausco. 86^b.

5. Disticha tria, sic inc. Est arbor vitis, et Lis leprosorum, et Pater scire vellem. 86^b.

6. Expositiones istius sententiæ, Minus scio quod per confessionem scio, per “Fr. K. DE LINCOLN” et Fratrem MARTINUM DE LENNE. 87.

Neither of these, nor the writer next quoted, is mentioned by Bp. Tanner.

7. “Fr. ADAM DE LACU. Ubicunque est actus moralis et delectacio morosa.” Etiam—Nota quod consensus semiplenus dicitur: et “Idem frater A. Nota quod differt sensualitas a sensibilitate.” 87^b—8.

8. Carmen de prognosticis per tonitru in quoque signo, sic incipiens—

“*Est aries, taurus, gemini, cancer, leo, virgo
Libraque, scorpio, architenens, caper, urnaque pisses.
“Accedens quicumque cupis cognoscere verba
Lucida laudanda vera probata bona.
Anno quocunque signo tonitrus tonat, illud
Quod tonat est verum nocte dieque tonans.”* 88^b—90.

The third of these lines seems to be the right beginning of this poem.

9. Nota quod quadrupliciter remuneratur a Deo qui fideliter dat decimas, etc. 90^b.

10. “B[ernardus?]. Si ex contemptu sciens et delibers sponte in verba prorupero,” etc. 90^b.

11. Excerptum e regula monastica. Cum de corpore vel sanguine Domini tanta negligencia aliquo casu accidit ut cadat deorsum, etc. 91.

12. Aliud. Si aperta quod absit negligencia de corpore Domini, etc. 91^b.

13. Aliud. Si forte ulicui fratri contigerit, etc. 92.

14. Aliud. Nota hec sunt que Monachus debet prelato suo, etc. 92^b.

15. “Exponitur sacra scriptura. 3^a. Allegorice.” etc. 92^b.

The following articles are contained in the other transposed part of this MS.

16. Regulæ ad reducidos annos Christianorum ad annos Arabum, fragmentum. 70.

It seems to have been the sequel of the Tabula ad invenien- dum annos Arabum, which is the fifth title in the list at f. 85. Only the last 12 lines are preserved, ending—ociens duo menses Arabum continetur.

17. Regula brevis ad sequentes tabulas: inc. Quando vis scire locum solis subtrahe quaternarium ab annis Christi quociens poteris. 70.

18. "Tabula prima solis post annum bisextilem," item "secunda—tercia—[et] quarta in anno bisextili." 70^b—4.

They are called in the list of contents—Tabule per quas scitur gradus solis in quolibet signo.

19. Tractatus de signorum qualitatibus: inc. Arics est signum mobile calide et sicce nature. 74^b—7.

In fine—"Nota quod ubicunque dicitur bonum est vel cavendum est. intelligitur dum luna fuerit in illo signo. Explicit." Confer No. 345, art. 18.

20. "Scientia ad inveniendum annos Arabum per annos Christi per multiplicationem et divisionem secundum PTOLOMEUM. Si autem annos Arabum." 77.

Ptolemaeus flourished 450 years before the Arabian era began: this article may be therefore considered as an extract from some commentary on his writings.

21. "Scientia annorum Arabum per annos Christi per multiplicationem et divisionem secundum ARZECHELEM. Accipe annos Christi perfectos." 77^b.

22. "Incipit Practica Quadrantis veteris. Scire debes quod circulus solis duas habet medietates." 78—81^b.

Des.—Hec quoque de practica quadrantis dicta sufficiant.

IV. A MS. of the XVth century, consisting of 14 leaves of vellum (ff. 101—114), whereunto have been added 7 leaves (beside others that have been cut out), on two of which was written about the time of Henry VIII. this article—

(I) "De Constellatione nativi sub sole;" or the qualities of the twelve signs, beg. "Januari: aquarius est hote and moyste sanguine. Aquarius is a watry sygne." 95^b—6^b.

1. Calendarium ecclesiasticum et astronomicum. 101^b—112.

18 Apr. "A^o. domini M^o.CC. xx. jactatum fuit ecclesie nove Sar. fundamentum." (104^b.)

2. Nota quando secundus tertius et quartus cycli lunares finiuntur, scil. ab anno 1463 ad 1519. f. 112^b.

Hence it seems that the cycle wherein this calendar was written, began in 1444, and ended in 1462.

3. Nomina signorum cum mensibus suis et qualitatibus. 113.

4. "Tabula planetarum ad sciendum quis planeta regnat qualibet hora." 113^b.

5. "Tabula lune ad sciendum ejus signum omni die. et in quo gradu illius signi." 114.

V. A MS. written by two different hands in the XVth century, on 16 leaves of parchment, and 8 other leaves, whereof the two outermost are parchment, and the others paper. (130—7.) The two first leaves have been cut with the stroke whereby the third was cut out and lost.

1. A treatise of the four complexions of man's body; beg. It is to undurstand that every man is made of four elymentys. 115—126^b.

2. Of the qualities and effects of the moon's 28 mansions; beg. In the name of Godde for the first hous whan the mone is in the first maneon wureh þ^u for lufe of womman, etc. 126^b—131.

3. Of perilous days, unfit for bleeding and other things (In þe moneth of Janere lett þe not blode), with an extract from the Secretum Secretorum "Secundum Aristotilem ad Alexandrum. Si volueritis flegbotomare." 131^b—3—4.

4. "De fortunis venientibus per tempora anni. Jancuere. ponder toneth grete wynd and plente of alle kyn frute and batelle pat ilke yer." 134.

5. De quatuor tempestatibus anni: inc. Ver incipit vij^o. idus february. 134^b—5.

6. "De minucione sanguinis. Mense February. vena pollicis est incidenda." 135.

7. "Isti sunt dies boni et graciosi ad flebotomandum probati secundum magistrum EVESHAM phisocianum. Viz le jour de seynt Stefne." 136.

8. Fleobotom[?]a mentem sincerat, etc. 136.

9. These bene iij perlous monedayes in þe yere, etc. 136^b.

10. The best dayes of every monethe to be gyne any gode werke, etc. 136^b.

11. Cautiones: inc. Mars. Arics. Cave ab incisione. 137.

12. Disticha duo, de signorum nominibus, et planetarum qualitatibus: inc. Est arics, et Sol et mercurius.* 137.

* Vide superius, iii. art. 8.

13. De motione lunæ: inc. Nota quod per quatuor septimanas. 137.

VI. A MS. consisting of 18 leaves of vellum, yellow with age; of which the last but one is cut out. The writing is of the end of the XIIIth century, and very small, with red capitals, and in double columns.

1. De computo ecclesiastico tractatus: inc. Ad habendum ciclum solarem secundum gallendum sive litteram dominicalem quod habemus in proposito sumatur versus iste 'Filius esto Dei celum bonus accipe gratis.' 138—141^d.

"Et hec de utilioribus que considerat compotista breviter et succincte compilata ad presens dicta sufficiant. Explicit compotus."

2. Disticha xii de festis calendarii, cum explicacionibus interlinearibus: inc. Cisio. janus. epy. luci. paulus et oc. feli. marcel. 141^b—2.

On the following page (142^b) is written an inaccurate copy of these verses by a hand of the XVth century: they may be found printed among the appendices to the edition of Johannis de Sacro Bosco Sphæra, Antv. 1582, 8vo. p. 262—3. Other verses of this kind are at f. 52, and in No. 357, art. 2.

3. De arte arithmetica, seu algorismo, tractatus: inc. Omnia que a primeva rerum origine processerunt ratione numerorum formata sunt. 143—7^b.

In fine—"et hoc de radicis extraccione sufficiat tam in nume-ris quadratis quam cubicis. Explicit algorismus." Vide No. 361, art. 16, et No. 1522, art. 3.

4. De solstitiis: inc. Sol aliquando stet. sed quia tunc est in maximo accessu a chenit capitis nostri. 147^{bc}.

In fine—dies unus superflue reperitur naturalis.

5. Carmen de arithmetica, Algorismus dictum: inc. Hec algorismus ars presens dicitur in qua. 147^d.

This curious poem (about which see the note on No. 1522, art. 1) is incomplete at the end, one leaf or more having been lost between ff. 148 and 149; the next article therefore begins imperfectly.

6. Carmen de computo ecclesiastico, ita claudens—"Qui sine principio fuit, est, et erit sine fine. Explicit compotus metricatus." 149—151^a.

The first line in this copy, is—posteriore die celebratur festa mathie. In the third column may be seen the first line of the Massa compoti (in No. 1522, art. 21), from which this article and the following seem to have been compiled with some additions; in No. 361, ff. 97—8, that work may be seen divided into two parts corresponding with these poems.

7. Carmen de formatione et usu tabularum computatoriarum (inc. Alphabeta duo que ter deca quinque figuris) ita claudens—"Qua media[n]te potes [quod] queris [semper] habere.* Explicunt tabule compoti metricæ." 151—2.

* Vide No. 1522, f. 196, l. 14.

8. Explicatio diversarum tabularum ecclesiasticarum, inter quas Garlandi et Dionysii: inc. Tabula prima tabula terminorum dicitur. quoniam in illa termini .5. festorum mobiliū invenitur. 152—3.

Ending thus—"et semper litera tabularis erit cum qua litera dominicalis occurrit. Explicunt tabule compoti." At the foot of this page is written "Liber Johannis Prichard apud Chestriam a^o 1649. Jo: Prichard de Prion."

9. A circular table showing the dominical letter in the whole cycle of the sun, corresponding with the numbers of that lunar cycle in which the year "M. CCC." was the ninth. 153^b.

Compare No. 361, f. 128^b.

10. The dominion of the signs in the human body, described in French. Et sachies que chacun des xij singnes dou ciel a sa partie ou cors de chacun homme et femme, etc. 153^b.

No. 343.

A volume in small 8^o. or large 12^o. containing several MSS. and papers bound together.

- I. A MS. of the XVth century, consisting of 44 parchment leaves; of which the former half is more neatly written, and probably was once a separate book.

1. A table "For to knowe in what signe þe mone is in." 1^a.
2. "Here begynneth the boke of Fortune of the berth of man or woman up on the cowrs of þe sunne be þe xij sygnes. as Astronomie telle. (Januarius.) Man þat is borne while þe sonne gothe in capricornus." 2—22^b.

This tract is a translation of art. 4; it ends thus—"Scho may lyven tyl an C. &c. Finem feci da quod merni. qd K." The following note is subjoined by the same hand: "Tres sunt dies in anno in quibus siquis natus fuerit, caro ejus incorrupta manebit usque diem judicij. vidz viij kl' aprilis, terciō idus augusti, et terciō kl' february."'

3. Tetrastichon incipiens—Colerici mas. fer. aries; et nomina signorum quæ singulis mensibus percurrit sol. 23.

4. "Sic* incipit ars que docet de nativitate pnerorum et de eorum fortuna et infortunio secundum quod in diversis temporibus nascuntur prout in signis suis que sunt xij. vz." [etc. 23^a.] Qui natus fuerit in signo aquarj crit honoratus. 23^b—36.

* The first letter is a mistake for II. The last words are—vivet usque ad .C. annos. Dies ejus boni sunt. Sol. Jupiter et Venus. Mala dies mercurius et cetera. veste nigra utatur. Of this tract there is a translation in art. 2 of this MS., and other copies are in No. 360.

5. De sanguine mittendo cautelæ: inc. In mense Januario nullum. 36^b.

The 4 following articles were written either by other hands, or by the same at different times.

6. Recipe and directions for the cure of some disease; beg. Take asiftida j d. and whanne þe passion commeth opon hyr. 37—7^b.

7. Medicamenti cujusdam compositio: inc. Recipe terbentini libram semis. 37^b—8.

8. Quot libros ediscere debet—Quilibet sacerdos curatus et non curatus. 38.

9. "Propter fluxum sanguinis. Take half a ponde of unblanched almonds." 38^b.

The following article is written on 6 parchment leaves added to the MS., and is so faded in some places as to be illegible.

10. "Regula de venis:" or directions for blood-letting. 39—44.

The last sentence is this—"Also upon þe grete toces of þe fote in twoy veynes we*lete blode for indignacione of þe hallokes and for alle maner akyng in þe membres be neþe forþe." Two sentences follow, headed Beda dicit. On the last page is an almost illegible—

12. Recipe for some disease; beg. Take h 44^b.

II. This MS. and the six following MSS. are written on paper: it consists of 24 leaves very neatly written.

1. Seven Latin verses and three English couplets, inscribed as a new-year's gift "Ornatissimo viro M^{ro}. Sandeio," alias Napier. 46.

2. "De Mari Rubro" dissertatio academica. 49—53^b.

After dispatching five opinions on the cause of this sea's name, the author asserts that of Johannes Barrius, that the clearness of its water admits a tinge of the coral said to be at the bottom.

3. "De igne inferni" disceptatio scholastica. 54—62.

4. "De Antichristo" dissertatiuncula. 64—6.

This article seems to be unfinished.

III. This MS. is written by the same hand as No. 337, v. On the first blank leaf is written "ἄδεις ἀνθρώπων εἰν πάντα σοφός. Nemo," etc. f. 68.

“Theology, or The sacred doctryne of Divinitie gathered out of the word of God. The places of scripture added for confirmacōn serving in steed of a Scholia or short commentary upon yt.” 70—85.

“The preface to the reader” occupies the first 3 of 16 numbered leaves: it was written by a Kentish man, in commendation of the modest author, who compiled this so nearly on the same plan as the Latin work of Mr. Dudley Fenner (who was a friend of the writer, and had been dead three years), that it might seem a translation, though it was unseen by this author until he had finished his book. It is Calvinistic. Ff. 86—95 were blank, but on the first are two figures neatly set by Mr. Napier, dated 16 and 17 June, 1608.

IV. “To the reader of Dr. Tilleslies annotations on the Historie of Tithes, by Mr. J. SELDEN.” 96—108.

Printed in Selden’s works, by Bp. Wilkins, vol. III. part ii. col. 1369—86. (Lond. 1726, fol.) Dr. Tillesley’s book was published in 1619 (the year after the History), and again in 1621, 4^o. with an answer to Selden’s Defence.

V. Several original papers (f. 112—9), namely—

1. Theological notes by Sir R. NAPIER. 112^{ab}.
2. Chemical notes by the same. 113.
3. “Generoso viro Domino Thomæ Middleton juniori” epistola Trebatii, de libro quem Niger Petrus accommodaverat Magistro Rennes apud Dominum Napir. 114.
4. Recipe to make “Sulphur auratum diaph.” 115.
- 5, 6. Directions for chymical proecesses. 116—7.
7. Recipes to make “Tinctura Solis” (118), “☉ fix.,” and “The quintessence of ☉.” 119.

VI. A small MS. of 8 leaves, neatly written.

“Diporto di Christo foro Zabata.” 120—6.

It seems to consist of selections from some larger account of miraculose cures: the first is numbered 6, the last 131.

*VII. “The Secrets of Gunmen:” or directions for making different kinds of gunpowder and fireworks, and for the management of large and small guns. 128—139^b.

These 24 pages contain a great variety of curious information, put in writing by some experienced person, about the time of James I. Eight blank leaves follow.

VIII. A small book, consisting of 22 leaves, written, in a neat old hand (of the time of Q. Eliz.), down the length of all the pages but the first 4 and the last 5: it is bound invertedly.

1. “Apocalupsis soplistica alias Golie. A tauro torrida lampade Cinthij.” 166^b—149.

In the margin it is noted that “Author Joannes Mapes. Anglus: Oxoniensis Archidiaconus scripsit anno 1210.” Hence Lhuys’s error, who has called the author Joannes Napier in the old catalogue. The proper name is WALTERUS MAPES: see Tanner, p. 507, and Leyseri Hist. Poet. p. 776—7. This poem has been printed by M. Flacius Illyricus, and Wolfius.

On what now appears as the first page of this MS. is written, by another old hand, a short account of—

2. “The yearlie maintenance y^t Almighty God my mercifull father hath bestowed on me his unworthi servant.” 147.

Herein is mentioned “my house in Peter’s parishe” and “my lande and mill at Alesfourde.” 141.

At the other end are written by the same hand as the MS.—

3. Religious notes and reflections. 167^b.

4. Excerptæ quædam sententiæ theologicæ, partim versibus. 168^b.

*IX. Thank God of all;—an antient poem, beginning thus, By a way wandryng as I went. (10 st. of 8.) 169—170^b.

This interesting composition was written on two leaves of vellum early in the XVth century. The last stanza is defaced by stain and friction. There is an older copy in the Vernon MS. (in the Bodleian), 4 leaves from the end.

X. “Hic incipiunt interpretaciones Hebraicorum nominum incipiencium per a ante a. Aaz apprehensens vel apprehensio.” 171—205^c.

This MS. is elegantly written in a very small letter, and in columns, on the thinnest vellum: it seems to have been severed from some Bible of the XIVth century; and very much resembles the copy at the end of No. 748, except in size. At the end is written by an equally antient hand, with pale ink—

Lectionum dominicalium series per totum annum. 205^d—6^d.

The corners of the last leaf are torn.

No. 344.

A very small 4^o. or short square 8^o. volume, consisting of 81 written leaves of vellum, beside two fly-leaves, the first of which is a fragment of a MS. of the XIVth century. It contains four tracts, written by different hands, in the latter part of the XVth century.

1. The art of playing the game of Chess, illustrated with figures of the board. 3—23.

This tract contains representations and descriptions of 41 games: the first begins—The white men draw first. The writing is somewhat inclined to the Italic character. At the top of the first page is written by another hand, “Jhesu + Marye + 1524. Sept. 19. cl. 3.” And below the text, “probatum per Rogerium Hartwelllll Thome ♡ welllll pannarij Londinensis filium.”

2. JOHANNIS SHIRWOOD tractatulus de ludo Arithmomachia, sic inscriptus:—

“Ad reverendissimum religiosissimumque in Cristo patrem ac amplissimum dominum Marcum, Cardinalem san[c]ti Marci vulgariter nuncupatum, Joh^{is} Shiruod, quod Latine interpretatur limpida silva, sedis apostolice protonotarij anglici, prefacio in epitomen de ludo arithmomachie feliciter incipit. Cum reverendissime pater,” etc. 24—39.

In principio luget mortem Georgii Nevill archiepiscopi Ebor. promotoris sui; sicut ait Tannerus; qui hujus codicis mentionem fecit, p. 669. In calce epilogi—“Vale semper felix religiosissime atque pijssime pater, Rome ipsis kalendis Aprilibus anno dⁿⁱ M. CCCC. lxxxij. pontificatus vero sanctissimi dⁿⁱ nostri Sixti Pape quarti xj. [f. 39^b] regnique prefati Christianissimi Regis Edwardi quarti anno xxij.”

3. De Ludo Philosophorum libri tres, quibus tabulæ ludorum subnectuntur: incip. Jam superest aperire numeros et proporeiones numerorum qui collocandi sunt ex parte parium in ludo philosophorum. 40, 43, 58—71.

4. Tractatus in ejus calce titulus iste—“Explicit Ludus Astronomorum optime et subtilissime.” 72—83.

It begins thus—“Sume tabulam latam et planam in qua describas circulum ejus diameter tres pedes vel amplius contineat. The last words are—hic reportet triumphum. The handwriting resembles that of art. 1, and below the colophon is written by a hand not unlike it, but later, "Questo libro e mio Zovanno Argentein." There is another copy in No. 346, art. 22.

No. 345.

A small octavo volume, containing 80 leaves of vellum, written in the latter part of the XIVth century, and numbered with antient figures. Over the first page is written "Kenelme Digby."

1. "Incipit HALY de sub radiis planetarum. [S]aturmus in arietē sub radiis facit pluvias." 1—3^b.

Ending—"et bonam complexionem ostendit. Explicit Haly de subradiis planetarum."

2. "R^a thōi [i. e. Regula PTOLOMÆI] ad sciendum utrum natiuitas fuerit masculina aut feminina. Dicit thō^s hujus rei causa." 3^b—5.

3. "Pronosticum YPOCRATIS quod dies mortis vel salutis ostendit. Saturni die." 5—6.

4. Tractatus qui sic incipit—Dixit Ypocras medicorum optimus quod medicus primo aspiciat lunam: et desinens ita—cum labore et difficultate. Explicit liber Pronosticorum celestium YPOCRATIS." 6—12^b.

See art. 16.

5. "De 3^{ci} mense lunari. Ut dicit G[ALENUS] in 3^o. de cronicis diebus luna facit in nobis 2^{as} impressiones." 12^b—13^b.

In fine—"non currit hec computacio: Explicit de triplici mense lunari."

6. Nota quod CAMPANUS capitulo 5 compoti sui potest diem naturalem dividi in 4 quadras, etc. 13^b—14^b.

7. Tractatus in quo corriguntur errores quorundam astrologorum et philosophorum, fidei eatholicae repugnantes: inc. Occasione quorundam librorum apud quos non est radix scientie. 14^b—21.

The last words are—sed quod ambo inveniuntur ab eodem creata. Explicit."

8. "De colore eclipsis solaris. Calor* eclipsis solaris solummodo color aeris est." 21.

* Sic. Ending thus—hoc in astrologia Marciliensi.

9. "De instrumento [astrolabio]. Queritur primum due armille convenientis mensura." 21—22.

10. "De vero motu planetarum per instrumentum. Fiat columpna et loctur." 22.

11. Quum domus questionis tenuerit duo signa forcius eorum est dominus ejus et significator. Simul et excerptum e Macrobio et Hermete. 23^{ab}.

12. "Pronosticacio CAMPANUS. Cum autem dispositionem pronosticare volueris." 23^b—4.

The page 24^b is vacant.

13. "De domibus planetarum. Capitulum locorum expertorum in verbis sapientum. Saturnus cum fuerit in domo sua." 25—7^b.

In fine—"significat nato corporis salutem et bonam spem sui. Explicit."

14. "De occultis. Hec est figura extraccionis occultorum secundum regulam. Capitulum in quadrante hyles inveniuntur per eam occulta." 28.

"Capitulum de occultacione anuli vel alterius rci secundum DOROTHEUM. Cum aliquis occultaverit." 28^b.

"DOROTHEUS de occultis. Dixit Dorotheus si fueris interrogatus de t[h]esauro." 29.

Vide No. 346, art. 63.

"Item secundum PTOLOMEUM. Dixit Ptolomeus si aspexerit significator"—"et scito quod hoc est ex secretis astronomie et occultabant antiqui sapientes astrologorum a ceteris qui in hac arte minus docti fuerunt. Explicit liber de occultis." 30—1.

15. "De sompniis. Cum enim aliquis in sompno pluvias et mare et flumina multociens videt." 31.

16. "Incipit Astrologia YPOCRATIS. Ut ait Galienus sapientissimus Ypocras omnium medicorum peritissimus ait quisquis est medicus qui astrologiam ignorat." 31^b—7.

This differs from art. 4 only in the addition of 16 lines at the beginning, as far as the words—Jubet ergo ypocras ut omnis medicus aspiciat lunam. It ends thus—"cum labore et difficultate etc." Explicit liber pronosticorum celestium."

17. "Hic incipit DOROTHEUS de electionibus in horis. Hora solis in fortuna est in omni re." 37—8^b.

After these words—bonum est adrentare terras cavare, it is noted in the margin hic deficit.

18. "De electionibus per cursum lune in diversis signis. Cum luna fuerit in arietē signo firmo." 39—44^b.

Over f. 42 is written "Lune proprietates in signis," and over ff. 43—4, "Elecciones per lunam." The tract ends thus—Nota quod ubicunque dicitur bonam est vel cavendum est, intelligitur dum lana sit in illo signo. Compare No. 342, iii. 19.

Ff. 39—69 are more neatly written than the rest of the MS., and seem to have been a small book incorporated into the middle of this volume.

19. "De furatis et perditis. Si quis perdiderit suam domus sue et causa recuperandi pecierit oracula ut consule[re] sapias: hec precepta considera." 45—6.

That seems to be a separate part of the same tract (after latro sine dubio.) which begins thus—"Qualis sit latro sen fur. Dicunt autem taliter posse conjecturare." 45^b. The last words are—si aqaticae ad septentrionem. F. 46^b is vacant.

20. "Incipiunt flores ALBUMAZAR de electionibus. In nomine Dei incipiunt electiones quas Albumazar compilavit de confusis tractatibus antiquorum .s. qualibet die quid sit agendum quid pretermittendum secundum aspectum planetarum," etc. 47—63.

This tract is altogether different from that bearing the same title in No. 369, vi. Pp 55^b and 56^a are vacant, and between them are two leaves inserted (one folded) containing 3 circular figures. The last line is "P.[iscis] Gratium balneari. esse quietum et vacuum."

21. De regimine planetarum: inc. Astronomia docet de magnitudine mobili hoc est de motibus firmitati et planetarum et de eorum effectibus. 63^{ab}.

The titles of articles 22, 25, 31, 32, 34, are added in the margins by a different antient hand.

22. "De speris [partibus anni et complexionibus]. Spere sunt ix." 63^b.
23. Disticha quatuor. Largus amans. 64.
24. "De signis in quibus dominantur. Aries in Babylonia." 64.
25. "De effectu et effic[ac]ia planetarum. Materia hujus libelli est effectus et efficacia hunc et aliorum planetarum." 64^{ab}.
- This is a copy of the prologue of the liber "Experimentarius BERNARDI SYLVESTRIS," perfectly agreeing with that in No. 204, save in the name of the author, who is there called Bernardinus.
26. "Quid planete agant in climatibus signorum. Cum vero saturnus ingreditur." 64^b—5.
27. Prognostica de annona: inc. Si autem quis est qui ignorat aut copiam aut paupertatem futuri anni. 65.
28. "Signa temporum .i. serenitatis et tempestatis sumuntur a sole et luna et coloribus eorundem et a piscibus sumuntur signa. A sole." 66.
29. "De significationibus tonitru. Si vero 3^a. luna tonitrua audieris." 66^b.
30. "Quid faces ardentes significant in celo. Nunc quoniam plura scripsi ex officijs hunc temptabo quoddam explicare scriptum ex Caldea sagacitate." 67.
31. "4^{or} Venti. Ventos quatuor cardinales dicimus. Quorum primus septentrion." 67^b.
32. "Supputaciones kalendarum." sive prognostica secundum "Kalendas Januarij si in dominica eveneri[n]t." 68.
33. Prognostica secundum literas dominicales: inc. Quando A. fuerit litera dominicalis yemps calida. 68^b.
34. "Supputatio per diem natalem Domini. Si festum nativitatis D'ni in die dominica evenerit." 69.
35. Prognostica per ventum: inc. Si in prima nocte [anni] ventus fuerit: ordinata moriuntur in illo anno." 69.

The last words are on the second line of 69^b—quia magnum donum erit in illo anno. It is not certain whether articles 27—35 be separate tracts, or parts of one work. The rest of the MS. is written by a different hand.

36. GUILIELMI, natione Anglici, medici et civis Massiliensis, tractatus "De urina non visa. Ne ignorantie vel potius invidie redarguar, mi Germane, qui quandoque apud Maseiliam aliquando mecum studuisti." 70—74.

The author describes himself in a short prologue. At the end is this colophon—"Explicit liber .M. Will'i anglie nacionis de urina non visa. etc." This author is not named by Tanner, but is mentioned in Fabricii Bibl. Med. et inf. Latin. (4^o.) III. 138. Another copy is in No. 393, i. art. 16, which says that he published this tract in the year 1219.

37. "Proposicio THOLOMEI de crisi. Albaharim sane et certe sunt hore quibus declarantur mutationes membrorum." Super eandem "Exposicio. Pholomeus docuit nos." 74.

38. "Sequitur figura PTHOLOMEI quam HALY commentator suus describit sic, quando et qualiter morbi acuti habere debent suas determina-ciones sive ad bonum sive ad malum. fiat ergo descriptio figure celi in inicio morbi sic." 74^b—5^b.

Most of the next page is blank, the figure not having been inserted: the text runs on to the next page.

39. "Epistola de discretione mortis. Aspice in occasionibus mortem inferentibus nato." 76—7.
40. "De puerorum nativitate. Quando ergo puer nascitur diligenter prospice quod signum emergat in oriente." 77—8^b.
41. "De artibus cujus nativitatem noveris. Vidistis utiliter quod diximus dicamus itaque quas artes." 78^b—80.

An astrological figure occupies 79^b. This tract ends—"in primo gradu arietis evadet casum luminis. Explicit explicit."

42. Excerpta ex "ASCHYNDENE in prohemo^o" de "Lamina pro calculo" amovendo, figura leonis impressa; et alia contra scorpionis ictum. 80^{ab}.

* So subscribed.

With this MS. is bound a copy of "Ars brevis illuminati doctoris Magistri RAYMUNDI LULL. que est ad omnes scientias paucis et brevi tempore assequendas introductorium et brevis via." This curious work was composed in 1307; and this edition was printed in the gothic letter, at Lyons, in 1514, 80.

No. 346.

A very small quarto MS., written at different times about the beginning of the XVIth century in a small and close hand of various degrees of neatness or obscurity; consisting of 166 leaves of paper. Its contents are in general—

Various tracts and collectanea, astrological, physical, and miscellaneous; collected and written by THOMAS SCALON.

The titles of articles 1, 2, 5, 6, 9, 48, 49, 57, were written by the same hand as f. 164^b and the last page but one: some marginal notes also occur, written by the same hand.

1. "Signa 4^{or} complexionum. Nota quod melancholicus." 1.

This article and the following are the same as artt. 49, 50; and are written by the same hand, though in smaller characters.

2. "Vini modice sumpti virtutes." 1^b.
3. Varia medicinalia. 1^b, 14^b, 17^b, 129^b, 159^b, 163.
4. "De ventis. Sol dominatur in oriente." 2.
5. Tractatus "De Regimine Sanitatis in 8 cap. divisus," seu "De utilitate boni regiminis;" cujus prologus sic inc. In isto tractatu qui intituletur de regimine sanitatis aliquid breviter est dicendum. 2^b—12^b.

Ending thus—"quod persecutionem non evadent. Explicit regimen sanitatis quod Scaloni." (See art. 15.)

6. "Dies periculosi et infelices. Isti sunt periculosi." Simul et "Dies ad minuendum sanguinem" per totam lunationem. 13, 14.
7. "Fac hec in toto anno et sanus eris. Januario bibe ij glupos vini." 14^b.
8. Versus memoriales astrologici. Sol leo. can. luna neutri sit in domus una (etc. 17 versus). 15.
9. "De ponderibus et mensuris;" seu antiquorum vocabulorum interpretatio, inc. Scripulus constat ex viginti granis et est 3^a pars dragme. 15^b—16.

10. Good and bad times for bleeding, according to the moon's age. 16^b.
11. Varia astrologica. 17, 17^b, 18, 19, 34.
12. De quantitate mensurarum, pentastichon: inc. Mensura digiti. 17.
13. "Quantitas terreni orbis" et ejus diametri. 17.
14. Quoto tempore orbis suos perficiunt planetæ. 17^b.
15. "Hic incipit Ludus Astronomorum." 18^{ab}.
 "Situatio prima—Exaltationes [planetarum]—Situatio 2^a—Tabula inimicitie planetarum:—are the contents of this article, which may have some connexion with art. 22. At the top of this leaf is written "T. . . . Scalon," the name of the writer of this MS. See also art. 5, 59, 61, 69, 78, 85; and No. 391, i.
16. Nomina duodecim librorum astrologicorum. 19.
17. "Tabula terminorum in [duodecim] versibus.
 γ Sex impi. sex vene. mer. oct. quinq. mars. tot quoque satur." 19.
18. De 12 signis et eorum aspectibus: inc. Ad excelsa polorum philosophi curam extendentes firmamentum in xij partes dividerunt. 19^b.
19. De diebus criticis: inc. Sufficientia dierum creticorum. 20.
20. "Tabula facierum. Pri. mart. sol secun. vene ter. facies ari scor. que." (7 v.) "Exaltationes et casus planetarum. Exal. sol in ari." (3 v.) 20.
21. "Radices planetarum extracte de tabulis M^{ri} HOLBRUK ad meridiem Cābrigie a^o d'ni 1460 completo." 20^b.
 The same as in No. 340, f. 78, and written by the same hand.
22. "Incipit Ludus Astronomorum optime et subtilissime. Sume tabulum." 21—9.
 Subscribed thus—"Finis huius astronomorum optimi et subtilissimi." There is a better copy in No. 344, art. 4, and another tract with the same title in this MS. art. 15.
23. "Commera ad albificandam et lavandam faciem et est RASIS.—Aqua preciosa et est Gallicana.—Si facies sit adusta ex sole.—Ad lentigines faciei et omnem superfluitatem ejus removendum." 29.
24. "Nota quod omnis planeta habens aspectum ad solem fortificatur in sua influentia:" cum tabula. 30.
25. "Tabula terminorum secundum ALLIBRICIUM" cum regula. 30^b—1.
26. "Tabula novenarum" cum regula. 31^b.
27. "Tabula graduum masculinorum et femininorum." 32.
28. "Tabula graduum tenebrosorum, lucidorum, fumosorum, et vacuorum." 32^b.
29. "Tabula graduum puteorum, Azcmena, et augmentantium fortunam." 33.
 Another copy of these three tables is in art. 58.
30. Quot habent planetæ "virtutes et fortitudines accidentales." 33^b.
31. Distichon "Pro visu. Feniculum vervena." 34.
32. Minimæ divisiones anni et circuli. 34^b.
33. Versus. "Cave de coitu. Femina vir lepra."

(3 v.) Raro breves humiles vidi. (4 v.) "Nomina septem cellularum in matrice. Clarissimis." (4 v.) 34^b.

34. Tabulæ duæ, sive "modus satis preciosus pro judicijs questionum secundum S.* J. SYRKE de Norwico." 35—9.

This article exactly corresponds with a fairer copy written on vellum by the same hand as this, in No. 340, f. 78^b—82.

* Probably a mistake for M, which is not unlike it in these two MSS.

35. Carmen elegiacum "De aspectibus lune et aliarum planetarum. (Sol sextilis lune.) Fortunata dies ad agenda negocia regni." 39^b—42^b.

The last line is—"Hac nullius facies prosperitatis opus. Explicit." Another copy of these verses, written by the same hand, is in No. 393, ii. art. 2.

36. Decastichon de temporibus phlebotomiæ idoneis, inc. Est aries minuendo bonus: et tristichon de eclipsi lunæ 3 Sept. 1457, inc. Mcccc quater dabis. 42^b.

37. "Luna de crisi. MUSTEALA in libro judiciorum dicit quod secundum motum lune precipue considerantur dies cretici." 43—4.

In fine—"ideo infirmos et incertos judicamus. Explicit."

38. "De pro[g]nosticatione pestilentie future. De pestilentia sunt tales regule." 44.

39. Explicatio nominis et usus medicamentorum quorundam alphabetica, ab Aurca ad Esdra. 44^b—8^b.

It seems to be an imperfect epitome of the Antidotarius in No. 1470, f. 220^b.

40. "Motus solis diurnus" et lunæ. 48^b.

41. Herbarum quarundam etc. nomina et virtutes: inc. Sanguinem purgant Cassia fistula. 48^b.

42. De lepra et morbis acutis curandis: inc. Aqua ardens lepram aut totaliter extinguit. 49.

43. "Tabula optima dignitatum planetarum essentialium:" item "Canon precedentis tabule dignitatum planetarum." 49^b—50^b.

44. "Tabula egritudinum ^{7^{tem}} planetarum in 12 signis supercelestibus." 51.

45. "Pulvis Imperialis de morte liberans. Nota quod pulvis imperialis valet:" item Pulvis pestilentialis, et quædam magica. 51^b.

46. "Natura 7 planetarum" (inc. Saturnus est frigidus) et quædam de opportuna medicinæ administratione, et natura 12 signorum, cum versibus inde memorialibus. 52—6^b.

47. De signorum oppositione, et locis exaltationis planetarum. 56^b—7.

48. Alius de natura et effectibus signorum tractatus, cum singulorum scala seu tabula analytica. 57^b—63.

49. De quatuor temperamentis hominum (inc. Signa melancholici est invidus) cum distichis super singulis. 63^b—4.

Same as art. 1.

50. Nota quod vinum ea de causa dicitur acere ingenium, etc. 64.

Same as art. 2.

51. "Probacio aeris in temporibus pestilencie," seu "Experimentum cujusdam Domini de CARARRA. Accipiamus frustum panis." 64^b.
52. "Experimenta M^{ri} BERNARDI DE GORDONIO ad frangendum lapidem sunt ista. Vesica porci." 64^b.
53. "Contra morsum canis. Teratur ruta." 65.
54. "De coitu et generatione. Homo inter omnia animalia est multi coitus et seminis ut dicit Aristoteles." 65—7^b.
The last words are—ut si nascatur nunquam vivere potest.
55. Tractatus de astrologia, incipiens—Zodiaci circuli signorum. 68—91^b.
It is divided into many chapters, and seems to be incomplete (ending thus—hec ergo sunt partes que signant fortitudinem regis et duracionem.) unless the following article belong to it.
56. "Ratio 7 climatum. Primum igitur est alabasale." 92.
57. Si vis ut serpentes apparcant in domo, etc. 92^b.
Three magical secrets: several others, written with the same ink, are at f. 51^b and 97^b.
58. Tres tabulæ signorum, eadem atque artt. 27, 28, 29. f. 93—4.
59. Tractatus incipiens ita—[A]strologus potest errare 4^{or} modis: in calce—"Explicit tractatus ROGERI BAKONⁱ de occultis. quod T. Scalon." 94^b—6.
The last words are—rem esse intellige.
60. Tempus "Ortus solis" mensibus Sept. Oct. Nov. et Dec. 96^b.
61. Fragmentum medicum quod sic desinit—et hec de speculativa sive theorica dicta ad presens sufficiunt. Explicit quod Scalon.
This and the following article are written on a leaf somewhat loose: the foregoing leaf is lost, and this begins exiens per anum.
62. Si velis facere ut apparcant animalia in domo, etc. 97^b.
See art. 57.
63. "De occultis secundum BOROCHUM.* Tractatus Borochei in occultis. Dixit Borocheus cum interrogatus fueris de thesauro vel de alia re." 98—9^b.
The name is properly DOROTHEUS: as it is written in the sixth chapter of art. 69, which much resembles this. See also No. 345, art. 14. The last words are eorum judicia, and the following article seems connected with it.
64. "Ars certissima de latrocinio inveniundo. Si interrogatus fueris." 100—112^b.
The last words are—"omissa vel ablata. Explicit."
65. "Incipit liber de ymaginibus secundum THEBIT. In nomine pij et misericordis Dei. Dixit Thebit qui geometrie aut philosophicæ carpers fuerit." 113—5^b.
Ending thus—"sine dubio. Deo sit laus Amen. Explicit liber ymaginum Thebit secundum astronomiam." This astrological tract is different from No. 1522, art. 14, which bears almost the same title.
65. "Incipiunt Imagines Astronomicæ secundum ARISTOTELEM. [E]tracta ab Aristotele in de secretis secretorum." 116—7^b.
In fine sic—"Expliciunt ymagines astronomice Aristotilis."
67. Epigramma. Qui laqueum collo noctebat reperit aurum. (4 v.) 117^b.
68. Tractatus ita inc. [O]pus ymaginum secundum consilium PTHOLOMEI est omnibus modis veracius in probacione. 118—9.
In fine—"Expliciunt ymagines astronomice Ptolomei."
69. Tractatus astrologicus (auctore MESSAHALA*), cujus in fine notatur sic "Explicit libellus de intentionibus secretorum astronomie quod Scalon." 119—124.
* Vide No. 393, i. art. 14.
70. Tractatus incipiens—[S]ol in ascendente significat principatum; cujus in calce—"Explicit liber IERDAGIRD de significationibus planetarum in domibus." 122^b—8.
71. De temporibus criticis quædam, inc. Mensis medicinalis specialiter consideratur; et paulo post—Revolutio hunc est in xxvij diebus. 128—9.
72. De planetarum influencia super homines: inc. Luna facit in nobis 2^{as} impressiones s. communem et propriam. 130^{ab}.
73. Tractatus de scientia et arte astrologiæ, et ejus applicatione ad medicinam. 131—141^b.
Sic incipit—Circa signa v'lia distributiva celestis influencie. 4^{or} sunt inquirenda. primum est de circulo in quo sunt signa et numero et ordine eorum in eodem. 2^m est de mobilitate et masculinitate et femininitate, etc. F. 138.—Nunc de Judicijs pertinentibus ad medicinam. Desinit sic—"vani omnino ac nihil scientes experiuntur. Deo gratias."
74. "In quo gradu signi quilibet planeta exaltatur." 141^b.
75. Distichon "De coitu. Cum pisces." 141^b.
76. "De esse lune in signis quantum ad medicinam. Inter cetera lectorem providendum esse mandamus." 142.
77. Versus de qualitate vini, inc. Vina probantur odore (3 v.) et de cibis nutritiis, inc. Nutrit et impinguat triticum (4 v.), cum binis sententiis. 142^b.
78. Tractatus astrologico-medicus, cui titulus "Judicium infirmitatis secundum questionem Almutez. Dux questionis secundum Arabes dicitur almutez. Et est plancta." 143—153^b.
In fine "Explicit: quod Thomas Scalon." Another copy, written by him, is in No. 391, 2. art. 11.
79. Nomina stellarum quæ "tenebrosæ dicuntur" et "nebule." 153^b.
80. "Tabula ad sciendum dominum hore." 154.
81. "Tabula 28 mansionum lune ad octavam speram;" et alia "ad nonam speram" cum regula. 154^b—6.
82. "Per istam tabulam monstratur per quot gradus et quot minuta elevatur polus mundi areticus supra orizontem in civitatibus hic scriptis"—scil. Jerusalem et 11 aliis. 156^b.
83. De magnitudine et distantia solis: inc. Corpus solis continet. 156^b.

84. Tabula longitudinis et latitudinis Oxonii et 10 aliarum civitatum. 157.
85. "Tractatus JOHANNIS DE BURGUNDIA de morbo pestilentiali. Tempore quo regnat iste morbus." 157^b—9^b.
Over the title is written "D. Scalon."
86. Usus medicamentorum quæ dicuntur "Pillule Rasis" et "pillule auree." 159^b.
87. "Medicamen[ta] ad decorandum mulieres." 160.
88. "PETRUS HISPANUS capitulo de pleuresi sic ait. Accepi a quodam," etc. 160^b.
89. "Pulvis ad preservandum ab apostemate interiorum." 160^b.
90. "MARSILIUS de variolis.* Si propter multam sanguinem." 161—3.
- * Explained in the upper margin and at the side, Measils.
91. Epigrammata quædam et versus miselli: scilicet—
Invide qui laceras (2 v.)
"Goldyng. Per Junonis opes Caio."
De testium qualitate. Etas condicio.
In coitu sex damna luo. (4 v.)
Tum sententiolæ tres. 163^b.
92. De quantitate gradus terrestres. 163^b.
The last five leaves (164—8) are of different paper, added and partly written on by the person whose name is thus written in front, "JOHANNES PYNNOCK Sarum suffraganeus. Ora pro me frater." Articles 95 and 97 are written by a later hand.
93. Quædam de signorum et planetarum qualitatibus. 164.
94. Recipe to melt brass, etc. with oil of tartar. 164.
95. "An experiment to knowe where treasure is;" and "Ut inimicus te non vincet in causa." 164^b.
These few lines, and art. 97, are written by a hand of the XVIIth century.
96. "Ad sciendum de furto de quibus habetis aliquos suspectos, vel de 2 pugillibus quis vincet," etc. cum oratione inde. 167^{ab}.
97. Alia oratio "Ut divinam imploremus auxilium rem supra vires nostras aggreduendo" in prognosticatione. 168.
98. Medical directions to be followed "In all hote agues." 168^b.

No. 347.

An octavo volume, containing ten original MSS. from which the editions were printed.

- I. "BOOKER. 1658." The address to his "Courteous readers" which was subjoined to his almanack for that year. f. 1—10.
There is a printed copy in No. 256. iii.
- II. "Telescopium Uranicum: or an Almanack and Prognostication for the year of Christ's incarnation 1662," etc. "By JOHN BOOKER, student in the most sublime science of astrology and phisick." 11—20.

Over the title (f. 12) is written "September 10th, 1661, Imprimatur G. Wharton." It was published "Cum privilegio et gratia regie majestatis."

- III. BOOKER's address to his readers, subjoined to the same almanack. 21—8.
A printed copy of both these parts is in No. 266. iv.

- IV. "Telescopium Uranicum: or an Almanack and Prognostication for the year—MDCCLXII," etc. "By JOHN BOOKER," etc. 29—38.
A printed copy is in No. 583. vi.

- V. "BOOKER 1665." The Almanack, with like title. 39—58.

- VI. Address for the same year. 59—67.

On the first leaf is written "Licensed Octob. 12, 1664. By the appoyntment of the most reverend father in God, Gilbert his grace L^d Arch: Bpp of Canterbury. Roger L'estrang." A printed copy is in No. 589. iv.

- VII. BOOKER's Figures on horary questions, from 15 Jan. to 26 Feb. 1666—7. f. 68—83.

These are written on 2 sheets of paper folded half the width of an octavo page, but wrongly placed in binding: the proper order is, f. 76—83^b, 72—5^b, 68—71^b. More than 100 figures are in this small space.

- VIII. "BOOKER 1666." A fragment of the Almanack for that year, beginning at May. 84—93.

- IX. "BOOKER 1666." The address subjoined to the same almanack. 94—101.

A printed copy of both is in No. 590.

- Proofs of 3 astrological figures and a diagram, printed from wood-cuts, dated 1657 and 1664. f. 102—3.

- Figures on the ingress of ☉ into ♀ 1661, and a solar eclipse. 104.

- Calculations on the nativity of Mr. Parker (2 July, 1596, at Leicester) of Hackney? 105.

- X. "Speculum Anni ab incarnatione Verbi 1664, or a new Almanacke and Prognostication for this present year," etc. "Calculated for the meridian of the towne of Derby—by WILLIAM HEATHCOTT." 106.

- "1664. A Prognostication," etc. by WILLIAM HEATHCOTT. 122—9^b.

No. 348.

A quarto volume, containing three MSS. written on paper. The first contains 119 leaves, of which 58—117 are blank. At the beginning is the writer's name, thus—"Fui ex libris Johannis Bookeri."

- I. 1. "The use of John Regiomontanus his Tables, translated into English" by JOHN BOOKER. f. 2—18.

The printed Latin text from which this translation is made, may be found in No. 449, signatures β 2—η 2. (Aug. Vindel. 1552, 4^o.)

2. "The longitude and latitude of some places in England." 18.

3. "To find the oblique descensions." 19^b.

4. "A rule to find the circle of position, and the use thereof in directions etc." 19^b.

5. "The use of Regiomontanus Tables, explained by Mr. Breden, and exemplified by Mr. Pooles nativity." 20—8.

The latter part of this title was attempted to be obliterated with ink. The figures on the nativity of "Wm. Poole nat. ♂ 31 Decemb. 1577" are at f. 24 and 28.

6. "Observations on directions." 28^b.
7. "The generall way to find the circle of position." 28^b.
8. "A table to æquate the ✕ and Δ aspects of y^e stars or planets:" with a rule and example. 29.
9. "A table for the revolutions of nativities etc." 29^b.
10. "A table to æquate the tyme in revolutions etc." 30.
11. "A canon or precept to finde the hower of any aspect in the Ephemerides, if in case they should be misprinted or left out." 30^b.
12. "A table shewing what tyme doth answere in minutes and seconds of the equator in the ordinary way of the directions when one degree gives a yeare." 31.
13. "A table to finde when the profecion of any significator doth happen, in degrees and minutes." 31.
14. "To finde the place of the aspects of the planets or starrs." 31^b.
15. "A table of the principall starrs unto w^{ch} the planetts are usually directed, calculated for the yeare 1650." 32.
16. "A table of the meane motion of the fixed stars." 32^b.
17. "To finde the oblique descension of any planet or star." 33.
18. "A generall table for the heavenly motions of the sun, moone, and planets." 34.
19. "A table of degrees resolved into minutes, and of minutes reduced into degrees." 34.
20. Figure on the nativity of Charles Hotham, gent. (12 May, 1615). 35^b.
21. "The most excellent and true way of direction of all the significators in a nativity, invented by the learned and accurate mathematician JOHN KEPLER, as in his Sportula Genethliacis missa, in tabulis Rudolphinis, pag. 124." 36—48.
Subscribed thus—"Hæc script' in diem ♀ Aprilis 7. hor. merid. 1652. finit' per JOHANNEM BOOKERUM." He translated this article.
22. "Tabula mensuræ annuæ in directionibus." 49.
23. "Motus diurnus solis:" seu "Prior" et "Posterior tabula conversionis graduum et minuto- rum in annos pro directionibus." 50, 51.
24. "The arch of the æquator for the revolution of the sun, converted into tyme." etc. 51^b.
25. "An excellent table for the findeing out [of] the revolution of the sun in a nativity or other radix" etc. with description of its use, a figure on the entrance of ☉ into ♀ 1659, and a "Speculum pro hoc anno." 52^{ab}.
26. "Yeares of revolution in howers and minutes etc. to be added every yeare after the radix." Also "Tabula verior." 53.
27. "The apparent tyme of the sun's ingresse into the 4 cardinall signes in the yeare 1651, w^{ch} is the radix as Mr. Jeremy Shakerley hath it in his Almanack for that yeare, for London 51.32." 53^b.

28. "Tabula verissima pro revolutionibus." 54.
29. Tabulæ duæ ad ostendendum, per lunæ locum, quantum temporis fuerit in utero natus. 55—7.

All the rest of this MS. is blank, save the last leaf but one, which contains these articles written invertedly.

30. "To make Crocus ♂^{vis}: or ferri." 118^b.
31. The manner of making counterfeit gold—"The work of a Moore and coppersmith in Barbary, most rare and excellent. Cœlato tibi." 118^b.
32. "A greate secret in transmuting of ☽ into perfect ☉ that will hold all trials." 118.
33. The preparation of "Mr. Richard Mathews or George Starkeyes pill." 118.

"This I had from Mr. Pratt in Houndsditch, in that note concerning Mr. Mathews pill. The receipt whereof followes, written by Mr. Mathews."

II. "Progymnasma de Primo Mobili: whereby all propositions concerning directions are wrought generally for all latitudes by the doctrine of triangles. Wth particuler Tables serving exactly for the latitudes of London, Warwicke and Yorke, and indifferently for all other places in the world declininge from either of their elevations but one degree towards the north or south, wth Instructions for the calculation of the like tables for any other latitude. By WILLIAM ALUERED Philo- mathematicum."

The title-page is thus subscribed—"Imprimatur: 160: Sep- tembris 1650. Jo: Booker." This work was dedicated in Latin to John Fetherstone, John Sanders, and Will. Fetherstone, esquires, of the Inner Temple, "Ex Museo nostro Halesowenæ Aprilis 5^{to} 1650." On the fourth and fifth pages is an address "To the courteous reader," which is followed by a view of the contents, (viz. "The [24] propositions to be performed by these tables," and a list of "The Tables." On the 8th page is an original Latin poem "Ad authorem," subscribed "ROB. LLOYD." (vv. 15.) The work itself is neatly written on 111 quarto pages, as for the press.

III. "A Treatise of the perpetual Planetary Wheele and the use thereof, chiefly how to find out the places of the planets according to the Lansbergian manner, and how to make the figure of heaven, and also the directions, yet observing the latitude according to the rationall way. By SILVIUS PHILOMANTIUS. To the most illustrious Lord Paul Francis Falconieri. In Bononia 1646. By James Monti. Licenced by au- thoritie."

This work is boldly and neatly written on 117 pages, beside 5 leaves containing the title, dedication, preface, and contents. After p. 118 (which is blank) is inserted a large folded sheet, thus headed—"A forme to calculate the true places of the planets, at the time supposed in the 15th canon, viz. the Gregorian current 1598 y^e 13th of May, viz. the 3^d according to the old stile, h. 17 m. 48 p. m." etc. (p. 119.) The handwriting of this translation is not unlike Booker's.

No. 349.

I. The former of the two MSS. that compose this quarto volume, is neatly written in a hand of the time of Henry VIII., and consists of 52 leaves of paper. On the first page is written "John Har-risonne is my name," and on the last—"James Chrispe owe this."

A treatise of the science and practice of Astrology, compiled and translated from Alcabitius, Hali, and other old authors. f. 2—49^b.

The first paragraph is—"Whoso wyll take ony greate journye or to do onye medycyn or to let bloude. here thou muste se in what syne that the mone is in and how she taketh her corse here after in thys tretys of the sygnes is wrytten. But here of these maters he maye knowe shortlye." The last paragraph is thus headed—"Whether ye theinge gone man or beast be it in towne or gone oute therof." An old circular diagram, showing the nature of the aspects, is pasted on f. 1^b as a frontispiece.

II. A MS. containing 133 leaves of paper, the first 69 whereof are written in a small running hand. On the cover of the first page is a note by Booker, partly in short-hand, showing that he received it "Ex dono M^{ri} Gosse" (who was probably the writer) 28 . . . 1643.

"Of the 12 Houses. The first house or angle of the east." f. 1.

"Finis 12 domorum." The following leaf contains a title-page (curiously written in Roman letters and flourished) belonging to the treatise to which the foregoing article is only introductory.

"The Booke of Judicials for severall Astrological Questions: collected Maij 16th: Anno Domini 1614. Londonis." 2—69^b.

On the back of the title is—"The Prayer to be sayd befor erecting the figure." The latter part of this work consists of astrological aphorisms, intitled—"Questions in astronomye oute of divers authors collected" (f. 56^b), whose names are added to the paragraphs.

After this MS. came into Booker's possession, he inserted the following articles on some of the blank leaves, which are in the proportion of half of the book.

1. Good counsayle* in ryme. Gett thy goodes trulye, etc. (11 l.) 70.

* This is the title of the same ryme on the last page of Roger Bieston's "Bayte and snare of Fortune," printed in black letter by John Wayland. (Folio, B. v. 17, Art. Seld.) In this MS. are some variations from the print, and it is subscribed in paler ink, "J. Booker, Philomathes."

2. "De latronis significatore," et "De parte collectionis sive rerum perditarum quæ est 4^{ta} pars 2^{dæ} domus:" e Guidone Bonato. 71.

3. "A medicine for the toothach—for ye cough, —[and] for deafenes." 73.

4. "Three sort[s] of oyntments to heale any scald or burning wth any thinge what soever." 73, 74.

5. "A playster w^{ch} will heale wth out any payne, any wrenched or broken arme, hand, legg, foote or joynt, and all sorts of bruises." 74.

6. "A medicine for ye cornes in ye toes etc." 74.

7. Receipts "To make black inck" and red ink. 75.

8. "The order for directions: [first] of the ascend-ant." 129^b—131.

No. 350.

A quarto volume, consisting of eight MSS. written on paper. The first has been foliated to the number of 16 leaves, but there are not any marked 10 and 11.

I. The nativity of "a gentlewoman" (born 6 Nov.

1617) calculated and discoursed on by ELIAS ASHMOLE, esq. in the year 1643. f. 2—14.

II. A lady's "Nativity, calculated by Mr. EDMUND CARRANT, mercer," in 1651; the radix whereof is set at "☉ 6 Aprill 1617, 14 heures 2' post merid." f. 3—21.

The author's name is written by the same neat hand as the MS. on f. 3^b. The native is noted (below the figures, f. 3) to have been "married 20. 7 mens." The MS. consists of 30 leaves.

III. Super genesi cujusdam generosi, nati 30 Dec. 1589 vel. 1590, libellus prognosticatorius, anno 1611 confectus. 3^b—21^b.

This MS. is neatly written, and consists of 44 leaves, many of which being blank, at the end are inserted the following—

Figures on nativities of the Lenox family:—

La Madre (28 June, . . .). 40.

Elizabeth (17 July, 1610). 41.

James Lenox (6 Apr. 1612), four figures with calculations. 41^b—2.

Henry (13 Jan. 1615). 43.

Lodovick (14 Oct. 1619). 44.

IV. Animadversions on the scheme of the nativity of "Grand Steward Pembroke" set by Mr. Allen of Oxford; with a corrected scheme (8 Apr. 1588). f. 2—5^b.

Written by a learned hand: ff. 8.

V. Nativity of a gentleman (born 17 Oct. 1623), "Calculated by Mr. CARRANT 1648," with judgements to the year 1678. f. 3—28^b.

The author's name is noted by Ashmole at f. 2^b. The book consists of 48 leaves.

VI. "A Recitall of the coelestiall apparitions of this present Trigon now in being, written by Sr CHRISTOPHER HEYDON Knight." f. 1—12^b.

This is the neatest copy of this (formerly) much esteemed tract (ff. 14), and the identical copy referred to by Ashmole in his note on the first leaf of Mr. Backhouse's copy (No. 242, f. 60), as having been bought out of the study of Mr. Richard Saunders, whose name is also in MS. viii. of this volume. See the notes on No. 242, art. 9, and No. 313.

VII. "The Description and Use of his Maties Dials in White-hall Garden." 2—24^b.

On one block of stone more than 4 feet square, and 3³/₄ feet high, were set 5 dials "on the upper part," one at each corner, and one horizontally. This MS. is a very neat transcript of a curious tract written in the year 1623 (see f. 3^b), having this subscription—"These and such like are the use[s] of these dials. If to[o] obscurely delivered, your Lordship may command the Author."

VIII. W. LILLY's calculations and judgements on the genethliacal and profecional figures of a gentleman born 8 Aug. 1629; composed in 1650. f. 4—38.

F. 3 is a folded leaf (containing a printed form) headed "Speculum Squir Finch," whose the nativity seems therefore to be. On the first leaf is the autograph of "Richard Saunders:" see the note on MS. vi. This consists of 74 leaves, and half is blank.

No. 351.

There is not any book in the Library marked with this number. That which is described in Lhuyd's catalogue as No. 351, is properly No. 1352, a small block-book printed and written on vellum; which see.

No. 352.

A quarto MS. consisting of 22 leaves of paper, neatly (but, as may be seen in the following title, incorrectly) written in the XVIth century.

“Liber de furtivis literarum notis, JOHANNIS BAPTISTA PORTA Neapolitanus, redacta in breviora methodo quum dictus Baptista fecit.” 3—22^b.

On the first page is “Synopsis clandestini scripti.” This work is a very curious treatise on various kinds of cyphers and secret writing: one of the examples, being a letter dated 1560, shows about what time it was composed.

In Lhuys’s catalogue (No. 6619) it is said that a copy of this tract is in No. 434, but no such article is now in that volume, unless that by Trithemius on the same subject were so described by mistake. The present MS. is not mentioned there.

No. 353.

A thick quarto volume, containing thirteen original MSS. of different sizes; from which the editions of Lilly’s almanacs were printed.

I. The Calendar and monthly “Observations” of LILLY’S Almanac, for the year 1659. f. 1—24.

Lilly’s own printed copy is in No. 249, iv.

II. The like for 1661, August to December. 25—38.

No. 264, i.

III. The like for 1667, including all the planetary tables. 39—63.

Subscribed thus—“Licensed Octob: 16. 1666. Roger L’Estrange.” 63^b. See No. 593, ii.

IV. The like for 1668, also complete. 64—103.

No. 593, iii.

V. Also for 1669. f. 105—129.

No. 593, iv.

VI. — 1670. f. 130—154.

No. 593, v.

VII. — 1671. f. 155—179.

“Licensed Septembr. 26. 1670.” f. 155. No. 603, i.

VIII. — 1672. f. 180—204.

No. 603, ii.

IX. — 1673. f. 205—229.

No. 603, iii.

X. — 1674. f. 230—254.

“Licensed Sept. 20: 73. Roger L’Estrange.” f. 230. No. 603, iv.

XI. — 1675. f. 255—279.

“Licensed Octobr ye 24, 1674. Ro: L’Estrange.” f. 255. Indorsed on f. 280^b. “Mr. Lilly’s copy for the year 1675.” No. 603, v.

XII. — 1676. f. 281—305.

No. 617, i.

XIII. “Mr. WILLIAM LILLIES Ephemeris and astrologiciall observacōns for ye yeare 1677.” 306—330.

“Licensed Sept. 28. 1676. Ro: L’Estrange.” No. 617, ii.

No. 354.

A quarto volume, containing 197 leaves, neatly written in pages ruled with red lines, which pages were numbered by the author.

I. “S. FORMAN de Arte Geomantica. 1589.” (pp. 297.) f. 5—170.

This general title is written on f. 3; the work itself begins at f. 5, (p. 1, after one supernumerary page containing a rule “to bring thy figur geomanticall into a figur astronomicall,”) by explaining the nature of Geomancy, and ascribing its invention to Adam and Isaiah. This MS. was “inceptum die 28 Sept. ☉ a m’ at 7.” In the chapters on the various applications of this art, are imbodyed many stories illustrating and proving the geomantical figures which the author had set in the course of his practice: which real incidents are valuable, and add to the curiosity of this volume. There is an Index of the chapters at the end, after the following articles written in the vacant part of the book.

2. The art of divining by the letters of persons’ names; beginning thus—

“This is a Ruele of my devise

Howe thou shalte knowe yf thou be wise

Thy frind from foe for to discerne

[and 11 other lines] S. FORMAN.” 174—7^b, 182^b—7.

3. “Ad sciendum loca planetarum in signis et gradibus” (inc. Cum volueris scire loca), “De vero loco lune,” et “Tabula ad sciendum diem in quo gradu signi est luna:” etiam “De declinatione solis.” 178—182, 186.

4. “The movings and places of all the planets are known by the place and moving of ye ☉. Ex Cardano.” 189.

5. Extracts from the Sphæra of Johannes de Sacro Bosco, partly translated into English. 189^b—197^b.

6. “Tabula” seu index rerum tractatarum in libro superiori de arte Geomantica. 198^{ab}.

No. 355.

A quarto volume, containing 430 pages well written (partly in columns) and ruled with red ink. This title is prefixed:—

“Liber Juditiorum Morborum secundum cursus cælorum et astrorum, factus per SIMONEM FORMAN secundum experientiam suam 1600. pro seculo futuro.”

This title is subscribed—“Simon Forman D. in Astronomy and phisick.” The work is in English, and begins by treating “Of Bloode,” and of the four humors or complexions, arranging the materia medica under those five heads: then it treats of the positions of the planets in the signs, and their supposed influences on the human frame; and concludes with a collection of recipes and remedies peculiar to the author, the first of which is, “Our stronge water againste the stone and plague after the beste manner,” consisting of no fewer than 57 ingredients. Beyond these the work has no great curiosity, as it does not seem to contain any facts. There is an “Index” of subjects on the last 3 pages.

No. 356.

A quarto volume, containing seven MSS. on paper. The first consists of 60 leaves, and is written in a bold and coarse hand, as for the press.

I. “Καρολοσκοπειων,” or the Nativity of Charles, son of Charles, calculated according to rules; for satisfaction of all those that desire to know the future estate and condition of the present King of Scots; wherein as in a speculum they may behold what begin[n]ing, processe and ending he will make. Calculated by N[ATHANIELL] S[PARKE] a well-wisher to the mathematicks and art of astrology. Verbum et opera Jehovæ meditabor." pp. 80.

Over against this title is a frontispiece containing a small circular portrait (cut from an engraved print) surrounded with this legend—"The true effigies of Charles Stuart the King of Scots;" above which is an eye with this motto—Θεὸς ἔχει ἐκδικῶν ὄμμα; below are 5 couplets, beginning—Who ere thou beest this picture dost behold. f. 1^b.

This title is followed by a dedication "To the worthy and expert mathematician Mr. George Atwell" (the author's father-in-law), f. 3;—"The preface to the reader," f. 4;—an epigram of twelve lines on an anagram of Booker's name ("Hire no book"), addressed "To the worthy and renowned astronomer Mr. John Booker," f. 5^b;—and an address "To the non-intelligent reader." f. 6.

Opposite to the figure set on the first page of the work, is fixed a paper (f. 6^b) containing another figure set by Booker. The author's postscript to this curious treatise (the calculations wherein extend to 1670) contains "A view or examination of Charles the first his Nativity," p. 76—80. The work was partly composed three years before this MS. was completed, the time of which appears from an original—

Letter (in Latin) from NATH^{LL} SPARKE "To his worthy freind Mr. John Booker at his house in Creech-church lane," dated London, 6 Feb. 1651—2. (f. 47—8^b.)

Inserted after p. 80.

II. "Sir William Wittypooole's Nativity" (6 Apr. 1596) calculated by LILLY, 24 Aug. 1653*; with judgements to the "annus fatalis" 1660. (ff. 22.)

* This is the date subscribed at f. 20; a postscript is written on the 2 next pages. On the first page of the MS. is this note:—"Ex dono Guil: Lilly, 27 Nov: 1657. 9^b. A: M: E. Ashmole." by whom also the title was written.

III. Astrologi cujusdam doctissimi, in Arthuri Dee nativitatem "Præloquium" et brevis "Elaboratio;" simul et "Canones aliquot Origanî de directionibus." (ff. 5.)

This MS. is not unlike Sir Richard Napier's neatest writing. The first leaf, on which it is most likely that the horoscope was drawn, is torn out. The native's name can therefore be only conjectured from the following note written by Ashmole at the end:—"1579. July 17 Arthurus Dee natus puer mane hora 4. m. 30. fere, vel potius 25 m. in ipso ortu solis, ut existimo. This note I transcribed out of Dr. John Dee's ephemerides, where he had entred it with his owne hand."—namely in No. 487.

IV. "Mr. Coffin's Nativity, who married* the Lord Richardson's widdow, son to Chief Justice Richardson" (3 Feb. 1615—6); calculated by LILLY in 1646; with judgements to the year 1672. (ff. 12.)

* 17 Feb. 1646, as it appears among some accidents noted on f. 1^b, where it is said that his "father died Aug. 1628." The title is by Ashmole's hand.

V. Tractatus astrologicus super "Genitura Philippi Sydnei, nati anno 1554, mense Novemb. die 29." (etc.) per D. JOHANNEM DEE compositus, ut videtur. (ff. 34.)

The name of the author of this curious tract is conjectured from its exact resemblance to his hand-writing, and its evident appearance of being an original MS. Over the figure is written this note by a hand almost contemporary—"Liber Francisci Sydneij adis Christi, ex dono Edoardi Janies eiusdem adis alumni."

VI. A discourse on the genethliacal scheme of "Mr. John M. natus Sept. 8—1600," and a figure of the revolution of his nativity in 1622; by the rev. RICHARD NAPIER. f. 3—22.

VII. A discourse on "The nativity of [a merchant born 7 July, 1616*] sometyme Clarke to the East Indian Company;" with judgements for the years 1638—62. f. 1^b—23^b.

* The blank left for the name in the title written by Ashmole at the beginning of this MS. is here filled up from the figure at f. 3. The handwriting somewhat resembles LILLY's early writing.

No. 357.

The greater bulk of this quarto volume (ff. 71—178) is a MS. written in the middle of the XIVth century, on thick paper of the most antient appearance, with a few leaves of vellum inserted. Ff. 27—38 are of the same kind; and the other parts consist of different kinds of antient paper, as they are written by different hands. The signatures show that these valuable mathematical tracts were formed into a volume (to the amount of 216 leaves) early in the XVth century.

1. Carmen de arte computandi per digitos, auctore AMANO*: inc. Computus est talis proprie dictus Manualis. f. 1—5.

* See art. 4. The last words are—"Anno bisexti vult una [dies] superaddi. Explicit computus." The second leaf seems to be lost.

2. Disticha xii ad festos dies mensis cujusque memoria tenendos: inc. Cisio Janus epi. sibi vendicat hi. fe. man. mar. am. 5^{ab}.

Compare those in No. 342, f. 52 and f. 141^b. These verses are also incorporated into art. 4 of this MS., f. 15^b—16^b.

3. A puzzle, in French; beg. ij conques vocult a prendre adescanter. 6.

4. Commentarius in carmen quod est dictum 'Computarius in carmen quod est dictum' inc. Computus. Iste est liber compoti AMANI in quo ipse Amanus nobis metricè ostendit inventionem quinque festorum mobilium secundum cursum solis et lune. 7—26^b.

It ends, with the last line of art. 1. (which is the text of this commentary) and this rubric, "Explicit Computus."

5. "Incipit liber introductorius ABDIRASI .i. gloriosi servi Dei qui dicitur ALKABICIUS ad magisterium Judiciorum astrorum; cum Dei laude et ejus auxilio translatus a JOHANNES HISPANIENSIS. Postulata a Domino prolixitate vite Ceiphadala. i. gladij regni." 27—52^b.

After f. 46, four leaves have been cut out, and half of the last line has been erased to make the words join with the MS. immediately following, which is a continuation of the same treatise to the end. (Compare f. 29^c of the very antient copy in No. 369.) This latter part is written in a thick letter with pale ink; and ends with this colophon:—"Perfectus est liber introductorius ABDARIS .i. servi gloriosi qui dicitur Alkabist ad magisterium judiciorum astrorum cum laude Dei et adjutorio. Interpretatus a Johanne Hispanensi."

6. "Incipiunt amphorismi astronomici. Domino Manfredo inclito Regi Cecilie STEPHANUS DE MESSANA hos flores de scientijs astronomie domini HERMETIS transtulit. Dixit Hermes quod sol et luna post dominum omnium vivencium vita sunt multorum. Propositio prima." 53—7^b.

"Explicit tractatus de Judiciis 100 propositionum." Another antient hand added—"Explicit flores domini Hermetis tergesti crisora theostenes." The title "Hermetis aphorismi astron: interprete Stephano de Messana" has been written by a more modern hand at the beginning.

7. De numeris quadratis annotatio: inc. Omnis numerus cubicus multiplicatus in se. 57^b.

8. "Isti sunt libri astronomie quos transtulit GERARDUS CREMONENSIS de Arabico in Latinum." Numero duodecim. 57^b.

9. "Incipit liber amphorismorum RASIS;" seu "Incipiunt capitula ALMANSORIS. Signorum dispositio est ut dicam." 58—63^b.

The former title is superscribed by a hand as antient as the other. The tract consists of "100" and of "36" sentences.

10. "Incipiunt notabilia ALMANSORIS ana hominis usque ad 132^{as}. Qui emerit faciat ab aquario in leonem." 63^b—7.

At the end—"Hec almansoris," and by a later hand—"explicit amphorismi de astrorum judicijs" and some notes on the lords of houses.

11. "Centiloquium BETEM. Nunc inchoabo librum de consuetudinibus et judicijs stellarum. Primo scias quod plancte quando sunt." 67^b—69^b.

This tract consists of 100 sentences written continuously (not separately as art. 9), and ends thus—"Explicit centiloquium bethem."

12. De hyleg notationes quaedam. "Secundum Alkabicium in introductorio suo." 70.

Written on a blank leaf by the same less antient hand as the notes before mentioned.

13. "Incipit undecimus [liber] EUCLIDIS. Corpus est quod longitudinem et latitudinem et altitudinem habet." 71—5^b.

14. "Incipit epistola AMETI filii Joseph' de proportionem et de proportionalitate. Jam respondi tibi ut scias quod quesivisti." 76—90^b.

The diagrams of this mathematical tract are drawn on the margins, as in the foregoing article. It ends thus—"est sufficiens natura et tutor bonus. Finit epistola Ameti filij Josep de proportionem et de proporcional[ta]te."

15. "Tractatus de radiis et umbris et alijs ad perpectivam pertinentibus. Oportet postquam optatum complere artes doctrinales." 91—6^b.

It seems to be imperfect at the end, these being the last words—cum tabula transite per lineas u et, with a diagram on the lower margin. It ends on a full quire, and the next article begins on a vellum leaf, inserted in the XVth century to fill up the imperfection of its beginning. Beside the diagrams drawn on the margins and in the text of this tract, there are some inserted on small schedules, or pieces of parchment, bound in between the leaves; namely, after f. 110, 114 (this is a large piece of paper having part of the draught of some index on one side), 118, 165, 169 (paper), and after 173 and 174 are two in each place.

16. "Liber JEBERI continens tractatus novem [de scientia forme motuum solis et lune et stellarum et cognicionis orbium earum"]. Scientia species habet, quarum melior post scienciam fidei." 97—178^b.

In the beginning of this work are many remarks on the books of Ptolemæus, Theodosius, and Milius. The number of each of these nine tracts or books is usually noted on the corner of the leaves; and the MS. ends imperfectly in the last of them thus:—Invenit ergo stellam veneris quando est in longitudine longior orb' revolutionis elongari. The catchword is partly cut off.

17. "Clarissimi astrorumque doctissimi viri Magistri PETRI DE MONTE ALCINO Judicium in anno Domini .1419^o. feliciter incipit. Philosophorum doctissimus Aristoteles cupiens de moribus et civili scientia tradere doctrinam in ethicis." 179—184^b.

In the end of a curious prologue, the author calls himself—"Ego Petrus quondam Bernardi de monte alcino astrologorum minimus." The colophon is—"Clarissimi astrorumque [etc. ut ante]: Judicium explicit. Anno domini Millesimo quadringentesimo decimo nono." The year is 1419—20; the predictions chiefly relate to the Italian states. This is probably the same person whose death is thus recorded in the chronicle of Mathæus Palmerius Florentinus, an. 1457:—"Petrus de monte venetus, Brixiensis præsul, vir suæ ætatis humanæ divinæque sapientiæ insignis, Romæ moritur, suæ doctrinæ opere relicto." (In calce chron. Eusebiani, Venet. 1483, 40.)

18. "Judicium ejusdem. Anno domini. 1421^o. incompleto. Si animadverto, viri hoc nostrum judicium inspecturi." 185—191.

The last words are—Avertat igitur sublinis Deus a nobis futura mala et demum perducant nos ad felicitatem eternam qui vivit per infinita secula benedictus. Amen.

19. PETRI quondam BERNHARDI DE MONTE ALCINOCA, Judicium astrologicum de anno 1430 incompleto. 192—205^b.

This MS. is written in a different hand from articles 17 and 18; namely, in a large running hand, with wide margins. It ends thus—"per infinita secula seculorum. Amen. Et sic est finis." Much old scribbling is on the last page, and down the margin of f. 195 is written part of a Latin letter of thanks, without a name.

20. Ejusdem (ut videtur) Judicia astrologica ad annum 1448: inc. Mundi parens primus dum subhunnaria. 206—216.

This MS. seems to have been the author's first fair copy, with his corrections. The 4 last pages are not quite filled, and seem to have been written more hastily than the rest. There is no title; nor does the author's name appear in the prologue; but the writing resembles the first of these three MSS., which contains art. 17 and 18. On the first leaf is written by an antient hand—

A short Terrar of parcels amounting to 581 acres; wherein these names occur: Gwylelmus Cowle, 40 acr'. þ^e kanche in Minikyn inarsch, 60 acr'. Hungerford, 12 acres. Ceeyley Combe, 16 acres." 216.

No. 358.

A quarto volume, containing nine MSS. written on paper. The first was written in the latter part of the XVIIth century, and consists of 92 leaves, the 2 first and 2 last of which are not numbered.

- I. A treatise of Meteors, in five parts; the last whereof treats of stones and minerals.

Prefixed is a dedication (pp. 3.) to some "righte worshipfull" person, on new-year's day; subscribed with the initials of the author's name, only one of which ("W") now remains, the corner of the leaf having been rubbed off. On the last leaf but one is "a table contayneing ye contentes of this booke in which page [or leaf] you may fynde any thinge therin contayned."

II. "Aurora Sapientia. That is to saie the Daie-break of Wisdome. Of the three principles and beginning of all in the mysterie of wisdome, in which the ground and key of all wisdome is laid open, directing to the true understanding of God, of man, and of the whole world, in a new and true tri-une wisdome, Physisophie, Theologie, and Theosophie: tending to the honour of God, the revelation of the true wisdome, and to the service of the sixt Church att Philadelphia. By Her Minister called by the grace of God to beare witness of God and of Jesus Christ. Printed in the yeare 1629." (pp. 50.)

After a motto from "Esai. 43, v. 18, 19" on p. 2, and a fanatical preface on p. 3, is a view of the matter which "In this little booke is handled," giving the titles of 21 chapters, which are printed in Lhuyd's Catalogue, No. 8103, where the MS. is most unreasonably attributed to Dr. John Dee.

"Letters to some good frends." p. 41—50.

These seven letters are addressed—"To George J." and others, whose surnames are not set down. The last is subscribed "Your servant and brother F. known in the grace of God."

A fragment of an original letter, written by the same neat hand as this MS., has been accidentally preserved between the leaves (and is now fixed on one of the 2 blank leaves following p. 52), having this subscription—"Youre truly loving freind Ro: AYSHFORD. [dated at] Ayshford the 27th. of Aprill 1629." This probably was the name of the pretended prophet who was the author of these fanatical compositions.

III. Medici cujusdam arcana scriptis revelata: scilicet—

"In Podagra duplici hoc laudano uti soleo, altero laxativo, anodyno altero: formula laxativi hæc est"—f. 1.

"Quod a viro quodam totius Germaniæ doctissimo summi arcani loco habui, ut testis est D. Bosseuetus." f. 1.

"Oleum mirabile contra Podagram." 1^b.

"Soleo quoque libenter uti his quæ sequuntur quoties parata habeo." scilicet—

"Primo Balsamo sequenti." 2.

"Sedatio doloris in causa calida." 2.

"Nodorum a podagra solutio." 2^b.

"Confectio sinapis ad stomachum corroborandum." 2^b.

"Ad fluxum album muliebrem." 2^b.

"Extractum pillularum impediendum vomitum præcipitati et florum antimonii." 3.

"Extractio catholica purgans omnes humores." 3.

"Dilutum ☿ 1e." 3^b.

"Oleum ♂." 3^b.

"Ad dissolvendum grumos lactis." 4.

"Ad refrigerandum inflammatas mamillas." 4.

"Oleum Saxonis contra podagram." 4.

"De auro potabili" et "Modus parandi." 4—5^b.

This MS. was written in the latter part of the XVIth century, and is subscribed thus—כתיבתי.

IV. Traectatus de Auro potabili, et usibus Auri in medicina. (ff. 20.)

It begins imperfectly with these words—neant etc. Non est verum. The first paragraph begins thus,—Tertium quesitum est Si verum est etc. The last words are—et iterum crescere non permittit. Finis. with this subscription, "Lafertæ 1566." The handwriting is not unlike Dr. Forman's.

V. "*Philatros and Pyrosophilus; or Helmont disguised: contayneing sondry meetings or discourses full of rarities, about Fevers, the Stone, the Plague, the 4. Humors etc. succeedinge this introductive dialogue, intimatinge a further inquirie into Physick." f. 1.

"Humbly dedicated and exhibited to all good magistrates whom it concerns to looke as well unto the Lyves of the subject as Lawes and Lyberties which depend thereon: to be recommended to our universities and colleges for serious examination, refutation, and vindication of theyr honour; or for reformation." f. 1^b.

This MS. consists of 20 leaves, the second and last of which are blank. This curious dialogue is neatly written and corrected by the author, as if for publication: the following MS. is wholly written in the same coarse hand as the corrections.

VI. 1. "The first flight of Mercurius Medicus out of Germanie into Great-Britaine with the packet followinge." (f. 1.) Or—"An introductive Dialogue to a further inquirie into Physick. Interlocutors, Agitator a movinge or inquisitive scholar (Iatrophilus), and Benevolus a well-willinge teacher. (Pyrosophilus.)" f. 2.

This tract is dedicated as the foregoing, and consists also of 20 leaves, the last of which is blank. Compare No. 1499, i—viii.

VII. Three books of Natural Magic, by ELIAS ASHMOLE, esq. (pp. 108.)

The first book treats of the nature of the human soul and body (p. 1—38), the second consists of "An hundred aphorismes cont[ain]ninge the whole body of naturale Magicke, beinge ye key to open yt wch goeth before and yt wch followeth after." (p. 33), and the third treats of the practice of Magnetical Physic. (p. 49.) On the first blank leaf is the following note by Ashmole—"A Booke cald Heldenschaft, and made by one at Francofurt upon Odor, hath many rare secrets in it." In Lhuyd's catalogue this is given as the title of the present MS. though there is internal evidence that Ashmole was the author as well as the writer of it; for at p. 89 are these words—"When about 2 years ago I was with † my ever honored freind Sr Edmond Stafford were with D'cor Fludd at his house, and there grew some discourse upon this argument amongst us." The former of these persons was related to Ashmole.

VIII. "A Booke of Rec[e]jpts for Wines: and first for Saks." f. 2—27.

On f. 1 is written the author's name, thus—"Octo. 4^{the}. ORLANDO FOX Vintner, his booke, 1659." The same year may be seen in the running title of f. 3. It is for the most part written on alternate pages, and contains many curious things.

IX. 1. "Anno 1654. The heads of severall Ingeniuties and Discoveries since my printed Papers." f. 1—5^b.

These are chiefly agricultural projects and practices.

2. A large design for breeding Rabbits in great numbers. 10^b—14.

3. "Concerning Turnippes." 14—17.

4. "A coppie of a letter from a friend concerninge Clover-grass." 18.

5. "Another letter from a friend concerninge Esperate or Clover-grass." 19.

6. "Another's report"—twice. 19^b.

7. On "Trefoyle." 20.

This curious little MS. is neatly written, and seemingly by Ashmole's hand: ff. 20^b—31^b are blank.

* The medical works of John Baptist van Helmont were published by his son, and printed by Lud. Elzevir, in 1649, 4^o.

† Read and for was with.

No. 359.

A quarto volume, containing four MSS. on paper.

- I. "Merlini Anglici Ephemeris: or Astrological Judgments for the year 1678. By WILLIAM LILLY student in astrology." (ff. 43.)

This (as also every other MS. in this volume) is the complete copy of his almanack for the year, containing both the judgements (pp. 32) and the calendar, which is on larger paper, f. 19—23. It is certified at the beginning as "Licensed W: Jane, Sept. 1677." Lilly's own printed copies of this and the two following books are in No. 617, iii. iv. v.: but the edition of the fourth MS. does not appear to be in this Library.

- II. "Merlini," etc. "for the year 1679." (ff. 40.)
"Licensed W: Jane."

- III. "Merlini," etc. for the year 1680. (ff. 40.)

- IV. "Merlini," etc. for the year 1681. (ff. 42.)

No. 360.

A quarto volume, containing eight MSS. bound together. Prefixed are two leaves of vellum, as fly-leaves, containing two documents cut at the right side, which is bound toward the upper margin.

- (1.) Letters of frater Johannes gardianus receiving Richard Ghonge (or Young) and Marjory his wife, into a fraternity. Dated in the epiphany, 1450.
(2.) Letters of frater Ni receiving John Claxtone and Matild his wife, into a fraternity. Dated at Colchester

- I. The first MS. (to which those leaves seem to have been covers) consists of 12 leaves of vellum, written about the year 1300, chiefly in a small hand in columns.

1. Tractatus de arithmetica, inc. Algorismus secundum quosdam nomen inventoris hujus artis est. 3—4^d.

Toward the end of this tract are five rules in verse, beg. Articulum si per rem vis multiplicare.

2. "Ecc' hec tabula ostendit duccionem cujusunque digiti semel in se et in alium." 4^d.

This is the common multiplication-table of the 9 digits (see No. 340, f. 72), and the following is another square table of roots and cubes.

3. "Hec tabula ostendit duccionem cujusunque digiti in se vel alium cubice." 4^{cd}.

4. Carmen de arithmetica, cum scholiis: inc. Hec algorismus ars presens dicitur in qua. 5—10^b.

This poem is in a text letter, and has rubrics interspersed. It ends thus—"Si par per medium tunc multiplicato propinquum. Explicit algorismus" This last verse is the 29th from the end in No. 1522, f. 7.

5. Tractatus de arithmetica, seu commentarius in carmen præcedens: inc. Dicente Boetio in principio arsmetricæ sue. 11—14^d.

In fine—"est summa tocius progressionis. Expliciunt notule Algorismi cum textu precedente."

- II. A MS. closely written on paper, in the XVth century; containing 45 leaves, beside the remains of 4 torn out at the end.

1. Tractatus (incipiens ita—Geomancia a geos Grece dicitur) cujus in fine colophon est iste:—"Explicit liber Geomancie compilatus per Magistrum MARTINUM HISPANUM phisicum Abbatem de Cernat' in ecclesia Burgensi quem composuit ad preces nobilis et discreti viri domini Archibaldi Abbatis sancti Asterii. ac canonici Parisiensis." 15—44.

From the third line to f. 26^b this treatise is in English, beginning—And yis science is wrought in the clereste sand.

2. An explanation of the geomantic symbols, in Latin; and a description of the properties of the first 6 houses in the geomantic figure. 44^b—5.

See f. 47. After three blank pages—

3. "Tractatus parvus de hominis dispositione. Sciendum est quod aliquis nascatur in aliqua hora dici in qua dominantur." 46^{ab}.

In fine—"seipsum declinet. Explicit hic."

4. The properties of the last 6 houses. 47.

Art. 3 was written to supply what is wanting of this; a leaf having (perhaps) been lost.

5. De planetarum naturis: inc. Saturnus est planeta masculinus. 48^{ab}.

In fine sunt isti "versus de planetis. Jubiter atque venus bene sunt, sat. marsque maligni, Sol et mercurius eum luna sunt mediores."

- III. An imperfect MS. consisting of 40 leaves of vellum and paper (in the proportion of 2 to 4) written in columns, in the XIVth century. Over the first page is written "Iste liber constat Fratri Ricardo Pole de ordine minorum."

1. "Ars et operacio novi quadrantis editi a magistro PROFACIO Marciliensi, operis utilitate et facionis facilitate omnia astronomie instrumenta (ut dicit in prologo) excedentis, et postea a PETRO DE SANCTO ADAMARO Parisiensi diligenter correcti et perfecti. Accipe igitur tabulam cream." 49—61^d.

At the end of this tract a short rubric has been erased. Between this article and the next are three lines beginning—Nota quod circumferentia circuli.

2. De questionibus et prognosticationibus astrologicis, cum "tabula facierum;" inc. Si vis signum aut stellam cujuslibet hominis cognoscere. 61^d—3^c.

3. "Hic est liber quem collegit ALBUMAZAR de floribus eorum que significant res superiores in rebus inferioribus, et quid sit in revoluzione annorum mensium et dierum. Et erat deflens hunc librum in peregrinatione posuit in eo flores rerum et cetera de hijs que elegit et placuerunt sibi. Oportet te primum scire dominum anni." 63^c—71.

In fine sic—"Et ipse est auxiliator omnium in fine seculorum. Amen. Expliciunt flores Albumazar." There is another copy in No. 369, vi.

4. Theorica Planetarum, tractatus sic inc. Circulus encentricus vel cgresse cuspidis vel cgredebilis centri qui. 71—5^c.

In fine—"et non corporaliter. Explicit Theorica planetarum de .28. mansionibus hunc." There are other copies in No. 361, art. 1, and No. 1522, art. 11. The latter part of this title belongs to the following tract, which is connected with this in the Bodleian MS. Digby 147, art. 26.

5. De xxviii mansionibus lunæ, et totidem constellationibus: inc. Prima mansio lune ab antiquis philosophis vocatur Ahnack. 75^c—9.

In fine—"In pisce graciosus et grossus. Explicit tractatus de constell."

6. "Hic incipit Capitulum. quod quilibet planeta habet in istis rebus inferioribus. Sol habet de signis arietem .i. ventrem et leonem." 78—80^b.

In fine—"vel plagam de gladio in facie sua. Explicit."

7. Tractatus de naturis planetarum et signorum astrologicus: inc. Quem gloriosissimis libris antiquorum philosophorum Mercurii et [Ph]tholomeii regum Egipti. 80^c—4^d.

In fine—"ut est hominis etc. Explicit .18. capitula de naturis .12. signorum et .7. planetarum."

8. Regulæ ad usum tabularum mediæ motus, seu almanac PROFACHI, ostendendum: inc. [C]um volueris scire loca trium superiorum planetarum. 84^d—6^d.

The almanack (which may be found in No. 369) is not in this MS.; and it seems that some leaves have been lost. Two leaves, bound between the fourth and fifth MSS. of this volume, belong to this place, and contain the two following articles.

9. "Quod hic queritur per tabulam faciliter habetur hoc modo. Hec est tabula porcionum per quam tabulam videas dies divisas per 10." etc. 113^a.

10. Prognostica de naturis hominum sub quoque signo natorum: inc. Qui fuerit natus in signo aquarij erit honoratus. 113^a—4^d, 87^a—8^d.

This tract ends imperfectly in the sign Scorpio.

IV. A MS. of the XVth century, consisting of 24 leaves of paper.

1. "Introductorium Astronomie [ALCABITIJ *]. Postulata a Domino prolixitate vite." 89—108^b.

* This name is added by another antient hand. The last words are—"et ejus adjutorio amen. Explicit hic liber introductorius Alcabizi." See No. 369, ii.

2. Tabula dicta "Termini [P]THOLOMEI." 109.

3. Regulæ tres astrologicæ, inc. Si vis scire sine omni questione quando aliqua mulier debeat impregnari. 109^{ab}.

On the first page of the 3 vacant leaves that follow, is written (beside 3 idle Latin lines) in a hand of the XVIth century—

4. A direction for playing a certain game at Cards. 110.

V. A MS. of the XVth century written on paper; consisting of 14 leaves.

GEOFFREY CHAUCER'S treatise of the Astrolabe; beg. Lytyl Lewys my sone I perseyve well be serteyn evydens thyn abylyte to leryn science. 116—128.

The last words are—"þ9 mayste þow werche fro one to twelfe, et sic finis." On the first page of this book are written—

Astrological notes by Dr. FORMAN. Nota de mutatione figurarum.—Of conjunction of figures. etc. 115.

VI. Another small MS. written on paper in the XVth century, in a close and difficult Dutch hand, having some appearance of being the author's original book.

It consisted of 12 leaves, the last four of which were blank, and three of them are torn out.

MATTHIE WOGHENORIS tractatus de memoria artificiali scholasticus, anno 1438 scriptus: incipiens ita—Memorium fecit mirabilium suorum etc. Circa tractatum de artificiali memoria 6 sunt capitula per ordinem declaranda. primum est de istius tractatus quadruplicis cause acquisitione, videlicet finali, efficiente, naturali, et formali. 129—136^b.

In fine—Completa est hec ars memorie artificiose rethorice Cantebrygge anno domini M^occc^o.xxxviij^o in f^o octavias penthecostis: per manus M. Matthie Woghenoris completa ex diversibus opuseulis confecta siquidem.

VII. A small quarto MS. consisting of 12 leaves of vellum, written in a very small and close hand of the XIIIth century, and all in columns excepting the first article.

1. Pars posterior carminis quod vocatur Massa Compoti; incipiens cum hac rubrica—"formacio tabule fungonis. Formant fungonem ferialia grammata septem." 138—140^b.

Compare the complete copy in No. 361, f. 108a, line 3 of the text. Few interlinear or marginal scholia are in this MS. It ends thus—Qua mediante potest quod queris semper haberi. Finito libro reddatur ecna magistro.

2. JOHANNIS DE SACRO BOSCO de Sphæra libellus, qui incipit sic—Tractatum de spera .4. particulis distinguimus. 141—4^b.

In fine—"aut mundana machina .j. composicio dissolvitur. Explicit tractatus speræ." On the last column are three diagrams, and on the following page is a Ptolemaic scheme of the universe, illustrating the treatise.

3. Sententiæ excerptæ ex Hieronymo, Augustino, Bernardo, Ambrosio, Chrysostomo, Gregorio, et Glossa ordinaria. 145^a—4^b.

These pious extracts seem to have given occasion to the following original—

4. Verses on the passion of our Lord Jesus, in antient English; beg. Quanne I zenke onne þe rode. quorupe one þu stode. squte ihū mi leman. (6 long lines, or 3 st. of 6.) 145^d.

5. Commentatio super ista verba—"Invisibilia Dei a creatura mundi per ea que facta sunt intellecta conspiciuntur" (Rom. i. 20.) incipiens ita—Bene dicit per ea que naturaliter intellecta conspiciuntur. 146^{ab}.

6. Postillæ in "ec^o. 4. 3." seu partem cap. 43 libri Ecclesiastici: inc. Altitud simpliciter dicta celum est et hujus firmamentum est quod firmat ipsum in subsistendi perseverancia. 146^c—8^b.

7. De imagine Dei in hominis creatione: inc. Si aliquid vellem facere ad ymaginem faciei mee. necesse haberem uti speculi beneficio. 148^{bc}.

8. "De vij horis. Quare vij. horas canit ecclesia patet si passio Domini attenditur." 148^c.

9. "De menstruo in tractatu invoc' episcopi. Attende quo cibo conceptus nutriatur in utero." 148^d.

10. Nam sepe damnatur innocens, etc. ibid.

11. Vis scire o eupide quare semper est vaeuus, etc.

12. De philosopho regem adorare nolente: inc.

Porro quidam philosophus volens illudere arrogantiam. 148^d.

13. De alio, qui mutata veste, ad regis præsentiam tandem pervenit. Cum quidam philosophus in habitu contemptibili. ib.

14. Ignis gehenne nec lignis nutritur, etc.

15. Quis non timeat iudicem potentissimum, etc.

These six passages are noted in the margin, as extracted from the same book as art. 9: which is the liber de miseria conditionis humanæ of Innocent III. from which 13 and 14 are certainly extracted: see No. 751, f. 138^d—9. The following is written at the foot of the page.

16. Notandum quod Dominus visitat hominem sicut medicus, etc. et alia sententia ex Augustino.

17. Tabula ostendens omnia festa mobilia pro duobus cyclis. 149.

This is the secunda tabula Gerlandi which is also at f. 159; but the numbers are in Roman letters here, and the 3 last columns of that table are wanting in this.

18. Ea pars carminis quod Algorismus dicitur, quæ de radicum quadratorum extractione docet: inc. Cum ducis per se numerum qui pervenit inde. 149^c—150^b.

The last line is—A dextris digitum servando prius documentum. Compare the copy in this volume, f. 8^b—10^b. On the last page are written by a hand of the XIVth century—

19. Distichon docens S. Thomam anno 1170 occubuisse. Anno millesimo. 150^c.

20. Annotationes de tempore quo SS. Franciscus (an. 1206) et Dominicus (an. 1216) ordines fratrum Minorum et Prædicatorum inceperunt, et deinde obierunt. 150^c.

VIII. A MS. written by the hand of a Roman notary, in the early part of the XIVth century; consisting of 10 leaves of vellum, somewhat damaged by age and dust.

1. Præfatio in calendarium sequens, (incip. Si per istud kalendarium,) cum tabula literarum cycli lunaris ab anno 1292 ad 1653. f. 151^{ab}.

2. "Tabula ad sciendum omni die quo gradu signi" sit luna: cum canone incip. Si per hanc tabulam locum lune. 152.

3. Calendarium ecclesiasticum et astronomicum. 152^b—8.

Though more ample than the copy in No. 1522, art. 2, and having a different preface, this calendar seems to be the work of master PETRUS DE DACIA, who is expressly named as the author of the foregoing table, in No. 1522, f. 16^b, where (however) the rule is wanting.

4. "Tabula principalis GERLANDI continens multa utilia:" cum regula incip. Si per tabulam Gerlandi que principalis dicitur. 158^b.

The same as in No. 1522, f. 15^b, but the rule there is set at the end of the preface (f. 151^b) in this copy: the following table is by the same author, and is at f. 16 of that MS.

5. "Tabula contra tabulam principalem." 159.

Compare f. 149 above: see also No. 361, f. 111.

Thus far is written in the text-hand: but besides the corrections of and additions to the preface* and calendar, in a smaller character, the following articles are written below the pages.

* Among which are these notes on the first page. "Memoria de Michael plumbarii dicti piloto . . . in mousterolo qui me truffavit bibendo meam verecundiam."—"Ego veni de Avinione prima vice. Anno d'ni .1327^o. In secunda vice Anno d'ni .1334^o."

(1) Proprietates xii signorum. "De ariete. Cum luna fuerit in ariete." 153—5.

(2) *Notæ de eclipsi solis 7 Julij 1339, de cometa in Martio et Apr. 1339, et alio in Junio Julio et Aug. 1337; de Hantonia combusta per duces Arhenensem et Admiralem eodem anno; etiam de prelio Edwardi III. apud Selusam. 155^b.

(3) *Nota de morte papæ Benedicti XII. (1342.) 156.

(4) Quicumque cursum lune recte scire voluerit, etc. 156^b.

(5) Unusquisque mensium duos in se continet dies in quibus quodque opus incipies ad bonum finem non deduces, etc. 157 et 157^b.

(6) Circuli duo sive "rotæ," ad inveniendum "litteram dominicalem et litteram bissexilem," et "aureum numerum;" incipiendo ab anno 1330. f. 158.

The like circles are at the end of the calendar of Peter de Dacia, in the Arundel MS. 20.

The last three pages of this book are filled with the following articles in the same kind of writing.—

(7) "Dominium signorum. Duodecim sunt signa." 159^b.

(8) Tabula rotunda docens quo die cujusque mensis sol in quodque signum intrat; et dominium cujusque signi; una cum cautione super "flebotomia" et versiculis. 159^b.

(8) "Opinio RASI quomodo serpentes et venenosa animalia fugantur. De fugandis serpentibus." 160.

(9) Medicinales et aliæ notulæ, partim Gallice, partim Latine; cum versiculis quibusdam. 160^b.

One leaf of a different kind of vellum follows, which does not seem to belong to the eighth MS. (though marked "clv. fol" in the same manner as an occasional foliation made in the XVth century, which may be seen throughout the volume), and may have been a separate leaf bound up with these MSS. On it are written in small text of the end of the XIIIth century—

Tabula quadrata graduum secundum lunæ ætatem (cujus usus?). 161^a.

"Cest la table des heures artificiales devant midi et apres midi." 161^b.

"Les pourfis que len poet savoir par le drechoit." 161^b.

A circular figure inscribed with the winds' names, partly in French and partly in English.

No. 361.

A quarto volume, containing 160 leaves of vellum, written in the middle of the XIVth century. At each end are two fly-leaves of vellum; and on those at the beginning of the book, are written the following pieces, chiefly by a hand of the XVth century, which also wrote some notes on the margins of the MS.

Pag. 2.] Versus quatuor docens nomina eorum qui Thomam Beket interfecerunt: inc. Willm's Tracy.

The two first agree with those in the Arundel MS. 25, f. 31.

Pag. 2.] Observatiunculæ de rebus quibusdam in hoc libro comprehensis.

——— Note by BOOKER (partly in short-hand) about one Ady of Braintree of Essex, 20 Apr. 1659.

Pag. 3.] Præscriptio "Ad reformandum vivificandum relevandum fortificandum restaurandum et revigorandum quemlibet debilem senem consumptum et attenuatum. R' vitellum ovi," etc.

——— "Contenta hujus libri" quædam.

Pag. 4.] Tabula ostendens signum in quo sit luna omni die lunationis in quovis anni mense.

The MS. now begins; which is neatly written in columns, (but with pale ink,) and has painted capitals.

1. "Incipit Theorica Planetarum. Circulus ccntricus." f. 1—10^c.

Ending thus—"et non corporaliter. Explicit theorica planetarum." See No. 360, iii. 4.

2. "Incipit Algorismus Minuciarum. Cum multis de numeris tractatus vidisscs." 10^c—12^d.

"Ne quid solum necessarium desit operi tam brevissimo. Explicit algorismus minuciarum."

3. Opus comprehendens tractatus quosdam, de universa scientia astronomica et astrologica: quod incipit sic—"De latitudine. Locus itaque draconis a loco lune auferatur." 13—44^d.

This work is so irregularly constructed, that it is difficult to say whether this copy be complete, or whether all the portions here described ought properly to be considered as belonging to one work. At f. 19^d is the following title—"Incipit pars altera hujus operis, que videlicet ad meridiem urbis Londoniæ juxta Albatæ [leg. Abbatis?] Hareccensis sententiam, per ROBERTUM CE-STRENSSEM* contextitur." It is said there and at f. 24^b that the former part was calculated according to the Toletan tables beginning in 1169, and that the tables mentioned in this part, began in 1150. At f. 27^c is "tabula absidis solis ut per eam absides aliorum planetarum juxta presens tempus inveniantur:" and on the next page is another table. At f. 29^d begins a paragraph thus—"Transecuro tractatu de sole: consequenter lune volubilitatem demonstramus. At f. 35 begins a tract on the Astrolabe, thus—"Quelibet ars suum habet artificem et suum instrumentum; which ends thus at f. 41^d—si ternarius triplum et sic deinceps. et hec de practica astralabii sufficiant. The next parts are about 12 houses (beg. Domos per tabulas sic invenies) and about eclipses, with a table: the last words before the table are—"et nota quod hujus regionis latitudo est 48 graduum per has regulas quantitatis eclipsium invenies certissime. (f. 44^d.) Hence it seems that the last part was composed in France, and the second part in England.

4. Tractatus qui appellatur Summa Astrologiæ, sic inc. Astrologie consideracio circa 4^{or}. consistit. circa clementa. circa circulos. circa signa. circa planetas. 45—56^b.

Much of the third column is blank, as if some of the text were wanted. It ends thus—"et minus moratur ibi sol .iibus. diebus. Explicit Summa Astrologie." The poet Lucanus is often quoted here.

5. "Tabula solis cursus secundum .8. sperc retrogradationem. in omni signo et gradu." 56^c.

6. "Tabula cursus lune in omni signo ad quemlibet mensem et diem." 57.

7. Tractatus "De conditionibus Astrolabij" inc. Sume etatem lunc quotacunque sit. 57^a—63^d.

The title of this tract is taken from the list of contents. It resembles the Practica astrolabii in No. 340, ii, and No. 1522, art. 10; but is much mutilated by the scribe, for neither the title, nor the beginning, nor the end, is in this MS. The second paragraph is thus headed—"Cum volueris sumere ascensiones solis. Capitulum tercium:" the other chapters are not numbered. The last is to find "Quot horis ascendit signum in circulo obliquo," ending thus—"in circulo obliquo per horas. The following article is described separately, because "c. 1." being set in the margin seems to show that it does not belong to this tract.

8. Novem capitula, sub istis titulis:—

(1) "De loco solis in signo et gradu cujuslibet mensis. Cum volueris scire locum solis." 63^d.

(2) "De loco lune inveniendo. Cum volueris." 64.

(3) "De divisione mansionum. Divisio mansionum .28." 64^b.

(4) "De mansione lune. [64^d] Scientia lune*." * All the other chapters begin with the same first word.

(5) "De locis planetarum aliorum per locum lune." 65.

(6) "De direccione et retrogradacione et statione planetarum." 65^c.

(7) "De compositione quadrantis."

This is referred unto as a separate treatise in the list of contents: but it is different from the tracts in No. 1522, art. 7 and 16.

(8) "De assumptione horarum per quadrantem." 66.

(9) "De assumptione ascendentis per quadrantem." 66^{bcd}.

The last words are—"secundum ordinem signi in quo est sol. A diagram of a quadrant is drawn on the lower half of the page, and on the next is an astronomical diagram.

9. "Incipiunt canones tabularum universalium secundum filium MOFORNTH. Scientia a philosophis recte disposita quam secundum naturam vocamus." 67—88^c.

This work consists of 53 Sermones, and ends thus:—"et medium celi ad omnia opera faciendi et ad omne opus quod vis cogitare. In the list of contents it is called "bonus tractatus, multa bona et utilia continens."

10. Aphorismi xi arithmetici, inc. Omnis figura primo loco posita se ipsam significat. 88^c—9^a.

11. "Tractatus in quo continetur doctrina motus accessionis et recessionis et designationis figure ipsius sicut est in celo. Speram equinoctij et 3^{es} circulos in ea signatos." 89—91^c.

In fine—"qui eis et omnibus planetis: communis existit. Hic finitur Spera celi."

12. "Sequitur de Massa Compoti et ejus speciebus. Licet modo in fine temporum." 91^c—110^d.

This copy of the metrical computation of master ALEXANDER DE VILLA DEI (see the note on No. 1522, art. 21, also No. 360, vii. 1.) has an ample commentary on both the preface and the text of the poem; which was probably composed by the same author as the comment on Joh. de Sacro Bosco in No. 1522, art. 6, as it may be conjectured from a comparison of the explanations of the word evum at f. 92^d, and at the end of that article. The comment begins thus—"Temporum ponitur ibi pro fine 6 etatum, and ends—"sicut defecerit primum alphabetum pretulde secundum etc.

12. Tabulæ quatuor; scilicet—(1) tabula principalis GERLANDI, ab anno 988 ad 1492; (2) ejusdem altera; (3) tabula epactarum et aurei numeri ad claves; (4) ad docendum quot sint "ebdomade cum diebus a nativitate domini usque ad xl." 111^a, 111^b, 112^a.

* This author is not mentioned in Bp. Tanner's Bibl. Brit.

Compare the two former with No. 360, f. 158^b—9; and the last with art. 19.

13. Carmen de algorismo seu arithmetica; inc. Hec algorismus presens ars dicitur in qua. 112^b—7.

The first of these concluding lines is the 26th from the end in No. 1522, f. 7;—

"Si sint equales fuc ut prius ante videndo.
Finito libro sit laus et gloria Christo.
Hic liber est scriptus qui scripsit sit benedictus.
Explicit Algorismus."

14. Tabula notationem algoristicam verbis exponens. 117^b.

This is a notation-table, showing on the highest line the 9 digits in reversed order: each of the other 8 lines contains a digit represented 9 times: every place of the table is explained in Latin, and a general note is set below.

15. Tabula festorum mobilium, cum explicatione fractorum vocabulorum in ea positorum: incip. Per supradictas dictiones invenitur cordetenus pascha. 118^a—d.

16. Tractatus de arte arithmetica: inc. Omnia que a prima. 119—124^c.

Ending—"quam in cubicis etc. Explicit Algorismus." The same as No. 342, vi. 3, and No. 1522, art. 3, which see.

17. Tractatus de computo manuali: inc. Ad sciendum doctrinam manuum ista duo sunt necessaria .s. ciclus solis et lunaris. 124^c—5^d.

The last words are—Et sciendum quod terminus et festum nunquam in eadem die celebrantur. This is different from the tracts on the same subject in No. 342, f. 50, and No. 357, art. 1.

18. Instructio—Si vis invenire eclipsim lune que sit in 3^o anno domini, etc. 126—7^b.

In fine sic—sed in proposito exemplo non habebit moram. The following page is blank. This art. and the two following were written in the book by the same hand as some of the entries on the fly-leaves.

19. "Tabula ad sciendum quot ebdomade sunt inter diem natalis domini et primam dominicam xl^e." Cum brevi explicatione. 128.

Compare f. 112^a.

20. Tabula rotunda monstrans aureos numeros et literas dominicales per unum cyclum lunarem (cujus secundus annus fuit "Anno domini M^o. ccc^o. xii.") et 9 annos præterea. 128^b.

Compare No. 242, f. 153^b.

The rest of the volume is of the same age, but seems to have been a separate book, being written by a different hand.

21. "ALKABICIUS in suo introductorio" quod incipit sic—Postulata a domino prolixitate vite. 129—156^d.

The title of this book is taken from the list of contents: it ends thus—"Introduximus quoque has partes nonnullas* et si est in eis variatio debilis ne dimitteremus aliquid quod posset esse introductorium ad magisterium judiciorum astrorum cum laude Dei et ejus adjutorio. Interpretatus est iste liber qui dicitur ALKABICIUS a magistro JOHANNE HYPALENSI de Arabico in Latinum. Orate pro eo."

Half of a column, and three leaves following, are written with paler ink, by the same hand as the notes on the foregoing work.

22. [I]ste sunt lunaciones quas ADAM primus homo disposuit secundum veram experientiam quam etiam suis filiis tradidit et quam maxime Abel et ceteris de posteritate ad quas etiam conco[r]davit Daniel propheta et in se ipso approbavit cum esset in domo Nabuchodonozor in Babilone tempore transmigracionis Judcorum quando ibidem predictavit de quatuor signis futuris ante finem mundi. 156^d.

The last words are—et qualiter reperiuntur in mensibus. See art. 24.

23. [I]sti sunt dies periculosi qui debent observari summa observancia et sunt quadraginta dies quos magistri Grecorum experti sunt, etc. 158^d—9.

The last words are—december tres. v. vij. et aj.

24. [M]odo agitur de numero lune ad videndum que sit bona vel que mala, et usum istarum lunacionum invenerunt ADAM et DANIEL propheta. 159^a—d.

It ends imperfectly, thus—et homo si nascatur. One leaf or more has been long lost, for that which now follows is marked "160" in figures of the XVth century, and begins imperfectly, written in a hand of the year 1400, or thereabout.

25. Prophetia declamans contra fratres religiosos, (incipiens in hoc exemplari—tunc cessabit populus cis dare) simul et "Oratio pro quolibet genere ordinum mendicantium. Versus [decem, inc.] Per decies quinos Sathanas capiat Jacobinos." 160.

Some writing was erased from the lower part of this leaf, before it was torn from the antient cover which it lined, and was backed by a thicker fly-leaf of vellum, in the XVth century.

No. 362.

A quarto volume, in antient stamped binding, containing 167 written leaves, beside two at the beginning and 18 at the end unnumbered: the edges are gilt and tooled.

Super Domini Ernesti Archiducis Austriae nativitate (15 Junii 1553) liber astrologicus accuratissime compositus, per ELIAM PREUSSE Magdeburgensem, ad eundemque principem dedicatus Viennæ 6 id. Mart. 1578.

On the third page are written in the same beautiful hand, six moral aphorisms on astrology, which introduce an elegant and interesting dedication, thus headed—

"Serenissimo nec non illustrissimo principi et domino, Domino Ernesto Archiduci Austriae, Duci Burgundiae et Sylesiae, Marchioni Moraviae, Comiti Tyrolis et ceterarum, domino suo clementissimo gratam et perpetuam [salutem] a Deo optat ut maximo ita optimo Elias Preusse Magdeburgensis τῆς μαθησεως studiosus." f. 1—10^b.

The figure on the geniture is at f. 11, and the annual and general judgements follow to f. 100: then after 5 blank pages is this title—"Judicium speciale nonnullarum annuarum Revolutionum pro vestra serenitate conscriptum et compositum ad Viennensem meridiani elevationem quae est grad. 48. m. 27 septentrionalis, per Eliam Preussen Magdeburgensem studii caelestis indagatorem A^o. 1578." 103. This part occupies 6 pages (104—6^b), and is followed by like parts, with separate titles, for the years 1578—1587: the judgement for the last of them ends thus at f. 167—"Ultra me hoc tempore astra prognosticari non sinunt neque permittunt."

* novissimas in No. 369, ii; which see.

No. 363.

A thick quarto MSS. containing 332 leaves; fairly written in the time of Charles I. The first leaf is blank (as are some after each part of the work), and on the second (or f. 1) is written the following title above a large explanatory figure of the celestial houses.

“The Natures of the 12 Howses for judgement of diseases and the causes therof.”

“The first chapter sheweth of certain Questions that are to be asked of the party that commeth with the Urin, or asketh the question for the sick;” (f. 2) wherein are some very curious remarks on the ignorance of medical practitioners at that time. The work is divided into as many parts as there are houses, and abounds with curious cases, in many of which the names are given; as at f. 17^b, 20^b, 26, 148, 148^b, 158, 171^b, 198^b—9; which last is a long and very odd story. The account of the sickness and death (20 Oct. 1606) of “Thom: Forman my brother Richards sonne that dwelld with me” (f. 20) proves that the author was Dr. SIMON FORMAN. Indeed the MS. is in the handwriting of Sir Richard Napier, who transcribed it from No. 403, which is his uncle’s transcript of Dr. Forman’s MS. No. 389: which see.

Between f. 8—9 is placed a sheet of paper, containing exact notes of all the eclipses from 1559 to 1623, with some observations of events which they were thought to have betokened: in 1595 it is noted “S. P. ægotavit isto anno.”

On the first fly-leaf is the autograph of “Henrie Goulesburg:” and on the next is written by Ashmole (?) “R. LAFORD M. D. Jan: 25. 1677 ♀.” Dr. Richard Laford’s nativity is in Gadbury’s printed Collection, p. 133.

No. 364.

A paper book in small octavo, three fifths of which are blank. On the back of its parchment cover is written—

“De Secretis Astrologiæ.” Or, extracts and notes of astrology and magic, partly in Latin and partly in English; collected by WILLIAM LILLY. (pp. 122.)

It begins thus—“An accessio sit tibi utilis.” (Compare No. 337, iv.) The last page contains two short directions “To cure one bitten by a madd dogg [from] Mr. Vaughan.”

No. 365.

A thin paper book in 8^o, containing 24 leaves.

“Εφημερίς, or a Diary astronomical, astrological, meteorological, for the year of our Lord 1686, being y^e second after leap-year: containing both annual and monthly observations, together with a brief account of some antient Prophecies relating to y^e late great Revolutions within y^e kingdoms of Great Brittain: by JOHN GADBURY, student in physique and astrologie,” etc.

This is the original copy prepared for the press.

No. 366.

A tall and narrow book in 8^o, containing (beside two parchment fly-leaves) 22 leaves, all of stiff parchment, except f. 9—18, which are paper, and contain little writing.

Liber manualis astrologicus, in usum proprium a SIMONE FORMAN exaratus.

Its contents are—Fortitudines et debilitates planetarum, f. 1 —2. Tabula domificandi, 3—8^b. “The names and natures of the 16 figures geomantical,” 9—11^b. Hebrew letters answering to those figures, 12^{ab}. “Forman’s geomansy,” 13^{ab}. Tabula aspectuum, 19—21^b. Two circular figures, 22. “Amicitia et inimicitia planetarum,” 22^b.

The flapping cover is a leaf of a folio MS. of the XIVth or XVth century, containing part of some religious treatise in French.

No. 367.

A thin book bound in stamped vellum, consisting of 16 sheets of folio paper folded in 4^o, and uncut: these contain 60 pages written in short hand, which seem to be an—

Astrologico-political treatise of events in the year 1648, written by ELIAS ASHMOLE, esq.

Some names occur in common characters. At the end is a folded leaf, on which are written by Ashmole—

The names of 150 persons excepted out of the act of Amnesty, on the restoration of Charles II., with marks showing the nature or extent of the disabilities thereby imposed on them.

There is also an original—

Letter from J. AUBREY to Ashmole (dated 25 Oct. 1684) about “a sheet concerning registers written by Mr. Philpotts of Hereford;” advising some alteration in Sir W. Dugdale’s mention of Edmund and George Wyld; and mentioning his own “Idea of Education.”

This letter was the occasion of the mistaken account of the MS. in Lhuys’s catalogue, No. 6858. Another note of his to Ashmole, about the same person, is at No. 243, f. 395: see also Aubrey’s MS. 13, pp. 31, 32. The last mentioned subject is one of Aubrey’s MS. No. 8. Affixed to this letter is a paper in Ashmole’s hand, containing—

A note that the name of Edmund Wild was put in the aforesaid list in the stead of George Wild, who was brother to Chief Baron Wild, one of the judges of Charles I.

No. 368.

A quarto volume, consisting of original papers bound together, to the amount of 308 leaves.

Letters of Dr. J. GOAD to Elias Ashmole, esq. from July, 1677, to 30 Sept. 1689, containing his monthly prognostications* of the weather, and occasional observations on the correctness or incorrectness of his calculations.

* These are mostly written by amanuenses: there is an apology for the bad writing of “the only one left me this fair-time” (Sept. 1684) at f. 186. On the last leaf Ashmole has noted that “Doctor Goad dyed the 28th of Oct. 1689, early in the morning, and was buried at St. Helen’s the 30th; following.” See Wood’s Athene Oxon. (first ed.) II. 838. (4^{to} ed.) IV. 267—9.

Between ff. 3—4 is a fragment of a—

Letter from LILLY to Ashmole (dated 24 Apr. 1682) stating that “Jo: Baker in Barnaby street* neer crucifix lane in Southwark, has the observation of the wind and weather” for 15 years.

* Properly Bermondsey-street.

On f. 22 Ashmole has copied—

“Dr. FORMAN’s observacōn for Raine.”

No. 369.

A thick quarto volume in wooden covers, consisting of eight MSS. amounting to 190 leaves; of which ff. 1—3, 6—8, were inserted as fly-leaves in the XVth century, and are part of a spoiled MS. of that age.

(1) TERENTI COMŒDIÆ QUÆ ANDRIA INSCRIBITUR, fragmentum, sine versuum distinctione. 1^b—3.

Only five pages of those leaves were written on: the first is pasted down on the cover, and over it is pasted an unfinished Volelle. Around the margins of the third page are written in a small hand of the XVth century which occurs throughout this volume—

(i.) Quædam de temporis distinctione, inc. Punctus in solari computatione est 4^a pars unius hore. f. 2.

(ii.) Regula—Pro latitudine lune. 2^b.

(iii.) Excerpta astrologica e Ptolomæo. 3^b.

The next page is written in text-hand, and is part of another waste sheet. (ff. 4—5.) On the upper margin is the autograph of "Jo. Dee."

(2) Aphorismi de perspectiva, cum exemplis: inc. Ponatur ab oculo eductas lineas rectas. f. 4.

On the following pages (except 7^a blank) are written in the running hand of the XVth century—

(iv.) Notæ miscellæ astrologiæ. 4^b—6, 7^b, 8^b.

(v.) "De domino anni. Scito horam introitus solis in arietem." 6^b.

Confer f. 103, et No. 393, art. 39.

(vi.) Quod annorum numerus ante Christum fuerit 4909:* de quantitate anni secundum Ptolomæum: differentia inter situs Toleti et Cantabrigiæ, cum observationibus astronomicis ad meridianum posterioris loci, annis 1432, 1434, et 1437. f. 8.

* Superscribed "falsum. Jo. Dee."

On the last page of these fly-leaves is written a list of the chief contents in rubric, by the same hand (of about 1400) as the rubrics in various places of this volume; and the name of the writer was subscribed (but now partly erased) thus—"Constat M^{ro} Rogero"

(vii.) Contenta in hoc volumine sunt ista." 8^b.

I. The first MS. is not mentioned in that list: it consists of 12 leaves, the outer and inner pairs being of vellum, the rest of paper; and is closely written in a small hand of the XVth century. ¶

1. Secundum DOROTHEUM et ALKYNDUM "De fugitivis servis et bestiis ubi sunt et qua causa sunt perdit. Scias quod hec res aspicitur multis modis." 9.

2. "De latrone et furto. Scias quod ascendens est significator rei furate." 10.

3. "Incipit tractatus de 13 maneriebus planetarum. Ut maneriebus 13 exponam significationem cuiuslibet 7 planetarum." 14.

4. "De significatione planetarum in domibus. Prima domus. Sol in ista domo." 15^b.

5. "Nota bene de iudicio alicujus questionis. In omni questione 3 sunt consideranda, querens, res quesita, et finis quesiti." 17.

6. De domorum proprietatibus: inc. Domus prima. hec est domus et angulus orientalis. 17^b—20^b.

The last words are—Et hec exempla nativitatum sufficiunt ad presens.

II. A MS. of the XIIIth century, neatly written in a small text-hand, in columns, on 56 leaves of vellum. The rubric title is by the less antient hand aforementioned.

1. "ALKABIZ" seu Alcabiti Introductorium ad magisterium judiciorum astrorum, ex Arabico Latine factum per JOHANNEM HISPALENSEM: inc. Postulata a Domino prolixitate vite ceiytha dauiu .i. gladij regni. et durabilitate sui honoris. 21—32^c.

This copy ends with the following sentence.—"Perfectus est introductorius Abdilaziz .i. servi gloriosi .s. Dei. qui dicitur Alchabizi. ad magisterium judiciorum Astrorum cum Ifa Judei Dei et ejus adjutorio. ¶ Zohal. habet ex partibus mundi [etc.] terras Indorum Atore. et Armeniam. Explicit Alcabit." Other copies are in No. 191, ii, No. 357, art. 5, No. 360, iv, and No. 361, art. 21.

Subjoined in the less antient running hand, are two short pieces illustrative of the latter part of this work:—"Partes [significatoria] secundum ITALY" (32^c)—"Project' parcium secundum M. R. HERFORDEN. Pors coitus et adulterij." 32d.

2. "Astronomia quedam [judicialis ARISTOTELIS.] inc. A philosophis astronomiam sic diffinitam accipimus. Astronomia est astrorum certa lex et natura. 33—45^c.

The title is taken from the list of contents, in which the false name of Aristoteles was added by a less antient hand, as also these notes—"Explicit ari' de judicijs astrorum" (at the foot of 45^b) and "Ari' de judicijs astrorum complete" below a table on 45^c. But the end of the work seems to be at 46^d, where these words accompany a small table of climates:—"Ut introducendis quod divinus fiat evidencius tabulam latitudines climatum .vij. juxta sentenciam nostram continentem in loco presenti figuravimus."

3. "ZÆL in suo introductorio" quod sic inc. Signa in zodiaco sunt duodecim et ex eis vi. masculina. 47^a.

This title is written by the same less antient hand: also between two paragraphs at 75^c (the former ending thus—omne quod pertinet ad eandem domum et omnes res ejus) is written the name "Zael," and at the foot of the column the following title—

4. "Incipit liber Eleccionum ZÆLIS" qui sic mendose incipit: Omnis concordati sunt quod electi omnes sint debiles. 75^c—6^d.

This article ends imperfectly at the last line but 2 on the fifth following column; thus—Si autem fuerit mercurius retrogradus: it seems to be only a part of the foregoing work, which in the list of contents is named (by the second hand, over an erasure) Zael in suo introductorio, cum judicijs sequentibus.

Most of the second column and all the second page of f. 62, seem to have contained some comment in a smaller character; which has been erased, and in its place are inserted extracts from Aomur and Jerg' "de forma latronis," by a hand of the XVth century.

III. This MS. seems somewhat later than the foregoing, though of the same century: it is written more closely and in long lines, and consists of 8 leaves only.

"Mathematica ALEXANDRI summi Astrologi. In exordio creature heras huranicus inter cuncta sydera .vij. maluit signa fore." 77—84^b.

In fine—"nam quod lineam designat eandem stellam occupat. Explicit."

The titles of 15 chapters of some astrological work follow, by a hand of the XVth century.

IV. This MS. is by the same hand as the foregoing, except ff. 87—88, which are in different characters: it is written in columns.

“Liber ALKYNDI incipit. Quantum post Euclidem Theodosij cosmometrico libro que proportio-nem libencius insudarem.” 85—101^d.

The last words are—“Cujusvis letum alius ejusdem familie mors sequetur in proximo. Finit liber Alkindi.” (Compare No. 179, No. 209, and No. 434.) Immediately subjoined in this copy, is a paragraph of 16 lines, beginning thus—Constat apud sapientes, and ending—hora natiuitatis super orientis horam firmetur. 101^d—2^a.

The following page is filled with obscure, and partly defaced, antient writing; which seems to be—

Problematus alicujus geometrici demonstratio. 102^b.

V. This MS. consists of 50 leaves, written in long lines, in a text-hand of the XIIIth century, resembling that of the second MS. but larger. The first word of the rubric is superscribed by the same hand that wrote the list of contents: the same word in rubric occurs at the beginning of the two next articles.

1. “ALBUMAZAR. In nomine Domini pij et misericordis incipit liber in revolutione annorum mundi. Dixit Albumazar. Scito horam introitus solis.” 103—123^b.

Most part of the pages 118^b—9^a was supplied in the XVth century, which seems to have been left blank. It ends thus—“significat fortitudinem Arabum. et petitionem in regno si Deus voluerit. Perfectus est liber experimentorum Albumazar sub laude ejus. et ejus adjutorio feliciter explicit.”

2. “In nomine Domini misericordis et pii incipiunt sententie de revolutione annorum ex libro ABUMAZAR in revolutione natiuitatum excerpte. Dixit tempus breue est operandi.” 123^b.

In fine—“Si vero fuerit significatio revolutionis fortior: erit minus. et sic de ceteris. Explicit.”

3. In nomine Domini pii. Incipit liber de natiuitatibus ALBOHALI ALGHIMAC. Dixit Albohali. iste est liber in quo composui omnes significantores super natiuitates. de scientia judiciorum stellarum que non potest ignorari ab aliquo artifice hujus scientie magne. et excelso Deo auxiliante.” 134—152^b.

The two last half-pages are written by a hand of the XVth century, over erased writing which seems to have been religious. The last words of the text by the old hand, are—erit mors ejus inter parentes et proximos: by the later hand—“si Saturnus per venenum aut alicujus parietis precipitationem. (non plus etc' quod M. . . .) Explicit Alboaly de natiuitatibus.”

The rest of the page (152^b) is occupied by a passage on the cause of winds, (beg. Pro ventis dico quod sol dominatur in oriente,) and the titles of the chapters in the following MS. thus headed—“Capitula librorum duorum Florum Albumazar.”

VI. An early MS. of the XIVth century, written in the charter-hand on 9 leaves of vellum, in columns.

“Flores ALBUMAZAR. Oportet te scire primum dominum ascendentis anni.” 153—161^d.

This work consists of two parts or books; the latter of which begins thus at f. 156^c—“Incium partis secunde ex floribus. Secundus liber. Tractatus in terre motu et diluuiis.” The last words are—Scito hoc et considera eum quia est ex secretis scientie astrorum et ejus veritate cujus operis precium nec occultetur .i. meretur occultari. et non videatur apud te secundum quod exposui tibi si Deus voluerit. ipse est auxiliator. Finit liber florum Albumazar.”

It is different from the book in No. 345, art. 20, bearing the same title: but there are other copies in No. 360, f. 63^c, and No. 393, i. art. 45.

VII. This part of the volume consists of 21 leaves of vellum (beside one that has been cut out between f. 182—3) the original writing of which has been erased, except the last 5 pages. Most of these leaves contain astronomical tables in Indian numerals of the XIVth or XVth century, covering the whole extent of the pages.

1. “Almanak perpetuum PROFACII Judei.” 162—179.

2. Canones ad usum earundem tabularum: inc. Quando velis scire loca trium superiorum planetarum. 179^{ab}.

These are written in the same hand of the XVth century, that is often seen in this volume. The following page is blank, but shows traces of the erased writing.

3. Fragmentum tractatus cujusdam astronomici (autographi, ut videtur) quod rasuram evasis. 180^b—2^b.

4. “Figura natiuitatis Henrici Sexti anno Christi imperfecto. 1421^o. 5^a die Decembris post meridiem .3. horis .20. minutis .56. 2^{is}. die veneris hora saturni.” etc. 182^b.

This figure with the notes occupies two-thirds of the page, and is written over erased writing.

VIII. A small MS. consisting of only 8 leaves of parchment, written in a small hand of the XVth century. The title of the tract is written on the upper margin of the first page, which, having been left blank, was filled up in the XVIth century, with—

1. Excerptum e libro WALTERI DE ISTELEPE Thesaurarii Hibernie, de prophetiis super expugnatione illius regionis: inc. Scribitur in libris annalibus Hibernie. 183.

This author is not noticed by Tanner.

2. “Sanctus THOMAS de Angelis:” ejus tractatus incipit—Qui sacris angelorum solemnibus interesse non possumus. 183^b—9.

This is the 15th tract among the opuscula of S. Thomas Aquinas, in the Venetian edition of his works, (1594, fol.) tom. XVII. f. 86—97^c. It was left unfinished by the author: yet this MS. does not contain so much as the printed copy, and ends thus—diversitas claritatis seu raritatis.

On the following page (and on the next leaf, which is pasted down on the cover) were written many useless notes in the XVth century: among which are these—“Precium hujus libri viijs.” “Iste liber constat Karolo Lacy physico.” 189^b.

No. 370.

A MS. written in the year 1424; consisting of 29 leaves of vellum in large octavo.

1. Fratris NICHOLAI DE LENNE Kalendarium. f. 1—23.

This copy has neither title nor preface, but in other respects agrees with No. 5: each month occupies 4 pages in this, and 5 in that MS. The second leaf of July is lost. At the end are the following articles, of which those numbered within parentheses were added by a different hand in the same century.

2. A Volvelle, showing the lunations throughout the year. 25.

This is beautifully made of vellum, and quite perfect.

- (1) "For an ageu or an hote axes. Take seugre or barbarones or Jewbarb." etc. 25^b.
 (2) "For to make a plaster for þe ageu or for fantasie in the heed. Take some breed." 25^b.
 3. "Tabula eclipsis lune pro tercio [et quarto] ciclo." 26, 26^b.

The nineteenth year of the second cycle comprised in Lynne's tables (see No. 5, f. 29) is put first, namely 1424. The figures of the eclipses are unfinished.

4. A picture of a man, with the symbols of the signs that rule the parts of his body. 27^b.

Around this colored picture are written—

- (3) Cautions for phlebotomy, according to the dominion of the signs.
 (4) "Nomina signorum," in tabula monstrante tempus initii cuiusque, et aptitudinem ad phlebotomiam. 28.
 (5) Natures of the signs and planets.
 5. "Tabula ad sciendum locum lune quolibet die et moram ejus sub quolibet signo." 29.
 This is the same as in No. 5, f. 34, and the next as f. 35.
 6. "Tabula a[d] sciendum pro qualibet hora diei vel noctis quis planeta regitur incipiēdo diem ab ortu solis." 29^b.

No. 371.

Three MSS. of different sizes, having this number, are bound with No. 370. They are thin quarto books; the first of which is the smallest, and consists of 41 leaves written in a small hand, by Ashmole?

- I. A treatise on the Mathematical Part of Astrology, in 21 chapters: whereof the first is—"What direction is, how many kinds thereof; what are signifiers, and what promitors." f. 1—39^b.

At the end is fixed a short leaf (f. 42) thus inscribed vertically—"To his learned friend Mr. John Gadbury deliver this into his owne hands"—with a monogram that occurs also in No. 363.

- II. "Tractatus Astronomicus tam fixarum stellarum quam erraticarum:

"Motus, influentias, oppositiones, aspectus, vicinitates, zodiaci signa, triplicitates, planetarum affectiones et potestates, coeli domos, lunæ mansiones, corporum coelestium numerum, motum, renisus et trepidationes; aeris mutationes, operum electas initiationes, lunæ in diversis signis effectus, sanguinis idoneam ejectionem, medicinæ potionem, seminum jactus, arborum et vinearum cultus, planetarum dominium, quibus corporis humani membrorum signa et planetæ præsent, hominum quoque naturas demonstrat[ur]is apertissime. Distychon ad lectorem.

"Quisque futura cupis prenoscere sydereoque Motibus aspectus me lege doctus eris." 1—14.

A shorter title is on the second page—"T. Isagogicus in astrologiam judiciariam." It ends with verses on the planets, and this colophon:—"H. FARRI Baerdroyceusis suis auditoribus pronuntiavit. M. cccc. xij." At the end are some antient examples of German text-writing; but the MS. is written in a large and distinct Italian hand.

- III. "A Paraphrase upon St. Thomas a Becket's prophecy, and some others. [etc.*] By WILLIAM LILLY, student in astrology." (ff. 16.)

* This title and the whole book agree, word for word, with the other (but less neat) copy in No. 241, xv. It is written by the author's own hand, as also this note, which seems to form part of the title:—"This tract was finished about the end of March 1666 by the same author."

No. 372.

A MS. in 12mo, neatly written about the year 1613, and ruled with red lines.

A manual of calculations and judgements on a nameless "Nativitas anno Domini 1581, Feb. 1^o. h^o. 5: mi: 42. p. m." f. 1—90.

Fixed within the cover is a folding sheet, containing a large horoscope; and on the first page of 3 blank leaves at the beginning, is a figure on the "♁ Luminarium" foregoing the birth, 19 Jan. 1581.

No. 373.

A small book in 12^o, containing 71 leaves, nearly half of which is blank.

1. "Astrologia Aphoristica: viz. de furtis et significatione person[ar]um per facies et gradus signorum, distantia locorum et natura. Per R. EDLYN Astrophil. London. Anno Domini 16 $\frac{6}{7}$ ^o. Febr." f. 2—40^b.

This tract is in English, and partly written (especially the last leaf) in short-hand. About the author see the note on No. 242, art. 25. Turning up the book, the following articles may be found.

2. "The Key of secrett writing*.—That is, Taught me by Mr. Croxon Feb: 16 $\frac{6}{7}$ ^o." 70^b.

* Here follows the key, consisting of a shifted alphabet written in the squares of a double cross: below is a specimen explained by the words that follow here in the title. Another specimen is on the opposite page. (71^a.)

3. Figure on the birth of Mrs. Petty's twins, with remarks (24 Apr. 1668). 70.

"The boy born first, and dyed ye 2 December 1689."

4. Recipe tried by "one who had a standing catarrh 11 years." 69^b.

5. Recipe "For inflammation in y^e eyes." 68^b.

No. 374.

A book in 12^o, consisting of 194 leaves (including 2 fly-leaves on which are some trivial notes), printed with outlines for figures as No. 331; in which are set—

Occasional Figures on horary Questions, from 19 Nov. 1649 to 6 Dec. 1653, by ELIAS ASHMOLE esq.

The descriptions of these figures are all in short-hand, except the following:—Adleston, Bolron, 69; Roger Stevens, 70^b; Rawleigh, 97; Booth, 112; Hobbs, 112^b; Knight, 113; Barrow, 129^b; Stace, 135^b; Mr. Solomon Franck, 139^b, 140^a; about a "manuscript," 142; Mr. Tradescants, 144^{ab}; Davis, 145; Gilbert, 145^b; Minshall, 160; D. Norton, 161^b; Leigh, 168; Booker, 168^b; Br Dudley, 169^{ab}; Denningtons, 170, 190; Riplingham, 170^b; Steele, 172^b; Sidley, 175^b; Starky, 177; Botellers, 178; Davis, Theale, 182; Maynwaring, 183^b; Glerne, 188^b; Harper, 191; Mr. Sharpe, 192.

No. 375.

A thin 12^o. book, containing 52 leaves (including those which line the covers), half of which is blank.

Figures on the nativity and revolutions of some person born 29 Sept. 1631; calculated to the year 1675, by LILLY. f. 1^b—21^b.

At the end are written—

Miscellaneous figures, and memoranda of moneys and persons. 52—43^b.

No. 376.

This and the five MSS. following (namely No. 376—382) are bound together in one quarto volume. It consists of 55 leaves of paper, all neatly written, except the last 16.

An astrological treatise on historical subjects of the fifteenth century, written in short-hand by ASHMOLE. f. 1—39.

The dates of the figures are 1477 (1^b), 1459 (2, 34^b, 35^b, 38^b), 1415, 1437, 1452 (32^b).

No. 377.

A quarto book, consisting of 28 leaves, bound with the foregoing MS.

An alphabetical Index, or “A table to Lillies Introduceōn” to Astrology; by Mr. ASHMOLE. f. 1—24.

His copy of the work, with MS. notes, is in No. 312. The running title of the printed book is “An Introduction to Astrologie.”

No. 378.

A quarto MS. consisting of 25 leaves of paper, badly written in the latter part of the XVIIth century: it is torn at the beginning, and bound with the two foregoing MSS.

1. Carmen sic incipiens—Nos sumus in hoc mundo sicut n (17 v.) 1.

2. “Howe every month prayseth it selfe of sum good property. January. I make me to be called Janyuere.” (12 st. of 7.) 1—2.

3. “Here begynth of Saturn y^e hiist of y^e vij planetes.”—“Thus endeth the vij planetes with their dispositions.” 2^b.

4. Of the four elements and “of y^e iiij complections.” 6.

5. “Judgmentes of mannes bodye.” 7.

6. “The xij monthes. wth y^e xij ages of man.” 10^b—11.

These four articles are in prose, and perhaps constitute but one tract.

7. “Of an assault agayust a Snayle. The Woman speaketh wth hartly corage. Goo out of thys out of thys plac[c] y^e right ougly beaste” (3 st. of 7): with the Snail’s answer. (1 st.) 11^b.

8. “The saying of a dead man. Man locke and se, Take heed of me.” (2 st. of 8.) 12.

9. “To shewe y^e fortun of men and women. Y^e fyrst signe of Aries. I fynd y^t he w^{ch} is borne.” 12—17^b.

Three blank pages follow.

10. Two curious tables, one of numbers, the other of symbols; for prognosticating the weather and seasons. 19^b—20.

On the third blank page following is written vertically, the—

11. Form of a warrant of distress from the Steward of the honor of Mandeville in Essex, belonging to the duchy of Lancaster. (41 Eliz.) 21^b.

12. Prophecies of Thaliessin, Robart Locke, David Apiuan, Edward Apriau, Edward Apouelle, Robert Duce, Owen Longheith, David Trevar, Merleon le Panle’, and John Aprobardwyn: beg. thus—Thalysonne sailthe y^t in the liijth yere their shalbe a battell in Brytaine. 22—4.

The last words are—“A universall pease throughout all the worlde. Finis Finis.”

13. A prophecy, beginning thus—After this Lambe shall come a molde warpe. 25^{ab}.

No. 379.

A paper book, consisting of 16 leaves, bound with the three foregoing MSS. Only 18 pages are occupied with writing, and that is almost wholly in Ashmole’s short-hand.

1. De schemate genethliaco regulæ. f. 1—2.

2. Epistola seu αποσπασματιον quoddam, cui nomen “G. LE NEVE” subscriptum est. 2^b—3.

3. Astrologica quædam. 6—9^b, 11—13.

At the foot of f. 12 appear the name Threlkeld, and the year 1551.

No. 380.

A thin paper book, consisting of only 8 leaves, neatly written in the XVIIth century: bound with the 4 foregoing MSS.

Table of changes of the letters w and b, set in divisions under larger letters; part of it is called “The Byas.” f. 2—7.

Probably it belonged to some game.

No. 381, 382.

A small quarto MS. written in the time of Q. Elizabeth, and containing 66 leaves. It is bound with the 5 foregoing MSS., and being in two parts before it was bound, it was erroneously marked “A. 381” on f. 38^b, and “A. 382” on f. 63. The outer pair of leaves of the first part is lost; and that of the second has been lately found in another volume.

Four books of Geomancy by PETRUS ABANUS, translated into English. f. 2—59^b.

The title and beginning of the first book are wanting: the titles of the others are,—“The first parte of the Second Booke,” f. 14^b; “The Thurde Booke of Peter Abanus,” f. 39^a; and “The iiiijth booke of Peter Abanus,” f. 53. Though the table of figures on the first written leaf is in Latin, the frequent words and phrases left untranslated in the work, show that the original was in Italian. Subjoined are these articles:—

(1) “Sequitur tabula ostendens que figure attribu[un]tur 7^m planetis—et quibus domibus (ut aliq[ui] volunt) 16 figure appropriantur.” 59^{ab}.

(2) “Sequitur tabula demonstrans proprietates figurarum predictarum.” 60^a.

(3) Special notes of geomansy “Englyshed oute of my old booke. Note that of the fyrst figure.” 61—63.

No. 383.

A thin oblong book in 8^o. consisting of 23 leaves of paper; covered with a fragment of a Missal of the XVth century. It is neatly written.

1. An analytical comparison of 22 Almanacks published for the year 1628; showing their great discrepancies. f. 2—9.

The names of the almanack-makers whose calculations are silently criticized in this ingenious and curious little book, are thus written over their proper columns:—Alestree (of London), Browne (London), Chamberlain (Stratford Suff.), Clarke (Bishop's Hatfield), Dade (London), Dove (Cambridge), Hewlet (Wilts.), Lakes (Lincoln), Neve (Norwich), Osborne (Hull), Perkins, Pond (Stanford), Ranger (York), Rivers (Cambridge), Rivers (Warwick), Rudston (London), Sofford (London), Swallowe (Cambridge), Vaux (Durham), Whyte (London), Woodhouse (Chichester), Grammer (London). The comparison of the predictions of the weather extend only to April, and some actual observations occur at f. 7^b—8.

2. A religious poem, beginning—Afflicted widowes and the fatherlesse. (9 st. of 6.) 10—12.
3. A short chronology compiled from a comparison of 10 Almanacks. 13^b—16.
4. "The use[s] of a diall." 22.
5. A moral poem, beginning—Prid and selflove inseparable be. (4 st. of 6.) 22^b.

This is the corrected draught.

6. A poetical epilogue censuring the Almanacks compared in this book: beginning—As soone as New yeare was begun. (3 st. of 8.) 23.

On the first and last page are notes of the repairs and dimensions of some buildings: and the name of "Mr. Witton" is written by another hand.

No. 384.

Several quires of paper begun at different times, and then put together as a folio volume, which now consists of 194 leaves. After the two first leaves follow pages 10—37 of the old notation (which ought to be preceded by ff. 193—4), then pp. 50—89, and 100—468. A leaf has been torn out between 66 and 67; and f. 91 is a short leaf inserted.

Dr. SIMON FORMAN's miscellaneous Astrological Tracts and Observations.

The principal contents of this volume are the following.

- "My newyear's giftes 1604." 2^b.
 "De Revolutione anni Mundi." f. 3—22^b.

In this curious English tract are Prognostications relative to the Plague in London, with a figure set 10 Mar. 1592. (f. 8.) It was written in 1601. The following article seems to be part of it, and was written in 1603.

- "To knowe by the figures of the years revolution what shal befall here in England, and in what places the accidents shal falle. Forman." 27.
 An astronomical and astrological treatise by "S. Forman of the Eclipses of the sonne and moone. 1592." 38—59^b, 72—5.

At the beginning of this book is a long table of the Latitudes and Longitudes of places, as they were observed at the time of the moon's eclipse, 2 Oct. 1605 (f. 39—40); also rules for ascertaining the same.

- "A Catalog of the places countries landes cities and townes that are under every of the 12 signs." 82—9, 1—2, 193—4^b.

- "A tabel of the .15. moste principale Staes according to their longitud and latitud. magmitude and nature. calculated for their juste longitude etc. to the yere 1601. per Forman fulli complete. and 5 moneth that is to the first of June 1602. after *Alphonsus Appianus." 92—101.

* This word seems struck out. On the foregoing leaf are examples of the variation of time between the tables of Alphonsus in 1251, those of Appianus in 1525, and Forman's calculations.

- "Of settinge thy figur for the revolution of the yere to knowe what sicknes shalbe." 102—111^b.
 "Judgmente on diseases secundum Simonem Forman." 112—4^b.

The two last quires of the volume contain the most curious matter. On the first page are remarks on the longitude and variation of time of Salisbury, where the observations were made. (f. 116.)

- Observations on eclipses of the moon in 1586 and 1587; and tables of the moon's motion. 116—120^b, 162.

"Judgmentes of the weather" by the moon's aspects, with some actual observations. 125—9^b.

Figures set on the quarterly revolutions of the sun, in the years 1582—7; with occasional prognostications of the weather and events. 133—163.

The like for the years 1591—4. f. 164—186.

Observations on the seasons and weather, the plenty or scarcity of various commodities, with their prices, and notes of some remarkable events, in the years 1585 (f. 145^b—9^b), 1586 (150—6^b, 122—4, 130, 131^b), 1587 (157, 159—161^b, 163), and 1594. f. 105.

These passages may be found in the rev. W. F. Lloyd's pamphlet on the "Prices of Corn in Oxford in the beginning of the fourteenth century; also from the year 1583 to the present time," (Oxford, 1830, 8vo.) pp. 45—8, 94—100.

*Historical notes of the Plague in 1592 (f. 159, 174^b, 175^b, 176^b), and prices of commodities in that year. 176^b.

Forman's Index of the chief subjects treated of in this volume. 187.

Forman's Calendar for the year 159., with a verse for each month. 187^b—192^b.

The page for December is wanting. Prefixed are—"A note of the times wherein men by order may not marry wth out lycens" and "A ruelle for the true observation of — the Ember daies." f. 187.

No. 385.

A thick folio volume, thus intitled by Ashmole—

- "Figures set by Mr. JOHN BOOKER upon Horary Questions. Volume IIII." Being his Astrological Practice-book from 5 Aug. 1652 to 29 Dec. 1654. (pp. 10—325, 326—640.)

These figures begin on the seventh leaf from the end (as the book is now bound), and are set on alternate pages through the volume; which being turned up, they are continued on the opposite pages throughout. It is then reversed again, and the figures are set on p. 9, and on the right hand side of the other figures, on pp. 10—42; and again turned, in like manner, on the opposite page (607), and so to p. 640 again.

The first 4 leaves contain—

BOOKER'S notes of the Nativities and Accidents of various persons. (pp. 1—8.)

The most remarkable papers inserted are on—

- p. 44] Note of the birth of Elizabeth daughter of Will. Jonson, joiner in Hounds-ditch. (11 Aug. 1646.)
- p. 366] Letter from ASHMOLE to Booker, requesting him to meet him and Lilly and other friends that night "at the Maire maid" (12 Jan. 1654-5): with Booker's note of the nativity and accidents of Will. Leybourne (18 Oct. 1626, in London), and other memoranda, written on the back.
- p. 401] Letter from M. WHITE to Booker, for the solution of questions about her pregnancy and property (18 Feb. 1653-4): with his notes.
- p. 461] Letter from "Your friend" to Booker, about her suiter (18 Apr. 1653).
- p. 587] A curious statement of the loss of a diamond-ring.
- p. 636] Another, written by a person who cast lots to fix a time for an horary question about the success of a suit in Chancery.

No. 386.

A folio volume, thinner than the foregoing; and, like it and the next, bound upside-down.

"Figures set by Mr. JOHN BOOKER upon Horary Questions. Volume II." Being his Astrological Practice-book from 5 Oct. 1649 to 4 Feb. 1651. (pp. 2—188, 191—377.)

On the first page are written—

Notes of the Nativities of—

- William Lilly, 1 May, 1602, at Dicesworth in Leicestersh.
- Mr. Raykes, 14 July, 1610, at Hull.
- Marg. Waddington wife of . . . Hogge, Friday before Shrove-tuesday, 1636.
- John son of William Booker, 17 July, 1625, at St. John's in the isle of Thanet.
- Tim. Osborne, 20 Nov. 1630, at Birmingham; mar. in Apr. 1650.
- Humph. Blunden, 12 Nov. 1609.

Notes of various expenses in 1649-51. p. 190.

Only two papers inserted deserve notice: namely at—

- p. 39] Short letter from Mrs. M. SHEPHERD, requesting Booker's advice about money due from her cousin Jackson. 26 Nov. 1649.
- p. 97] Note received from Mr. OSBALDESTON 19 Feb. 1650, about his wife's illness, and about taking "a house at Saffron-hill neare Clerkenwell."

No. 387.

A folio volume, like the two foregoing MSS.; intitled—

"Figures set by Mr. JOHN BOOKER upon Horary Questions. Volume III." Being his Astrological Practice-book from 5 Feb. 1650-1, to 4 Aug. 1652. (pp. 2—238, 244—478.)

On the first 5 pages of this book, as it is now bound, are—

BOOKER'S notes of the Nativities and Accidents of various persons. (pp. 239—243.)

At the other end are written partly in short-hand—

Directions "To make Sugar-plate." p. 1.

The following papers are inserted at—

- p. 229] Letters from Sir RICHARD NAPEIR requesting Booker's judgement about his intended "purchase of a wood-ground of 7 score acres belonging to a College in Oxon. where I was once a fellow" (All Souls). 9 Oct. 1651.
- p. 320] Note of Lieut. Gen. Middleton's escape out of the Tower, 13 Jan. 1651-2.

No. 388.

A MS. in folio, fairly written on paper. One third is blank toward the end.

"CLAUDII PTOLOMEI Pelusiensis de Astrorum Judiciis, aut ut vulgo vocant Quadripartitæ Constructionis, liber secundus [et liber tertius*] cum Expositione THOMÆ ALLEYN Angli, Oxoniensis." f. 1—117.

* F. 36. At the end is this colophon—"Finis libri tertij: Maij 140: 1643." The following note is written opposite to the first page of the MS. "Mr. Allen gave the original of this work to Sr: Thomas Alisbury, from whence there was transcribed two coppies, the one Mr: Humiades the chimist had, the other was given to Mr: Lilly, weh he bestowed on me this 30th of May 1652: E. ASHMOLE." See Wood's Athenæ Oxon. (first ed.) I. 575; (4to. ed.) II. 543-4.

No. 389.

A thick folio volume, containing 879 pages, fairly written at intervals, leaving three or four hundreds of pages blank.

"The Astrologicalle Judgmentes of Phisick and other Questions, written by SIMON FORMAN D^r of Astronomy and Phisick 1606. Lambeth the 16 September. In which is comprised his experience for 20 yeares before and many yeares after."

On the fly-leaf next before this title, is fixed a leaf, the inner margin of which is rotten, and some of the writing is gone: it contains—

"FORMAN'S Prologe to this his boock of Judgmentes. Let noman knowe thy scacreat deedes." (16 st. of 4.)

On the back of the title is written an imperfect Index of the book; and on the last page is another, which refers to the chief articles toward the end; also this note—"Robartus Delahai natus 1573, the first of January." (See No. 338, f. 115^b.)

From this MS. it seems that No. 403 was chiefly copied, and thence No. 363.

No. 390.

A folio volume (ff. 208), consisting of many quires and sheets bound together very disorderly, but most of which were formerly parts of one large volume or volumes, as it appears from the author's paging. The articles named in the "Tabula" on f. 1 (referring to p. 1, 20, 40, and 42) are not in this volume.

Astrological and Medical Treatises, Observations, and Figures on Horary Questions, by Dr. SIMON FORMAN.

The principal contents are the following:—

Rules to know whether it be “Beste to goe to thy love or noe.” f. 2, etc.

“Yf a man desier the love of a woman, howe and when he maye and shall obtaine her.” 29.

Of escaping danger and arrest, entering into a new house, etc. with many incidents of the writer’s own life and experience; and figures thereon. 52—65.

“De fugitivo, of a sonne or daughter fled or rone awaye or gone or absente. Forman 1607, Julij 12.” 75.

“De servo fugitivo, juditia per Forman 1607.” 96.

“Of law and controversie.” 105—117.

“Of troble and imprissonment,” with some incidents. 125—130.

“Stories of certain sick folke trobled wth strang dizcases.” 131.

“De visione vel somno:” or his dream, 18 May, 1591, about the philosopher’s stone. 132^b.

On the next page is “a powder for the Canker” described by Mr. Napier’s hand.

“De Itinere: pro me ipso regulæ sequendæ:” with incidents and figures. 151—160^b.

A discourse of the “Matrix and paine therof. per Forman 1596:” with catalogues of medicines. 175—185.

“Utrum mulier sit gravida.” 190—9^b.

The composition of Pulvis Nabctus and other medicines for the Eyes. 204^b—5.

No. 391.

A folio volume, containing 6 books of different sizes.

I. A MS. fairly written in the XVIIth century, in a hand of older appearance than its real date, on 16 leaves of paper. At the foot of the first page is written in the Italian hand Richard Atkins his boocke—viii^s iiiii^d. which signature has a very different appearance from that in No. 210, f. 23^b, and shows that the second and fourth MSS. in that volume (which are evidently written by the same hand as this) were not written by Atkins, as it there seems, but by the compiler of the present MS. (and of No. 393, ii), which contains—

Tracts and Observations on astrological Physic, collected and written by THOMAS SCALON.

1. “Here foloyth a prety conclusion of astronomye to know in what parte othe body of man or woman where the sicyns is. Fyrst ye must know the howre that the querente scklyth of þe.” 1^{ab}.

Over the rubric is written “note to know in what parte of þe body þe sekenes is.” The last words are—“luna the thiges. finis hujus tractatus 1545 et 14 d[i]e aprilis.”

2. Quædam “de quadris lunæ” et cursu ejus. 1^b.

3. Of the natures of the 7 planets, with catalogues of things signified by them. 2—3.

The Latin words in these lists are explained by English words in rubric.

4. “DANYEL his dremys. Here foloyth a prophitable and a comodius treatise compendiusly schowy[n]g þe interpretacōn or exposicōns of the dremys of Danyelle the prophete by the revelacōn of þe angyl of God and fyrst of þe dayes of þe mone and of þer condicōns and propertyes. primus. The fyrst day of the mone Adam our forefather was creatyd.” 3^b—5.

5. “Nota þer be ij dayes in every chounge of every moneth in þe wch þt any thyng is be gunne late or never schal come to any effecte at alle,” etc. 5.

6. Notæ tres, sic inc. Nota quod difficilius remove-tur egritudo—Qui bene vult incipere aliquid—Nota quod in quolibet mense sunt 2^o dies qui dicuntur egri mali et egri paci. 5^b.

7. Three notes thus beg. “Hora solis. The hourc of the ☉ is þe worste”—“Gemini. For frendship.”—“The trwe course of þe reigne of the 7 planettes. Loke perfittly when the son.” 5^b.

8. A short tract beginning thus—I will now schou you particulerly of a few Jugementes appertaynyng only to a phsicion cither to phsycke it must be undurstonð particulerly or principally of Jugementes.” 6—7^b.

The last words are—“and how the phsicians that do not consider that may avoyde intolcrable erreurs. finis.”

10. Quædam notulæ super domorum proprietatibus: inc. Arnoldus de Villu Nova notat quatuor domos celi. 7^b.

11. Tractatus astrologico-medicus, inc. “Dux questionis secundum Arabes dicitur almutez.” 8—16^b.

In fine—“Separatio quod fuit de re de qua queritur et conjunctio significat quod presens est de re. Explicit quod Thomas Scalon.” Another copy written by him is in No. 346, art. 78.

II. A MS. written on vellum, in the XVth century, probably in the year 1440. It now consists of 17 leaves, one having been lost between ff. 4 and 5; and contains—

An astronomical and ecclesiastical Calendar, with an Introduction, and additional Tables.

1. “Here begynneth the canone of the calender þt shewt how ye shulle it understonde in his forme and order. Fyrste ther standeth a table in augrym nombre which is writen al in reed. and ever in þe same lync ayeinst is writen the latync nombre in blak so þt a man may knowe þt oon by that oper.” 1.

The said table is now lost. At the end is this rubric—“Thus endeth þe canon of þe þre tables afore þe calender.—

2. “Now go we to þe reules of calender in þis forme. The firste lync shewt þe nombre of þe dayes of her monþes.” 1—2.

“þus endiþ þe canone of þe Reules of þe kalender.—

3. “Now seweþ certayn tables after whiche shul be declared in þis canon sewing. [Th]e firste table declarethe þe reule of knowing of planetis.” 2.

4. “Now seweþ a canon þt declareþ þe perels of þe xij signes þat reigneþ in sondri parties of þe bodies of iche reasonable creature as ye mow se by þis figure* here present. Whan þe mone is in Aricte." 3—4^b.

* A ride picture, not a little curious. This article ends with four stanzas of 4, on the natures of the 12 signs; beg. Doctours wordes moure not vari. It is followed by a poem beginning with three couplets rubric, but the rest is written like prose.

5. "Alle ye þt use bloode leting: and þerby geeten your lyvyng.

Here mow ye lere wisdom goode: in what place ye shul lete bloode.

In man in womman or in childe: for yvelle þt be wikked and wilde.

Veynes þer be xxxvi and two." etc. 4^b.

The last words are—The body above and þe heed. Hyt—The next page has been lost.

6. Table of leap years, dominical letters, etc. from 1440 to 1527. f. 5.

7. Table of all the moveable feasts. 5^b.

8. The Calendar: for the "Cielus 4^{us}" from "1444" to "1462," and the "Cielus 5^{us}." 6—11^b.

At f. 7. is noted the obit of Richard Colkok, 14 March, 1462.

9. "Tabula ad sciendum quis planeta regnat in qualibet hora inchoando diem ab ortu solis." 12.

10. "Tabula [lune] ad sciendum ejus signum die in anno." 12^b.

11. "Tabula ad sciendum gradum lune omni die etatis sue eujus suprema linea ostendit gradum in quo fuerit vera conjunccio." 13.

12, 13. Two tables of letters; one for all the months in the year, the other for the lunar cycle and the 12 signs. 13^b—4.

14. An imperfect table of the cardinal points, etc. 14^b.

15. "Eclipsis solis:" seu eclipsium tempora et figura a 1433 ad 1462. f. 15.

16. "Eclipsis lunæ:" per eosdem annos. 16^{ab}.

17. Figura lunæ phases explicans. 17.

III. A small folio book, printed (in 1488?) in the Gothic letter (ff. 36, in ternionibus A—F), almost every page of which contains a large and curious woodcut. On the first page is this title:—

"Pronosticatio in Latino. Rara et prius non audita que exponit et declarat non nullos celi influxus et inclinationem certarum constellationum magne videlicet conjunctionis et eclipsis que fuerant istis annis quid boni malive hoc tempore et infuturum huic mundo portendant durabitque pluribus annis."

The colophon is that of the author, not the printer, and it may seem therefore that the work was originally composed to be printed. It is on the last page but one, thus:—"Datum in vico umbroso subtus quercum Carpentuli Anno domini. M.cccclxxxviiij. Kalendas Aprilis per peregrinum Ruth in memoribus latitantem. Cujus oculi caligaverunt stilus tremet senio oppressus. Valeant qui recto animo emendant. Valeantque ut valere phas est qui ohtlatrare non cessant."

Over the title is written this note "Liber Thomæ Corsari presbiteri Oxonij 4 nummis 26 die marcij anno d'ni. 15410." The same person was in 1543 the possessor of the Arundel MS. 23; wherein his name appearing to be Corlari, was so printed in the Catalogue (p. 33) by mistake.

IV. A neatly written MS. containing 60 leaves, the 2 first of which are blank. The following title was written by Ashmole over the horoscope, the radix whereof is 15 Nov. 1598.

"The Nativity of Sr: Robert Holborne of Lincolnes Inn. Written by Mr. NICHOLAS FISK; but the first, 10 and 7th houses were judged by Mr. WILLIAM LILLY." 3—60.

Gadbury says in his account of this nativity (Collection, p. 124) that Dr. Fisk received a hundred pounds for calculating it. See also Lilly's Autobiography (1774, 8vo.), p. 44; and the note on Ashmole's own transcript of this MS. in No. 394, art. 1.

V. A tall quarto MS. consisting of 10 leaves of vellum, written in the XIVth century. The first 5 leaves are written in columns, and it is most likely that a Calendar was formerly fixed between that and the following leaf (namely in the middle of the book), to which the first article is the introduction.

1. Prefatio in Calendarium quoddam pro quatuor cyclis: inc. Ad honorem Dei et virginis gloriose nec non et omnium [sanctorum]. In hoc kalendario primo ponitur numerus dierum in prima linea. 1^{ab}.

The last words are—Incipit autem ciclus primus anno domini .1387. et terminatur ultimus anno domini .1462.

2. "Sequitur canon tabule festorum mobilium. Tabula docens quis sit annus bisextilis habet sic cognosci." 1^b—2^a.

This table is art. 10.

3. "Canon de sanguinis minucione. Minucio: alia fit per metathesim alia per antipasim." 2^{abc}.

4. "Postea sequitur ymago signorum." Et statim—In tabulam planetarum intrandum est, etc. 2^c.

See art. 17, 18; and for the following, art. 19.

5. Restat postea figura de urinis. Urina rufa significat salutem, etc. 2^d—3^c.

6. "[Canon de*] dispositione hominis secundum cursum nature. Sciendum est igitur siquis nasceatur in aliqua hora diei in qua dominatur." 3^d—4^c.

* These words are supposed to have been at the foot of 3^c, where the line is partly illegible.

7. "Canon pro minucionibus et purgacionibus recipiendis Fratris NICHOLAI DE LYNNE. Quia secundum sentenciam Tholomei in suo centilogio. et sui commentatoris Hali. propositione 56." 4^c—5^a.

8. Hec est flebotomic speculum, etc. 5^{abc}.

The latter half of this MS. contains—

9. "Manus meditationes." 6.

Read -nis. This article is drawn and written by a less antient hand; as also a medical recipe at the foot of the next page.

10. Tabula festorum mobilium, ab anno 1074 ad 1500. f. 6^b.

11. Tabula rotunda, super quod versantur "Volvella lune" et "Volvella solis:" cum figuris eclipsium in 1460 et 1462. f. 7.

This double volvelle is perfect: the rule is written on the upper moveable circle in a spiral direction from the edge to the centre; beg. Pone volvellam solis.

12. "Tabula lune ad sciendum ejus signum omni die." 7^b.
13. "Tabula lune ad sciendum ejus gradum omni die." 7^b.
14. "Spera Pictagore." 8.
15. Cyclus antiquus, seu tabula terminos quinque festorum mobilium, claves, epactas, cyculum lunarem, aureum numerum, et annos embolismares. 8.
16. Homo venarum, seu figura hominis cum venarum nominibus circumscriptis. 8^b.
17. Pietura, signorum 12 in corpore humano dominium ostendens: cum cautelis super unoquoque. 9.

Over this picture is drawn a little veil of antient silk-gauze.

18. "Tabula ad sciendum quis planeta regnet in omni hora." 9^b.
19. "Tabula de judiciis urinarum per colores." 10.

Around the circle containing this title, are 7 circles describing the qualities of so many classes of urines, which are painted in 20 little bottles in an external circle, surrounded by another on which are written their particular descriptions. The last page is blank. Compare the contents of this MS. with No. 789, viii.

VI. A tall quarto MS. now consisting of 12 leaves of vellum, much hurt by wet and mildew. It was written in the XVth century, with neat diagrams, painted capitals, and a painted border round the first page.

The conclusions of the Astrolabe, by GEOFFREY CHAUCER esq.; beginning—Lite Lowys my sone I aparecyve wel by certeyn evydence thyn abilitie to lerne scyence. 1—11^b.

The last rubric is—"To knowe þe eignet of the arisyng of þe arisyng of the sonne þis is to seyn þe partye of orisonte in which þat þe sonne ariseþ." It ends thus—The maner of divysion of þe—imperfectly, two leaves having been cut out between ff. 11—12; which last contains many astronomical or astrological notes of the XVIth century, in Latin, that are unimportant.

No. 392.

A folio volume (resembling No. 389), containing 641 pages numbered by the author, many of which are blank at intervals.

An astrological discourse of the finding of hidden treasure, to which is prefixed a "Tabula of Treasure and thinges hid in a house or out: per FORMAN." f. 1.

This table is continued by Ashmole to the third alternate page, so as to include the contents of the whole volume.

"Geomantia liber per FORMAN:" or a large practical treatise of Geomansy, with cases and figures set thereon. 46—254.

No. 393.

A large and thick folio volume, containing five MSS. confusedly bound together.

I. A MS. closely written in a bad running hand of the XVth century, on 112 leaves of paper; whereof ff. 68—9, 43—5, and 56—7, are misplaced between ff. 5—6 of the second MS.; and the first 23 leaves, and ff. 76, 78, 95, 97—102, and 106, are lost: they were numbered by the antient hand. On the corner of the first page is written "Anno d'ni 1455 Me scripsit isto argenteo calamo."

This is evidently the MS. whose chief contents are described by Ashmole, in No. 417, f. 392—3.

1. Tabulae diversae astronomicae et astrologicae: quarum ultima est "Tabula motus 8^{ve} spere" ab anno 1300 ad 1610. f. 23—8.

2. "Magister NICHOLAUS de doctrina humorum purgabilium. Ut testatur Boccius." 28^b—31.

In fine "divina clemencia mediante. Amen. Explicit tractatus nobilissimi Magistri Nicholai de doctrina humorum purgabilium."

3. Tabula conjunctionum et oppositionum annis 1455—62, cum notulis eclipsium et diagrammate. 31^b.

On the following leaf are written only 11 lines (which are struck through), beg. Res quibus perficiuntur pronosticaciones accēpte de astronomia. f. 32.

4. "Incepit liber in quo sunt essentie orbis et motus ejus et natura ejus. edicione* MESSAHALA. Sermo in hoc quod orbis est prescitus et creatus. Incipiam et dicam quod orbis est prescitus." 33—9.

* Leg. e dictione? In fine—"non est Deus nisi ipse gloriosus sapiens. Explicit Theorica Messahala etc."

5. "Theorica Planetarum. Circulus eccentricus." 39^b—42^b.

In fine—"corporaliter. Explicit theorica planetarum." Vide No. 1522, art. 11.

6. "ALFONSUS. Conjunctionem .5. planetarum retrogradorum invenire." 42^b.

7. "Contra pestilenciam. Magister HENRICUS HORNE doctor in medicina, domino T. Goldstone monacho ecclesie Christi Cant' etc'. In primis omnino aufer terrorem gravedinem tristitiam." 43.

In fine—"Et semper Deo sis paratus. This little summary of precautions against the plague, was known to Bp. Tanner (p. 413) only from John Twyne's MS. collections at Corpus Christi College.

8. "Quando evenient effectus .s. 3^{ium} superiorum. Nota horas inequales." 43.

9. "Amphorismi isti conveniunt Ptholomeo in suis judicijs. Magister JOH' MOREY. Scire direccionem alicujus loci vel planete ad alterum." 43^b.

10. "Veritates de magnitudine altitudine et spissitudine orbium planetarum. Tractatus de vera magnitudine [etc.] extractus per h' c de libris celi et mundi nobilissimi illius philosophi et doctoris sacre theologie R. B.† qui omnia rectificavit a tempore primorum auctorum astronomic usque ad tempus suum.*" 44^{ab}.

* Over the page is written "HENRICUS GRUFTORRENS Monachus extract." The same name occurs at the end (and the initials at the beginning of the next title) prefixed to this colophon—"Explicit utilis tractatus extractus de libris celi et mundi RB. per H. C. alias Gruftortem. Et est pernecessarius ad demonstrandum veras orbium quantitates omnium planetarum in plano."

† These letters form a monogram.

11. "H. G. Sequitur tractatus alius extractus de eisdem libris celi et mundi ejusdem doctoris RB.

et per eundem Hē de necessariis circulis in celo ymaginatis ad ymagines stellarum in spera supercelesti. Primo igitur sciendum quod nullus circule secundum veritatem est in celo nisi gallata tantum." 44^b.

In fine—"Pro ulteriori descriptione vide doctorem RB. de celo et mundo. Explicium veritates de circulis. Sed vide eundem doctorem pro diversitate habitaculorum."

12. "Capitulum de motu octave sperę. In celo sunt .9. sperę." 45^{ab}.

In fine—"Scito ergo hoc quia si negligatur maximus error inde proveniet. Explicet de motu 8^{ve} sperę. M. J."

13. "Ysagoge ABRAHE Astronomi. In nomine summe et individue trinitatis incipiunt ysagoge sive iudicia astronomicę secundum magistrum Abraham compositę. Iste liber dividitur in .3. partes." 46—9.

In fine—"residuum est noticia revolutionis dierum binaris mensis. Amen. Explicium ysagoge Magistri Abrahe."

14. "Sententie Judiciorum extracte de majori introductorio ALBUMASAR per H. GRUFFTORRENTEM. Differenciarum sentencie primi libri. Ea tantum modo in hoc tractatu ponimus que ad iudicia precipue pertinent." 49^b—53^b.

In fine—"credimus tamen hec sufficere intelligenti, qui hunc atque alios previderit libros. Explicet liber octavus qui specialiter extrahitur et exponitur ab omnibus quasi auctoribus tam in ysagogis majoribus quam minoribus, et jam hic finitur extractus iste."

15. "Exemplum in sciencia locorum significatorum ab invicem. Ponamus quod sol." 53^b.

16. "De secretis astronomicę. liber MESSAHALACH de interpretatione cogitationum. Cum astrorum scientiam." 54—5^b.

In fine—"qui est benedictus in secula amen. Explicet liber de intentionibus secretorum astronomicę." Other copies (without the author's name) are in No. 191, ii. art. 14, and No. 346, art. 69. An English translation is in No. 396, art. 10.

17. Excerptum e MESSAHALA, inc. Si autem pecceris ab aliquo substanciam quam accommodasti." 55^b—6.

"Vide hoc in libro Messahalad [sic] de interrogacionibus qui liber dicitur, quod Deus voluerit." Vide art. 38.

18. Tractatus [GUILIELMI] "MARSILIENSIS de urina non visa. Ne ignorancie." 56—7^b.

In fine—"cujus anime propicietur Deus et dominus noster Jesus Christus Amen. Explicet liber Anglici nacionis quondam civis Marsiliensis de urina non visa editus .1219^o." Vide No. 345, art. 36.

19. "Astronomia YPOCRATIS in Acutis. Dixit Ypocras medicorum optimus cujusmodi est medicus qui astronomiam ignorat." 58—9^b.

In fine—"Benedictus dominus Jesus Christus. Explicet astronomia Ypocratis in acutis." Confer No. 345, art. 4 et 16.

20. Tabula docens quales sint "Aspectus lune cum ceteris planetis" cum canone inc. Notandum per tabulam subsequentem quod effectus. 59^b.

21. "Tabula prima [et secunda] ad extrahendum annos Arabum ex annis collectis;" et "Canon tabule precedentis de invencione annorum Arabum secundum Magistrum CAMPANUM. Quia vero perutile est." 60.

22. "Nota utrum luna eclipsabitur vel non, sine magno labore, secundum regulam ABBATEGNI. Primo invenitur semidiameter lune." 60^a.

"Explicet notabilis rubrica de eclipsi solis et lune. Henricus Grufftorrens."

23. "Invencio annorum Arabum per annos Christi ad eclipsim, ut patet in tribus parvis tabulis annorum suprascriptis ex hac parte. Ut annos arabum et menses." Cum multis aliis ejusmodi tabulis. 60^b—1^b.

24. "Tabula biparcialis numeri ad sciendum latitudines quinque planetarum;" et alie tabule diversę astronomicę. 62—3, 64^b, 65^b—6^b.

25. Figure astrologicę super eclipsibus et solis introitum in arietem, anno 1457. f. 67.

26. "GERGIS. de significationibus planetarum ac capitis et caude. in 12 domibus. Sol in ascendente significat principatum." 68^b—9^b.

In fine—"neque dimittas que dico tibi nec proferas aliud. Explicet JERGIS de significationibus planetarum in domibus 12."

27. "Latitudo Saturni septentrionalis" et "meridionalis;" simul et aliorum planetarum. 70—4.

28. "Tabula equacionis domorum ad latitudinem 51 graduum et 40 minutorum." 90^b.

29. "Cometa:" seu "De generatione comete" secundum Januensem, Papiam et Albertum in summa (an. 1240): et "Questiones fratris SANDFFORD de Cometis, et habentur in libro questionum super de cons Queratur primo utrum comete moveantur circulariter." 77.

30. "Dominus orbis magni. JOH. ASSYNDENE. Anno Christi 1345 imperfecto." 77^b.

31. "ASCHYNDENE de tribus conjunctionibus. Karissime et reverende." 79—80.

In fine—"erit per duas horas. 48 minuta 38. secunda. Explicet Assyndene de tribus conjunctionibus." Of this and the four following articles (31—35) there are fair transcripts in No. 192, i. art. 4—8.

32. "Pronostic' EUSEBII Cesariensis [de fine mundi et antichristo: etiam excerptum e 'Joachim in magico libro de concordancijs prophetarum']. Notandum est secundum Eusebium Cesariensem inronicis suis et secundum fratrem Columbinum in collacione sua." 80^{ab}.

33. "Pronosticum MILONIS TOLETANI de conjunctione facta anno 1357. Universis Christi cultoribus ubique terrarum Magister Milo et alij magistri de Tolet." 80^b.

In fine—"qui sine fine vivit et regnat Amen."

34. "Incipit tractatus seu Judicium Magistri JOHANNIS DE MORYS de conjunctione Saturni Jovis et Martis anno domini Millesimo ccc^{mo}. xlv^o. Tres principes ex militia superiori." 80^b—1.

In fine—"non tamen hec omnia eodem anno contingere debent."

35. "Pronostic' Magistri LEONIS Hebrei de conjunctione Sat. et Jo. anno domini 1345. Quoniam fuit declaratum antiquitus per experientias multas longas et certas." 81^{ab}.

In fine sic—"Magister Leo [morte?] preventus anno Christi .1344. die 20. mensis aprilis circa meridiem de hac conjunctione nil amplius ordinavit Ego vero frater PETRUS DE ALEXANDRIA ordinis Fratrum Heremitarum sancti Augustini cum adiutorio Magistri SALOMONIS fratris carnalis predicti magistri Leonis istud inventum et ordinatum per eum: de Hebreo translitum in Latinum anno quo supra, sue sententie nil addendo, nichil in aliquo minuendo etc."

36. "Incipit tractatus Magistri JOHANNIS ASSCHYNDENE de conjunctione Saturni et Martis, anno 1365. Octobr. Sicut dicit Ptholomeus in centilogio propositione 50." 81^b—6.

A more proper title of this tract is given in the title that follows the preface, thus:—"Significacio conjunccionis Saturni et Martis in cancro que erit anno Christi 1357. mense Junij. completis de eodem mense .7. diebus. 22 horis et 38 mitis." (f. 82.) The last words are—que erunt in isto anno Amen.

37. "Significatio conjunccionis magne Saturni et Jovis, que erit anno Christi 1365^o. et mense Octobris, completis de eodem mense .29. diebus .14. horis et 22 minutis. 2^{us} tractatus. ASSCHYNDENE. Pro significacione istius." 86—9.

It ends thus—ita et tempus secundi adventus etc. Explicit tractatus Magistri J. Asschyndene de conjunctionibus, cum laude Jesu Christi." From this MS. therefore it will be seen that the transcript of these two tracts (art. 36, 37) was made by Sir Geo. Wharton, in No. 192, i. art. 1; of which see the title and colophon.

38. "In nomine pij et misericordis Dei incipit liber conjunccionis et recepcionis MESSAHALACH astrologij in interrogacionibus .6. secretorum judiciorum. Invenit quidam vir ex sapientibus librum ex libris secretorum astrorum de illis quos thesaurizaverant reges." 89^b—94.

In fine—"metu vero Dei. Amen. Finit liber astrologi Messahala qui interpretatur quon Deus voluerit in conjunctione et recepcione." Vide art. 17.

39. "ALBUMASAR in Floribus. Capitulum ad inveniendum dominum anni. Ut cognoscas dominum anni"—"Item Albumasar de revolutionibus annorum mundi, sive de experimentis, aliud capitulum ad inveniendum dominum anni. Dixit Albumasar scito horam introitus solis." 95^b.

In fine—"Gruftorrens. Explicit doctrina de eleccioni domini et significatoris anni secundum Albumasarum in floribus et eciam in libro de experimentis." Vide No. 369, v. art. 1.

40. Extracts from "CHAUNCERS" book called "The Tretis off the Astrolabye. Armilla is the ryng of the astrolabye." 96^{ab}.

—and that athire northe ward, etc. Then after a space of 5 or 6 lines, "Explicit the descripcōn of the Astrolabye. Here begynnythe the conclusiouns. To knowe the degre of the soune every day." The last words are—upone the verry tyme of the day. The author's name is written in the corner of the upper margin: which is important, because few of the manuscripts of this tract give the author's name. See No. 391, vi.

41. Tabulæ duæ, quarum altera nuncupatur "Tabula more infantis in utero matris." 103^{ab}.

Written by the same hand as the following article: there is a blank page between.

42. Fragmentum libri cujusdam de nativitatibus: qui sic inc. Tercia pars hujus libri. Tabulam more infantis. 104^b—5^b.

It ends by mentioning a tract (as if next following) extracted from Julius Firmicus, in which the signification of the horoscope—copiose ac ornato stillo pertractatur. This article is imperfect through the loss of 6 leaves, and is written in a larger hand than the MS. in general: its age may appear from an example proposed at f. 95, of the birth of a person 10 Oct. 1488.

43. Tabula in qua dantur indictiones, numeri solares et aurei, literæ dominicales, epactæ, termini diesque paschales, et ætas lunæ paschalis; pro tribus cyclis magnis; sed imperfecta, comprehendens quippe annos 126 uniuscujusque; qui sunt in tertio cyclo 1406—1531. f. 107^{ab}.

It is noted in the margin that in 1451 easter fell on St. Mark's day; in which year probably this table was begun: it was left unfinished on the third page. On the blank page opposite to the following article is an astrological note thereupon in English.

44. "Nativitas Nocturna. In nomine sancte et individue trinitatis patris filij et spiritus sancti incipit Judicium nativitatis cujusdam nobilissimi regis Anglie, scilicet H[enrici] 5^{ti}. qui natus est anno domini millesimo ccc^{mo}. lxxvj^o. completo 16^o. die septemb. 22 mi^{is}. post 11. horam completam. Omnes astrologi qui libros scripserunt." 109—111.

In the text of the date, lxxv is written with darker ink over an erasure; but the number written above agrees with that in the horoscope, namely "1376," which according to our reckoning would be 1377. See Ashmole's notes on the transcript of this art. in No. 192. i. art. 9. The 12th chapter ends thus—"patet quod in anno 53^o Deo volente morietur. Amen."

45. "ALBUMASAR in floribus. Hic est liber quem collegit Albumasar de floribus eorum que significant res superiores." 111—2^b.

It ends in the fourth line of the second part (see No. 369, vi.) thus—significat. Et si fuerit. The rest of this MS. is lost.

- II. A MS. consisting of 68 leaves of paper, written in the reign of Henry VIII., and afterward, by the same hand as No. 391, i. and on the same kind of paper. The outer margin of the first 5 leaves is cut off to the size of the third MS., which is wrongly bound between f. 3 and 4; also between f. 5 and 6 are inserted 7 leaves of the first MS. The first page is ruled, but not filled up. The contents are generally—

Tables, tracts, and observations, relating to Astrology and Medicine, collected and written by THOMAS SCALON.

1. Tabulæ cum regula; cujus in fine—"Et iste modus est satis preciosus pro judiciis questionum secundum JOHANNEM COCHE vicarium de Stoclon Gautes prope Coming." Accedunt alia tabula, et versiculi quidam et notulæ astrologiæ. 1^b—5^b.

The rule begins thus—Cognito gradu solis in quocunque signo per instrumentum vel per almanake. The whole article is the same as in No. 340, art. 23, 24, and No. 346, art. 34; which, though written by the same hand as this MS., attribute it to master John Styke of Norwich. At the end of the second table also is written "Explicit tabula domificandi Johannis Coche vicarij de Stoclon Gautes." Some of the astrological notes written below pp. 4^b and 5^{ab} are in English.

2. Carmen elegiacum "De aspectibus lune et aliorum planetarum. Fortunata dies ad agenda negociæ regum." (30 hexasticha.) 6—8^b.

Another copy by the same hand is in No. 346, art. 35.

3. Tables of the Sun's declination for four years, from one leap year to another: with rules prefixed, beg. Thou schalt understand that here is wrytyn 4 tabylles by cause of the leap year and servys in this maner. 9—10^b, 11—22^b.

4. A collection of Recipes for various diseases: thus superscribed—"marke these foloyng by iij levys multum necessarium." 23—5^b.
5. Definitiones medicæ, ordine elementario, A-H, O-R, S-T. f. 28—9, 27—26.

These four leaves are parts of a considerable vocabulary, beginning—"Apoplexia est passio cerebri," etc. The words explained are written with rubric, which is much used by this writer in his folio MSS.

6. Hippocratis quædam, cum scholiis: inc. Vita brevis ars vero longa. tempus autem acutum. 30—1.

²/₇ pages largely written in short lines, with interlineary and marginal notes. To fill up the second leaf are added the following notes in a running hand.

7. "Remedies against "Humor fallin downe owt of þe body into þe legges," and "to voyd flemc and for a cold stomack:" also notes of the treatment of "Mastris Collys, for hir hote burnyng fever," and two recipes. 3^{1ab}.

8. "[T]his is the boke of IPOCRAS in his boke he tellyth how for to know by the planettes lyf and dethe and the tymes there off. Fyrst he sayth that a leche shall take hede of the mone." 32^{ab}.

A fragment: only one leaf.

9. Experimenta quædam. "Ad faciendam aquam ardentem.—Ut candela accendatur ex radio solis.—Ad faciendam candelam inextinguibilem.—Ut papyrus non ardet."—et alia curiosa. 33^{ab}.

10. Prognostica per tonitru; inc. Si tonitrium fuerit in mense Januarij. 34^a.

11. Rules for knowing when the signs are good and when bad, and for what. 35^{ab}.

12. "This sunge chapecle schewys how al þe yere is rewlyd by the fyrst daye of January. Yff the fyrst day of January be sonday." 36^{ab}.

13. Another version of the same. "Here is þe propertyes of þe dayes of Januarye. When Januari fullythe on sonday." 37^{ab}.

14. Various notes of the natures, aspects, etc. of the planets: the first rubric whereof is—"Here foloythe of þe 7 planetes. Here is saturnus. he betokenythe." 38—40.

15. "Eleccionis of signis movabyllc. When luna ys yn Aries." 40^b—1.

16. "Die[s] et planete hominum. Notandum est quod secundum proprietates trium planetarum," etc. "Domus planetarum.—Complexiones planetarum." 41^b.

17. A collection of Medical Recipes, partly in Latin (some of which are extracted from Manardus) and partly in English. 42—50^b.

It seems that those on 44^a were learned from "Master Morvyn vicar of Pownstok," whose name is written over the page. At f. 45 is written the name of Sir J. Bayly. At f. 45 are directions "to mak conservas [of roses] after master Foryst:" notes that "the surgyn of Cardyf hath master Baltasar of Lunden hys unguent;" and that "Sir John Gore of Weleton can mak the recyte for the pookes to noynte the vj principall joyntes." At f. 49^b are recipes for the "Lady Cowntas of Bath for hir payn of hir hed and yl heryng."

18. "Natura 7 planetarum. Saturnus est frigidus et siccus:" itemque 12 signorum: cum versiculis, multisque hujusmodi notulis. 51—5.

19. Scala graduum 12 signorum, cum qualitatibus locorum quos planeta in eis habent. 55^b—8.

20. Alie ejusmodi scale, cum regula præmissa, inc. Nota quod ista tabula sequens. 58^b—61^b.

21. Octo horoscopi;—nempe, super oppositiones luminarium ante solis introitum in arietem, et super ipsum introitum, annis 1482—3, ad lat. Edinburgi; "figura nativitatis cujusdam servi Dei nati anno 1496 die 4^{ta} Januarij" (lat. 58 gr.) et alterius nati 22 Nov. 1481; etiam duæ figuræ super conjunctionem planetarum 25 Nov. 1484. f. 62—3^b.

22. "Pro honore habendo eleccio:" et "Secundum Gwydonem de Furbeno consideracio 19:" aliaque astrologica. 64.

23. "Tabula de dignitatibus planetarum," et quædam de annonæ caritate. 64^b.

24. Figures on the following Nativities, etc. 65—8^b.

f. 65.] John son of David Dey, born 25 July, 1533. (24 Hen. 8.)

Annys Nordyn, b. 15 Aug. 1543.

Annys Dey, b. 23 Jan. 1544.

65^b.] "Questio Thome Capon de Edyngton pro filio suo absente:" with the judgement of the Vicar of Stouclond Gauntes.

"Questio Edithe Farmer the 10 day of october."

On "þe takyng of þe othe of þe frenche Kyng anno Christi 1526."

66.] "Nativitas principis Ed. anno d'ni 1537 die 120. Octobris betwyx one and too in þe mornyng."

"Doctor Marsche" (no date).

"Mota fuit hec questio 20 mia post horam terciam post meridiem die sabbati vz 29 die aprilis. per magistrum Marsch."

66^b.] "Questio of þe good wyf Prowse of Kengetyn for xli gold and silver:" with judgements, and another figure.

67.] Two figures on questions.

67^b.] "Questio Molyus:" and another figure.

Nota quod "Anno d'ni 1555. 22 die octobris Thomas Jonsone de Exonia quesivit de pecunijs absconditis in Wallia per manus Willmi Raynoldes nuper defuncti per duos annos exactos."

68.] Notes of the birth (as before) and death (6 July, 1553) of Edward VI.: also of the birth of Hewgo Smyth, 23 Sept. 1530.

68^b.] Ann dau. of David Dey, b. 13 July, 15 . . ., with judgements.

- III. A folio MS. containing 10 leaves (the 3 last pages of which are blank), written in the XIVth century. The lower corners have been eaten off. It is bound between ff. 2—3 of the second MS.

Tractatus astronomicus cum definitionibus incipiens sic—Longitudo regionis est arcus circuli equinoctialis vel arcus paralleli ad equinoctialem interceptus: tum "Incipiunt canones tabularum" seu regulæ ad 18 problemata solvenda. f. 1—9.

At the top of the first page is written "3^a pars" (but in the margin of f. 3, above the title, "2^a pars"), and by Dr. Dee (?) "de definitionibus," as also some marginal notes. The last words are—determinabil locam sui luminaris pro principio. quod est propositum.

- IV. A MS. written on paper early in the XVIth century. The pages (except the first and thirty-third, which are blank) are numbered on the left hand margin, by the same hand as this note at the end (temp. Jac. I.) "This Booke containeth one hundred sixtie and two pages."

1. ROBERTI REDE Episcopi Cicestrensis, Tabulæ astronomicae. p. 1—40.

At the top of p. 41 is this rubric—"Explicunt Tabule Rede quod J. Stillton." The latter name is obscured with black ink. This and the following page are 2 leaves pasted together.

2. To finde the ascendentes of signez in circulo directo. etc. 41.

3. [Nota] quod sagaces qui aliquid opus fuerint voluerint necnon omnes sagaces medici, etc. Et de pergamenio virgineo. 42.

4. "Tabula multiplicationis, per Watkin." 43.

Twenty figures wide and 25 deep: but unfinished. The planetary table on the next page is better written at p. 46.

5. A book of Elections, according to the twelve houses: beg. Thes bcn the most necessarie considerations introductorious to every partie of the Juggementis of Astronomie. First the 5 dignitateis essenciale of the planetis. 45—115.

At the top of p. 116 is this note—"Here endith the Eleccōn written by H F the xj daye of Novembre in the yere of oure lorde Godde a M^o D v^{to} 1505." The full name is overwritten "Humffery Felingtone."

6. Notes of good and bad hours, and days of the week, (partly Latin and partly English); and of the natures of the planets. 116—7.

7. "Tabula ALCUBUCI. Conjunction of light is when the lordc of thuscndent." 118—130.

8. "In nomine Dei patris et misericordis dixit. Famulus [seu ABDALLAH*] filius Aly filij Masuph filij Astrologi. Quoniam inspexi quam plurimos homines." 131—151.

* See the English version in No. 417, art. 33, (2). This copy contains chiefly Geomantical Tables.

9. An unfinished translation of "Prima pars HALY. Signes that are of Eyre and of Fyre ben masculyne." 154—162.

It ends thus at the beginning of a sentence—The houses of planettes—Some vacancies in this MS. were filled up, in a bold running hand of the Italic character, in the time of Eliz., with—

- (1) Seven astrological revcls. 126—7.
(2) "A rewle to know the imprisonment of a man by his nativity:" with historical examples. 152—3.
(3) "Of violent death." 162.

- V. A MS. written in columns, on 10 leaves of vellum, in the XIVth or XVth century; in a hand resembling that of a Roman notary.

"In nomine domini Amen. Incipit liber beatissimi YSIDORI Yspaliensis Episcopi. De natura rerum. [Libri 37] Rubrica. Illustri domino et filio Sisebuto. Ysidorus." 1—10^a.

The last words are—Si a septentrione versos rotatim legas in girum invenies ordines eorum. Two circular figures of the winds follow; one on each page of the last leaf.

- VI. At the end of this volume is a fragment of—An antient Rent-roll, of the XVth century; which seems to have been used as the cover of a quarto book. On the inner pages of this vellum are set—

Quinque figuræ astrologicæ, cum calculis: quarum prima est "Figura oppositionis solis et lune a^o d'ni M. CCCC. 25 completo. 21 die mensis Maye post nonam horam infra mane."

No. 394.

A fair folio volume, consisting of 277 leaves of paper, seeming to have been designed for a Deed-book, but afterward appropriated to various transcripts by Mr. Ashmole: the contents were all neatly written by his hand at different times. This motto is set on the first page—"Sapiens in terris hæreditabit honorem, et nomen ejus erit vivens in æternum."

1. "Sr Robert Holborns Nat. calculated by Dr. FISKE. Ex MS: Orig." f. 2—44.

At the foot of 43^b is this note—"Sr: Robert Holborne was buried under Lincolns Inn Chapell. the 16 of Feb: 1648." Hence may be corrected Lilly's note in the original MS. (No. 391, iv. f. 47^b), that "Hee died about June or July 1646. W. L. of a consumption of the lungs."

2. Proceedings "In Camera Stellata coram Concilio ibidem 25^{to} die Novembris anno 12^{mo} Jacobi Regis" in the "cause depending betweene dame Anne Day widdow, Nich. Beddingfield esq. and Elizabeth his wife, plaintiffs against Anne Hungate widdow, Sr: Robert Winde K^t. Henry Brauthwaite esq. Thomas Townesend esq. George Nunne and Thomas Blofeld gen^r defendants;" relative to the estates of Robert Hoogate son of the said Ann Hungate. 45—8.

3. Proceedings "In Camera Stellata [etc.] 31^{mo}: Janu. anno decimo quinto Car: Regis" in the cause of Robert, William, and Richard Parker, and John Wingrave and Eliz. his wife, against Robert and Nich. Butcher, Rich. Parker esq. and Wm. Vernon; relative to the estates of Mary dau. and coh. of George and Alice Parker, married to the said Nich. son of the said Rob. Butcher. 48^b—51^b.

4. Proceedings "In Camera Stellata [etc.] 21 die Octobris anno 16 Car: R." in the cause of Robert Cremer, against "Sr Hamon L'estrangle, Dame Alice his wife, Sr Nicholas Le Strange bar^t: Roger Warner, John Elgar sen^r John Elgar jun^r and John Smith, defendants, for corrupting rasing and altering the plaintiff's copy of a court roll of the manor of Hecham." 53^{ab}.

5. Proceedings "In Camera Stellata [etc.] 8 die Junij anno decimo quarto Car. R." on the Attorney-general's complaint against Robert Ryther and Eleanor his wife, and 17 others, for assaulting the Sherrif's officers and rescuing the said Robert. 54—5^b.

6. "Mr: [WILLIAM] OUGHTRED'S Pre to Mr: Greatorix concerning the Comet 1652;" containing his observations of the course of a "stella crinita not caudatu" from Thursday, 9 December; dated at "Aldbury Dec. 19: 1652." 56.

7. Mr. OUGHTRED's observation of the same comet's place 14 Dec. 1652: with Mr. ASHMOLE's note that it was seen by his wife and Mr. and Mrs. Tradescant, 21 Dec., but that he could not see it the next night. 57.

An original paper pasted on this leaf.

8. Tractatus super eujusdam horoseopo et profec-tionibus ab anno "1612 ætatis 23" ad 1626: inc. Capricornus in cali medio fulix est ad hono-rum gradus. 58—75^b.

The figure has not been set on the first page in the space left for it.

9. Figure and judgements on the nativity of "Grand Steward Pembroke 8 Apr. 1580." 76—81.

10. "KEPLER's way of directing all the significa-tors in a nativitie." 83—92^b.

11. "Calculus genethiacus Thomæ illustris: quon-dam Norfolciæ Ducis [nati 10 Mar. 1558] post mortem in ipsius musæo repertus, nunc demum ex autographo transcriptus, qui extat in biblio-theca Gulielmi Crashauij ministri Londinensis." 93—98.

Ashmole observes that that copy was "Transcribed by Dr: Anthony Martyn after B^p of Meath in Ireland." The nobleman was not Duke but Earl of Norfolk and Arundel, and died in 1646.

12. Figure and directions of the nativity of a per-son born in 1630, with accidents. 98^b—102.

Compare No. 698, art. 5; from which MS. this and the three following articles seem to have been copied.

13. Directions of the horoscope from 1602 to 1664; subscribed—"Thus far Mr. WILLIAM LILLY's nativity was directed by himselfe. He dyed the 9 of June 1681. of a dead palsey." 102^b—106.

14. LILLY's figure on the nativity, and short ac-count of the death (17 Feb. 1653-4) and burial, of Grace his wife. 107.

15. Lilly's accidents; and a figure on his nativity, with speculum. 107^b, 108^b—9.

16. Figure on the "Nativity of Ruth 3^d wife to Mr. W^m. Lilly, with Mr. HEN: COLEY's judg-ment thereon. Nata 29 Ap. 1629." 109^b—110^b.

17. Figure and judgements on the nativity of R. Peirpoint Earl of Kingston (6 Aug. 1584). 113—4^b.

"The preceding judgment was made by Mr. Allen of Glou-cesters Hall in Oxford, he being present in the house at the tyme of the nativity, and wrot it downe in a booke, out of wch Henry Peirpoint esq^r, one of the natives younger sons, transcribed it, and from wch I copied it, this 13 of December 1672. E: A." See also No. 423, f. 107.

18. Note of the ascendent in Prince Arthur's na-tivity, from a stanza in the speech of King Al-phonsus to Princess Katharine of Spain, in the pageant presented at her entrance into London, 12 Nov. 15 . . . f. 115.

19. Seven Letters to "Monseigneur le Comte d'Arlington, grand Chambellan du serenissime Roy de la Grande Bretagne" (dated at Paris, 3 and 20 Sept. 1675, 3 Aug. 1676, 17 July and 24 Aug. 1677, 20 July 1678, and 15 June 1680) and one to King James II. (dated 15 June 1680), from Monsieur "DE BEAULIEU, HEWES O NEIL." 116—8^b, 119—120.

These do not seem to have been copied by Ashmole's hand: they are very neatly written. The following 53 leaves are blank.

20. "A Recitall of the celestiall apparitions of this present trigon now in being." By Sir CUR. HEYDON. 183—206^b.

See the notes on No. 242, art. 9, and No. 313.

21. Discourse on the ascendent in the nativity of Augustus Cæsar, against both Suetonius and Jos. Scaliger; by FRANCIS BERNARD.* 208—10.

* So it seems from the following title.

22. Three assertions proved "In answer to Mr: Bernard's paper: written by EDW. SHERBORNE esq^r." 210^b—2^b.

The author's name is added by Ashmole in the margin.

All the rest of the book is blank, excepting 5 leaves toward the end, written invertedly.

23. ASHMOLE's Abstracts of Deeds relating to the business of Dr. Cademan and other clients: namely—

(1) "A bargain and sale" of lands and tenements in Litcham, from Tho. Cademan M. D. and Anne his wife, to Sir Tho. Woodhouse of Kim-berly co. Norf. knight and bart. by indenture dated 1 Feb. 21 Jac. I. (1624.) f. 269^b.

(2) "An assignement of a lease" of a messuage (granted by Robert Gyfford M. D. of S. Mar-tin's in the fields, London, 23 June, 1636) from Margaret Roby to Dr. Cademan by ind. 15 July, 1636. f. 268^b.

(3) "A bargaine and sale of certaine oaze-ground subject to the overflowing of the sea" (called Lynington haven) from Robert Tipper of Gray's Inn esq. to Dr. Cademan, Capt. Allan Botteler of Hawkesbury co. Glouc., and Silvester Plunket apothecary. (10 Sept. 1640.) 268—7^b.

(4) "An assignement of parte of the aforesaid oaze-ground" from Capt. Botteler to Dr. Cade-man. (11 Sept. 1630.) 267.

(5) "A release" of the same. (28 Oct. 1631.) 267.

(6) Bargain and sale of lands in Barneshaw, from Henry Manwaring to Mary Harison. (31 Jan. 1641.) 266^b.

(7) "An abstract of the deede bearing date the 28 of Sept. 1 Car. R. and made betwecne Peter Venables of the first parte, Sr. Rich: Wilbraham and Tho: Wilbraham on the 2^d parte, and Sr Peter Leigh and W^m Leversage on the 3^d parte:" conveying to them his manors and lands in Cheshire. 266—5.

See a passage under "Trinity-term" 1639, in Ashmole's Diary, (1774, 8vo.) p. 293.

No. 395.

A folio volume, containing 383 leaves, many of which are blank at intervals.

A large astrological treatise "Of the 12 Signs what partes of man's body they have and what dys-eazes they cause." f. 3.

On the first leaf are 2 stanzas (partly decayed), and on the last leaf is "An apprevyd medison for a woman whose hreste wax-eth sore after a child hath lefte sucking." Observations on some particular diseases are written toward the end of the book, of which there is a short list on the last page.

No. 396.

A MS. in folio, fairly written in the XVth century on 203 leaves of vellum, with painted capitals.

1. The Secretum Secretorum attributed to ARISTOTLE, translated from the Latin version of master PHILIP; beginning with this rubric—"To his most excellent lord and in worshipping of Cristene religione hardiest, Guy of Valence the gracious bisshope of Tripolis, Philippe of his clerkes the lest hym self and his service he offretbe to this trew devocione." f. 1—47.

The prologue is followed by this rubric—"Here begynneth the Chapters of the comendacione of the prohemey of the doctour in comendacion of Aristotle." After 94 titles the second preface begins, wherein (at f. 4) is the story of the pretended discovery of the book by "Johne the sone of Patrik" and of his translating of it "first fro Grewe to Caldee speche and fro þt into Arabic." (See Lydgate's metrical version in No. 46.) There are 107 rubrics after this, which are numbered in the margin by an antient hand. The last words are—"and ever remembre on Philemon is jugement upon Ypoeras and upon Ypoeras is most assured aunswere etc. Explicit." The rest of the leaf is vacant.

2. A treatise of Arithmetic, being the *Algorismus communis translated into English: beginning with this rubric—"Boys seying in the begynnyng of his Arsemetrik Alle thynges that bene fro the first begynnyng of thynges have proceded, and come forthe, and by resone of nombre ben formed, and in wise as they bene, so owethe they to be knowene, wherfor in universalle knowlechyng of thynges the Art of nombrynge is best, and most operatyf." 48—56.

* See No. 1522, art. 3.

The last words are—"And this at this tyme suffisethe in extraccione of nombres quadrat or eubike etc. Four lines follow, defining ten places of arithmetical notation; and on the next page, is—

3. A large explanatory Numeration-table of the digits, to the eighth place of figures. 56^b.
4. Twenty-four tables showing exactly when each planet begins its dominion, by day and night, every month of the year: with a description of their formation and use. 57—69.

The first leaf (on the back of which was the day-part of January) being lost, the first page is superscribed Noctes Janu. In the rule it is said that "This table is ordeyned for þe meridian of Oxenford, where þe moder of vertues haþe ordeyned hir to dwelle and to teche her chosen childer in what maner þe .7. sciens buddis and flouris to bryngre forþe frutes of vertu. And it schalle endure as longe tyme as gracios God haþe ordeyned þe sonne to be drawn thorow þe ravysschyng of þe firmament from þe est into þe west by þe emisperi of þe forseyde place." (68^b.) This article is neatly written in a small text-hand. At the end is a note of places subject to each of the planets, and the length of their periods.

On the next page (otherwise blank) is recorded astrologically in Latin, the time of the birth of the son of Lord John Zowche, 10 Dec. 1564; in an Italian hand.

5. An astrological treatise of the effects of eclipses, of elections, and of the twelve celestial houses: beg. Ptholome seithe in the .2. booke of his qua- terpartit that the effectes of Eclipsis shall happe. 70—88^b.

The second paragraph has this rubric—"Messehalache seith thus of the Eclipse of the moone" (considre univesely, etc.); and the third likewise—"of the Sonne:" the fourth begins thus—"Guy de Bonacty of eclipse of the Sonne seithe. It is not certain whether the following rubrics should be considered the titles of separate tracts: "Undrestande the Eleccions after Messehallaghe. Begynne we," f. 74; and "Of the .12. howses and first of the first. The first hous is cleped the hous of Iyf." f. 77. But the paragraphs are all numbered by an antient hand to the number of 147; of which last only two lines remain; the next leaf having been lost, which contained the end of the twelfth house.

6. "The significacions of Mane after þe .iiij. complexions univesally. Colericus. A man of coloure like unto irene browne and blake." 89—91^b.

The text following a largely written rubric ("Alle the 3 signes that ben of oome accordaunce thei maken oon triplicite.") on the last page, seems to belong to this article, and to end imperfectly, with this line—"Also every signe loketh in the .4. signe before hym and behynde and this is—. The next leaf may have been lost.

7. "The Introd[uc]t[o]ry of ASSCHENDENE. After that it is determyned before of univesalle and generalle rules that dyvers Astronomers have sette in thaire bokes of thynges that happen in this world." 92—125^b.

Twenty-nine paragraphs or chapters are numbered in this article. The last words are—"and se that he be stronge in the ascendent and in the places etc.

8. A treatise on the Judgement of Nativities; beg. The tyme of egressione of the childe fro the moder is wombe is cleped the verray Nativite. 126—186^b.

The third paragraph recites 13 matters treated of "in the third part of this boke." The 156th ends thus—"he shall dye with the irene othere in the watire.

9. A catalogue of Stars, with their positions, longitudes, and planetary characters; beg. "She that is on thooore and þe extremyte of þe wyngge of þe 2 hors. Septemtrional. 2. 1. 30. Aries. ♂ ♀." 187—8^b.

10. A treatise on the Judgement of horary Questions; beg. MESSEHALLACHE comaundithe to stabblysse the ascendent by degree and mynute and domyfie the .12. houses. 189—192^b.

Ending thus—"Now here endithe the writyngis of the secretis of Astronome that olde philosophers wolde not shew to thaire dere childre. And herewithe an ende glory and laude geuyng to God. Amen. It is a translation of the tract De intentionibus secretorum, in No. 393, i. art. 16, omitting the short preface.

11. The properties of the mansions of the moon. "The first mansion of the moone is temperate and lastithe from the begynnyng of the Ram unto the xiiijth degree of hym. Whan the moone is in this mansion it is goode to resceyve medecynes," etc. 193—7^b.
12. The properties of the seven planets; beg. "The houre of the Sonne. Be ware what werke thou begynne." 198—9.
13. "Here begynneth the art of Ptholome Plato and of Pictagoras. In the first gadre alle the nombres of the pacient." 200—3^b.

The last leaf of this article contains the "distinctions" that are in No. 399, art. 16, which may be better understood by comparison with this MS.

No. 397.

A folio volume, containing 389 leaves, many of which are blank, at intervals; resembling No. 395.

A large astrological treatise of the Judgements of each of the seven Planets in the twelve celestial Houses, both of the radix and the revolutions.

On the first leaf is a table of contents, which comprehends (f. 1c) some pieces inserted at the beginning and elsewhere on special subjects of astrological judgement.

The last leaf is of parchment, and contains a table of the "Amicitia et Inimicitia Planetarum." f. 389.

No. 398.

A folio volume, containing 119 leaves of vellum, fairly written in a romance-text-hand of the XIVth century. The first page has a gilded capital and a border; the other capitals also are painted.

"Ci comence la grand et la parfit oueraigne de Geomancie. Cest oueraigne est de la science de Geomancie. Et ico vous dirrai en verite en ceste prolouge quel fut la cause de ceste science et pur quai la science fut trove et fet." 1—118^b.

Toward the foot of the first page is this rubric:—"Ore comence la grand prologe de les articles de cest science." The last words are—a vendre de natures de figures as natures de home seient si com nous avons avant dit en le particuler etc. An old note underwritten has been erased: the next leaf is blank, except that there is a circular figure, drawn perhaps by "John ap Jenkin," whose name is written there.

No. 399.

A small folio MS. fairly written (for the most part in columns) in a small text-hand of the latter part of the XIIIth century, with painted capitals and other ornaments. It contains 73 leaves of vellum, of which f. 61 and the two last are blank.

1. Liber de Physiognomia, qui sic incipit—Ex tribus auctoribus quorum libros pre manu habui, LOXI videlicet medici, ARISTOTELIS philosophi, PILEMONIS declamatoris, quia [de] phisonomia scripserunt, ea elegi que ad pristinam institutionem hujus rei pertinent, et que facilius intelligantur. 1—13^b.

Ending thus—"promus ad libidinem studiosus pantomimorum et maledicus. Explicit phisonomia. anno iesu xp'i Milesimo. centesimo. l. ij." This colophon (written in large text-letters) signifies that the book was composed in the year 1152, not that this MS. was then written: there is another copy, of equal age, in the Cottonian MS. Galba E. IV. f. 228, where a note of the present MS. has been written by a contemporary of Ashmole; and another in No. 1471, art. 24.

2. Tractatus obstetricius de forma uteri, et fetus in eo positionibus diversis; etiam de fetus formatione. 13^c—16^b.

The first page contains a formal sketch of the genitalia femina. Each of the next 5 columns contains two small drawings of the positions of the fetus, with their descriptions and directions respectively: the first of which begins thus—Si in pedibus descendit. The other 5 columns of text (beg. [M]atrix in forma sua) are written in a coarser character, and end thus—Novem mensium masculinus in xl. formatur in .l. xxx.

3. Chiromantia, sic incipiens—Litere naturales sunt

✓ iiii^{or}. in planicie omnis c[h]iros: cum utriusque manus delineatione descriptiva. 16^{cd}, 17.

The hands are drawn on a curiously chequered ground. Compare art. 17.

4. Calendarium tabulare, ad literas dominicales et cyclum lunarem accommodatum. 17^b.

This curious table is neatly drawn and written in small squares, vertically; and seems to have been originally followed by f. 25, the writing of which very much resembles this.

Ff. 18—24 are seven leaves of stout vellum different from that of the other leaves. On the first page of each of the first 5, is painted, within a vine-border, an anatomical representation of the human frame, of which the descriptions are written on the opposite pages: but as the first drawing has no corresponding text, it may be concluded that there were eight leaves, and that the first is lost, containing also (perhaps) the title and preface.

5. Liber de corporis humani fabrica, cum picturis: sub hisce capitibus distributus:—

i. [Historia venarum, 17^b] cum pictura, 18.

ii. Hec est historia arteriarum que procedunt ex corde etc. 18^b, 19.

iii. Hec sunt historie ossium diversorum ab invicem. etc. 19^b—20.

iv. Hec est historia nervorum. etc. 20^b—1.

v. Hec est historia lacertorum. quos fecit Dominus ut vacuum replerent etc. 21^b—2.

Item pictæ viscerum delineationes. 22^b—4^b.

The text of this article forms narrow pages, written with very black ink in a fair text-hand; which hand, and the large golden capitals, show somewhat more antiquity than other parts of the book. The wide margins surrounding the text, and all the spaces between the figures and borders in the pictures, are filled with other antient writing, somewhat smaller than that of the first article, but by the same hand: before their contents be described, it is needful to pass to the eleven pages next following the present article, on which is neatly written in alternate columns of green and red letters—

6. Tabula monstrans cyclum lunarem, literas dominicales et dies paschales, per annos 1001—29, 1100, 1118, 1200, 1292—1531. f. 25—9.

It seems to have been written in the year 1292. The smaller writing before mentioned runs on from the upper part of f. 24^d to the lower margin of the first page of this article, as is shown by the catchwords: to describe it, we must now turn back to the first page of article 5.

7. CONSTANTINI liber de Coitu (præmissis capitulorum titulis) incipiens ita—Creator volens animalium genus firmiter ac stabiliter permanere. 18—21.

In fine—"in qua solutum fuerit opium virge. Explicit liber de cohitu Constanti Deo gratias." Another copy is in No. 1471, art. 32.

8. Liber de ægritudinibus Mulierum, et maxime de liberorum partu, e Galeni, Hippocratis, et Constantini libris plerumque confectus: inc. Cum auctor universitatis Deus in prima mundi origine. 21—6.

In fine—"ut cepe pastinata domestica et similibus. Explicit Trotula senior Deo gratias. Item si mulier parum de folio lauri—[Deinde post aliquot lineas—] dabitur. Explicit."

9. Scriptiuncula de formatione fetus: inc. Sperma hominis descenditur ex omni humore. 26—7.

In fine—"et sinistram masculi creantur. Explicit compositio hominis et cetera."

10. "Libellus de Anatomia: inc. Galienu testante

in tegni: quicumque interiorum et non app[ar]encium congruor esse desiderat. ipsum in atthonomia diligentem esse oportet. 27—31^b.

In fine—et inde nutrimentum omnium membrorum habent sic nil omissum.

11. CONSTANTINI liber de Stomacho, sic inscriptus —Reverendissimo domino Salernitane ecclesie archipresuli Constantinus Africanus montis Cassinensis monachus debite subjectionis obscquium, etc. 31^b—42.*

After the short preface, thus beginning, are recited the titles of the chapters.

* In the MS. the author's name is here corruptly written "a sōst'a" though rightly at the end, thus—"omnia indigestibilia.
Explicit liber stomachi Constantini." Concerning this author see Muratori Antiq. Ital. III. 935.

Two leaves of vellum (of the same texture and appearance as the others) are inserted between ff. 32, 35, though they do not seem to illustrate or belong to this article. They contain 8 curious pictures (2 on each page) drawn with a pen and lightly tinted. In each is represented a woman with medical and other attendants:
the sixth represents a surgeon taking out a woman's bowels; and in the last is a woman on horseback, going to hawk. Unfortunately the labels, designed to be inscribed with the physician's words, are left vacant.

12. JOHANNIS DE SANCTO PAULO libellus de sim-plicibus medicinis: inc. Cogitanti mihi de simplicium medicinarum virtutibus. 41—6.

The titles of its numerous small sections follow the preface.
It ends thus:—"non medicum prestare utilitatem. Explicit liber de simplicibus medicinis editus a magistro Johanne de s'cto Paulo.
Deo gratias amen."

13. Quid pro quo: seu Catalogus alphabeticus me-dicamentorum qui substitui possunt quando alia deficiant; incipiens ita—Cum ea que sunt utilia in curis omnibus inveniri non possunt. 46^a—f.

In fine—"Pro zinzibere p'ietum. Explicit quid pro quo."
There is another copy in No. 1398, ii. art. 3, and a translation in
No. 1397, i. art. 3.

14. "Incipiunt versus EGIDII. Dicitur urina quoniam fit renibus una." 47^c—52.

The last line is—Fimbria monstretur quam non est tangere dignus. There is another ancient copy of this poem in No. 1285, vii. art. 3. It was printed in 1494, and thrice afterward: vide Leyseri Hist. Poetarum (Sæc. xii. §. 81.), p. 500—1. This copy is written in a large text hand with wide margins. The less ancient writing on the foregoing and following pages that were left vacant will be described hereafter.

15. Liber 28 Judicium Fatorum, cui—

"Titulus" { Liber hic instabilis. hic incipit. an tibi petis
An sors instabilis melius foret ars docet ejus.

"Ars" { In septem: stabulis minus: yma petens numerabis.
Post septem sursum numerando perfice cursum." 52—8^d.

The first four pages contain the same tables as No. 304,
f. 3—4^b, and No. 342, f. 8—9^b; and the work is the same as the second poem in the former of those MSS.: it begins thus—"Almazena. I. [H]oc ornamentum decus est et fama petentum." (56^a.)
Being written in columns, there are two judges on each page: the last line is—Vite solumen cupis hoc tibi [det] deus amen.

16. Sortes per nomina, secundum numerum literarum; sub sex distinctionibus. 59.

Compare No. 304, f. 1^b, and No. 396, f. 203.

17. Chiromantia: inc. Tres sunt linee naturales omnes omnis chyros. 60^a—d.

Two hands are drawn with blue outlines on f. 59^b. This article is different from art. 3: the last words are—de occultis alius egetur.

18. Tractatus de Pulsibus: inc. [I]ntentionem ha-bemus in presenti conscripcone de pulsuum ne-gocio. 62—3^a.

In fine—"et hec nobis sufficiunt ad presentiam. Explicit liber de pulsibus. qui scripsit sit benedictus."

On the following page are drawn many colored circles, probably designed to contain a system of the heavenly bodies.

19. Carneu de Arithmetica: inc. [H]ec algorismus ars presens dicitur. in qua. 64—71.

After the last line of the copy in No. 360, f. 10^b (which is the sixth line in the part about Progression) this copy has 33 lines (f. 70—1) much differing from those in No. 1522, f. 7. The last is—"Multiplicandorum de normis. sufficiant hec. Explicit Algorismus." This copy is fairly written in a large text-hand, and is perhaps the best in this Library.

In the same small character as the few interlineary glosses that are on the first page of this article, and most likely by the same hand as the text itself, there is written all round on the wide margins of the first 6 pages, the following tract in the manner of a comment.

20. "Hic incipit ars numerandi alioristica. [O]m-nia que a primæ mundi origine processerunt."
64—6^b.

It is the same as No. 1522, art. 3; but is unfinished. The last words are—si vero aliquid adde per modum additionis et redibunt eodem: which correspond (though differently worded) with the end of the last chapter but one, in that MS.

By a hand equally small with this article, but of a different kind, and of nearly the same age, are written many small pieces on vacant places in this volume; which are here collected and described together.

- (1) Ad probandum utrum mulier fuerit virgo R' lupatinum etc. 13^b.

- (2) Ad coagulandum lac. R. folia etc.

- (3) Ad lepram pulvis. pulverizetur radix draganti. etc.

- (4) Ungues removeantur cum rizi cocto. etc.

- (5) Ad removendum nigredinem sub oculo. R. cymini etc. 46^s.

- (6) *De hæmorrhoidibus, et earum curatione: inc.
Emercyde sunt tribus modis. 46^s.*

- (7) De apoplexia, et ejus curatione: inc. Apoplexia est opilatio omnium ventriculorum cerebri. 47^{ab}, 52^{bc}.

- (8) Syruporum duodecim ad varios usus idoneo-rum confectiones: inc. Sirpus accosus ad digestionem. 53^c—4^a.

- (9) Ad ydropicum R. cinamomi etc. 54^a.

- (10) De minuenda coitus virtute: inc. Dixit DYAS quod si accipias de semine agni casti. 54^{ab}.

- (11) Notandum ponunt quod flebotomia non com-petit etc. 71.

- (12) Nota quartana quandoque duplicat.

- (13) YSIDORUS nos oportet horas in quibus patitur crisim.

- (14) Nota quod ferrum candens extinctum in vino.

- (15) Incipit quartana cum paucis frigore.

- (16) Ad guttam calidam R' angustie anseris.

- (17) *De nucibus: inc. Cortex nucis adustus et

(18) Inflacio tibiaram in pregnantibus habet fieri in octavo vel nono mense etc. 71^b.

The two first of these articles, the last line of the sixth, and part of the sixteenth, are written in an antient cypher consisting of the digit-figures for vowels.

On f. 72^b is written the following inscription:—"Sum Johannis Gibbon. e coll. S^{nc} et individua Trinitatis Oxon: et ejusdem coll. convictoris. Anno Domi 1628 men: Maij nono." He was afterward Blue-mantle Pursuivant of arms, and a friend of Ashmole.

No. 400.

A folio volume, containing 193 leaves.

Vindicta astrologiæ judicariæ, a Doctore GALFRIDO LE NEVE Anglice conscripta, Latine vero reddita per BEVERIDGIUM.

This book was erroneously intitled by Lhuyd, "Gulielmi Lilly praxis astrologica;" but it is the "Latin copy" of Le Neve's figures mentioned by Ashmole in his note on that work (No. 418) as written by the hand of Mr. Beveridge; whom the corrections (which are not frequent) show to have been the author of this translation.

It is bound confusedly: the first 14 leaves are misplaced after the 34th; ff. 1—29 contain the text of 101 figures, and ff. 29^b—34^b are blank. On f. 35 is written "This is the 3^d and last that answers the great book of 400 figures; and on the margin of the following leaf—"Note this number 351 answers ye place of ye figures in the book finished for ye press but is in order to ye 2 books before going the 289 figure yet noe mistake." This part (ff. 35—86, whereof the last 11 pages are blank) contains the numbers 351—469. Ashmole has written on f. 87—"The negative judgmentes translated into Latin." These were selected from the great book, and written here separately in 2 quires (ff. 88—192); they contain the persons' names, which are omitted in the other part, as are the figures throughout.

No. 401.

A small folio MS. very fairly written in the XVIIth century, by an Italian hand, which seems to be the same as that of No. 210, iii.

1. Tractatus de Astrologia, Italice: inc. Usorno coci gl' antichi, come i moderni. p. 1—334.
 2. "Ex Stadio" excerpta quædam astrologica, cum tabulis. 335—67, 369—73.
- "Tavolo de Capitoli del presente libro." 375—7.

No. 402.

A folio volume, containing 186 leaves.

The Medical and Astrological Practice of the rev. RICHARD NAPIER, from 29 June, 1624, to 1 March, 1625. (ff. 1—180.)

It begins thus—"In nomine sanctæ Triados June 29. 1624."

At the end are—

Miscellaneous memoranda and medical notes. 184—185^b.

No. 403.

A folio volume, more neatly written than Napier's other MSS., containing 205 leaves.

A book of the judgements of diseases, chiefly transcribed from Dr. FORMAN'S MSS., by the rev. RICHARD NAPIER, his disciple.

The particular contents are—

"Reception of planets." f. 1—3.

Natures of the planets. 4—6.

"Judgments of diseases generally pertayninge to the first house. Per. S. F." Also to the other eleven houses. 9—155.

No. 411.

A folio volume consisting of several quires of paper, to the amount of 178 leaves: to which the following title is prefixed by Ashmole.

"Figures set upon Horary Questions by Mr: SYMON FORMAN. 1601. Volume VI." being his astrological and medical Practice, from 26 Dec. 1600, to 28 Nov. 1601. (f. 1—162^b) and from 11 May to 5 Sept. 1603. (f. 164—178^{b*}.)

* These leaves do not seem to be in Forman's handwriting.

On the first or last leaves of the quires are written the following articles.

"The names of the honorable Jury impannyed 1601 the 29 of Februarie for the tryall of life and death on the right honorable Robart Deverix Errell of Estsex and Southampton." 49^b.

Expenses of thread (no less than 7s.) and was given to the tailor in making a doublet: note of the beheading of Sir Chr. Blunt and Sir Cha. Danvers on Tower-hill, 18 Mar. 1601; and other memoranda. 50^{ab}.

"A note what I lefte in the house in London wher I dwelt 1601 the 20 of May, when I went thence:" and other notes. 100.

The villainies of John Pet of Frittenden in Kent, and of Clifford's Inn: and memoranda. 100^b.

Notes of some of Forman's patients and their debts. 101—3^b, 141^b, 163^b.

"The charg of my removing 1601 to Lambeth." 103^b.

"Lycenses graunted on thes following" commodities. 141.

"The names of the gigantes that were in Ingland when Brutus came in." 163.

On a fly-leaf at the end is fixed a paper, containing—

ASHMOLE's notes concerning the persons implicated in the poisoning of Sir Tho. Overbury; and in the bewitching of the Earl of Essex, wherein Dr. Forman was one of the agents. 179.

No. 412.

Mr RICHARD NAPIER's Practice-book, begun 8 Oct. 1633, and continued, from the following January and February, to 11 Sept. 1635, and (in a second book) to 27 Dec. 1641, by his nephew and successor Sir RICHARD NAPIER. (ff. 1—242^b, 255—299.

Between f. 26 and f. 111, are only fragments and remnants of leaves that have been torn out for waste paper. At the end of the first book occur—

Medical receipts etc. 243^b—5, 249^a.

Notes of "First fruits to be payed" in 1635 and 1636; and a copy of a bill of exchange drawn by Ste. Burton in favor of Theod. Gravius (24 Nov. 1635), with a note written by the latter. 246^a.

List of "Bookes lent to Mr. Baker," to Mr. Pixe minister of Walton, and others. 250^a.

The second book begins with this title, on 252^a, "In nomine sanctæ Triados. Aug. 31—1637. Ad pauperum solamen" etc. and two Latin distichs. Ff. 300—315 are blank; and at the end of the book are inserted the following papers—

(1) Letter from Sir RICHARD NAPIER to Dr. Hodson in London, describing the case of "M^{rs}. Saunders of Brixworth your old patient," and requesting further medical advice beside what is herein stated. (Not dated.) 316—7^b.

(2) Two sheets containing alphabetical Indexes of diseases and medicines, to two of his uncle's practice-books, by Sir R. NAPIER. 318—9, 320—1.

(3) Outline and calculations for an "Erect south diall declining westward 20°" by GRAVIUS; and part of an Index of names (letters T, U, and W) in one of the practice-books. 320^a, 320^b.

(4) A sheet of Mr. NAPIER's memoranda, and queries medical and ecclesiastical. 323—4^b.

No. 413.

Mr. NAPIER's Practice from 11 Oct. 1623, to 28 June, 1624. (ff. 1—224.)

Memoranda. 229^b, 230^b.

Astrological and medical notes by Sir RICHARD NAPIER. 224^b—6.

No. 414.

Mr. NAPIER's Practice from 19 Apr. to 3 Nov. 1620. (ff. 1—210^b.)

Memoranda and various notes, theological, medical, etc. 1^a, 211—225^b.

No. 415.

Mr. NAPIER's Practice from 20 March, 1604, to 9 March, 1605; in three books. (ff. 1—234.)

1. "In nomine patris filij et spiritus sancti Feb. 8. ♀ 1604." 1.

2. "Maij 3. 1604. In nomine patris [etc.] et ad sacrosanctæ triados honorem." 98.

3. "In nomine patris filij et spiritus sancti Amen. Novemb. 13 ♂ h. 10. 40 ant. m. 1604." 181.

The middle of the first book is rotten, so that ff. 70—3 are pinned to an adjoining leaf. The second and third of the following articles are written invertedly.

Experiment on quicksilver, shown to Napier by Rich. Sampson. 48^b.

"An oyntment for ache or swelling." 48.

"Moyses drinke." 47^b.

Medical notes, etc. 234^b.

No. 416.

The medical Practice of Mr. RICHARD NAPIER and Sir RICHARD NAPIER, from 17 March to 6 Sept. 1632. (pp. 433.)

Prefixed is—

An Index of names, with a list of the principal remedies, contained in this book; by Sir R. NAPIER. f. 2—10^b.

Notes of books, etc. f. 11^a, and p. 434.

Medical notes, by both the NAPIERS. p. 435—42.

No. 417.

A tall folio volume containing a variety of papers and MSS. bound together, to the amount of 249 leaves, including the printed papers and book at the end.

1. ASHMOLE'S astrological figures and calculations, on various quarterly ingresses and on eclipses, from 1645 to 1666. f. 1—10, 13—32.
2. Figura super eclipsi solis 2 Oct. 1605: cum iudiciis. 11.

Written in a good old hand.

3. BOOKER'S astrological figures, calculations, and draughts of the yearly observations for his Almanacks; for 1639, 1641, 1646, 1656, 1658, 1659, 1665, 1664. f. 33—61.

That for 1641 is thus intitled:—"Some observations of ye yeare, and of the differences betwixt ye reformed Roman accmpt and that used here in England and other places, in the keepinge of the holy feast of Easter:" (f. 35) and the last sheet (f. 60—1) contains tables and remarks about Easter, which are more at large contained in the following article.

4. "Tractatus Paschalis. Or a discourse concerning the holy feast of Easter, its originall, with Rules and Tables for the finding thereof, with the other moveable feasts throughout the yeare in both accmpts, vizt. according to the English accmpt, or the old stile, and the Roman, Gregorian, or new stile used in forraine parts for ever. By JOHN BOOKER, student in astrology and phisick. By order and appoyntment of the King's most excellent Ma^{tie}. Aprill 5th. M. DC. LXIV." 62—71.

This MS. is in quarto, and the last leaf is blank, excepting a slip of paper fixed on it. On the back of the title is this certificate—"Imprimatur Joh: Hall R. P. D. Humfredo Episc. Lond. a sac. domest. Maij 2. 1664." A printed copy is in this Library, No. 116, iii. pp. 47.

5. Judgement on some horoscope: thus beginning, As towchinge this conjecture of marriage. 72—3.

Neither the name of the native appears, nor that of the writer of this sheet; the third page of which is by a different hand, and the year 1613 is named as future.

6. The title, and draught of the first page of a book, called—"The Myrroure of Knowledge conteyninge a moste large discourse of the whole arte of Physiognomie [etc.] with a litle Treatyse [etc.] writtine firste by a moste singuler Gretiane namyd Melampus. All which now gathered, and Engleshed, by THOMAS HILL, Londyner." 74^{ab}.
7. (1) Annotationes grammaticæ, de conjunctione præcipue. 75^a.
(2) Three figures, set for Mary Wra, Goodman Weatherhead, and Eliz. Cogdell. (1603.) 75^{ab}.
8. "The forme and shape of the 12 signes and 7 plannetts orientall and occidentall condicōns and quallityes etc." being judgements on some nativity. 77—81.

9. Five astrological considerations, thus headed—"In nomine patris et filij et S. Sancti amen ½. 11 Aprill 1645: 8. 43' a. m." 82^{ba}.
10. Significators of the parts of the body; by LILLY. 83.
11. "Reasons moving mee to judge wee ought to direct to the degree of the Eclipticke;" by LILLY. 84.
12. Judgements on a nativity in 1578, and its revolutions from 1615 to 1620. f. 85—6.
13. BOOKER'S astrological remarks on the revolution of the year, with calculations. 88.
14. JOHANNIS BOOKERI epigramma "Ad lectorem" Hartgilli: inc. Qui cupit astrorum varios cognoscere vires. 89.
15. Names of "hearbs under the 12 signes;" with Latin verses: being part of BOOKER'S almanack for 1661. f. 90^{ab}.
16. "Excellent observations astrologicall concerning diseases etc." by BOOKER. 92.
17. BOOKER'S notes out of Guido Bonatus, about the eighth house. 94.
18. "Boderius: de usu et praxi dierum criticorum:" seu (ut videtur) ex eo notæ de lunæ aspectibus. 95.
19. Uranometriæ synopsis seu analysis: manu Ashmolii. 96.
20. Nomina specierum quas habent quinque artes, Astrologia, Magia, Firmatio, Nigromantia et Signatum: manu Ashmolii. 98.
21. "A [curious scale or] table to knowe the nature of the 12 sighne[s] and their places."—Regulæ pro eo "Qui febrim avet curare."—Measurements of land called "Common Hault Oates" and "Generall Hault Oates." 99^{ab}.

Written on a long narrow strip of paper, in an old hand.

22. "For to make a plaine scale." 100—1^b.
23. "Liber iste est ARISTOTELIS in scientia quoque Astronomiæ." 102^{ab}.

A short abstract, partly in English: beg. Signorum alia sunt masculina.

24. "Minute table." 104—6.

F. 107—9, which belong to this article, and f. 110—2 to the following, are blank.

25. "Astrologicall rhapsodicall notes" by NAPIER. 113^b—5, 116—9^b.
26. Two fragments of an astrological treatise on the revolutions of a horoscope. 122—3.

These two leaves were formerly marked 416 and 405. The writer gives for an example his own birth, 23 July, 1543, and says that he was 30 years old, namely in 1573. He commends the almanack of Mr. Love of Salisbury. On the last page is "finis."

27. "How to know ye places" in a geomantical question; and "how to erect an [astrological] figure." 124, 125.

This sheet is copied from f. 128 and 145.

28. A treatise of Geomancy. 126—141^b.

29. A short tract on the elements of judicial astrology, written in 1619; with an example of a nativity 1 Jan. 1595, and judgements thereon. 145—7.

30. "Of y^e parts of man's body," as signified by the planets and signs: with a table. 149—50.

31. Judgements on the nativity of a person born 12 Mar. 1626; with tables. 152—6^b, 158—9^b.

This MS. is imperfect at the beginning, and the first page seems to contain judgements on another nativity.

32. "Regula generalis per quam ex singularum rerum qualitatibus cognosci possit, quæ res quibus Planetis subjiciantur:" et "Regula vera et approbata. In anno sunt tres dies" etc. 160.

These extracts, written by Ashmole, occupy only the first page of the latter 8 leaves of art. 31.

33. (1.) "An introduction unto Geomancie. Nom-yelkin Zyobrim. Before we proccede to y^e judgement of any question." 169—176^b.

Ending—"Judge after the manner of the question propounded the time of y^e event. Finis hujus introductionis Geomantie."

32. (2.) "In the name of God the father and of mercy saide his servant ABDÁLAH the sonne of Aly the sonne of Nabsuph the sonne of Astrolius. Havinge scene very many men of all countries to seeke the knowledg of secret thinges." 177—180^b.

Ending—"But the Lord God knoweth his secretes, for that is he that ruleth all thinges. Finis hujus tractatus." Compare the Latin copy in No. 393, iv. art. 8.

33. (3.) A tract thus beginning—They that are desirous to give true judgement accordinge to the noble and worthie science of Geomancie: inscribed at the end "Finis introductionis in artem Geomantie." 181—3^b.

33. (4.) "The judgement of Astronomy by HENRY HARVEY. The Prologue. Marvell not at all." 183^b—9.

The MS. containing these four tracts, consists of 21 leaves; the last of which is much torn, and is fixed on some blank paper bound between this and the next MS. It was written before or about 1600, in a beautifully neat hand; and the fourth tract seems to have been left unfinished on the first page of the torn leaf.

34. "A little treatise of Astrological Phisicke, declaringe what hearbes and other kindes of medicines are appropriate [unto] and under the influences of the planetes signes and constellac[i]ons, as alsoe the partes and members of the bodye thereto corespondent, and how the vertues and natures of the starres may be brought to every part of mans bodye diseased or sicke for the more speedye recoverye of health." 190—211^b.

This MS. was fairly written in the early part of the XVIIth century: it is perhaps only a transcript, and consists of 22 leaves. The last page contains a table of the hours as under the dominion of the planets.

35. A book of astrological rules for resolving questions on secret matters, and for finding out theft. 212^b—225^b.

This MS., written in a small hand of the time of Elizabeth, contains 17 leaves. On the 2d page is "A declaration of the planets for the significac[i]on of certen thinges viz." etc.

36. "A catalogue of the bookes collected together in the old Manuscript lent me by Doctor Beaumont of Dover:" by ASHMOLE. 230—1.

Certainly the same MS. as that described at No. 393, i.

37. "A table of the Sun's declination for every 5 days in the year:" with a large spherical diagram. 232.

Beautifully written and drawn on a folded leaf.

The remaining articles in this volume are printed.

f. 333.] A curious Dutch almanack for 1639: a black-letter broadside.

334.] Th. Dunster's curious sheet almanack for 1652 and 1653.

335.] Figure of a semicircular astrological instrument; being the last (a folding) sheet of a book printed "Tubinge per Thomam Anshelmum. Anno 1514."

336—7.] John Blgrave's chart of the globe, wherein the north pole is ceutral; and his "Astrolabium uranicum" or chart of the heavens: two beautiful plates ingraved in 1596.

338.] Table of "Degrees of the Quadrant."

339—49.] "Augustini Nyphi, Suessani, medici ac astrologi excellentissimi, de diebus criticis seu decretoriis aureus liber:" etc. Venetis. 1519. fol. lit. goth. ff. 10.

No. 418.

A large folio volume, fairly written, and thus intitled on the second leaf.

"Vindicta Astrologiæ Judiciariæ, or the Vindication of Judicial Astrologie. Wherein is demonstrated the admirable omnipotencie of the Eternal Deitie, by the wonderfull power, vertue, and influence, of the superiour cælestiall bodyes, the instruments (as second causes) to incline, guide, and governe, by their severall motions, configurations and dispositions, the sublunarie inferiour elementarie creatures, according to the divine will and pleasure of the almightie Creator. Approved, confirmed, and illustrated by 600 examples of experimentall observations, wherein is expressed the names and habitations of those people nominated in this worke (the most part of them being still living in and about the citties of London and Westminster) for the better testification of the truth thereof. Collected, composed, and published, by GEFREY LE-NEVE, Doctor of Phisicke. E'cælis pugnarunt [etc.] Jud: 5. ver. 20."

The fourth leaf contains an address "To the learned and judicious reader" (subscribed by the author but not dated), on which Mr. Ashmole has made the following note, (fixed on f. 5.) "This epistle was pen'd by Dr. Clayton of Pembroke Hall in Oxford and Dr. Duckson Parson of St. Clementes Danes, as Mr. Beveridge informed me; of whose handwriting the Latin copy is." (Namely No. 400.) The fifth and sixth leaves are blank; and are followed by the work, which consists of 500 (not 600 as in the title) pages, each containing a figure with the date and patient's or queren't's name, and the "Judicium Astrologicum" which is written on the lower half of the page. At the end are two Indices (each written on 3 leaves) thus intitled: "The first an Alphabetical Table of all those names of such people that are nominated in this booke, with ye numbers of the figures set against every name, for the more ready finding out of the same." "The second table containeth the most part of all the experimentall observations wch are expressed in this worke, with the names of the particular persons, and ye number of ye figures suitable for the same, for the findeing out thereof."

From a note of Lilly's in his own life (No. 421, f. 191,) it appears that Dr. Le Neve offered the figures for his inspection, who corrected 30 out of 40 of them; and that they were then (1667) in the possession of R. Saunders. Ashmole added that they were "first offer'd to be sold for me for 20s [but] when Mr. Saunders died I bought them of his son for less." (Autobiography, ed. 1774, Svo. p. 37-38.) This MS. is also mentioned by Gadbury in his Collectio Geniturarum, p. 179; who has printed Le Neve's horoscope (15 Apr. 1579), and says that he died in 1654.

No. 419.

A folio volume, containing two MSS., very tall, but of half the paper's width. The former consists of 138 leaves, ruled with red lines as an account-book; and is thus intitled by Ashmole.

"Figures set by Mr: JOHN BOOKER upon Horary Questions. Volume I." Being his Astrological Practice-book from 1 Aug. 1648 to 5 Oct. 1649.

The other volumes of Booker's figures are No. 386, 387, 385, 183, 426, 428; and they extend from 1 Aug. 1648 to 29 July 1665, a period of 17 years. He died 8 Apr. 1667.

On the last page are written (invertedly) the expenses of the illness of "Kath. Greene who lyeth sick of ye small pox" from 30 Jan. to 18 May 1649 (f. 146^b.) Inserted are these papers:—

- f. 15^b.] Mr. Thrale's statement of the times when his five daughters, Sara, Elizabeth, Mary, Anne, and Hais, were born and christened. (1631—1648.)
- f. 31.] Certificate by Nich. Pyne, that John the son of Martin Roberts, was christened at S. Giles-es Cripplegate, 1 Oct. 1626; with Booker's notes of his birth (24 Sept.) and marriage to Eliz. Dukes. (4 Jan. 1647.)

II. The second MS. is smaller, and consists of 58 leaves.

Figures on Nativities and horary Questions, set by "PATRICIUS SAUNDERS, 1612" to 1629. f. 2^b—49.

Notes of the writer's christening (13 Jan. 1582), and of the births of many of his relatives and acquaintance. f. 1^b—2^b.

Notes of the birth of his dau. Honora (9 Jan. . . .) and the death of his dau. Elizabeth (3 Mar. 16 . . .) with the expenses of her burial. 37.

Notes of the birth of Ann, Charles, and John Haydon. (2 Sept. 1629, 24 Feb. 1631, 2 Oct. 1632.) 50.

On the spare leaves at the end and beginning of this volume, and some of the pages of the second MS., are written (invertedly) by the hand of Edward Lhuyd—

Names etc. extracted from "Les Vies des Saints de la Bretagne Armorique etc. A Rennes 4^o. mag. A^o. 1680." II. 66^b—62^b, 58^b, and I. 8^b—6^b, 1^b.

No. 420.

A large folio volume containing 376 leaves, neatly ruled in columns with red lines: thus intitled by Ashmole on a fly leaf.

"A volume of Figures [on Horary Questions] set by Mr. LILLY from Aprill* 1647, to 16 Sept. 1648." ff. 1—376.

* The first figure is dated "4 May." The chief papers inserted, are, at—

f. 129.] Short letter from Anne Veisey (of Oxfordshire) to Lilly, to know what man "broke up my house, as also what accidents are like to happen this yeare to us."

140.] Note that George Sawyer was born in London 19 Apr. 1627.

155.] A curious printed paper advertizing the murder of "John Petty husbandman of Ilmington in Warwickeshire" 16 March. [1647?]

177.] Note that John Gorges was born 23 Apr. 1593, and Ferdinando Gorges 19 Aug. 1630.

254^b.] Note that "Jane Rowley my wife was borne" 24 Apr. 1603.

267.] Note from Richard Overton to know whether his "endeavors shalbe prosperous or no," in joining the army of the Commonwealth.

The original design of this book may be known from the following title written (invertedly) on a fly leaf at the end.

"Sonnets, Old words, Titles, Subscriptions, Supercriptions, Parentheses, Epithetes, Sentences, Compliments, Answares, Quirks, Titles, Good words, Historicall matters."

But of this intended collection only one leaf was written at the end, and 8 at the beginning of the volume, (in a hand-writing not unlike Lilly's;) the contents of which are—

- (1.) "An hymne in honour of Love. Love that long since hast to thy mighty powre." (18 st. of 7; unfinished) 37^odc^b.
- (2.) Witty extracts from a play intitled "Changes, or love in a maze, by JAMES SHIRLY." 5—7^b.
- (3.) From "Hanniball and Scipio, an historicall tragedy by the authour T. NABBES." 7^b—11^c.
- (4.) From "The royall King and loveing Subject, by THO: HEYWOOD." 11^c—12^d.

No. 421.

A great folio volume containing one large MS. (ff. 100) and many papers and smaller MSS.

I. The Nativity of Elias Ashmole esq. (23 May, 1617, 3^o 25' 49" a. m.) with his accidents and revolutions, judged of and commented on at great length: subscribed thus—"finitur per WM: LILLY, ♀ 16 octo. 1668, ætatis 67 eurentis." f. 1—79.

Ashmole's horoscope is in No. 1136, art. 33.

The spare leaves at the end of this MS. are disfigured with some most miserable figures of animals and shells drawn with Indian ink; and the two following articles are written thereby the hand of Edward Lhuyd, the second keeper of this Museum.

(1.) "Inscriptio Etrusca Roma[m] advecta, circa an. 1600. ab Adriano Serieckio edita, in Origin. Celtic. et Belg. p. 32." 81^b—2^b.

*(2.) A short account of the life and character of Elias Ashmole, esq. by EDWARD LHUYD. 90—1.

Of the following papers, artt. 1—6, 8, 17, and 18, are written by ASHMOLE's hand.

II. 1. Figures set by ASHMOLE on various occasions, from 25 Feb. 1677 to 1684. f. 101—142.

Among these papers are,—a note that "Mr. Rudle, Dr. Napier's curate, was Vicar of Walton for some years." (112^b)—a note that "Mr. Lilly went to Dr. Napier with one Goodwife Lea of Ratley" in 1632 or 1633. (112^b)—Times when "Piony rootes [were] gathered" in 1678—9. (124.)

2. Extracts from Napier's books, about Sigils. 125, 146.
3. Astrological observations, 4 Jan. 1678. f. 143.
4. Alphabetical index of some diseases, probably such as were to be cured by sigils. 144—5.
5. "ΠΑΑΝΗΤΟΣΚΟΠΙΑ sive de septem seperatarum substantiarum quas primogenitos principes Angelorum vocant, inerrantium siderum Præfectis, administratione, eorundemque per omnia secula mundi triplici revolutione libellus." 147—8^b.
6. Extracts from Dr. Forman's papers. 149—51.
7. Notes of elect times for making Sigils for certain diseases: by Sir RICHARD NAPIER. 153.
8. Comparative lists of the names of the seven angels of the seven planets, according to different authors. 154—7.
9. Exorcism of the devil out of "Mr. E. Fr." written on parchment by Mr. NAPIER. 158.
10. Table of the times of the planets' dominion, for the whole year; by NICH. FISKE. 159.
A large folded sheet. Compare No. 391, iv.
11. Mr. BREDEN's answers to various inquiries made by Sir Richard Napier. 160—1.

The second and fourth pages contain a fair copy of the draught in No. 177, art. 4, and the first and third pages contain the answers: it is all curious.

12. Sir R. NAPIER's memoranda of "My Lord Scroope President of Yorke his first comeinge to Linford" 27 Oct. 1627, and of his payments then and afterward made for medical advice etc. Also two copies of "His Lo^{ps} Bill unpaid," or memoranda of his visits and charges, 1630. f. 162—3—4.
13. Letter from W. P. to Mr. Rich. Naper, on chymical and medical matters: with an incomplete bond written on the back, dated 1629. f. 165.
14. Letter from RICH. NAPER to his "Mutch honoured knight" in favor of his nephew and heir (Sir Richard N.) and about the exaltation of the planets, and sigils. 166.
Neither directed nor dated.
15. Letter from EDMUND FERRERS to Mr. Napier, requesting the return of three borrowed MSS. belonging to "one Evans." (21 Mar. 16[21].) 168—9^b.
16. Letter from MATHIAS EVANS to "Mr. Doctor Napier" about the same and other MS. books, which had been taken from him "by a lewd Justice of peace" who imprisoned him for a conjuror, and were put into Lord Wentworth's hands. (10 Apr. 1621.) 170^a.

17. ASHMOLE's "Notes out of Dr. Napiers diaryes, concerning Sigills." 171^{ab}.

18. ASHMOLE's Continuation of Lilly's narrative of his own life. (Written 9 June, 1685.) 73—5.
This is the draught of the conclusion of the third MS. (f. 224—226) except the inscription.

19. A song. Come all you nobles that are great ones. (18. l.) 177^b.

On the back are written some charms against epilepsy etc.

The following MS. is in folio, and consists of 60 leaves: every page written by Lilly is also subscribed with his autograph. The margins have been cut off, and many marginal notes are turned down in slips.

III. "The Life of WILLIAM LILLY student in astrology, wrote by himselve in the 66th year of his age, at Hershams in the parish of Walton upon Thames in the county of Surrey: propria manu. Excellentissimo viro armigero Eliae Ashmole D.D.D. hos vitæ meæ labores." 178^b—224.

This Autobiography was first published by Charles Burman (London, 1715, 120.) under the title of Lilly's 'History of his Life and Times;' secondly, together with Ashmole's Diary, in one 8vo. volume in 1774 (pp. 1—168); and it has been since published, in 1826 (120, pp. 111), as one of the volumes of Hunt and Clarke's uniform collection of Autobiographies. The following appendices, added by Ashmole, form part of the printed copies.

(1) Licentia practicandi medicinam, a Gilberto Archiep. Cantuar. concessa Gulielmo Lilly. (11 Oct. 1670.) 223.

Ashmole has tricked the seal on the lower corner of this copy, which is written by the same hand as No. 1097, on a leaf inserted.

(2) ASHMOLE's Continuation of Lilly's life, and Latin epitaph to his memory. (224—6.)

(3) "In mortem viri doctissimi Dⁿⁱ Gulielmi Lilly astrologi nuper defuncti" Carmen elegiacum, cum epitaphio. 227^b.

(4) "An elegy upon the death of Mr. William Lilly the astrologer. Our Prophets gone, no longer may our cars." (56. l.) 228.

These two articles were written by GEORGE SMALRIDGE, afterward Bishop of Bristol, on a sheet of paper inserted.

(5) Indictment against Lilly for practising astrology and magic, in 1654. f. 229.

A copy by Ashmole.

20. Anonymous letter to Mr. Napier (?) on various matters of astrology. 231—2.

21. Memoranda by ASHMOLE, chiefly in shorthand. 233.

No. 422.

A folio volume containing 80 leaves, bound between much blank paper at both ends.

"Liber Mysteriorum Sextus et Sanctus." Or, ASHMOLE's transcript from Sir EDWARD KELLY's transcript of the book presented to him by an Angel, in 1583. (f. 1.)

On the back of the title are pencil-notes written by Ashmole for the purpose of composing a preface to this singular book, which he copied "20 Aug. 1673" from Kelly's MS. borrowed of Sir John Cotton, which (however) is not mentioned in either of the Cottonian Catalogues. Two sheets of smaller paper follow, containing—

(1) Notes "Concerning Liber Logaeth" and the conversations with the angel about it, and its description; extracted from Dr. Dee's fifth book of Mysteries. f. 2—3^b.

(2) Alphabet of the angelic characters, with their names and powers. f. 4.

1. Transcript of the book called Logaeth, in common characters. f. 13—16.
2. Twenty-two pages containing letters written separately within little squares; with running titles in angelic and common characters. 17—27^b.
The two following pages are ruled but not inscribed.
3. Seventy-two pages of the same kind of writing; the first title of which is Hallaah gethnol. 37—72^b.
4. Four large open pages written in the same manner, but vertically and without titles. 73^b—80.
See the complete account of these extraordinary transactions, in No. 580.

No. 423.

(I.) The first part of this large folio volume consists of a collection of 40 sheets of paper fairly written on by ASHMOLE.

- I. I. Occasional "Observations concerning the Weather, excerpted out of Dr. NAPIER's Diary" from 20 July, 1598, to 16 Aug. 1635. f. 1—25.

The title at f. 7 (which was the first leaf before ff. 1—6 were found and inserted here) is "Observacōns of weather taken about 50 miles northward of London, vizt: by Dr. Napier Parson of great Linford in Bucks." 1607 etc. These "Diaries" are his voluminous Practice-books.

2. "Jours des naissances des plusieurs Princes Princesses et Seigneurs qui vivent aujourd'hui, et dont l'antheur a fait les naissances." 26—8.
"Excerpted out of the Milan Almanack for the yeare 1682" intitled "Le Pescheur Fidele Almanach."
3. Figure on the nativity of "Frances Howard daughter of the Lord Visc: Bindon, borne the 27 of July, 1578—at Lichet in com' Dorset;" with various notes about her; extracted from Dr. FORMAN's books. 59^a.

Also notes of the following nativities, with references to Forman's books:—Theophilus Finch (29 Oct. 1573), William son of the Lord Evers (21 Oct. 1579), "My Lady Hobbys neece that married my lord Bartlets son and heire, was delivered of a son ♀ 7 Oct. 1601:" Henry husband of Fra. Howard (27 Feb. 1565). f. 59^b.

- *4. ASHMOLE's collection of "Nativities noted downe by Dr. NAPIER in his Diarys," from 1598 to 1635. f. 60^{ab}, 62—73.

This title is written at f. 62: the sheet foregoing has been lately inserted here as its proper place. This article is important.

5. Figures on the nativity of "Anthony King, of Ashby de la Laund in com' Lincoln" (12 Apr. 1607), with many extracts about his case of epilepsy, from NAPIER's MSS. 74.
6. Notes of "Figures for treasures excerpted out of Dr. Forman's bookes of horary questions;" also of "Figures set upon Dr. Forman's being troubled with the Phisitians [of] London;" and of various other curious figures and notes in FORMAN's MSS. 77—80^b.

(II.) A collection of Papers chiefly in the handwriting of LILLY and ASHMOLE, and of original Letters to them both.

- II. I. Figures on the nativities, and the accidents, of Sir John Davis the father (b. 8 Feb. 1560. d. 14 May, 1625) and of Sir John his son. (b. 3 Apr. 1611.) 81—2^b.

This 4to. sheet is in Ashmole's hand, who has noted (f. 82) that "the Inscription on his monument in Pangborne church in com' Berks sayes he received the honor of Knighthood and Banneret at the taking of Cales;" though Sir John states that he was made "Eques aurat. in Hibern." 12 July, 1599. The following article is an original sheet written by the same hand as art. 116, thus subscribed by Ashmole—

2. "The direccōns of old Sr: John Davis nativity" etc. 83—4^b.
3. "Sr Ed: Walker's nativity" (24 Jan. 1611—2) and accidents; also the "Direccōns in Sr: E: Walker's nativity from the yeare 1671," with Ashmole's judgements thereon for the years 1672—9. f. 85—8.

The accidents are copied from an interesting account written by Sir Edward himself: the sheet of directions (f. 86—7) is folded within the other.

4. Judgements on Sir Edward Walker's nativity, in French. 90—2.

So it seems from a comparison of the figure with these two quarto sheets, thus beginning, "L'Horoscop ou l'ascendant est \triangle 20. 18."

5. "A Register of the Nativity of the present Christian Princes, anno Domini 1677." 93.

A broadside "Printed for J. M. for J. Playford, and are sold at his shop near the Temple church, 1678."

Two specula "printed for Samuel Satterthwaite" follow, which belong to the next article.

6. ASHMOLE's figure on the nativity of Thomas Napier (26 May, 1646); and "Accidents wch hapned to Tho. Napier, esq^r" by his own hand. 96, 97.

7. ASHMOLE's figure on the nat. of Sir Humfrey Forster, bart. (21 Dec. 1650.) 98.

8. Also of "T. O." (20 Feb. 1632.) 100.

9. Notes on the births of George, Benj. and Wynifryde (Wharton? 34 Hen. VIII.—5 Edw. VI.) and George, Mercy, Edward, and Joan Wharton (14 Apr. 1578—83); "Written at the beginning of an old manuscript Mass book in vellome." 102.

Copied by Ashmole.

10. Figures set (12 and 13 Sept. 1671) for Mr. Millington, Mr. Upton, and Mr. Garraway; and on the nativity of Nel Gwyn (2 Feb. 1650.) 103.

11. Figure on the great σ of η and γ , 7 Dec. 1603. f. 104.

A proof impression of a small plate, ingraved at Ashmole's expense, for Sir Chr. Heydon's Astrological Discourse (1650, 120.), No. 297, p. 103: see the note on No. 242, art. 1.

12. Letter from FRA: KINASTON to Lilly, (dated Whitehall 23 Nov. 16..) desiring "some very short touches of your excelent judgment" on an accompanying scheme of a friend's* nativity (9 Aug. 1593): with Lilly's remarks. 106—5^b.

* "Mr. Wray that married the Lady Norris, and cupbearer to king Charles" according to Ashmole's note on the back. (106b.)

13. Figure on the nativity of "R. Pierepont Com: Kingston." (6 Aug. 1584.) 107.

In Ashmole's hand: see also No. 394, art. 17.

14. Note that Anne Massie was born 15 Jan. 1667; and figure set thereon by ASHMOLE. 108.
15. Letter from Sir CHRISTOPHER HEYDON to Dr. Foster. (28 Jan. 1607.) 109.
Copied by Ashmole from the original in No. 242. f. 14.
16. Diagramma cum calculis, inscriptum "Exemplum Tychoonis anni 1587, Augusti 16, comp: h. 19: 25: p.m: examinatum ad hypotheses eliptepicyclicas. E.W." 110.
- 17—25. Nine elegant Letters from JER. SHAKERLEY, to Mr. Lilly. f. 111—127.
- 111—4^b] Thanks Lilly for kindly receiving his first letter, communicates his calculations and delineation of the eclipse 20 Nov. 1648, commends Lilly's Christian Astrology, and the MS. Astrologia Mathematica of his friend Mr. John Stephenson, promises to keep a journal of the weather, and to do all possible service to Lilly. "Pendle Forrest in Lancashire Jan. 26. 1647¹."
- 115—6] Account of two parhelia with irides, seen by himself 28 Feb. with a sketch and astrological figures thereon; urging Lilly to publish his judgement on this phenomenon, and asking advice about publishing an almanack. 6 Mar. 1647—8.
- 117—8] Sends a translation of Ptolomy's third book, states that he chooses Major-Gen. Lambert for his patron, mentions Mr. Nathan Pighells and his own verses in praise of Lilly, and narrates his own life and present condition. 10 Feb. 1648—9.
- 119—20] Sends more of Ptolomy, and his "booke against Urania Practica" to be printed, and asks for 6 copies neatly bound. Carre, 8 Mar. 1648—9.
- 121—2] Sends the rest of Ptolomy, and Mr. Pighell's verses; advises about making planetary tables, promises to send his almanack and some verses, and desires a supply of paper; also about Mr. Towneley with whom he was living. Carre 3 Apr. 1649.
- 123] Sends "the table of Logisticall logarithmes" which he had calculated, and his almanack for 1650; discourses on the improvement of astrology, and sends verses on Lilly's ephemerides by John Stephenson* cousin of the other J. S., and by another gent. Carre 28 Apr. 1649.
* See art. 33.
- 124—5] Thanks Lilly for sending a dozen copies of his book, and wants 3 doz. more; about Lilly's ephemerides, and Mr. Towneley's going to London. Carre, 26 May, 1649.
- 126—7] About his last letter not answered, and desiring to see a new book called "Astrologie Theologized." Carre, 25 June, 1649.
- 128—9] Surprised by Lilly's undeserved censure and reproaches; denies conspiring with Jonas Moore against him, or the alledged agreement of his tables with Moore's; expresses lasting gratitude notwithstanding Lilly had "rid" himself of him, and supposes that he will renew friendship with Wing and Leybourne. Carre, 25 Mar. 1650.
26. Letter to Lilly from ROGER KNIGHT jun. of Greenham near Newbury (born 16 Aug. 1619), describing his own person, and the untoward circumstances of his courtship since he last consulted Lilly; and desiring farther advice. (8 Sept. 16..) 130—1.
27. Letter to Lilly from MICHAEL HARWORD, describing two parhelia seen 2 March; with sketches. (Boulterley hall, 29 Aug. 1648.) 132—133.
28. Letter from ARTH. CLOWES, containing remarks on Lilly's ephemerides, about the Duke of Hamilton's marches, and the weather; and describing a great meteor seen 24 Aug. with the shape of it cut in paper. (. . inlaston in Shropsh. 2 Sept. 1648.) 134.
29. Letter from EDW. BISHOP a medical man, requesting Lilly's advice about fitting a table of houses to his latitude. ("Wilts. Ashton Keynes, Lat. 52. gr. et 10 min. Januar. 12th 1649.") 135—6.

43. Letter from WILLIAM HEATHCOTT to Lilly, narrating his own birth (10 Sept. 1633) and accidents, and desiring advice about the future course of his life. (About 1655.) 160.
44. An abusive pamphlet intituled "A whip for Parson Gataker," with verses at the end. 161—4^b.
Quarto: in Lilly's (?) handwriting. See his Autobiography, (1774, 8vo.) p. 119—121.
45. Letter from RICH. HUNT requesting Lilly's advice whether he should study the oriental tongues for the advancement of astrology, or divinity, to which he had most liking. (King's Coll. 17 Apr. 1649.) 165.
He was the bearer of art. 48, wherein he is commended.
- *46. Letter to Lilly from Sir THOMAS BROWN, professing much esteem for him, and introducing Mr. Playford a surgeon. (Norwich, 8 Feb. 16..) 166—7.
47. Letter from "The Society of Astrologers, of London" to "the right honoble the Lord Whitlock," complimenting him on his encouragement of astrology and of Mr. Lilly its restorer; and requesting his patronage. 168—9.
Written by the elegant pen of Sir GEORGE WHARTON.
- *48. ABRAHAMI WHELOCI ad Lillium epistola, ut honoris ita cruditionis plena. (Cantabr. 14 Dec. 1650.) 170—1.
- *49. Another letter from WHELOC to Lilly, declaring how much (through his works) astrology was begun to be studied in the Universities; advising whether to publish a Saxon tract de anno et temporibus; and about the origin of the word Easter* or East-star. (Cambr. 4 Apr. 1651.) 173.
* See also the foregoing letter.
50. Letter from VINCENT WING to Lilly, requesting advice about linen stolen from a garden (belonging to the wife of a M.P.), and some commendation (in the next almanack) of his Harmo-

- nicon Caleste* then at the press; and remarking on Shakerley's pamphlet and his own answer thereto. (North Luffenham in Rutl. 28 July, 1650.) 174—5.
51. Letter from GILBERT SCHILL M.D. requesting Lilly's advice about the methods of judging diseases etc. astrologically, used by Humphry Clash a skilful astrologer (whose ample study of books was broken up by the cavaliers after his death) and Dr. Browne a learned physician who formerly lived in those parts. (Broadhambury, 4 m. from Honiton, 1 Feb. 1650.) 176—7.
52. A religious letter from HENRY REEVE, consulting Lilly about the study of astrology. (Bolnhurst co. Bedf. 10 Dec. 1654.) 178—9.
53. Sketch of two Parhelia that appeared in Bedfordsh. 13 Apr. 1651; and a figure set thereon. 180.
54. "A true relation of what hath beene scene by Mary Sidway and her mayd on Wednesday the 16 of April, a little before the settinge of the sunne. 1651." 182.
A true copy, thus indorsed by Ashmole—"Relacōn of the Vision seen at Madeley 16 Apr. 1651."
55. A serious letter from W. B. consulting Lilly whether he shall be free from his troubles caused by his past political conduct, and when. (4 May, 1651.) 183—4.
56. Nameless letter from a gentleman in Italy, extolling Lilly's consummate skill in astrology, and asking where to find the Capuchins who (he had said) were in Florence, that should teach him some secret arts. (Naples, 8 May, 1651.) 185—6.
57. Letter from JOHN ROWLEY jun. to Lilly, about the next meeting of the Society of Astrologers, and his own design of publishing a book on Directions and elections compiled from various Latin authors, which he wished to dedicate to Lilly. (Luton, 14 July, 1651.) 187—8.
58. "A letter sent to a freind at London, concerninge y^e great Eeclipse March 29. 1652." 189—191.
It is remarkable that in this piece of poetry written "From my Hermitage this very time of the eclipse," one of the circumstances of the great Fire of London was anticipated, thus—"Shall London after this be burnt, Sr? Where Will the fire first begin? At Westminster
Or at Pye corner, Sr, among the Cookes?
If starres can't tell you, pray what say your bookes?" (p. 5.)
Now read Lilly's Autobiography, p. 140—4, ed. 1774, or p. 92—94, ed. 1826, and the preface to the latter edition.
59. "A summarie of y^e particulars in y^e Latine script, concerninge that most rare and admirable Eclips of the Sun, or more properly of y^e Earth, incident 29th of this present March." (1652.) 192—3.
60. "26 Octob. 1652. Order in Parliam^t: to summon Mr: Lilly for y^s yeares Almanack." 194^b.
Thus indorsed by Ashmole. See Lilly's Autobiography (ed. 1774) p. 101—6.
61. Six figures on eclipses etc. in 1652—3—4: with some calculations. 195.

62. Letter from GEO. LAWDEY to Lilly, by Mr. Tucker, communicating the birth-time (6 Dec. 1608) and some accidents of General Geo. Monck. ("Totnes, from the house of Anthony Marker Doctor of Phisicke, Nov. 23. 1653.") 196.
63. Letter from ROBERT WITTIE M.D. commending Lilly for his skill, particularly for his "last pretty discourse upon the comet Decemb. 1652, published with your Ephemeris for 54; the like [thanks] to Mr. Booker for his, you 2 being as our Castor and Pollux:" also describing two Parhelia seen by him 17 Sept. 1653; with a figure set thereon. (Kingston upon Hull, 9 Dec. 1653.) 197—9.
64. Letter from RICH. WILLIAMSON, describing a Parhelia seen 29 Jan. (Rogate in Suss. 30 Jan. 1654.) 200.
65. Letter from LANCE. REYNOLDES, highly commending Lilly, reciting the contents of two letters that had miscarried, and stating that a kinsman had in 1629 set a scheme of his nativity, 16 Aug. 1601. (Drempton 3 Feb. 1654.) 202—3.
66. Verses by the same, "On the mirrour of art and learning, Nicholas Culpeper gent. Great artist why wouldst thou leave us to soone?" (24 l.) Four acrostichs on the same, and verses on an anagram. Also a postscript to the foregoing letter, containing a list of such of Lilly's books as he had, and the "Names of some of your Scholars in these parts." 204—7.
67. Long letter from THO. PRIOR to Lilly, asking advice in his study of astrology, and relating some odd stories of his practice therein as learned from Lilly's Introduction. (Portsmouth, 6 Dec. 1654.) 210—1.
68. Letter from THO. DEY to Lilly, about an earthquake at Norwich, 9 Dec. 1654. (Norwich, 5 Feb. 1654—5.) 212—3.
69. From the same, about a sudden meteor seen by many persons, 24 Feb. (12 Mar. 1654.) 214.
70. "Mr. OUGHTRED's Pre to Mr. Lilly" about Mr. Vincent Randill's unjust and vexatious suits against him, to get possession of the powder-mills built on his glebe by the elder Sir Henry Vane. (Aldbury, 19 Mar. 1654—5.) 216—7.

This long letter is interesting, and very neat, though written in his 82nd year: the signature being torn off, Ashmole wrote the author's name.

71. Long letter from NICHOLAS GRETTON, asking information about the angels of the planets, and telling about the Quakers of Tamworth, who had much abused him in a book called "Witchcraft cast out from the religious seed and Israell of God." (Shenston in Staff. 29 Jan. 1655.) 218—9.
72. Letter from GEO. LAWDEY, thanking Lilly for having sent a "token" to drink his health, and sending him a shilling by Mr. James Winstone, an attorney, to do the like: he states the birth-time (8 June, 1620) and accidents of Robert Hamond, governor of the Isle of Wight; mentions Ashmole and Booker, and Mr. Spry's marriage; and promises a pocket-volume of planetary tables. (Totnes, 4 Feb. 1655.) 220.

73. Letter from FRANCISCUS METCALFUS (a mad enthusiast) to George Wharton or Nath. Brooks the publisher, about his persecutions, and the restrictions on the publication of books; and saying that Booker was not fit to be Licenser. (Newhall near Doncaster, 4 May, 1655.) 222^b—1.
74. Letter from JOHN EDWARDES to Booker, requesting a solution of his doubts on perusing certain passages in Van Helmont's Ortus Medicinae, against astrology. (Cloughton in Cheshire, 12 June, 1655.) 223—4.
75. Letter from WILL. GIBBONS to Lilly, describing two Paraselenia seen 28 June. (Harborow co. Leic. 30 June, 1655.) 225—6.
76. Letter of thanks from W. ANDREWS to Lilly, for writing a preface to his "litle book entitled y^e Astrological Physitian." (Ashdon in Essex, 31 Mar. 1656.) 227—8.
77. Extract of a letter dated "Innerloughe 16 Nov. 1656," describing "a very great fiery dragon" or meteor seen the day before. 229.
This is by Ashmole's hand; but the next is original.
78. Another note (dated Catnes, 24 Nov. 1656) describing the same "Draco volans." 230.
79. Letter to Lilly from WM. CLERKE, a merchant, who, having lost his goods, books, and papers in the Canary Islands when the war broke out, consulted with Lilly through Capt. Maxten, and again by this letter, about recovering them: states that he had sent to the Protector for forces to be sent to the West Indies, and that a young Prince of Spain* was born 28 Nov. (Madrid, 5 Dec. 1657.) 231—2.
* "Prosper Philip," as noted by Ashmole on the back.
80. Another, acknowledging Lilly's letter of the 8 Jan., stating that the forces were refused by the Protector, and lightly discoursing of other news. (Madrid, 13 Mar. 1658.) 233.
81. LILLY's letter to the King of Sweden, acknowledging "that munificent honorarium," a golden chain, sent through Capt. Owen Cox and Sir Geo. Askew. 244^{ab}.

A copy in Ashmole's hand. The time of this appears from the following note written in No. 698, f. 22^b. "5^o Octo: 1658 ♂ Rec' a chain of gold sent mee from his Maty. of Sweden by Cap. Owen Cox. Wm. Lilly." See also No. 240, art. 50.

82. Three testimonials of the character of THOMAS STREET, an ensign: (1) relating to his military services, signed "Insiquin" 12 Feb. 1661; (2) relating to his "exactness in the discovery of the true longitude by the motion of the moon," signed by "Brouncker, John Wilkins, John Pell, Jonas Moore;" also (3) by "Sandwich." 235—7.

Each is subscribed "Copia vera," and they are indorsed by Ashmole, "Coppoy of Mr. Street's certificates." (238^b.)

83. Letter from THOMAS HARRY, commending Lilly, complaining of poverty, and requesting him to send "the most approved maggical worke." (Gedney Fen, 3 Nov. 1660.) 240^b—39.
84. Prophecy that "appeared in the bottome of a meane man's brass pott at St. Edmondsbury." 241.
The prophecy is by Lilly's hand, the note by Ashmole's.
85. Letter from T. HUDON to Lilly, declaring friendship, notwithstanding the insinuations of "The Scorpion that studies mischeife," meaning Gadbury, who had cheated him of ten pounds. 242—3.
Noted by Ashmole—"Recd: in June 1664."
86. Letter from RICHARD MORRIS to Lilly, communicating his observations of the Comet, first seen 29 Nov. 1664. (Barbadoes, 9 Jan. 1664.) 244—5.
87. Letter from JOHN COBB, communicating news of the maritime preparations for war at Portsmouth; also about his captain Mr. Will. Jones, the Dukes of York and Monmouth, and Prince Rupert. (From the Sapphire, 13 Feb. 1664.) 246—7.
88. Letter of Anglieus (W. LILLY) to Ashmole, partly relating to some agricultural project of Ashmole's, and giving his observations of the Comet. (29 Dec. 1664.) 248—9.
89. Letter from CHRISTOPHER SAWTELL to Lilly, describing the remarkable ebbling and flowing of the sea seven times in four hours; and complaining that though correctly reported to London, it was falsely published in the intelligence and the gazette. (Weymouth, 6 Aug. 1666.) 250.
90. Letter from to Lilly, containing a copy of Val. Naibod's horoscope, and of Sir K. Digby's letter to Dr. Barkeham; from the MS. in S. John's College. 251.
The second leaf of this sheet is lost, and therewith the writer's name. See No. 243, art. 27.
91. Description of the herb Dittany, and its "vertues." 252^b.
On the other side (252^a) is a figure set by Lilly for "Pater Needham" his third wife's father.
92. Letter from GILES VANBRUGH, sending the figure of his nativity (19 Apr. 1631, at London) and consulting about a dangerous direction thereof expected in 1678. (Chester, 20 Sept. 1676.) 253.
He says that his brother was a friend of Lilly's.
- *93. (Petition from Isaac Hoyland the Vicar, and 21 inhabitants of Diseworth in Leicestershire, requesting Lilly's "bounty" toward a Grammar-school which they had established in that his "native town." 254—5.
Among the signatures to this very beautiful and interesting document, are the names of Rowland Lilly and William Lillye.
94. LILLY's letter to Ashmole, sending part of a prophecy found in a MS. (of the time of Henry VIII.) in arranging his books, and consulting

- about serving the King by putting it in the London Gazette with an explanation. (Hersham, 12 Feb. 1665—6.) 256—7.
95. LILLY's memoranda of a Comet seen by several persons in April, 1677: with a figure. 258.
96. A figure inscribed with the letters O. S. M. within a large D. 259.
This and the two following articles are in Ashmole's hand.
97. "Schema augustissimæ civitatis Londinens." (1566.) 260.
98. "Profecia S^u: Thomæ Martyris in libro Collectionum Morley Glassenbury canonici invento in domo D'ni Tucker in Abingdonio Jan: 1665. Lillium in meliori parte manebit." etc. with a paraphrase in English, by ASHMOLE. 261, 262.
Of the edition printed at London in 1666 (4to. pp. 6.), a copy is in No. 546, xxvii.
99. "Mr. Bull's Prophecy. A prince out of the north shall come kingborn." (48 l.) 263.
100. Printed bill of mortality, dated by Ashmole "13 Nov. 1677." 264.
101. "A copy of a Prophesie found in St. Benedicks church in the county of Norfolk. If eighty eight be past then thrive." (22 l.) 265.
See the note on No. 47, art. 45.
102. Astronomical "Observations concerning the late Comet" of Dec. 1664. f. 266—7.
103. Extract of a letter from "Mr. Wm. Frith to Mr. Jo. Champarty" describing a Comet seen in "Barbadoes 9 Mar. 1666⁸/₇." 268.
104. Another note of the same Comet, seen in Virginia 26 Feb. 1666⁸/₇. f. 270.
Both by Ashmole's hand; also the following.
105. Extract of a letter from Lord WILLOUGHBY (27 Nov. 16 . . .), relating the success of the expedition to Barbadoes. 271.
106. Letter from Capt. GEO. WHARTON to Ashmole, requesting him to "make an addition of the time and how long the effects of the moon's eclipse in September 1652 shall begin and continue:" omitted in the papers for his almanack: with the rule to reckon by. (30 Sept. 1651.) 272.
107. G. WHARTON's verses "On this ingenious worke entituled Φυσιολογια. Who would unvaile dame Natures matchlesse face." (24 l.) 273.
Indorsed "For Mr. Sanders."
108. Verses "On the present flourishing estate of the sciences mathematicall, and my learned friends, the authors of this incomparable work. Blame not the times, nor doome this age for ill." (64 l.) by G. WHARTON. 274.
109. G. WHARTON's monthly verses for his almanac, 1659. (12 st. of 6.) 275—6.
110. Verses "To my ever honoured friend Robert Loveday esq^r. upon this his version entituled Hymen's Præludia, or Love's Master-piece. Sir, there is nothing that offends mee so." (22 l.) 277.

111. Poetical note to [Ashmole] requesting his company in the evening at the "Three tunns" by Clare-street, from "Geo. Lambert," i. e. Capt. WHARTON. (11 Sept. 1648.) 278.
112. Capt. WHARTON's verses "To perpetuate the sacred memorie of the ever blessed, and now in great part glorified saint, Mrs. Anne Squib (the late incomparable consort of the deservedly much honored Arthur Squib esq^r.) who dyed in child-bed, Aug. 29. Anno Domini 1656. Here lies inhum'd a noble English dame." (26 l.) 279.
Indorsed—"Epitaph upon Mrs. Anne Squib."
113. BOOKER's table of antient notes of the planetary aspects, and other astrological tables. 281^{ab}.
114. Notes of "prodigies" from 1108 to 1399, recorded in English chronicles. 282^{ba}.
Written in the time of Q. Eliz.
115. Of the Julian calendar and the antient celebration of Easter: by NAPIER. 283.
Only the first page of this sheet is written; and left imperfect.
116. "Canon Horarius pro latitudine 53 grad." 285, 286^{ab}.
By the same hand as art. 2.
117. "The scurrilous scribler dissected" (a broadside printed by Gadbury against Lilly), with Lilly's remarks written all around. 287.
See No. 192, iii.
118. "An excellent Table for the finding [of] the Periferies or Circumferences of all Elleipses or Ovals, so near the truth as any mechanica. practice can require, calculated with great diligence and care by Sir JONAS MOORE, and not done before." 288.
A broadside, "London, printed by W. G. for N. Brooke, at the Angel in Cornhill, 1676."
119. An introductory and 12 monthly stanzas, with other curious notes "Excerpted out of an old folding Almanack made a^o: 13. R. 2." (1390.) by "WARYNE WALKEFARE of Colcesti."* 289—290^b.
* This is the first English line. At the end are some very curious forms of loaves, with their antient names; a descriptive figure of the dominion of the signs, and some curious characters and numbers.
120. JOHANNIS GIBBON epistola ad Ashmolium, recitans versus de diebus infaustis, e vetusto libro precum, eosque improbens. (27 Sept. 1677.) 291.
121. Letter from EDW. SHERBURN to Ashmole, requesting observations of the solar eclipse in Feb. to compare with those made by the Professor of mathematics to the Duke of Orleans, and other foreign astronomers (Blois, $\frac{1}{2}$ & $\frac{1}{4}$ March, 165 $\frac{5}{8}$): with ASHMOLE's answer, stating that the preparations made for observing it, were disappointed by the "double eclips" of clouds; requesting the foreign observations, and stating that Capt. Wharton, who had been prisoner in Windsor Castle, "is now at my house in Berks." (22 Apr. 1655.) 292—3.

122. "A transcript of some Notes [that] Dr. DEE had entred in Stoffler's Ephemerides beginning 1543, and ending 1556." 294^{ab}.

They are of the same kind as those in No. 487, 488; and were extracted by Ashmole, not from his own copy of Stoffler in No. 468, but probably from the book thus mentioned in a note on the margin of No. 1788, f. 10^b—"Dr: Fr: Bernard hath one of Stoffler's Ephem: wherein are entred wth Dr: Dees hand his Observations of the Weather from May 1547. to 16 Feb. 1551. they are very exact & particular."

No. 424.

A very large and thick folio volume, containing 357 leaves of vellum, fairly written about the end of the XIVth century, and beautifully adorned with painted capitals, the first of which represents the author holding a book. A border surrounds the first page, but the lower part is cut off, where (most probably) a coat of arms was illuminated. The diagrams on the fair wide margins of this MS. are very beautifully drawn with blue or red ink.

Magistri WITELONIS Poloni, de Perspectiva magni opus, in decem libros vel partes distributum: cujus sic incipit prologus—Veritatis amatori fratri Wylhelmo de Morbeka, Wytelo filius Thuringorum et Polonorum ceterne lucis irrefracto mentis radio felicem intuitum et intellectum perspicuum subscriptorum. f. 3—355.

At the end is this colophon—"Explicit perspectiva Magistri W. Continet autem propositiones .805, etca. Qui scripsit scripta sua dextera sit benedicta. Amen."

On the first page of the second vellum fly-leaf is written the following account of the author, in a text hand of the XIVth or XVth century: "Frater Wyllys de Moorbek, Brabancie, fuit de ordine predicatorum, penitentiarius pape, et episcopus apud Corinthum in Grecia magna; qui transtulit physicam Aristotelis de Greco in Latinum, ad preces sancti Thome de Aquino; et ob cujus fratris Wylly rogatum Magister Wittulonus Polonus, flos mathematicorum, condidit presentem perspectivam: ipse autem socius fuit magistri Campani qui fecit parvum almagesti et commentavit geometriam Euclidis. Wittulonus autem optime commentat et exponit perspectivam Hayssen vel Halazzen."

Below this passage is the following note: "Ego Rogerus Marchalle arcium medicineque doctor, regum medicus, ac hujus celeberrimi Collegii Sancti Petri nuper socius, lego librum istum perspective Witelonis collegio predicto, Anno domini. 1472^o. prima die Januarij." But in 1564, the fellows of Peter-House at Cambridge presented this book to Dr. John Dee, in exchange for various printed books which he had given to their library; as it appears from his note at the foot of the first page. It came afterward into the possession of "P. Saunders 1606, a Domino Hypsly;" and in 1626 a memorandum of money was written on the last fly-leaf at the end, by John White; where also is this note by the same hand as the MS. "In isto volumine sunt .298. carte utiles."

No. 425.

A large and thick folio volume, containing 218 leaves (the three last of which are blank), written in the time of Q. Elizabeth.

"The Workes Mathematicall of JHON' SCONER of Carlostad, turned owt of Latine into Engleshe by E. T. f. The titles be in the next syde" namely—

1. An introduction or a path way to entre into the Judieyall partes of Astronomie."

15. An instrument uranicum or celestiall to find the true and midle movinges of the starres wanderinge.
16. An instrument declaring the lettes of the moone needfull to them that studye thalmanake and ephimerides."

This MS. is a literal translation of the folio volume printed at Norimberg, in 1551, whereof there is a copy in this Library, No. 575. Even this list is a translation, and the preface of Philip Melancthon follows it, who was a great favorer of astrology and alchemy.

No. 426.

A MS. in folio, larger than the other volumes of the same set, and written regularly in columns, without being reversed. It was thus intitled by Ashmole:—

"Figures set by Mr: JOHN BOOKER upon Horary Questions. Volume VI." Being his astrological Practice-book from 1 Jan. 1656-7, to 26 June, 1660. (ff. 1—290^b.)

It seems to have been designed for a common-place-book of medicine, from a plan on the last page but one, being an—

Analysis medicinæ, ostendens quot modis "Sanatio morborum" efficitur.

See also f. 183. On the last 6 leaves are written (invertedly)—

*BOOKER's notes of the Nativities and Accidents of various persons. f. 295^d—290^d.

On small papers inserted are—

- f. 10^c.] BOOKER's note of the nat. (25 Nov. 1634) and accidents of John Starkey.
- f. 162^d.] Note of the birth of Simon (10 July, 1647) and Martha (4 Feb. 1653), children of Simon Smith of the Minories.
- f. 278^b.] Figure on the nativity of Phillip Munday (26 Sept. 1626), set by himself; with Booker's notes of his accidents.

No. 427.

A large and tall folio volume, containing 278 leaves, each page of which contains 8 figures set in stamped outlines. It was thus intitled by Ashmole on f. 2:—

"A Volume of Mr: LILLY's Figures set upon Horary Questions: from Midsummer [or 26 June] 1654, to Sept: 1656." (ff. 2^b—278^b.)

No. 428.

A large folio MS., written in columns, as No. 426, and thus inscribed by Ashmole on an unnumbered leaf:—

"A Volume of Figures set by Mr: JOHN BOOKER upon Horary Questions. Volume VII." Being his astrological Practice-book from 26 June, 1660, to 29 July, 1665. (ff. 1—260^b.)

At the end are written (invertedly)—

*BOOKER's notes of the Nativities and Accidents of various persons. 274^b—270^b.

The principal papers inserted, are—

- f. 17.] A short note from DAN. CRIPPS, mentioning that he had thought of a wife.
- f. 53.] Letter from JO: EDWARDS in favor of Dorothy Staynes, a querent. (10 July, 1661.)
- f. 87.] Mem: that "My daughter Mary Seymore was borne March 14th 1640," and christened 25 March.
- f. 166.] Mr. Sawyer's statement about the renewal of his lease held of the city of London, 1663, for Booker's judgement.

On five of the spare leaves at the end of this volume were written by the second keeper of this Museum—

Nomina quædam populorum et regionum, et eorum situs, excerpta e "Ptolomæi geographia edit. Argent. a^o. 1512" partim collata cum MS. Seld. per EDW. LHUYD. f. 275—9.

That edition is a large square folio, beautifully printed, and illustrated with large woodcuts; of which the copy in this Museum (H. 30) was probably used by Lhuys.

No. 429.

A thin folio, containing 57 leaves bound in a flapping cover of parchment; originally designed as a book of school-exercises, of which there are written in secretary-hand:—

"In Ciceronis partitiones oratorias" loci quidam communes. 2—11^b.

The vacancies of these pages, and the rest of the book, were afterward filled up with very multitudinous writing (in the time of Charles I.) beginning at both ends.

PHILIP KINDER's historical, theological, astrological, and miscellaneous collections, made in the course of his reading; with royal genealogies and various astrological figures and tables interspersed.

The principal things worthy of notice, are—

"Lord Hastings nativite" (10 Dec. 1650). 52.

Original acknowledgement of Edward Hastings of Branston co. Leic. gent. to Philip Kinder of Leicester, "practitioner in Phisike, for the payment of forty shillings a yeare during the terme of his life, in satisfaction of a cure" (21 Apr. 1620): with his signature and that of George Parker, witness. 36^b.

Memorandum by Ph. K. of having received ten pounds from Robert Earl of Kingston, for half a year's annuity, 6 Apr. 1629. f. 18^b.

Figures on his brother's going to Cambridge (17 June); and his sister Magdalen's question about her mother's lost purse. 17.
 Pro Dumina Ma. Whaley (nata? 13 Sept. 1600). 16.
 Nativity of Sara Stanhop (29 Sept. 1611). 14.
 "Philippus Kinder natus" 12 Apr. 1597; figura, cum accidentibus ejus. 13.
 Nat. of his brother Pierrepont Kinder (18 Jan. 1603); and figure on a question for him. 12^b, 5.
 Nat. of Mr. Walker. (no date.) 12^b.

No. 430.

This and the two following numbers are bound together, and form one folio volume.

1. Figures set on horary Questions, in 1661, by W. LILLY. f. 1—15.

Hastily set in rudely stamped frames: some of the leaves are turned upside down. Few names or dates occur: that of Hugo Peters is at f. 11^b. F. 13 is a small paper containing some of Virgil's accidents written by Ashmole.

2. Various astrological calculations, and figures on natiuities and questions, by ASHMOLE; many of which relate to his own revolutions. f. 16—102^b.

These papers were written at different times, and contain little but short hand; except that at f. 67^b are figures on the natiuities of John and Tho. Hamlyn (17 May, 1624, and 1 May, 1626); at f. 82^b are the accidents of a barrister who was made a Viscount in his 46th year; and ff. 99—100^b contain the judgements on some nativity. The leaves 42—3, 51—2, 56, 64—5, 73, are specula, in Satterthwaite's printed forms.

No. 431.

This folio MS. is bound with the foregoing MS., and foliated in continuation of it.

I. Papers relating to Planetary Sigils, or Talismans: namely—

1. ASHMOLE's figures and calculations for elections of times to make Sigils, chiefly in 1678, 1650, and 1651. f. 103—143.

2. Dr. FORMAN's delineations of sigils for various magical and medical purposes; with descriptions, some in Latin and some in English. 144—6.

3. Wrappers of sigils, containing (the figure for the election of one, and) their uses; by FORMAN. (1611, 1610.) 147, 149.

Two small pieces of parchment.

4. A table of the hours of planetary dominion, for the whole year. 148.

5. Description and use of certain sigils, by an old hand. 150—1^b.

6. Letter from Sir THOMAS MIDDLETON to Mr. R. Napier at Linford, about making and stamping sigils in gold for him. ("Aldermarke Churchyard, Nov. 8th. 1626.") 152—3^b.

II. Dr. THO. HYDE's transcripts and translations from Oriental and Greek MSS. in the Bodleian library, relating to magical Talismans or τελεσματα.

1. "Out of AHMED AL MOHALLI an Arabian geographer, sent among other bookes from Aleppo by Mr. Huntington." (pp. 12.) f. 154—159^b.

2. "Out of an Arabick booke called—Al Sirro'l Mectam, concerning Telesmes and some other such things, 4^{to} 66 MS. Seld. about the middle of the booke." (pp. 19.) f. 160—9.

3. "Out of JOHANNES MALLELA Antiochenus, in his tenth treatise or booke of his Chronicon Alexandrinum: he cites it out of DOMINUS an ancient chronographer." 170—1.

4. Dr. HYDE's account of the origin and purposes of Talismans, and of eastern astrology. 172^{ab}.

5. Three Wefks or magical tables of numbers, "Out of a Persian booke called Mugjizât Farsi," with description. 173^a.

6. "Out of the said book Mugjizât, concerning the virtue of such figures or schemes. pag. 265, 266, 267." 174—5^b.

7. Abstract of "The booke of Oneirocritics or Interpretations of Dreams, in Arabick, [which] was written by NASR the son of Jacob of the city of Deinawar in Persia, called in short Nasr ibn Jacob Aldeinawari." 176^a.

8. Out of "An historicall and geographically booke in Arabick by Sheick AHMED MOHALLI an Arabian." (p. 325.) 177—8.

This title is by Ashmole's hand.

9. "Out of an Arabian geographer in the Bodleian Library, called ABU'L HASAN." 179.

10. "Out of AHMED AL MOHALLI." 180—2.

11. "Out of a Natural History in Persian, called Mugjizât Phârsi,—page 266, in the Bodleian Library in Oxford." 183—5.

12. "Out of an Arabick history, whose author is GEORGIUS EBN AL OMEID, extant in MS. in the publick Library in Oxford.

"And in this booke, in the chapter which treateth of the life of Alexander the great, its mentioned what Aristotle did for Alexander, and what directions he wrote for him; and among other things, what Talismans he made for him, in these words as followeth." 185^b—6^b.

13. Dr. HYDE's letter to Elias Ashmole esq. accompanying some of his extracts from "Arabick Bookes." (Oxford, 13 Sept. 1681.) 187—8.

The pages of these sheets contain the translation in columns parallel with the text. Only art. 3 is in Greek. Other transcripts made by him are in No. 1131.

No. 432.

A MS. consisting of 33 sheets, spread open and written on each side in large pages: they are bound together by the upper margins, and folded; but being inverted, the beginning of the MS. is at the end of the volume which contains this and the two foregoing numbers.

A complete Analysis of the Quadripartite of CLAUDIUS PTOLOMEUS, in English.

It is written in an analytical or tabular manner, and resembles Ashmole's early writing.

No. 433.

A thin folio volume, neatly ruled and written. The following title is written within a curious border of red lines, like to those round the pages of No. 437.

“Speculum Planetarum: or plaine Tables whereby the planet governing and the signe ascending at one instant is easily known in any houre of the day or night, with the pleasant and profitable use thereof: compiled and collected by EDMUND LANGDON gent. Practitioner in astronomy and phisicke. 1610.”

On the two leaves following are a preface “To the reader” (dated “From Battel in Sussex this 10 of December 1610.”), and some introductory observations on the tables, which begin on the reverse of the fourth leaf, and occupy 144 pages.

“Now followeth ye pleasant and profitable use of this planetarie glasse.” p. 145—150.

“The table to know ye hodelie marke;” followed by two curious stories about its use. 151—2.

“Of the signes ascendinge.” 152—163.

On p. 165 is an astrological note (3 lines) written by Sir Rich. Napier.

No. 434.

A folio volume, containing six MSS. written on paper toward the end of the XVIIth century: also a sheet, on which are written—“Ratio ac forma qua ipse [D. F. . .] uti soleo in personam aliquam describendo, quæ me nunquam fefellit:” et aliæ regulæ astrologiæ.

I. Magna pars ejusdam tractatus, sive Summarum, de Geomantia; e codice vetusto sed mauco descripti. (ff. 114—137, 36—41.)

This MS. is in a very imperfect and confused state: it begins a little before the fourth chapter, intitled De significatione leticiæ in qualibet domo questionis. At f. 130^b is said, Sequitur 2^a pars istius quinte summe, etc., but a little lower it is noted in the margin—“Heare waxes all these 25 questions wch is in the old parchment cōpye.” At f. 131, Sequitur sexta summa hujus libri, etc.; and at f. 133, Sequitur secunda pars hujus summe, etc. At f. 36 it is said in the margin, “Here the manuscript failes;” and at 41^a, “Hic desunt nonnulla, fere 4 ex istis foliis.” The last words are, Sequitur 3^a pars principalis hujus libri. Then follow ff. 144—5, 148—9, which are blank, except that on 148^b are written some arithmetical tables and examples.

II. “The generall Judgement of this Nativitie” of an unknown person: with figures and judgements on the yearly revolutions of the radix (24 Feb.) from 1571, the 25th year, to 1580. (f. 5^b—10.) Also Verses on several subjects arising out of the judgements (10^b—12^b), and tables and other observations. ff. 14.

Written in a fair secretary hand of the time of Q. Eliz.

III. 1. JOHANNIS TRITHEMII tractatus de Angelis septem planetarum orbibus præfectis. f. 1—24, 25.

Some leaves having been lost from both the beginning and the end of this MS., the fifth line contains the title of “Capitulum .7^m. Cujus hora vocatur Hamarym, et spiritus ejus Barquiel, habens sub suo imperio Duces 10. Comites 100. servorum mihi non est certus numerus.” At the end of the third angel of Saturn it is noted “Reliqua desiderantur.”

On f. 25^a is “Tabula Angelorum dominium in annis ab origine mundi computatum continens” etc.

2. “Clavis Steganographiæ JOHANNIS TRITHEMII Spanheymensis Abbatis, ad serenissimum principem D. Philippum Comitem Palatinum Rheni, Ducem Baviariæ, et sacri Romani imperij Electorem. Londini MDLXXCI.” 26—44^b.

This title occupies a separate leaf. This very neat MS. ends abruptly in the 33rd chapter: it seems to have been written by the same hand as No. 352, and they so much resemble Glover’s writing, that they may be conjectured to have been his transcripts.

IV. A large treatise of Geomancy, beginning thus—The [arte?] of geomancy by the worthie doctoure Parysiences in hys booke of the and unlesfull sciencs ys thoughte to be tollerable. ff. 69.

Written by various hands, and foully in some places. It seems to be a translation of the book in the first MS., being, as that is, confusedly divided into many parts and chapters. At the end is written, “Here endeth the 4 somme of this aggregate.”

V. “Liber de Stellis fixis in duodecim Signis cæli: concordantia eum .7^{to}. planetis.” ff. 8.

This title is on the first page: over the third (where the tables begin) is the following—“The table of ye number and names of ye fixed starres, and the natures of them agreeable to ye planetes. n[u]mero 167.” The last page is vacant. It seems to be written in the same small neat hand as the next MS.

VI. “ALKINDUS de judiciis, ex Arabico Latinus factus per ROBERTUM Anglicum. Quantum post Euclidem.” f. 1—23^b.

At the foot of the first page is this couplet, probably by Richard Sanders;

“Let All Astrologers honour thee thus:
Alkindus, thou art kinde to All of us. R. S.”

It ends thus: “Alius ejusdem familiæ mors sequetur in proximo. Finit liber Alkindi, translatio Roberti Angligeni de c—h—o—e—l—e.” See MS. 209, iii. etc.

No. 435.

A folio volume of moderate thickness (containing “4 q^{rs} demy,” as it is noted on the back of its parchment cover), only 22 pages of which are written on, at the beginning.

“An Introduction to the grounds or Astronomical part of Astrologie:” being a compilation of rules and diagrams.

It seems to have been the unfinished exercise-book of a learner, and to have been written in 1684 or 1685.

No. 436.

A collection of papers to the amount of 119 leaves, at first laid loose within the cover of No. 438, and since bound within it.

1. Table of directions in the revolutions of a nativity, for the years 1645—1674; the radix being 7 March, 1628. f. 1.

A large folding sheet, seemingly written by Lilly’s hand.

2. Eight speculu of nativities, set in printed forms; the sixth whereof is that of Sir W. Dugdale, with his accidents; by ASHMOLE. 2—9.

On the back of f. 5. are noted the accidents of a person born 25 Oct. 1623.

3. ASHMOLE's astrological figures and speculations relative to Parliamentary proceedings, from 3 May 1661 to 1685. f. 10—46.

Among these extraordinary papers are the four following articles.

4. Questions proposed by Sir ROBERT HOWARD (13 Oct. 1673, and 1 Mar. 1675) about the future proceedings of Parliament; with figures and judgements, and Lilly's note to Ashmole on the subject of the latter question. 14, 26—30^b.
5. Parliamentary memoranda from 6 Feb. to 25 Mar. 1672—3, (f. 19—21.) from 7 to 31 Jan. 1673—4, (f. 24^{ba}.) and from 28 Jan. to 4 Feb. 1677—8. (f. 39.)
6. Letter from J[OHN] G[IBBON] to Ashmole, about the proceedings in Parliament when Sir Rob. Sawyer was admitted Speaker. (16 Apr. 1678.) 37.
7. Copy of the King's speech in proroguing the Parl. 20 Dec. 1678. f. 38.
8. Part of a Sermon against judicial astrology, preached from Rev. v. 1. "By Mr. JOHN GOODWINE at Abchurch 1648, October 22^d p. m." 47—8.
9. Letter from ("W. Anglicus") LILLY to Ashmole, giving reasons for not enlarging on a prophecy published by him in 1646, unless "commanded by his Ma^y or one of the 2 my great freinds." (Not dated.) 49.
10. Letter from Jo. GADBURY to Ashmole, about figures on nativities etc. which he had sent. (7 Oct. 1687.) 50.
11. Letter from "JOHAN GIBBON" wishing for an increase in the allowance of the Pursuivants; complaining of the hard fate promised to him by Gadbury's remarks on the horoscope of Gassendus, which resembled his own, and asking for a solution of this difficulty; also mentioning the Lord Chamberlain, Sir W. Dugdale, and Dr. Plott. (n. d.) 51—2.
12. Accidents "Transcribed out of an historical acct: of the lyfe of James Duke of Monmouth, printed 1683:" and others added by Ashmole. 53^{ab}.
13. ASHMOLE's figure on the nativity of Abp. Sancroft (30 Jan. 1616) with two of his accidents: also on the nativity of W. White (16 Dec. 1659) and Eliz. Dugdale. (1 Dec. 1672.) 54, 55.
14. Letter from Jo. GADBURY to Ashmole: with four figures, on the nat. of Lady Waldgrave (7 Nov. 1668), Abp. Sancroft (30 Jan. 1616), Lord Churchill's son (12 Jan. 1686—7), and the time when the "Earle of Tyrconnel receivd y^e sword of state from y^e Earl of Clarendon." (12 Feb. 1686—7.) 57, 56.
15. "Accidents for rectifying my Lord Treasurer Clifford's nativity," from 1639 to his death, 17 Oct. 1673; by ASHMOLE. 58^{ab}.

16. Distichon adversus Jo. Bookerum. Hec clammas etc. 59.

Written on a slip of parchment.

17. Two figures on the 'radix' and 'revolutio' of Mr. Thomas Flatman's nativity. 60^a.
18. JOHN STANSBY's figures on his own nativity (7 Mar. 1628) and on the time when he was "sworne an ancyent at Clement's Inne" (29 Nov. 1678); with notes of accidents etc. and two other figures. 61—2, 63^{ab}.

See No. 174, art. 1.

19. Figure on the nativity of Dr. Goad* (15 Feb. 1615—6.) 64^a.

* See No. 368.

Lat: London. hor. ζ . $\text{D} \hat{a} \times \zeta$. ad $\Delta \text{h}.$ " 119^a.

This article is by the same hand as art. 21, and seems to be Gadbury's. Many of the leaves following f. 59 are small papers.

No. 437.

An oblong quarto MS. very neatly written on 6 leaves of vellum; in a parchment cover, by the upper edge of which it is fixed into the same volume as the foregoing and the following MS.

"Tabula domorum ad latitudinem grad. 52 minut. 20." per EDM. LANGDON*. (pp. 12.)

* Being written by the same hand as No. 433.

No. 438.

A folio MS. consisting of 104 leaves of large and stout paper; bound in vellum; within the cover of which are the papers marked No. 436, and the MS. No. 437. The first page is thus inscribed:—

"Observations of the Weather, made at my house at South-Lambeth," from 6 July 1677 to 31 December 1685, by ELIAS ASHMOLE, esq. f. 3—104.

The fourth page contains a short preface.

Each leaf contains (on its first page only) the observations of one month, fairly written. At f. 71^b are some notes of Ashmole's affliction with the gout.

No. 439.

No book or MS. can be found, with this number.

No. 440.

A thin folio MS. written in the XVIth century, seemingly by the hand of Dr. Dee; containing 26 leaves (the three last of which are blank), but one leaf or more has been lost at the beginning.

ROGERI BACONIS de speculis comburentibus liber: inc. κεφαλως, sic—puncto b incidunt, ad eundem punctum concurrunt. f. 1—23^b.

The last words are—De distancia combustionis nihil certum scio ad presens. At the foot of the page is this note—"Anno domini 1331. mens. 1. die 6. ho. 8. 37^m 9^{sec}. vidi Parisijs finem eclipsis particularum D et accepi altitudinem Alramech eadem hora, et erat ante circulum meridianum aliter 43. Observatio Bachonis." [sic]

No. 487, 488.

Two volumes in quarto, containing the Ephemerides of Stadius for 1554—1600 (Col. Agrip. 1570), and of Maginus for 1581—1620 (Venet. 1582); on the margins of which, respectively, are written—

The Diaries, or occasional short memoranda, of Dr. JOHN DEE, from Jan. 1577 to Dec. 1600, and from Sept. 1586 to Apr. 1601; also the natiuities of divers persons.

The account of Dr. Dee given by Ashmole in his notes to the Theatrum Chemicum (p. 481—2) are chiefly drawn from these volumes, which he calls "Doctor Dee's diary, all written with his owne hand." Ashmole's transcript of the notes written by Dr. Dee in Stoffer's Ephemerides, is in No. 423, art. 122.

No. 536.

In a quarto volume containing foreign printed tracts relating to Comets, the second article is a MS. consisting of 18 written and 2 blank leaves.

"De Motu Cometæ regulari:" scilicet illius qui apparuit mense Dec. 1664, cum tabula observationum in fine.

No. 537.

In an interleaved quarto volume.

ASHMOLE'S MSS. notes on, and collations of, an alechemical treatise, called "The Way to Bliss, in three books," published by him in 1658: with the original copy of his preface, prefixed.

See his transcript of the work, in No. 760.

No. 546.

On the first blank leaf of the last tract in this volume, printed in 1595, are written—

Notes, by the rev. RICHARD NAPIER, of the Births of Joseph, Toby, Mary, and John Bird, and of Sara Pope, viz.—25 March, 1596, . . . Jan. 1592, 1 May, 1593, 8 Sept. 1 or 2 of Q. Mary, and 25 July, 1559.

On the last leaf is—

An astrological rule, written by FORMAN.

No. 547.

Prefixed to a quarto volume of old tracts on the same subject, is a small paper containing—

Notes from Scripture etc. about Witchcraft.

No. 568.

Between the third and fourth tract in this volume, is inserted a leaf containing the following—

"Epigramma votivum pro pace.

"Jam satis armorum passim sensere Britanni;
Sit postliminio Rex rediviva suo.
Mitte, Deus, cælo ramum florentis olivæ:
Sanguine diluvium desinet esse novum."

It is written by the same hand as No. 36—37, art. 285—8.

No. 569.

At the end of "Lucii Bellantii de astrologica veritate liber quæstionum" (Basil. 1554, fol.), are 29 leaves containing—Argumenta quædam physica. f. 1^a.

An unfinished Common-place book of Astrology, by LILLY. 3^b—28.

No. 576.

A folio volume bound in calf, with clasps, and stamped with Ashmole's arms on the back, (like to his MSS.) containing—

Emendationes et supplementa in JOHANNIS ESCHENDENI coll. de Merton olim socii, Summam de accidentibus Mundi, quæ "Summa Anglicana" etiam vocatur; ex integra collatione codicis Mertonensis.

These are written on the margins of a copy of the edition printed at Venice in 1489, by Johannes Lucilius, from a MS. belonging to Franciscus Bolanus, a patritian of Venice; and though great accuracy is said (in the preface) to have been used, these ample collations show that it is a very faulty copy. The printed title is—"Summa astrologiæ judicialis de accidentibus mundi quæ anglicana vulgo nuncupatur Joannis escheuidi m'ri anglici peritissimi scientiæ astrologiæ felici sidere inchoat." According to the MS. it is—"Summa judicialis de accidentibus mundi quam compilavit m'r Joannes Eschenden."

On a parchment leaf (a fragment of a Rent-roll of the XIIIth century) at the beginning, is written "Liber Richardj Forsterj ex dono Magistrj Carej 11^o Febr. 1573." and the doctor has written below, some notes of the plagues in England, and various notes in the book; he also quoted it in his collectanea, No. 209, f. 148^b.

See Lilly's note in No. 241, f. 155^b, relating to the supplemental MS. sheet (4 pages following f. 188, col. 4.) which was printed from this book by Lilly, at the end of his almanack for 1674.

There are also inserted, a leaf between f. 45—6, containing "Figura 72 provinciarum quas gubernant planeta et signa, quam ponit Pthol. li. 20. quadrupartiti cap. 30." and two papers containing figures, at f. 311—2, 313—4. The colophons of the MS. are thus copied at the end: "Completa est hæc compilatio tractatus 2ⁱ summæ judicialis de accidentibus mundi 18 die mensis decembris anno Christi 1348." "Explicit summa judicialis de accidentibus mundi secundum magistrum Johanem de Eschenden quondam socium anle de Mertone in Oxonia. Cujus animæ propicietur Deus Amen."

This author's name has been remarkably changed and mistaken, through the suppression of the last syllable: thus—Ashenden, Eschend, Eschynd, Eschiud, Eschuid, Escheuid, and Escluid (as in this printed book), and at length Eschuyd and Estwode. There is not now a MS. of this work in Merton College, but probably it may have walked over the way to Oriël, as there is one belonging to this college described in Bernard's Catalogue, No. 875, 23.

No. 580.

On the margins of a copy of Dr. DEE'S "Actions with Spirits," published by Dr. Meric Casaubon (London, 1659, fol.) from the MSS. in the Cottonian Library, are written—

ASHMOLE'S Collations with Dr. Dee's original MSS. of his Actions with Spirits, throughout, and Notes on sundry places.

Between the title and the preface is fixed a sheet, containing—

Extracts from WEBSTER'S "Displaying of Witchcraft" (London, 1677, fol.), relative to Dr. Dee's Actions with Spirits.

That author animadverts bitterly and unjustly against Casaubon: a printed copy of the book is at No. 582.

In the last part of this volume, between pp. 36—37, is a leaf containing—

Four figures on questions (6, 8, 11, 13 June, 1607) set by Dr. DEE, and copied by ASHMOLE.

Ashmole's transcripts of the pretended Angelical Books are in No. 422, and some of the original 'Actions' are in No. 1790.

No. 698.

A small quarto book containing 32 leaves; of which the last, and f. 24, are torn.

1. Figure on the nativity of a person "natus 1612, 14 Jan." (who died 24 Oct. 1650); with profectio-ns and figures on the revolutions for the 38th, 39th, 40th, and 41st years; by LILLY. f. 1—9.
2. LILLY'S figures on the two last revolutions (9 Nov. 1652 and 1653) of his wife Grace, and notes of her death (17 Feb. 1653—4) and burial. 9^b—10.

These notes and other parts of this MS. were copied by Ashmole into No. 394, f. 94^b—109.

3. LILLY'S figures on his own revolutions for the years 1672—8. f. 10^b—13.
4. LILLY'S figure on his own nativity (1602), table of profectio-ns, and notes of his accidents. 13^b—17.
5. LILLY'S figure on the nativity of a person born in 1630, with speculum and profectio-ns. 17^b—21.
6. LILLY'S figure on his own revolutions from 1653 to 1660, and for 1681, with notes of some of his accidents. 21^b—3.
7. COLEY'S notes of directions "In the nativity of my hon^d: father Mer[linus]: Ang[licus]:" i. e. Lilly.

The next four pages are blank, and the following article begins at the end of the book reversed.

8. Figures etc. on the nativity of a "generosus" born 5 June, 1622; with unfinished tables of directions. 31^b—27^b.

No. 746.

A thin quarto MS. neatly written on paper about the year 1600, in a small hand.

Artis inventivæ expositio compendiosa, seu commentarii super summam brevem RAYMUNDI LULLII, ignoto auctore: inc. R. L. composuit artem ad scientiarum inventionem. f. 1—55^b.

A black-letter copy of Lully's work is in No. 345.

De natura quæstionis, e quodam opere dialectico compilatiunculæ, "ca. 12. 54," et aliunde. f. 62—59^b, 58—6, 59—8^b.

This is written (vertically) in a clear old hand different from the foregoing: the remaining part is referred to as at the beginning of the book, but only a fragment of a leaf now exists there.

No. 747.

A thin quarto MS. consisting of only 7 leaves (bound with No. 746) written in the XVIIth century.

"The firste Booke of the nature of thinges." f. 2—7^b.

On the opposite page are written—

"The seven titles of the seven bookes of the nature of thinges.

"Of the generation Of the increase Of the conservation Of the life Of the death Of the risinge again Of the transmutation	}	of naturall thinges."
--	---	-----------------------

Also the catchword of the first book (The generation), which is the only one in this MS., at the end of which is written "Finis libri primi."

The cover in which this little book is folded, is a leaf of a folio MS. on vellum, written in a neat law-hand of the time of Edw. III., being—

A Fragment of an ancient treatise on Writs, and proceedings in Common Law; in French. Ore est adyre del terz membre de play qc est sour les brfs, qc sont de fee. et de demeyne et nent de drcyt.

Thus begins the paragraph with a blue capital, in the 7th line of the first page as it is here folded.

No. 748.

A quarto MS. neatly written on thin vellum, in columns, about the beginning of the XIVth century, and adorned with painted capitals. It contains 352 leaves, beside two blank leaves at the beginning, and two leaves at the end which are a fragment of a work relating to the Canon-law, of the 14th or 15th century.

BIBLIA SACRA, Latine, cum prologis HIERONYMI: ordine sequenti disposita.

To fill up the first column of this last page, a later hand (yet of the XIVth century) wrote an account of some of the dominical and festal lessons. Oo the upper part of the next column is this note—"Biblia. M' Joh'is Fowrman quam dedit communitati Aule Stapuline in Oxonia. ut illic remaneat quam diu durare permitte-tur." Also on the blank leaf opposite to the first page of the MS. is written another note—"Orate pro felici statu M'ri Joh'is For-man vicarij de Rushton dioc' Ebor' qui hunc librum communitati Aule Stapuline munifice contulit A'o do'i. 1499^o."

Nominum Hebraicorum ordine alphabetico explicatio Latina: inc. Aar: apprehendens vel apprehensio. 338—352^b.

This appendix is neatly written (by the same hand as the Bible) in four columns on each page, and is adorned with painted capitals. Another copy of equal age is in No. 343, x.

No. 749.

A quarto volume containing sixteen MSS. written on paper. The first contains 26 leaves, and is beautifully written: on the first page is the autograph of John Booker.

I. Ten short Discourses on philosophical questions, dedicated "To the right honorable Theobald L. Viscount Butler" by ABSOLON GETHYN. f. 2—24^b.

The dedication is dated "Oxonie 2 calend. Sept. 1603." The titles of the discourses are—

1. "Whether nobility commeth by descent." 3.
2. "Whether it be lawfull to sell th^r inheritance that is left unto us by our ancestors." 4^b.
3. "Whether it be not lawfull in a well governed Common wealth, for every man to heape up as much riches as he may without anny stint at all." 5^b.
4. "Whether true golde may be made by Alchimye." 6^b.
5. "Whether witchcraft cometh sometyme by the eyes." 7^b.
6. "Whether the action of vertue be the onely paterne and meane wherby honor should be distributed." 8.
7. "Whether the period and destruction of Kingdoms be fatal, or by destiny." 9.
8. "Whether their be fatal yeares which we call Clymactericall." 12. (Curious.)
9. "Whether a kingdome consisting of united provinces wch border upon each other be more durable then a disjoynted and severed empire." 15.
10. "Whether anny starr be greater and bigger then the whole earth." 21^b.

*II. "A happie Shipwrack, or the losse of a late intended Voyage to sea recovered by a breife of this experience, Qui se habet nihil perdidit. [Or a narrative of the disputes and other circumstances that led to the failure of an expedition to settle a colony on the river of Amazons, sent in the Exchange ship, 1629, by the Company for the plantation of Guiana: inscribed] 'To the right hon.^{ble} William Earle of Pembroke Lord Steward of his Majesties houshold" and Governor of the said Company, by Mr. RICHARD THORNTON, Chaplain.

This MS. consists of 12 pages very neatly written. The narrative is interesting, but too much stuffed with Latin phrases and quotations: copies of some documents are recited in it.

III. 1. "The Frenche herrald sent to the Princes of Christendome. Printed according to the French copie 1622." f. 2—3.

On the same paper are written—

Considerationes tredecim "Cancellario Hispanico" propositæ, super negotiis politicis. 4—5.

2. Extracts from "An Answer to a pamphlett intituled the Fisher cacht in his owne nett: shewing the Protestant Church was not so visible in all ages as the true Church ought to be, and consequently is not the true church of which men may learne infallible faith necessary to salvation. By A. C. [etc.] IHS. M.D.C.XXIII." 7—10.

3. Extracts from "The Image of both Churches, Iherusalem and Babell, unitie and confusion, obedience and sedition. By P. D. M. Dedicated to Prince Charles." 11—13.

Showing "The benefits of the match with Spaine."

4. "To the most potent monarch Charle[s] the humble complaint of GEORGE EGLISHAM Dr. of Phisick lately one of King James Phisitions for his Mat^{tes} person above the space of tenne yeares." (Extracts thence.) 17^{ab}.

Extracts from "The forerunner of revenge upon the D. of Buck: for etc. discovered by M. GEORGE EGLISHAM Phisitian to K. James. Franckfort 1626." 18—21.

Each of these four small tracts consists of 6 leaves (except the second, which has only 4), and indorsed on the last page by Ashmole's hand: they are written in a thick old hand,—the same as No. 824, xi. and No. 829, ix. x. xi. Before they were bound in this volume, the margins were cut so close, that the last 2 or 3 lines of every leaf of the last tract were cut off, and the pieces are pinned to the leaves for preservation.

IV. "The Life and Raigne of Henry the third, written by Sr. ROBERT COTTON." 2—14.

This transcript seems to have been written by the same hand as the foregoing MS., but is more distinct. (ff. 16.) Beside other copies in MS. (as Harl. 354), there are no fewer than four printed editions of this tract, at London in 1627, 1642, 1651, and 1675, 8vo., all which are in the Bodleian Library.

V. "A Peticō of FRAUNCIS PHILLIPS to her late [majesty] Queene Elizabeth for his brothers releas[e, he] being in the Tower." 2—6.

Part of the title running over the margin has been cut off. Ashmole's transcript of this eloquent and interesting (but flattering) address seems to be unfinished. (ff. 8.)

VI. "A Remonstrance concerning y^e present troubles, from y^e meeting of the Estates of y^e Kingdome of Scotland Aprill 16. unto the Parliament of England." 2—9.

"This was written by my first wife Elianor the daughter of Mr: Peter Maynwaring of Smalwood in Cheshire. E. A." But the title was written by Ashmole himself, and this transcript is unfinished. (ff. 12.) See also No. 830, art. 80.

VII. "To the right ho^{ble}: the Lords of his Mat^{tes}: most ho^{ble}: Privy Councell. The most humble Peticō of y^e subscribers wth the consent of many gen^r and others of good worth of this county of Devon." against the new oath proposed by the Synod. f. 1—3.

This transcript by Ashmole's hand contains the names of the Petitioners. (ff. 8.)

VIII. "A Letter from a Protestant in Ireland, to a Member of the House of Commons in England, upon occasion of the Treatie in y^t Kingdome." (f. 2.) Dated "Dublin the 3^d of October 1643." f. 4—15^b.

This is a beautifully neat transcript by Ashmole; the 2 outer leaves are blank.

IX. A Letter from WALTER MOUNTAGUE to Lord showing his reasons for believing the Romish Church to be the true representative of the primitive Apostolical Church, and for having reconciled himself thereunto; dated "Paris 21 Novemb. 1635." f. 2—9.

A transcript neatly written by Ashmole.

- X. An allegory of Apollo's unsuccessful project to establish a land-navigation, that the learned and virtuous might safely reach the favor of princes. f. 2—5^b.

On the first leaf is this inscription—"To performe my promise to my honest frend Mr Calver . . . thes." This leaf and the beginning of the tract are much torn, so that the heading is mutilated thus:—"Apollo greatly commiserating the ship-wracks which his ver. great Princes courtes navigation, appointes Schollers in Parnassus carde for navigation Ragnaglio xxiii. Cen." On f. 6 is a note that the author "gatt Mr. Stone to rewright" his first draught, which, if it should be to his friend's "horrible vexation," he must think it a penance "for yor faults committed at Sacomb church." The 2 following leaves are torn.

- XI. "His Highnes [the Protector's] speech to y^e Committee, Aprill 13. 1657." (pp. 16.)

- XII. "Humane love's delineation." f. 2—28^b.

This title is written both on the first leaf and over the treatise, which begins thus—Being induced, upon occasion of those who are distressed by war, to search whether Love might not be used as a meanes to reconcile the parties thus mutually consuming each other. It is well written, in a neat old hand.

- XIII. A treatise on the Laws and Customs of Forests; intitled—"Lectura THOMÆ BAUDE, de Interiore Templo, collectione et accommodatione Richardi Adams, 7^o Januarij 1612, rescripta." f. 1—43.

The first leaf and 5 last leaves are vacant.

- XIV. "Notes taken att a Justice Seate for the Forrest of Windsor in the county of Berks. houlden the xxiiith. of September 1632. The Earle of Holland cheife Justice in eyre, Lord Richardson chiefe Justice of the Kings bench, and Baron Denham being his assistant, by verue of his Ma^{ty}s. letters to them directed. And Mr. Noy Attorney generall att that tyme attended for the King as his councill." f. 1—9^b.

This MS. (ff. 16) is unfinished: it seems to have been written by Ashmole.

- *XV. Thirty-seven doubtful points of Parish-law, stated, and shortly argued or answered. f. 2—7.

Eight leaves: the first and last blank. It seems to have been written by Ashmole.

- XVI. Epistola a "TRAJANO BOCCALINO al Re delle Gran Brettagna;" data "Da Vinegia gli 27 d'Augusto. 1612." Cum ejusdem libello politico et literario, Italice. f. 2—25^b.

Part of this title is written on the first leaf, and the letter occupies 5 pages. On the last leaf is written "Sig^r. Franc^o. Verceclin due scattole di triacolo Venetiano." (26^b.) The MS. is neatly written in the Italian hand.

No. 750.

A quarto MS. written on paper by sundry hands in the XVth century. It contains 206 leaves, including one of vellum at each end, and f. 100^{cd}, which was omitted in the numbering.

1. Grammatica per formam dialogi (inc. Partes orationis quot sunt? Octo.) cum verborum etc. inflexionibus. f. 1—9^b.

The paradigms are explained in English.

2. Ordo visitandi et adhortandi infirmos in mortis articulo: inc. Priusquam inungatur infirmus aut communicetur: exhortetur cum sacerdos hoc modo. 10—15.

In this tract are 6 pages of exhortations in English to be devoutly said, "Si infirmus fuerit simplex persona literas nesciens:" the two last portions of which (f. 13^b—14) are the same as that interesting confessional printed by Hearne in his glossary to Robert of Gloucester (p. 683—4) from a paper of almost the same age as this MS., where it is complete.

3. "Isti sunt generales articuli majoris excommunicationis: et dicuntur hoc modo. Goude men and twymmen. hit is ordened by the conscil of al holy cherche." 15—25.

Toward the end of this article are forms of excommunication and absolution in Latin (22^b—4^b); and the last page contains a general description of persons excommunicated, written at another time, among whom are "Al those in especial that breke my chamber and toke out a bonet" etc.

4. Tractatus prosodicus de quantitate syllabarum: inc. Litterarum alie sunt vocales alie consonantes. 26—42.

Only the last page contains rules about feet and verses: the last words are—nec ex paucioribus quam ex decem sillabis.

5. A homily against covetousness and swearing: beg. It furit be age of man and woman it dogh be a precious ston þ^t is clepid crisolitus. þis ston as scith þ^e Mayster of kendes. 42^b—8.

The last words of this curious article are—and hangin be þe necke in þe fer of helle wt outin ende.

6. Carmen, cujus pars prior de generibus nominum, posterior de formatione præteritorum et supinorum tractat; intertexto commentariolo inc. In hoc intendit auctor regulo dare. 49—61.

The first verse is—In quantum potero de nomine quolibet in quo: the last—Sed tibi trivi sivi sunt sala per iei. Explicit P^r et S. (Præceptor et Scholaris?)

7. De metris hymnorum ecclesiasticorum: inc. Et quilibet versus ymptni continet in se. 61—2^b.

8. Grammaticalia quædam in forma dialogi: inc. Quid est grammatica? 62^b—3.

Ending with this verse—E profert aut a quisquís procedit ab Eva.

9. Exercitium grammaticale super hymni partem—Virginis o proles. 63^b.

10. Tractatus de particularum usu, intertextis PETRI HELIÆ versibus grammaticis: inc. Regulus parvulus sub compendio dignum durimus parvulus Pre[s]ciani et Petri Helie sequendo documenta. 64—7^b.

It ends thus imperfectly—Nota quod secundum Priscianum in libro 5^o quod numerus est distinctionis forma que discrecionem quantitatis facere. Petrus Helias was the author of a metrical text of Priscian, which he composed probably in the thirteenth or fourteenth century: the ten first lines are printed in Leyseri Hist. Poetarum, p. 2067—8, from a MS. at Leipzig.

11. Synopsis juris canonici: inc. Verborum superfluitate penitus rescata de talento credito nobis relinquo socii margaritam. 68—84.

It seems to end imperfectly, thus—Item quantum extendatur privilegium immunitatis et utrum ipso jure sint excommunicati transgressores. tractatur. c. q. omnis etc. sicut. Some other lines of it are on f. 85.

12. Literæ THOMÆ Sodorensis episcopi, abbatis Monasterii beatæ Mariæ de Valle Regali, de salvo conductu Johannis K[ylyng]* monachi, ad generale capitulum ordinis Cisterciensis ituri, per unum annum. (8 Jul. 1466.) 84^b.

* See f. 198. This was written on a vacant page.

13. Part of a Sermon on keeping holy days. 86^{ab}.

Only the last leaf of this remains, beginning thus—preparavit sibi quia sanctus dies Domini Dei tui est. quan ꝛe han ocupied ꝛou yn beze ocupacõns: and ending thus—þt w^t his blod bowt us on þe rode tre Amen.

14. A Sermon on "Christus mortuus est. ad Cor. 15. Frendes and bereþeryn in god þe wordes þt I have takyn to spekyng of at þis tyme." 86^b—9.

Ending with the same words as the foregoing article.

15. A Homily on the seven deadly sins: beg. Tway þynges I have purposid to spekyng of at þis tyme ferst to schewen ꝛow schortly þe comowen condiscionyns of þe vij dedly sennys. 89—96.

The last words are—God suffrid hym to be slay þerfor and many a hundrid w^t hym.

16. Sermo super illud—"Pax Christi exultet in cordibus vestris. Lco papa dicit de adventu Christi." 96—8.

In fine—et cum eo glorificemur in secula seculorum Amen.

17. "Notandum quod JOHANNES CRISOSTOMUS assimilat predicatorem verbi Dei piscatori, sic dicendo. Piscator habet ponere retia formaliter in aqua." etc. 98.

18. Quando Conscientia est bona habet castam voluntatem puram intencionem et bonam operacionem. etc. 98^b—9.

19. Two recipes "For [to] make whyte sope," and three chemical recipes. 99^{ab}.

20. A hymn to the Virgin Mary: beg. Mary moder welle the be. (27 couplets.) 100^{ab}.

Ending thus—"þat I be never taken þar inne. Amen."

21. Satyrical verses in Latin and English: beg. Ingenium dolus est (5 v.) and Wyttc is trechery. (6 l.) 100^bc.

22. A hymn to the Saviour: beg. Jhesus thy swetes wo so myght it se. (4 couplets.) 100^c.

23. Senis cujusdam carmen queruluum, seu Speculum carnalis hominis: inc. Dum juvenis crevi ludens nunquam requievi. (26 disticha rhythmica.) 100^{cd}—1.

In fine—"Et tunc securam mihi vitam redde futuram. Explicit speculum carnalis hominis."

24. Of masses and prayers for the dead: beg. He þat wyl delyver his frend soule out of purgatorye. 101^{ab}.

25. Scalæ virtutum ad cælum, vitiorum ad infernum; cum præceptis moralibus. 101^b—2.

26. Versiculi quidam, et sententiæ excerptæ: scilicet—

f. 102^b. "Hec destruuunt mundum. Inhonestas clericorum." etc. Distichon. Clamitant usque polum. etc.

f. 102^b. Tetrastichon rhythmicum. His diebus jam peractis. etc. Fabulantes in ecclesia mala faciunt. etc. Epitaphium trium regum Coloniensium. Corpora sanctorum locus tenet iste magorum. (7 v.)

Distichon. Agele qui meus es. etc.

"Est tuus Anna pater Isakar, Nasaphath tua mater." (Et in No. 751, f. 97^b.)

"Sint medicina mei pia crux et passio Christi Vulnera quoque Dei sint medicina mei."

f. 103. Distichon. Huc non vade via. etc.

Aliud. Vos qui transitis. etc.

Ex "Ecclesiastico xxv" cap. In tribus beneplacitum est.

etc. Interest canis jacere. etc.

27. Hoc distat inter qualitatem et quantitatem: et differentie aliorum vocabulorum. 103.

28. De jejunio Christi: inc. Querendum est quare nos non jejunamus. 103^b.

29. Forma literarum JOHANNIS Abbatis de Melsa, de licentia moram trahendi in aliquo alio ejusdem ordinis monasterio per Angliam. 103^b.

30. Numeri cardinales et ordinales, adverbia, et numeri tum Romani tum barbari, usque ad 3000000: cum explicatione eorundem. 104—6.

31. Forma literarum JOANNIS Abbatis de Melsa, quibus monacho licentia datur transferendi se ad aliud monasterium. 106^{ab}.

32. "Incipit distichium seu distigium vel Cornutus novus vocabulorum quo inusitatorum moraliter combinatorum inde pro dictationibus s' pusio flens papat est." 107—130^b.

This ends the preface (beg. Hanc propositionem potest Boccius.) of this book of the etymology and significations of words; wherein it is said that the "Causa efficiens hujus libri—fuit Otto de Lunniburch." This was formerly a separate MS. written in columns, and in a bad close hand that seems much older than it is. The following article is also written in a foreign character, but neater.

33. "Confessio generalis Episcopi MEGARENSIS. Quoniam omni confitenti necessarium est hanc confessionem generalem dicere cujus tanta est virtus secundum magistrum sententiarum li iij d. xvj c. v. quod innumerabilia peccata venialia tollit." 131—140.

Finitur sic—"Aviso te o confitens quatenus in quolibet puncto out clausula istius confessionis que multum sententiam continet Reducas ad te ipsum et satage recordari si fecisti* aliquid aliquo tempore in speciali peccatum consimile et statim illud confitere. & ca est finis." The title was written by the same hand as the next article and most other parts of the MS.

34. "The indulgences of the Monasterie of Syon. To all veracit contrite and confessid that comen by cause of devocion tho the cherche or monastere." 140—1^b, 183^a.

At the foot of the fourth page is written—"Quere plures indulgencias post alias indulgencias sancti Jacobi apostoli que incipiunt ad tale signum o." See art. 44—6.

35. A collection of antient Recipes in medicine and the arts:* beg. "For the Flyx. Tak plantayn and scyth it in wynne." etc. 142—7^b.

* These follow the seven Latin verses at f. 145, intitled "Contra insidias latronum dicatur oracio sequens. Salvator." etc. The first is "For to make a syz for muldes." See art. 40.

36. The Romance of Utopis: beg. [A]lle pat welyn of wysdam ler. 148—159^b.

Ending thus—"Jh'u to hys blys us bryng. Explicit hic totum pro Christo da mihi potum." See the notes on No. 61, art. 26.

37. Sententiarum selectarum et versiculorum congeries, e Patribus plerumque desumpta. 160—8.

At the end is written (by a less antient hand) a stanza of an old Romance, beg. Sur emperoure dred ye nothyng. (81.)

38. Directions "For [to] mak blaec ynk—For mak grene [ink—and] Siz for lymnyng." 168^b.

39. "Ad faciendum fenestrallum de panno lineo. Pinge primo" etc. "Ad faciendum pomisium. Accipe vitrum" etc. And "For to teu a skyn." 169^b.

40. A collection of Recipes for medicines and colors. 171—9.

Most of these are the same as art. 35. The first title is "For the Morfew:" the last page but two contains ample directions "For to mak letters of golde."

41. De festorum ecclesiasticorum diversitatibus: inc. Sollempnitas. alia est festivitatum. 180^b.

42. "De interpretacione verborum injuriosorum. Improperium est verbum turpe." etc. 181.

43. Quaedam de jejumio, confessione, et temptatione. 181^{ab}.

Also a distich, beginning—Hostis non ledit, on f. 180^b.

44. "Hee sunt reliquie contente in ecclesia sancti Jacobi de Compostella in Galacia. In primis corpus integrum sancti Jacobi Zebedei Apostoli nepotis sancte Marie virginis." 182^b.

45. "Hee sunt indulgencie concessae pefate ecclesie Compostellane. In primis conceditur quibuscunq; venientibus." 182^b—3.

Chaucer's Wife of Bath had been "In Galice at Seint James." C. T. v. 468.

46. A note of the indulgences granted at "the Charterhous be side Coventre," and by the Prior of Shene. 183^b.

Written by a less antient hand, vertically.

47. Remedies for various diseases in alphabetical order, from A to E: beginning thus—"For the Accesce. R' iij saugelcrys and sey in the ferste in principio erat verbum." 184—194.

48. Orationes ad virginem Mariam, ad angelos, et ad sanetos quosdam. 194^b—5^b.

49. Pars chartæ Roberti atte Hel, de Preston, concedentis messuagium in eadem villa, "Henrico Hogon de Hydestrete in Preston filij Joh'is Hogon jun' de eadem, Joh'i Hogon de Hydestrete, [et] Rob' Reyner." 195^b.

50. Charta Roberti atte Hel et Henrici Hogon, et Joh. Bomsted de Illyghe monachorum, qua messuagium Henrico Hogon concessum est. 196^b.

It seems to be the original draught of the charter, which was also begun on the opposite and on the following page: the names of the witnesses, etc. are noted on f. 196^b.

51. "Siz for colorws for muldes.—Item alius modus—Siz pro auro et argento.—Anoþer maner of siz for gold or silver." 198^b.

52. Hymni ad virginem Mariam: inc. Has videre laudes etc. 199—201.

53. "De sancta Trinitate oracio.—Oracio devota ad omnes sanetos." et alia preces ad sanetos. 201^b—3.

The fly leaves, the blank pages at the end of the quires, and many of the margins, were scrawled over by the possessors of this MS., or by others, in the XVth century: in this writing are some trivial verses and sentences, as at f. 1^a, 25^b, 183^b, 195^b. These names also occur—Dan Rondell Castilton (1^a), Thomas Fysshier (5^b et passim), "Master Dane John Meltam my gud master god save hym amen" (6^{ab} repeatedly), "Iste liber est Galfrido Weveram" (26; also 191, 196), "John Stryngger ys dronke" (36 and 84), "Ad quod Stephanus Jacson promisit Galfrido Weverham" etc. (106^b), William Lowe (115), "Dane Jhon Chester oth yis boke" (182), Ran' Darlington, 6 Aug. 20 H. 8. (191, 196), "My mayster oth Peres Barker vijs and viijd for barlye" (195^b), Symon Miriell; Thomas Rokelle (203^b), "Jhon Mylner is a good pyper:" and "Joh'es Samson de villa Dei." 204.

Articles 12, 19, 38, 39, 49, 50, were written on vacant places. At f. 48 (the lower half of which is cut off) is a recipe headed—"Offuryngton. A good medicine for the hert and for the fleume." At f. 179^b and 198 are curious accounts of moneys due to John Kylyng, a monk. On the last fly leaf is a recipe "Pro morbo ydropico." 204^b.

No. 751.

A MS. closely written on 155 quarto leaves of thick paper, about the end of the XIVth century: it is much worn and stained. There is little or no distinction between the articles, except where they begin on a fresh quire.

1. "De dignitate anime et vilitate corporis secundum YSIDORUM. Anima insignita Dei ymagine." Etiam "De premijs gaudiorum [pro electorum] secundum eundem YSIDORUM." "De memoria passionis dominice" et "De predestinatione" ex eodem. f. 1—5.

2. "Item RICARDUS venerabilis Heremita super illud Osculetur me osculo oris sui." scilicet excerpta "de mundo, de amore, de judicio, et alia theologica." 5—15.

3. "Incipit libellus de meditacione sancti BERNARDI. Domus hec in qua habitamus ex omni parte sui ruinam minatur." 15^b—24.

In fine—"quot te monuerunt bonis sermonibus et justis actionibus. Explicit libellus de meditacione sancti Bernardi."

4. "Item venerabilis RICARDUS Heremita de 3^{ci} statu hominis. Memento miscer homo quod cinis es: et in cinerem reverteris." 24—8.

It ends with the same memento.

5. "Meditacio divine laudis et spei venie secundum RICARDUM Heremitam. Memor fui Dci. et delectatus sum." 28^b—9^b.

In fine—"si pro sua superbia resiliens pro venia exoraret etc."

6. "Item RICARDUS Heremita super Ps. Magnificat. Magnificat anima mea Dominum. Istum psalmum benedicite virginis dicimus canticum." 29^b—31^b.

In fine—"ad quam nos perducat Christus Jesus. Explicit canticum Marie virginis secundum venerabilem R. H. Amen."

7. Ejusdem de resurrectione et judicio finali tracta-

- tus: inc. In die iudicij resurgent omnes incorruptibiles. 31^b—4.
- In fine—“Sic ergo in operibus vestris Christi laudem querite ut post hanc vitam ad regnum Christi valeatis pervenire. Amen. Explicit tract[at]us RICARDI Heremite.”
8. Excerpta quædam theologica narrationibus illustrata: quæ incipiunt—

13. “Incipiunt postille venerabilis RICARDI Heremite super novem lecciones mortuorum. Job septimo lectio prima.” 51—61.
On the last page (after “redibunt etc. Amen.”) is an extract from the same author, beginning—Item Ricardus super ps’ Domine in virtute, which is annexed to the text of this article, as part of it.
14. Nota quod in missa sacerdos ter osculatur altare etc. 61^b.
15. “Incipit liber sancti EDMUNDI Confessoris qui nuncupatur Speculum Ecclesie. In nomine domini altissimi Jesu Christi. hic incipiunt materic que tanguntur in sermone sequenti. ruditer dictate ad evitandum curiositatem ne quis dimittat sanctitatem interiorum propter loquelam exteriorum.*” 62—78.
* That is, the titles of the 30 chapters of this excellent tract, written by Edmund Abp. of Canterhury in the thirteenth century: whereof an epitome is given by Mr. Turner, in the appendix to his History of England in the middle ages; and it is printed in the Bibliotheca Patrum. (Vide Fabricii Bib. med. et inf. Lat. II. 82, ed. 1754; et Tanneri Bibl. Brit. p. 630.) It ends thus in the present MS.—“quod nobis paratum est ab origine mundi. Amen. Explicit tractatus sancti EDMUNDI DE PONTINACO qui appellatur Speculum ecclesie. et bene potest nominari ita cum in tota sacra scriptura non poterit aliud specialius inveniri.”
16. “Speculum Peccatoris. Quoniam karissime in hujus vii vite sumus.” 78^b—83.
In fine—“quod ipse prestare dignetur qui vivit et regnat super omnia Deus. Amen. Explicit speculum peccatoris.
17. “De mandatis Dei. Ilk cristen mon is bounden to kepe yo comundmentes of God.” 83—5.
As usually, the third commandment is here left out, and the tenth split into two. The last words are—“elles yi penance saves ye nocht.” Explicit.”
18. The Apostles’ creed, showing the name of the supposed author of each article thereof: beg. Nota quod post missionem spiritus sancti apostoli fecerunt simbolum. PETUR sayd yus. I troxe in god. etc. 85^b.
19. Quædam de conscientia (inc. Item super illud lucerna corporis tui est oculus tuus.), contra clericos superbos (inc. Miror de clericis.), et disticha duo inc. Post hominem vermis. 85^b.
20. “Meditaciones beati BERNARDI. Multi multa sciunt et scipos nesciunt.” 86—94, 105—7^b.
At the foot of 94^a is this note—“require finem meditac’ beati B’ in proximo quaterno sequenti ad tale signum ð.” The last words are—per infinita secula. Amen.
21. “Hec sunt de quibus presbiter parochialis specialiter debet facere sermonem et docere parochianos. s. simbolum cum vij articulis fidei.” Et super eis xvii “Versus. Hec sunt precipue super omnibus insinuenda.” 94^b.
22. “Auctoritates de libro Magistri Sententiarum. In anima est intelligencia memoria voluntas.” 95—7, 124^b—7.
At the foot of f. 97^a—“Require plus in secundo quaterno sequenti ad tale signum. +.”
23. Sententiæ ex Hieronymo in Malachiam, Juvenali, Innocentio, Leone, et Augustino. 97^b.
24. Schema consanguineorum Mariæ, subscripto hoc versu—Est tuus Anna pater Ysaachar Nasaphat sua mater. 97^b.

In fine—sed desiderium movet.
30. Excerpta theologica ex Augustino, Chrysostomo, Bernardo, Gregorio, et Isidoro. 121^b—4^b.
31. “De mutacione sacerdotis in missa” etc. quædam. 127^b.
32. Farrago excerptorum e Gregorio plerumque et Augustino: inc. Solent diis templa construi. 128—133.
33. Legenda “De assumptione beate Marie virginis. Vos audistis et bonum ut iterum audiat.” 133—6^b.
In fine—gaudet et letare que me filium Dei in utero meruisti portare et lactare.
34. Hec dicenda sunt in extremis etc. 136^b.

35. Totus mundus liber est sapientis etc. 136^b—7^b.
 36. Excerpta e libro INNOCENTII III. de miseria conditionis humanæ: inc. Quis unquam unicum diem. 137^b—140.

In fine—Hec edita sunt a LOTARIO diacono et cardinali et postea papa Innocentius factus est. Item idem dicit de ambicioso etc.

37. E. GREGORIO excerpta (ut videntur) "De confessione" administranda: inc. Arte illa qua recitentur anime. 140—2.

In fine—Si per crapulam vel ebrietatem vomitum fecisti. Exp[er]it tractatus confessionis."

38. "po sauter of Jh'u. Jh'u lord y' made me." (6 st. of 4.) 142.

39. "po sauter of charyte. Jh'u for yaime I ye beske." (6 st. of 4.) 142^{ab}.

Both these poems are written in long lines.

40. "Nota secundum JOHANNEM MAUNDVYLE. Fro nazareth to ye mount Thabor is iij myle." etc. 142^b—3.

41. Nota quod sex sunt que nos ab immoderato diviciarum appetitu debent retrahere. etc. 143.

Three Latin sentences are written below this, by a less ancient hand.

42. Sciatis quod satisfaccio consistit in 3^{bus} precipue. etc. 143^b.

43. Nota quod 3^a genera boni veniunt ad sermonem. etc. 143^b.

44. "Auctoritates de libro Magistri Hystoriarum. In primo libro." 144—151^b.

These are extracted from PETRUS COMESTOR.

45. Excerpta ex AUGUSTINO de confessione, elemosyna, jejunio, sacerdotis officio, et pœnitentia. 151^b—5^b.

No. 752.

A quarto volume, containing four MSS. on paper, written early in the XVIIIth century.

- I. 1. "De antiquitate Hebraicorum Punctorum testimonia." p. 1—6, 9—11.

2. "Argum[enta decem]. pro antiq. punctorum ex HAFENREFFERI commentario in Templum Ezechielis, pag. 170." p. 13—20.

This latter part is a fair transcript, whereof only the title and marginal notes are by the same learned hand as the foregoing article; the title to which is written on the second leaf of the MS; and at the foot of the first (which seems to have been used as a wrapper) is this direction—"for ye worll Mr. Richard Napeire."

- II. A Letter from a Roman catholic, designed to prove that the ordination of the clergy of the church of England is not apostolical or valid. f. 3—12^b.

A neat transcript, in a book consisting of 17 leaves.

- III. "De gloriosissimo, clarificato, ac fulgidissima luce perfuso Corpore Domini et Salvatoris nostri Jesu Christi: Doctrina scitu maxime necessaria, et pœsenti seculo apprime utilis. Autore ULRICO GOBERO. M." (ff. 67.)

This learned treatise is written in a most distinct and beautiful hand; the Greek is particularly fine. The title is written on a leaf not numbered, and 3 blank leaves are at the end of the MS.

- IV. "Aurea Catena, selectissimis quibusdam gemmis referta, ex doctrinæ de Electione Dei consideratione desumpta, his deploratis temporibus fidei omnibus Christianis utilissima.

"Conscripta a J. M. A. ex Palatinatu Cæstrisæ seu Legionis, et publicæ, exercitiæ causa, ab ea proposita ad disputandam, in auditorio inelytæ ac celeberrimæ Heidelbergensium Academiæ theologicæ, sub præsidio et auspiciis, concedente et auxiliante Deo, reverendi et clariss. viri (sic) S.S. Theologiæ Doctoris, et Professoris ordinarii, præceptoris sui observandi, ad diem . . . Septembris horis consuetis." f. 1—17.

It consists of 51 short sections or theses: it is neatly written, and hath some corrections. Three blank pages follow.

No. 753.

A small quarto MS. written on 38 leaves of vellum, in the end of the XIIIth or beginning of the XIVth century.

- S. JOHANNIS Apocalypsis; cum iconibus delineatis, et versione metrica Gallicæ.

Each page contains a portion of the Latin text, beneath a drawing intended to represent the subject of it: some of these drawings are painted, but most are only rude though curious designs, drawn with ink. It was perhaps a school-book. The French version is written with rubric, and is incomplete, as it accompanies only the first eleven texts, and the last of these (p. 21) is unfinished. The following passage is the version of the proemium.

[C]eo est la visium ke Jh'u crist
 A ces serfs mustrer fist
 Ke tot dust estre fet
 Par sun angle signifiæt
 A Johan ke de Jesu crist
 Porta testmoine de ceo kil vit
 Benoit soit ke le visium lit
 E out les maz de cest escrit
 E ken elz sunt regardera
 Kar le tens se aprocera.

The leaves of this MS. have been bound in great disorder: it consists of 6 quires, which should follow each other thus,—pp. 13—26, 39—48, 65—76, 27—38, 1—12, 49—64: this last page contains chap. xxii. ver. 1—5, the rest of the chapter being lost. The sixth leaf seems to have been lost.

Among Wood's printed books in this Library (No. 79, ii.) is a small book printed at Frankfort, 1539, 120, containing 26 excellent wood-cuts, thus intitled:—"Typi in Apocalypsi Joannis depicti ut clarius Vaticinia Joannis intelligi possint."

No. 754.

A MS., fairly written on vellum, in the XVth century, consisting of 128 leaves in quarto, beside one of parchment at the end.

- I. Consolatio Peccatorum, auctore JOHANNE DE THERANO archidiacono Aversano; seu Acta "in causa et quæstione vertentibus inter Belial procuratorem infernalis congregationis actorem ex una parte, et Moisen Jesu procuratorem ex alia parte*," coram Salomone Rege Jerusalem, amplissime discussis et adjudicatis. 1—111^b.

* Vide sententiam latam, f. 44.

Inc. [U]niversis Christi fidelibus atque orthodoxe sancte matris ecclesie fidei cultoribus, hoc breve compendium inspecturis: presbiter Jacobus de Therano archi's Aversanus et canonicus Apruntanus et in jure canonico discipulorum minimus. In fine sic—"Et ideo opusculum istud nominetur peccatorum consolacio. quia cum legeris dicatis Deo Multiplicasti misericordiam tuam et conversus consolatus es me ad vitam perennem Amen. Explicit liber qui dicitur Peccatorum Consolacio alias Belial nominatur." Prima hujus libri fuit editio an. 1482; vide Fabricii Bibl. med. et inf. Latinitatis (ed. 1754, 4^o), lib. ix. p. 3 et 18.

2. Fable of a controversy between the Horse, the Goose, and the Sheep: beg. Controversyes and pleyes and discordys. 112.

This poem consists of 93 eight-lined stanzas, the last 16 of which are "The Lenvoy." It ends thus—"For no prerogative his neibur schalle despyse. Explicit disputacio inter Equum Ancam et Orem, quod M. J. Coombe." (See the note on No. 845, iv. art. 2.) From this MS. was the transcript in No. 50, made by its former possessor, who gave it to Ashmole; and as it is really the same poem of Lydgate's which was printed by Caxton, the article in Ritson's Bibl. Poet. p. 53. must be expunged, which supposes that the name subscribed in this MS. was that of its author, though its occurrence at the end of the following poem could have proved the contrary. See also Ritson, p. 68. num. 9; and Tanner, p. 490, who refers to the Bodleian MS. Laud. K. 49 (now 598), which contains a less antient copy, of only 75 stanzas.

It appears from Martin's Bibliography of privately printed books (1834, 8vo. p. 480), that this poem was printed and presented to the Roxburghe Club, in 1822, by Sir M. M. Sykes.

3. GUALTERI MAPIS carmen de Thetide et Lyæo, seu disputatio inter aquam et vinum: inc. Dum tenerent omnia media tumultum. (42 tetrastichis rhythmicis.) 124—7.

In fine—"Terminans in gloria Dei patris. Amen. Explicit disputacio inter vinum et aquam: Quod M: J: Combe." The first word of this Goliardic poem is Cum, as given by Bale and Leyser (p. 785) from the Cottonian MS. Titus A. XX. 4, which is the only other MS. known.

4. Ejusdem MAPIS carmen contra conjugium, sen dissensio nubendi: inc. Soli Deo gloria laus benedictio, Johanni pariter, Petro, Laurencio. (47 tetrastichis rhythmicis.) 127^b—8^d.

In fine—"Respondi breviter vobis consentio. Explicit Rismus GALWINI." This is a fictitious name: the poem is also in the Cotton. MSS. Vesp. E. XII. and Titus A. XX. (Vide Leyserum, p. 785—6.) This article is written in columns, and with paler ink than the rest of the MS.

On f. 129^a is this note written by two hands of the XVth century,—"Liber M' Thome Martyne modo Joh'is Wyburn ex dono G. F." Also three Latin verses, and the same date as in this note, which is written vertically on the inner margin of the first page, in the chancery-hand,—"Johannes Stansby: Marcij xj. MDclxxvij."

No. 755.

A quarto MS., fairly written on paper, and ruled with red lines. It seems to have been prepared for the press, or to have been transcribed from a printed copy.

"An Answer to the Advertisement directed by the right royall Kinge of Great Britaine, James the first, to all the Princes and Potentates of Christendome. By F. N. COEFFETEAU, Doctour in Divinitie, of the order of the preaching fryars, and preacher ordinary to the Kinge. [Translated into English, from the French edition printed—]

"At Paris. By Franncis Iluby, dwelling in St James streete at the greene bellows, before the Stammeringe Colledge, in his shopp, at the pallace before the holic chappell. 1609. By priviledge of the Kinge."

Between the title-leaf and the book, are "An approbacion of the Doctours," and "An extract of the Kings priviledge" dated 18 Dec. 1609; also a short advertisement "To the reader." (ff. 2—3^b.)

The history of the controversy, of which this work forms a part, may be seen in Dr. Birch-es Appendix to W. Harris-es Life of James I., London, 1753, 8vo.

No. 756.

A small octavo MS., written in a very neat hand; containing 108 leaves, with fair margins.

"De Signatura Rerum, Liber Harmonicus Theosophicus et Philosophicus. In quo ex ipso æternitatis abyssu omnium rerum origines conformatio et complementum per 7 Formas omnium proprietatum productivas deducuntur, quomodo angeli, diaboli, mundus externus, et homo creati sunt, deque hominis lapsu et restitutione, metallorum generatione et perfectione, et ad opus universale expeditissima via sternitur, omniumque rerum naturalium in perfectam medicinam regeneratio per regenerationem gratiæ demonstratur, et lapis philosophiæ cum lapide angulari gratiæ Christo confertur, simulque nova et vera morbificarum causarum dignotio earumque curatio aperitur, et rerum internæ virtutes planetariæ per externas signaturas investigantur, et principia veræ Magiæ non obscure in quibusdam locis indigitantur etc.

"Scriptum profundissimum, non secularibus philosophastris, præter animale et astrale in cordis sui fastu nihil sapientibus, sed secretæ theosophicæ philosophiæ mystis in libertate spiritus, conscientiam obstantis et convincentis, non tam ad legendum quam diligenter ruminandam sincere propositum." ff. 3, 5—108^b.

Prefatio "Ad Dominum Evergeten meum" per TH. GR.* qui Latinum fecit hunc librum a se repertum. f. 4^{ab}.

Ejusdem "Interfatio" librum commendans: data 6 cal. Aug. 1631. f. 1—2^b.

* THEODORICUS GRAVIUS, whose literary remains are preserved at No. 1399. It is the book thus mentioned by Napier (whom he served in a medical and literary capacity) as lent unto Mr. Bates 27 Feb. 1632:—"And my written book translated by Mr. GRAVIUS out of CONRADUS, out of Dutch into Latteen." No. 212, p. 517.

The two first leaves ought to have been inserted after the fourth. The pages of the original book are noted in the margin: the last is 263.

No. 757.

A thick MS. in quarto, written on vellum, in a bold hand, in columns, about the year 1300: it consists of 416 leaves, numbered with antient figures by the writer; of which f. 128 is lost, and ff. 129—151 are placed at the end. There is no number 255, and 191 is repeated. One leaf or more has been lost after f. 416. Twelve leaves of vellum were prefixed to the volume, of which the sixth is lost, and the seventh and eighth contain the index.

No. 758.

A neat octavo MS. written in the XVth century, with fair margins. It consists of 132 leaves of intermingled vellum and paper, numbered by the antient hand; beside four leaves of vellum at the beginning, pp. 5—7 of which contain the index, superscribed with this autograph—"Liber Georgij Owen" of the time of Henry VIII.

Summa Scientie Moralís, in 47 capitula seu quaestiones distributa (quorum praemittitur elenchus): inc. Cum in tota ista prima parte moralis scientie tractetur de virtutibus et earum actibus et etiam de fine humano ad quem dicte virtutes disponunt. ff. 1—131.

The first question in the index is—"An de virtutibus possibile sit haberi scientia. fo. 1^o." The last—"An omnes homines appetant bene vivere. f. 130^o." Between the seventeenth and eighteenth chapters it seems that some of the text is wanting, ff. 62—8^b being left blank. The last words are—vellent vivere sine penis.

The following additional piece is written smaller.

Alia quaestio; Utrum ad felicitatem sub ratione finis ultimi appetitus rationalis debeat habitualiter dirigi. etc. 131^b—2.

No. 759.

A small quarto volume, containing 151 leaves of vellum (except ff. 87—102, which are of paper), beside 2 leaves at the beginning not numbered, the third page of which contains the first article. It was written about the end of the XVth century.

1. Proemium (ut videtur) ad sequens opus: inc. Et sciendum est quod qui interiora alicujus rei scire cupit. p. 3.
2. Opus alchemicum in quatuor libros divisum. "Qui dicitur Donum Dei hic incipit liber primus. (De lapide animali contra vegetalem et mineralem*.) Omne datum optimum et omne donum perfectum desursum est." f. 1—33^b.

* This title of the first book is written in the margin by the same hand: there are many marginal notes by other hands. The last words are—mundanorum victoriana. Deo gratias et gloriose virgini Marie matri sue. Amen. The following page is vacant.

3. Four alchemical precepts or wordes: beg. In 4 verbis totum consistit. The fyrst is. 34^b.
4. Of saturn and mercury (beg. Av[i]cenne scith that there be grete secretes in the philosophres saturne), with Latin and English verses. 35^{ab}.

The verses are the same as those at the end of art. 9 and beginning of art. 10. The next page is vacant.

5. A treatise of searching for the Philosophers' stone, in two parts: beg. Truth that everlasteth whiche is God is sonne incarnat. 37—54^b.

F. 47^b. "Explet pars prima indagacionis lapidis philosophorum et hic sequitur secunda pars erudicionis ejusdem. The last paragraph begins thus—Master Rauf of the torene of Ramsey seiyth; and ends thus—Igitur soli Deo honor laudes et gloria Amen. See art. 12.

6. Alchemical verses: beg. Thus cold and moiste hotte and drie, byn put togeder for so did I. (17 couplets.) 55.

They do not appear to have been printed by Ashmole, as artt. 14, 18—20 have been; nor art. 13.

 These three persons seem to have belonged to the College of Salisbury, founded by Bishop Walter de la Wyle (1263—71), and called Collegium de Valle Scholarium. Not one of them is noticed in Tanner's Bibliotheca.

6. Coque M. solum in vase vitreo cooperto. etc. 55^{ab}.
8. Description and use of the furnace, partly in Latin and partly in English: beg. Furnus philosophicus sic fit. 55^b—6^b.
The following leaf is vacant.
9. Tractatus alchemicus, inc. *Omne datum [etc.] Audeant igitur secreti que loquor. 58—68^b.
* It begins as art. 2, and ends with Latin and English verses, etc.
10. Sentences of sundry Masters of the hermetic art, partly in Latin and English verse: beg. Est una res vilis licet ubique reperta. 69—78^b.
11. "Hic incipit liber qui dicitur Prosa Perhennis. Fratres scientiam istam investigantes." 79—86^b.
In the margin is written by a contemporary hand—"Hic liber verissimus est omnium librorum. Nota hunc librum pre omnibus libris et roga spiritum paraclitum ut tuum intellectum ad illud intelligendum apperire velit." It ends thus—et plumbum philosophorum rubrum. Deo gratias."
12. A rhapsodical tract of alchemy, beg. Spiritus Domini ubi vult spirat. Ad Dei laudem sint mca dicta. Fyrst olde philosophres engyned to do by art above the ground. 87—95^b.
"Master Rauf of the towne of Ramsey" is cited again at f. 93, as at f. 54^b and 77^b. The last page of this article is in Latin. Ff. 96—102 are vacant.
13. An alchemical poem of the red and white stone: beg. As the philosopher in methours doith write. (22 st. of 8.) 103—5^b.
The last line is—By the grace of God to whome be laude and joy eternally. There was more writing on this page, but it has been erased: the next page is blank. See art. 6.
14. The Mystery of Alchymists, by GEORGE RIPLEY; beg. When sol is in aries and phebus shynythe brighte. (112 st. of 4.) 106^b—113^b.
The last line in this copy is—"Ecresyng of your medecyn elles have ye noughte. Explicit." Compare p. 380—8 of Ashmole's Theatrum Chemicum Britannicum (1652, 4to. No. 971—2), whence the title is taken.
15. Allegoriæ duæ alchemicæ, seu cnigmata: inc. Erat quidam Rex qui alios voluit superare potentes. 114—6.
In fine—Et sic patet intuenti diligenter totum magisterium subtiliter exaratum Deo igitur gratias reddamus infinitas. Amen.
16. De operatione et inventione lapidis: inc. Hermes in epistola sua dicit. 117—122^b.
17. Take erthe of erthe erthis broder and in grene herwe clerly distilled. etc. 124^{ab}.
It seems to be the same in prose as art. 19, which is in verse.
18. RICHARD CARPENTER'S work; beg. Of Spayne take thou thy clere lighte. (48 couplets.) 125.
After the last line ("Or elles litelle shall thou wygne. Amen.") were added 12 lines, the last 6 of which are erased. The title of this piece is taken from Ashmole's Theatrum, wherein it is printed at p. 275—7.
19. PEARCE the Black Monk upon the elixir; beg. Take erthe of erthe erthis broder Water and erthe it is non oother. (36 couplets.) 127—8.
The last line is—"Which medecyne wold make the mery. Amen." The copy printed in Ashmole's Theatrum, p. 269—74, is much longer: see also No. 1485, iii. art. 5, 6.
20. "Here folowithe the exposition of erthe of erthe etc. [128^b.] Nowe of this matter to you most clere." (34 couplets.) 128—9^b.
Ending thus—"To sawles helthe us to mevc. Amen." Printed in Ashmole's Theatrum, p. 428—30.
21. "Hic incipiunt dicta Philosophorum plurimorum. Wherof Hermes was the first and seide that a body solvoid in to water ever lastyng congilithe merc' in to perpetuelle congelacōn." 130—134.
22. "Secreta philosophie. Our philosophers stone hath no proper name but it is called by dyvers names." 134—5.
The following page is blank.
23. "Here begynnythe the tretise of HERMES calyd Art^{el} and Senyor of Secretis that I report in this wrytyng to be preferrid above all other as of the tretise of Magnesie or of the Huntynge of the Lyone or of the Stone of thegele which is for meke and wise men" etc. 136—146^b.
Ending thus—and preisyng be to our dere lorde God J^{hu} Crist nowe and ever amen.
24. Various chemical receipts and directions, in Latin and English: beginning thus—"De tartaro. Tartar' est res nobilis." 146^b—151.
On the last page is written in a band of the XVIth century—"No. 9. one of the ix bokes or voll[u]ms of Mr. Cortshops." (151^b.) This person was probably the writer of the marginal notes: it is believed by descendants of this family, that he was James Courthope, Canon of Christchurch from 1546 to 1557.

No. 760.

A quarto book containing 129 leaves, fairly written, but too much underscored.

An anonymous treatise of the Philosophers' Stone, in three books, called The Way to Bliss.

This is a transcript by the hand of ELIAS ASHMOLÉ, esq. who published it in 1658. 4o. pp. 220. See No. 537.

No. 761.

A neat quarto MS. of 183 pages, closely written by Ashmole in the early part of his life.

An anonymous treatise on the being and nature of God, in the form of objections and solutions.

It begins thus—"§. 1. This world say some is a schoolmaister to the world future, giving us a slight participation here, of what we shall fully enjoy there."

No. 762.

A quarto volume containing four MSS. of the XVIIth century, on paper.

I. "The Desc[r]iption of the cite of Exeter, and of the sundrie assaults given to the same; collected and gathered by JOHN HOOKER." f. 1—76^b.

At f. 71^b begins "The antiquitie foundation and building of the cathedrall church of saint Peters in Excester." This work is noticed by Nicolson and Tanner; and both the printed edition (Exeter, 1765, 4^o.) and two MSS. of it, in the Catalogue of the Arundel MSS. by W. H. B. p. 68. See also Wood's Ath. Oxon. quarto edition, I. 714.

II. CORPUS STATUTORUM ACADEMIÆ CANTABRIGIENSIS.

1. "An Acte of Parleme[n]te for incorporating of y^e towe Universities and confirming ther priviledges." f. 1—4^b.

This is a copy of a Patent dated 7 June, 13 Eliz. exemplifying a writ and the act passed on the 2d of April foregoing.

2. R. Elizabethæ literæ patentis quibus confirmantur statuta academiæ Cantabrigiensis sequentia. (25 Sept. an. 12, A. D. 1570.) 5^{ab}.
3. "Leges sive Statuta, Cant. Academiæ." 5^b—26^b.
4. Henrici VIII. literæ patentis, seu "Charta pro stationariis et librorum impressoribus" academiæ Cantabr. haberi permissis. (20 Jul. an. 26.) 27^{ab}.
5. "Charta confirmationis Ed: 6." qua recitantur privilegia seu chartæ ab Henrico III. et aliis regibus antea academiæ Cantabr. concessa. (17 Jan. an. 1.) 28—48.

The pages 32^b and 40^b were left blank, yet nothing is omitted.

6. "Charta Elizabethæ Reg." immunitates quasdam academiæ Cantabr. confirmans. (26 Apr. an. 3.) 48^b—55.
7. "Interpretatio statuti de gratijs concedendis" 26 Mar. 1575 sub manu D. Guil. Burghleii cancellarii et aliorum data. 55^b—6.
8. Alia "Interpretatio statuti de gratijs concedendis, ultimo Jan: 1577" data, sub manu Richardi Howland procancel. et aliorum. 56^b—7.
9. "Interpretatio statuti c. 8. de disput. theologicis" 13 Junii 1582 data. 57.
10. "Statuta" quædam supplementaria, usque ad an. 1578. f. 57^b—8^b.

The last page ends with the preamble of the ninth of these statutes. Four blank leaves follow.

III. A short treatise of the jurisdiction "Of the Courte of the Admiralty of England:" collected out of records, etc. (pp. 25.)

Neatly written by Ashmole: three blank leaves follow.

IV. Juramenta municipalia oppidi Colcestriæ: scilicet—

- "Juramentum Alderman' Auditor." f. 1a.
 ——— Ballivorum. 2a.
 ——— Camerar. 3a.
 ——— Consilij. 4a.
 ——— Clerici ville. 5a.
 "Oath of th' Electors." 6a.

This MS. begins at f. 169 of the foliation of the whole volume, and its three last leaves are blank.

No. 763.

A quarto volume containing three MSS. on paper, and a small collection of curious papers. The first MS. is written in a hand that appears much older than it really is: on the first page is scrawled "James Hastings oweth this booke," also the following title, which was not written by the same hand as the MS.

- *1. "DEVONSHIER Visitation, taken by [THOMAS]

BENOLT [Clarencieux King of Arms]; the 22 of King Henry the 8th an^o 1531." f. 1—87^a.

The pedigrees taken in this very early visitation, are set down in detail, and most of the arms are tricked: in the notices of Monasteries, the arms of the Founder and of the Abbot or Prior are set down. The foliation belongs to opposite pages, and f. 2 begins on the fourth page; the references in the Index are made accordingly: from f. 87^{bc} (which leaf is blank) the numbering is continued throughout the volume.

2. Titles of Peers created "At Hampton Court a^o 1603, the xxj of July," and "the xijth of Maye 1603:" also "Erls created at the Tower the 14 Marehe a^o 1603," and some Peers in the following year. 88—9.
 3. Challenge of "4 Knightes errant denominated of the Fortunate Iland," directed "To al honorable men at armes and Knyghtes advenferous" etc. 91^{ba}.
- This article is written invertedly.
4. An unfinished Alphabet of Arms, containing the blazon of about a thousand coats, under the letters A and B: beginning thus—"Ablyn ar crosse sa 5 Egles displayd ar." 92—105.
 5. The following Index to the Pedigrees recorded in the Visitation of Devonshire. 106^{ab}.

II. 1. "The names and creacōns of all the Nobilitie from the tyme of William the Conqueror con-tynewing to the yeare of grace 1592." 113—139.

After f. 118 this neat MS. is written on alternate pages.

2. Matches of some antient Princes of the blood royal. 142^a, 143^a.

3. "Knights of the honourable order of the Garter" under Q. Elizabeth, and the names of those chosen in Q. Mary's time. 144^a—5^a, 146^a.

The rest of this MS. was written (less neatly) by different hands or at different times: the first article is superscribed "The copie of a boke wrytten by Sir G. D." (and some other words blotted out), most probably Sir Gilbert Dethick, Garter King of arms.

4. Proclamation (in Latin, French, and English) of the style of Queen Elizabeth. 147^b.

5. "The Ordinance, statutes and rules made by JOHN LORD TYPTOFT Erle of Worcester, Countstable of England, by the Kinges commaundment, at Windsour the 29 of May a^o sexto Edwardi quarti, to be observed and kepte in all manner [of] Justes of Peeres* royall wth in this realme of England:

"Reserving alwayes to the Qu[ee]ne and to the Ladyes present the atrebucone and gift of the price† after the manner and forme accustomed to be attrybuted for ther demerrettes according to the articles insuinge." 148—9.

MS. copies of these ordinances are not uncommon, and much differing from each other. See art. 13 in the following MS. They are printed in Harrington's Nugæ Antiquæ by Park; and in Dr. Meyrick's Critical Essay on antient Armor, II. 179—186, (with valuable notes,) from the MS. M. 6, in the Heralds' College. See also Tanner, p. 716.

* So, for pees, i. e. peace.

† i. e. prize.

6. Rules for combatants "At tornay." 149^b.

7. "The syse of banners, standarts, pennons, gydons, pencels, and streamers." 150—1.

Compare the two articles printed by Sir Harris Nicolas from the Harleian MS. 2358 and Lansdowne MS. 255, in the Retrospective Review (Oct. 1827), N. S. vol. I. p. 113—4, 115.

8. The manner of displaying the chief Banner: beg. A King or a Duke or other great lord when he commeth fyrst in to the felde. 151^b.

9. "The making of a Knight Bannerett in the felde. The knight that shall be made knight bannerett." 151^b.

10. "The discomodites that maye happen to anye Armye for lacke of ineignes, as baners, standartes, pennons, and gyddonnes, w^{ch} of nessesite must be had in battaill." 152.

11. "De Gubernatore ac principali Capitaneo ex-ercitus:" seu, octo articuli potestatis tali commissæ. 152^b.

12. "The placing of all estates of men" and the "placing of women of great estate." 153^a.

13. "Memorandum that all mannor of estates shall were their apparell" or robes, trimmed in the following degrees. 154^a.

14. "The proceeding to the funerall of a great estate." 155.

15. "The Nobillite placed according to their degrees and after their auncienyte of their creation, 1589." 157.

16. "The office of a Kinge of Armes. Fyrst as nyghe as he canne he shall take knowledge and kepe recorde of creastes cognissances and auntient used wordes." etc. 158^{ab}.

17. Preparations to be made "For the funerall of an Erle." 159^{ab}.

18. "The proceeding to the funerall of a Erle." 160^{ab}.

19. "Lyveryes of noble women at thenterment of any great estate." 160^b—1.

20. "The proceeding of a Knightes etc. funerall in London. Imprimis the children of the Hospitall." 161.

See also f. 180.

21. "The Painters bill of pryces" for heraldic funeralia. 162^{ab}.

22. "Fees dewe to the Offycers of Armes geving their attendaunce at funeralls." 162^b.

*23. "Offycers" and other tokens of dignity competent to noble persons, according to their rank. 163^{ab}.

*24. "Allowances for sarvantes and blackes at the funerall of Mary Qu[ee]ne of Scottes, at Peterbowrrough, on Tuseday the first of August 1587." 164^a.

The rest of this book is blank.

III. 1. A note of "The Acheiment of our sovrainge K. Charles as he now rayneth with armes of sevrall K: y^t have antiently rayned in is one dominious." 175.

2. "The number of morners att funeralls according to the degree and estate of desents." 175^b.

3. "The order and maner of aparell for great estates of women," made by MARGARET Countess of RICHMOND, 8 Henr. VII. 176.

See Dugdale's MS. 11, f. 120; and the Catalogue of Arundel MSS. p. 61—2.

4. "The manner of wearing barbes" (about the chin) among ladies of rank. 176^b.

5. Short ceremonial of "The funeralle of Kinge H. the 7th." 176^b.

6. "The proceedings of the funerall of a great estate." 177.

7. "The funerall of a Marquesse." 178.

8. "To be prepared by a Painter for the funerall of an Earle:" also other preparations, and the order of proceeding. 178^b—9.

9. "The funerall of a Barron." 179^b.
 10. "The funerall of a Knight;" also of a "Knight of London." 180^{ab}.
 11. "The funerall of an Esquire." 180^b.
 12. "The assises of banners." 181^b.

Shorter than the article at f. 150.

13. "The ordinances, statutes, and rules made by JOHN LO: TIPTOFT Earle of Worcester" etc. 181.

The title is the same as that copied above from f. 148, but the four paragraphs that follow it are different.

- *14. "At a Chapter houlden at the frise of Greenwich the 23 of May 15. H. 8. it was ordained that the ordinances insuinge should be observed by the King at Armes, wherunto the then officers at armes did set the[ir] signets manuell." 181^b—182^b.
 15. "A Cathaloge shewing what Kings of Armes were in former ages and now out of use in this realme, as also describing in manner of a descent, how the Kings, Harolds, and Purcivants of armes have from aniant time succeeded one another [etc.]; collected by THOMAS LANT, Portcullis Purcivant at armes, for a perpetuall memory therof." 182^b—4^b.

This copy is imperfect, reaching to Henry VI.; the three last leaves are vacant. See No. 846, iv.

IV. A collection of curious Heraldic papers and drawings. f. 188—228.

- *1. A short itinerary of the embassy to the Spanish Court, by the Bishops of Westminster and London; * written by one of their suite. 188^{ab}.

* Thirleby and Bonner, from 1540 to 1550. This is an original paper, written at two or three times.

2. Note of a charter (among Carte Antique QQ.) about a wood in Leyton in Rutland, granted by Henry II. to Simon de Seintlez and Anna his wife (8 Sept. anno 19); also about Norroy Flower's creation 8 Feb. 1561, and the birth and schoolmaster of Henry VII. 189^a.

Extracted by Ashmole "Ex collect: Fr. Thynn penes—Peirepoint ar."

- *3. The charges on "The Armes of England" described, also those in "The Armes of other Kingdomes" (France, Denmark, Scotland, Flanders, and Spain, and the Emperor); with a curious collection of "Cognisances of Armes" used by distinguished persons and families. 191—3^b.

Written in the time of Q. Elizabeth. The greater part of this paper would form a valuable supplement unto the unfinished article on 'Badges Crests and Supporters,' in the Retrospective Review, N. S., I. 302—10, II. 156—160.

- *4. Names of the 23 "Knyghtes of the Bathe at the creation of Henry Duke of Yorke 10 H. 7." and of the "Knyghtes of the Bathe 15. of King Ed. 4th. beinge 26 in number." 194^a.

Seemingly in the hand of Ralph Brooke, and (from its indorsement) written in 1605.

- *5, 6. Two summonses to attend the meeting of the Society of Antiquaries, at Garter's house on all-souls' day in [1599] and 1598; one addressed "To Mr. Stowe," the other "To Mr. Bowyer." 195^a, 196^a.

On the back of the former of these original papers (195^b), Stowe hath written two historical notices relating to the subject for discussion,—“of the antiquitie etimologie and priveledges of Parishes in England.”

- *7. "Anno D'ne Eliz. xli^o. [1599.] The names of all those wch were somoned at this tyme," to the Society of Antiquaries, (Garter and sixteen others, beside three 'not somoned') "per me CH. LAILAND." 197^a.

Quarterly, between a cross gules; 1 and 4, a lion argent crowned or, on a field Barry wavy of 4 or and azure; 2 and 3, a bear with ragged staff argent, collared and chained or, on a field as before. 198^a.

9. A shield of arms, thus painted—

Or, a lion rampant azure (charged with 4 leaves argent on his shoulder), within a bordure sable bezanty. 199^a.

10. Atchievement of "William Holcroft. A^o. 1599. Den 8^{en} Augusti:" thus painted—

Quarterly (with a crescent in the centre), 1 and 4, argent a cross sable engrailed, with a bordure of the same, etc. With crest and motto. 200^a.

11. Four coats of arms tricked by GLOVER: one with a distich (beg. Redde aquilam imperio), and one belonging to—"Willm's Whittingham de com. Ebor. of the manor of Balks otherwise called East and West Balks." (Invertedly.) 201^a.

Two shields well painted; thus—

Argent, an eagle displayed gules; in chief, azure, 3 stars of 6 points or. 201^b.

Azure, a lion rampant argent, surrounded by 10 stars of 6 points or. 202^a.

Seven coats of arms tricked by Glover, all bearing scallops. 202^b.

12. Argent, a fess chequy or and azure, between 3 and 3 cross crosslets sable. 203^a.

Well painted, by Glover? The crest is a boar's head ermine.

13. Letter from "youer uncle Sir JOHN ALDYNE" communicating a sketch of arms (gules between a chevron ermine, 3 griffins argent; with a crescent in chief)—

"To hys welbelovéd cosin Alyce wyfe unto master Welhys of Feversame thez be delyverd." 204^a.

A small page written in the XVIIth century, thus directed on the back.

14. Two shields containing different arms impaled with this coat—

Azure, between a cross ermine and or, charged with 4 lozenges gules and in the centre a fret of the same, as many falcons proper. 205^a, 206^a.—Well painted on 2 small leaves.

15. Arms of "The right reverend father in God John Best bachelor of dyvynytee, Buschope of Carlylle" (1561—70): painted. 207^a.

16. The arms of "Edmundus Slamberg* in theologia bachelarius et Episcopus Petroburgensis;" painted. 208^a.

* Edmund Scambler, 1561—84.

17. Arms of "Smyth, de Cressing of Essex," painted quarterly with those of "Lanam." 209^a.

On the back is a fragment of a list of Knights of the Garter, seemingly written and ticked by Garter Dethick; inverted. 209^b.

18. Two coats of arms, thus painted—

Quarterly; 1 and 4, gules, 2 lions passant rampant or, in chief a rose argent gules and or; 2 and 3, party per bend, or and azure. 210^a.

Quarterly, 1 and 4, azure between 2 lions rampant or, a rose (as before) and a fleur de lis or; 2 and 3 as before. 211^a.

19. Style of "Charles de Laubespines Marquis de Chasteauneuf" etc. 1630; and the arms and crest of "Robert Shierbrooke of Opton in com. Nott." 212^a.

By Ashmole, with some of his pencil notes on the back.

20. Arms of "Duffeld or Vaudecourt," and of Richard Duffeld s. and h. of Ellen d. and h. of William Gray of Skelton; also of "Roger Salven modo Doffeld." 213^a.

Hastily tricked in the time of James I.: on the other side are very neatly tricked—

Two shields of the arms of Duffeld (sable, between three birds argent, a chevron of the second) quarterly with other arms. 213^b, 214^a.

21. Three coats of arms of the name of Huntingdon; the first belonging to John H. (argent, 3 lions rampant proper), and the second being 'of Kent.' 215^a—6^a—7^a.

22. "Arms and quarterings used at the buriall of Bishop Kings 2^d son." 218.

Hastily tricked by Ashmole, and thus indorsed.

23. Painting of arms—Lozengy, argent and gules, quartered with two other coats; and bearing an escutcheon of pretense chequy or and azure a fess gules, with 7 other quarterings. 219^a.

On the back are other arms rndely tricked.

24. Arms* and crest of "Grandorge" painted. 220^a.

* Azure 3 ears of barley or. On the back are blazoned the of Strete and Rokley, by an old hand.

25. Two drawings of the arms quarterings etc. of a French Peer (gules, 3 bars argent; etc.) the first colored; and the arms and quarterings of his Lady. 221^a, 223^a; 222^a.

V. 1. "Articles de ce que doit observer et remplir le Chevalier de la Milice et Ordre du St Esprit. Tout chevalier est exhorte et admoneste." 225—6^b.

2. Les noms des vingt "Chevaliers de l'Ordre du St Esprit." 227^a.

Written in an old French hand. The 3 next pages are vacant.

VI. "The true mannor and forme of the proceeding to the Funerall of the right honourable Robert Earle of Essex and Ewe" etc. 229.

A printed pamphlet "Published by authority" at London in 1646 (4^o. pp. 24.), containing woodcuts of the banners, carr, and hearse. Another copy is in No. 1639, x.

No. 764.

A handsome MS. in quarto, containing 137 leaves of vellum, written in the latter part of the XVth century, and embellished with pictures and numerous illuminated capitals, and rubrics. There are also four leaves at the beginning, not numbered, on the second page whereof is a note of "The ordre and goeing of all Estates" (different from No. 763, f. 153, and more modern, the last being a "Baronett"), and on the last page is a frontispiece to the MS., being a fine picture of a King of Arms wearing his tabard and crown. Over it are written these autographs—"Jo: Starkey 1610" and "Ra: Starkey 1611:" by one of which persons the short list of contents was probably written, on a paper fixed at the beginning of the volume.

*1. "The first foundacion of the office of armys and wherof it by gan translate owte of Latyne into Englis. ÆNEAS by goddys grace Bisshop of Senen' to Johne Enderbrothe the Kynges Secretary and best beloved brothir mony salutation sendethe question to make." f. 1—8.

Ending thus—"Fro Colony Agryppine. Finis et ut dignis pandenda ne gaude malignis." This is a translation of the 126th of the epistles of Æneas Sylvius, otherwise Pope Pius II.; whereof another MS. on vellum is in the Heralds' College, Arundel. No. 63, described at p. 37 of the Catalogue by W. H. B.; and an old transcript is in No. 846, xviii. art. 10.

2. Quantitatum antiquæ pecuniæ brevis explicatio: inc. Talentum triplex est. 8^{ab}.

3. A tract on Heraldry, ascribing its origin to Alexander the great and Julius Cæsar, and instructing a young pursuivant in the first principles thereof: beg. Le tresnoble et trespuissant Roy Alixandre pour exaulcer le nom et la vailance de ses chiefs. 9—16.

Ending thus—comme les armes de Harpendeune. The escutcheons intended to illustrate the text are only sketched, and not painted.

4. "Extrait dun livre que on appelle le Songe du Vergier en tant quil touche des armes. Quant aucun porte les armes daultry ou le signe sans luy faire prejudice." 17—21.

Ending thus—selon lentendement du texte daristote in libro de sensu et sensato.

5. "Extrait dun livre que on appelle Larbre des Batailles en tant que touche des armes. Voire nous fuult des armes banieres et panons que les gens darmes et aultres gentilz hommes ont acoustume de porter et prendre es draps parements salles et asparaiz et la ou il vient a plaisir." 21^b—8.

Ending thus—"Et ainssy pour ceste raison en sont vestuz les Religieux qui nont cure de ruine glorie. Explicit l'extrait de l'arbre des batailles en tant que touche des Armes." To this work the learner is referred in art. 3 at f. 11.

The next 4 pages are blank, and are followed by a frontispiece to the sixth article, representing a Tournament wherein three couples of combatants in armor on horseback are fighting with swords within lists. On this and the other illumination (at f. 43^b) Dr. Meyrick has pencilled the following note on one of the fly-leaves:—"The armour in the illuminations of this MS. is of the time of Henry 6th. Sam. R. M."

*6. "Cy sensuyt la facon des criz de Tournois et des Joustes. Cy peut on a prendre a crier et a publier pour ceulx qui en seront dignes." 31—43.

The last words of this curious article are—cest ulire de la Joste. On the reverse of the last leaf is a picture of the Joste, wherein two combatants on horseback, bearing their crests on their helmets, are represented fighting with lances within lists. It is placed as a frontispiece to the next article, though belonging to this.

7. "De la droite ordonnance du Gaige de Bataille par tout le royaume de France. PHÉLIPÉ par la grace de Dieu Roy de France a touz ceulx qui ces presentes lettres verront salut." 44—54^b.

This letter of King Philip IV. (dated at Paris the Wednesday after Trinity, 1306) limiting the practice of wager of battle, is prefixed to Regulations for the whole course of combat. The last words are—pour les autres guiges qui ensuire se pourroient.

8. "Extrait de ung livre des arguemens du Clerc et du Chevalier le quel on appelle le Songe du Vergier en tant que touche le fait de champ de bataille. Et premier parle le clerc. Pource que nous avons parle de cruauté." 55—62.

Ending thus—car ilz ne sceivent communement aucun le touraige faire. Explicit le trait du songe du vergier.

9. "Cy commence ung extrait dun livre que on appelle Harbre des Batailles en tant que touche champ de bataille. Or regardons aux termes. Quant ung homme appelle ung autre par gaige de bataille." 62—80^b.

The last words are—auquel plaise quil soit ainssy. The next leaf is blank.

10. "Cy ensuit la determynacion des debattez entre les Roys darmes et Sergeans darmes. Nous Thomas de Lancastre, fitz et frere aux tresnobles Roys Dangleterre et de France, Duc de Clarence." 82—4.

—Done au sege royalle de monseigneur le Roy devant la vile de Caen en su duche de Normandy le tiers jour de Septembre. (1417.) This document was printed by Anstis in his Register of the Order of the Garter, I, 322, where its authenticity is discussed. This MS. and the copy in the Arundel MS. 63, art. 6, seem to be older than the copies known to Anstis. A translation is in No. 857, art. 4.

*11. "Ce sont les droiz et largescs appartenans et danciennete accoustumez aux Roys darmes selon lusance du royaume Dangleterre. Et premierement quant le Roy est couronne." 84^b—7.

Ending thus—tant pour la fortificacion comme autrement.

12. Letters of the High Constable, declaring certain fees as due to Garter King of arms: beg. Nous Thomas de Lancastre etc. 87^b—8.

This document is of the same date as art. 10. On the next page are written (by the same hand as art. 20, but with paler ink) an additional list of fees due to the officers of arms, beg. Item de chascun due. (88^b.) The next leaf is blank.

13. "Cy apres ensuit lordonnance et maniere de creer et faire nouveaulx Chevaliers du Baing ou temps de paix selon la coustume de Angleterre. Quant ung escuier vient en la court pour recevoir lordre de chevalerie." 90—7.

Ending thus—Nous vous demandons robes et fiefz a terme de vie comme escuiers du Roy compaignons aux bacheliers [et] aux autres seigneurs. Explicit." On the scroll round the shaft of the p in this last flourished word, is written, pie vous en gre Je nez en pre. This curious tract was printed by Sir Edw. Bysshe in his notes to Upton de Re Militari, p. 21—4; from what MS. it does not appear; but the last words of this MS. and of copy, mutually correct each other. The MS. which supplied the illuminations copied in the same work, representing the whole order of creating Knights of the Bath, belonged to Sir W. Le Neve.

14. "Ce sont les droiz appartenans aux Roys darmes et Heraulx en leur absence en fait de Joustes a plaisance. Nous Julius Cesar Roy des Romains et autres Roys princes et princesses contes barons chevaliers escuiers dames et damoiselles." 97^b—8.

This fictitious precedent for Heralds' fees thus endeth—et leur donner en outre six aulnes descarlute. Three blank pages follow.

15. "Comment on fait Lempereur. L'Empereur se cree en deux manieres cest ussavoir lune par election. lautre par force de gens darmes." 100—2.

This form of electing and crowning the Emperor, ends—et sen sont retournez honteusement.

16. "Extrait de Harbre de Batailles en tant que parle de lempereur. Lempereur doit venir a la dignite imperial par deve election." 102^b—3^b.

17. "Comment se doit faire Roy de nouvel royaume;" (Le prince qui veut estre Roy doit avoir iij Duchez tenans lune a lautre etc.)—"Comment on doit faire Duc nouvel;"—(aussi) Conte—Marquis—Visconte—Baron—Baneret—Cappitaine—Chevalier. 104—7^b.

18. "Des chiefs de guerre qui peuvent porter banieres par leurs offices;" (Les chiefs de guerre comme le Connestable etc.)—"Qui va devant le lieutenant general ou le connestable;"—"De lordonnance du Roy et des autres seigneurs quant ilz sont en armes et bataille;"—"Comment le Roy doit estre sil veut combatre;" aussi Duc, Conte, et autres nobles. 107^b—111.

19. "Or parlerons des batailles Et premierement de force la quelle est ung des principaux fondemens de bataille. Uun des principaux fondemens." 111—120^b.

The articles 15—19 ought perhaps to be considered but one article, but they have no general title. The last rubric is, "Comment les chiefs doivent ordonner leurs gens" (f. 120); and the last words are—que tu aies plus de gens. F. 121, 121^a and 122, are blank.

20. The Statutes of the Order of the Carter, in French, as set forth by HENRY V. beginning thus—A lonneur de Dieu. sainte Marie la glorieuse vierge et saint George. 123—136^b.

The 40th article of these Statutes ends as the 36th in Ashmole's fourth appendix to his Institution of the Order; and the 41st ends thus—pour necessite ou cause quelconque que se soit. The first letter in this copy is beautifully illuminated, and contains a scutcheon of the royal arms of England and France quarterly; it is written in a rounder hand than the rest of the MS. and seems to belong to the time of Henry VII.

The last leaf is vacant, except a Latin couplet, written probably by the hand of "Thomas Knight," whose name is written on the margin of f. 65.

No. 765.

A small quarto MS., neatly written and painted, within ruled margins; containing 121 leaves, beside that on which is written the following title:—

“The Vale Royall of England, or, Countie Pallatine of Chester. Containing a geographicall description of the said countrey or shyre, with other things therunto apartayning. Collected and written by W^m. SMITH, 1585. Wm Smith Rouge-dragon 1597.”

Another title-page follows, thus inscribed—“A description of the countie pallatine of Chester,” over a shield, azure, three sheaves or; surmounted by a coronet, over which a spear and sword are crossed. On the former title-page are, the venerable autograph of “Ro: Cotton Bruceus,” and this note, “Thomas Cotton Baronettus mihi dedit ex librario patris,” written by “Roger Norton;” to whom probably it had been given for publication. It was afterward, however, published, with additions, by Daniel King (at London in 1656, folio), from this very MS., which is fouled by the printer’s hands, and bears the marks where each printed page began. Opposite to the title is this note—“I bought this book (among others) of Mr: Morgan arms painter. E. Ashmole.”

The arms of the Cheshire gentry (ingraved in the printed book) fill ff. 85—117^b. On f. 119^b is a note of the times when were S. Werburg’s, Norton, Cumbermere, and Stanlow “Abbaies founded.” The next page (120^a) contains a coat of arms thus subscribed by Dugdale—“Insignia Willielmi Smith hujus operis auctoris;” and on 121^a is a curious square table formed of the letters in the words William Smith made it.

No. 766.

A quarto volume, containing seven MSS., written on paper. At the foot of the first page, below the following title, is written—“Georgius Cundallus hoc a dono auctoris habet.”

- I. “The contentes of this booke.
- “Fyrste an epistle dedicatorye of the booke of Armorye of Claudius Paradyne. [f. 2—5.]
- “A dyseourse uppon y^e creste of the Lorde Burghley. [5^b—14.]
- “Another discourse uppon the Philosophers Armes.” By FRANCIS THYNNE. 15—88.

On the back of the title are painted the armorial bearings of Sir William Cecil, Lord Burghley. The first article is dated from “Barmondsey streathe the 2 of Auguste 1573:” the second consists of 70 six-lined stanzas, and has the crest painted at the beginning; the third is faced by the “Philosophorum insignia” (painted on f. 14^b) and a Latin epigram, and is written in alexandrine couplets. Each is subscribed with the curious autograph of FRANCIS THYNN. Two pages follow (88^b—9) containing “The table of the auctors recyted in this discourse after the order of the alphabet;” and three other pages which are blank.

In Wood’s Athenæ Oxon. (quarto edition, II. 109), this book is rightly noticed as contained in No. 1374.

- II. “Truths goulden Harrow, framed and fashioned by a loyall and foythfull servant of Virgin Alchimy, to breake and prepare thos gross clodds of errour and to correct thos fourrow baukes w^{ch} the blunt Plowshere of a misbeleever in the materiall Elixir hath left imperfect in his Tillage of Light. Latent adhuc lillium and rosa inter spinas. Experientia veritatis sigillum.”—“Written by Doctor ROBERT FLOOD, and with his owne hand.” f. 1—57^b.

This treatise was written with the intention of confuting a book called the Tillage of Light: it is fairly written as for the press. The words here printed in Italics have been struck through in the MS., and the last sentence of the title was added by Ashmole. The last 5 leaves (58—62) are vacant. A fair transcript of this MS. is in No. 1507, art. 9.

- III. 1. Ten alechemical processes; the first intitled “The first experiment of the composing of S. vegetable.” f. 1—15.

2. Mythologico-alechemical reveries, or “The vision of JOHN DASTYNE. In asmoth as nature is the surest effect of all kynde and encreasing or augmenting of y^e rootes of them.” 16—19^b.

Neatly written in a secretary-hand of the time of Q. Eliz.

- IV. “The key of RAYMUND LULLY of Maurica w^{ch} is also called his Apertory, in w^{ch} alle thinges that are requyred in the worke of Alkymye are openly declared.” In 16 chapters. (pp. 34.)

Only 11 leaves remain; most of the alternate leaves (which had been left blank) have been torn out; on some of them are written extracts “Taken out of Isake:” see p. 27 and 29.

- V. “A certen booke of Alkimy written by an unknowne author, for the makinge of gould. (Non est mortale quod opto.) Translated out of Latyne into Englishe by ROGER HOWES for Mr Gawyn Smithe gentleman, the xxiiijth of July 1593. R. H.”

The word finis occurs at f. 16^b, and the rest seems to consist of alechemical extracts or short tracts, most of which have the initials or name of GEORGE RIPLEY, canon: see particularly 43^b and 50^b. The MS. is subscribed thus at the end—“Finis. Londini vicesimo quarto die Julij anno Domini 1593. Roger Howes.” (54^b.) Between f. 25—6 is inserted a paper, containing some alechemical notes in Latin, written by another hand.

Before the following MS. is placed a curious print (from wood) in the shape of an arch divided into compartments, in which are figures of saints etc., a small picture of “Nicolas Flamel et Perrenelle sa femme” on one side, and the slaughter of the innocents is at the bottom.

- VI. A commentary on some parts of Genesis relating to the Creation of the world and of man, and to the institution of the Sabbath. f. 1—15^b.

The first passage is thus translated—“When the trinity made thes same heavens, and this same earth: the earth was deformed, and out of facion: and darknes was on every syde of the goulfe: and the sprite of the trinity brethed on every syde of the waters.” (Compare No. 802, art. 1, etc.) The first leaf of this MS. (which was written in the time of Q. Eliz.) is blank.

- VII. Alechemical notes collected and written by Dr. FORMAN. f. 1^a, 2—3, 7, 9^b—10^b.

No. 767.

A thick quarto volume, containing three MSS. The first is neatly written in a hand of the time of James I., and contains 74 leaves, including 2 at the beginning, blank, and not numbered: many vacant leaves follow artt. 6 and 8.

- I. 1. “The buzzeinge Bees complaynt [by ROBERT DEVEREUX Earl of ESSEX]. There was a tyme when scylley bees could speake.” (14 st. of 6.) f. 1—3.

Ending thus—“Twas but Tabacco stupified my braine. Finis. E. Essex.” This and art. 8. are mentioned by Kitson in his Bibl. Poetica, p. 187, as preserved in Ashmolean MSS., and not having been printed: but this poem was published by Mr. Park, in his edition of Walpole’s Royal and Noble Authors, II. 109—112, from a bad copy. There is another copy of it in No. 781, art. 56, containing one stanza more.

2. "A coppie of the Lorde Keepers letter to the Earle Marshall, 12 Novembr. [15]99." 4—5.

Subscribed—"THOMAS EGERTON custos sigilli." There are also copies of this and the 3 next articles in No. 821, art. 14—17: where this letter is rightly dated in October.

3. "A coppinge of the Earle Marshalls reply to the Lorde Keeper." 5^b—7.

Subscribed—"Your lordshippes poore freinde ESSEX." He was made Earl Marshal in 1597.

4. "The Earle Marshall to the Queenes Matie." 8^{ab}.

5. Letter from the Earl of ESSEX to Queen Elizabeth. 10.

Beg. From a man delighted in sorrowe; and subscribed "Your exiled servant Essex." It is written larger and better than the rest. Another copy in the Royal MS. 17 B. L. (containing also the three foregoing articles) is noticed in Park's edition of Walpole, II. 108.

6. "To Mr. Anthony Bacon. An Appollogic of the Earle of ESSEX againste those that falsly and maliciously take him to be the only hinderance of the peace and quiett of his country." 10—43.

7. "By the Queene:" a Proclamation declaring the treasonable attempts and practices of the Earls of Essex, Rutland, and Southampton, commending the citizens of London for their faithful conduct, and directing the apprehension of accomplices. (9 Feb. 1600.) 62—3^b.

From the copy "Imprinted at London by Robert Barker, printer to the Queenes most excellent Majestie 1600."

8. "ESSEX last voyage to the haven of Happiness. Welcome sweete Death the kindest freind I have." (12 st. of 6.) 64—5^b.

Most of these articles are noticed by Tanner, in his account of the Earl's writings, Bibl. Brit. p. 226.

II. Vegetable Emblems, illustrated with moral and religious Verses. f. 24^b—112.

The first 107 chapters have small square pictures of trees, herbs, or flowers, over the verses, and are on separate pages: but "Cap. 128" to 201, are written without pictures (f. 88—110); and the last page of these, and the four following, are written very closely and roughly. On f. 21 (the first quire having only this and its last page occupied) is the autograph of a poet who does not seem to have been the author of the MS., which is written in the secretary-hand, whereas his is always the Italian;—thus, "Liber Willi: Browne," with his crest, a sheaf supported by a blue and a white lion. The same is also on the fifth page of the following MS. The last leaf of this, and the two first of the next MS., are vacant.

III. W. BROWNE'S unfinished book of Vegetable Emblems and Verses. f. 4^b—103.

The first is the same as the first in the foregoing MS., but the others are all different. Only the first 20 pictures (except the second, which has none) are illustrated with verses: some of these are lengthy. Ff. 104—150 of this book are blank.

No. 768.

A quarto volume, containing six MSS. on paper. The original paging of the first one is continued throughout the volume. On the second of three unnum-bered leaves is written a short index of the first MS., or "A note of the Speeches in the booke."

- I. 1. "The Kinges speech in Parliam^t: 3^o Novembris 1640." p. 1.
2. "The Kings second speech in Parliam^t: 5^{to} Novembris die Jovis 1640." 5.
3. "Mr Speakers speech of the lower house November y^e 4. 1640." 8.
4. "A Message delivered by Mr. Pymm to the upper house of Parliam^t: 1640." 16.
5. "Articles of the Commons assembled in Parliam^t: against Thomas Earle of Strafford in maintenance of the accusacōn whereby he stands charged wth highe treason." 18.
A blank page (unnumbered) follows this and each of the two next articles.
6. "The Earle of Straffords accusation." 24.
7. "Sr: BENJAMIN RIDDYERS* speech in Parliam^t 1 Novemb: 1640." 25.
* Rudyard. See the letter to him in No 830, art. 96.
8. "Sr: EDWARD DEERINGES speech in y^e house of Commons. November 11. 1640." 38.
9. "Mr. GRIMSTONE'S speech in Parliam^t: 1640." 44.
10. "Mr. PIMME his speech to the Lordes of Parliam^t att the presentinge by him the charge of the house of Commons against the Earle of Strafford. 1640." 59.
11. "Sr EDWARD DEERINGE his 2 speech 1640." 64.
12. "Sr EDWARD DE[E]RINGE 3^d speech in Parliam^t, 1640." 69.
13. "The Lord DIGBIES 1st: speech in Parliam^t: 1640." 74.
14. "My Lord DIGBIES 2^d: speech in Parliam^t. 1640." 81.
15. "Mr. PYMME his first speeche in Parliam^t: 1640." 92.
16. "Mr. GLYNNES speech in the house of Commons. 1640." 97.
17. "Sr. JOHN CULPEPPER'S speech in Parliam^t: November 7th: 1640." 100.
18. "My Lord Keepers speech in Parliam^t: 3^o. Novembris. 1640." 106.
19. "The instances concerning my Lord Straffords accusacōn." 129.
20. "My Lord FAULKLANDS speech in Parliam^t: 1640." 132.
21. "Mr. BAGSHAWE of the middle Temple esquier: a counsellor and lowe burgesse for the burrow of Southwarke, his speech in the Commons house of Parliam^t: 9. November 1640." 144.
22. "The Kings speech delivered to both howses of Parliam^t, in the banquetting-house att Whitehall, Jan^r: 23th. 1640." 151.
23. "The Kings speech to both the howses. Febr^r 10th. 1640." 157.
24. "The Kings speech to both howses of Parliam^t, in y^e Lords howse for y^e Trienniall Parliam^t. Febr. 16. 1640." 159.

25. Memorial "From the Commissioners of Scotland, 24^o February, 1640." 161.

Seemingly addressed to the Lords of the Privy Council.

26. "Articles of the Commons assembled in Parliament, in maintenance of the accusation, wherby William Laud, Archbishop of Canterbury, stands charged with high treason." 165—170.

The rest of this book (pp. 171—269) is blank; as also is the first leaf of the next MS. This book much resembles No. 800, and seems to have been written all, or most part, by Ashmole.

II. "Six Letters and one Oration of the Cardinal DOSSAT; selected out of many in the French original; translated into English by R[ICH:] A[LDWORTH]." p. 272.

The title-page of this neat MS. is followed by a dedication to Philip Earl of Pembroke and Montgomery (p. 274—5), subscribed by the author; and, after 3 blank leaves, by an address of "The Translator to the reader." (p. 282—8.) The particular contents are—

(1) "A letter of advise—to Henrie the fourth—touchinge the Popes and Spaniards designes about the succession of the crowne of England after Q. Elizabeth." (Rome, 26 Nov. 1601.) 290—314.

(2) "Letter—to Mons^r de Villeroye." 316.

(3) "Advise given to the Pope—6th of September 1600, upon that w^{ch} his holines had propounded to the Consistorie on the 30th of August touching y^e warres of Savoy." 318—358.

(4) "Cardinall Dossat to the Kinge: Leter 272. tom: 2." (Rome, 25 June, 1601.) 360.

(5) "Cardinall Dossat to Mons^r de Villeroy. Leter 322. tom. 2." (30 Dec. 1602.) 364—7.

(6) Cardinall Dossat to the same. "Tom. 2. leter 327." (10 Feb. 1603.) 368—406.

(7) Cardinall Dossat to the same. "Leter 341." (14 July, 1603.) 406—7.

III. 1. "An exact and compendious discours concerning the Arte of Limning or Miniatura, the name nature and propertys of the Coullers, the order to be observed in preparing and using the same booth for the picture landskipt and histories." p. 408—465.

After these "29" leaves follows another part of the MS. (whereof the margins are ruled with red lines, as in the other with black) written by the same hand, probably by Ashmole when young: it contains—

2. Observations on various Colors and preparations for Painting. 467—478.

The last page is certainly in Ashmole's hand, and contains directions "To make a vernish to gild letters;" etc.

3. "Notes for painting in oyle collours, by Jo: PAULUS LOMATIUS painter of Millane." 481—4.

This latter part of the MS. is numbered as ff. "9—21," and the last 7 pages are vacant.

IV. "A briefe sume of the arts of Logick, Sophistry, and Rhetorick. Virtus vera nobilitas. [By] WALTER COOKE." 492—541.

The three last leaves are blank; as are also the first four of the following MS., except two pages containing sums in compound addition, and the multiplication table.

V. A summary of the Common-law and Statute-law of England, concerning crimes and offences, in twenty-nine chapters. (ff. 29.) p. 556—612.

Beginning with "Chap: 1: of tortious offences;" and ending with "Chap: 29: of high treason." On p. 614 is "Verborum expositio," or an explanation of some Law-terms in French. The last page is blank.

No. 769.

A quarto MS. neatly written in a small hand of the XVth century: formerly consisting of 108 leaves of paper and vellum intermingled; but of the last 9 leaves, which were blank, only two and a half now remain; the rest having been torn out.

"In nomine Domini Jesu incipit prologus libri qui vocatur Itinerarium domini JOHANNIS MAUNDEVILE Militis de territorio sancti Albani prothomartiris Anglorum. Cum sit ita quod terra promissionis." f. 1—89^b.

It ends thus—Qui vivit et regnat Deus per omnia secula seculorum. Amen. A copy of the French text of this celebrated book is in No. 1804, art. 1: but neither of these MSS. is noticed in Tanner's Bibl. Brit. p. 506.

No. 770.

A small quarto volume containing two MSS. The first consists of 66 leaves of paper, fairly written in a hand of the XVIth century. It formerly belonged to the Earl of Arundel's celebrated Library, as it appears by a transcript in No. 865, art. 11.

I. "Chronicon Lichfeldensis Ecclesie;" quod ab initio rerum Britannicarum ad annum 1559 deductum, fundationem illius docet, seriemque regum et episcoporum exhibet; e veteribus historiis et monumentis confectum, studio GUILIELMI WHITLOCI, Lichfeldensis canonici. f. 1—50^b.

Three original MSS of this work are extant. The first is the Cottonian MS. Vesp. E. XVI. art. 2, which consists of only 12 leaves (ff. 26—37), and contains—(1) a series of the Litchfield bishops; (2) a preface or letter to William Walkeden (dated 1 June, 1569), whose desire to know the origin of that church seems to have given occasion to this work; (3) a short account of the origin of Christianity in this country; (4) a copy of the ancient chronicle formerly fixed in the cathedral "by the south gate, in foldinge leaves of timber, w^{ch} was torne in pieces [in 1643] by my L^d Brookes his soldiers." (See MS. note at the beginning.)

The second MS. is more ample, and was in the possession of Dean Addison when Wharton published his Anglia Sacra; it supplied so much of this work as is therein printed.

Of the present MS. (which is the third) Bp. Tanner rightly observes (Bibl. Brit. p. 763), "quod aliqua habet quæ frustra in Anglia Sacra Whartoni quæsieris." It begins thus—Prima etas ab Adam usque diluvium etc.; and after defining the six ages of the world, and relating the story of Brutus, it gives a series and short history of the British kings, ending thus—"Hactenus de Britannia regibus adjecimus que videbantur congruere argumento delecto. Nunc verbotim Chronicon vetus Ecclesie Cathedralis Lichfeldiensis prosequemur. [f. 9.] Dehinc de gestis Anglorum agendum est. Legitur in libro Gilde sapientissimi historici Britannum" etc. In this chronicle of the Saxon kings to Harold, are inserted the interpolations here enumerated.

(1) JOH. LELANDI epigramma de Cantabrigia. Olim Granta fuit. 12^b.

(2) "Appendix" e Thoma Rudburne de rege Oswio, et fundatione eccl. Lichfeld. 19^b—20.

(3) "Appendix de Alfredo," Elfreda, Edwardo, et Athelstano:

cum eorum epitaphiis ab Henrico Huntingdoniensi confectis. 22^b—4.

- (4) "Appendix" de rege Edmundo. 24^b.
 (5) "Edgaro, et ejus epitaphium ex Henr. Huntingd. 25^{ab}.
 (6) "Charissimis confratribus H. H. S. D." Auctoris interfectio (quam apud Tannerum legas, p. 763) cum serie regum Britannorum post Vortimerum, et rursus de regibus ab Egberto ad Alfredum quaedam. 27^b—30.

This large interpolation is followed by lists of the Saxon kings under the heptarchy (30^b—32^b), which, whether part of the old chronicle or not, is doubtful.

- (7) "Appendix" e Joannis Rossi Warwic. libro de Wigorniensibus episcopis, et ex aliis, de persecutione Christianorum in Britannia. 33.
 (8) "De Cemeterijs. Saxones nobilis gens." 33^b—4.
 (9) E Theodoro, de evangelio in Britanniam lato. 34^b.
 (10) De rege "Offa" (cum Caroli magni ad eum epistola) et aliis regibus, e Matth. Westmonast. (p. 209, etc.) 35—9^b.
 (11) "Appendix ex Mattheo West." (p. 232.) scil. Ethelwulphi charta de decimis. 41^{ab}.
 (12) "In chronica Achademie Cantebrigiensis continetur exemplar donationem Arthurij regis Britonie" A. D. 431, factae, (ut fictum est,) de privilegiis illius academiae. 42^{ab}.

The second table of the Chronicle begins on the next page, thus—"De Episcopis Lichfeldensibus. Interfecto Penda." (See Vesp. E. XVI. 29^b, Cleop. D. IX. 11^b, and Wharton, I. 423.) Whitloe's continuation, after the death of Roger de Norbrugh in 1312, begins thus at f. 48—

"Confratribus"

"Hactenus ex veteri decerpsi queque tabella:
 Quod superest, vobis lectio nostra dabit."

Here the author's name has been erased, and that of Henricus Savilius written over it, though the MS. is by the author's own hand. It ends at the consecration of Tho. Bentham in 1559, thus—a Duina primo episcopo Lich. sexagesimus tertius. (50^b.)

Marginal notes may be seen at f. 29^b, written by Stowe, and at 46 and 47 by Thomas Talbot. After a blank page are written in a hasty hand—

Collectanea historica, ad Lichfeldam partim spectantia: scilicet—

1. E Guil. Malmesburiensi excerpta. 51^b—2^b.
2. "Annotata ex quodam cronico scripto apud Lichfeld pertingente ab initio mundi usque ad regnum Henrici sexti." 53^{ab}.
3. Alia "ex Cronico [cujusdam] Aston. Lichf." 54—5.
4. "Ex Cestrensi [sc. Ran. Higden] ad interserendum in historiam Lich." 61^b—5^b.
5. "Annotat. ex libro annotationum ejusdem vicarij Lichf." de fundamenta pontis London. jacto an. 1310, et campanili eccl. cath. Lichf. fulmine everso an. 1537. 66^b.
6. "Paulus Diaconus in historia Longobardorum." 66^b.

II. *1. "Forma coronacionis Regum et Reginarum Anglie. In primis Princeps noviter coronandus ante diem sue coronacionis." 69—74^b.

This is different from the tract intitled "Qualiter rex debet coronari," MSS. of which are not uncommon, and which is in Latin and French in Vitell. C. XII. It is written in paragraphs, each beginning with the word Item, and having a rubric title in the margin: it contains the King's oath in French, and the oath of homage in English and French. The last words are—Respondatur volumus et concedimus. Fiat Fiat. Amen. Another copy of this and of the next article, is in No. 863, art. 22.

*2. "Officiarij principales in die coronacionis Regis. In primis officium Eleemosinarij pertinet domino Nicholao de Bello Campo [de] Bedford." 74^b—75^b.

From the names of some of the officers, it appears that this list of great Serjeanties was made for the coronation of Edward I. and it evidently belongs to the foregoing ceremonial. The last words are—et ei sedule ministrabit.

3. "Quinque portus:" eorum nomina, et servitia tam per naves tam per homines ad opus Regis: que "Stephanus de Penchestre, conestabularius Davori et custos quinque portuum, anno xxj R' [Edwardi] filij R' H' sic certificavit." (1292—3.) 76^{ab}.

* So subscribed: the total of supplies is 57 ships and 1197 men.

This small MS. was neatly written about the beginning of the XVth century, on 8 leaves of vellum: its former covers were two leaves of erased (and now dirty) vellum, a fragment of a service-book (ff. 67—8), on which is this note by a modern hand—"Tho. Wroth invenit apud Turrim Lond." (68a.)

No. 771.

* * The MSS. numbered 771—778 are bound together within the crimson-velvet covers of one of them (774?) stamped with a crown and CR. They are all in quarto, but of different sizes.

The first MS. consists of 34 leaves of fair thick vellum, fairly ingrossed, and ornamented with illuminated capitals, and with the arms of S. George and of England and France quarterly, and the arms and quarterings of Edmund Earl of Mulgrave K. G. (to whom this MS. belonged, and who died in 1646), each within a garter, as the frontispiece. (f. 2^b.)

"The Statutes and ordinaunces of the most noble Order of saint George named the Garter, reformed explaind declared and renewed by the most highe most excellent and moste puyssant prynce HENRY the viijth by the grace of God Kinge of England and of Fraunce, defender of the faythe, Lord of Ireland et c^a." In the year 1522. With ten additional chapters made at sundry times afterward. f. 3—30^b—33^b.

Printed in Ashmole's appendix to his Institution of the most noble Order of the Garter, No. 1742—4. See also No. 773.

No. 772.

A MS. consisting of 18 leaves of vellum, adorned with illuminated capitals, and the arms of S. George and of England and France quarterly, as a frontispiece. (f. 2^b.) At the beginning is the autograph of "William Ryley* of the Inner Temple, Barrester. 1665."

The Statutes of the Order of the Garter, as reformed by EDWARD VI. and decreed to be observed in a chapter holden 17 March, 1552—3. (ff. 3—18^b.)

These statutes were not printed in Ashmole's work: but they have been since published by Garter Anstis, in his appendix to the second volume of The Register of the most noble Order of the Garter, (London, 1724, fol.), num. XIV. p. xlvii—lii.

Another ingrossed copy of these statutes is in No. 774, and three successive original draughts are in this collection, No. 820, i.; 1119, xiii.; and 812: yet they are scarce, for they were abolished on the 6th of August in the following year, by Philip and Mary, as too conformable to the Reformation.

No. 773.

A MS. consisting of 29 leaves of vellum (including the fly-leaves) finely ingrossed, and adorned with illuminated capitals, and a frontispiece of the arms of S. George and of England and France, surrounded by a garter and crowned. (f. 3^b.)

“The Statutes and ordinances of the moste noble Ordre of saynt George named the Garter, reformed explained declared and renewed by the moost high moste excellent and mooste puissant prynce HENRY the viijth. by the grace of God Kyng of England and of Fraunce, defensor of the faith, Lorde of Irlande, and in erthe under Christe the supreme hed of the Church of Eng-land. et c^a.” In the year 1522: with an additional statute made in the 32d of Henry VIII. (f. 4—27^b—28^b.)

The additional statute is added at the end in a less fair character, and is also inserted as the 19th chapter in a small close hand, over an erasure, at f. 17^b—18. In the other copy, No. 771, f. 18^b, it is embodied in the text. The titles of the chapters are written with rubric in the margin. Some variations have been noted by Ashmole with pencil.

The following articles were written on vacant leaves by a contemporary hand.

1. List of the Knights “An^o xxxiiij” Hen. VIII. f. 1^b.

Here it is noted that the Earl of Cumberland “objit S. Georges evin” and that the Visc. Lesley “objit the first day of Marche an^o xxxiiij.”

2. “A copy of the precedent of the most honourable livercy of the gartier founded by the most excellent prynce King Edwarde the thirde.” 2^b—3.

3. Notes of Knights present and installed, 21 May, 33 and 34 Hen. VIII. 28^b.

4. Act of chapter, 23 Apr. 19 Hen. VIII. whereby the King’s Lieutenant might be excused from attending at the feast of S. George next after that wherein he presided. 29^a.

At the foot of this page is this autograph—“Thomas Windsor. Virtus vera nobilitas.”

No. 774.

A MS. consisting of 16 leaves of vellum, ingrossed and illuminated by the same hand as N^o. 772; with which it exactly agrees (except that a frontispiece is wanting), being—

The Statutes of the Order of the Garter, as reformed by EDWARD VI. (ff. 1—16.)

See the note on No. 772, and Ashmole’s Institution, p. 194.

No. 775.

A MS. very neatly ingrossed on vellum, and adorned with illuminated capitals, in the XVth century: 43 leaves are fully occupied, except the first page, which contains only 5 lines of writing; the rest having been left vacant for a coat of arms.

Les Statuts de l’Ordre de Saint Michael, constitus et ordonnes par Louis XI. Roi de France,

1 Aug. 1469: com. Lovys par la grace de Dieu Roy de France savoir faisons que pour la tres parfuite et singuliere amour que avons au noble ordre et estat de chevalerie. f. 1—38^b.

“Doune en nostre chastel Damboise le premier jour Daoust lan de grace Mil CCCC soixante neuf. Et de nostre regne le ix^e.”

On one passage in this MS. (37^b) Ashmole has remarked that it is “wanting in the printed English of Favyn.”

No. 776.

A MS. very neatly written on vellum in an Italian hand, about the time of Charles I. or earlier.

“Les Status et ordonnances du tresnoble Ordre de St George communement appelle la JARRETIERE, jadis fon de et institue, a l’honneur de Dieu, au chasteau de Windesore par le victorieux prince de tres noble memoire Edouart troisieme de ce nom Roy d’Angleterre France etc. en l’an de grace 1349, et de son regne le 23^e.” (ff. 16.)

The first words are—Premierement que le Roy et ses heirs; and the last—sera tenu de le porter comme est dit cy devant. This is a free translation of the Latin copy set forth by Henry VIII. and the last chapter (though it ends differently from No. 773) begins thus—Item pour avoir meilleure cognoissance des dits Chevalliers. (f. 16.) Its author probably was Sir Thomas Wriothesley, Garter King of Arms: see Ashmole’s Institution of the Order, p. 193.

No. 777.

A MS. written on paper ruled with red lines, in the time of James I. or Charles I. The two first leaves (which are blank) seem to have been taken from the end to protect the first leaf, which is worn.

“The Statutes and ordenances of the most noble Order of sainte George, named the Garter, reformed [etc.] by—HENRY THEIGHT” etc. ff. 3—21.

The text of this copy agrees with No. 771. It hath summary marginal notes; and the last chapter is noted as having been ordained “12^o. die Januar. a^o primo R^{nae} Elizabeth. apud Turrim London.”

No. 778.

A MS. in large octavo or narrow quarto, written on paper in the XVth century: it is foliated by the antient hand, on the lower corners of the leaves; whereof the first is marked 2, the second 5, (though nothing is wanting,) and the last 48. Fol. 46 was blank, and has been cut out.

I. I. Statuta quae sanxit “EDWARDUS Tertius, primus fundator Ordinis GARTERII.* Ad honorem Dei, sancte Marie virginis gloriose, et sancti Georgij, Rex Anglie dominus noster Edwardus ij^{us} post conquestum anno regni sui xxij^o ordinavit” etc. f. 2—10^b.

This is the rubric over the page: a similar one (but longer) is written above art. 3. The 36th chapter ends thus—digne valeant emendari. This Latin version of the original statutes, which were composed in French, was printed by Ashmole in the appendix to his Institution of the Order, from a MS. in Lord Hatton’s library.

2. "Kalendarium statutorum" sequentium. 11—14.
3. Statuta Collegii regalis in Castro Windesoriensi, ordinata per WILLELUM [DE EDYNDON] Windoniensem Episcopum, (auctoritate per bullam Papæ Clementis VI. prid. cal. Dec. anno nono datam accepta), et 30 Nov. 1352 edita. 15—42^b.

These statutes were set forth under the seals of William de Edindon, bishop of Winchester, and Lord Chancellor, the founder King Edward III, Robert bishop of Salisbury and his chapter, and William Mugge, Warden of the new College. The bull is printed in Ashmole's Appendix, "Number II;" also another bull dated 2 id. Feb. anno nono. (Number III.) There is a more modern, but an excellent copy, in No. 814, art. 2; in which MS. the following article is designated as chapter 55 of the Statutes. No. 1124, the xxviiith volume of Ashmole's Garter-Collections, contains copies of these documents, and many more of the same kind.

4. Formulæ admissionis Custodis, Canonicorum, et Vicariorum, ad capellam regiam Windesoriensem; et eorum juramenta. 43—5.
5. Literæ EDWARDI III. patentes, per quas in Capella regia Windesoriensi a se consummata, Custodem, 23 canonicos, et 24 milites pauperes constituit, ecclesias ei quasdam appropriavit, et dotationem e thesauris suis spondidit. (Westm. 6 Aug. anno 22, A. D. 1348.) 47—8^b.

See the note on No. 814, art. 1.

II. 1. "The oath of supremacy." f. 1^a.

This is the first page of 6 small quarto leaves, written in an old hand: the 4 other pages seem to have been written by Lilly. It does not appear what connexion this paper has with any of the eight MSS. in this volume.

2. A letter to "My good Lo." estimating the yearly produce and value of 35 or 36 yard-lands. 1^b—3.

No. 779.

A quarto volume, containing 214 leaves, the last 56 of which are blank, as also are 16 at the beginning (that are not numbered), and many at intervals of the MS., which is written in the same small hand as some parts of the Arundel MS. 47 in the Heralds' College. (See the Catalogue, p. 72—4.) These two MSS. are both written on paper of the same kind and size, stained on the edges of the leaves with the same dark green, and bound in the same kind of dark blue leather.

1. "Certaine annotations and chapters, collected forth of the Black and Blewe Bookes of y^e Order of y^e Garter, towching what hath in y^e same (materially) byn remembred, for y^e government of the said order, from King Ed: 3. to y^e full raigne of Q: Elizabeth:" by Sir WILLIAM SEGAR, Garter King of arms; dedicated "To the Kings most ext^r Ma^{tie}:" James the first. f. 1—8.
2. "The Knightes of the 1. Institution of y^e most noble order of y^e Garter, together wth such Knightes, as were made by the Founder K: E: 3. during his raigne." By the same; also dedicated to the King. 22—36.
- "The seconde booke of the renowned Knightes and companions of the most noble order of the Garter; made by the Kinge R: 2." 39—47.

"The Knightes of the most noble order of the Garter made in the tyme of King Henry the 4th." 50—6^b.

The following reigns are intitled more or less in the same manner: those of Rich. III. and Qu. Mary are omitted.

Knights in the reign of Henry V. 67—73.
 _____ Henry VI. 75—86.
 _____ Edward IV. 91—100.
 _____ Henry VII. 114—121.
 _____ Henry VIII. 125—138^b.
 _____ Edward VI. 143—5.

3. "Les noms, tiltres, et armoiries, de L'Empeureur, Roys, Princees, et grande Seigneurs, Chevaliers du tresnoble ordre de la Jartiere, durant le regne de la Royne Elizabeth, avecque tous ceulx que le Roy Jacques n^re seigr^t a faict, depuis son tresheureux souverainte, en yeell' ordre, l'an 1603, jusqu'au present 1607." 162—171, 176—7, 178^{ab}.

In the former parts of this work are given a tricking of the arms of each knight, and a short biographical notice of him: but in this are given their quarterings, and their style and title is given in French. The second division (ff. 176—7) contains only the arms and titles of surviving knights, with this title:—"Insignia armorum angustissimæ Supremæ et Commilitonum prænobilissimi ordinis Garterij secundum eorum sedes in ecclesia collegiata regalis Castri Windesorensis, quorum septem loca vacua conspiciuntur. 1602." The last leaf (178) contains a repetition of the title copied above, an outline of the royal shield, with the style of K. James, and a list of eleven "Knightes in his tyme."

The name of the writer of this work appears from a transcript of the first part, made for Ashmole in 1660 (when this MS. was in Sir W. Le Neve's possession), who hath subjoined these words to the dedication—"Your Maties: most humble servant, Will^m Segar Garter:" see No. 1109, f. 200^b. He was evidently employed by the King to examine the records of the order, in conjunction with the Commissioners for its amendment; and that (as it seems) in 1607,—earlier than the commissions in the 9th and 16th of James I, which are mentioned in Ashmole's Institution of the Order, p. 195—6.

A transcript of the second part of this MS. is in vol. xxi. xxii. of Ashmole's Garter collections, No. 1117—8; and a supplement to the year 1619 may be found in vol. xvii. No. 1113, x. art. 30.

No. 780.

A small quarto MS., consisting of only 15 leaves, much worn and broken at the edges; the first leaf is blank. It was written in the time of Charles I. in a small close hand.

Short Lives of eminent men of antient times: namely—

- "The life of Cato Utican." p. 1.
 _____ Phocion. 2.
 _____ Pompey. 3.
 _____ Alexander the great. 5.
 _____ Julius Cæsar. 10.
 _____ Demosthenes. 13.
 _____ Marcus Tullius Cicero. 15.
 _____ Demetrius. 17.
 _____ Marcus Antonius. 21.
 _____ Artaxerxes. 26—7.

No. 781.

A small quarto MS. on paper, written in a very close but plain hand, between the years 1620 and 1631 (see the last article), on 168 pages, which are discolored with the badness of the ink.

Miscellanies, Religious, Political, and Poetical; chiefly by Persons of quality.

1. Dr. DONNE's Sermon on "Remember now thy Creator in the dayes of thy youth. Ecclesiast: 12. 1." p. 1—19.

Subscribed thus—"Finis Dr. Dun. This sermon he preached at Lincolnes Inn before his goeing with Vicount Doncaster."

2. "The generall state of ye Scottish Commonwealth with ye causes of their often mutinies and other discords. Authorities in matters of state." 19—25.

The first words of this tract (written before the accession of James I.) are—1. Lawes makeinge and abrogatinge; and the last—wherby the Prince and Common wealth is ever weavinge and floatinge like a boate in ye sea to and fro, vento nobilitatis et vulgi fluctibus. Compare the Cottonian MSS. Caligula, B. V. art. 18, and C. IX. art. 275.

3. "A true declaration of the execution of Mary the late Queene of Scotts wth in the eastle of Fotheringhay vij Febr. 1586." Addressed "To the right honorable Sr William Cecill Knight, Lord Burleigh, Lord high Treasurer of England;" by R. W[INGFIELD.] 26—35.

In the form of a letter, dated 11 Febr. 1586-7, and subscribed with initials only; but the writer's name appears from the list of persons present at her execution, in No. 830, f. 19: in which MS. also there is a copy of this narrative, art. 4. There is a neat copy of it in the Cottonian MS. Caligula C. IX. art. 267, f. 465, with the same initials: many of Sir Robert Wingfield's letters are in that collection.

4. "His Mats speech in the Parlam^t house at Edenborough the 17 of June 1617." 35—42.
5. "A letter of advise to the Lo: Cooke 1616:" subscribed "Finis ignoto. T. S." 43—50.

"Printed, from a MS. in Queen's Coll: library, in Collins's Peerage vol. 2." MS. note by Dr. Bliss.

The next leaf has been torn out: its contents are thus noted in the Index.

- "71. Queene Eliza: letter to Sr Amias Paulet.
72. Another of hers to the Lady Norrice."

10. "The coppie of ANTHONY BABINGTON's letter written to Queene Eliza: being in prison for high treason comitted against her Mat^{ie}." 73.
11. Letter of "Sr JOHN HOLLIS to the Lo: Treasurer William Burleigh." 74—6.

12. Jo: LILLIES petition to Queene Elizabeth." 76.

He appears to have been for ten years a writer of plays for the royal revels.

13. "Annother of his to her Mat^{ie}." 77.

This title is taken from the Index.

14. Letter from "The Lo: Keeper EDGERTON to the Earle of Essex:" dated "12th of October 1599." 78—9.

The same as No. 767, i. art. 2, though differently dated. Copies of the three following letters are also in that MS., artt. 3, 4, 5.

15. "The Earle of ESSEX answe to the Lo: Keeper:" dated "October the 14th 1599." 80—1.

16. Letter from the Earl of ESSEX "To the sacred Mat^{ie} of Queene Elizabeth." 82.

38. "Objections againste the change of the name and stile of England and Scotland, to be moved and debated on the Conference betweene the Lords and Commons; and for that end by the Comitties of the house of Commons, collected and reduced to their order for their better instruction." 113—4.
39. Letter from "The Lo: of ROCHESTER to M^r Overburie upon the death of his sonne S^r Tho: Overburie." 115—6.
40. "Another of his to the Earle of Northampton;" defending himself from certain imputations. 116—7.
41. Letter from "The Countes of NOTTINGHAM to the Kinge of Denmarke's Secretarie." 117.
 This spirited epistle, in consequence of dishonorable things spoken of her by the King of Denmark, is subscribed "Marga: Nottingham." 117.
42. Letter from THO. ELLESMERE Lord Chancellor, praying James I. to discharge him of his great office, because of the infirmities of his age. (5 Feb. 1616.) 118.
43. "Dr Hall's Curats petition to the Kinge." 118.
 This curious jingle of mingled English and Latin (beginning —I serue under doctor Hhall, miserere mei: 8 lines) states that the Doctor's yearly income was more than 400 pounds, and his poor Curate's only twelve pounds!
44. "The Lo: Chancellor [EGERTON]s speech to S^r He: Mountague when he was sworne Lo: Cheife Justice of the Kings bench." 119—121.
45. "The Lo: Chiefe Justice MOUNTAGUE his answe to the speach of the Lo: Chancellor Edgerton. November 1616." 121—2.

 Printed from this MS. by Dr. Bliss, in Wood's Athenæ Oxonienses, ii. 627—8. A shorter copy is in No. 36, art. 211.
54. "M^ris HOSKINS to his Matie for her husband. The worst is told, the best is hid." (6l.) 131.
55. One stanza, beg. Grounded advise in danger seldome trips. (7l.) 131.
56. The buzzing Bees complaint, by the Earl of ESSEX: beg. It was a tyme when sillie bees could speake. (15 st. of 6.) 132—4.
 Subscribed "Finis. Essex." See No. 767, i. art. 1.
57. Epigram on the remedy of 'England's poverty' by "S^r Jo: HARRINGTON:" beg. England men say of late is banquerout growen. (10 l.) 134.
 * Noticed under this title in Ritson's Bibl. Poetica, p. 237, as "inedited."
58. Penitential verses by W. STRACHIE just before his untimely death: beg. Harke! 'Twas the trump of death that blewe. (3 st. of 8.) 135.
 Called in the index "Mr Strachie's Harke;" each stanza beginning with that word.
59. Epitaph on "Thomas Earle of Dorset, Lo: Treasurer. Immodest Death that would not once confer." (10 l.) 136.
60. Verses on "Lyonell Earle of Midelsex, Lo: Treasurer, his fall. The best on wch mans greatness firmest stands." (16 l.) 136.
61. Verses by "D^r LATWORTH upon his death-bed. My God I speake it from [a] full assurance." (4 st. of 6.) 137.
62. Sir WALTER RALEIGH's verses to his mistress: beg. Callinge to minde myne eie went long about. (3 st. of 6.) 138.
63. Verses by CHIDIOCK TICHBORNE, before his execution, 1586: beg. My prime of youth is but a froste of cares. (3 st. of 6.) 138.
 Printed at the end of the Reliquiæ Woltonianæ (1654, 120.) p. 511—2. See also Ritson, p. 361.

64. "A discription of frindship. What is frindship? Tis a pleasure:" (12 l.) subscribed "H. R." 139.
This article was ascribed to Sir Edward Dyer (by mistaking it for art. 66) in the second edition of Wood's Athenæ Oronienses; whence the error is copied in Ritson's Bibliographia Poetica, p. 193, and repeated in the quarto edition of the Athenæ, I. 741.
65. Resolution to live a better life: beg. Awake (my sowle) and in the incestuous bed. (22 l.) 139.
66. A complaint by "S^r ED. DYER:" beg. Hee that [h]is mirth hath lost, whose comfort is dismayd. (82 long lines.) 140—2.
67. Plaintive verses by "ELIZA[BETHA] Regina upon Mounzeur's departure. I greewe and dare not shewe my discontent." (3 st. of 6.) 142.
Unknown to Walpole and Park: but printed from this MS. in Brayley's Londiniana, IV. 26.
68. Verses to his mistress by "LO. WALDEN:" beg. Wronge not deare M^{rs} of my harte. (7 st. of 4.) 143.

72. Verses "Upon the fifth of November. O nighte o daie while nights and daies shall laste:" (6 st. of 6, and 3 lines,) subscribed "M^r SA: WARDE." 146.
73. "On the worthie Prin[c]esse her death, the Lady Arbella Seimor, Epicidium. Too soone alas into the cares of all:" (58 l.) subscribed "J. O." 147—8.
A poetical work published in 1594, under the same initials, is mentioned by Ritson, p. 290.
74. "Her* Epitaph. Heere lyes she whom Death befrended." (26 l.) 148—9.
* This word is supplied from the Index.
75. "Epitaph on the noble Prince Henerey. Reader, wonder thincke it none." (14 l.) 149.
See No. 38, art. 323.
76. "Epitaph on Robert Earle of Essex. There sleepe greate Essex, darling of mankind." (61.) 150.
Printed in Walpole's Royal and Noble Authors, by Park, II. 113—4, etc.
77. "Epitaph on S^r PHILIP SIDNEY by himselfe. It is not I that dye, I doe but leave an in." (6 l.) 150.
Same as No. 47, art. 46.
78. "Another of him made by King JAMES. When Venus sawe the noble Sidney dying." (61.) 150.
Often printed, as in W. Harris-es Life of James I. 1753, 8vo. p. 138; being considered a favorable specimen of the King's poetry. See Walpole's Royal and Noble Authors, by Park, I. 118, 125—6.
79. "Epitaph on S^r Fra: Vere. When Vere sought death." (4 l.) 150.
Printed in Hearne's Curious Discourses, ed. 1775, I. p. 353.
80. "Epitaph on Secretarie Winwood. Since to keepe all from boastinge noe man can." (14 l.) 151.
81. "Epitaph upon S^r Wa: Raleigh. Heere heedlesse headlesse matchlesse Raleigh lyes." (61.) 151.
82. "Another on his death. If spite be pleasd." (6 l.) 151.
83. "Epitaph on the death of Marie Countesse of Pembroke. Underneath this sable hearse." (2 st. of 6.) 152.

92. "CHAUCER'S Prophecie. When faith faileth in preists sawes." (6 l.) 162.
Printed among Chancer's works, though unlikely to have been his. See Todd's Illustrations of Gower and Chaucer, p. 120, and the note on No. 59, art. 52. Compare also the Latin and English verses in No. 750, f. 100^{bc} and 102^b.
93. "In obitum literatissimi sanctissimique viri magistri Gulielmi Perkinsi. Ah greate shephcard for that thou arte dead." (8 l.) 163.
94. Water thy plants with grace devine etc. by "S^r WA: RALEIGH." (2 st. of 4, in long lines.) 163.
95. "Hee that will live when he is dead, must dye whilst hee is alive, namely to his sinnes. W: PERKINS." 163.
96. "Epitaph on Prince Henery. I have no vaine in verse:" (4 l.) subscribed "Fimis Sinewes." 163.
97. "The answe to the Lye. Courts scorne, states disgraing;" and "Erroris responsio," a parody, subscribed "S^r WA: RA:" (twice 12 lines.) 164.
Ritson says—"The Answer to the lye, usually ascribed to Raleigh, and pretended to have been written the night before his execution, was in fact by FRANCIS DAVISON." (Bibl. Poet. p. 308.) The parody, at least, is here certainly ascribed to Sir Walter Raleigh.

98. "Verses made upon a paire of slippers sent for a new-yeares guifte, 1631. Men may kisse our handes." (6 l.) 165.

This article, which bears a date, was written some time after the rest of this MS.; and neither it, nor any of the six foregoing articles, is entered in the Index, or—

"A Table of all the thinges contained in this booke." p. 167-8.

Some of the smaller articles are not noticed herein.

No. 782.

The duodecimo MS. thus numbered, can not now be found. It was thus described by Lhuys in 1697, in Dr. Bernard's general Catalogue of MSS. No. 7512.

"Anthropologia, or a treatise containing a short Description of Man, in two parts: the first Anatomical, the second Psychological."

No. 783.

A neat MS. in 12^o. well bound, and gilt on the edges of the leaves, which are 156 in number, beside the fly-leaves. Probably written by some noble person.

1. Two notes; first of the martial order of the Israelites; second, how "Nobillity or gentry [is] divided into foure kinds." f. 1^a.

2. "Choyce sentences taken out of T. Fuller[s] Holy Warr, and other authours." 4—16.

Written in the year 1662.

22. Arms in the church of Chartres, and of S. Andrew's in Whiteley. 29.

23. Short diary of Ashmole's "Journey into the Fens. 1657;" who left London 19 May, and reached Blyth Hall (Sir W. Dugdale's) 6 June. f. 29^b.

* Whom he accompanied that year in his survey of the fenny country. See the life of Ashmole prefixed to "The Antiquities of Berkshire," published from his MSS. in 1719, (3 vols. 8^o.) p. ix.; also Dugdale's Diary by Hamper, p. 10, and the Lansdowne MS. 722, there cited. This article might form a supplement to Ashmole's Diary, (1774, 8^{vo}.) p. 334.

24. Latin rhymes in praise of Crowland, "Found upon a stone digged up a^o 1655:" and a note that the Lydd, the flag of the fens, is good horse-food. 30.

The verses are also at f. 33.

- *25. "Observacōns in my Fen-journey, begun 19 May 1657." 3¹—5.

Many of these are very curious and interesting: notices of the cathedrals of Lincoln and York, and of many other churches, may be found here.

26. Notes of monuments and inscriptions in Peterborough cathedral. 35^b—6.
 27. Arms in Crowland church. 36^b.

 40. Roman numerals explained. 102^b.

No. 785.

A small paper book in 12° containing 65 leaves, begun to be written at both ends, but not filled.

Sir ROBERT NAPIER'S manual or note-book, containing—

1. Academical notes of Metaphysics, Logic, etc. f. 1^a, 4^a, 6—7, 10^{ab}; 61^b, 60^b—59, 57^b.
2. Miscellaneous memoranda, etc. 2^a, 3^a.
3. Medical notes and recipes. 8^a, 13^b—4, 16*, 17*, 62^b.

 These are for "Richard Locus of Stanmore at goody Davis's house" and Ed. Danier.

4. The following title:—

"A short treatise concerning the Sulphur, composed in Latine by an unknowne but a well willer to Chymistry, and now taught to speack English by RN.* gent. of Oriell [College] in Oxon." f. 12^a.

5. Notes of Italian grammar, etc. 64^b, 52^b, 51^b, 50^b.
6. Notes of a theological lecture (in Latin) by "D. Horton, Feb. 11. 165³." 55^b—4.

No. 786.

A small book consisting of 32 leaves in small 8vo, being a neat transcript by Ashmole.

"Nomina, Insignia, Etimologiae, insign[ior]um descriptiones, viginti sex nobilissimorum Equitum honoratissimi Ordinis aurati, sancti Georgii, Fundatorum.

"Quiquidem ordo erectus erat ab invictissimo Angliae et Franciae Rege Edwardo famosissimae memoriae tertio, atque in Castro Windelesora per eundem regem stabilitus anno regni sui 19. salutis vero 1344." f. 4—30.

This title is preceded by the following inscription from the author "Illustri ac clarissimo viro D. Francisco Walsinghami equiti, Regiae Ma: a secretis, nobilissimi ordinis Garterii Cancellario etc." Whose arms, crest, and motto, are on the next page. (2^b, 3^a.) At each opening of this little tract are shown the etymology of the Knight's surname, and the blazon in Latin and English of his arms, which are tricked on the opposite page. The MS. from which this was transcribed seems to be No. 1120, iii. See also the note in No. 1121, p. 220.

No. 787.

A paper book in 12° neatly written by Mr. Ashmole (as it seems) when young; who, after the first leaf and the two last leaves had been torn out, wrote the following title, the two first words of which are the ordinary running-title of the MS.

"The Preface of Sr WALTER RAWLEIGH to his History of ye World." (ff. 49. etc.)

Copied from a printed edition.

No. 788.

A folio MS. fairly written at different times, in and after the reign of Charles I., on 210 leaves of paper; beside two unnumbered leaves at the beginning, on the front of which are the three following words:—

* "PHILIPP KYNDER'S booke" of his own Miscellaneous Tracts, Observations, Letters, and Poems: with "The Table" of the chief contents prefixed. (f. 1^{ab}.)

1. "The Ball," or the Poets' dance in Parnassus; a critical rhapsody. f. 3—9^b; 10^b, 11^b.

"Insertions to be added to ye Ball." 10^b. Like supplementary passages are in other parts of the MS., and are here referred unto under the titles of their respective articles.

2. Letter of commendation to a generous friend (Charles Cotton*) at Beresford. (Dated "Wilston—57.") 10^a.

* See art. 26 and 68.

3. "Of the birth-day of our Lord." 16^{ab}.

The author thought that it was in September.

* That this was Sir Robert Napier, Knight, is proved by comparing his letters in No. 1731.

4. On the mysterious charms of beauty: beg. Dost see how unregarded now that peece of beautie passes. (3 st. of 5.) 18.
5. "This [Latin epigram of 4 elegiac couplets, beg. Alba cutis nivei dentes albique capilli,] was translated at my instance by H. GIBBS.—Be-hould her skinn." (10 l.) 18^b.
6. "Generall Hastings his Bowre. Of Muses hills and Princes halls" (7 st. of 6): subscribed "T. P. P." 19^{ab}.
"The copie was given me written by ye author's owne hand."
7. "A Song. Poore Cloris wept and from her eyes." (4 st. of 7.) 20.
8. "A complaint against Death for taking away Elinda as a sacrifice to appease the anger of the gods for some injustice done to an other ladie. Why not some purblind witch:" (12 l.) subscribed "K. W." 20^b.
9. "Sphinx Anglo-Latinus:" pairs of questions in Latin and English, of different meanings, the answers to which are in both languages written alike. 20^b—1.
10. Sir HENRY WOTTON'S ode on the transcendent beauty of his mistress the Queen of Bohemia: beg. Yee meaner beauties of the night. (6 st. of 5.) 21^b.

This is a complete copy of a most beautiful poem, of which 5 disordered stanzas are in No. 38, art. 144 (which see), and only 4 in the Reliquiæ Wottonianæ and in Percy's Reliques. A parody on it follows in this MS., lamenting the ruin of King Charles, the Queen, and the Prince; it is intitled—

11. "The Antiparode. Ladies that guild the glittering moon." (4 st. of 5.) 22.

At the foot of the page is a computation of the number of Latin words in Hoole's or some other vocabulary.

12. "The copie of a letter concerning blood and things strangled." 19—25^b.

"Some few lines at the beginning wanting." It is subscribed "Your m. h. s. PHILS KYNDER." On the following page is "The syllable [sic] of the names mentioned" or cited in the letter; and some extracts from Dr. Harvey on the blood are at f 26^b.

13. "Milesian Fables; or the remaines of Ovids transanimations, found in Epictetus his closett, and hung up in a table neere to Cebes his table." 28—37^b.

These ingenious fables are 38 in number, and "The Syllable" of their titles is prefixed, at f. 27^b.

14. "The Court of Astroea with ye arraignment of Romances." 38—9^b. "Insertions" 11—15^b.

In the title of this curious piece of criticism, it was at first written Christianitie and Cassandra for Astroea and Romances. Many old English fictions are judged in this trial.

15. "Commentariola. 1600.* Vita Caroli Regis." 40—4.

* Sic. In fine—"Hæc vivens vidensque plæraque novi."

16. "Observatio medica de R. S." 45—7.

This is a curious narrative of a duel, wherein Robert son of Robert Sutton of Tung, and nephew of Lord Lexington, was wounded, and of his medical treatment (by Kynder) until his recovery. At the end is a "Coronis de vulnerarij medici munere," containing a list of medicines useful for the cure of wounds. The title given above is taken from the Index.

17. Epistola GUILIELMI BURTON M. D. et Prof. de rebus medicis a Kindero scriptis, super quibus postulata fuerat sententia. (Cantabrigiæ, 13 Feb. 1621.) 48^b.

Inscribed "To my worshipful and very loveing frend Mr. Kynder at his chamber by ye east gates in Leicester."

18. Epistola GUIL. SHEPPARD M. D. ad Kinderum, synopsis ejus ματιχην laudans. 49.

19. Epistola laudatoria cujusdam DE LA CHAMPAGNOLLE ad amicum suum Kinderum. 49^b.

"Ex ædibus illustriss. Dom: Com. Huntingd. 60 id. Jul 1626."

20. Epistiuucula J. JOYNES, exequias D. Jo. Coci memorans. (17 Sept. 1650.) 50.

"For my worthily honoured freind Mr. Philip Kinder at his house att Aston."

21. Epistiuucula RO. WELDON, satagentis, et se ad Kinderum excusantis; qua "Harrisium communem" memorat. 50.

Scripta "Cussingtonii hodie."

22. Letter from W^m BEVEREDGE, thanking Kinder for his "Trismegisticall invention or repertion of ye universall character," and desiring a copy of the prophecy of Malachias.* (Barrow, 14 Jan. 1628.) 50^b.

At the foot are noted the characters for the 5 teoses, the numbers, and the female gender. This letter is an answer to the following.

* See art. 28.

23. KINDER'S letter on "The universall character. To Mr. Beveredge." 51.

24. JOANNIS BELLOMONTII ad Kinderum epistola, opusculum ejus genealogicum commendans. (4 Oct. 1623.) 51^b.

"This was Sr John Beaumont, Baronet, ye father of Grace-Dieu." See artt. 51, 52.

25. Epistola G. M.* ad Kinderum, genealogiam regiam ab eo conflata (et Camdeno approbatam) laudans, inque vulgus edendam petens. ("26 Majj 1628, a tugurio meo.") 52.

* "This from Mr. MILLINGTON of Fely."

26. Letter of friendship from CHARLES COTTON esq. to Mr. Kinder at Walton. (10 July, 1662.) 52^b.

27. "Vectis, avectus Apocalseôs:" seu "Cyngetica" ad mysteria ejus exploranda et investiganda: præmissa synopsi, et dedicatoria ad Robertum Stapyltonium epistola KINDERI. 53^a, 54^{ab}, 55—63.

The second part of the following article also is intitled "The Revelation interpreted." f. 77—81^b.

28. "Terminalia, or the Historic of the World, Church, realme of England, [and] Papacie; from Esdras the scribe, John the divine, Merlin Ambrose the prophet of England, [and] St Malachias the primat: all prophetically paraphras'd by PHILIP KYNDER." 64—102.

The first part is intitled (65^b) "The Eagle displayed or an interpretation upon Esdras his vision:" on the next page is a curious figure of this eagle, inscribed with numbers; of which the writer says, "If I should have my wish, I would desire this Eagle to be engraved upon my tombe."

29. "A theologicall discourse, [of the being of a God,] written at the age of 19: [on] Rom. 1.
20. Ta γαρ ἀρχαὶ αὐτῆς" etc. 103—114.
30. "Minerva Latia:" seu sermonis Latini grammatica brevissima. 115—6^b.
31. "Rhetorica:" including "The Ladies Logick." 117—8^b.

The first page contains a curious rule in Latin and English, "To write a pure Lipsian style, for forme" (of dialogue); and the second, 30 logical examples which "answer to every chap. in P. Ramus logick."

32. "The institution of ye Book of Common Prayer" historically treated of; in the form of notes thereon: with two appendices, (1) of additions from Dr. Sparrow's book, (2) "Alterations and additions an. xiv. Carol. II." 119—126^b, 140—1^b.
33. The order of time in which the books of "The New Testament [were] written." 126^b.

At the foot of this page is written the measurement of S. Paul's cathedral, as it was in 1312.

34. Description of "Yorke minster," and of the "Coates of armes" therein. 127—8^b.

On the last page the author writes—"These notes were taken by me PHILIP KYNDER when King Charles was in Yorke in his expedition ag^t ye Scotts, and when there he had called his greate counsell." He adds that he had collected the antiquities of that church, and all the inscriptions therein; but his "notes were stolne or perished at ye plunder att Nottingham."

35. A short history and abstract of "The fowre first oecumenick or universall Counsell: [viz. in the year] 328, at Nice against ye Arrians: 382, at Constantinople against Macedonius: 435, at Ephesus against Nestorius: 455, at Calcedon ag^t Eutyches." 129—131^b.
36. A chronology of "Papal Insütutions," from the year 105 to 1626. f. 132—3^b.

A tract much resembling this (though not the same) was printed in 1680, in 4 pages folio, beside the title-page—"A Chronology of the rise and growth of Popery" etc.

37. "My Creede:" (134—6^b) beginning thus—"Nature first taught me y^t there is a God, and God first taught me to be a Christian, and Christ first taught me to beleve in the Holy Ghost." After the writer has touched a little on free-will, election, etc. he promises to "transcribe an old discourse written by me," but leaves off there; which is unfortunate, because he very sensibly denies the Calvinistic fatalism. The last page contains two reasons (that are curious) for not being a Presbyterian, Independent, or Quaker; which may belong either to this or to the following article.
38. "A rubber at bowles, betwixt a Prælate and a Presbyter:" or a curious dialogue on church-government. 137—9.
39. "For Mrs. Diana Danett at New-hall, Warwichsh. a romantick" letter of devoted friendship, from P. KYNDER. ("Nottingh. August. 1665.") 143.
40. Epitaphium super Johannem filium Griffini et Sarahæ Divalle, nati . . . Aug. 1632, mortui . . . Aug. 1640. f. 143^b.

"This is engraven upon a blew marble in St. Maries chancell Nottingh. neere to ye entrance of the vestrie. Written by PHILIP KYNDER."

41. KYNDER's Verses "To Mr. Charles Cotton upon his poems." (16 l.) 144.
42. Epitaphium super Carolum Cottonum patrem. 144^b.
43. Epitaphium super Oliviam uxorem ejusdem Car. Cottoni. 145^{ab}.

On the former page it is written mostly in initial capitals: on the latter is "The barr unbolted of ye former."

44. Alia duo super eandem epitaphia. 146.
45. Epitaphium super Janam Curson, cujus maritus Stanhopius, sobolesque Johannes et Elizabetha, fuerunt. 146^b.
46. Epitaphium (haud breve) super Henricum Hastings equitem, Francisci Comitis Huntingdoniæ nepotem: ob. an. 1649, æt. 72. f. 147.
47. PH. KINDERI "Carmen Phaleuticum. Laudabunt alij vel classica vatis Achæi." 147^b.

"These are printed before ye funerall elegies of W. S." These initials are explained in the Index thus, "upon Mr. Sampsons funerall elegies."

48. Aliud ejusdem epitaphium in Henricum Baronem Hastings, qui ob. 9 cal. Julij, 1649. f. 148^{ab}.
49. Verses "Uppon the death of the Lord Hastings. Herc stay, teares, untill these obsequies." (10 l.) 148^b.

"These two copies are printed amongst other Elegies:" namely artt. 48, 49.

50. "Epigramma instar hecatombes in obitum—Henrici Domini Hastings filij primogeniti—Ferdinandi Comitis Huntingdonij" etc. quod Anglice "ROBERTUS MILLWARD IC. consultiss. scripsit," deinde "Ph. Kinder transtulit" in iambos. 149.
51. "In posthumum opus Johannis Bellomontij equitis aurati et baronetti, endecasyllabon." 150^b.
52. The same verses "On Sr Jo: Beaumonts poemes, translated from the elegant Latine copie of my learned freind P. Kynder," by J. J. 151^{ab}.

Both "These are printed before Sr. John Beaumonts poems." (1629, 80.)

53. "Horatius Anglicissans. To S. B. an invitation to a cupp of ale. Hor. Epist. 5. l. 1." 152^{ab}.
The passages imitated are written on 151^b and 152^b.
54. "For his much loveing, more beloved, most learned frend Mr P. Kynder." A translation of "Horace's ode to Phillis lib. 4. od. 11." By T. P. P. 153^{ab}.
55. "Of the Decay of Learning, a letter written in an exotick language to signior Giovanni Juncino, and metaphras'd into our moderne tymes:" by PH. KYNDER. 154—5.

"This is printed at ye latter end of my Surfeit, for Ed. Dod, Irvie-Jane 1636." The following seems an addition to it, about faults of clergymen in his days.

56. "The decay and contempt." 155^b.
57. "The Lathe of Leathe, or the cuntrimans garner of health, in way of an antiparode." 156—157^b.

This article contains observations on pretendedly specific medicines.

58. "The Periapt. A present opinion of amulets or plasters to be applyed to y^e wrist of y^e hand in agues, directed to y^e Lady M. N. and to be revised." 158.

"Vid. p. 176. the Quartan." sc. art. 71.

59. Remarks on moral and religious examples taken from the Old Testament, on drunkenness, swearing, the sabbath, and on Christian liberty. "By a Christian." 159—161^b.

60. "The game of astragalls alias straglers." 162.

61. "Syllabus diplomatum, et synchronismus" familiae de Kynder, ab anno 5 Ric. II. ad 20 Hen. VII. 163^b.

62. De "Genealogia" auctoris, summarium quoddam. 164^{ab}.

63. Pedigree of the family of Kynder, from the fourteenth century to the author's time (born in 1597, living in 1656); also of the family of Oxspring. 165—6.

64. "Partium columnæ nomenclatura." 166^b.

65. Genealogiæ mythologicae deorum et heroum, ex Ovidii fabulis deductæ et dispositæ. 167—170.

66. "The Aqua-vitæ bottle, or Letters expostulatorie," written by KYNDER to noble persons, reminding them of their promises and engagements, and seeking relief in his misfortunes. 171—3.

(1) To the Marquis of Dorchester. (Sept. 1654.) 171.

(2) To the Countess of Huntingdon. 171.

(3) "To my Lo: Loughborough." 171^b. See art. 78.

(4) "To — y^e Lo: Lisle one of the keepers of y^e greate seale of England." 172.

(5) To the Lord Chief Justice Hale. 172.

(6) To Lady Sarah Houghton. (Jan. 1653.) 172^b.

(7) To his "Landlord George." 172^b.

67. Letter "to the hon^{ble} y^e Ladie Sherley" about his services to her late husband Sir Robert. ("Wilston — 58.") 173^b.

68. Letter "To Mr. Cotton, at Beresford" about the name of Quintan, and Cotton's book of Stoic philosophy. ("Wilston — 59.") 174.

69. Letter "To Mr. Dorrell at Retford," containing censures of the steganography of Trithemius. ("Wilston 7^{ber} — 58.") 174—5.

At the end is "L: Aston's character" or cypher.

70. "Of rectifying cronologie by eclipyses, and of y^e Julian period." 175^{ab}.

It seems to be the preface to art. 73.

71. Of "The quartan ague:" namely—"The apparatus—the cure"—and "the result of all the readings." 176—8.

72. "The yard cube;" or experiments of weights and measures. 179—180.

73. "The Cronologie" of remarkable events and persons, from the creation of the world to A. D. 1600 and odd; in centuries. 181—4.

74. "De lue Scotica observatio antiparodica," in epistola ad Doctorem quendam. ("An. 1647.") 184^b—5.

75. "Of the poud^r of sympathy," in a letter "To R. W. J." ("March 1660, Wilston."); with a postscript. 185—7, 189^b.

In this curious letter Sir Kenelm Digby's quack-medicine and many other are exploded.

76. "This is to be added and inserted to y^e Surfeit, concerning mercuric." 187^b.

See artt. 55 and 84.

77. "De Astrologia, ad D. Sar: Stan:" epistola PH. KINDER, de fine suorum experimentorum. (13 cal. Aug. 1629.) 188.

78. "The proeme of y^e Lord Loughborough's patent" of creation; in Latin. 188^b.

At f. 172 Kinder has written this note under a letter to his Lordship. "I was employed at Oxford to draw his LPS patent for Barronie, and to be an agent for all other affaires at court:" but all for nought! A complete copy of it is in No. 832, art. 76.

79. "A copie [of the form of a patent] for legitimation," in Latin. 189.

80. Letter from CHARLES COTTON, about contributing money toward the printing of a book written by Kinder. (8 Nov. 1661.) 190.

81. "The Historie of Darby-shire by PHILIPP KYNDER. To the nobilitie, gentrie, and commons respectively of Darby-shire, the Author dates, deerees, and dedicates this his prolusion and future historie." 190^b—204. Additions or "Insertions." 208—10^b.

82. "This epistle [in Latin was] prefixt before my Silvia, a Latin comedie or pastorall, translated from y^e Archadia, written at 18 yeers of age." 205^{ab}.

83. Tables for "Dialls by logarithimical calculation for Nottingham and Darby:" with a short letter "To G: B." charging him to use this "infallible and expeditious" method. 206^{ab}.

84. "The syllabe of names and sciences mentioned and censured in my Surfeite, printed for Edw: Dod at y^e Gun in Ivy-lane. 1656." 207^a.

85. "Vectis avectus Apocrypharum." 207^b.

86. "The extempore:" or a way of observing the exact time of an event by night or day. 210^{ab}.

No. 789.

A thick and wide folio volume, consisting of many quires of stout paper, except the first, the seventh (ff. 120—138^b), and the last quire, which are of vellum; amounting to 377 leaves, including the first which is not numbered, and f. 22* which is blank. All the MSS., or distinct portions composing this volume, except the fourth, were written in the XVth century, by different hands.

At the beginning are these original notes—

"Volo istum librum remanere in Registro

C. HEREFORD."

"Donatus est hic liber per reverendum in Christo patrem et dominum, dominum Carolum* divina permissione Hereford' episcopum, officio Registrarij episcopi Hereforden' ea intencione et voto quod semper penes officium Registrarij, absque alienatione ejusdem remaneat, teste David Walker dicti reverendi patris Registrario.

DAVID WALKER."

* Carolus Boothe consecratus in episc: Hereford. 30 Nov. 1516. 8. II. 8." (W. Dugdale.) pag. 1.

I. Exercitia Notarialia: scilicet—

- (1) The 8 first lines of five instruments (both Latin and English), having the first line of each written in tall flourished letters. f. 1—3.
- (2) An Alphabet of proper names, showing the form of every letter as a flourished capital. 3^b—4.
- (3) Three Alphabets of small letters. 4^b.
- (4) "Carmina differentialia. Est letus gaudens set morte[m] dicito letum." (40 vv.) 5^a.

*II. I. CATONIS disticha, Latine; cum versione Gallica cuique subjecta, et prologo sic inc. Caton fu preux chevalier et sage homme, Maint bon conseil en la cite de Romme. 6—19^b.

This last paragraph is a specimen:—

"Miraris verbis nudis me scribere versus
Hec brevitatis sensus fecit conjungere binos.
Caton finit qui fu sages et preux
Ses nobles vers acompla deulx et deulx
Mais je feure qui nescay le fer batre
En ce dittie en ay fait de deulx quatre."

2. Forty-eight sentences of sundry Sages, expressed in short stanzas in French. 20—1^c.

The first is—

"I Nest pas sire de son pais
Qui de ses hommes est lais
Bien doit estre sire clames
Qui de ses hommes est ames. CATON."

This article is written in columns. The last line of a short epilogue is—"Je me veul avoir autler soudaier. Explicit."

III. A Formulary of all kinds of Letters, political, civil, and military, passing under the royal seals of France; in the reign of Charles VI. or VII. ff. 22—42.

This MS. contains more than a hundred Precedents. The first leaf having been cut out, it begins imperfectly. F. 32 is blank. The last title is, "Commissio a certain Reformateurs."

*IV. "Liber abbreviatus, exclusis quampluribus et diversis scripturis et literis clausis ex[h]ortatorijs, dominis Regibus et nonnullis magnatibus et dominis directis, super gestis per R. patres dominos P. ARCHIEPISCOPUM RAVENNATEM et G. EPISCOPUM CARPENTORATENSEM, Sedis apostolice Nuncios ad Francie et Anglie regna pro tractatu pacis inter dominos Reges prosequendo destinatos; retentis effectualibus literis, punctis, responsionibus, et vijs, ut sequitur." 43—119^b.

In this valuable original MS (written in a foreign hand, in the latter part of the XIVth century) are comprized all the correspondence and documents, chiefly in French, that passed during the negotiations of these Nuncios, from the end of the year 1374 to the beginning of 1376; interspersed with connective historical notices of the transactions. It consists of three quires of paper, fairly written within wide margins; and the title of each document is written either above it or in the margin.

V. I. "Confirmacio Treugarum per Regem Franc. Carolum V. cum Rege Ricardo II., per literas "Don' a Paris le .ix. jour de Mars lan de grace

Mil trois cens quatre vins et quinze, et de n're regne le xvj^e." (1395.) 120—7.

On f. 127^b is copied, by another antient hand, the preamble of a letter of "A. permissioe divina L. Episcopus" appointing a deputy or commissary.

2. "Littere [Cordelier de Griesme, et Johannis Courtecuisse] commissariorum Regis Francie super treugis usque ad 1^m diem Maij a^o D'ni m^occcc^{mo} decimo." 128—131^b.

"Donnes a Paris" (etc.) 17 Sept. 1408. Compare Rymer's Fœdera, VIII. 555—9.

The following note is interposed with the same ink as the marginal notes. "Et au mesme le temps feurent pris et affermez treues adurres come dess' en et par tout le duchie de Guyene et la marche de Picardie des le rivier de Somme jusques a la meer et en icelle compris la ville de Gravelynghes et le pais de Westflandres jusques a la ville de Nuport &c' de lesquelles trienes sont conserveurs chevalers Jehan de Hangest cappitain de la ville de Boloingne, David de Brimen, et Jehan de Manneville escuier, et chescun de eulx ensemble on par parties."

3. "Consimiles treugæ in partibus Picard." per eosdem ordinatæ. (Parisijs, 28 Sept. 1408.) 131^b—2.4. Eorundem literæ de eisdem treugis, et de tractatu super matrimonio inter Henricum principem et dominam Katharinam Franciæ. (Parisijs, eodem die.) 132^{ab}.

Neither of these documents appears in Rymer's Fœdera.

5, 6. Two letters (in French) from Henry IV. to the Duke de Berry, preparatory to a treaty with the French King. (Greenwich, 1 March, 1409. *) 132^b—3—3^b.

* The year is found by comparing a document in Rymer's Fœdera (VIII. 571) dated 3 March, 1409; the second of these articles alone being dated, and that without the year.

7. "Confirmatio regia literarum Comitum Rutland et Marescalli, ac W. Lescope Camerarii, super tractatu et concordia maritaggi domini R. nuper Regis, et Isabelle filie Adversarii Franc." (Paris, 9 Mars, 1395.) 134—8^b.

This confirmation is dated "Donne en n're Paloy de Westminster" (etc.) 9 May, 1396. Rymer has published the French King's ratification of the counterpart of this convention, dated 11 March, 1395, in the Fœdera, VII. 820—832.

VI. Acta in conventionione inter Thomam Comitem Saresbur. cæterosque Regis Angliæ legatos, et alios ex parte "Dalphini de Vienna Regentis Franciæ," apud villam Alenconii, 10 Nov. 1418; in quorum fine nomen subscripsit "Ric' Caudray premissorum actorum scriba et notarius." 139—146.

Published by Rymer from this MS., under the title "Actorum in tractatibus Alenconii habitis Diarium," and with this reference, "Ex antiquo Cod. MSS. infra Bibl. Ashmol. Oxon. f. 789" (for 'num. 789, f. 139'), in the Fœdera, IX. 632—645.

*VII. Reverendi et celeberrimi viri THOMÆ BEKYNTON, LL. D. Regi Henrici VI. a secretis, ac deinde Bathoniensis et Wellensis Episcopi, Registrum Privatium, Epistolas tum amicitiae et rerum privatarum, tum negotiorum politicorum et ecclesiasticorum agendorum, causa scriptas, Itinerarium ejus in Vasconiam*, et alia ad historiam Anglicam spectantia documenta, comprehendens; cum præmisso Indice. ff. 147—359.

This MS. forms more than half of the bulk of the volume: it consists of '198' leaves (beginning at that now marked f. 165), numbered by the original writer; beside 18 leaves at the beginning (147—164), the first of which is of vellum, and which contain the following articles.

(1) De tribus monasteriis a Rege Henrico V. fundatis, historiola. 147^b.

* (2) "Littera Regis Edwardi iij^{ci} de sui expeditione in Franc.," in qua "Bellum de Cresey" narratur, Gallice, ad Thomam Lucy militem. (Calais, 3 Sept. 1346.) 148^{ab}.

* (3) Narratio Gallica, in qua "Bellum factum quondam apud Poyters, per Principem Anglie" relatam est: inc. Fait a remembre que le Prince se parti de Burdeux lendemain de saint Johan en August, lan de n'r sr Mille cccxj. 149^a.

Ending thus—des quelz furent iij homes darmes.

(4) Johannis Archiepiscopi Ebor. "Mandatum super breve regio post bellum de Poitiers, pro processione in provincia Ebor. per clerum et populum fienda." (Westm. 10 et 12 Oct. 1356.) 149^b.

The King's writ (giving an account of the battle) to the Abp. of Canterbury, is printed in Rymer's Fœdera, V. 869—70.

(5) Principis Arthuri ad Ricardum Episcopum Exon. literæ, præsentantis Ricardum Martin monachum S. Andraei de Tywardreith, ad ejusdem ecclesie prioratum, post resignationem Walteri Barnecott ultimi prioris. (Beaudeley, 21 Aug. 12 Hen. VII.) 150^a.

This article is by a later hand. The Index, which occupies six others of these first leaves, is by the same hand as the MS. itself.

Index sive Calendarium, titulos eorum exhibens, quæ in Registro sequenti comprehensa sunt, a folio primo usque ad fol. '159.' (ff. 165—339.) f. 151—6^b.

After one blank leaf occur the following articles, which are not described in this Index.

(6) "Le pedegre Descotz. Maucolm Roy Descotz print unge femme Sainte Margarete." 158.

Ending—et de Henry, Joh'n de Hastings. This descent of one of the claimants of the Scottish crown, is not contained in the Great Roll of Scotland among the others.

(7) "Conventio et finalis concordia inter Reges Ang. . . . et Scotorum. Hee est conventio." 158^{ab}.

This is the convention between King William of Scotland

* The title of this article is thus set down in the Index at f. 151^b.—"Itinerario spectabilis et egregij viri M' T. de B. Secretarij regij in causa matrimoniali in Vasconiam laboranti, cum copijs diversarum tum ex parte Regia, tam ei quam suis consodaliibus, tum per Comitum Armaniae tumque per M' J. de Batuto consiliarium dicti Comitum destinatarum, ut patet in folijs 10. 11. 12. 13. 14. 15. 16. 17. 18. 19." A translation of this valuable historical document has been published by Sir Harris Nicolas, under the title of "A Journal by one of the suite of Thomas Becketon, afterwards Bishop of Bath and Wells, during an embassy to negotiate a marriage between Henry VI. and a daughter of the Count of Armagnac, A. D. MDCCCLXII." (London, 1828, 8vo); in which work may be found an account of the life and literary remains of Bish. p. Becketon.

and Henry II, which is printed in the Fœdera (New Edition), I. 31—2, and again at p. 770, in the Great Roll of Scotland. The witnesses are omitted here.

(8) "Appunctuamentum et limitacio super adventu Regis Scocie ad summonicionem R. Anglie ad curiam suam in Anglia. Anno ab incarnatione Domini Mill'mo centesimo nonagesimo quarto." 158^b—9.

This is a historical passage relating to the charter granted by Richard I., which is printed in the Fœdera (New Ed.), I. 62—3.

(9) "Breve regium de scaccario, certis religiosis personis, ad infrascripta annotandum in cronicis." (Westm. 9 Julij, 1291.) 159^{ab}.

The Submission of the Competitors for the Scottish crown to the judgement of Edward I., and their temporary grant of the crown to him, are herein recited: they are printed in the Fœdera (New Ed.), I. 755.

(10) Ten Alexandrine couplets, in French, relating to the death of Edward I: beg. Qui est la pierre de Escosc vous die pour verite. 160.

* (11) "Ung lettre transmiz de la bataille de Durresme de par Thomas Sampson a sez amiz. Treschiers seigneurs amiz et compaignons." 160^{ab}.

(12) "Amortizacio baronie et manerii de Coldyngham per [Edgarum] Regem Scocie, ex licencia R. Angl. superioris domini sui facta" ecclesie Dunelmensis. 161.

This charter is mentioned in the Great Roll of Scotland, in the Fœdera (New Ed.), I. 771.

(13) "Confirmacio jurium Scocie, superioritate R. Anglie reservata," in literis Davidis Regis Scotorum. (Perth, 2 Junij, anno 1.) 161^{ab}.

(14) "Alia confirmacio, superioritate ut supra reservata," per Robertum Regem Scotorum. (31 anno 1.) 161^b.

(15) "Obligatio [Davidis] Regis Scocie de tenendo illud regnum per legium homagium et fidelitatem de Rege Angl." (1 Nov. anno 5.) 161^b.

(16) "Restitutio Comitum de Athelles judicati super prodicione cum legitima allegancia illius aliter adjudicati;" per Robertum Regem Scotorum. (Scone, 31 Oct. anno 1.) 161^b—2.

(17) Ejusdem "Alia confirmacio super obligatione ac repeticione ejusdem, cum treugis imperpetuum observandis inter regna." (Dunde, 31 Dec. anno 1.) 162.

(18) Ejusdem "Restitutio alia pro Johanne Grame Comite de Menteth, ut supra." (Scone, 3 Apr. anno 1.) 162^{ab}.

On the next leaf are only two or three heraldic notes by a modern hand. The following article begins imperfectly, a leaf having been lost which preceded that on which it appears.

(19) Epistola Regis Henrici VI. ad Prælatum quendam, pro recuperatione navis a piratis captæ et ad montem S. Michaelis prope Britanniam avectæ. (Windsoræ, 18 Feb. 1437—8.) 164.

(20) Notulæ de Petro Greneslade filio Andree de G., et Johanne Hadham, et Ricardo Bolton, in Abbatiam de Tavistoke missis (8 Edw. III.,

- 4 Ric. II., et 3 Hen. IV.) ad pensiones ibi recipiendas. 164.
- (21) Nomina senescaliarum in ducatu Aquitaniæ; et quedam de dominiis Domini de la Breto, Comitis Armagniaci, et Comitis Fusi, in Gallia. 164^b.
- (22) "Coloures in armes.—Metal.—Diversite in armes, amonge brothren." Also the badges or supporters of Audeley, Darcy, Beamont, Morley, the Earl of March, 'Owenus,' Bardolf, and Seymour. 164^b.
- (23) Forms of letters of protection under the privy seal, in Latin and in French. 164^b.

One was for W. S. dominum de M., and the other for J. Atw. They are both dated 5 June, 20 Ric. II.

* * The contents of this compilation or Register are so exceedingly numerous, that they cannot be enumerated in the present work: the reader must therefore be referred to the above-mentioned Index for their titles. It must be observed that this MS. differs wholly from that "compilation" by Bishop Beckington, of which MSS. are in the British Museum and at Lambeth, and a transcript is contained in No. 1114, xi.

VIII. 1. Calendarium ecclesiasticum et astronomicum, pro quatuor cyclis. 360—2^b.

This calendar is neatly written on vellum, in a small text hand of the beginning of the XVth century, and has gilt capitals. Two months are set on each page, and the column of festivals is in the middle of each between the tables. The canon is art. 8. In the latter part of this MS. each page is divided into four smaller pages.

2. Volvella solis et lunæ, integra. 363.
See the last note on No. 191.
3. De dominio signorum, cum pictura*. 363.
* Very much like to that in No. 391, v. f. 9
4. Regula inc. Tabula docens quis sit annus bisextilis, habet sic cognosci: cum ipsa tabula. 363^{ab}.
Same as No. 391, v. art. 2.
5. Regula inc. Secuntur figure eclipsisium ubi supra quamlibet figuram ponitur tempus principii eclipsis: cum figuris eclipsisium solis et lunæ nitide depictis. 63^a, 63^b—4^b.
6. Colores urinarum. 364^b.
A circular drawing exactly like that in No. 391, v. f. 10: compare also the following article with f. 8^b of that MS.
7. Homo venarum: cum descriptionibus. 365.
8. "Tabula ad sciendum quis planeta regnet omni hora inequali diei [et noctis] incipiendo diem ab ortu solis." 365^b.
9. Præfatio seu canon calendarii: inc. Ad honorem Dei et virginis. 365^b.
In fine—"et 15 minuta gradus equalent minuto hore. Explicit canon Kal[e]ndar." This differs considerably from the prefaces in No. 5, and No. 391, v.
10. Schema orbium, elementorum, et planetarum. 365^b.
11. Regulæ de coloribus urinarum: inc. Urina rufa significat. 366.
See art. 6. This and the two following articles are the same as No. 391, artt 5, 3, 6.
12. Canon de sanguinis minutione: inc. Minucio alia fit. 366.

13. Canon de dispositione hominis secundum cursum naturæ: inc. Sciendum est quod si aliquis nascatur. 366^b.

At the end is written "Edwardns Threlkelde legum doctor jure me possidet. Teste Roberto Commaudre." His name is also on the margin of f. 138^b.

14. "Spera Pictagore," tabula fatidica. 367^a.

The next page is blank, and the eight following leaves are written by another hand.

15. Tabula motus solis pro annis 1381—1509; cum regula cujus est rubrica—"Qui voluerit per tabulam præcedentem verum motum solis ad meridiem universitatis Oxonie quolibet die promptissime invenire: Sciit quantum annus pro quo querit" etc. 368—9, 369^b.
16. "Tabula equacionis medij motus solis" pro annis 1381—1621. f. 369^b.
17. Tabula loci solis quolibet die per integrum quadriennium. 370—1^b.
18. Tabulæ duæ "complementum fractionum horarum" ostendentes, supra 365 dies, pro annis 1429—1824. f. 372^b—3.
The running titles of these tables have been cut off, except the lower part of some words.
19. "Tabula litterarum dominicalium secundum ordinem creacionis mundi:" per 56 cycla 33 annorum. 373^b.
An erased copy partly appears at f. 372^a.
20. "Ista tabula equacionis calendarij, anno Christi 1432 composita per simplicem sacerdotem aliquater in arte astronomie informatum, docet equare stabilire et confirmare calendarium nostrum ad cursum solem." etc. 371.
21. Tabula annorum "expansorum et collectorum R. M." ("secundum Alfons.") et aliæ tabellæ quedam. 374^b.
The last leaf (375) is vacant.

No. 790.

A fine folio MS., written on vellum, in a large text-hand of the XVth century; beautified with rubrics, and an illuminated initial letter. It contains 221 leaves; including 5 at the beginning, 6 before the index, and one after it, which are blank, and not numbered.

JOHANNIS MONACHII GLASTONIENSIS, Historia Monasterii sui, a prima fundatione ad annum circiter 1400, continuata ad annum 1493; capitulis 146. (ff. 189.)

This history was published by Hearne in 1726, from a MS. belonging to Charles Lord Bruce, collated with this MS., which supplied the first leaf (that was wanting in the other), and some variations. The editor thus notices it in the beginning of his preface. "Quum vero hunc codicem vetustatis adorandæ in paucis mancum luxatumque esse deprehenderim, ea omnia supplenda esse curavi ex alio egregio MS. (membrano itidem) in Museo Ashmoleano adservato, (mihi que ab ejusdem Musei custode dignissimo ac pererudito, viro in re mathematica proculdubio versatissimo, Johanne Whitesidio, porrecto) e quo et Bruceani loca aliquot castigavi, quemadmodum et alia itidem emendavi e Monastico Anglicano, opere illo immortalis."

Vide quoque Tanneri Bibl. Brit. p. 434, et Wilkinsii præfat. in eandem, p. xlv.

The following documents are written in a small character of equal age with the foregoing history: many of them are subscribed with the Prior's name, which occurs also in sundry places of this MS., as at f. 48^b, 95^b, 96, 169, 174, 177, 185^b.

The last charter was left unfinished at the foot of the page: 13 blank pages follow.

Index historiæ Glastoniensis alphabeticus, quem fecit "THOMAS WASON' monachus Glastonie;" ad capitula referens. 202—9.

On f. 209 is written this note—"Hunc librum nobilissimus D. D. Richardus Tycheburn eques et baronettus dedit f. Paulo Robinsonio, Julij 15. 1651. Sic testor Hen. Tichborne fil. et heres dicti Richardi." At the end of the history (f. 189^a) is the following note also—"Hunc librum a nobili viro Richardo Tycheburn equite et baronetto sibi datum, Bibliothecæ San Gregorianæ Duaci inscripsit f. Paulus Robinson Julij 15. 1651." Although thus inscribed, the intended gift seems not to have been carried into effect: for on the first page it appears to have come into the possession of "E. Ashmole, 18 Nov. 1673."

No. 791.

A folio MS. of the XVth century, with painted capitals. It contains 84 leaves of vellum and paper, in the proportion of one sheet of the former to two of the latter material. The first leaf is lost: it is also imperfect at the end, and stained by damp.

1. A Chronicle of the Kings of Britain or England, from Brutus to Henry VI. in old English prose. 1—59^b.

The first words are—[Ju]pitere somme y begetenne of Electra. þe whiche Dardanus by strengþe of armys gate þat regione and reynye fyrste þere in. The reign of William I. begins thus—Willyam þe Duke of Normandy. comynge to Londone was y crownyd kynge at Westmyster. It ends with the death of James I. of Scotland (1436), thus—A leyate of þe poopys beyng þat tyme in Scotteland. as it was seyde. bare þe kynngys scherte wyþ hym. and schewyd it to þe poope.

A possessor of this MS. in the sixteenth century (whose marginal notes are numerous) wrote over the first page (it being then imperfect)—"I thinke this cronycle be named Will'm's de Regibus." See No. 1139, iv. art. 2. It is one of those histories called BRUTE, but different from No. 793.

2. A Chronicle of the Emperors and Popes; thus beginning—"Ihesu cryste was bore in þe .ij. and .xl. zere of Octovyan þat was þe fyrste Emproure of Rome. in Bethlem a cyte of Jude of þe mayde Marye. in a sondaye atte nyghte. he was oure hystec Bysshoppc. And he levyd in þys worlde .xxxij. ʒere. and .iiij. monethys." 60—84^b.

The last line is this—Lando was B. of Rome .vj. M. and be B. cessed xxxj. dayes.

No. 792.

A folio volume containing seven MSS. on paper, bound together: the three last are in large quarto.

I. "Tom-Tell-Troth: or a free discourse touching the murmurs of the times directed to his Ma^{tie}: by way of an humble advertisement anno D^{nj} 1621." ff. 3—57^b.

This fair transcript seems to have been made by Ashmole. A half-title is on f. 2, and a blank leaf at each end.

II. Notes of armorial bearings in churches, manor-houses, and other places in the county of Norfolk, taken from 26 July, 1575, to 10 Sept. 1577. ff. 1—71.

The first four leaves of this valuable MS. are much torn: it is fairly written in a large hand. On the first page is a list of the places visited; and on f. 1^b is a note of a grant of arms "per Thomam Hawley alias Clareuseulx Roy darmes;" from which it was supposed by Lhuud (in a list of the contents at the beginning of this volume) that he was the author. Some genealogical and topographical notes occur; and at f. 41^b—2 are four inscriptions of the Spelman family from Narborough church. The arms are only blazoned. Ff. 71^b—86 are blank.

III. "The Prince of NICHOLAS MACHIAVELL citizen and secretarie of Florence, dedicated to the noble prince Laurence sonne of Peter de Medices. Translated oute of Italian into English." ff. 40.

After the dedication are the titles of 25 chapters; some of which are written with green ink. This is a fair copy, of the time of James I.: f. 19 is left blank, but nothing is omitted.

IV. "Lectura THOME BAUDE de interiori Templo, collectione et accommodatione RICHARDI ADAMS, septimo Jan: A^o: 1612: rescript." ff. 48.

This fair transcript, with wide ruled margins, seems to have been made by Ashmole from the MS. in No. 749, xiii: but it only reaches to f. 40^b of that copy, the last five pages not having been transcribed; ff. 49—53 were left blank for that purpose.

V. "Archicamerarij Angliæ" a conquestu Angliæ ad regnum R. Elizabethæ, studio et manu THOME TALBOTTI collecti. ff. 2—5.

The title only is on the first leaf: ff. 5^b—9^b are blank. Some of the original gleanings whence this little book was compiled may be seen in No. 799, ii.

VI. 1. "Recueil des antiquitez, fondacions et singularitez des plus celebres Villes du Royaume de France." 1—11^b.

2. "A true collection as well of all the Kings Ma^{ties}. offices and fees in any [of] the courts at Westminster, as of all the offices and fees of his Ma^{ties} honorable howshould, together with all fees pertaining to captaines and souldiors having charge of castles, bulwarks, and fortresses within his realme of England; and like wayes y^e offices and fees of his highnes honorable houses, parkes, forests, and chasses, within the said realme." 12—31^b.

This curious article begins with "The placeinge of estates and degrees of nobility in England," and a list of "The nobility of England according to their authority and degrees." The two last barons here named, are Knevet and Clifton, who were created in 1607 and 1608. Compare No. 824, xxii. art. 1.

3. Extracts "Out of M. ROBERT ABBOT'S answer to D. Bishops defence of M. W. Perkins." 32—36.

On an outside leaf (f. 37) are two English sentences, elegantly written.

VII. 1. "A presentment made to the Judges at Alesbury in Buckinghamshire," 12 March, 1641; about dissensions in religion. f. 1^a.

2. "Scotiæ descriptio. First for their cuntrey I must confesse it is too good for them that possesse it." 2—4.

The same as No. 47, art. 1, except the first paragraph, which is here omitted. It is ascribed to BEN JONSON in Lhuud's short list of contents at the beginning of this volume. It seems to be a transcript by Ashmole in his younger days.

No. 793.

A folio MS. fairly written on vellum in the XVth century, with painted capitals, and a large golden letter at the beginning. The two first leaves are torn.

"Here begynnethe a booke in Englishe tong callid Brute of England or the Cronycles of England, compilyng and tretying of the seid land. ¶ Howe it was firste a wildrenesse and alle for lette. and no thynge therynne. but wylde bestes and fowles." (etc.) From Brutus to Henry V.; in 265 chapters. ff. 1—148^b.

The 260th chapter is "How kyng Richarde spoused Dame Isabelle the kynges doughtire of Fraunce" etc. (f. 129^b), and five chapters follow, which are not numbered. This copy ends at the siege of Rouen (6 Hen. V.), with these words—"and atte every gate .ij. or .iiij. M^o of goode mennys bodies armed: and manfully countred wythe our Englishe men. Heeve endethe the Booke of Cronycles." The latter part of this history is very full, and the affairs relating to London are particularly treated of.

At the end is the autograph of the person who wrote many notes on the margins, thus—"Nic: Strangwayes boke." F. 148 is blank, except that a rhyming couplet is written on its second page, beg. His diebus jam peractis; which is also in No. 750, f. 102^b.

No. 794.

A large folio volume containing four MSS. bound together. The first is an ugly but most valuable book, consisting of quires and sheets of vellum of unequal sizes, to the number of 202 leaves, written at different times and by different hands.

"ACTA CAPITULARIA" Decani et Canonicorum Ecclesiæ Cathedralis LICHEFELDENSIS, a 10 cal. Maii, 1321, ad 8 id. Julii, 1384. f. 1—201^b.

Most curious information on ecclesiastical matters may be found in these records, and in the early part of which are some historical memoranda interspersed among the acts of the chapter. Many documents are recited at length, one of which is a detail of the proceedings in the—"Concilium celebratum London' per Cant' Archiepiscopum et suffraganeos, die veneris proxima post conversionem sancti Pauli, anno Domini Millesimo CCCmo vicesimo octavo." 42^b—3^b.

The first quire was written, from 1321 to 1328, by Robert Bernard, vicar of Baukewell. ff. 1—18. Thenceforth to f. xcvi. of the antient foliation (or f. 89) was written by H. Ideshale (whose signature is at f. 119 and 168^d), from 1328 to 1341: of which ff. 45—50 were lost before Ashmole's time. The next acts (ff. 91—146) begin in 1355; those of the fourteen years foregoing, having been lost before these parchments were first collected into one book, which seems to have been done in or little before the time of Henry VIII. On the back of the first leaf of this part (f. 90^b), which otherwise would have been blank, is written an extract from the "Placita apud Westmon' coram—Justiciariis domini Regis in banco," an. 3 Edw. II. In this part also, are inserted four parchments, viz.—(1) A note of the appearance of John Brian, prebendary of Berkeswich, before the chapter, about a debt; numbered f. 110, 115. (2) "Acta Capitularia mens' Januar' anno d'ni M^{mo}. ccc^{mo}. xx^{mo}. octavo," f. 118; which is the original draught copied at f. 21 et seq. (3) Literæ Roberti episcopi Cov. et Lich. quibus Johannes de Brnham et Tho. de Colerhale vicarii Lich. absoluti fuerunt a sententia excommunicationis, ob interfectionem Joh. de Greyby capellani: cum nota quod lecte fuerunt in capitulo 17 Feb. 1383. f. 119. (4) "Taxacio seu inquisitio facta et capta super defectibus domorum" Jacobi le Walsh nuper canonici, 1368. (vix legibilis.) 120.

After f. 146, fifty leaves have been lost; the antient numbering of that leaf being cararia, and of the following, cc: they contained the acts of more than four years. From f. 147, the acts were recorded by William Knyght, a notary, whose appointment to be chapter-clerk is the first entry, 2 Nov. 1369. Many pages are very dim, and hard to be read. Attached to f. 168^b, by a knot of vellum, is an indented letter of information by John de Harrewode, stating that his vicarage of Wynwyke was seized by Adam Davenport, with the intention of making it a rectory: it is indorsed with proceedings in chapter thereon, 4 cal. Jan. 1377. The reverse of the last leaf contains the "Revoecacio cujusdam ordinationis facte per presidem capituli cum alijs canonicis de capitulo" in 1381, revoked in 1398.

There are some extracts from this MS. in No. 864, art. 17.

II. Fragmentum Registri ROBERTI, PRIORIS Ecclesie Christi CANTUARIENSIS, a 4 non. Aprilis 1341 ad 1348. ff. 207—222.

These 16 leaves are bound together confusedly; but their antient numbers show their due order: they are ff. lix—lx (numbered in this volume 218—9), lxxij—lxx (207—14), lxxij—v (215—7), lxxvj—viii (220—2). The documents that this valuable fragment contains, were written in their respective times by different hands.

It is remarkable that such MSS. as this, the next but one in this volume, and the Cottonian MS. Galba E. IV., should have escaped from the general collection of the Priory's registers, which are well preserved in the treasury of the Cathedral of Canterbury, and are very voluminous.

III. Regis EDWARDI IV. Charta, qua privilegia et immunitates Majori et Communitati civitatis Cantuarie concessit; data apud Westm. 2 Aug. anno regni sui primo. (1461.) ff. 223—9.

This MS. is a fair contemporary copy of the charter, now imperfect at the beginning (the first words are—et eiam de hostilitarijs et alijs), and consists of ten leaves of vellum, the last three pages of which are blank.

IV. Vita sancti Cadoci episcopi Beneventani. ff. 231—247.

This MS. was written in the XVth century, on paper: it is imperfect at both the beginning and the end. The first words are . . . Deus tuus plenum castellum tuum de animabus hominum; and the last—De laicis. Gornet. Guedgnon. Guedqui. Souus. Atdereq. Qui . . . From some antient MS. Lhud attempted to supply the beginning, of which he remarked "desiderantur 3 vel 4 paginae," and filled (very absurdly) the page 229^a at the end of the foregoing MS. The first words are—"Vita sancti Caradoci episcopi Beneventani. Incipit Prefatio in vita beatissimi Cadoci episcopi et martyris Beneventanæ civitatis. Quondam in quibusdam finibus Britannia."

V. "Incipit Registrum literarum emanantium sub sigillo communi [JOHANNIS VINCHE] PRIORIS et conventus Ecclesie Christi CANT' tempore vacationis post mortem bone memorie domini Simonis de Sudbury quondam Cant' Archiepiscopi qui obiit xviii kl' Julij anno D'ni Millesimo ccc^olxxxj^o apud Lond." Et per aliquot annos post electum successorem. ff. 248—265.

This important MS., closely written on vellum, is the original register which fills up a chasm in the Archiepiscopal Records at Lambeth.

No. 795.

Two folio MSS. neatly written, on paper, in the time of James I. The first contains 194 pages, beside two leaves at the beginning (bearing the autograph of Samuel Blunt) and ten blank leaves at the end.

I. 1. Calendarium Chartarum Regiarum de libera warena, feriis, et mercatis, concessis in comitatu Eboracensi, ab anno 4 Edw. I. ad 15 Edw. IV.

p. 1—14.

Prefixed is an index, intitled—"The Callender of the Patentees of mercates and free warrens, to whome they were granted." f. 2^a.

2. Calendarium Inquisitionum post mortem tenentium in capite, in comitatu Eboracensi, ab anno 28 Hen. III. ad 2 Ric. III. p. 17—183.

344.

Speech (of the Speaker?) on the state of the clergy and the power of the Bishops. 369.

"A messnage sent from ye Queenes Matie to ye house of Commons by Mr. Comptroller, Febr. ye 5th 1640." 375—6.

See also p. 300. Twelve blank leaves follow.

No. 796.

A thick folio MS. of the XVth century, written in columns, on 302 leaves of vellum, in a small text-hand; except the second and third books, and the first 25 chapters of the second book, which are in a smaller hand-writing. The capitals are painted: the first letter of the Index, the first page of the work, and some other places, are illuminated with gold and colors.

FRATRIS RANULPHI HIGDEN, monachi Cestrensis, historia Polychronicon dicta; cujus liber septimus amplam habet Continuationem ab anno 1357 ad annum 29 Henrici VI., per auctorem anonymum. ff. 10—302^a.

Index totius operis præmissus est alphabeticus. f. 1—8^d.

The initial letters of the 56 chapters contained in the first book, form this perpetual memorial of its author,—Presentem Cronicam compilavit frater Ranulphus Cestrensis monachus: which has been pointed out by Bp. Nicolson, but incorrectly set down by him. In the 45th chapter of the seventh book, the Continuator begins thus:—"et ne quis deinceps tales provisiones afferret: sub pena carceris et capitis interdicit. Usque huc scripsit R. Hoc etiam anno non Junij natus est regi Edwardo Edmundus apud Langley ex Philippa regina in festo translationis beati Thome Cantuar." f. 220^a. This continuation is longer than in any of the MSS. noticed by Bp. Tanner (p. 402): it ends with an account of the riots of Jack Cade, in these words—multi alij fuerunt perempti in diversis locis regni.

The extracts from this compilation, relating to British history, which were published by Dr. Gale (Oxford, 1691, fol. vol. 1. 179—287), were taken from the first six books, and reach only to the Conquest of England.

Some blank leaves have been cut out at the end of this MS.; two remain, on one of which are some Latin verses, etc. written by one Langton, and this note—"This booke was given by Mr Peetter Warborton the 9 of Januarye 1632." (303^b.) On f. 304 are the names of Henry Bryan Parker, John Bolmer, and John Bonham of Hackney. On a parchment leaf at the beginning of the volume is written, "James Stockes mans father is the treue and rightfull owner of this cronicle."

No. 797.

A small folio MS., consisting of 63 leaves (including 4 at the beginning and end), well painted, and written chiefly in the secretary-hand.

The Nobility of England, displayed, from the earliest times to the reign of Q. Elizabeth; in two parts—(1) the armorial bearings painted, (2) the succession of Peers, in the order of their creation.

On the first leaf are painted "The armes of the Britayne kinges first inhabitants of this realme," and of other dynasties of this country, and of its provinces. Ff. 2—3^b contain the arms of "Dukes in England after Wm Conqueror;" f. 4^a the "Marquises;" 5^b—13^b the "Earles;" 14^{ab} the "Viscontes;" and 15—26 the "Barons in England after Wm Conqueror." The last baron is "William West lord Laware," who was created in 1570. Each page contains nine shields superscribed with their titles. On f. 27^a are painted the arms and quarterings of Lord Howard of Effingham, K. G.; the next eleven pages are blank. The second part occupies ff. 33—58; beginning with "Dukes made in Kyng Edward the .3. tyme," and ending with Lord La Warr. The descendants or representatives of antient peers are usually noticed. The words—being ye heyres of Sr Edw. Belknapp, written against Lord Sudley at 55^b, by Lord Burleigh's hand, seem to show that he once possessed this MS. At the beginning is the autograph of "Steph. Pinkherst: 1657."

Bound with this MS. is a book in very small folio, printed from copper plates, containing the arms of foreign bishops, kings, and nobles; thus intitled—

"Insigel vnd Wappen Eines Fursichtigen Ersamen vnd weysen Raths vnd der Lohlichen Gemainen stats. Nurmberg. Anno 1555." (ff. 60—79.)

On the back of the second leaf (which contains the title) is the name of Elias Ashmole printed within a border, on a paper ticket.

No. 798.

A thin folio volume, bound in rough calf-leather, thus inscribed with ink, "Leicester & Darby sheire:" it contains 66 leaves, some of which are blank, and the first 15 were added by the writer of them.

- I. 1. JOHN VINCENT's drawings of the arms and seals of the town of Leicester (with the names of the Mayor and other officers then being), and of thirty-one coats of arms of the gentry, taken at the Visitation of Leicestershire in 1619. f. 1^b—6.
2. Letter from JO: VINCENT to "Mr. John Withye at ye—golden horse-showe in Fetter-lane," sending to him the "descent of Barret of Wimeswold" co. Leic. mentioning some news of the country, and desiring him to buy Hall's chronicle. (Caston, 16 Mar. 1639.) 7^{ab}.

This leaf is a quarto letter spread open: on the second page is the pedigree from the visitation of 1619 (or 1620), with an additional note that the heir, William Banet, had "mar' Margt: da: of . . . Savile of Oxton in com' Nott' 1639."

3. Pedigree of Smalley co. Leicester. (1619.) f. 8^a.

The earlier part of this pedigree contains copious notices from antient documents, and the coat of arms from a seal.

4. Large Pedigree of Harcourt, with the arms and quarterings. 10^a, 9^{ba}.

Some words have suffered by the cutting of the margins. The four following leaves (answering to ff. 3—6) are vacant.

5. The descent of Robert Eyre narrated. 15^a.

This leaf is written by a different old hand, and seems to have been the original statement from which the pedigree at f. 34 was drawn. It is the last of those prefixed to the original book, the first leaf of which is vacant.

- II. 1. The titles of NORROY FLOWER's Visitation-books of the counties of Durham and Northumberland in 1575, and of Derby and Nottingham in 1569: with the names of the Pedigrees therein recorded, as also in the visitation of Notts. in 1575. f. 17^{ab}.

2. "Hic Liber inchoatus est a ROBERTO GLOVERO Armorum Prosequutori vulgatori nomine Portcullis nuncupato, anno illustrissimæ reginæ Angliæ Elizabethæ undecimo, humanæ salutis anno 1569." (ff. 38.)

The few miscellaneous articles entered in this book, before it was taken by Glover into Derbyshire, or afterward, are marked with a star in the list of pedigrees given below.

"In this booke is conteyned the Visitaicon of the Countie of Derby, made Anno 1569, by WIL-LIAM FLOWER alias Norrey King of Armes, and in his company ROBERT G[LOVER] alias Portcullis then Pursuyvant of Armes and now Herald in anno 1570, by the name of Somerset." f. 18.

This title is followed by the forms (f. 18^{ab}) of the precept from the king of arms to the bailif of the hundred, for notifying the visitation (compare No. 804, i. p. 115), "Admonitio comparandi coram Comite Mariscallo Anglie in causa contemptus," and "A precept to the baylyes afor the desclayminge of those that usurpe the name and state of gent."

The following is a list of the Pedigrees, which are for the most part tricked in roundles; and the arms are tricked.

- * Quinacy and Aumarle. 19.
- * Inglethorpe, Grey de Codnor, and Wake. 19^b.
- "Cokeyn entryd." 20.
- * "Linea Leche de Chatesworth" et "Linea Vernon de Had-don." 20^b—1^b.

- * Clifforde, Vesey, and Bohun. 24^b—5.
- * Stanhope and Strellay. 25^b—6.
- † Flower. (This seems to have been added in 1581.) 26.
- * Bradburne entryd." 27—6^b.
- "Rolleston entryd." 27^b.
- † Freston of Altoftes in Yorkshire. (From the Visitation of 1581.) 28.
- * Nomina et tempora episcoporum Dunelmensium a conquestu ad annum 1575; et "Arma Christophori Baynbrig ep'i Dunolm' e sigillo" expressa. 28^b—9^b.
- * "The names of those that were attaynted by Parlement anno 13 Reginae Elizabethae." (1570—1.) 30^a.
- † Nevill de Ragnell et de Grove in com' Nottingham." (From the Vis. of 1575.) 30^b.
- "Rodes, de Staley Woodthorpe in com' Derby:" with the names of children born after the Visitation. 31.
- † "Griffith de Wichnor in com' Staffordiae. entryd." (1565.) 31^b.
- * "Obitus et discentiones antecessorum secundi Walteri Griffith militis, qui hanc tabulam fieri fecit .26. die Septembris anno domini .1511. anno r' Henrici .8. 3." 32^a.
- † "Wendisley of Wendisley in com' Derby." 32.
- "Columbell of Darley entryd." 32^b.
- * Fitzherbert. 33: also 33^b.
- * Arms of Faulcon co. Leic., Waldeschef co. Derb., Rydware co. Staff., and Cotton co. Cestr. 33.

It seems to belong to the next article.

- * "Excerpta ex veteri quodam scripto in custodia Henrici Bradshaw militis;" de possessoribus manerij de Boyleston, cum stemmate de Ridware, etc. 33^b.
- "Eyre of Highlowe entryd." 34.
- "Bradshaw entryd." 34^b.
- "Shalerosse entryd." 35.
- "Stafforde entryd." 35^b.
- "Gilbert alias Knyveton, entryd." 36.
- "Shakersley entryd." 37^b.
- * Wake: and the arms of Sir John Griffith, Sir Walt. Blunt, Sir Th. Gresley, Sir . . Wrotlesley, etc. 37.
- † "Gyrlington de Gyrlington in com' Richmond: per W. F. Norroy 1575." (Vis. in that year.) 37^b.
- "Pole de Radburne entryd." 38.
- † "Fenwike de Fenwike, in com' Northumbr." (From the Vis. in 1575.) 38^b.
- † Miners of Utoxator. 39.
- † Woodlonde juxta Utoxator: (co. Staff. 1569.) 39^b.
- "Fitzherbert of Somersall, entryd." 40.
- "Bagshaw of the Ridge, entryd." 40^b.
- "Leghe of Egginton, entryd." 41.
- "Nydeham of Thornset, or Nedham, entryd." 41^b.
- "Browne de Snelston, entryd." 42.
- "Beresforde of Bentley, entryd." 42^b.

This pedigree is cited, by the old foliation (f. 25^b, in Warton's Life of Sir Thomas Pope (1772, 8vo.), p. 183.

"Berd of Berd, entryd." 43.

"Bradbery of Ollersset, vel Olreset, entryd." 43^b.

"Radclif of Mellore, descended owt of the house of Ratclif of Ordsale in com' Lancastrie. entryd." 44.

"Harpur of Swarkaston, entryd.:" with quarterings also, tricked by John Vincent. 44^b.

"Franceys of Fornewerke, entred." 45.

The pedigrees here noted as "entered" are only 25 out of 44 named at f. 17^b; besides which, those of Zowche and Rodes are in that list. Those marked with a dagger do not belong to the Visitation of Derby in 1569.

III. Genealogical collections, by Sir RICHARD SAINT-GEORGE, Norroy King of Arms.

Written on some vacant pages of Glover's MS. before it came into John Vincent's possession. They are—

1. Abstracts of antient charters "Concerning the profe of Morton[s] descent, of Congulton in the county of Chester." 47^{ab}, 46^b.
2. Pedigree of Morton of Congulton. (1609.) 48^a.
3. Chartæ quatuor antiquæ abbreviatæ, quæ fuerunt "Mihi mutuat' a Thoma Birde de Overlokhaugh, 1611." 53^a.

From these documents was the following article chiefly composed, probably during the writer's Visitation of Derbyshire in that year. He visited Cheshire in 1609.

4. Pedigree of Coudale. (1611.) 53^b.
 5. ——— Birde, co. Derby. (1611.) 54^a.
 6. "A breife discours of the discentes and genealogies of all the Kinges and princes of England, from the conquest unto this day, collected out of the best and aproved authors by D. R." 61^{ab}.
- Unfinished, and partly in Sir R. Saint-George's hand.
On the last leaf but two, is—

JOHN VINCENT'S Index of the names in this MS. f. 64^{ab}.

Glover's foliation is herein referred to.

No. 799.

Two small folio MSS., fairly written on paper, in the time of Queen Elizabeth. The first consists of seven quires or lots of paper, to the amount of 146 leaves.

54. Five coats of arms tricked, as they were painted "In Barking in Mr Clarencieux house;" and fifteen coats of arms which were "In Barkyng church." 27^a, 27^b, 31^a.
- Two of these are the coats of 'Brygges' and 'Pyrton.' The arms of 'Ingham' are tricked on f. 26^b, as if from a seal.
55. "The petegree of the Danvers of Oxfordshire, descending to Sr Gefery Gate of Essex;" in narrative. 28—9.
- A sheet written by a different hand, and thus indorsed.
56. Collecta e recordis, sub nominibus Thwenge, Bavent, Morewike, et Ufford. 30^a.
57. Arma Baronis de Wemme; et stemma propagnis Willielmi Pantulf domini de Wemme. 30^b.
58. Certificate of the funeral of Thomas Barnes of Baron alias Alborough Hatch in the parish of Barking, esquire; who died in London, 29 June, 1573, and was buried at Barking, 7 July. 31^b.
- This is Glover's draught, written on the back of the sheet containing art. 54.
59. "Quæ habui ab Henrico de Ferrarijs;" viz., notes and description of a charter of Hugh Malbenc, with the arms and legend of the seal; also of a charter of Ranulph Earl of Chester and Lincoln, dated 1230. f. 32^a, 33^a.
- The writing of this sheet is unlike either Glover's or that of his friend Henry Ferrers of Baddesley.
60. Tituli 19 chartarum diversorum magnatum, cum depictis eorum insigniis e sigillis. 34—5.
61. Progenies Willielmi de Watevyle, cum armis; et stemma familiarum de Grigge, Wyncelow, Huntingdon, et Tyrell. 35^b—6.

69. Trium chartarum, R. Stephani, Hen. I., et Rogeri de Clare Com. Hereford, abbreviatio. 44^a.
70. "Præclaræ familie de Chaworth, antiquitas à Cadurcis nuncupatæ, Anglicas inter familias neuitquam postremæ, vera delineatio." (etc.),—labore et industria R. G[LOVER] alias Somerset Feclialis Regij. Anno 1581." 44^b, 45^a.

Two draughts of a long prefatory title, designed by Glover to be prefixed to a parvum volumen of family-history drawn from ancient evidences and records. On the back of the leaf (45^b) is largely ingrossed the name of Chaworth; and it seems that some of the contents of the present MS. were collected as materials for that purpose, especially the following article.

71. THOMÆ TALBOT collectanea e tabulis publicis, ad historiam familiarum de Cadureis seu Chaworth, Basset, et Deincourt, illustrandam præcipue, in gratiam Gloveri conscripta. 46—62.

Written with his own hand: the following 17 articles were also written on this quire (ff. 46—79) by Glover, except such as are expressly ascribed to his friend Talbot.

72. Charta R. Henrici II. Pagano de Monte Dublelli terram avi sui Patricii de Cadurcis concedens; et charta Pagani de Cadurcis monachis de Alba Domo facta anno 1270. f. 62^b.
73. "Origo familie de Chaworth" stemmate descriptus, cum insigniis. 63^a.
74. Inscriptio in tumulum Johannis Ormond, et Johannæ uxoris ejus, f. et b. Willielmi Chaworth, (qui obierunt 5 Oct. 1503, et 29 Aug. 1507;) "In ecclesia de Alfreton in com. Derby." Et insignia depicta "In orientali fenestra ecclesie de Alfreton in cancella ibidem." 63^b.
75. TALBOTI collecta de familia de Aylesbery. 64^{ab}.
76. Ejusdem stemmata familie de Keynes, cum collectaneis. 65—6.

Additions by Glover's hand are on the first page.

77. Ortus Roberti f. Will. de Alferton, e confirmatione pro Abbacia de Beauchief, 9 Edw. II. f. 60^b.
78. TALBOTI stemma familie "De Engaine." 67^a.
79. Chartæ 14 diversorum e fam. de Cadurcis, ecclesie S. Petri de Dunstaplia factis; et ea quæ "In margine Registri cartarum Prioratus prædicti de Dunstapl. genealogia illorum de Cadurcis sic exprimitur." Alia quoque charta Pagani de C. facta Johanni Crasset. 67^b—70^b.

80. TALBOTTI collectanea de familiis de Pabenh-am, Heriz, et Bret; cum additamentis (71^a, 72^a) per Gloverum. 71—3^b.
81. Charta Thomæ Chaworth mil. monasterio S. Thomæ de Bello Capite facta. 74^b.
82. Progenies Danielis de Tyddeswall, cum insigniis ejus. 74^b.

Both these articles seem to have been taken from the same source as the next.

83. Quamplurimarum chartarum tituli et excerpta "Ex Registro evidentiæ Abbatiæ de Bello-capite i. Beauchief." 74—6^b.
84. "Alfreton Baronia," seu stemma familiarum de Alfreton et Chaworth, cum insigniis. 77^a.

- II. THOME TALBOT e rotulis in Turri Londinensi servatis, Collectanea, ad rem genealogicam præcipue spectantia.
- This volume of Talbot's MS. Collectanea, and one in the Harleian library, No. 4010, have escaped the researches of Wood and Tanoer. (See Ath. Oxon., 4to. ed. t. 265.) He certainly was a most diligent peruser of the records in his custody and elsewhere, not only for matters touching his own family, but on all points of local, genealogical, and constitutional antiquities; and it is evident, by a comparison of the miscellanies of Glover (see art. 23, 62, 71, etc. of the first MS. in this volume) and other contemporaneous antiquaries, that he was equally liberal in communicating the fruits of his labors for others to copy. The multifarious nature of his collections will appear from the following Index of Records extracted or referred to in this book.

No. 800.

A fair folio volume containing 259 leaves of paper; the former part of which, as far as f. 68^b (except ff. 5—20, most of which are blank), was written at different times, in detached parts, some folded and indorsed. The last 47 leaves are blank. Most of this MS. seems to have been written by Ashmole. There is a list of the contents written on a slip of paper at the beginning.

1. Letter from "Sr PHILIP SYDNEY to Queene Elizabeth concerning her marriage wth Mounser." f. 1—4.

This title is indorsed on 4^b. It is a transcript (older than Ashmole's time) of the celebrated letter printed in the Cabala etc. See Tanner's Bibl. Brit. p. 670, etc.

2. "The Earle of ARUNDELL's speech at the censure of the Bp: of Lincolne*, July 11. 1637." Also "Sr JOHN BRAMPSTON knight, Lord Cheife Justice of the Kings beuch, his speech" on the same occasion. 5, 5^b—7^b.

* John Williams, D.D. Lord Keeper. See also artt. 5 and 6.

3. Letter from THOMAS KILLIGREW to describing what he witnessed at the monastery of the nuns possessed by the devil, at Tours. (Orleans, 7 Dec. 1635.) 21—7.
4. "The copy of a lettre to Sr Tho: Hetley kt: serjant at law, upon his request to certifie (as I found) concerning the reputed Nunnery at Gedding in Huntingdonshire. Anno 1636." 28—38.

Published by Hearne from a MS. lent unto him by Mr. Tho. Ward of Longbridge, in the appendix to his preface to Langtoft's Chronicle (1725, 80.), No. ix. p. cix—cxxiv: where it is followed by the reprint of a pamphlet (evidently compiled from this letter) which was printed in 1641, p. cxxv—xl.

5. (1) "The Lord COTTINGTON's speech at y^e censure of the Bp of Lincolne in the Star-chamber, 11 July 1637." 38^b—40.
- (2) "Sr JOHN FINCH, knight, Lord Cheife Justice of the comeu pleas, his speech" on the same occasion. 40^b—5.
- (3) "Mr. Secretary WINDEBANK's speech at the aforesaid censure." Also the short opinions of Sr THO. JERMIN and the Earl of LINDSEY. 45^b.

This article agrees in substance and (for the most part) in words with art. viii. of No. 824, so far as it goes, ff. 76—86; more speeches may be found in that MS., and art. vii. contains Abp. Laud's speech reported far more copiously than in the next article of this MS.

6. "The Arch-bishopp's speeche in the Starr-chamber at the Bishop of Lincoln's censure:" to which is added ASHMOLE's account (from memory) of a court holden at Lambeth 4 July, 1637, wherein the former sentence was reconsidered and modified. 46—9, 49^b.
7. "The contents of Colonell FLEETWOOD's lettre to his father Sr Gyles Fleetwood," dated "Yorke y^e 5th of Ap: 1639," relating the King's reception at York on his expedition against the Scottish convenanters, and some of their proceedings. 50—1^b.
8. "Duplicate of a letter from the Covenanters to the Earle of Essex, Ap: 19. 1639;" subscribed by "Rochesse, Montroll, Argyle, Dalhouse, Lothian, Lindsay." 52—5^b.
9. "The oath administred to y^e nobillity at Yorke 21 Ap: 1639." 56^a.
 Also in No. 830, art. 79.
10. "Marquesse HUNTLEY's oath" to uphold and protect the liberties of the Scottish church. 57^a.
 Another copy is in No. 1142, xii. 2.
11. The Proclamation issued by CHARLES I. from Newcastle, 14 May, 1639, about his going into Scotland, and against an expected invasion of England by the Scots. 58^{abc}.
 This sheet was copied from one "Printed at Newcastle by Robert Barker, and by the assignes of John Bill. 1639." See also No. 830, art. 73.
12. "To the King's most excellent Maty^e: the Supplicacōn of yo^r Maty^{es} subjects of Scotland." 59^a.
 Other copies are in No. 830, art. 75 (together with the two articles next following), and in No. 1142, xii. art. 1.
13. "The King's Answer to the Scotts supplicacōn, sent by Sir Edward Verney, Knight Marshall to be spoken to them, June 7, 1639, and then delivered unto them." 60^a.
14. "The humble desires of his Maty^{es}: subjects of Scotland." 61—2^b.
15. "Reasons and grounds of our humble desires." 62—3.

Subscribed—"Ex' et concordat cum originali. E. A." All the papers relating to these affairs, are fair transcripts made (probably) for official purposes.

16. "The King's answer to the Scotts desires." 64—5.
17. "The Scotts last Peticōn to the King." 66—7.
18. "Articles of Peace agreed upon betwixt y^e King and y^e Covenanters, the 17 of June 1639." 68^{ab}.
19. Letter from "Queene ANNE BULLEN to Kinge Henry the 8th found amongst Cromwells papers." Dated "from my dolefull prison in the Tower this 7th of May 1536." 70—4.
Also in the Cottonian MS. Otho C. X. art. 30. It is printed in the Cabala and elsewhere: its genuineness has been much disputed, and is vindicated by Sir Henry Ellis in his first series of Letters, II. 53.
20. "Doctor CORBETT the Byshop of Norwich, his speech to the Clergy of y^t dyocesse for their benevolence toward Paules: delivered at a Synod in the chathedrall of Norwich on the 29 of Aprill. 1634." 74^b—82^b.
Printed, from the Harleian MS. 750, in Gilchrist's edition of Corbet's Poems, (1807, 8vo.) p. xli—xlvi.
21. "A speech delivered by his Matie: in the upper house of Parliament, 13 of Aprill 1640." Also the speeches of the Lord Keeper, and a translation of a letter from the Scottish covenanters to the French King, then read. 83—98^b.
22. The articles whereon the select Committee of the House of Commons was ordered to confer with the upper House, 24 Apr. 1640. f. 99—100.
23. "Mr. ROUSE his speech delivered in the lower House of Parliamt: Aprill 1640." 100^b—5.
24. Mr. PYM's speech on the said articles. 105^b—108^b.
25. Petition to the King from the Earls of Essex, Bedford, Exeter, Warwick, Bullingbrooke, Hartford, and Rutland, and the Lords Mandevill, Brooke, Sea and Seale, Musgrave, and Howard; expressing the troubled state of the nation, and proposing remedies for the same. 110^b—1^b.
26. "The King's speech to the Nobility and B^{ps} assemble[d] at Yorke by his Maties writt the 24 of Sept. 1640." 112^{ab}.
27. "A speech delivered by his Matie: [and the Lord Keeper] in the upper House of Parliamt 3^o Novem^r 1640." 113—4^b.
28. "His Maties speeches in Parliament pronounced at sundry tymes Anno 1614, regni regis nostri Jacobi 13^o." 115^b—125^b.
The first is at the opening of the Parliament; the second to the Commons at Whitehall (110^b), and the third to the same, 4 May, 1614. They seem to have been copied by Ashmole in 1648.
29. "A Speech in the Parliament [anno] Eliz. 39, upon the motion of subsidy." 126^b—9^b.
30. "A speech made by Sr F. B.* knight, chosen by the Commons to present a petition touching purveyors, delivered to his Majesty in the withdrawing chamber at Whitehall; in the Parliament holden 1^o. and 2^o. Jacobi, the first session." 130—4.
* Sir Francis Bacon.
31. "A Report made by Sr F. B[ACON] Kn^t: in the House of Commons, in the Parliament, of a speech delivered by the Earle of Salisbury, and an other speech delivered by the Earle of Northampton, at a conference concerning the petition of the Marchants upon the Spanish greivances. Parl. quinto Jacobi." 134^b—144^b.
32. "His Mat^s: speech at Tibballes* to the Lords of the Parliamt; the 5th of March, 1623." 145—7.
* Theobald's.
33. "Mr. SELDEN's speech to the Lords in the higher House of Parliament, the 10th [of] May 1626." 147^b—151^b.
34. Speech of "Mr. PIM 10th May. 1626." 151^b—9^b.
35. "Sir JN^o. ELLIOT speech: May 10th. 1626." 159^b—164.
36. "Sir DUDLEY DIGGS his speech as it was taken and reported by the Lo: President." 164^b—7^b.
37. The Commons declaration and ympeachment against the Duke of Buckingham [‘May’] 1626." 168—175^b.
An older copy of this and of the next article is in No. 1142, v.
38. "Graunts and guiftes to the Duke himselfe, or to his immediate use:" also of moneys appropriated to himself, and grants to his "brother and other of his kindred." 176—7^b.
Also in No. 830, art. 66.
39. "Articles of the E: of BRISTOLL whereby hee chargeth the Duke of Buckingham, bearing date the 1st of May 1626." 177^b—9.
Another copy is in No. 830, art. 55.
40. "Answer of the E. [of] BRISTOLL to y^e Kinge, concerninge transaccōns in Spaine about the match." 179^b—198^b.
This title is taken from the list of contents: the document begins thus—"1. Forasmuch as by interrogations administred unto y^e E: of B: by his Mt^s: Com^r: beareing date the 30th of June 1624."
41. "The Duke of BUCKINGHAM's charge in Parliament." 199.
An address of the Commons to the King.
42. "A Kalender or Schedule of the shipping of this kingdome which have bene taken taken by the enemy, and lost at sea, within the space of three yeares last past." 205^{ab}.
43. "The translate of a Letter sent from the Emperour Sultan Mehomet Han, to his Matie: Charles y^e second, King of England." 206^b.
44. "The translate of a Letter sent from the greate Vizier to his Matie: Charles y^e second, King of England." 207^a.
These two pompous letters were written on "y^e 10 of the moone Regiep An^o: 1071." (1041 ? = 1663) on the occasion of the return of Sir Tho. Bendyshe and the acceptance of the Earl of Winchelsea in his stead, as Ambassador at the Ottoman Porte. Some notes of his patent of embassy are in No. 826, f. 72; it was dated 23 Aug. 1660.
45. Two letters of CHARLES I. from Newport, 1638, about absenting himself; addressed—"To all my people of whatsoever nation quality or condicōn;" and—"To all the lords, bishoppes, clergy and other gentlemen, whose assistances I have had since I came hither." 208^b, 209^a.

Printed from this MS. at the end of Commentaries on the Life and Times of Charles I., by I. D'Israeli, esq. LL. D.

46. "To the right hon^{ble}: the Lords spirituall and temporall in Parliament assembled. The humble Peticōn and Adresse of Edward Earle of CLARENDON," defending himself from the charges brought against him. 210—2.

Ff. 212^b—259^b are blank.

No. 801.

A folio volume, containing several original MSS. and papers of different ages.

I. 1. "Com. Bedd. A Rentall of diverse landes tenementes and howses lyinge in Dunstable in the said countie of Bedford, beinge taken out of the Record of the Honor of Ampthill, C. anno xxxv^{to} domini nuper regis Henrici viij^{vi}." f. 1—12.

2. "A briefe of the said rentall collected from the totall of every some" (29l. 6s. 6³/₄d.) 14^a.

3. Notes of rents of the same tenements, from other rentals. 17^b.

This is written by a different hand.

II. 1. "Payments in the Receavours accompt yearly" from the revenues of S. Paul's cathedral. 18—9.

This summary is written on two narrow leaves detached from the following book, which contains the counterpart. Many of the payments were made on account of suppressed chantries.

2. "The Rentes belonging to the cathedrall church of St: Paule, in London, out of the countrey." 20—2.

The names of the tenants are set down herein. Ff. 25—7 belonging to this article, are blank.

3. "The whole some of all the Rents and Revenues of the Deane and Chapter of Paules, as well of the mannours, parsonages, landes, and other things in the contrey, as of the houses and tenements de antiquo jure and nova fabrica in the cittie of London and suburbs, doe yearelie amount unto 1368. l. 4¹/₂. but of which they paie out yearelie as followeth"—— 23^a.

Indorsed thus on 24^b—"Touching the fabrick of St. Pauls church London." These three papers seem to have been written about the time of James I.

III. 1. "Vacacōes:" part of a Rental of the Dean and Chapter of S. Paul's, containing items of defaulters. 28—96.

This curious MS. is well written on paper, and all by the same hand: the two first leaves seem to have belonged to the rental of 23 Hen. VIII. 1531—2.

2. "The Rentall of rentes and fermys of the olde werke belongyng unto the Deane and Chapter of the cathedrall church of Seynt Paule in Londone, and renewyd in the monthe of Octobre by me JOHN BRYNKLOWE, collectour of the same for oone hole yere endyng in the feste of seynt Mighelle the archangelle the xxiiijth yere of the reigne of our soveraigne lorde Kyng Henry the viijth." (1532—3.) 30—8.

3. Parcels of payments for "yron worck, leede, latyce and glasse," to various persons. 39^b—43^b.
Belonging to the same year as the following article.

4. Weekly payments to laborers, from 2 Aug. to 29 Nov. "An^o rr^o H. viijⁱ. xxv^o." (1533.) 44—6^b.
The last leaf (as also 38^b) is blank.

IV. "Causes why the landes given as afore to the said Dean and Chap^{re} ar not wt in the compasse of the Statut of Chauntrys etc. made a^o Ed. vjⁱ primo." 48—9^b.

An original paper, much stained with damp and wet.

V. Fragmentum REGISTRI in quo abbreviate recensentur Chartæ penes Decanum et Capitulum ecclesiæ cathedralis S. PAULI, LONDINENSIS, de tenementis redditibusque eorum in civitate Londini: sub hisce locorum nominibus:—

———— sc̄i Gregorij." (ix) 55^b—7.

———— sc̄i Benedicti de Garscherche." (i) 57^b.

———— sc̄i Petri de Cornhulle." (i) 58.

———— sc̄i Olavi de Mugwellestret." (iiij) 58^b—9.

———— sc̄i Marie de Stanynglane." (ij) 59^b.

———— sc̄i Benedicti le Fynk." (iiij) 60^{ab}.

"Whyttawyereslane." (i) 61^a.

"Paroch' sc̄i Audoeni." (i) 61^b.

"Cattelane." (i) 62^a.

"De hospitali sc̄i Egidij." (i) 62^b.

"Paroch' sc̄i Antonini." (ij) 63^a.

"In paroch' sc̄i Benedicti Hogg." (vij) 64—6^b.

"Paroch' sc̄i Benedicti versus Poules Wharf alias hithe." (xxxvj) 67^b—72^b.

Brokesborne in com. Hertford. (v) 73^a.

"Paroch' sc̄i Nich' Colehabbey." (ij) 73^b.

This MS. was written on paper about the end of the XIVth century: the portion of it here preserved, is foliated from lvij—lxxij; and it is imperfect at the end also. The abstracts of the documents are so very comprehensive, that this register is almost equal to a Chartulary.

VI. Fragmentum REGISTRI Chartarum Prioris et Conventus ELIENSIS. ff. 74—143.

These 69 leaves were the last six quires of a MS., written in a small hand, in the reign of Edward VI., and foliated by the same hand from "278" to "349." Each document has a title, and a reference to the chest, letter, and number, whereby the original might be found: they are also arranged or grouped according to the places that they relate unto, which are expressed in the running-titles. The last document is written by a later hand, and intitled "The certificate of the Lordys for restitucōns" made on examination of the Prior of Ely about a mortmain, in the reign of Henry VIII. (143^b.) Some pages have been left blank, as 95^b—6^b, 127^b, 137^{ab}, 138^b; the last three leaves are much worn and torn. This Chartulary is noticed as a fragment, in Tanner's Notitia.

VII. Declarationes et articuli in Curia Romana exhibiti ex parte Abbatis S. ALBANI, et ex parte Archiepiscopi Eboracensis, in lite pendente inter ipsos, de jure synodis interessendi ratione ecclesiaz de Appiltone in dioc. Lincoln. aut aliorum beneficiorum ecclesiasticorum in provincia ejusdem Archiepiscopi. ff. 144—150.

This MS. consists of 8 leaves of thick paper, written (except the 3 last pages, 150^b—1^b, which are blank) by a foreign hand, of the latter part of the XIVth century. It seems to contain three documents put forth in the proceedings: the first of which is imperfect at the beginning, and the other two begin at 145^b and 149^a. The dispute arose on the absence of the Abbat from a synod holden in 1350, for which he was fined by the Abp.: see f. 145.

VIII. Fragmentum Statutorum Ecclesiæ Collegiæ S. Laurentii, fundatæ per dominum JOHANNEM POULTNEY militem, in civitate Londini, anno 1345. ff. 152—9.

This MS., written on vellum, is imperfect at the beginning and end: the first words are—obsequen' in eodem collegio, and the last—juxta moderacionem et arbitrium Magistri seu presidentis. The titles of the chapters are written in the margin; and at f. 156, among the numerous names of persons to be prayed for, are particularized the names of the Founder's relatives. The writing of this MS. seems coeval with the foundation of the college. It is mentioned in Tanner's Notitia Monastica; and is announced for publication in the Appendix to Dr. Wilson's History of the Parish (London, 1831, 4to.), in which an abstract is given, pp. 53—57.

No. 802.

A folio volume, consisting of several MSS. and papers to the amount of 375 leaves; beside a printed tract at the end, and two leaves at the beginning, not numbered, on which is written (by Forman) the name of "Mr. Ford of Lymouse."

Apocryphal tracts, genealogical and heraldic collections, poems, astrological observations, and miscellanies; by SIMON FORMAN, M. D.

1. Three unfinished discourses of the Creation of the world, or commentaries on the first chapter of the book of Genesis; including a poem on the origin of Hyle (ὕλη) and Chaos. f. 1—12.

The first fragment consists of 2 leaves, beginning with this title—"The heavens and the earth, and what the heavens are that were first created." The second consists of 6 leaves, thus intitled—"Forman upon the firste of Genesis." The title of the poem is contained in this couplet—

"What Chaos is: and whence it did springe
Of the which Chaos: was made each thinge." f. 8^{ab}.

The third fragment is intitled—"Forman in jo genesis." 9—12. The 13 pages following are blank. Compare No. 766, vi.

To this work seems to belong the poem "Of Lucifer's creation and of the world's creation," printed in the Censura Literaria of Sir Egerton Bridges, from a MS. at S. John's College: see Wood's Athenæ Oxon. (4to ed.) ii. 105.

2. "Here beginneth a Treatise of Adam and Eve, our formar father and mother, howe they were made, wher when and wherof: howe they offended God, and what penance they toke therfore etc." 19—48.

This extraordinary tract is subscribed "Forman 1599." All the fictions of the middle ages, about Adam and the wood of the cross, seem to have been industriously collected here. On the two following pages (48^b—9) are the spurious names of Noah's grandsons. Three blank pages follow.

3. A genealogical and biographical catalogue of the Giants that were after the flood, and of the British Giants; also an account of gigantic bones that have been dug up. 51—5^b, 56^b—8, 59^{ab}.

A more extraordinary article than the foregoing! A smaller catalogue is in No. 244, art. . The following six leaves are blank.

4. The first 32 chapters of a Romance of the life of Merlin; beginning thus—"The Parliament and consultation of the Dyvels, and their decre aboute the begettinge of Merline, about the yeare of Christe 445." 66—82.

The last is thus intitled—"Cap. 32. Howe Merlin told the Hermit whoe was his father and entreted him to write this booke of his life and others of his workes that should followe and howe the Hermit Blase did conjure him be the name of God being moch aferd of him." 81^b. Forman designed to write 'cap. 33,' but left this copy unfinished, and seven blank leaves follow.

5. (1) Astrological eras of the world from the creation. 86^{ab}.

(2) "The cirkell of the age of the wordelle from tyme to tyme." 87^a.

(3) A chronology of the patriarchs from Adam to Moses, with "The breife of our accounte of the yeres of the wordle." 87^b—9^b.

6. (1) "Birdes, Eagles, Crowes [and] Prodigies." 90^{ab}.

(2) Contents of one of Forman's MSS. 91^{ab}.

The former part of this fragment (f. 90) was f. 486 of that MS. The next 20 leaves are blank, except that containing the following article.

7. "Howe the Jewes shalbe called before the last daie to the faith of Christe, and shalbe gathered together out of all nations, and sent in to Jurie again, and shall build Jerusalem and the Temple again; and then shall Anticrist com. In Mathews gospel Christe doth showe." (6½ st. of 8, or 13 st. of 4.) 103^{ab}.

These rude verses seem to have been left unfinished.

8. A poem "Of Antichriste [and the last Judgement, by Dr.] FORMAN. Christe in the scriptures bydes us praue." 111—8^b.

This apocryphal poem is composed much after the manner of the Hermit of Hampole's Prick of Conscience: the last couplet is—"That you may knowe him when he come, By signs showed before the dome. Finis 1603, 21 Nov."

9. "Nota per FORMAN [That] Ther moste be 3 Adams, 3 Enockes, 3 Elias, 3 Christes, and 3 Antichriste;" and an account of a false prophet born at Babylon in 1518: also figures on the nativities of Moses, Christ, Elias, two Antichrists, and Mahomet. 119—120^b.

* 10. "FORMAN his thankes gyvinge and acknowledgme of the poware of God, after his firste and second trouble. My harte doth joie and wolde drawe neare." (8½ st. of 8, or 17 st. of 4.) 121—2.

Ending—And praised without end. Amen 1579."

* 11. "FORMAN. A Rehersale of his firste trouble, and his thankes gyvinge to God for his deliverie. 1576. to the tune of 'Ye children which doe serve the Lorde' etc. Amidste my joyes I will accord." (13 st. of 12.) 123—7.

Ending—Above the hie heavens that doth dwelle. It was composed to the tune of the old 113th psalm.

* 12. "Psalme per FORMANUM of the wickednes of

- the tyme. Ther is no God as foolishe men." (21½ st. of 8, or 43 st. of 4.) 126—8.
Ending—Their wives some widdowes make. Two blank leaves follow.
- 13. Part of FORMAN'S poem on the Plague, in 1593 and 1594: beginning thus—And after purging them each one. (45 st. of 4.) 131—3^b.
* Imperfectly. It ends thus—Even soe. Amen saie I. Amen. Forman." A short Latin prayer follows.
14. A fragment, complaining of age and weakness: beg. And make my blod, Lord, nowe encrease. (2 st. of 4.) 134.
Written on a single leaf, containing nothing more except these words—Gather Camonill the C in Y."
- *15. A long psalm, composed by Dr. "FORMAN 1604, January 19, to be songe at his buriale. Assemble now youe people all." (107 st. of 4!!!) 135—140^b.
Ending—Thy powere and name alwaies. Finis per Forman." He was buried at Lambeth 12 Sept. 1611: it is very unlikely that the mourners would spend three or four hours over his grave in singing this doleful ditty.
16. A short tract "Of Prayer, per FORMAN:" with prayers and a psalm (in prose) composed in his troubles. 141—5, 146^{ab}.
17. "A forme of prayer to be used in the tyme of the Plague or visitation of God or in such like: written by SIMON FORMAN D. in Phisick 1606. 24 Octo." 147^a, 148^{ab}.
- *18. FORMAN'S Diary from 31 March to 6 Sept. 1607. f. 152^{ba}, 151^b.
Short notes set down occasionally. The corresponding leaves (153—4) are blank.
19. Notes of the quantity of brick, and rate of payment, for building Shepman's wall, 1610; and a table of the proportionate number of bricks to the quantity of wall. 155^a, 156^{ab}.
20. Table of the right ascension and declination of fixed stars in the zodiac, calculated for 1608. f. 157—8^b.
21. Medical notes of the case of one Talbot. 159^a.
22. Four astrological rules about the conjunction of the ☉ and ☾ in certain signs. 161^a.
23. Of the fortification and debilitation of the planets. 163^a.
24. "De amore et arte:" or "Whe[the]r arte will helpe in such a case to obtain ons love, by ye question made." 165—6.
Five pages of this article are blank; as are also many other pages and leaves of these papers.
25. "De 9° celo" seu "De nona sphaera" fragmentum. 169—170^d.
26. An account of the natural productions of Virginia. 171—5^b.
These 6 leaves (including f. 176, which is blank) seem to be placed disorderly: perhaps f. 175 should be first, which is thus intitled—"Of the country of Virginia."
Ff. 177—180 and 220—3 are of modern paper, inserted by the binder: the next quire (ff. 181—210) contains the 14 following articles on heraldry.
27. The differences belonging to the arms of younger brothers. 181^a.
28. The arms of Baker of Kent, described and painted. 181^b.
Different from those at f. 190^b.
29. "The coppie [or blazou] of the armes of Jean Bakers discent by her mothers syde whose name was Dority Moninges." 181^b.
30. The arms of Mooninges, Grindford or Grindfeld (or Greuford), Chich, Kemp, Loveless,,,, Ager, Aylife, Chicheley, Canterbury, Forman,, (also "an ancient" argent, gules, and azure,) and Forman of Scotland; painted and described. 182—4^b.
31. The arms of, and Cardinal Wolsey; painted and blazoned. 185^a.
32. The arms of Charles Earl of Nottingham, Charles Lord Mountjoy, Robert Earl of Essex, and Magdalen College, Oxford; painted. 186^b—187.
33. Insignia picta Marchionis Wintoniæ, et Comitum Arundellia, Oxoniæ, Northumbriæ, et Salopia. 188^a.
34. The names of 25 quarterings "In the descent of Mr. Arundelle of Trerise, whose arms ar 3 cheaverns argent." 188^b.
35. "The armes of my wife by her fathers sid which was a Baker of the weste, and the Bakers of Kent wer also kine to her." 190^b.
Vert, 3 swans heads and necks, argent. "Thes armes I had from her brother Thomas 1608, 7 Feb." See artt. 28, 29.
36. "The true arms of St William Forman knight in Henri the 7th dayes:" also an account of the origin of the name, pretended to have been given in the year 1049; and instances of considerable persons who have borne it. 191^{ab}.
37. "M^{rs} Shackelton's scutcheon and arms when she was buried the 7 Januari 1608:" with those of Haward and Whitbroke. 207^b.
38. "1605 the 16 Septm. C p. m. 8. this gene[alogie] of the Formans was showed me." 207^a.
The line of descent is brought down from one William Anderson, to Clement the Doctor's own son.
39. "The arms that showe bastardy:" and a description of ordinary heraldic charges. 208—9.
40. Names of colors for painting. 209^b.
41. An account of the ancestors of Dr. Forman, from remote (and very suspicious) antiquity. 211—5^b.
Another account is in No. 208, art. 13, and a short abstract in No. 240, art. 7.
42. Notes of the parentage of Forman's wife; and of persons named Forman. 216^a.
This is an odd leaf: ff. 217—223 are blank.
43. "The third parte of this bocke showeth howe and when the Dyvell doth plague men." A fragment. 224^{ab}.
44. Examples of plagues and divine judgements, from the scriptures. 225^b.

45. Astrological rules "De fugitivo et re amissa, in quo loco." 226—7^b.

The 6 following leaves are blank.

46. Astrological rules "To knowe in what state a shipe is in that is at sea, or y^t is gon into any far country, and when she will come:" also for other nautical questions; with examples of figures and judgements on questions for Mr. Leet and others. 234—45, 250—1, 259—62.

The old paging shows that the following article has improperly divided art. 48 from this. Three leaves before p. 48 (f. 259) have been torn out; also most part of two leaves following f. 261 and 262, is torn off downward: ff. 246—9, 258, and 263—6, are blank.

47. "Of a voidage at sea: the judgmente of the planmetes beinge in any of the 12 houses, totching any voidage." 252—7.

48. Rules "Of on that is absente at sea, howe he doth and whe[the]r he will ever retorne again and when:" with copious examples dated 1595—1600. f. 267—272^d, 274—5^d.

The articles 46 and 48 seem to have been books of Horary Questions kept for these purposes; if they were not selections from the Doctor's ordinary journals.

At the end of this volume is bound a rare printed tract, published by the author of this MS. It consists of two sheets in quarto, the last leaf of which is blank. The title is—

"The Groundes of the Longitude: with an admonition to all those that are incredulous and beleve not the trueth of the same. Written by SIMON FORMAN, student in astronomie and phisique. 1591. — Imprinted at London by Thomas Dawson. 1591."

No. 803.

A MS. in folio, fairly written on 145 leaves of paper, in the beginning of the XVIIth century.

A Sacred History, from the (supposed) divine counsels before the creation of the world, to the death and glorification of the Lord Jesus Christ; wherein divers mysteries, types, prophecies, etc. are treated of, by RICHARD TRAVES.

The author's name (for such it seems without doubt) is subscribed thus at the end—"Richard Traues his booke." It is a complete piece of fanatical Calvinism.

No. 804.

A folio volume containing four MSS., all written on paper but the last. The first one is fairly written, and paged throughout from the second page of the second leaf; the first (which was blank) having been torn off.

I. Collectanea Genealogica, e chartis, recordis, aliisque monumentis vetustis, cum multarum familiarum stemmatibus, diligenti manu congesta. pp. 178.

The appearance of this MS. being somewhat like to that of Glover's books, it has been ascribed to him in Lhuyl's catalogue, num. 7112. He is mentioned officially (as Somerset herald) at p. 131; and at p. 115 is a copy of a document relating to the visitation of Derbyshire in 1569, in which he was personally employed: compare No. 798, f. 18.

After 3 blank leaves is a thin MS. consisting of 18 leaves, partly written in the secretary hand, with initial words ingrossed.

II. 1. "Hereafter followethe the manner or order of the makeinge of newe Serjauntes, created and made in Michelmas tearme anno xix^{no} et vice-simo regni Elizabethæ regine [A.D. 1576.] The names of them hereafter to be rehearsed, scilicet. M^{er} Francis Gawdye and M^{er} Aunderson of the Inner Temple, M^{er} Shote of Grayes Inne, M^{er} Aylofe, M^{er} Baber, and M^{er} Wyndham of Lincolnes Inne, and M^{er} Fenner of the Myddle Temple. And ther feaste was kepte in the hall of the Myddle Temple." f. 1—7.

Among other earlier creations of Serjeants, the present narrative was printed from this MS. by Sir W. Dugdale, in his Origines Juridiciales (1671, fol.), p. 119—126; where it occupies the whole forty-sixth chapter. By a note in the margin it seems that another oration was designed to be entered, but that page and seven pages following were left vacant until two pages were filled by a different hand, or (at least) in a smaller character, with—

2. Precedents of writs and processes of novel disseisin, in French; in the time of Eliz. and James I. f. 7^b—8.

The names of Sir Robert Cecil and Edward Coke att. gen. occur in these five documents.

3. "Copia ejusdam tabulæ Monasterio beatæ Mariæ [de Thetford in] comitatu Norff. q[u]ondam spectantis, et super tumbam Thome Ducis Norff. in ecclesia ibidem usque dissolutionem ejusdem pendentis." 11—13^b.

Printed in Weever's Funerall Monuments (1631, fol.), p. 834—840, and thence reprinted in Dugdale's Baronage, II. 269—271. See also the Cottonian MS. Julius C. VII. f. 245^b.

*4. A narrative showing how the inheritance of Sir Roger Bigod Earl of Norfolk, was wrested from him by Edward I. and settled on his own son Thomas of Brotherton; and how the same descended, with other accumulated dignities and estates, to Thomas Mowbray, first Duke of Norfolk. 15^{ab}.

*5. Charta indentata inter dominam Margaretam Comitissam Norf. et Abbatem conventumque de Leiston in com. Suff. facta, super excambio advocacionis ecclesiæ de Theberton pro advocacione de Kirkelee, eidem Comitissæ ejusque corporis hæredibus vel domino Regi confirmata; et super fundatione cantariæ pro anima ejus atque parentum, in eo monasterio. (1 Oct. 6 Ric. II. 1382.) 16^{ab}.

From the part sealed "Sub sigillo Abbatis."

6. Ricardi II. privilegium Thomæ Comiti Marescallo et Nottinghamiæ concessum, quod portare debeat pro crista sua unum leopardum cum corona argentea, ad discrimen, et non unum labellum album quod regis primogenito soli competit. (12 Jan. 1394.) 16^b.

"Pat. anno 17^o Ric. 2: pars prima m: 2." Thence printed in Rymer's Fœdera, VII. 763.

The two last leaves of this MS. are blank; as also are the three first leaves of the next MS. (which were unnumbered), except that there is the following title on the third page.

III. "The booke of Henrie Earle of Arundell, Lord Chamberlaine to King Henry the eight, and copie of a blacke booke of his Ma^{ties}, called the booke of Sr Giles Dawbney, Chamberlayne to King Henry the vijth." f. 2*, ff. 1—19.

This page is subscribed "Arundell:" but this MS. is only a transcript fairly written in the XVIIth century. It very much corresponds with a MS. ingrossed on vellum, and seeming to be original, which is preserved in the Herald's College, Arundel, No. 17, ii. (See the Catalogue by W. H. Black, p. 25—6.) The first numbered leaf contains the "Tabula libri:" and the book begins with this title—

"Certaine articles appointed by the King or Sovereigne Lord Henerie the vijth: at his pallace of Westm' the last daie of Decemb: the ixth yeere of his most noble raigne, which in most streight wise his highnesse chargeth to bee kept and observed upon the paine that may ensue."

These articles seem to occupy only the two first pages. The oaths at the end of the book were made in the time of Edward IV. whose name is therein mentioned: the two titles under which they are placed are—"For an homage" and "Affore the oath that the Chamberlaine shall give when they shall bee charged." Twenty-five blank leaves follow.

*IV. An antient Heraldic Book containing 672 shields of Arms, of King Edward III., the Princes of the blood royal, Noblemen, and Knights; collected and painted between 1345 and 1351. pp. 56.

This beautiful and extremely curious MS. consists of 28 narrow folio leaves of vellum, numbered by a hand of the XVth century, and paged by Ashmole. Each page contains twelve scutcheons, three in a row: those on the four first pages are rectangular at base, except in the very last row, where they are conical, as are all the others. The first 14 pages are richly illuminated; but the others are slightly colored, and have no gilding or silvering. The original names inscribed over the shields, are written in a large text hand on the first five pages: the others are by various hands; some being written in vacancies or over erasures, by hands of the XVth century; but the antient ones usually have the personal name as well as the surname. Some of the arms are defaced.

The age of this early monument of heraldry is easily ascertainable from the first shields (especially the fifth), namely—

1. [R] Ey deugleterre: France and England quarterly: after 1340.
2. Prince de galis: Edward the Black Prince, 1343—76.
3. Monsire Lyonel de An[vers] (arms erased); who was created Duke of Clarence in 1362.
4. Monsire Joh' de Gaunt (arms not inserted); who in 1362 succeeded his father-in-law, the—
5. Counte de Lancastre; who was Earl from 1345 to 1351, when he was created Duke.
6. Counte de Kent; until 1352.
7. Counte de Herforde: Henry, who was succeeded, in 1361, by Humphrey son of William—
8. Counte de Norhanton; whom he had succeeded in 1360; and thus the two earldoms were united by him, in 1361.

The three last shields contain the arms of "S' Will'm Martin, S' . . . Verdon, S' Pers Manley."

Compare the roll No. 15, art. 2.

No. 805.

A folio MS. consisting of 202 leaves of paper, fairly written in the reign of James I.

The arms and badges of Henry VIII. drawn with ink. f. 1^a.

"Alphabeta:" or the arms of about 3000 English Gentlemen, blazoned. 72—112^b.

4. "Alphabeta Armorum extracta e libris HÆROMUM:" containing the blazon of more than five thousand coats of arms of English Gentry. 115—178^b.
5. "A note of the Armes and Matches and Names of the Nobilitie of England, whose famylies do at this present continewe; and of their aun-cientyes, in what kinges tymes they were first advanced to title of honor, and to what severall honor they were callid. Especially from the tyme of the beginning of the reignes of Kinge H. 8: Kinge Ed. 6. Queene Marye and Queene Elizabetheth, and now last of or most gratusious souveraigne Lo: Kinge James A^o. 1602." 181—195.

It begins with "Haward Duke of Norf. creatus tempore regis Richⁱ 3^{ti}." and ends with "Cavendishe. Lord Cavendishe so created by Kinge James 4^{to} die Maij a^o—tertio." Over the title of this article is the following distich:—

"Carolus, Henricus, Cæsares, defensor uterque; Henricus fidei, Carolus ecclesie."

6. "A booke of Quartered Coates and Chrestes, collected *ubicunq*ue, as well generally as in churches, and also of single cotes w^{ch} beare chrestes." 197—201^b.

The first is that of Cassamire Count Palatin of the Rhine, K. G. 1579; the last, Bowcher Lord Fitzwarren, Earl of Bath.

No. 806.

A handsome quarto MS. written in the XVth century on 201 leaves of vellum, in columns. At the beginning are two other leaves of vellum, the last page of which bears an old book-plate of the arms of Downing* etc. (printed from wood) and this note—"This booke was given me by my worthy freind Doctor Francis Bernard. 14 Nov: 1682. E. A."

* As confirmed unto Edmond Downing of Essex, by Clarencieux Cooke; see Guillim's Display of Heraldry, 1723, fol. page 172. Another copy of the same book-plate is fixed at the bottom of a page of the 'Boke of S. Albans' in the Bodleian Library.

1. NICHOLAI UPTON, ecclesiarum cathedralium Sar. et Wellie canonici, de Officio Militari libri quatuor, ad Humfridum Ducem Gloucestriae dedicati. ff. 1—90^d.

The first words are—Summum opificem (without a title); and the last—"corrigant et emendent. Explicit libellus de militari officio." This MS. was not collated by Sir Edw. Bisse, nor has it been noticed by Bp. Tanner in his account of this author, p. 742. It much resembles the Arundel MS. 64 (see the Catalogue, p. 132), which formerly belonged to Selden: the arms are colored.

2. Libri quem "Domino suo excellentissimo in cultu religionis Christiane strenuissimo Guydoni viro de Valencia civitatis Tripolis glorioso pontifici PHILIPPUS suorum minimus clericorum" dedicavit; ejus in calce nomen istud subditur—"Explicit liber ARISTOTILIS qui intitulatur de Secretis Secretorum, sive de Regimine Principum vel Regimine Dominorum." 91—201^d.

The first words are given above: the last are—ad regem magnificum Alexandrum qui dominatus fuit toto orbi dictus monarcha in septentrione.

No. 807.

A thin folio volume containing a collection of papers to the amount of 48 leaves; they are written by different hands (but chiefly in the same fair hand as No. 1097), and are of different sizes (some being folded), as if procured at sundry times.

Parliamentary Intelligences:—

1. A message from CHARLES II. in answer to the address of the House of Commons, relating to the league with Holland against France. f. 1—2^b.

13. Proceedings in the House of Commons, 11—14 Feb. 17—8.
14. Proceedings in the House of Commons, 16 and 17 Feb. 19^a.
15. Proceedings in the House of Commons, 19—21, 23—24 Feb. 20—1.

Thus far the papers that relate to the session of 1673—4.

16. Address from the Commons to the King, desiring him to declare war against France: "Fry-day 15 March 1677." 22^a.
17. Address from the Commons, thanking the King for concluding a marriage between the Princess Mary and the Prince of Orange; and offering all possible aid for prosecuting the war. 24^{ab}.
18. Votes of the Commons, 14 Feb. 1677. f. 25^a.
19. "The proceedings of the House of Commons mett the 28 January 1677[—8] as followeth:" namely, to 15 Apr. 1678. f. 26—38.

These papers seem to have been written by Ashmole.

20. Notes of proceedings in the House of Commons, 12 Dec. 1678. f. 39^a.
A torn fragment.
21. Names of persons found guilty of high treason, at Hicks-hall, 16 Dec. 1678. f. 40^a.
22. "The King's letter to the Duke of Yorke," directing him to go beyond sea: dated "Whitehall Febr. 28th, 1678^s." 41^a.

This fair copy is by Ashmole's hand, as also is the following article.

23. The King's speech "Dec. 30. 1678^s." 42^a.
24. ASHMOLE's note that "The Peace betweene the Kings of Denmark and Sweden was concluded . . . Sept. a^o 1679, betweene 12 and 1 at night." 43^a.
25. "Articles of high treason drawn up in order to ye impeachm^t: of the L^d. High Trear of England, die sabath. 21^o Decembr." 44^a.
26. ASHMOLE's note "March the 29th 1681," of the dissolution of Parliament the day before. 45^a.
27. Vote of the Commons for 90 ships of war, 6 Febr. 1677—8. f. 46^a.
Written by Ashmole.
28. "Munday 13 May 1678. The King's speech to the Lords in the Parliament house." 47^a.

A continuation of these papers is in No. 1806, i.

No. 808.

A folio volume, the leaves of which have many blank pages and spaces: it is fairly written by the author's own hand, and thus intitled—

“Familiarum illustrium Imperatorumque Romanorum Numismata, Oxoniæ in Bodl[e]jiana Bibliotheca archivis, descripta explanataque (in tria volumina digesta) industria ELLE ASHMOLE armigeri, Windesori Heraldici ad arma.” f. 1^a.

The Preface that follows (f. 2—3^b) is dated from his study in the Middle Temple 10 cal. Jun. “anno Juliano” 1666: wherein he states that in Cromwell's time he made a stay at Oxford*, and was requested by Dr. (afterward Bishop) Barlow, to make a description of the coins there preserved; which he finished soon after the restoration of Charles II., and deposited there. (See the testimonial thereof in No. 1136, f. 166.) “Sed cum hujus exscriptum, manu propria cuperem exarare, ut ingenue fatear, mihi fuit adv- vztov ante hanc diem illud absolvere, cum negotiorum (quæ me continuo circumvallat) turba, modicum mihi subinde spatium, ad aliquid per intervalla, et quasi furtim nonnunquam, ex eo transcribendum permiserit.”

Of the arrangement of his work, he says—“Primum est [volumen] Consularium numorum, aliquotque illustrium Romæ Familiarum; reliqua duo Imperatoria continent.” The first of these parts occupies (after a half-title, 6a, added when the book was bound) ff. 7—56; the second begins at f. 61, and seems to end at f. 223^b; the third (which was never finished) seems to begin at f. 226, with the coins of Constantine the great; and the last page is 241^a.

At the end are inserted the following articles:—

1. Ordinary descriptions of the gold coins of the twelve Cæsars. 244—5.
2. Legends of coins of the Saxon Kings. 246^a.
3. Letter from Dr. THOMAS BARLOW to E. Ashmole, esq. thanking him for his “excellent present to our University Library,” which he had set before the Vice-Chancellor and Curators at the visitation. (“Q. Coll. Oxon. Dec. 18. 1668.”) 248^a—7^a.

The original: it is printed in the appendix to Ashmole's Memoirs or Diary.

Several papers found loose in this volume are now fixed in No. 1763, and are described at ‘A’ under that number.

No. 809.

A folio MS. in the beautifully neat writing of GLOVER, Somerset Herald: it consists of 180 leaves (numbered by him), beside two at the beginning, on the third page of which is ingrossed the following title:—

1. “Liber illustrissimi Ordinis divi Georgij: qui et LIBER NIGER appellatur.
“¶ Contenta.
“Ordinis Institutio.” } f. 1—12^b.
“Patroni.” }
“Statuta. [13—18.]
“Annales. [24—117^b.]
“Appendices.” 126—132.

These ‘Statutes’ have been printed in Ashmole's appendix to

* In his Diary he observes that he began 10 Sept. and ended 25 Sept. 1658. In the appendix to that publication this Preface is printed. (ed. 1717) p. 88—91, or (ed. 1774) p. 386—390.

his Institution of the Order of the Garter, from his transcript in No. 1129, i.; and the whole of the Liber Niger has been published by Garter Anstis, in the second volume of his work intitled “The Register of the most noble Order of the Garter,” London, 1724, folio. There are no leaves numbered 19—23 in this MS.

2. “Liber secundus illustrissimi Ordinis Garterij: qui et Registrum Minor, vel a tegmine, LIBER CERULEUS appellatur.” In quo habentur Annales Ordinis, ab initio regni R. Mariæ ad annum 28 R. Elizabethæ. (1586.) 149—180.

The three last pages are corrected, as though Glover were the author of so much of the record as they contain.

See the other copies in No. 1129, i. ii.

No. 810.

A folio book, consisting of 147 leaves of paper, whereof only 18 leaves at the beginning, and 27 at the end, are written on, by the hand of Mr. JOHN STANSBY. (Compare No. 816.)

1. Contents of a treatise on Virtues, in four parts. 1^a.
2. Notes of “John North fellow of Jesus Col’ in Cambr’ sermon to y^e K. at N. Markett, 8 Octobr [16]71.” 2^a.
3. An abstract of Bishop Godwin's* Catalogue of Bishops of the sees of Canterbury, London, Winchester, Ely, Lincoln, Coventry and Litchfield, and Salisbury. 5—18.

* This is evident on a comparison of the two first (English) editions, 1601 and 1615, 40: of which there are copies in Wood's collection of printed books, No. 344, and of MSS. No. 107. The three last leaves of this art. had been torn out, and were found loose in No. 853, after this book was rebound.

Turning up the book the following articles appear.

4. “A Catalogue of such charitable workes as have beene done in the tymes of the gospell within the space of 60 yeares, under the happy raignes of King Edward, Queene Elizabeth [and] Kinge James our gracious soveraigne.” With a dedication to Sir Thomas Middleton, Lord Mayor of London, by ANDREW WILLET. f. 1—2^b, and pp. 46.

On the first leaf at this end (unnumbered) are scribbled some notes, among which it is said of this work that “The 5th edition [was] by authority of ye K. letters patents printed at London by John Haviland, and are to bee sold by Robert Milbourne 1634.” This curious tract was first published at the end of the fourth edition of Willet's Synopsis Papismi, 1614, fol.; of which an account may be seen in the “Bibliotheca Colfanæ Catalogus,” by W. H. Black, (1831, 80.) p. 57—9.

5. “Three degrees of Poore.” 25^b.
6. Extracts from Fuller's Worthies of England. 26^{ab}.
7. Notes of charities to the poor of Husbands-Crawley in Bedfordshire, and Paddington in Middlesex, inrolled in Chancery in 1674. f. 27^a.

No. 811.

A beautiful folio MS. ingrossed in a delicate text-hand, on the finest vellum, in the XVIth century, and adorned with illuminated capitals throughout. It consists of 34 leaves; and is bound in wooden covers, with brown stamped leather, and curious clasps.

“Incipiunt capitula Commissionis nobilis viri D. MATTHEI DANDULO equitis, Procuratoris sancti Marci, super commissariis de ultra canale constituti. In M^o.cccc^olxiiij.” ff. 2—7, 8—33^b.

This book contains 80 chapters or articles, beginning with the oath taken by this high Venetian officer: the first page of the text is written within a richly illuminated border, and has a miniature of saint Mark. Many of the chapters are dated in the fourteenth century: the four last were, both in the summary (f. 7) and in the text (f. 30—3^b), added in the same beautiful text-hand, as an article prefixed to the book; namely—

Litteræ “Al clarissimo signor Matthio Dandolo cavallier e procurator di S. Marco,” scriptæ Paduæ 4 Jan. 1564, “Di vostra clarissima signoria servo NICOLO BORDOM.” f. 1^b.

On the vellum which lines the latter cover, is this note—“1586. 16 April Mercor' haunto. Da m michiel marin Anocato.”

No. 812.

A thin folio MS. on paper, consisting of 18 leaves, whereof the first leaf and the last nine pages are blank: it is fairly written, with wide margins. F. 9 is only a slip of paper inserted.

The final draught of the STATUTES of the Order of the GARTER, as reformed by EDWARD VI.; approved in a chapter holden at Westminster, 17 March, 1552—3, and subscribed and authenticated by Sir W. CECIL, Chancellor of the Order. ff. 1—14.

The original draughts corrected by Cecil are No. 820, i, and No. 1119, xiii. Two fairly ingrossed copies are also in this library, No. 772 and 774.

No. 813.

A small folio volume, containing (1) four leaves of thick silken paper, (2) a MS. consisting of 31 leaves of common paper of the XIVth or XVth century, written in columns by a foreign hand, and (3) 23 blank leaves of old yet more modern paper.

On the first page is the autograph of Lord “William Howarde” of Naworth (also at f. 2^a), with his usual cognizance, a lion rampant: which identifies this as the Arundel MS. cited by Ashmole.

I. Six antient Pictures, representing the costume of the military Order of our Saviour's Passion:—

1. “Les escuirez dōneur du prince.” pag. 2.
2. “Le prince de [che]valerie de la passion ih'u crist.” p. 3.
3. “Vn . . . cheualier de la religion.” p. 4.
4. “Vne dame [de la] religion.” p. 5.
5. “V[n ch]eualier autre des armes de la religion &c.” p. 6.
6. “La baniere cōmune de la religion” et “Les armes de la religion.” p. 7.

These beautiful figures are painted on a dark red background: the inscriptions are written in large black text-letters on the green ground below, except in the last, the lower inscription of which was partly cut off by Ashmole's binder, and is now attached to the page. The last page is vacant. The Latin inscriptions over the pages were written by Lord Howard.

Ashmole has copied these pictures with pen and ink, in his MS. No. 865, pp. 377—387, and all the following book at pp. 389—465. In his Institution of the Order of the Garter, published in 1672, those costumes are engraved on a reduced scale, and a complete abstract of this MS. is printed, which is quoted as from the Arundel Library.

II. The Rules of the Military Order of our Saviour's Passion, in French: viz.—

1. “La sustance de la chevalerie de la passion de Jh'u Crist en Francois. Lepistre en la prefacion de la Regle de la chevalerie.” 2^{ab}.
2. “Lepistre. A tous loiaux crestiens catholiques presens et avenir [etc.] PHILIPPE DE MAISIERES indigne Chancelier du petit royaume de Chipre jadis apcle.” 2^b.
3. “Les Rebriches des causes pour les quelles ceste chevalerie de la passion Jh'u Crist est necessaire voire le tamps du jour duy mauvais et perilleus considere et le monde qui fort va a declin.” 4^b.

There seems to have been a leaf lost between ff. 15, 16.

4. “Coment la tresdouce vierge Marie qui fu tresperchie en son ame du glave de dolour de la passion de son doulz filz Jh'u Crist sera tressingulere advoate de ceste sainte chevalerie” etc. 16—7^c.
5. “Le prologue de la sainte chevalerie de la passion de Jh'u Crist. Manifeste chose est a tous loiaux catholiques.” Avec la Regle. 18.

Ending thus—sainement il nous veulle regler. Amen.

6. Two Prayers for the use of the Order, in Latin, with a short prefatory discourse in French: beg. Lapostre saint Pol nous ensuigne. 31^d—2^d.

The last words are—per infinita secula seculorum. Amen.

No. 814.

A folio MS. bound in vellum, consisting of 66 leaves of paper (some of which are blank), written or ingrossed in a fair Italic hand, about the time of Charles I. or II.

1. Regis Edwardi III. literæ patentis de fundatione Capellæ regię collegiatię Windesorensis. (6 Aug. 1348.) 4—5^b.

The same as No. 778, art. 5: it is also in the next MS (No. 815, f. 17), and is printed in Ashmole's appendix to his Institution of the Order of the Garter, “Number I.”

2. Statuta ejusdem Collegii, per Willielmum episcopum Wintoniensem ordinata; cum formulis admissionis cunstodis, canonicorum, et vicariorum. (pp. 60.) f. 8—37^b.

The same as No. 778, art. 3 and 4.

3. “Index Statutorum.” 38—40^b.

This analysis seems to have been composed for the present MS.: it is different from the antient Kalendarium in No. 778, art. 2.

4. Ordinationes seu Injunctiones Johannis Archi-episcopi Eboracensis et Angliæ Cancellarii, post visitationem ejusdem Collegii 22 Maij 1430 factam, editæ apud Westm. 2 Feb. 1431. (pp. 27.) f. 44—57.

In fine sic—"Expliciunt Injunctiones. Sequitur—

5. "Breve Regium de eisdem observandis;" datum apud Westm. 22 Feb. 10 Henr. VI. (p. 28.) 57^b.

This is marked as chapter 40 of the foregoing article.

6. "Tabula Injunctionum." 58—9.

Of the contents of this MS. there is another copy at the beginning of Ashmole's vol. xxviii. No. 1124.

No. 815.

A small folio volume containing 32 open sheets of paper, bound together by the upper margins; being an office-copy of the time of Elizabeth or James I. The first leaf and the two last leaves having been damaged, were rewritten and supplied by Ashmole.

R. ELIZABETHÆ literæ patentes in gratiam Collegii Windsorensis, recitantes literas RR. Philippi et Mariæ (28 Feb. annis 2 et 3) in quibus quamplurima Prædecessorum suorum diplomata* recitata sunt, simul et R. Edwardi VI. (7 Oct. an. 1), casque confirmantes: datæ apud Westm. 23 Junii anno sexto. (A. D. 1564.)

*f. 1] Edward IV.'s charter reciting two patents of Edw. III. dated 6 March, a^o 27 (f. 1—8), and 1 March, a^o 35 (f. 8), and abstracting a charter of Henry V. (f. 10.)

12] Edward IV.'s patent dated 18 July, a^o 7.

14] _____ 14 Nov. a^o 22.

15] _____ 30 Nov. a^o 1, reciting a patent of Edw. III. dated 26 Oct. a^o 25.

16—21] _____ 6 Dec. a^o 19, reciting a patent of Edw. III. dated 6 Aug. a^o 22 (see No. 814, art. 1), and the substance of an act of Parliament 8 Hen. VI.

All these had been successively recited by Inspecimus of Henry VII. (6 Dec. a^o 19), Henry VIII. (1 June, a^o 2), and Edw. VI. 7 May, a^o 1.

On the back of the last leaf (32^b) are written, by Ashmole, notes of the appointment of Hugh Weston (8 Nov. 3 & 4 Ph. & M.) and John Boxall (19 Mar. 4 & 5 Ph. & M.) to the Deanery of Windsor.

No. 816.

A small folio volume, containing a book of 34 leaves, bound between two half-quires of paper.

Antiquarian and miscellaneous collections and extracts, by JOHN STANSBY.

I. 1. Notes out of Sir Robert "Cotton's Posthuma, 8^o. London. [16]72." f. 1—2^b.

 3. Extracts from "Tully de amicitia et senectute, translated by [the] Earle of Worcester son to L^d Tiptoft at [the] desire of S^r John Fastolfe of Norff. banerett, dedicate to Ed: 4th by W^m Caxton 12 August 1481, printed." 78^{ba}.
 4. From "Ingpen[s] seeretts of numbers." 78^a—77^b.
 5. Inscriptions "Uppon a picture hanginge in the church of S^t Peters in Roome." 77^b.

No. 817.

This and the next four MSS. have been lately bound together in one folio volume: it consists of 12 leaves of paper, fairly written (with wide margins) by the same hand as most of the funeral ceremonies of that time, in the Office of Arms.

- A Ceremonial of the Progress of King Edward VI. through the city of London, "On Satterdaye the sixth day of February, A^o dⁿⁱ 1547;" and of his Coronation on the next day.

* Thus it begins, after this heading—"A^o. RR' E. vjti jo." The last words are—"on the day of the sayde noble coronacion. Finis."

No. 818.

The collection of original papers thus numbered, is bound between the foregoing and the three following MSS. They were all (except perhaps art. 3) written by the hands of HERALDS.

1. "The Supporters and Badges of the Kings of England" from Edward III. to Queen Elizabeth; and "The Supporters, Crests, and Badges of the Nobilitye;" described. 1^a, 2—3^b.

Written in a small and close hand. The latest named baron is Knevet.

2. "Irish Creacōns" of Nobility, in the reigns of James I. and Charles I., noted from the patent-rolls by Sir W. DUGDALE. 4—5.
 3. A discourse on "The antiquity and forme of the Justic[e] and Common Law of England." 6—7, 8—9^b.

The first sheet is a fair transcript; the second, part of the original draught in continuation of the other. It seems to be unfinished. The first words are—At the first union of the Hep-tarky under Aelfred.

4. Draught of the record of the funeral of Stephen Gardiner, Bishop of Winchester, who died at Westm. 12 Nov. 1555. f. 10^a, 11^{ab}.

The two broad sheets on which this article is written, were parts of the draughts of two Wills; the latter was that of . . . Cobham of Kent. It is written by the same hand as No. 817, but very badly.

5. Notes concerning the funeral of Sir Anthony Browne; namely—"The waye from London to Battell," where he was buried, "The paynters charge," "The charges of the officers of armes," and some ceremonial directions. 12—13^b.

Written in a fair large hand: compare art. 7.

6. "The proceeding to the ehurehe at the funerall of Reingnold Lord Grey of Ruthen, Erle of Kent, anno .1573. on tuesday the xiiijth of Aprill:" with other ceremonies thereat, prepared by GLOVER, Somerset Herald. 14^{ab}.

See also art. 12.

7. Draught of "Thordre of the proceeding to the enterrement of the late Quenes matie." (Queen Mary): and notes of the masses celebrated on five successive days of the obsequies. 15—17, 18^{ab}.

Written by the same hand as art. 5, and corrected by other hands.

8. Order of a grand procession, wherein the banners of the Goths, the three crowns, Norway, Denmark, Sleswick, the Vandals, the Union, and Oldenburgh, were borne. 19^{ab}, 33^{ab}.

A broad-sheet and a half, fairly written by the hand (as it seems) of the Augustine Vincent, Windsor Herald, who was in the procession. These papers ought not to have been separated.

9. "The order and proceedinge at the funerall of y^c right high and mightie princes[s] Elizabeth, Queene of England France and Ireland; from the pallace of Westminster called White hall, to the cathedrall church of Westminster, 28 April 1603." 20^{bcd}.

This is a roll consisting of two small folio leaves fastened end to end. It contains trickings of 12 banners of the arms of so many English kings and queens impaled together. On the first page, as it is bound (20^a), is an account of the issue of Peter I. of Portugal, in Latin.

10. "The prosedinge at the funerall of the Lo. Grey at Whadon the 22 of November 1593." 21^a.

Written by Richard Lee, Richmond Herald, and indorsed thus on 22^b—"The buriall of Sr Arthure Grey R. Lo. Grey of Wylton at Waddon."

11. "Thordre of the funerall of Therle of Lineux at Hackeney." 23^b.

Beside this indorsement, there are written on the back some suggestions for the advantage of the Office of Arms, and the Earl Marshal, relating to funerals, and the painting and granting of arms. (23^a.)

12. Order of the mourners and assistants "At the funerall of Reignold Erle of Kent, 1573;" and the manner of "The offering" and burial; prepared by GLOVER. 24^{ab}.

This paper is larger than f. 14, which ought to have been bound next to it.

13. "The order of the proceedinge at the funeralle of Edmonde Gryndall Arch Busshopp of Canterburye, solempnysed at Croydon the first of August 1583." 25^{ab}.

A long narrow paper, written (as also the next article) by Lee.

14. "Thorder of the p[rocedi]nge at the buryall of the right worshipfulle Sr Christopher Heydon of Bakonsthorp in the countye of Norffolk knight." 26^a.

Written on one page of a sheet, the inner side of which contains a draught of the—

- Pedigree of Curson, of Letheringset co. Norf. with the arms and quarterings tricked. 27^a—6^b.

15. "The ordre of the proceedinge to the churche" at "The entierment of Fraunces Erle of Shrowesbury." 28^{ab}.

The latter part of this title is the indorsement on 29^b, the lower half of which vacant leaf is lost. The Earl was buried 21 Oct. 1560; and a copy of the whole certificate of his funeral is in the Arundel MS. 35, §. 5. A small paper is annexed, containing—

16. The proclamation of the style and title of Francis Earl of Shrewsbury, made at his funeral. 30^a.

The names of some persons "on-payde" are noted on the back.

17. The order of the procession at the funeral of "Sr Tho: Bromley K^t Lo: Chancell^r who dyed a^o 1587." 31^a.

Thus indorsed: it is written by Lee's hand, as also—

18. "The proceedinge at the funerall of the right honorable Edwarde Lo. Clynton, Erle of Lyncolne, and Lo. highe Admyrall of England, at Wyndsores Castell, 11 Febr. 1584."* 32^{ba}.

* For 1585. A long narrow paper. f. 33 belongs to art. 8.

19. "The Viscount Bynden his funerall in the towne of Leire Marney in com' Dorset." 34^a.

A broad sheet written by Lee, and thus indorsed on 34^b. This funeral was either in 1582 or 1590.

20. "The offeringe at masse" at "A great Lady's buryall." 35^{ab}.

This paper (in a much older hand) was indorsed by Lee with the latter part of the title given above. The "Lady Marquis of Winchester" was the chief mourner: which fact fixes the time to the reign of Q. Mary.

21. Bill for "Paynting worke done for y^c R^t wor^ll Sr W^m Curtene for his funerall [!!!] By Christopher Treswell in y^c later end of May and beginning of June. 1636." 36^a.

"Vera copia exact' per me Edw. Litley," from the original, allowed by W. Le Neve Clarendienx. Some other costs are on the back.

22. "The order of prosedinge at the funerall of Robert Erle of Leicester. 1588." 37^{ab}.

A long narrow paper indorsed thus by Lee; as also is the next, which is a long folding sheet.

23. "The prosedinge at therle of Leicesters funerall from Ryndworth Castle, to Warwyke churche." 38^a.

A little note relating to the same is on a paper marked 39.

24. "The prosedenge and charge of the funerall of the right noble knight Sr Phyllipe Sydney, at Powles the daye before mensconed." 40—1.

As the day is not mentioned in this sheet, the article seems to be incomplete. It is written in Lee's hand. In the margin at the beginning, Sir W. Dugdale has also intitled it—"The Funerall of Sr Philip Sydney."

25. "The proceedinge at the funeralle of the right honorable Anne Stanhop Duches of Somersett, solemnised at Westminster the 4 of July Anno 1587." 42^a.

- "The order of the offeringe at the buryall of Anne Duches of Somerset" etc. 42^b.

The second page was written by Lee, who has also indorsed it.

26. Letter from CHARLES TAYLLAR "To the right wor^ll my especiall good freind Mr. Ley, in Phillip lane;" requesting money in his distress. (Kings-bench prison, 17 Apr. 1594.) 43^b.

On this sheet (which is folded here as one leaf) Lee has written under the letter some notes thus intitled in the indorsement (43^a)—

- "Rattes set downe for y^c B. of London's buryall, 1594." 43^b.

(John Aylmer). And on the other side—

- "Thinges nessesarie at the buriall of a Bishopp." 43^a.

27. "The funerall of W^m Marquesse of Northampton, celebrated at Warr' 5^o. Decemb. being Wensday, 14 Eliz. 1571." 44^{ab}.

By GLOVER's hand; except the title and a note (that Mr. Fortescue, keeper of the wardrobe, payed the fees) by Ang. Vincent.

28. "The painters bill for the buriall of Sr Cutbert Buckle late Mayor of London." 45^a.

Indorsed by Lee nearly in the same words as one of his indorsements on the next article.

29. "The order for all the morners" at the same. 46^a.

Noted thus on the back by Lee—"Sr Cutbert Buckle knight dienge Lo. Maiore of London was buried as a baron, and Sr Richard Martyne knight, and Lo. Maiore after hym or in hys place, was chefe mornor for hym. a^o. 1594." (47^b.)

30. "The order of Thearle of Bedfordes funerall at Cheynies the xiiijth of September. 1585." 48^a.

A long folded sheet of paper: f. 48 is a blank part of it.

31. Order of procession at "The buriall of ye Duke of Guys as I thynke." 50^{ah}.

A long narrow roll so indorsed by Lee: the back also contains a pedigree (by the same hand as the rest) showing—

The descent of Robert Earl of Leicester from Richard Beauchamp Earl of Warwick. 50^b.

32. "Directions for the Kings body to be brought to London." (James I.) 51^a.

This sheet seems to have been written and indorsed by the hand of Ang. Vincent.

No. 819.

A folio MS. (bound between the two foregoing and the two following MSS.) consisting of 26 leaves, including the supplemental leaves and pieces of paper attached in various places to the leaves which were (except the title leaf) partly paged and partly foliated to the same number, by Ashmole.

- "The solemne Rites and Ceremonies performed on the day of the Coronation of our souveraigne lord King Charles the second, happily celebrated upon the xxiii^d: day of Aprill being St: Georges day, Anno Domini 1661; observed and collected by ELIAS ASHMOLÉ Windsor Herald." (pp. '26') f. 1^a, 2—26^b.

This is a copy of the title-page: the heading of the tract is—"The Proceedings on the day of his Majestie's Coronation;" and it begins thus—"Upon the 23^d: of Aprill being St: Georges day, about halfe an houre after 7: a clock in the Morning, the King entred into his rich Barge tooke water from the Privy-staires at Whitehall, & landed at the Parliament-staires. Comparison with "A brief Narrative of his Majesties Solemn Coronation" (pp. 167—192), at the end of "The Entertainment of his most excellent Majestie Charles II. in his passage through the city of London to his Coronation [etc.] by John Ogilby" (London, 1662, large folio, Bodl. Art. B. 6. 3), proves beyond a doubt that it was for OGILBY's second edition (the former being in small folio, 1661, pp. 38, among Wood's printed books, No. 398, xvii, and elsewhere in this Library) that ASHMOLÉ drew up this narrative; of which Wood says, in his account of Ashmole's writings, "This I have not seen, and therefore I know not in what volume it is printed."

That this is the very MS. that was printed from, is evident from the printer's signatures marked in the margin, from "Z. 8. 168" to "Dd. 2. 194:" but the signatures, as the book was wrought off, are 'A a'—'D d.' Part of two successive draughts of this tract are still preserved in No. 1503, iv. A fair copy by Ashmole's own hand is in the Harleian MS. 4129, together with a copy of the Coronation-Roll.

No. 820.

The papers bearing this number are bound between the foregoing and the following MS. The first part is a thin book, consisting of 12 leaves, all (but the last two) written in a small hand.

- I. An original draught of the Statutes of the Order of the Garter as reformed by EDWARD VI., corrected by Sir W. CECIL, Chancellor of the Order. ff. 1—10^b.

From this MS. it appears that these statutes were at first designed to be enacted "at Windsor the xxviith of September in the year of the Lord 1552." The next successive draught, transcribed from this, is No. 1119, xiii; which see.

- II. Ordinance set forth "By the right honorable the Lords Commissioners for the Office of Earle Marshall of England," for the prevention and remedy of abuses prejudicial to the Officers of Arms, in matters relating to funerals and coat-armor: dated 10 Nov. 1618.

A large printed broadside, bearing at the foot, woodcuts of the arms of the Earl of Worcester, the Dukes of Lenox and Buckingham, and the Earls of Nottingham, Pembroke, and Arundel. A duplicate is in No. 845, f. 124.

- III. Nineteen curious Drawings in outline, copied by Dr. FORMAN from autient symbolical representations of the seven Sciences, with various magical characters and devices.

All (except the first) are neatly traced with a pen over lines closely pricked with a needle: the papers are of unequal sizes, and folded. The figures are chiefly winged genii; and their names are in Forman's hand-writing.

No. 821.

Under this number are comprized a paper book of 32 leaves in folio (the first of which is torn, and the last nine are blank), a fairly written sheet of paper, a printed broadside, and two folded leaves written in secretary-hand.

- I. [A description as well of his Majesty's Courts] "of Record, [as of his Majestys most honorable household,] the Nobilitie of E[ngland, the Bishoprics and Deaneries] of England and Wales, Officers of warre, Castles, Bullwarkes, and Fortresses, th of England, with his Howses, Forrests, Parks, and with the knowne certayne standing Fees to ev[ery] perticuler Officer, collected in anno Domini 1615." ff. 1—23^a.

This title is partly filled up from No. 824, f. 217^b. Compare also No. 792, vi. 2. They are earlier statements of the same kind

- II. Regis Caroli II. literæ patentés, quibus Gervasio Holles insignia sua portare coloribus alienis depicta, in discrimen, honoris fortitudinisque causa concessum est. (Dat. ap. castrum Elizabeti in ins. Jersey, 4 Dec. 1649.) f. 33—4.

The descent and military merits of this person are herein set forth; his paternal arms, ermin, two piles sable, were changed to or, two piles gules. He was a considerable antiquary, and compiled many volumes of Collectanea, still extant in the British Museum; to the handwriting of which, this sheet bears a strong resemblance. Ashmole hath noted in his Diary that he died 10 Feb. 1675.

III. "Upon sight of the Heralds coat, xii. occasional Queries at the proclaiming of the King, May 8. 1660." 35^a.

A printed squib.

IV. Regis Edwardi II. literæ patentés, in quibus charta Johannis de Britannia comitis Richm. facta Bertramo de Mounboucher et Johanne ux. ejus, ad concedendum maneria de Hamerdene et Filsham et terras in Corley et Crotseleye in com. Sussexiæ, recitatur. (18 Jul. 1310.) 36—7.

An old office-copy, thus headed—"In Rotulo Patentium de anno .iiii.º. E. secundi." The charter recited must have been made between the years 1276 and 1290.

No. 822.

A folio volume, consisting of 268 leaves of paper, in three parts, the two first of which were fairly written (with wide margins) by ELIAS ASHMOLE. esq.

I. 1. "Verba abbreviata in libro de Domesday" explicata. f. 1^a.

Copied from Dogdale's MS. 2, p. 79.

2. Excerptum e libro censuali Domesday vocato (sub tit. Chenth.), de Doveria, et antiquis legibus consuetudinibusque Cantia. 3—4^b.

3. Comitatus Berrochescire census, e libro Domesday transcriptus; cui præponuntur nomina Tenentium, postponitur Locorum Index. 5^{ab}, 6—41^b, 42^a—5^a.

4. Comitatus Cestrescire census, ex eodem; eum Indice Locorum. 50—87, 88—90^b.

5. Comitatus Statfordscire census, inde quoque; eum Indice Locorum. 93—114, 114^b—6^b.

After this article it seems that 3 leaves have been cut out: and the following note has been written with a pencil—"Deest pars com. Oxon. (ut patet) exsecta." (f. 117.) Lhuyd's catalogue states that in this MS. was contained "et pars Oxenefordscire."

II. A History of the proceedings in Parliament, in the reigns of Edward III. and Richard II., abstracted from the Rolls of Parliament. ff. 202—237^b.

It begins with this title—"The Parlyamente of Edw. III. and Rich. II. houlden at Westm^r: the moonday nexte after the feaste of St Katheryne in the 4th. yeare of King Edward the thirde" The last paragraph is intitled—"The Parliamte: houlden at Westm^r: the moonday next after the exaltacõn of the crosse in the xxj. yeare of K. Rich: the seconde and from thence adjourned to Shrewsbury, etc." It seems to have been transcribed from an old MS.

III. A discourse on some of the Privileges and Practices of the House of Commons; drawn from actual precedents on record, chiefly in the reign of Q. Elizabeth; namely—

I. "Concerning the petitions usually made by the Speaker of the House of Commons, for freedom of access unto their Maties, for liberty of speech in the House, and for freedom from arrests etc." 243.

2. "Concerning the examination of the Eleccõns of Parliament-men." 259.

3. "Concerning the Cittizens and Burgesses in Parliam^t: serving for the cities and boroughs; who they ought to bee." 261^b—6^b.

The latter part of this valuable transcript (from f. 254^b) was written by Ashmole.

"A Postscript concerning the authority of a booke called the Institution of a Christian man;" extracted from a book intituled the Defence of Priests' Marriage, set forth in the reign of Q. Mary. 267—8^b.

A fairly written sheet inserted at the end: but it does not appear to what it serves as a postscript.

No. 823.

A thin folio MS. closely written, in the XVIIIth century, in a very upright character: it is thus intitled—

"The Life of St John Hawkewood. By [Mr. MORRIS] an Authour of these times, who hath thus chosen to abandon, or, at y^e fairest, to venture his owne reputation, to gaine it to his countrie, in case his forces had bene up to his claime."

"Inspecere tanquam in speculum, vitas hominum
Jubeo, atque ex alijs sumere exemphum sibi. Ter.
Vita aliena tuæ sit cathegita vita. S. Aldhelmus."

On the two pages that follow this title, is a dedication without name of patron or author: but the author's name has been discovered in the copy of a letter given at p. 106—7, written by Sir William Boswell to Monsieur Jean de Laet of Leiden, a friend of the author, about a tomb at Venice, supposed to be that of Lionel of Antwerp, third son of Edward III. The letter is dated from the "Hagh, 7th Aug. 1641," and begins thus:—"Sir, That Mr. Morris may see, I will denie you and him nothing, towards so noble a designe as his hand is upon, in the storie of St John Hawkewood, as you desire, I here inclose the draught I tooke anno Domini 1628" etc. This MS. is cited by name and page in Ashmole's collections for the life of Edward the Third, No. 1106, p. 46—7, and in No. 865, art. 17.

This is evidently the original MS., and a fragment of the draught of it is preserved, affixed to p. 107: there is also a paper containing an addition, on p. 114, which is the last of the narrative. Those pages which follow next, yet are marked 181—7, contain an appendix of extracts from antient historians, concerning this hero. On the leaf marked page "115," is fixed a paper, on which are written (by the same hand) the contents of various collections of antient histories of Germany, thus headed—"In tomo singulari rerum Germ. editore Justo Reubero, insunt hi scriptores."

No. 824.

A large folio volume, consisting of many MSS. and papers of different sizes, and written by different hands.

I. "My L. of Winchester's sermon at Quene Marys buryall." f. 1^b—9.

A full report of Bishop GARDINER's sermon, preached from this text—"Laudavi mortuos magis quam viventes, sed feliciorem utroque judicavi, qui nequum natus est." There is another copy in the Cott. MS. Vesp. D.XVIII. art. 4, f. 94. This MS. has been doubled down the middle, and indorsed with the above-written title, on the corner of the first page. The last 7 pages are vacant.

- II. "The substance of the arraignment of Phillip Earle of Arrundell, the fourth of Aprill. 1589." 14—19.

A complete report of his trial before the Lord High Steward. This MS. consists of 8 quarto leaves (the first and last of which are blank) and is neatly written in a small hand within ruled margins.

- III. "The effect of the Proceedings in the businesse touchinge the Earle of Castlehaven." 21—25.

A report of the trial of that horrid wretch, before the Lord High Steward, in 1631.

- IV. An unfinished report of the Trial of the Earl and Countess of Somerset, for the poisoning of Sir Thomas Overbury. 27—31.

The last paragraph begins thus—"Mr. Recorder said that Sr Francis Bacon had well observed" etc. This MS. is neatly written in a small hand: it is damaged by damp: the first and the last leaf are blank.

- V. "The manner of Donald Lord Rey and David Ramsey esq^r their coming to and carriage at their Tryalle, upon mundaie the xxviiith of November 1631, before Robert Lord Linsey Lord high Constable, Thomas Earle of Arundell Erle Marshall, Phillip Earle of Pembrok and Mountgomerie Lord Chamberlaine, the Earle of Dorset, and others of the privie Counsell, Sr Henry M^rtin being joyned in the commission for an assistant of the co[u]rt." 33—46^b.

Of this interesting report of the last court holden for a trial by battle, the present copy is unfinished, ending with this title, "Wednesday sitting 14 Decembr' 1631," and leaving the last 9 leaves vacant, which are somewhat torn: there is a complete transcript in No. 856, art. 16; and a record of the trial in Dugdale's MS. 30.

- VI. The "Lord Keepers speech in the Starr Chamber" about the state of the realm etc. "14 Febr. 1636." 56—7.

A single sheet, indorsed also to the same effect.

- VII. "The Lord Arch-Bishopp of Canterbury his speech in the Starr Chamber, the xjth of July: 1637: concerning the Lord of Lincolne." 58—75^b.

This report is different from, and more complete than that in No. 800, art. 6. It is written with wide margins, by the hand of a contemporary clerk; as are also the three following MSS.

- VIII. "An exact coppie of the Censure passed by the lordes and others of his maties most honorable Privy Councill, upon the lord B^{pp} of Lincolne, undecimo Julij 13^o Caroli Regis, annoque Domini 1637." 76—101^b.

This MS. contains the speeches of—

"My Lord Cottington." 76.

"My Lo: cheife Justice of the Common Pleas, Sr John Fynch." 78^b.

"Mr Secretary Windebanke." 85^b.

"Sr Thomas Jermine," and "The Earle of Lindsee, Lo: high Chamberlaine." 86.

(Thus far it agrees with No. 800, art. 5. The following speeches are not in that MS.)

"The Earle of Arrundell." 86.

"The Lo: Privy Seale, the Earle of Manchester." 86^b.

"My Lo: Treasurer the Lo: Bishopp of London." 90^b.

"My Lo: Keeper." 92.

The two last leaves of this MS. (102—3) are vacant.

- IX. Proceedings at the Censure of John Bastwicke, M. D., Henry Burton, and William Prynne, for publishing books alledged to be seditious; "In Camera Stellata coram concilio ibidem, decimo quarto die Junij, anno decimo tertio Caroli Regis." (1637.) 104—111.

A farther order "In Camera Stellata" (etc.) 29 June, 1637, that the said persons, being committed to several prisons, should not have pen, ink, or paper, nor any other books but the bible, the prayer-book, and books of devotion. 112^{ab}.

- X. The discourse that passed "At the assemblie of the Lords in the high court of Starr Chamber, about the Censure of M^r Pryn, Doctor Bastwicke, and M^r Burton;" between the prisoners and their oppressive judges. 114—122^b.

The first and two last leaves of this article are vacant.

The substance of art. viii. ix. and x. seems to be contained (with very much more on the same subjects) in a printed book intitled "A new Discovery of the Prelates tyranny, in their late prosecutions" etc. (Lond. 1641, 4^o, pp. 226.) No. 722 of Ashmole's collection.

- XI. "A briefe description of the solempnities used in calling and assemblinge [Parliament]: and the manner of propounding discusseing and enacting of Lawes in both Howses. Something also is added concerning the Convocation-house of the Clergie." 125—8^b.

Ff. 129—130 are blank leaves of this tall quarto tract, which was written on paper taken out of an account book. This MS. is by the same hand as No. 749, iii. iv.

Between this and the next MS. is a broadside "Printed by Thomas Parfoot" in the black letter, containing an original copy of a—

- Brief granted by JAMES I. to Henry Thomson, parson of Edenham in Lincolnshire, for collecting money to rebuild his barn and stable, which were burnt (with his goods) 28 Dec. 1610. (Dated 11 Feb. anno 10.) 131.

- *XII. "The Earle of SHAFTESBURY'S Speech in the court of Kings Bench, when he was brought thither by Habeas Corpus, June 29th 1677." 132—3.

The contents of this sheet are also comprized in the following article, at f. 143—4^b.

- XIII. Report of the proceedings on "The Earle of Shaftesbury's case," argued in "Trinity [term] 29 Caroli secundi in Banco Regis, June 27th [and] 29th. 1677." 134—146.

Fairly written within ruled margins.

- XIV. "Articles of treasonable and other crimes of high misdemeano^r against the Earl of Arlington, principall Secretary of State." 147—8^b.

This sheet is written by the same hand as No. 1097.

- *XV. "A breif Journall of a flete of shippes set out by the Kinges most excellent Ma^{ty}: of Greate Brittain, aswell against the pirattes of Arger as others, consistinge of 28 sayle, (whereof six where of his Ma^{ties} royall shippes, 10 merchantes shippes, and 2 pinnaces) under the command of Sir Robert Mansell Knight, Vice Admirall of England, and Admirall of that fleet, and a counsell of warr appointed by his Ma^{ty}.”

The first five pages contain a list of the officers, ships, and ordnance, sent in this expedition against Algiers, which sailed from the Downs, 16 Sept. 1620. This journal (which is full and satisfactory) ends with the setting of sail from Malaga, in returning, 6 July, 1621. After two blank leaves follow complete lists showing—

“The number and names of the shippes, briggandins, boates, and such volentarie men, with their condition, which were at the service in the mould of Argire.” 166—8.

“The number and condition of all the brass [and iron] ordinance in the fleet.” 169^{ab}.

The last five leaves of this MS. are vacant: the margin is stained and worn throughout.

XVI. “A Voiage of ambasad [to Russia] undertaken by the right honorable Sr Dudlie Diggs, in the year 1618.” 175—186^b.

This curious narrative of the voyage round the North Cape to Archangel, begins with a list of the chief persons employed in the embassy, and contains observations of the weather, and on the commercial, agricultural, and domestic state of Russia at that time. It is written in a rude hand, and by a person unskilled in composition. The last half page contains some chronological notes and other stuff, perhaps written by the same hand.

XVII. “A Journall of all the occurrences happening at and after our landing in the Isle of Ree.” 187—192^b.

A narrative of an unsuccessful expedition to occupy an island on the French coast, from 11 July to 28 Oct. [1627]. This MS. is well written: it consists of 8 leaves, the 2 last of which are vacant and very foul and worn.

XVIII. “A report of all the burialles and xp^enynges wth in the city of London and liberties of the same, for one whole yere, from thursday the 29 day of December 1597, to thursday the 28 of Dec. 1598.” 196—9^b.

This and the three following MSS. are neatly and uniformly written. Each consists of two written sheets of paper, inclosed in one that is vacant, except that it has such a short title as this—“A 29 die Decembrⁱ 1597 usque ad 28 diem Decemb. 1598.” (f. 195.) The fourth, however, has no wrapper.

XIX. “A report of all the burialles and xp^enynges” (etc.) from 30 Dec. 1596 to 29 Dec. 1597. f. 202—5^b.

XX. “A report” (etc.) from 27 Dec. 1599 to 25 Dec. 1600. f. 208—211^b.

XXI. “A report” (etc.) from 28 Dec. 1598 to 27 Dec. 1599. f. 213—6^b.

Every page of these Bills of Mortality is divided into six columns, thus headed—“The whole number [dead]. Of the plague. Of other diseases. Parishes clere. Parishes infected. Christenynges.”

XXII. 1. “A description as well of his Maiesties Courts of Record, as of his Ma^{ties} most honorable Housboulde, the Nobilitie of England, the Bishopprickes and Deaneries of Englande and Wales, the Councells of the Northe of Wales and Marches, the Admiraltie, the Armorye, and the Mint, Officers at armes, his Ma^{ties} Townes of warre, Cast[les], Bullwarkes, and Fortresses, the islandes, the havens, and harbors of England and Wales, wth his highnes Houses, Parkes, Forrests, and Chases, collected in anno 1614.” 217^b, 218—240^b.

This is a neater and better copy than the two MSS. No. 792, vi. 2, and No. 821, i. which bear different dates. An abstract by Ralph Sheldon of Beoly, is in Wood's MS. 33, f. 13.

2. “The arraignment of Thomas Duke of Norff. before the Earle of Shrewsbury Lord high Steward of England, the 18 day of January, anno Domini [1572 *et] regni reginæ 14.” 241—242.

* Not 1591, which is added after “14” in the MS. This article is unfinished, and the following nine pages are left vacant.

XXIII. “Allegations betweene Smyth and Kelley, 1597.” 247^{ab}.

This sheet seems to be an original answer in some law-suit relating to trade in alum with France, by virtue of letters patent. It is signed by “Richard Kelley,” and thus indorsed, “Kellies answer to Smyth.” (248^b.)

XXIV. 1. Names of different kinds of apples and pears. 249^a.

2. “The Melonniere, or the order to dresse and plant the melon-seedes.” 250—3.

3. “Certayne particularities concerning cucumbers, melons, pompons, and such like fruite.” 253^{ab}.

4. “A breefe note for the settinge and plantinge of the melon-seede, from my lorde of Essex gardner.” 254^a.

The last nine pages of this book are blank.

No. 825.

This folio volume contains two MSS., both beautifully written by GLOVER, Somerset Herald: the former is more in the Italic character, and on smaller paper than the other, which is written in the secretary-hand.

I. 1. “De sepultura et exequijs funebribus nobilissimi equitis Johannis Rantzovij” (Bredenberga, prid. cal. Mart. 15 . .) elegans narratio; præmissa insigniorum ejus arbore, cum epigrammate. 1^{ab}, 2—4^b.

2. “De gradibus consanguinitatis et affinitatis: familia Austriaca huc posita propter exempla sequentium regularum.” 7—13^b.

In fine—“Huc usque ex JOHANNIS THOMÆ FREIGIJ Quaestionibus Justinianeis in institutiones juris civilis, cum analysi logica et politica aliquot consiliorum Zasij.” Basilea, per Seb. Henric-Petri, 1578. 80.

3. “Nomina eorum qui fuerunt cum rege Henrico Quinto ad bellum de Agincourt, anno regni sui tertio.”

“AGINCOURT. Notandum: quod in hoc libro lanceorum nomina singulatim eo ordine quo in originali ponebantur, hic quoque ponuntur, cum tamen sagittariorum nomina omittuntur, at verus eorum numerus hic quoque scribitur.” 15^a, 16—33.

On 16^a (the first of the “18” leaves of this beautiful transcript) is the long heading of the roll in Latin: the record is in French, as also is the subscription stating that it was delivered unto the Barons of the Exchequer, 19 Nov. 4 Hen. V. 1416. By comparing this copy with that printed by Sir Harris Nicolas, in his History of the Battle of Agincourt (London, 1827, 8vo.) it appeared far more authentic than other transcripts (the original Roll not being known to exist); and the result of the collation is given in the second edition of that valuable work (1832, 8vo.), p. 401—3.

4. ROBERTI GLOVERI Feialis doctissimi, Miscellaneorum liber, seu ad rem genealogicam et heraldicam, nobilitatisque honores, transcripta, collectanea, et commentationes. 34—102^b.

Ff. 103—6, are four leaves inserted between the two books when bound.

II. 1. A Discourse showing "The Title of Henry Vernon of Stoke-Say in the countie of Salop" esquire, to the name and style of Lord Powys, in the right of Anne his graundmother, cousyn and coheire of Edward the last Lord Powys; by ROBERT GLOVER, Somerset Herald. 108—114^b.

In support of the arguments of this case, the precedents contained in the following article were collected; which are pedigrees showing the descent of the peerages, neatly done in roundlets, and on alternate pages, except some omissions.

2. "Examples of such, as, after the decease of a Baron or Peere of this realme without yssue masle, in the right of their wyfes, mothers, graundmothers, or greate-graundmothers, having ben the eldest daughters or coheires to the said Baron, have enjoyed the name, stile, and dignity of the said Barony, accordinge to the most auneyent usage and laudable custome of this realme of England." 115^b—245.

3. "That the Sonnes of Barons in the lyf-tyme of their fathers, and in the right of their wyfes have enjoyed the name, stile, and dignitie of Barons, by these examples followinge, among many other, may be proved." 247—8.

The names are—Clifford, Verdun, Latymer, La Warre, Despenser, Talbot, Furnyvall, Hungerford, Welles, and Stanley. This article is hastily written: the three next pages are blank. On the first page of this MS. has been put this title by another hand, "Treaties of descents of severall Barronyes of England." (107^a.) No 862 (art. 2, 3) contains a transcript of all but this last appendix, from the other original MS. made for Mr. Vernon himself, in or before 1590; and just so much was published from the present MS. by Collins, in his Proceedings, Precedents, and Arguments on Baronies by Writ, (1734, fol.) p. 378—396.

No. 826.

A folio volume consisting of a multitude of papers, by different hands, bound together; many of them were written by ASHMOLE, and are thus marked †. It contains 250 leaves, beside 3 blank leaves at the beginning, on one of which are pasted two papers that are the first article.

2. "The estaet of Marsheland:."* or, an antient description of the boundaries and townes of the part of Lineolnshire so called. f. 1^{ab}.

* This sheet, fairly written in a hand of Elizabeth's time or earlier, is so indorsed.

3. "Laus Deo 1547. Mony layd out by me JOHN ABELL, for Bernerdinus Ochino and Petrus Marter, from the 4 of November at Basell, untill the 20 of December that they came to London." 3—4.

This original bill to the Privy Council was thus indorsed by Lord Burleigh, "Jhon Abell 126^{li} D. Petro. Bernard." A copy of it was communicated to the Society of Antiquaries in 1825, by Sir Harris Nicolas, and printed in the Archæologia, vol. XXI. num. xxviii. p. 471—3.

4. "A case of matrimony. Ed. Hartford [and] La. Cathar." 5—6.

This was this paper indorsed by Lord Burleigh: its heading shows the nature of the case.—"An answer made to this question, whether yf a man or woman being free from all others contractes, confesse before lawfull Judges, that they be maryed, and have hade carnall copulacōn, and can brynge no wytnesses y'of, and do dyffer or varie in circumstances of the mariage: this mariage be goode, and ought to be allowed. And whether snche confession be a sufficient publication."

5. Translation of a letter from PHILIP IV. King of Spain (to the King of France?) stating that his late father's "intention never was to marry my sister y^e Infanta, Dona Maria, wth the Prince of Wales" (Charles I.); and treating of various political affairs. (8 Nov. 1622.) 7—9.

These two small sheets are beautifully written.

6. "The most weightie secrets and last instructions gyven by PHILLIPP the second King of Spaine to his sonne Phillip the third whoe nowe reigneth, teaching him howe to governe himselfe and his kingdome after the decease of his father; brought to light by a servant of Don Xp^{ofer} Demona called Roderico; translated out of Spanish in to English." 11—12.

7. "A deelaracōn of his highnesse touching y^e warr ag^t y^e crowne of France, [by] Ferdinando—Infant of Spaine, Lieutenant Governour and Captaine generall of y^e countreyes of Burgundie."—"Dated at Bruxelles y^e 24 of June 1635." 13—14.

8. "Reasons why it is necessarie for the service of her Ma^{tie} to have a Docto^r of the Civill Lawe of her feed Councell." 15^{ab}.

This paper relates to the privileges of a Queen Consort, as to her own Admiralty. It is indorsed "Doctor Hunt." (16^b.)

9. "A true historical relation of the horrible tumult in Moscau (y^e cheife citie in Moscovia) on the 22 of June 1648, caused by the intolerable taxes and contributions layd on the commonaltie. All which is described by a person of qualitie, who was present, and hath imparted it to a frend of his in Amsterdam." 17—18^b.

*10. CAROLI LUDOVICI Comit. Pal. Rheni et Ducis Bavarie epistola (ad regem Carolum II?) de matrimonio filie sue Elisabethae Charlottae cum Philippo Duce Aurelianensi, Regis Galliae filio, jam concluso. (Argentorati, 24 Oct. 1671.) 19^{ab}.

A fair transcript: the second leaf is vacant, as is the case with many of these papers.

11. "The translation of the Emperour of Russia his l're sent to her Ma^c A^o 1589, touching Doctor Ridley." 21.

This is this contemporary paper indorsed on f. 22^b. The letter is dated Mosko, in May, A. M. 7107: hence the translation of another letter printed in Sir Henry Ellis-es first series (num. cccxxv.) III. p. 48, must be dated 1593; the Russian period being reckoned 5518 B. C.

- *12. GUSTAVI ADULPHI Succorum Regis, ad R. Carolum I. epistola, victoriam in prælio prope Lipsiam contra Tillium adeptam narraus. ("Dat' Halaë Saxonum 13^o Sept. 1631.") 23^{ab}.

13. A translation of the same, indorsed thus—"King of Swedens letter to King Charles I." 25^a.
Very neatly written.

14. "Copie of parte of the l're that camme from my Lady of SAVOYE to the Kinges grace." 27.

It is in French, and relates the successes of the Dukes of Burgundy and Bourbon against the French King, the latter of whom had made himself master of all Provence. This paper is contemporary.

- †15. Measurements "1 Feb. 166⁵ Taken from the staff w^{ch} presents the growth of King Charles and his royall yssue, being made of Brazell 8 square and at every yeares height inlayd wth mother of pearle, every person having one of the sides assigned for their peculiar measure." 28^a.

16. "The state of a Secretaries place and y^c per- rill: written by ROBERT Earle of SALISBURY, anno" 29^a.

Printed in 1642, in quarto: see Park's edition of Walpole, II. 139.

17. "Articulis credentialis severalie gevin to or familiare servand Thomas Scot gentillman of or house to be schowin to y^e ry^t excellent ry^t hie and my^{ty} prince or derrest bruy' and uncle the King of England." 30^{ab}.

This sheet (written in a very small hand) contains a copy of two special articles committed by JAMES V. of Scotland unto his envoy to Henry VIII. relating to his marriage with Margaret the French King's daughter, and the peace with England; also a—

- Certificate, written and signed by the said THOMAS SCOTT, that the foregoing is a true copy: dated at Westm. 3 Nov. 1530. f. 31^a.

Dugdale in his MS. 11, f. 131, refers to a copy of this article in the Heralds' MS. L. 1, f. 23, etc.

18. Inscriptio de ecclesia cathedrali S. Pauli London. a Guilelmo Laud præcipue restaurata, "In intercolumnio quod australem alam a choro dividit" ponenda. 32^a.

Two successive draughts written on one page.

19. Anagrams and verses, both in Latin and in English, on the two John Tradescants; by WALTER STONEHOUSE. 33^a, 34^a.

This is the original sheet from which they were printed at the beginning of that rare and curious little book, intitled "Museum Tradescantianum": or a collection of rarities preserved at South-Lambeth near London by JOHN TRADESCANT." (London, 1656, small 8vo.) No. 1007 and 1574 in this collection.

- †20. Roman inscription on an altar found at Caerleon, 1 March, 1653. f. 35^a.

- †21. Job xiii. 25 (in Latin), as cited when a tax was laid by pope Alex. VII. on paper and tobacco: also an epitaph "Upon one who died upon the biting of a cat; in the church of St Maria del popolo, at Rome." 36^a.

- †22. Roman "Inscription found neere the Pietes wall, 1670" (at Benwell) as copied by Dr. Geo. Davenport:* also a more exact copy and description of the same stone, by another hand. 37^a.

* Chaplain to the Bp. of Durham; he sent it in a letter to Dugdale (not known to Hamper), 31 May, 1670. The other paper is fixed to this leaf.

- †23. Two antient inscriptions found in a mill-dam at Nunry in Cumberland. 39^a.

Copied by Mr. Geo. Fothergill and sent to Dugdale 24 June, 1672. They seem to be a mixture of Roman and Runic characters.

- †24. Inscriptio super victoria navali adversus Anglos anno 1666 parta, a Batavis posita. 40^a.

This paper is in small quarto, as also the next sheet.

25. Notes in Spanish, about the Netherlands and the Kings of France and Spain. (1666.) 41^a.

26. Inscriptio qua fuit insignitum "Monumentum eminentissimi Cardinalis Ducis Richlej: Sorbonæ." 43^{ab}.

- Aliud, "In Cardinalem Richleium" epitaphium. 44^a.

27. Cardinalis "Julii Mazarini epitaphium" prolixum. 45^{ab}.

- The same "Done into English [verse] by R. W." 45^b.

Both written by Booker.

- †28. In eundem vel similem quempiam aulicum, epitaphium breve. 47^a.

- †29. Papæ Alexandri VII. epitaphium. (ob. 1677.) 48^a.

30. Joannis King, militis, jurisconsulti regii, (qui ob. 3 cal. Julij 1677, æt. 38,) epitaphium. 50^a.

Written by the same hand as No. 1097; and subscribed thus by Ashmole—"This inscription was made by MR. FLATMAN."

31. Writ of privy seal of the Christmas-Prince of the Middle Temple, under the signature of "Ri: Pr: de l'amour," directed "To our trusty and welbelovéd servant M^r John Garrett," requiring his attendance at court." (26 Dec. 1635.) 52^a.

This original paper is indorsed by Ashmole (53^b) "Prince de l'Amours privie seale:" the impression of the seal is almost perfect. The extraordinary festivities of this kind that were formerly celebrated in the Inns of Court and the Colleges, may be seen in two curious publications, intitled Gesta Graiorum (Lond. 1688, 4^o. No. 1044, i.), and the "Christmas Prince" of St. John's College in 1607, which was edited by Dr. Bliss in the Miscellanea Antiqua Anglica, 1816, 4^o.

32. Names of seven "Forrayne histories falsely reporting of England." 54^a.

This sheet is indorsed thus at 56^b: it is written in a large old hand.

- †33. Draught of the bottom of an earthen urn, inscribed "SATURNN." which was found in Monmouth about 1648, by Mr. Melbourne. 56^a.

†34. Copy and translation of a Roman inscription "Inscribed upon the pedestal of [a] woman's head, in his Maties: galery." 58^a.

†35. Four impressions (in wax) from the outside of a small onyx*, and a sketch of the figures engraved on "The inside of the stone." 59^a.

* A beautiful Greek head crowned.

A slip of paper is inserted before the next leaf, on which is the following note, written by a modern hand:—"After the impression of the onyx, should follow according to ye printed Catalogue 'An inscription of unknown characters, taken out of a grave in Hampton-Road Gloucestershire, about ye year 1618:' instead of wch we have here only ye remains of a torn out leaf."

†36. Draught and description of an old brass ring*, containing a gem, "whereon are engraved the symbolles of divinacon." 60^a.

* "Much esteemed by King Charles the first, and now in his Maties: cabinet. Aprill 1665."

†37. Copy, decipher, and translation, of an "Inscription upon a peece of gold, sent [unto] the King from Tangire, and there digged up, at the making of the out-works." 62^a.

This sheet is indorsed—"Coynes found at Tangier."

†38. Figures of four English "Coynes lent me by Mr Petty;" with the legends, as variously made out by Mr. Segar and Sir Rob. Southwell. 64^{ab}.

†39. Extracts from number xxi of "Le Journall des Scavans, du lundy 24 May M.DC.lxvj. par le Sr G. P." with the figures of two coins tricked, from the collection of Seguin therein reviewed. 66—7.

*†40. Diary of events and transactions, personal and historical, from 26 Aug. 1660, to 9 March, 1661, by ELIAS ASHMOLE, esq. 71^b—82^b.

Of the 16 leaves (ff. 68—83) on which these memoranda of an eventful time were written, the first seven pages and the last leaf were left vacant: many blank spaces occur between the entries, which are fairly written within ruled margins. This article is a valuable supplement to Ashmole's Diary in No. 1136 (f. 35—6), and has not been printed.

†41. "The designe of a painting placed in the middle of the rooffe of the Kings bedchamber in Whitehall, painted by Mr. Wright." 84^{ab}.

An allegorical piece, designed "to represent the Kings birth, his right to his dominions, and lastly his miraculous preservation:" with this motto—Terras Astræa revisit.

†42. "Advice of a Frend, to his dearest Frend," exhorting him to prepare for death, as being in the "waning" of life. 86—91^b.

A fair transcript of a long pious and earnest letter.

†43. "Sr: HENRY SIDNEY's letter to his sonne" Sir Philip Sidney, when young, containing good counsel for his studies and behavior. 93—4.

Noticed by Bp. Tanner, p. 670, as to be found here.

†44. Two female characters contrasted; of a sister the one, the other of a wife. 95—6^b.

45. A jealous husband's speech against his wife, and her apology declaring her own chastity. 97—100^b.

This is a rhetorical exercise on the following case:—"A faire younge wife beinge lefte by her husbande, whoe went to travell, there arrives to the same village where shee lived, a marchant; whoe solliciteinge by all meanes her chastity received only denialls from her. It falls out that this merchant deceases whilst hee was in this pursuite, and leaves the faire wife heire to all his goods, adding this reason, Because I have founde her chast. She enters on the possession of his goods, her husbande returnes, suspects and accuses her of adulterye."

At the end of these sheets is written in short hand—

†46. "An essay of Marriage." 100^b.

†47. Letter from JOHN SUCKLING to "Will" about ship-news, and the character of the Dutch, in an excessive strain of low wit. (Leyden, 18 Nov. 1629.) 102.

On the last page of the sheet, containing this transcript, is written—†47. The celebrated Sermon on Malt, by Mr. Dod. 102^b.

The author's name is not given in this copy, which differs both in the circumstances and in some words, from the printed copies.

†49. "An answer to a Gentleman of Norfolke who sent to know of ye Scottish busines:" namely, the rebellion of 1639. 103^{ab}.

Subscribed "J: S: or A: C:" and indorsed "A lettre concerning ye Scotts busines to a Norff. gen."

†50. "A Medly" beginning thus—After yt old Senior Jno had heard. 104^a.

Same as in No. 1763 (B), art. 8.

†51. "The Scotch postures" in the use of the musket. (Laughable.) 105^a.

52. An odd love-letter from JENET BAWLEY of Dundee to Sandy Bawley in London. 106^{ab}.

53. Memorandum de amotione ossium regis Arthuri et Gwinaveræ reginæ, quando Walterus Abbas Glastoniensis chorum ampliavit, anno 1368: et inscriptio tunc reperta de eisdem antea ibi depositis anno 1278, rege magnatibusque præsentibus. 107^a.

This half-page is well written in an old hand of the time of Henry VIII.: the rest of the leaf is filled with—

54. Nomina quorundam magnatum qui antiquarum chartarum regiarum testes fuerunt; manu D. GUIL. CECILII excerpta. 107^{ab}.

The second page is written invertedly.

55. Proclamation of peace between the King of England and "Charles the prince of Castell, Archeduke of Austr' Duc of Burgon. etc." in a writ unto the Sherrifs of London. (Westm. 10 Feb. 7 Hen. VIII.) 108^a.

A contemporary transcript. Not in the Fœdera.

56. Blazon of "The Puritanes Armes," and of those suitable for "The Jesuites—The Usurers—The Pedant—[and] Ignoramus." 109^a.

This is the paper from which art. 152 was copied.

57. Verses on these three themes—

1. Difficile est regnare: quia omnes regnandi appetentes.
Tis hard to rule, 'cause all desire to sway:
Should all men rule, then no man would obey." (29 L.) 110^a.
2. "See here serv'd in, in mens skynnes, not in dishes, Varietie of creatures, birds, beasts, fishes." (56 l.) ib.
3. "Scientia possessori onus, si non alijs eandem distribuat." (31 l.) ib.

58. "A Table wherein is declared how long it is since any will hath bin proved or administration granted of a mans goods, in any King or Queenes reigne *in theise later tymes; very necessary for young clerkes and notaryes belonging to publique offices." (!) 112^a.

* At first designed to serve for "since the conquest:" but the title was altered by Ashmole, and it begins at "1658—1 year since," and ends at 1559. On the back is written by Ashmole, "Mr. Meriton in St: Anthony's churchyard."

59. 'Verses in some occult writing;'* or, two pieces of Poetry in an unknown character. 113^a.

* Thus described in Lhuyd's Catalogue, num. 7000. Very neatly written in the same character and by the same hand us No. 1153, xii.

60. "Eminentiores Theologi:" seu decem Doctorum scholasticorum nomina, tituli, atque ætates. 115^a.

It seems to have been written in 1656, which is the year set against the last, . . . "Hewett,—Doctor Mellifluus" etc.

†61. A short catalogue of books in "MS. in Bibl. Ceciliana." 116^{ab}.

62. "Inscriptio ædium Nicolai Tungal, quæ sunt Holmiæ non procul ab ædibus Delagardianis." (vv. 4.) 118^a.

This paper was formerly loose at the end, and is here inserted in the stead of a printed paper now in No. 1763.

†63. Note about an old MS. in Latin verse, intitled "Liber de Creatione," of which "Du Bartas was but a translation." 119^a.

Ashmole states that Sir Rich. Fanshaw had carried it into France to show this fact there; and that it was in the possession of the Bishop of Lincoln (his friend Dr. Barlow) when he saw it, in June, 1675.

†64. Latin names of some English towns; and some other notes. 120^a.

†65. The number of towns, counties, knights' fees, and churches, in England "about Ed: 3. tyme;" and note of a royal grant to Rob. de Holand: "Out of ye Abbey-hooke of Vale Royall." 122^a.

†66. A short list of "Leiger-bookes of Monasteries, [showing] in whose handes" they were, in Ashmole's time. 124^a.

A larger list is in Dugdale's MS. 48, art. 10.

†67. "Miranda;" or notes of remarkable occurrences coinciding with the time of the death of Charles I. 125^a.

Notes of the demolishing of Lichfield Cathedral, in 1646, 1651, and 1653. ib.

Note that Mr. Dodsworth died in Lancashire, in Aug. 1654. ib.

†68. "The state of the case" of Thomas Grant-ham's estate, left in trust for the payment of his debts and children's portions; as set forth in Chancery, 16 Car. II. 126^a.

†69. Regiæ cujusdam precatio pro se et populo suo congregato: "Ex MS. pergamen. penes Com. Sarish." 128^a.

On the lower part of the first page of this sheet, was written at another time—

†70. In monumentum Henrici Tylsoni, Elphinensis episcopi (nati 1576, consecrati 1649), inscriptio a filio suo Nathano posita. 128^a.

71. THOMÆ BARLOW (postea Ep. Linc.) de vetustissimis quibusdam libris impressis, se penes et in Bibl. Bodleiana, annotationes; et de ortu typographiæ. 130^{ab}.

On the second leaf of this small folio sheet (which from a note on the back seems properly to precede f. 130) are written by Ashmole—

†72. "Excerpta—e libro obitali Coll: Regni. Ox." de Roberto Eglesfeld ejusdem fundatore (qui ob. 2 cal. Jun. 1349), de obitu reginæ Philippæ (18 cal. Sept.), et passione S. Georgii martyris. 131^a.

See No. 833, art. 69.

73. "A breviat of parte of the greate exemplification concerninge Lordshippes Marches in Wales, vidz of as much thereof as appertayneth to the baronie of Langham, and the royalties and members thereof onlie, and noe more." 132—4.

This is an abstract of the inquisition in the "Esaet' de an. jmo Ed. 2. n.º. 65."

74. "The totalls of the severall forts in Kent for the yeare ended at midsomer last, 1645." 135^a—135^b.

So is this sheet indorsed, on 136^b.

75. "My lords cote blased." 137.

The half leaf beginning thus, seems to be only a note about "The Revells," by an old hand.

†76. Marks or tokens*, (for Swans?) belonging to the King and many of the nobles, bishops, abbats, priors, and commoners: "Copied from a Roll in the custody of the Maior [and] Bailiffs of New WyndSOR." 138—9^b.

* They are drawn with pencil, in columns (four on each page), and superscribed with names: they resemble merchants' marks, and are all parallelograms, with one end rounded. They seem to be of the age of Henry VIII.

77. Copy of a tablet subscribed by THO. HEAPE, steward to the Earl of Derby, describing bulk and weight of an Ox, said to have been killed at Latham, 31 Jan. 1636. 140^a.

"His whole weight 2372 pounds." This small paper seems to have been written by Mr. Stansby.

†78. "Inscripeõn upon the tombe of Richard Parkins, esq^r: erected on the north side of the chancell of Bunney church in com' Nott." 141^a.

Only the title is in Ashmole's hand, who has noted that "He dyed Anº 1603."

†79. Title "Written at the bottome of Count Mansfields picture at lengthe; and now (6 May 1663) at Somerset house." 143^a.

80. "A note concerning the Office of the Papers;" by Sir* THO. WILSON one of the clerks; describing its contents, and stating what had been done toward the arrangement of them (5 Apr. 1613): also a copy of his oath. 144—5.

* See No. 863, art. 21. His name is subscribed to this paper, the indorsement whereof is the title given above.

The leaves that should have been numbered 146 and 148, have been cut out, and the foregoing article has been almost cut out by the same stroke.

†81. ASHMOLE'S farther remarks on the Glastonbury Thorn*; being an extract of Bishop Goodman's opinion in the dedication (to O. Cromwell) of his 'Two great mysteries of the Christian religion' (1653), and an account of a tree propagated from it, at Sir Lancelot Lake's house near Edgeworth. 147^{ab}.

* Beyond what he had said in the 'prolegomena' to his Theatrum Chemicum Britannicum, in 1652. Of the other tree, a branch was brought to Ashmole by Mr. Stansby 26 Dec. 1672, then in bloom.

†82. Extracts from antient charters, relating to the Bishops and Archdeacons of London, and to the Deans and other dignitaries of S. Paul's. 149^{ab}.

†83. Marriages, christenings, and burials of the Muschamp family*, "Collected out of the Register booke of East Horsley in com' Surr. 17 Oct. 1659:" with a note of Mr. Muschamp's estates in that parish. 151^a.

* Including the birth of Elizabeth and burial of Mary, daughters of Carew Raleigh, esq. 1633.

84. "London ss. The Accompt of moneys received of the severall Companyes in London, and degrees of divers persons that have payd there, according to the late Act of Parliament entituled An Act for the speedy provision of moneys for disbanding the armyes and setting the peace of the two kingdomes of England and Scotland, to the 20th day of November 1641." 153^a.

85. "London ss. The Accompt of Poll-money received there from the severall places following, the 20th day of November 1641." Also "Per contra Severall paym^{ts}" to the same time. 154^a.

These two large folded sheets seem to have been written by Booker.

86. The contributions (at another time) of "The Companies [of London] collected out of booke E. G. aff^o." 155—6.

†87. Schema consanguinitatis. 156^a.

88. In memoriam Caroli I. trucidati regis, inscriptio laudatoria. 158.

A well printed folio page.

89. "Antiqua et memoratu digna de residuo marneri Novii Templi London. Priori sancti Johannis Jerusalem in Anglia concessio." E rotulo patentium de anno 12 Edw. III. m. 22. f. 159^{ab}.

A small quarto leaf.

90. Titulus rotuli Curie dictæ sine lege, apud "Kinges hill in Rochford" tentæ. 160^a.

Subscribed thus—"Copia vera ex^a per Otho Procter seneschall." About this curious custom of the Lawless court, see Morant's History of Essex.

91. "Reverendissimo candidatorum Mæcenati D^{no}: Episcopo Line. et Coll: Æn: Nas: Visitatori dignissimo," HAMILTONI in eodem collegio studiosi cujusdam et φίλε φιλολογωττæ epistola, open enixe postulans, non Latine tantum, sed Græce, Hebraice, Syriace, et Arabice. 161^a.

†92. "A catalogue of those S^{ts} and the Feastivall daies w^{ch} are discoursed of in an old MS. in verse, written about E. the 1st tyme, and now belonging to Mr Silas Taylor." 162^a.

Now No. 43, heretofore described.

This copy of the presentment of the Middlesex Jury is very neatly written; and indorsed by Ashmole. (164^b.) It sets forth the "trayterous inscrip^on" that was engraved beneath a portrait of Charles II.

*†94. Antient directions for illuminating books with gold letters, etc. beginning with this title—"How thou schalt temper the colouring to lymning, and how thou schalt make a syse to cowche golt on bokys." 165^a.

Also how "To make gleyr:" and a recipe "For the megrim." 165^b.

Compare No. 750, artt. 35, 38, 40.

†95. Extract from "CHURCHYARDS epist: dedicat: to the rare and memorable deedes of David Gwin;" about the Spanish King's treatment of the Duke of Braganza after he had gained Portugal from him. 166^a.

†96. Note of John Duke of Bedford's tomb at Rouen. 167^a.

†97. A short tract on the form of the "Creac^on of Bishopp^s" and on the nature of their office and jurisdiction. 168^{ab}.

This is a transcript from some ill written copy. On the third page of this sheet are written the two following short articles.

†98. Names of all the Deaneries in England, and the manner of the royal bestowment of them, as being "Churches of the old foundac^on" or of the new. 169^a.

†99. "Stiles of noble men and others" as addressed in royal letters; and the form of "Dates of letters" royal. 169^a.

See also No. 840, art. 21.

100. "Baron PAGITT'S speecli to the Recorder at Westm' 1637." 170—1.

Two large 8vo leaves, thus indorsed by Ashmole, but written by the same hand as No. 829, x.

101. A long letter from "JOHN [WILLIAMS Bishop of] LINCOLNE" about the place of the communion-table in churches. 172—3.

Written between 1621 and 1641: but this transcript has neither date, direction, nor indorsement.

102. "An order agreed upon for translatinge the Bible;" and "The rules to be observed in translation." 174—5.

This is a contemporary copy of King James-es plan: it does not contain the fifteenth article printed by Todd in his Vindication of the authorized version (1819, 80. p. 9—12), and Horne, in his Introduction to the Scriptures. (II. 248—9, fourth ed.) A better copy is in Dugdale's MS. 32, art. viii.

103. "The order of pennaunce [for fornication*] prescribed by the right reverend father in God, JOHN [BRIDGEMAN] Lord Bishop of Chester, anno Domini 1622." 176^{ab}.

* These words are added in the indorsement.

†104. "An essay of a Kinge." 177—8^b.

†105. "A bill of fare sent to Bankes ye vintner in Cheape-side, in May 1637." 179^{ab}.

106. "A coppie of a lyceuce for the shipps and carrying of sundry comodities beyond sea." 180—1.

A precedent of a sign-manual, with blanks: the year 1631 is named in it.

107. Draught of a letter to a nobleman, on the quarrels between the Dutch and the Merchants Adventurers, about the excessive tare of cloth exacted by the former. 182—3^b.

See No. 831, art. xvii.

108. A short moral discourse on Usury, and lending of money at interest. 184—5^b.

109. Some trivial verses, phrases, and words, scrawled by an old hand. 186.

110. "Notes of the Lo: Keepers* funerall sermon on the Duke of Richmond and Lenox, att the Abbey [of] Westminster the 10th of Apriell 1624." 187—8.

* JOHN WILLIAMS, Bishop of Lincoln.

111. Draught of a declamatory letter of friendship to a nobleman, from a person in love, remarking on the politics of the day. 189—190.

He mentions "the late comete [which] was not less fatal to me then to Rodulphus the Emperour;" who died in 1612.

112. Another from the same, complaining that an intended voyage prevented him from taking part in his Lordship's military and political employments. 191—2.

113. An extract or fragment relating to the form and manner of the grand feasts of the Pope and the Emperour. 193^{ab}.

*†114. London 85. The forme of the Lord Mayors oath at the Exchequer Barr the morrow after Symon and Judes day." 195^{ab}.

Also "The order as it appeareth upon Record* in the Tresurors Remembrancers office." 195^b—6^b.

* "In termino Mich'is 30 Sept In liber le quere de Dover vic: com." Margin.

†115. An account of various orders of Monks, and classes of Heretics. 197^{ab}, 199^{ab}.

†116. Explanations of the terms Mound, Aurum Regina, Romes Blanches, Diadem, Tiara, and Precedency; extracted from Selden's Titles of Honor. 198^a.

117. The origin of the Pope's yearly procession from the Vatican to the Lateran palace: translated from Laurentii de Bank Roma Triumphantis. (p. 315—6.) 200^a.

Written by Ashmole's translator EDWARD PHILIPPS: see No. 1128, f. 17.

†118. Description of the same grand procession, abstracted and translated from the same work. (p. 351—378.) 202.

†119. "The Jerusalem-cross" variously blazoned by different authors. 203^{ab}.

†120. Notes from records, chiefly relating to the royal "Jocalia" (jewels) and Coronations. 204^a.

†121. "Of the violatinge or breakinge of a sepulchere or grave:" from the Roman laws. 206^a.

†122. "The examination of Fraunces Englefeild of Englefeild esquier, taken before me Sr Henrye Nevell knyght, the 10 of September 1589:" concerning the murder of William Englishhe. 207^{ab}.

123. "A coppie of a Letter which was found amongst some Jesuites that were lately taken, and addressed to the Father Rector. March: 1628." 209—210^b.

It relates to the English parliament, and other political and eeclesiastical matters. This copy is by the same hand as No. 749, iii. iv.

124. Letter "To the right honorable and my very good lord the Earle of Salisbury;" from W. A. who having received order to be banished, desired maintenance abroad as a spy among the Jesuits and others that he should mingle with. ("From the Kings bench.") 211^a.

Thus indorsed by two different hands—"W. A. prisoner to my Lord—examin. about the powder treason." (212^b.) It is beautifully written.

125. "Indulgences graunted by his hollyness P: Paule ye 5th at the intreaty of ye K: of Spayne y^t now is, to all those y^t with due devotion and reverence of the B: Sacrament in prayse thereof shall say these words following:—

"Praysed and glorified be ye most holy and blessed sacrament."! 212^a.

The next leaf is by the same hand.

126. "In sayeinge 10 Aves in remembrance of these 10 virtues of or B: Lady. gaineth for every time 10000 yeares indulgences." 214.

*127. Remonstrance of the Catholic prisoners in Wisbich castle, against the unreasonable oppression of the Privy Council. 215^{ab}.

This and the following article are contemporary transcripts.

128. Letter to King James I. from the Catholics of England, for relief from the persecution that they continually suffered. 217^{ab}.

Same as No. 781, art. 24.

*129. Letter from MATH: TAYLOR "To the right reverend father in God—my lord Bishopp of Elye;" relating the state and discontent of the Catholic recusants committed to his custody in Wisbich castle, and desiring farther directions about them. ("Wisbeche, 7^o Maij 1615.") 219^{ab}, 220^b.

*130. "Hæc protestatio facta fuit in consistorio ab eminentiss: Cardinali BORGIA nomine Catholici Regis, Martij 6. 1632." 221^a.

The title here given is subscribed to this page; which is fairly written in secretary-hand, and contains a statement before the Pope and Cardinals that the Spanish King had earnestly endeavored to procure a league of the Catholic Princes against the King of Sweden and his protestant allies; which the Pope had not promoted, though often applied unto. Another copy is in No. 831, art. xix.

131. "The assertions of JOHN SILLIMAN of Allwynkle pryson in Northampt' delyverd to—— the xiiijth of September 1597, to be examyned and answered." 223—6.

These two sheets contain arguments intended to disprove some of his opinions about the nature and order of church-discipline.

132. "Examinatio Johannis Ludovici Hispani Sarmorensis, et monachi Cisterciensis, capta coram reverendo dom. Episc. Londinensi, præsente Rogero Edwards notario publico." 227—8.

This paper contains the effect of what passed on the 5th, 13th, and 20th of Jan. 1617—8.

133. The answers of Dr. PRIDEAUX* Regius Professor of Divinity, to certain passages objected against him, as uttered by him in a disputation on the twentieth article, at Oxford, 6 July, 1633; and his "protestation" thereon. 229—230.

* He was made Bishop of Worcester in 1641. This sheet is a fairly written copy.

134. "DANIELIS GEORGII MORHOFFII J. V. D. et historiarum atque eloquentiæ professoris in academia Kilonensi, epistola ad Olavum Rudbeckium, professorem Upsaliensem, una cum ejusdem Morhoffii carmine in Atlanticam Rudbeckianam." 231—2^b.

Accedit "CONRADI SAMUELIS SCHURTZFLEI professoris Witebergensis judicium." 232^b.

A quarto sheet written in a large foreign hand.

135. "Relatio summaria gestorum in Synodo nationali Dordrici inchoata Novembris 3^o die Martis, [et 4, 5, 6 Nov.] 1618." 233—4^b.

This sheet contains well reported minutes of the proceedings, and was probably written by a member of the Synod.

136. "The briefe of the Ministers bill for London tithe." 235^a.

A printed folio page.

137. Twelve "Quærys relating to the English Admiralty," and naval matters; toward collecting a "general history marine of England." 236^{ab}.

This sheet is well written and indorsed in a fair hand of Ashmole's time.

138. Notes that the new river from Guildford to London, was begun by Major James Pitson 14 Aug. 1651, and finished 1 Nov. 1653, etc. 238^a.

139. Letter from WILLIAM DARBISHIRE to Mr. John Stansbey at Clement's Inn; about gigantic teeth kept at the Earl of Derby's at Haddon, and thigh-bone found at Tideswell; about one Mr. Sheppard, and the case of a friend of theirs. (Stanley, 21 Dec. 1660.) 239^a.

The second leaf of this letter (f. 240) is much torn.

140. Directions "To mak excellent good Inck:" and "To make good Inck wth a smale price." 241^a.

Written by HENRY OVERTON: compare No. 837, f. 137.

†141. "How to make Inke and to have the same black enough and cleere wth out any motes or substance of y^e stuff." 242^a.

†142. "The names of y^e purles and plates for imbrodery." 244^a.

143. Letter from Jos: THOMPSON to Elias Ashmole esq. describing his voyage to the East Indies. ("Bantam-house, Jan. ult^o. 1650.") 245^{ab}, 246^b.

Same hand as at No. 178, f. 206.

144. A description of remarkable places, manners, and things in Tartary; collected by ROBERT WINGFIELD. 247^a.

This sheet is headed "For Mr. Ashmore," and dated 25 June, 1654.

145. Nineteen stupid "Problems" or questions on various subjects, resolved. 249—251.

The first is "Why doth Sr W. K. [sic pro Rawleigh] write the historye of his times?" The third and fourth leaves are very foul with dirt and stains. Compare the Earl of Denbigh's MS. 33, described in the general Catalogue of MSS. tom. II. num. 1495.

146. "Los mandiamientos de los Padres Toatinos, mas humano qy divinos, son deiz." 253^a.

Indorsed thus by Ashmole—"The Jesuites 10 comandemts in Spanish."

†147. "Breife noates of a sermon preached before the L: Protector at Hampton Court, by the minist^r of Hampton, about the latter end of Aug: 1655." 254^a.

On the same page is this note (beside one in short-hand)—"Gage his text in Hispaniola after our English were beaten there. Josh: 7: 7."

†148. CROMWELL's prayer at his death." 256^a.

†149. "An old Law-case newly stated:" an indecent riddle. 257^a.

150. "Clavis Euphormionis, for Mr. Emanuel Demetrius." 258^a, 259^a.

151. "A[n alphabetical] table explaining what persons are represented under the type of Trees in the Vocall Forrest, or other persons by Anagramms; as also under what names of Countries, or appellacōns of Cities, they are severally understood." 260—1.

152. "The armes of foure Commen-wealths men exactly blazoned." 262^{ab}.

The same as art. 56.

153. "A puritan's grace." 263^{ab}.

154. "What the husbandman should practise, and what rule he should followe, after the teachinge of Albert, Alkin, Haley, and Ptolome." 262—272.

Superstitious prognostications of the weather, subscribed thus—"Finis hujus libri" on the ninth leaf; the lower half of which is torn off, and much blank paper bound up (as usually in Ashmole's books) at the end, has been wantonly torn out.

The loose papers that formerly lay at the end of this volume, are now fixed in No. 1763, and are described under that number, at letter 'B.'

No. 827.

A thick folio volume of fair paper, containing 243 leaves, having wide margins ruled off with red lines; whereof, beside 16 blank unnumbered leaves at the beginning, nearly two-thirds (at the end) are vacant.

Veteris REGISTRI LICHEFELDENSIS pars, quod Liber Albus nuncupatum est (scilicet ff. 78^a—119^b), manu Eliæ Ashmolii diligenter exscripta. ff. 1—89.

At the end is this marginal note, written by Ashmole at a subsequent time, "Thus far out of the Liber Albus Lichfeldensis." This chartulary is not mentioned in Tanner's Notitia Monastica.

No. 828.

A folio MS. written on vellum, in a fair text-hand of the XIIIth (or perhaps early in the XIVth) century, in columns, and highly adorned with illuminated capitals, border-flourishes, and 37 rich miniatures.

Le vieulx Roman de Laucelot du Lake, en prose: com. En la marce de Gaules et de la petite Bretagne avoit .ij. rois ancienement qui avoient .ij. sœurs germaines et estoient frere germain. Li un des .ij. rois avoit nom li rois Bans de Benoye. et li autres rois avoit a nom li rois Bohors de Gaunes. ff. 100.

This copy is imperfect, the last line being this (at f. 100^d)—est que onques miez taillie ne oi de toutes It is (probably) but the first of three volumes, of which number such MSS. of this romance usually consisted.

A short description of the first page may show how curious are the embellishments of this MS. Over both columns is a miniature (the back ground of which is gold) representing a castle and several royal personages, some on horse-back, and some standing and talking. From the capital C (supported by a long-necked stag) descends a narrow border or stem of blue and pink, which branches out at the bottom of the page, and supports two knights on horse-back justing. The shield of one is, or, a cross sable and a bordure sable: the other beareth gules, a chevron argent. On one of the branches at the right hand corner sits an ape playing on an organ; and above him stands an ape tossing two gilt basins or dishes, with the points of two sticks. Higher up, on the right hand margin, is a squirrel chained; and at the top is an ape dancing, holding a short crutch in his left hand, and a rose, which he is smelling, in his right.

Nearly half of f. 7 has been cut off, and one illumination therewith: at the foot of its fourth column is painted an ape playing the bagpipes. Various grotesque animals are painted about the pages of this MS.

No. 829.

A folio volume containing various MSS. and papers to the amount of 241 leaves.

I. "A Dialogue of the Mariage of Queen Elizabeth, compiled by Sr THOMAS SMITH knight, and principall Secretarie to her majesty." 1—29^b.

The first words are—As I was walkinge in my garden all alone F. W. came unto me. At the end is this note—"Lect. 6. April. 1648. W. C." The MS. may be much older than that time: it is neatly written, and the margins are ruled with red ink: the last leaf is vacant (f. 30), and the next was inserted by the binder, as are others between the articles of this volume. About this dialogue see the quarto edition of Wood's Ath. Oxon. II. col. 57 and note; the present copy is referred unto by Bp. Tanner, p. 620.

II. 1. "A Discours about the succession to the crowne from Hen. 7;" designed to prove that the Lady Katharine, daughter of the Lady Frances*, was the rightful heir. f. 1—11^b.

* And sister of the Lady Jane Grey.

"Lect. 20 April. 1648. W. C."

2. "Allegacōns in the behalf of the high and mightie princes[s] the Ladie Marie now Quene of Scots, against thopinions and bookes set forth in the parte and favour of the Ladie Katherin, and the rest of thissues of the French Quene, towchinge the succession of the realme." 12^b—23.

Copied from a printed book; the first page containing an address of "The printer to the reader;" the tract is subscribed "20 Martij. 1565."

3. "Allegacōns against the surmysed title of the Quene of Scottes and the favorers of the same." 23—31^b.

4. "A copie of an aunswer to a litle booke herin mencioned." 31^b—40.

5. "The processe of the discent of the houses of York and Lancast^r and their dries [i. e. differences] in Armory." 40—73.

This last article is subscribed "Lect. 19 April. 1648. W^m. C." It is written by a different hand (or at a different time) from the rest of the MS.; which is written in the same manner as the foregoing, and probably by the same hand. See MS. viii.

III. JOHANNIS ARDERN de Newerk, de curandis Fistulis et Apostematibus tractatus, cujus prologus inc. Ego predictus Johannes a prima pestilencia que fuit anno Domini Millesimo tricesimo quadragesimo nono. ff. 76—80, 81—115.

This tract was written after 1370, and contains minute particulars of the cases that this celebrated surgeon cured in his long practice: it seems to be part of his Practica, of which a copy is contained in No. 1434; but it agrees with that MS. no farther than f. 97 (of the general foliation of this volume), where, after the words sepius valere vidi (which begin f. 25 of that MS.), there are directions for making aqua vite and oyle rosett, in English, and a paragraph about lapis calamiarvis; these are followed by cases (beg. Cuidam capellano de Colstone juxta Bingham, f. 98) as usual to the end, none of which are found in that MS. The last words are—consolidavit et conglutinavit usque ad perfectam sanitatem.

This is a fair transcript made in the XVIth century, with wide margins: spaces are left for the sketches of the wounds. The last leaf but one is damaged with damp. On the last leaf are written, by a different hand, notes of the marriage of some person (13 Nov. 1590), and of the births of his four children; also many notes of corn etc. sold in 1597. (115^{ab}.) Concerning the author and his works, see Bp. Tanner, p. 48; who has mentioned both these MSS.

IV. "Sir ANTONY SHERLEY his relation of his Travels into Persia, the dangers and distresses which befell him in his passage, both by sea and land, and his strange and unexpected deliverances. His magnificent entertainment in Persia, his honourable employment there-hence, as Embassadour to the Princes of Christendome, the cause of his disapointment therein, with his advice to his brother Sir Robert Sherley.

"Also a true relation of the great magnificence, valour, prudence, justice, temperance, and other manifold vertues of Abas, now King of Persia, with his great conquests, whereby he hath enlarged his dominions. Penned by Sr. Antony Sherley, and recommended to his brother, Sr Robert Sherley, being now in prosecution of the like honourable employment." (pp. 74.) ff. 118—153.

This title is taken from the edition printed at London "for Nathaniell Butter and Joseph Bagfet, 1613" (4^o. pp. 139), of which there is a copy in the Bodleian Library, marked 'Crynes 924.' It was printed from this very MS., which is written on two quires of paper of different sizes. The sheet ff. 136—7, is an insertion (and perhaps an interpolation) by another hand. It is thus subscribed at p. 74, "Jannarie xxth. 1612. Let it be printed. Gervase Nid. John Harison:" whose names are not in the printed copy. The last leaf contains the preface or address "To the reader," written by a hand still different.

V. I. Letter of Sir FRA. COTTINGTON to "Mr. Tomkins,"* acknowledging three letters not answered before, by reason of dangerous illness, and recommending him to accept the consulship of Andalusia, if the marriage-treaty should go on better. (Madrid, 22 Oct. 1620, st. vet.) 156^{ab}.

* This name is preserved at the foot of the first page: but the cover is lost. On the third page of this sheet is now fixed a torn leaf, found loose in No. 826, which is thus indorsed—

2. "Docquet for my Lo: Cottington's Ambassage" empowering him to treat with the commissaries of the Emperor or the King of Spain, for the peace of Christendom and the affairs of the Elector Palatine. 157.

Sir Fra. Cottington was made a Baron in 1631.

VI. "A breife narrative of the late L. Primate Ussher his constant affection to the lyturgie, government, and constitutions of the Church of England:" addressed "To the King's most excellent majestie" by Dr.* N. BERNARD. 158—9.

* So he is styled in the indorsement of this neat copy, which is subscribed with his autograph.

VII. A History of the life and troubles of Mary Queen of Scots. ff. 160—207.

This MS. consists of two quires of paper of unequal sizes, badly written in a close hand of the time of James I. The first and the last leaf were added by another old hand: the first words are—Mary Stewart Queene of Scotts daughter of James ye 5th King of Scots, was borne in ye castle of Lithquo; and the last page is a translation of a long Latin epitaph, only part of which is given on f. 206^b.

VIII. 1. "ELIZABETH. R. Instructions given to Sr Thomas Smyth knight, one of her mates privie Counsaile, sent into Fraunce to the French King the third of December A^o Domini 1572." 210—207^b.

2. "24 Augusti 1571. Responsum summarium eorum quæ sereniss^a: Regina Angliæ ex consilio suorum consiliariorum proposuit in colloquio habito de tribus articulis cum illustrissimis oratoribus Christianissⁱ: Regis." 218—9.

3. "The EARLE of ARUNDELL'S lettre to the Queenes mat^{tye} [copied from the original that was] written wt his owne hand." 219^b—223^b.

This eloquent apology was written on the occasion of his retiring beyond sea, by reason of the Queene's ill temper toward him, and the bitter persecution of his enemies.

This MS. is written in the same manner and by the same hand as the second MS. in this volume; except art. 2, which is in a fair Italian hand. The four last pages are written in a thicker character like the first MS. At the end is likewise this note, "Lect 8. Julij. 1646. W. C." The last leaf (224) is blank.

IX. 1. "A coppie of ye Letter w^{ch} was written by ye Lords of ye Privie Councell of Scotland, to his Matie uppon the 25 of August [1637] from Edenborough:" declaring the murmurs and tumults caused by the King's orders to inforce the use of the Prayer-book. 227^{ab}.

2. "The Scotts Peticōn to ye Lords of the secrett Councell ag^t ye booke of Common Prayer." 227^b—8^b.

3. "The Scotts Reasons ag^t ye booke of Common Prayer." 228^b—230.

Addressed as to the King from the Council, and dated as art. 1.

This and the next MS. were each written on two leaves torn out of a folio book (with ruled lines) folded into large quarto, by the same hand as No. 749, iii. and iv. They were indorsed by Ashmole.

X. "Newes from Ipswich. Discovering certain late detestable practises of som dominereing Lordly Prelates to underminye the established doctrine and discipline of our Church, extirpate all orthodox sincere preachers and preaching of Gods word, ussher in popery superstition and idolatry.

"With their late notorious purgations of the newe Fast-booke, contrary to his Mates proclamacōn, and their intollerable affront therein offered to the most illustrious lady Elizabeth, the Kings onely sister, and her children (even whiles they are now royally entertayned at court) in blotting them out of the collect; and to his Maty. his Queene, and their royall progeny, in blotting them out of the number of Gods elect." etc. "Printed at Ipswich An. 1636." 231—4^b.

Also a postscript relating the unjust punishment of Mr. Prynne, procured by Noy the attorney-general; and the horrible death of this persecutor, ascribed to God's judgement on him for his wickedness. 235—6^b.

The fourth page (234^b) is subscribed "From Ipswich, November 12. 1636. Thyne in the Lord, MATHEW WHITE." His name does not occur in the proceedings against Burton, Bastwick, and Prynne, for the publication of this tract; see No. 824, f. 106. This was probably transcribed from the suppressed original edition.

XI. "Proverbes and aphorismes divine and moral, collected as they were att sundrie tymes spoken by his most excellent mat^{ty} JAMES the first, King of England." 237—9^b.

This MS. is likewise by the same hand as the ninth MS.: the fourth leaf is vacant.

XII. "The description of ye Popes and Kings Arms, wth ye several figures und^r them, erected over ye front of his excl^{cy}. ye Earl of Castlemain's palace, being ye Palazzo Pamphilio in ye Piazza Novena." 241^{ab}.

This sheet was written by Ashmole: the second leaf is blank.

No. 830.

A folio volume, consisting of a multitude of MSS. and papers, written by various hands, in the times of Elizabeth, James I. and Charles I. At the beginning are ten leaves of paper not numbered with the others, and containing only—

1. A collection of medical Recipes, "Ad menses provocandos," for the cure of the jaundice, etc. by Sir RICHARD NAPIER. iii^b—iv, viii^b—ix^b.

The following six articles are written in one book (ff. 1—37), on the first page of which they are briefly noticed, under this heading—"In this booke are conteyned these thinges followinge:" but the two last tracts designed to be written therein, were never copied; namely—"7. Orders to be observed in the queenes name by sea. 8. Diverse exploits attempted and atcheived by the Earle of Warwicke." The next page (2^a) is falsely written, and copied again by the same hand at f. 3^a: the rest of the book is coarsely written by a different hand.

2. "Lettres to Babington from [MARY] the Queene of Scottes: and lettres from BABINGTON to the Queene of Scottes:" namely—

- § 1. Letter from "The Scottish Queene to Anthonye Babington" (Chartlye, 25 June, 1586) requesting packets from France and Scotland, that were in his hands. 3^a.
- § 2. "The answeare of ANTHONYE BABBINGTON" to the same letter. 3^a—4^a.
- § 3. Letter from the same "To Mr. Man^r, secretarie to her Matie" requesting his opinion about one Robert Pooley. 4^a.
- § 4. A long letter from "The Queene of Scotts to Anthony Babington," requesting him to correspond with her about public occurrences, and complaining of the decline of the catholic religion, etc. 5—7^b.
- § 5. Letter from "ANTHONIE BABBINGTON to the Queene of Scotts," stating that he was in danger of being discovered. (London, 3 Aug. 1586.) 7^b—8.

Subscribed—"This is the true coppie of the last letter I wrott to the Queene of Scotts." This correspondence was a subject of accusation against that unfortunate princess at her trial: see f. 10. Copies of two of these letters are in the Cottonian MS. Julius F. VI. art. 133 (see also 136), and all of them are in the MSS. Calig. B. V. art. 22, and all but the fourth in Calig. C. IX. art. 154—7.

3. "The proceedings at Fodringham against Marie Queene of Scotts." 8—12^b.
4. "The discription of the Queene of Scotts, both of her person, as also for the maner of her apparell:" also "The maner of the Scottishe Queenes executione, performed the 8th of Februarie 1586 in the greate hall wth in y^e castell of Fodringham," 12^b—13—16.

This is WINGFIELD'S narrative: see No. 781, art. 3.

5. "The manner of the solemnitie of the Scottish Queen's funeral, being the first of August 1587, at Peterborough." 16—18.
6. "The manner of the executione of Marie Queene of Scotts, anno 1586 th^r 8th of Februarie, in the presence of such whose names* bee underwritten." 18^b—19.

* The Earls of Shrewsbury, Kent, etc.

7. "Sr John Parratt's accusationns:" with the proofs thereof against him. 19^b—26^b.
8. Considerations "Whither it bee safest for England that her Matie accept the soveraigntie of y^e United Provinces, or no." 27—30^b.

The last seven leaves of this MS. were left blank, and on the last is the following article written by Ashmole.

9. Frederici Regis Bohemiae titulus, et proprie, et "Per anagrammatismum" expressus. 37^a.

* A mistake for Naué.

10. "A true copie of the Queene of Scottes sayinges and answeares to the nobilitie at Fodringham Castell in Northamptonshire, the xijth and xiiijth of October 1586, after the Lord Chancellor had made knowne unto her the cause of their comminge and the teure of their commission." 38—9^b.

Closely written in a contemporary hand.

11. "The arraignment^{te} of the Earles of Essex and South^{ton} in Westm^r hall on thursday the xixth of February 1600." 40—8^b.

The third of these 4 $\frac{1}{2}$ sheets (f. 44—5) is written by a different hand from the rest: at the foot of 47^a is noted "begin heare and writ on Mr. Heyward."

12. An account of the "Execucōn of the Earle of Essex." (25 Feb. 1600.) 49—50.

So is this sheet indorsed by Ashmole.

13. A report of the Trial "Uppon Tuisday xv^o Novembr' [1603, when] were areigned Brooke, Griffyn, Markham, Parham, and Watson, Clarke, priestes, Brooksby and Copley." 52^a—51^b.

Draught, closely written on an open sheet.

14. Draught of a letter royal to the Lord Deputy of Ireland, for confirming to the "undertakers of the province of Ulster" and to their heirs and assigns, the estates holden by them under the great seal, on condition of double rent, etc. subscribed with a note to the Lord Treasurer, by "Thomas Coventry," who drew it up. 54—5^b. Also the resolution of the Privy Council thereon; "At Whitehall 27th of July 1621." 56^a.

15. SELDEN'S animadversions in defence of his History of Tithes, addressed "To the reader of Sr. James Sempill's appendix for so much as Scaliger and Seldin." 57—65.

Printed in the third volume of Selden's Works, col. 1349—1364.

16. Forms of the "submission" of O'NEYLLE to Henry VIII. (24 Sept. anno 34, 1542) and to Q. Eliz. (6 Jan. anno 4, 1561); and the names of noblemen present on the latter occasion. 67^a, 68^{ab}.

These two leaves (both indorsed "Oneylles submysyon") were written about the time of the second submission; of which there is a copy in the Cottonian MS. Titus B. xii. f. 22. In that volume and in the next to it, are many documents relating to the Irish rebels.

*17. "1580. The third voyadg of Francisce Drake uppon information of y^e Spa. ambassador." 69—70.

This is this sheet indorsed by Lord Burleigh's hand (70^b): it contains official accounts of the plunders that he made among the Spaniards in S. America.

*18. "A summarie relacōn of the harmes and robberies done by Frauncis Drake an Englishe man wth the assistauntz and helpe of other Englishe-men." (1570—2.) 71^{ab}.

This indorsed by Lord Burleigh—"1570. Franc. Drakes voyadg to y^e Sp. Indias." (72^b.)

- *19. "An abridgement of y^e relation and proves made ageinste Sr Fraunces Drake K^t. towchinge his doinges in the sowthe sea beyonde the streighte of Magalanus." 73—5^b.

The three last leaves of these three sheets are vacant, except this old indorsement—"1581. A brief of y^e proces against Sr Fr. Drake."

- *20. Papers received by Lord Burleigh "xj Martij 1586[7, relating to] The accompt of Sr Franc. Drak." 79—84^b.

The contents of these three sheets (thus indorsed on f. 84^b) are fair copies of the following articles:—

- § 1. Report to the Privy Council, from W. Wynter, Tho. Smyth, John Hawkins, Rich. Martin, and John Harte, appointed to examine the disbursements of the expedition. (24 Dec. 1586.) 80^a.
- § 2. The debtor-side of the account, showing the balance "to be divided amonge the Adventurers." 81^a.
- § 3. Report from the same persons (and Sir F. Drake) on the examination of the receipts, and the dividend to be payed thereof. (11 Mar. 1586.) 82^a.
- § 4. Statement of the Queen's adventure (20,000*l.*) of her receipts thereof, and the balance in her hand above the dividend. 83^a.

21. "Elizabetha Regina. Instructions for Sr Walter Rauleighe knight, Captaine of our garde, for a service to be done on the seas, given the first of Aprill 1592." 85^{ab}.

A transcript, briefly indorsed on f. 85^b.

22. "Sr WALTER RALEGH his appologie." 87—103^b.

An old transcript, written on paper of different kinds, by three or four different hands.

23. "A coppie of Sr WALTER RAWLIES letter unto his ladie dated the 14th of Novemb: 1617." 104^a.

An old copy so indorsed: it is the same as No. 781, art. 29.

24. "Sir WALTER RAWLEIGHs relacōns;" in two letters to an officer of state. 105—7, 108^a.

The two sheets thus indorsed by Ashmole (108^b) contain two undated and undirected copies of letters: the latter is incomplete at the beginning.

25. "Captaine orders to be observed by the commanders of the flecte and land-companies undr the charge and conduct of Sr WALTER RAWLEYGH knight bound for the south parts of America: Given at Plymouth the 3 of Maie 16 . ." 109—110^b.

On the fourth leaf of these two sheets, are written invertedly, by another hand—

26. Remarks on recreation and habits; and the first principles of the art of Painting. 112^{ba}.

27. Letter of submission to the King, from "Sr WALTER RAWLEICHE," before his death. 113^a.

A copy indorsed with his name. Another copy is in No. 781, art. 26.

28. "Sir WALTER RAWLEY his speech at his death, whoe was beheaded at y^e old pallace at Westm' the 20th of October, betwixt the hower of 5 and sixe in the morning." 114—5^b.

This sheet was written by Ashmole: it contains the same in substance (but not so full) as pp. 26—34 of the tract quoted under No. 781, art. 26.

29. "Sr LEWISE STURKELYES appologie writte with his owne hand, and delivered to mee." 116—7.

This is this sheet headed. It is a defence of his conduct toward Sir W. Raleigh, while having him in custody; written in a large fair hand. The second leaf is torn.

30. A long letter from Jo: ROLFE, about his endeavors to instruct, and convert unto Christianity, a woman named Pohahuntas, a native of the plantation where he was living, whom he designed to make his wife. 118—9^b.

This seems to be a copy: it is fairly written on the two first leaves of two sheets, and is neither dated, directed, nor indorsed; it is addressed as to an English gentleman, in the time of James or Charles I.

31. "The Lordes remonstrance of the upper howse of Parliamt for the freedome of the E: of Arundell out of prison." 122—4.

A fair draught or copy on three open sheets, folded, and thus indorsed. This petition relates to the breach of privilege in the unlawful arrest of the Earl during the sitting of Parliament.

32. "A lettre written from the Councell to his Ma'y touchinge the proceedinges against the Lord Cooke at the Councell-table," at White-dall, 26 June, 1616. Also the proceedings in Council at Greenwich, 30 June, on the King's answer; and "The Censure" then passed on the Chief Justice. 125—6^b.

33. "Copie of y^e lettre [of JAMES I.] for y^e deliverye of y^e Earle of Southampton out of y^e Tower. 1603:" addressed to the Peers and Council, and dated at Holy-rood house, 5 Apr. 1603. 127^a.

The delivery of sir Henry Nevill is also herein mentioned. On the back of this leaf, above the indorsement, is written by a different (and an elegant) hand, an—

34. Epitaph on Q. Elizabeth: beg. Weepe little Ile, and for thy mistres death. (8 l.) 127^b.

Printed in Hearne's Collection of Curious Discourses, edit. 1775, I. 347. The last couplet is the same as No. 38, art. 375.

35. Copy of "The humble peticōn of y^e Lord Viscount FALKLAND" to the King, for the delivery of his son out of the Fleet prison. 128^a.

Printed in the Cahala, 1691, fol. p. 221; and thence in the Retrospective Review, N. S., II. 28.

36. Lord "BACON's Petition to the Lords of y^e Parlyament" for favor and forgiveness. 129—130^b.

A fair transcript thus indorsed. See art. 38.

37. "The Lord Chancellor [BACON]'s confession in Parliamt." 131—2^b.

A copy thus indorsed by Ashmole; as is also the following article, which is thus headed—

38. "To the right honble: the Lordes of Parliamt in the upper house assembled, the humble submicōn and supplicacōn of the Lord Chancelor." 132^{ab}.

This is another fair copy of the same as art. 36, by a different hand: the second leaf is vacant.

39. Letter from THO. ALURED "To the Marques of Buckingham," deprecating the probable consequences of the match with Spain. 135—6b.

A closely written copy or draught of a long letter.

40. "Articles exhibited by the Commons assembled in this present Parliament, against Richard Moun-tague clarke, 1625." 137—8b.

This bill contains various perverted passages of two books, intitled a Treatise on the invocation of Saints, and an Appeal to Caesar, published by this learned man; who, notwithstanding, was made Bishop of Chichester three years after, and promoted to Norwich in 1638. It is a fair old copy.

41. "Minute of his Maties Pre 1606, to the Lords." 139^a.

An unfinished draught so indorsed: it relates to the breaking up of Parliament.

42—5. Four Royal Speeches in Parliament; the last of which is intitled—"The Kinges answer to the howses of Parliament for ther clearing of my lord of Buckingham." 140—1; 142^{ab}; 144—145, 145^b.

On three separate sheets of paper.

46. "A relacōn of what passed betwixt the Conde de Oliuares and the Erle of Bristow, in presence of Sr Walter Aston and the Conde de Gundemar, at the Prado the 14 of Ja: 1623, stilo vet." 146^a.

Thus indorsed on 147^b.

47. "Sr THO: CREWE's speech [when chosen*] Speaker of ye House of Commons;" with "The L. Keeper's answer" to the same and to "Sr Tho: Crew's reply." 21 Feb. 1623. f. 148—9.

* Added from Ashmole's short indorsement.

48. "The cōpoy of his Maties speech in Parlam^t the 6th March 1623." 150—1.

Thus indorsed by the same contemporary hand.

49. "The King's Maties speech at Whithall the 14th of March 1623." 152—3.

50. "A true copy of what is to be spoken to his Matie from the House of Commons concerninge ther grant of 3 subsidies and 3 fifteenes. 22 of Martij 1623." 154^a.

Indorsed thus by another old hand:—"A coppie of the speech made by the house of Commons to his Matie: xxijth of March 1623. and his Maties replye." (155^b) But the latter does not appear.

51. "The petition of the Howses of Parliament delivered to the Kinge by the Lo: of Cant: at Whitehall the 23 of Aprill 1624;" and "The King's answer to the petition" etc. 156^a, 156^b—157.

52. "The Lord Keeper's speech, Febr: 19. 1624." Also "Sr: FRAUNCIS SEYMOR's speech in Parliament." 158^a, 159^a.

53. "My Lo: of Cant: speech." Or, the address of both Houses to the King, delivered by Abp. Abbot, in answer to the King's message about the Palatinate. 160^{ab}.

54. Speeches at the opening of Parliament in 1625;

viz. The Lord Keeper's declaration of the causes of the meeting; the address to the King by "Mr Speaker the eight of February 1625," the Lord Keeper's answer, the Speaker's reply, and "The Lo: Keeper's reply;" "The Lord Archbishops speech 7 March 1625, to the Committee;" and "The Lord Chamberlaynes speech 7 March 1625." 162^{ab}, 163—9^b, 169^b—170, 170—1^b.

The outermost sheet being lost, the first speech is imperfect, and the King's speech probably is lost likewise.

55. Twelve "Articles of the Earle of BRISTOLL, whereby he chargeth the Duke of Buckingham, bearinge date the first of Majj 1626." 172—4^b.

Also in No. 800, art. 41.

56. A relation of the origin of the treaty for marriage with Spain, and of Sir John Digby's negotiation therein. 176—9^b.

Beginning thus—Experience having taught me, that the affaires of greate Princes.

57. "A letter wrotten from the Lo: of BRISTOLL unto the Duke of Buckingham, the 2^d. of September 1626;" acknowledging his mediation with the King for permission to go into the country. 180^a.

A fair copy, thus indorsed on 181^b.

58. "The Peticion of Right,"* with a schedule of amendments proposed therein but disallowed; also a postscript containing a relation of the King's answers to the same, on 2 and 7 June, [1628]. 182^{ab}, 183^a.

* So indorsed in a hand different from the copy or the postscript. Statutes, 3 Car. 1. cap. i.

59. "The D: of BUCK's speech at the councill-table, 4 Apr. [1626*] friday," on occasion of the subsidy granted by Parliament. 184—5.

* Indorsed with this date.

60. Speech of a Member of the House of Commons, reporting the proceedings in a Committee of both Houses, appointed to hear "the L^{ds} Com^{ts} of the greate Counsell give an account of their treaties att Yorke and Rippon" with the Scots. 186—191^b.

Beginning—Mr: Speaker, I am to make reporte of what was delivered at the conferece. See art. 77.

61. Sir JOHN ELLIOTT's speech, at a conference with the Lords, summing up the charges against the Duke of Buckingham. 192—3^b.

Beginning—My Lordes, You have heard in ye laboures of these two dayes. It is subscribed with his name.

62. "April 28, 1628. The L: Keeper's speeche in answeare to the 5 Articles [of the Petition of Right], in his Maties name, the Kinge beinge then present at the hous." 194^a.

63. History of the conversion and anointing of Clodoveus son of Chyldericus—Kynge of France in A^o Dⁿⁱ 484. etc. 195^a.

64. "Mr. ROWSE his speech to the House of Commons, on munday the xxvjth of January 1628." 195^{ab}.

Beginning—Mr Speaker, wee have of late entered into the consideracion of the paynt of right.

65. "St RICHARD GROSVENOR's speech in Parliament, 13 February 1628." 198—9^b.

Beginning—Mr Pymme. In this great businesse concerninge Religion. This article and the two next are by the same hand as No. 749, iii.

66. Schedule of "Graunts and guiftes to the Duke [of Buckingham] himsele or to his immediate use." 200—1.

Also in No. 800, art. 38.

67, 68. "Veneris 4^{to} Caroli Regis 1628. Uppon a report this day made from the Committee, the Accusacōn of the Commons against Roger Mainwaringe clerke, Doctor of Divinity." 202^{ab}, 204^a.

The second page of the first copy is omitted in the second copy. This person was made Bishop of S. David's in 1635.

69. Speech made by "The Lo^d. RICHARDSON, 24 O^{ber} 1631," on occasion of his removal to a seat in the Court of King's Bench. 205—6.

70. A whimsical and absurd epistle from one HUTCHINSON (or Hutchenson), who subscribes himself "W^m of Bluntsbam," to John Williams, Bishop of Lincoln, desiring to be made his chaplain. 207—8^b.

71. "The King's Com[̄] to the Councell of Warr, 1637;" dated 20 Maij, anno 13 Caroli I. 209—210^b.

A transcript by Ashmole: it is not contained in the Fœdera.

72. "The Duke of LENNOX his speech before his Matie concerning a warre wth Scotlande." 211^a, 212^{ab}.

By the same hand as No. 826, art. 140.

73. The King's proclamation relative to his expedition against the Scots, dated at Newcastle, 14 May, anno 15 Car. I. 213^{ab}.

Transcribed by Ashmole from a copy "Printed at Newcastle by Roberte Barker and by the assignes of John Bill, 1639." (See also No. 800, art. 11.) It is not in the Fœdera.

74. The protestation of the Nobility, Barons, Burgresses, and Ministers of Scotland, 1 July, 1639. f. 214—5.

The date is indorsed by Ashmole on this his transcript.

75. (1) "To the King's most excellent Matie: the supplicacōn of yo^r Maties: Subjects of Scotland." 216^a.

(2) "The King's answer to the Scotts supplicacōn, sent by Sr: Edward Verney knight-marshal, to be spoken to them June 7. 1639, and then delivered to them in writing." 216^b.

(3) "The humble desires of his Maties: Subjects of Scotland, June 10. 1639." 217—8.

Written by Ashmole. See also No. 800, artt. 12—14.

76. "To the King's most excellent Matie the humble peticōn of the Comoners of the late Parliament and others of yo^r Maties loyall Subjects of the Kingdome of Scotland;" with the King's answer, given "Att his Maties court att Yorke 5th Septemb^r 1640." 219^a, 219^b.

77. Names of the Lords and others who formed "The whole assembly of the great Councell at Yorke, Sept. 24. 1640." 221^a.

This and the next paper are by Ashmole's hand.

78. "The King's speech to the Lords at Yorke, 24 Sept^r 1640;" with the names of "The Lords nominated to treat wth the Scotts at Rippon, upon Tuesday 29 Sept. 1640," and "The Lords sent wth a l^re to the City of London." 222^{ab}.

79. "This is the oath given to the Lordes at Yorke." 223^a.

With an amendment subscribed by Ashmole; which is also contained in his other copy, No. 800, art. 9.

80. "The intentions of the Army of the Kingdome of Scotland, declared to their brethren of England by the Com^{rs}: of y^e late Parliament, and by y^e Generall, Noblemen, Barrons and other officers of the Armie." (pp. 17.) 224^a, 225—8^b, 232—3, 229—31^b.

This transcript is by Ashmole's hand, all but the three last leaves, which were written by his first wife (see No. 749, vi.), and are wrongly inserted between ff. 228 and 232. The following article is written on the same quire of paper (after 4 blank leaves) by a different hand.

81. A full report, thus intitled:—"That the causes of the losses susteyned in the North may bee the better knowne, the Lord Conoway thinkes it fitt to relate what the designes were in the first enterprizes as farre as did fall within his cognizance." With a "Postscript." 238—48^b, 249^{ab}.

82. "The generall state of the Scottish Commonwealth, with the causes of their often mutinies and other disorders." 253^{ab}.

Imperfect: only one leaf widely written by Ashmole, as also the next article.

83. "Larg[u]m^t del M^r: Solicitor sc^t LITTLETON de inferiori Temple fait per celuy in Camera Scacc^t dev^t tout les Judges." (ff. 9.) 254—262^a.

An unfinished transcript of Littleton's argument against Hampden, in the case of ship-money, in English. Six blank leaves follow.

84, 85. Dedication of a sermon by WILLIAM [BARLOW*] Bishop of ROCHESTER, to the King; and an address by the same "To the Ministers of Scotland, my fellow dispensers of God's misteries." 269^{ab}, 270—1.

* 1605—8. Each is subscribed "William Roffens."

86. Speech of to the King, on being presented as Speaker elect of the House of Commons. 273—4^b.

Beginning—Most gracious Sovereaigne, the Knights etc.

87. "Sir BENJAMIN RUDYERD his speech for a speedy treaty of peace wth his Matie: 17 Febr. 1642[-3]." 275^{ab}.

88. "His Ma[jes]tis speech in the head of his Army, declared by himsele at Southam, October the one and twentieth, 1642." 277—8^b.

89. The King's speech to the members of Parliament assembled at Oxford, on the treaty of Uxbridge and his designs in the west, proroguing them "until the 16th of October next." 279^{ab}.

This copy is not unlike Sir Edward Walker's writing: on the back, among loose writing, are the latitudes of sundry places set down by Ashmole.

90. "A remonstrance or declaracōn of us the Inhabitants of the County palatine of Chester, whose names are subscribed, and of many more," declaring neutrality in the struggle between the King and the Parliament. 280^{ab}.

91. The form of declaration of attachment to the King's cause; with the declaration of the gentlemen and freeholders of Cheshire, remonstrating against the same, 25 Aug. 1642. f. 282—3.

92. Seven "Articles to be considered of for the pease and quiet of y^e countie" (of Cheshire?) in reference to the commissions of array, etc. 284^{ab}.

93. The declaration of "the Deputy-Lieutenants and Justices, the Knights and gen' of the Isle of Wight," for the preservation of peace and of the protestant religion. 285^a.

Written by Ashmole. The names subscribed are—"Sr John Oglander, Sr Will: Hopkins, Sr Rob: Dillington, Sr John Leigh, Sr John Meux, Sr Hen: Knowles, Nich: Weston, Je: Brett, Will: Boreman, Stephen March, Brutus Buck, Humfrey Turney, Rob: Dillington jun., John Richards, Tho: Leigh, Ed: Worsley, Hugh Leigh, Will: Oglander, Bar: Burley, Ed: Leigh, Bar: Leigh, John Burley."

94. "Parte of the last Will and Testament of William Pym of Wollavinton in the county of Somerset gen' [dated] 10 January 1608" (etc.), and proved 20 Sept. 1610 in the Prerogative-Court; relating to his wife Agnes. 206^a.

Extracted by Ashmole.

95. "The Citzezens of London their petiōn to both Houses of Parliam^t: for peace." 287^{ab}.

Copied by Ashmole, seemingly from a printed paper, from the following subscription, "London, printed for John Johnson 1642."

96. Letter from W^m BROWNE* "To Sir Be[n]jamin Rudyard," on occasion of his much admired speech in Parliament. (Darking, 29 Nov. 1640.) 288^a.

* The Poet? He mentions the Lord Chamberlain (Robert Earl of Lindsey) and "my good lord and master the Earle of Caernarvon." This is either the draught or a copy.

97. "Copy of y^e oath imposed by the Earle of Darby upon Lancashire," to oppose the Parliament's army. 289^a.

Written and thus indorsed by Ashmole.

98. "A display of y^e Malitia* of the Citte" of London; against a "Royalliste" Lord-Mayor. 290—1^b.

* Sic pro Militia. This is the corrected draught of a paper probably designed to be published. The title has been altered thus by another hand,—"An Essay upon y^e Malitia of the Citte wch of y^e two you please."

99. Two letters from "M: S." to his 'Deare Mother' in Cheshire, relating "An account of Edgehill and Brainford fights." (Windsor forest, 9 Nov.; and Kingston on Thames, 15 Nov. 1642.) 292^a, 292^b—3.

Ashmole, in his indorsement of this transcript, has not preserved the name of the writer: he was in Sir Edward Fitton's regiment, and mentions the death of his cousin Massy at the one battle, and that of Mr. Tho. Daniel of Tabley at the other.

100. "To the high Courte of Parliam^t: the humble petiōn of the Infants Babes and Suckelings of the city of London." 294^{ab}.

101. The "Irish Rebels' protestacōn" on taking up arms for the King. 296^a.

Copied and so indorsed by Ashmole.

102. "A letter from an Officer in his Ma^{ty}: Army to a gentleman in Gloucestersheire, upon occasion of certaine Quarees scattered about that county Anno D'ni 1643." 297—314^b.

Subscribed "From my quarter this 10th of Aprill 1643."

At the end is fixed a paper containing a brief list of the contents of this volume, written by Lhuys.

No. 831.

The first MS. in this large folio volume (which contains many MSS. and papers) is large enough to form a separate volume: it is fairly and widely written in the secretary-hand, and vertically, for the more ready continuation of the pedigrees from page to page; they are tricked in red roundles, and with red lines.

I. Stemmata vetusta prosapiarum regiarum Angliæ et Galliæ, nobiliumque multarum Anglicarum; a ROBERTO GLOVERO collecta atque transcripta. ff. 1^b—87.

The first leaf (which is not numbered) contains the following Index:—

"A Table of all the Pedigrees conteyned in this booke."

These pedigrees are all in Latin, but that of France, which is in French: some, as those of France, Neville, and Daubeney, are illustrated with historical passages. All the arms are blazoned in French, and with the names of precious stones in the stead of metals and colors. At the end are the following genealogical articles, beautifully written in Glover's italic hand.

- *1. Historiola feudi Albemariæ, ostendens quomodo tandem hæreditas a Stephano et ejus filio Wilhelmo le Gros, in Regis manus devenit: inc. Stephanus genuit tres filios et quatuor filias. 88^a.
- *2. "Genealogia Dominorum de Moubray. Queris quare Rogerus de Moubray qui fundavit Abbatiam de Bellande non tenuit nomen patris sui Nigelli de Albanio." 88^b—9^b.
- Confer Monast. Anglic. 1. 775—6.
- *3. "Alia genealogia Dominorum de Moubray. Nigellus de Albanio genuit de Gundreda." 89^b—90.
- Forsan e quodam registro Furnesiensi.
- *4. "Genealogia Dominorum de Wake, [usque ad annum 1407.] Balduinus de Wake nupsit filiam Domini Brewer." 90^b.
- In fine—"finis quod HOLLINGWORTH."

The five following leaves are blank; and the foliation has been since continued through the whole volume.

II. 1. Drawings of two knights in armor with their ladies. 96^a, 97^a.

Probably taken from church-windows. In the former, the lady has a coat of arms under a robe lined with ermine: in the latter, the shield of arms is between their heads.

This whole book (except 5 leaves at the beginning and 11 at the end, and p. 124) was printed with 16 blank escutcheons and squares on each page; some of which were filled up by an old hand, somewhat resembling that of Sir Henry Saint-George.

- *2. "Les nouns de grauntz mortz a Borghe-Brigge le marsday et le merkedy apres la feste saint Gregoire lan du regne le Roi Edward fiz a. Roi Edwarde quinzisme que furent counter le Roy." (16 et 17 Mar. 15 Edw. II. 1322.) 99^b.

Printed from a contemporary roll in the 'Parliamentary Writs,' vol. II. app. part ii. p. 200—1.

3. The Arms of 214 Knights of the time of Edward II. tricked out. 100—6^b.

Many of the persons named in the foregoing list, occur here also. The first name is Sir Thomas Cowdraye, the last Sir Henry Grey.

4. Sixty-three coats of Arms of English saints, counties, and noble families, tricked out. 108—109^b.
5. Nomina magnatum "Ex libro de Domesday" collecta. 132^{ab}.
6. Libri censualis Domesday analysis, seu καταλογος, quatenus comitatus Stadfordscire et Cestrescire describuntur. 135^b—8.

7. Terrarum quæ monasterio Cestrensi datæ fuerant, donatorumque nomina, prout "In libro sanctæ Werburgæ continetur." 138^b.

The two last leaves of this book (139, 140) are vacant.

III. "Computus pro diversis necessarijs deliberatis in Curia Scaccarij domine regine Elizabethæ nunc: termino sancti Hillarij anno vicesimo secundo dicte domine regine Elizabethæ. etc. 1579." ff. 141—158.

This is the original book of delivery of stationers' goods to the various offices of the Exchequer; all the entries whereof are signed by the officers or their clerks. Ingressed over each page (except the second and the last leaf, which are blank) is the name of an office, and on the first page the title given above.

IV. "Dynnens. Terminis pasehe et sancte Trinitatis, anno xv^{to} regine Elizabethæ. 1573." ff. 159^a, 163—8, 168^b—172.

The four last leaves (also f. 173) contain nothing but the above title. This and the two following MSS. are the original account books containing the charges for the dinner of the Judges and officers of the Exchequer, for every day of the terms named.

V. "Dynnens 1573. Termino sancti Michis annis xv^{to} et xvj^{to} regine Eliz." ff. 174—185.

The second, fifth, and sixth, and the five last pages, are blank.

VI. "Dynnens 1573[-4]. Termino sancti Hill' anno xvj^{to} domine regine Elizabethæ." ff. 186—193.

The second and the 7 last pages, are blank.

VII. Pedigrees copied from the Heralds' Visitations of WORCESTERSHIRE, HEREFORDSHIRE, and GLOUCESTERSHIRE, taken in 1569. ff. 197^b—210—217—221.

These are written in a small secretary-hand, probably by Ralph Brooke. The arms are tricked. Between the second and third pages (which with the first page are blank) is fixed a smaller sheet of paper; whereon, by another old hand, referring to the pencilled foliation (which runs to the number of 24) is written the following—

VIII. "A Discourse concerning the Earle of Bristoll's case: first intended as a plea in the higher howse of Parlam^t on his Maties behalfe, by way of replie to the Earles answer unto his Maties charge: since much enlarged: and now published. Wherein are sett down the grounds, proceedings, and issues of the severall employments of the said Earle as his late Maties Ambr to severall places, concerning the restitution of the Palatinate, and the match with Spain etc. As likewise a breefe of his Maties charge; and a breefe of the Earles answer: every materiell part whereof is particularly examined and confuted. There are also intermixed, answers, to whatsoever hath bin spoken by the said Earle in the said higher howse, or written by him, that is come abrode: and particularly to his Answer to the 20 questions we^h were heretofore sent unto him in writing by his late Maties directions. Qui ventum ferit, metet turbinem." 222—230.

On the back of this long title is a preface "To the reader." Of this tract only the last 8 leaves (pp. 27—41) are preserved, beside a blank leaf thus indorsed by the same hand—"Papers of my own writing found among my Lo: of Holand's papers at his going in the intended expedition to Rochell." (231^b.) It is fairly written on large thin paper.

IX. X. Two letters or despatches "To the truly noble Mr. Thomas Cary at y^e Princes court," from an agent* at Paris (dated 2 and 9 July, 1622, n. s.), relating the military and political proceedings of the King of France against the Duke of Rohan and his adherents. 234—5, 232—233.

* The signatures, purposely set on the lowest corner of the paper, have been torn off.

XI. "Reasons ag^t the enlargm^t of one article in the Procl. for exchange, desired by the Officers of the Mint." 236—7^b.

This sheet is indorsed by the same hand as art. viii: see also art. xv.

XII. Copy of "Mr. VAUGHAN's lettre*" to a nobleman, requesting a contribution toward the cleansing of the river Thames. 238—9.

* So indorsed: it is subscribed only J. V. See art. xviii.

XIII. Pedigree of Zouch of Pitton in Wilts., subscribed by "Hen: St George, Richmond" in 1626. 240^a.

XIV. R. Elizabethæ literæ patentis, quibus "Nicholaum Narbon, alias Richmond, in Regem Armorum et principalem Heraldum tocius regni nostri Hiberniæ" constituit, cognomine Uluester. (Westm. 7 Julij, an. 8, 1566.) 242—3.

An office copy on two large folded leaves.

XV. Writ of privy-seal of Charles I. authorizing Henry Earl of Holland to sell unto goldsmiths, a proportion of the gold and silver bullion, received by him at the King's office of exchange. 244^a.

This sheet seems only a draught, and is undated. Some notes are written on the back (244^b) by the same hand as art. viii.

XVI. Commission by letters patent, authorizing Sir Edward Bish, knight, Clarencieux King of Arms, to visit his province. (Westm. 7 July, 14 Car. II. 1662.) 246—250.

Five large folded sheets of paper written by Ashmole.

XVII. "The course of the Tare of Cloth in Holland" stated; with a petition of the "fellowship of the Merchants-adventurers of England" to the Privy Council, for remedy of the abuses and exactions of the Dutch. 251^a.

A broadside printed, probably in 1627. It is thus superscribed by the same hand as No. 826, art. 107 (which is on the same subject)—"This was written by y^e merchaunds adventurers."

XVIII. Form of royal letters addressed to soliciting the payment of two pence for every ton of gravel or other soil taken up from the bed of the Thames, in order to forward the clearing of the river. 252^a.

A stained and torn leaf, written by Ashmole's hand.

XIX. "The Spanish Cardinall's protestation ag^t: the Pope, 6 Martij 1632." 253.

Same as No. 826, art. 130. Some notes are added in English by another hand.

XX. Draught of a letter from the brother of the King of Scotland, to some "Lordes," about the conference between the King and the French ambassador; and complaining of the attempts made by the borderers on both sides to break the peace, and of the injustice done to him by his brother, in slaying his servant Andrew Barton, who had been taken prisoner by Lord Howard, etc. 254^a, 255^{ab}.

XXI. A relation of the violent assault of the Turks on the island of Malta, and their complete overthrow by Don Garcias de Toledo. 256^{ab}.

On the second leaf of this sheet are tricked three coats of arms. 257^b.

XXII. A bill for an act of Parliament, to allow and enforce the free publication of arguments on religious opinions, to the end that controversies might cease. 258^a.

Written in the time of Q. Elizabeth.

XXIII. "This is the will of St James Fenys knight, Lord Say and of the Sele, made the xijth daye of Aprill the xxvijth yere of king Henry the syxt." etc. (1450.) 259^a.

Seemingly a translation or abstract made in the time of Q. Elizabeth.

XXIV. Three antient Songs, two French and one Spanish, set to music in the tenor and base parts, and illuminated: namely—

1. Se je vous eslonge de leal. (5 l. and "Residuum" 3 l.) 260^{ab}.
2. Se micula ne vient damours. (8 l.) 261^a.
3. Nunca fuit pena maior. (2 st. of 8 l.) 261^b.

Each page of these two vellum leaves has illuminated capitals, and elegant borders painted with flowers and other ornaments. The MS. is of the time of Henry VII. or VIII.

22. Licentia ad feoffandum, Johanni de Arderne mil. concessa, per Edwardum Principem Walliæ. (19 Edw. III.) "Ex autogr' penes præf. Com' Debeigh 1 Nov: 1667." Cum sig. 59.
23. Chartæ antiquæ (cum sigillis) transcriptæ "Ex evidencijs penes Georgium Browne de Buckland in com: Surriæ armig." 61—73.
24. Abstracts and notes of charters, with seals tricked; "Excerpted out of a MS: in the hands of Will: Peirpoint esqr (1668) formerly belonging to Mr. Edw: Gwynn." 73—4.
25. Chartæ antiquæ "Ex ipsis autographis penes Walterum Wrottesleye, de Wrottesleye in com' Staff. Baronetum 9^o Aprilis a^o 1663," transcriptæ et excerptæ: cum sigg. quibusdam expressis. 77—89.
- This article is written in a large and very fair hand (as also pp. 274—5), and at the end is a note by Ashmole, concerning the origin of the Wrottesley family, illustrating Dugdale's Warwickshire, p. 558—9.
26. Genealogical notes "Extracted out of other the evidences of Sr: Walter Wrottesley a^o 1662;" by ASHMOLÉ, with some seals tricked. 90—1.
27. Chartæ antiquæ, et alia quamplurima documenta "Ex evidencijs et scriptis Joh'is Bowyer de Knipersley in com' Staff. milit: et Baroneti," transcriptæ. 93—156, 159—213.
- Very few seals are tricked in this portion of the volume, which contains copious extracts from Sir John Bowyer's title-deeds, and from law-documents relating to the descent of his family and lands, carefully made by Ashmole for the compiling of a family pedigree. See art. 34.
- (After pp. 214—226, which are blank, are inserted several sheets of paper of different sizes, which break the uniformity of the volume.)
28. Charta Aliciæ filiæ Roberti de Buckenhale, Aldredo de Knyperislee facta, de terris (cujus termini descripti sunt) in Knyperislee, Dallercroft, et Childeresplane. 227.
- This is a fair transcript on an open sheet, in which all the names of persons and places are done in fac-simile, as in the most curious charters of this MS. There is a rude tricking of the seal on p. 230, a foul copy of the same charter occupying a page and a half of the following sheet.
29. Farther extracts from Sir John Bowyer's charters and evidences. 229—32.
30. Descents and arms "Extracted out of the Baron of Kinderton's pedigree drawne by Sampson Eardswick esqr." 233.
- Tricking of "The seale of Laurence Dalton Norroy King of armes, affixed to the grant of a crest to Tho. Venables Baron of Kinderton" etc. (2 Nov. 1560.) 235.
- Descent of Bowyer from Sir W. Venables of Bradwell* (3 Edw. I.), and notes about the Bowyers, taken when Dugdale made his visitation of Staffordshire. (1663.) 236.

* See also p. 243. These small articles are written on one sheet: three pages of the next are blank.

31. Descents of Venables, and notes concerning them, "Ex lib: Collect: Rob. Glover Somers." 237.
32. Arms and pedigree of Bower or Bowyer, from the "Lincolush: visitacōn fol: 61" (1634), and a note from the "Staff: visit: 14. fo: 67^b." 241.
33. Arms and pedigree of Bower "Transcribed out of the Visitacōn of Staffordsh: made by W^m. Flower Norroy a^o. 1583:."* with continuation to 1601. p. 243.

* The original is lost; but a transcript thereof being in the hands of W^m Pierpoint of Thoresby in com' Nott: esqr was copied by W^m Dugdale Norroy, 1668, and given to the Office of Armes." A folded sheet.

34. Draught of Ashmole's Pedigree of Bowyer, with the quarterings. 244.

"This descent of Knipersley and Bowyer was faithfully extracted out of divers originall evidences remaining in the custody of Sr: John Bowyer Kt: and Bart: at Knipersley hall in the county of Stafford, and out of the Register of the parish church of Bidulph, upon Saturday the 21th: day of March 1662." On the back of this sheet (which is folded and torn) are—

Notes of some matches of this family, and the blazon of their quarterings. 245.

35. Transcripta quædam curiosa, et excerpta, "Ex chartis antiquis Walteri Harecourt de Ellenhall et de Ranton in com: Staff." 247—256.

"Transcribed out of the Staffordshire visitacōn now remaining in the Office of Armes, and marked C: 10: [fol. 105^b] taken by Richard S^r: George Norroy King of Armes 1614." Some of the seals and arms are tricked. The last of these 6 leaves contains—

36. Excerpta e rotulis Finium et Clausarum, de familia de Harecourt. 257—8.

37. Charta regis Henrici II. quod Herveus de Strattona terram suam includat ad parcum faciendum: transcripta "Ex eviden' penes Ric' Congreve in com' Staff." 259.

This is the first document on four sheets that contain—

38. Chartæ antiquæ (cum sigillis) transcriptæ "Ex evidencijs penes Walterum Noell de Hilcote in com' Staff." 259—266, 271—5.

The document in English, at p. 271—3, was fairly copied by another hand (corrected by Ashmole), and the antient charter on pp. 274—5 (with 3 seals tricked) is by the same hand as art. 25; and in the margin of the latter of those pages, Ashmole has noted "Hactenus ex evidencijs Walt: Noel de Hilcote."

39. Transcripta e rotulis Chartarum, Clausarum, et Patentium, ad familiam de Harecourt illustrandam. 276—8.

In the middle of the four sheets containing these three articles (37—9) is inserted a smaller sheet, on which are written—

40. Chartæ antiquæ ad familiam de Nowell spectantes, per DUGDALUM excerptæ. 267—9.

On p. 268 are drawn the arms and crest of Noel "from an escutcheon." The last of these documents is an abstract of the Will of Jamys Nowell of Newbold, 5 Hen. VIII.; and on p. 270 is an abstract of a charter, by Ashmole's hand. See No. 1750, A. art. 1.

41. Pedigree of Noell of Newbold, from the "Staff.

- Visitacōn 1614. C. 10, fol. 72^b:" and a note of the grant of a crest * to Andrew Noell of Dalby in com. Leic. esq. 279.
- * "Out of a booke of Glover Somerset's colleccōns intituled Litteræ Patentes Armorum. fol. 39^b." (Which is now in this Library, No. 834, i.) On the same sheet is a—
42. Pedigree of Unwyn, from the "Hants Visitacōn 1622. C. 19, fol: 43." 281.
43. Pedigree and arms of Noell of Pelsall; "Out of the Staffordshire Visitacōn made by W: Flower Norroy 1583." 282.
44. Two pedigrees of Harcourt; one of Stanton co. Oxford ("Ex lib. C. 10. fol. 108."), the other of Ranton and Burroughall. ("Ex lib. C. 10. fol. 79: in Offic. Armorum. Staff. visit: 1614.") 284, 285.
45. "The coate and crest of armes w^{ch} was upon the alabaster grave-stone of Robert Noel, who was buried in July anno Domini m.cccclxxxj. 1471.*" 287.
- * One of these dates must be wrong. This is an exceedingly curious drawing on a folded sheet, thus subscribed by Ashmole. Eight blank leaves (pp. 289—304) follow.
46. Excerpta transcripta et notæ copiosæ genealogicæ "Ex evidentijs penes Will'm Muschampe de Roe-barnes in com: Surr. ar: 17 Aug. 1659." 305—328.
- Page 315 contains descents of Roughberne, from Hen. III. to 13 Hen. IV.; and p. 316 the inscription on the tomb of Radulphus Agmondesham (ob. 7 Feb. 1458) and Milcencia his wife, at East-Horsley; and the quarterings of Muschamp. See also No. 826, art. 83.
47. Dominorum Radulphi de Sumeri, Johannis de Sunery, et aliorum, chartæ quamplurimæ de terris in Bradefeld et Yatyngden. 333—343.
- These valuable transcripts and extracts were probably made from Ashmole's own evidences: he was lord of the manor of Bradfield in Berkshire.
48. Legendæ sigillorum Decani et cap. S. Pauli Londinensis, Conventus de Thoby, et Conventus de Eya in dioe. Norwic. 345.
49. Sigilla Episcoporum et Abbatum quorundam, delineata. 347—350.
- In the middle of the three sheets containing the two foregoing articles is placed a smaller sheet, the first page of which bears a beautiful transcript (not by Ashmole) of a—
50. Charta Galfridi abbatis sancti Templi Domini Jerusalem, Ernaldo Rufo facta, de ecclesia S. Mariæ de Wudcbregg olim parochiali sed tum conventuali, eidem abbati et conventui per eum confirmata. 351.
- A small round seal is drawn as appendent.
51. Extracts and genealogical notes "Excerpted out of the evidences of Thomas Napier of Great Linford in com' Bucks esqf. 1676." 361—4.
- Two seals are tricked. The last four leaves of these three sheets are blank.
52. "Sigill. D. CAROLI . HOWARD . Baron . de Effingham . præleri . ordinis . Garterii . Militis . Magni . Admiralli . Angliæ . etcet. A^o. 1585." 373.
- A drawing of a noble seal surrounded with this legend.
53. Drawings of the obverse and reverse of "The first greate Seale of Charles the Second." 376—377.
54. "Ex evidencijs penes Joh'em Bowyer de Knipersley in com' Staff: mil: et Bar':" diversorum testium nomina, et chartæ tres transcriptæ. 381—2.
- See also No. 1750, A. artt. 7—10, 13, and B.
55. Notes and tricking of arms "In Tewkesbury church, taken the 9th. of Apr: 1623." 383—4.
- Inscription and arms "About the chapell of Isabel Countess of Warwick, on the north side [of] the quire." 385.
- Arms "In Ripple church in Worcestershire taken 28 Apr. 1623." 385.
56. Descriptions of antient seals of various Bishops, Abbats, Monasteries, and Colleges. 399—402, 407—12, 415—9, 423—6.
- Page 403 is a small paper containing a "Catalogue of the Bps: of London from the conquest" to 1404, wherein those are marked whose seals are here described. P. 405 is likewise a small paper, containing an extract of the expenses of the iron-work set up before the altar of S. Erkenwald, in 1448.
57. Notes of charters and trickings of seals "In Mr. Turnepenny's hands, 1658. Subchanter of Lichfeild." 430.
58. Descensus Hugonis de Poynings a Roberto de Haya fundatore prioratus de Boxgrave. 431.
- "Ex libro prioratus de Boxgrave, fo. 1." This is a pedigree either copied from some book marked "AAB. ††" or tricked out by Ashmole from the "Fundationis historia et fundatoris stemma" printed in Dugdale's Monasticon, I. 594.
59. Transcripta et excerpta "Ex evidentijs penes Humf: Hide de Kingston Lysle in com' Berks. 24 Aug. 1666." Cum sigg. delin. 433—4.
- See also art. 68.
60. Tres chartæ transcriptæ "Ex evidentijs penes Will'm Haward mil." 439.
61. De libro Domesday insigne testimonium, excerptum ex "Esc: de a^o 30 E. 3. Essex. (Hatfeild Peverell m.) n^o. 42." 441.
- Vox Scottus (i. e. equus) explicata, e placitis. ib.
- "Perambulatio facta inter com' Southt: et Dors." e rot. "Claus. 18. E. 3. p. 2. m. 16. in dors." 441—2.
62. Transcripts and extracts of antient charters with seals "Collected from old deedes in my father *Backhouse[s] hands, 7 Sept: 1657." 443—4.
- * W. Backhouse, esq. who adopted Ashmole.
63. Drawing of the seal of "Joh'es Fildyng de Lutterworth," and a "historicall relacōn of this family [of Hapsburg alias Fielding] both in forraine parts and in this nation," as emblemized in the same: copied "Out of the Earle of Denbigh's evidenee-booke,* 19 Aug: 1658. fol. 40." 445, 447.
- * Probably one of those excellent MSS. described in the general Catalogue of MSS. tom. ii. No. 1463, 1464. This sheet also contains drawings and notes of two other old seals of the same family. See also art. 19.

64. Pedigree of Seabright, showing the descent of Margery wife of Sir W. Dugdale. 455.

On the same sheet is written a—

65. Pedigree of Steward of Scotland, showing the descent of Mary, daughter of Sir W. Forster, widow of Sir Ed. Stafford, and wife of Elias Ashmole, esq. 458.

66. Descents of Wotton of Staffordshire from ancient deeds. 459, 460.

On the same sheet is an abridged transcript (with a tricking of the seal) of—Indentura facta inter Joh. de le Bourgh, et Ric'm fil. Henr. de Wotton et Matild. ux. suam, de duobus messuagiis in Wotton. (47 Edw. III.) 461.

67. Abstract of an indenture between Edw. (son and heir of Matth.) Moreton of Engleton co. Staff. esq. and Matthew his son and heir, selling lands in Acton Trussell to Thomas Eland. (2 Mar. 8 Jac. I.) 463.

“Ex evidencijs penes Martinum Nowell [de] London mercator.”

68. Chartæ (cum sigg. delin.) et annotationes genealogicæ, excerptæ “Ex evidencijs pen: Humfr. Hyde de Kingston Lysle in com' Berks esq.” 465—79.

69. “Excerpta hæc sunt e Libro Obitali seu Martologio Coll: Reg: Oxon.” 481—6.

These two small sheets, the last leaf of which (pp. 487—8) is blank, are neatly written, and contain what is also in No. 826, art. 72.

No. 834.

A folio volume, containing four books in MS. and one in print, and a MS. sheet. The first MS. consists of 74 leaves of paper (numbered by Glover), written at different times in the reign of Q. Elizabeth, and nearly all by the same hand, though with various degrees of neatness: some of them have been folded, but not indorsed. The arms are very neatly tricked.

I. “Litteræ Patentis Armorum *:” or, GLOVER'S copies and draughts of Grants and Exemplifications of Arms and Crests, by WILLIAM FLOWER Norroy, ROBERT COOKE Clarencieux, and other Kings of Arms, or under the great seal of England.

* It is the MS. referred to under this title, by Ashmole, in No. 833, p. 279: see the note on art. 41 thereof.

The following is an Index of the names of the Grantees; the substance of the grants themselves, and of those contained in the other volume, No. 844. ii., may be found in the text of Guillim's Display of Heraldry, edited by James Coats (London, 1724, folio), selected from these MSS.

“As an appendix, by way of a genealogical, historical, and chronological table, belonging to the first part of Palæ-Albion, being the Historie of the Kings and Princes of Great Britain. Wherein, besides the pedigree of King James, and King Charles, the descent of the Emperour, and King of Spaine, France, and Denmarke, with many other of the princes and nobility of England and most part of Christendome, how derived in direct lines from Noah, may be discerned; with all the worthiest of that nature, out of the Roman, and especially the Greeke Antiquities, as well as such memorable matters of our moderne tongue. By WILLIAM SLATYER, D.D.” etc. “London, printed for George Miller, 1630.”

This curious folio tract consists of 4 leaves of letter-press at the beginning, 21 pages of copper plate engraving, and 7 pages of letter-press at the end containing verses. See Moule's Bibliotheca Heraldica.

III. Descents of YORKSHIRE Families, written narratively; chiefly taken from NORROY FLOWER'S Visitation of that county in 1563—4, by ROBERT COOKE, Chester Herald. ff. 32.

On the first leaf (which is blank and unnumbered) Ashmole has inscribed—“Armes and Pedigrees of the North;” which designation belongs equally to this and to the two next MSS. as it is evident from the references in No. 1121, p. 238, and No. 1107, p. 317. This first part is very neatly written in secretary-hand, and corrected in some places by Glover; who probably used it when he visited the same county in 1584. The following is an Index of the families, the names of which are noted on the margin with red, in Glover's hand.

IV. 1. Three hundred and thirty-six Coats of Arms of Northern gentry, tricked in alphabetical order by ROBERT GLOVER, Somerset Herald. ff. 1—30^b.

These are very neatly done: most of them have the crest, and some the quarterings. The two last are dated 1575 and 1578.

2. The Arms of forty-one English Monasteries, tricked; with accounts of their founders, and the blazon of their arms. 31—6.

The first is "Lynton Abbey," and the last Timmouth priory. This article was transcribed by Glover from a MS. compiled in the time of Henry VIII.

3. Pedigree of "Normanton alias Grexon" or Gregson: with the arms, crest, and motto. 36^b—9.

Fairly tricked in roundlets and with red lines. The ancestor is thus described, "Arthure Bolland de Grenehaugh in the county of Stafford."

4. Seven hundred and fifty Coats of Arms of the ancient Nobility and Gentry of the north of England, tricked by GLOVER. (ff. 24.) 41—64.

This valuable collection of shields is very neatly tricked, and is followed by—

An alphabetical Index of the names. (f. 65—70.)

Referring to the old foliation of this article; which shows that it may have been formerly a separate book, though of the same kind of paper as the other articles of this fourth MS.

V. I. Pedigrees and Arms of Staffordshire Families, dated 1566; probably copied from FLOWER'S Visitation of that county in 1563. (ff. 1—14.)

These are fairly done out in roundels, by the same hand as part iii. of this volume, and are written vertically. The names follow here.

Greseley, with Wasnes. 1—2.
Sneyd. 2^{ab}.
Draycote. 3^{ab}.
Bagot, with additions by Glover. 3^b—4^b.
Kynardesley. 4^b—5.

* Descents "fownd in a pedegre at Mr. Boynton's."

† Four antient epitaphs of this name, from Harpham and Brandsburton churches; and the arms from a window in the latter.

‡ Descents "taken owte of an owlde booke of evidence kept in the abbie of Meux—by me Chester Herald—1565."

ll With arms tricked by Glover.

¶ Note of a grant of arms to him by Harvie in 1557. (See the last page of the next article.)

Erdeswick, with Saundon and Stafford. 4^b—6^b.

Salt. 6^b—7.

Ruggley, with Thyrkyle. 7^b—8.

Myners. 8^{ab}.

Agard. 8^b—9.

Meverell, with Danyell; and additions by Glover. 9^b—10^b.

Okover. (1569.) 10^b—11.

Griffith. (1569.) with Somervill added by Glover. 11^b—12.

Grosvenor. 12^b—13.

"Bydulf de Bydulf in com' Stafford." 13^b—14.

The last was wholly written by Glover, and is dated 1580: his visitation of this county was not until 1583. The two following articles were written by him on a vacant leaf of this MS. on which begins a separate foliation extending to "16." f. 30.

2. The arms of Molyneux, Strykland, Lathum, Longford*, Houghton, Yvers, Waren, and Fortescue; tricked by GLOVER. 15^a.

* Only the crest of this is described.

3. GLOVER'S pedigree of Litleton, of Pilleton hall co: Stafford. (in Latin.) 15^b.

4. Arms and descents of Lancashire Families; from FLOWER'S Visitation of that county in 1567*: written narratively. 16—24^b.

* They are not dated, but the only other visitations were made in 1533 and 1613, which years are unsuitable to this MS. They are written by the same hand and (with the addition of the arms) in the same manner as the Yorkshire descents above described. Some of the extracts are scanty: such arms as have only the name without descents, are marked thus † in the following Index: the names of Stanley and Newport have no arms tricked.

VI. "Observacōns in a Northerne Journey taken Hill' vaccacōn 1666, by John Stainsby of Clements Inn gent." (pp. 3.)

These are notes relating to antiquities and heraldry, chiefly collected at Doncaster, Newcastle on Tyne, Morpeth, and the castles of Mitford and Nether Wootton. The sheet ends with "Certaine words [and phrases] in use in Northumberland;" and is subscribed "Jo: Stainsby" with a short note to Ashmole. It is indorsed thus—"Theise for the wo^{pp} Elias Ashmole esq."

No. 835.

A folio volume, containing five books of good paper, (the first four of which have wide margins ruled with red ink, and were written by Ashmole; and the fifth is well written in the secretary-hand within wide margins), also one folio sheet, and a quarto tract. The first manuscript fills nearly half of the volume.

I. The Herald's Repertory, or a Common-place Book of references to precedents, tracts, etc. contained in the MSS. in the Heralds' College, and other MSS. and records, on various subjects of Coat-armor, Nobility, Ceremonies, History, and the duties and customs of the Heralds and Kings of arms; with an Index of common places prefixed. (ff. 2^a*, 3—8, pp. 148.)

* On the second of eight leaves prefixed to this book, are the following explanations of the references used in this valuable work, which is a transcript from Dugdale's MS. No. 11, (or F. 1.) f. 97—101^b. with some transpositions and additions.

"Note that what is marked thus ☞ was transcribed out of a booke in folio, covered with leather, belonging to Sr: Thomas Shirley, being the Collecōns of Ralph Brooke, sometyne Yorke Herald. And what is marked thus ★ was transcribed out of a booke, sometyne belonging to Mr: Noy Attorney generall to King Charles the first: and since in the possession of Mr: Barrell of Cliffords Inn. And what is thus marked ☛ doth refer to certaine transcripts, w^{ch} are in loose sheetes, fairely copied, and not bound up, and in the Lord Hatton's custody. And what is marked with any Letters of the Alphabet alone, doth refer to his proper Manuscripts. And what is marked with both Letters and Figures, referreth to Bookes in the Heralds Office. And what is marked thus ☞ is transcribed out of a very faire ancient booke sometyne belonging to Sr: Henry St George Knight, Norroy."

Ashmole's paging has been continued from "148" through the 6 blank leaves at the end, the two sheets of paper inserted after this book, and the whole volume.

II. E Rotulis Patentium collectanea de variis officiis muneribus honoribusque quæ claris viris concessa sunt ab anno primo Edwardi VI. ad 16 Caroli I. pp. 169—306.

A fair transcript.

III. "The heads or contents of a large quarto MS: in the custody of the Earle of Anglesey a^o. 1672, and sometyne belonging to Sr: Will: Le Neve Clarencieux:" extracted by ELIAS ASHMOLE esq. p. 315—324.

The numerous articles herein described, serve as a suitable appendix to the first part of this volume: many of its articles are copied in No. 837, xxxviii.

IV. "A Discourse of the Dutye and Office of an Heralde of Armes, written by FRANCIS THYNNE, Lancaster Heralde, the third daye of Marche anno 1605." p. 327—348.

Another MS. copy of this tract is in No. 840. art. 10; and it is printed in Hearne's Collection of Curious Discourses, No. XLVI. p. 139—162, vol. i. ed. 1775, 8vo.

V. "Matter [of record] concerning Heralds and the Tryall of Armes, and of [the] Court Military, [collected] by FRANCIS THYNNE Lancaster." p. 355—376.

This tract consists of the following eleven documents, transcribed from the rolls, with marginal notes: it is not printed among the 'Curious Discourses' as is the foregoing tract to which it seems to belong. They are noticed in the quarto edition of Wood's Athenæ, II. 108—9.

1. Writ to John Staple to cite Sir Robert Grosvenor to support his appeal against Sir Richard le Scrope, before the commissioners of appeal. (Claus. 12 Ric. II. m. 4.) p. 355.
2. Exemplification of the sentence in the same cause. (3 Pat. 13 Ric. II. m. 10.) 356.
3. Commission for hearing and deciding the appeal of Tho. Boud against the Constable's sentence about arms in favor of Nich. Singleton. (1 Pat. 17 Ric. II. m. 12.) 361.
4. Royal protection extended to all the goods of Sir John de Staunton. (Pat. 29 Edw. III. m. 27.) 364.
5. The arms of 'Gules, three leopards or, collared with crowns azure,' confirmed to Otho de Mandevile; the patent whereby the same had been granted to his father Peter, by Edw. III. being lost. (1 Pat. 17 Ric. II. m. 15.) 365.
6. Hamlet Smethewick's release (in French) of all right in the arms of "Gules un lyon rampant dargent, et enarmee dazure, et le ceo fureht," to John Atwood of Worcester, as having properly belonged to Sir John Atwood. (Pat. 6 Hen. VI.) 366.

7. Grant of the office of Constable of England to Thomas de Woodstock Earl of Buckingham. (1 Pat. 1 Ric. II. m. 7.) 367.
8. Commission for hearing the appeal of Aliee widow of Roger Wright, against William Tanner, about arms and an annuity. (Pat. 17 Ric. II.) 367.
9. Writ to the mayor and sherrifs of London, to execute the sentence on the appeal of John Chamberleyne against William Gerrard, in a matter pecuniary. (1 Claus. 2 Hen. IV. m. 5.) 370.
10. Writ to the Constable of the Tower of London, to bring Hugh Blewet, Bruce Herald of Scotland (a prisoner) before the Constable of England. (2 Claus. 2 Hen. IV. m. 16.) 374.
11. Authority given to the High Constable to hear divers appeals made to the King, touching the state, fame, and condition of the royal person. (2 Pat. 22 Ric. II. m. 30.) 374.

VI. Titulus, et elenchus 85 capitum, Catalogi Authorum qui de re Heraldica scripserunt. p. 379—382.

There are only 19 chapters in Gore's book on this subject, 1668, 4to., of which Wood's interleaved copy is in this Library, E. 3.

VII. Orders of the Lords Commissioners for the office of Earl Marshal, determined on for the reformation of the Office of Arms, at a chapter holden 3 March 1616, and then agreed unto by the Kings and Heralds. p. 383—398.

This old transcript has been formerly foliated '161—8:' the first page is very foul with dust.

No. 836.

A large and thick folio volume, consisting of a multitude of papers, of various sizes, and written by different hands and at sundry times, to the number of 770 pages as numbered by Ashmole. They may be in general described as—

- I. Original papers of ceremonies, bills of expenses, armorial bearings, regulations, precedents, correspondence and certificates, relating to the Funerals of the Nobility, and to the duties of the Heralds thereat. pp. 1—470.
- II. Letters of intelligence to the Heralds' Office from the provincial Deputies, relating to the Funerals of the Gentry and other heraldic matters. pp. 471—600.
- III. Miscellaneous papers relating to Heraldic business; Pedigrees, Letters, etc. pp. 601—768.

The particular contents of this curious collection, are as here following.

- I. GLOVER's draught of orders relating to the attendance of Pursuivants at funerals, and to the misdemeanor of Rouge-Croix; made "At a Chapitre holden by the three kinges and herauldes of armes att the colledge of armes neere Paules wharf in London, on monday the xijth. day of Novembre, anno Domini 1576." p. 1.

The rest of this sheet (as of many others) is vacant.

2. Ordinance to be made* in Chapter, about the turn of the successor of a herald who had served his turn at a funeral, in the case of Glover's succeeding Edmond Atkinson, Somerset Herald. 5—7.

* A blank is left for the date of this document, which is fairly written by GLOVER.

On the last page of this sheet is the draught of an—Order in Chapter deciding the dispute between Garter and Clarencieux, about the right of attending the funeral of Elizabeth Lady Hungerford, late the wife of Sir Robert Throgmorton. (April 1572.) 8.

See also No. 857, p. 121.

3. Permission granted by Sir G. Dethick, Rob. Cooke Clarencieux, and Lancaster, Richmond, and Chester Heralds, that Somerset, then aged and feeble, might serve by deputy at the next funeral. (13 Feb. 1569.) 9.

Their autographs are subscribed.

4. Draughts of two clauses in a patent for empowering Clarencieux to destroy hatchments unlawfully set up, and to punish defacers of monuments. 12—13, 15—16, 18.

Pages 12 and 15 were written by GLOVER, and are both alike; p. 12—13, contain a copy of the same by another hand; p. 18 is by Glover, and the copy of it on p. 16 is thus headed—"The clause for defacing of Monumentes of antiquitie."

5. "The whole charges of the funerall of Sr Nicholas Bacon Knight, Lord Keeper of the greateseale of England. Anno xvj ser' Regine Elizabethæ, et anno Domini 1578." 21, 23—36.

The book (ff. 9.) so intitled is fairly written: a draught of part thereof is art. 17. The whole amount was no less than 91*l.* 12*s.* 1*d.*

6. Notes of "Persons that ar to have mourninge appareill"—of "The hearse with the appareill therof and the blacks for the church and house"—of "Fees and duties belonging to the Officers of armes"—and of achievements "To be prepared by the paynter," customary "At the funerall of a Baronesse." 39—42.

Written by GLOVER against some funeral at which he officiated. The next paper is not by him.

7. "Theese thinges to be prepared for the funerall of an Earle." 43—5.

On the last page of this sheet, are written invertedly by another hand—

"Allowances for thofficers of armes for the funerall of the right honorable Katherin Countes of Huntingdon. 1576, in October." 46.

8. "Preparacyon for the funerall of an Erl." 47—8.

9. "Lyveries for noble men at thenterment of any person accordinge to there estates." 49—50.
10. Atchievements prepared "For the enterement of the Duke of Norff." 51.
11. Things and persons "To be prepared for the funerall of the right honourable the Lady Catherine Countesse of Huntingdon, sometyme wyf to the right honourable Frauncys Erle of Huntingdon eldest daughter and one of y^e heires of Henry Lord Montague." 53—4.
Her shield of 30 quarterings. 55.
On the back of this sheet (all by GLOVER's pen) is a note that she died on Sunday 23 Dec. 1576.
12. "Preparacōn to be made for the fewnerall of the right honorable lady the Countes of Bedford." 57.
13. Order of proceeding at a grand funeral at which the Countess of Bedford was "the lady chief mourner." 59.
A large folded sheet written by GLOVER: on the back is written the allowance of blacks.
14. "Advertizmentes for the preparacōn for the funerall of the right honorable Lady Wynefrid Marques of Wynton' etc. 1586."* 61—2.
* "—that was buried at Westm' on thursday the 14. of July. 1586." Note added by Glover.
15. Notes written by GLOVER preparatory to a funeral. 65.
16. "A directione for Mr. Somersettes serches in the contreye." 69.
This page (the first of a small quarto sheet) contains notes about arms, monuments, and evidences relating to the Chaworth family, at Wynerton, Tetheby, and Laund Abbey.
17. "A booke of all the charges of the funerall of the right honorable Sr Nich'as Bacon knight, Lord Keeper of the great seale of England, kept at Powles church in London the ixth of March a^o xxj^o Elizab. et anno D'ni 1578." 73—4.
See art. 5. The second leaf of this sheet is vacant, except some old scribbling. Though after it four numbers are omitted in the paging, it does not seem that anything has been lost from this volume.
18. Preparacōns for y^e funerall of the right noble: the Countess of Denbeigh, late wife to Basil Erle of Denbeigh." 81.
Communicated with—
SIR EDWARD WALKER's letter to the Earl of Denbigh, desiring to know whether he would have a public or a private funeral for his wife. (Whitehall, 1 Oct. 1670.) 83.
The former part of this sheet contains a draught, the latter a copy, by ASHMOLE. See art. 31.

43. GLOVER's draughts of the frame and elevation of a grand hearse*. 158—9.

* For the Marquis of Winchester: compare p. 212.

44. "Platt for the Hearce. 1583." 162—3.

So is this sheet indorsed at p. 161. The notes of the fees of "The Heralds at Sr Henry Sidney" that are written on p. 164, by Glover's hand, show that this was the hearse used at his funeral.

The leaf containing pages 165—6 has been cut out.

45. Arms and quarterings of "Feilding and Bourchier" tricked by Dugdale. 167.

A draught prepared (most likely) against the funeral of the Countess of Denbigh: it is indorsed with the names by Ashmole.

46. Certificate of the funeral, marriages, and issue of Sir John Aclande of Cullomb-John, co. Devon, who died 18 Feb. 1619[—20]: with his and his two wives' arms painted. 169.

An original paper subscribed thus—"Certified by John Estcott, deputy to the office of armes for Devon and Cornwall." On the second leaf of the sheet is a—Statement from JOHN ESTCOTT to the Office of Arms, about the refusal to employ him at the said funeral, and the illegal and obstinate conduct of Richard Hornabroke, an ignorant arms-painter of Exeter, and others. 171—2.

See also his letter at p. 513.

47. Certificate of the funeral and marriage of John Smyth of Lanwarnicke co. Cornwall, gent. who died 7 Jan. 1619[—20]: with his and his wife's arms painted. 173.

Statement of JOHN ESTCOTT, that he could not get the Heralds' fees for the said funeral. 175.

48. Notices of persons named Cokayn, extracted from antient records by GLOVER. 177.

Various coats of arms tricked by him: among which are those of Deyvill, Palmer of Calais, Sir Tho. Hungerford, Hollingworth, Stanton of Somersetsh. and Monter. 178—180.

49. "Hereafter folowth the ordre of the proceedinge to the beryall wth the bodye of the ryght honorable Wyllam Lorde Dacres*, from the churche of saynte Cuthebartes in Carlell to the cathedrall churche of saint Maryes there, the xiiijth daye of Decembre an^o 1563." 181—2.

* Who died "the xijth daye of Novembre." The second leaf of this sheet is torn: it is briefly indorsed.

50. "The proceedinge to the enterrement of the noble and excellent princesse Margaret Duchesse of Norff. whose body was buryed in the churche of S^t in Norwiche the xvijth day of January anno 1563, which was after removed to Framingham." 185—6.

The second page of this sheet contains "the order in proceeding to the offring." It is neatly written by GLOVER.

Also "The names of such persons as ar to have mourninge garmentes sent downe by the second cariage." 257.

"The proceedinge to the church" and "The offeringe." 258.

On the first page of this sheet (which is all written by GLOVER) are notes of his and Garter's fees, p. 255.

63. "The proceeding for the funerall of the right honorable Thomas Erle of Sussex through London to Newehall in Essex, the 8 of July 1583." 259.

Seven pages of these three sheets are blank.

*64, 65. "The proceedinge to the Scottishe Quenes funeralles at Peterburgh, primo Augusti 1587." 271—2, 273—4.

The former of these draughts is thus headed: they are written on open sheets, by GLOVER, who was the Herald that bare the coat of arms at the funeral.

*66. "The manner of the solemnity of the Scottishe Queenes funerall being the first of August 1587. when she was buried in the cathedrall church of Peterboroughe." 275—6.

This narrative is subscribed—"RICH. FLETCHER Decanus:" it contains a short account of the funeral-sermon. This art. and the next are written by the same hand as No. 749, iii, iv.

67. "K: JAMES Ire to the [Deane and Chapter or the] BP: of Peterb: for the removing [of] the Queene of Scotts body to Westm." (Hampton Court, 28 Sept. 10 Ja. I.) 277.

Indorsed by Ashmole. It is subscribed with a note that the letter was delivered to the Bishop of P. and Mr. Henry Williamson, one of the prebendaries, and was executed 4 Oct. 1612.

68. "The proceedinge to the funerall of Matthew [Parker] Archbissshop of Canterbury, which was celebrated at Lambith on monday the sixt day of June 1575." 279—281.

Two long narrow leaves written by GLOVER, thus intitled on p. 282.

69. "The order for the funerall of a Marquis." 283—5.

176. Draught of an order in Chapter, that the erroneous arms, etc. set up at the tomb of Sir John Sayer* in S. Margaret's church at Westminster, by Henry Marshall a painter, should be rectified by him, and duly set up again by an Officer of arms. 633—4.

* Of whom some notice is here given, and a proper certificate was ordered to be made of his death, etc.

177. Articles of "The charge" against Sir W. Brouncker, for setting up a large atchievement over his house on the death of his mother, in 1649, representing her to have been a Viscountess: with his answers thereunto. 637.

178. "The humble peticō of Samuell Kecke of Lichfeild, to Elias Ashmole esquire;" stating that his son had refused to make him a partner in his deputation, which he had promised to do long before he got it; and desiring him to acquaint Dugdale therewith. 641.

This leaf was folded and written in quarto.

179. Letter from E. WRIGHT to Capt., desiring him to commit the inclosed papers* to Sir Edw. Walker, or Esq. Ashmole, and requesting answers thereunto to be sent speedily for his friend the Prince of Stienhuse. (Bruxelles, 15 Nov. 1669, N. S.) 643.
- * The next article. The leaf on which this letter was directed, is lost.
180. "Memoire" sur les points que le Prince de Stienhuse soubait de savoir touchant la genealogie de la maison de Rye, de la quelle il est descendu. 645—6.
- "Memoire" sur la maison de Cangleton ou Congleton. 647.
- "Extrait [touchant l'antiquité] de l'illustre maison de Rye." 649—53.
- The Prince thought that his ancestors were of English origin. These 3 sheets are very fairly written.
- 181, 182. Two elegant letters (in French) from ELIZABETH HOLCROFT to thanking him for his care in searching for the arms of her family, and sending all the account of her kindred that she knew or could find. (La Haye, 24 Jan. 1665.) 657—662, 663—6.
- The directions of these quarto letters are lost: the former only is dated.
183. "A new Ballad, made of a high and mighty controversy between two Cheshire Knights. Two famous wights, both Cheshire knights, Thomas yclep't and Petre." (16 st. of 4.) 667—669.
- The subject of this witty song, is the controversy between Sir Tho. Mainwaring and Sir Peter Leicester, about the legitimacy of Amicia, daughter of Hugh Earl of Chester. The titles of their books are collected in Moule's Bibl. Heraldica, p. 187—192. See also art. 185. This is a fair copy by the same hand as art. 76—7. An other, by Ashmole, is in No. 860, p. 273—4.
184. Analytical abstract of a commission under the great seal, to collect money for the rebuilding of the Herald's College. (6 Dec. 23 Car. II.) 671.
- A printed broad-side. A copy of this patent is in No. 845, f. 141.
185. Animadversions by Sir THO. MAINWARING* on some parts of Sir Peter Leicester's book. 673—5.
- * His handwriting is proved by his letter, now in No. 1764, which was found loose in this volume.
186. Descent of Ralph Kempe from Eustace, brother of Sir Tho. White, (founder of S. John's College); and two descents from Edmond Hutchins of Dumbleton co. Glouc. father of the said Eustace's wife. 677.
- "Extracted [by ASHMOLE] from an ind're of 14 Oct. a^o. 16. Jac. R. and articles of agreem^t dated 17 Oct. 1640. sent up by Deborah Kempe."
187. Pedigree of Wilkinson, drawn up by THOMAS WILKINSON of Laurence [Waltham], clerk. 679.
- This and the four following articles are original papers given to Ashmole at his Visitation of Berkshire in 1665—6. Compare No. 851, p. 231.
188. An account of his own descent, written by WALTER HUNGERFORD, D. D. rector of Buscot: with an impression of his seal of arms. 681.
- Compare No. 851, p. 116: and see notices of this person in Sir Richard Colt Hoare's Hungerfordiana, p. 21 and 86.
189. "Berk. ss. HANYBAL BASKERVILLE of Bayworth in the said county esq^t. offereth to Elias Ashmole esq^t. Windsor Herauld att armes, his descent as followeth." 683.
- Compare No. 851, p. 64.
190. "Berckes. The 21 of March 1664[-5]. The pedegree of CHARLES FETTIPLACE of Lambourne gent. or esq^t. soe styled by the Kinges maiestyes commission for the peace. etc." drawn up narratively, and signed by himself. 687.
- Compare No. 851, p. 146.
191. Descent of "Pusey, alias Pesey; of Pusey, alias Pesey. March y^e 17th —64. Friday." 689.
- The paper thus indorsed, is subscribed with the following note by Ashmole—"This paper was delivered in to me at Farringdon 18 Mar. 1664. by Mr; Joseph Hill minister of Hinton, and sent from Mrs; Martha Pusey grandmother to Richard the youngest of the three Richards." Compare No. 851, p. 83.
192. Draught of a large pedigree of Mainwaring of Cheshire, 1663, by ASHMOLB. 691.
- On the back of this open sheet are also written by him, some—
- Curious notes from the evidences of the same family. 692.
193. Arms and pedigree of the family of Bird: "Ex lib. Visitac: com: pal: Cestriae a^o. 1613. fol. 77." 693.
- The reference only is by Ashmole's hand.
194. Eight descents from "Alphonsus, Joh^{is} I. Portugallia et Algarbiae regis f: ex Agnete nobili femina. Comes Barcellensis post Dux Brigantiae 1442." 695.
- "This John married Philippa daughter to Jo: Duke of Lanc." Written by ASHMOLB.
195. "An exact genealogicall line of y^e family of the Talbots of Bafhall, drawne out of their owne evidences, records, and other writings of undoubted veritie. Composed by Mr. R. DODSWORTH in anno 1653." 697.
- This pedigree is brought down to 1657, and is illustrated with a shield of 16 quarterings, and abstracted copies of four antient charters. It is a folio page, printed from a copper-plate neatly engraved.
196. Pedigree certified by George Mainwaringe of Namptwich, at "Namptwich 11 Sept. 1663," in the Visitation of Cheshire: with the arms as then assigned to him; and descents of Minshall extracted "Ex lib. Visit: de com' Cestr. a^o 1613, fo. 67 et fo. 68. b." 699.
- Compare No. 846, f. 41^b—2.
- Pedigree and arms of Manwaring of Pever, copied "Out of Cheshire Visit: taken a^o. 1613. fo: 66." 700.

Pedigree (with arms) certified by Sir Thomas Mainwaring of Pever, baronet, at "Nantwich 11 Sept: 1663," in the Vis. of Cheshire. 701.

Pedigree (with arms as then allowed, and quarterings) certified by Henry Manwaring* at "Malesfielde 17 Sept: 1663," in the Vis. of Cheshire. 702.

* Whose eldest aunt was "Elianor wife to Elias Ashmole of the Middle Temple esq^r Windsor Herald at armes."

197. Pedigree* certified by Charles Manwaring of Croxton; "Ex libro Visit: com' Cestr: a^o. 1613. fo: 58." Also the marriages and issue of John Davenport of Davenport, "Ex eod. lib. fol. 57. b." 703.

* "Noe coate entred in the Visitacōn booke."

Pedigree* of Manwaring of Carineham: "Ex libro Visit: com: pal: Cestr. a^o 1613. fo. 44. b." 704.

* "Note the armes of this family are not entred in the afores^d visitacōn."

Pedigree (with arms) certified by Georg Manwaring of Calveley: "Out of the Visitacōn booke of Cheshire a^o: 1613. fol. 12. b." 705.

Pedigree (with arms) certified by Thomas, Mathew, and an other Mat. Mainwaring, in 1613: "Ex eod. lib. Visit: fol: 66. b." 706.

The two sheets containing the pedigrees of various branches of this extensive family, were written by ASHMOLE, who has imitated the signatures. Dugdale's pedigree of the same name, and two other papers, were found loose here, and are now fixed in No. 1764.

198. Pedigree of Sir Tho. Holcroft* of the Vale Royal, 1613. 707.

* It is curious that the son of his first wife married the daughter of his second wife. This is a fairer copy than the following, which are both by Ashmole's hand.

199. Pedigree of Holcroft, copied from the "Visitacōn of Cheshire a^o 1613. fo: 19." 711.

Pedigree of Delves, copied from "Old Descents* Lib. D. 3. fo: 18." 709.

* MS. in the Office of Arms. The two leaves of this sheet are transposed.

200. Pedigree showing three descents from the first, and two from the second wife of Sir Richard Bulkley of Beaumaris. 713.

Written in roundles by ASHMOLE, on a folding paper.

201. Pedigree showing the descent of "Samuell Beck the petitioner," great-great-grandson of Thomas Nevill, who was brother of Richard the second, and grandson of George the first Lord Latimer of the second barony of Latimer. 715.

Written by ASHMOLE.

202. Henrici Principis Walliæ titulus, e charta antiqua. 717.

The beginning and end of a charter of Henry V. when Prince, dated at Caernarvon, 18 Dec. in the ninth year of his principality; with a hasty sketch of the seal: by an old hand.

203. Warrant of Charles II. "To the Kings, Heralds, and Pursuivants at arms," to proclaim the royal declaration against the States General. (Whitehall, 27 Mar. 1672.) 719.

A fair copy in Ashmole's hand.

204. The Arms of the Royal Society, with this motto—Rerum cognoscere causas. 723.

Very neatly tricked. See the blazon of it, extracted from the Society's Charter, in No. 845, f. 150.

205. References to "Matters historiceall in bookes in y^e Herauld's Office:" noted by DUGDALE. 725—730.

The first page (which is thus headed) ought to follow p. 730, which is the end of the former of these two sheets: they are part of the rough notes (from the MSS. marked L. 1—17, M. 1—14) which were afterward posted by Dugdale into his MS. 11 (or F. 1), f. 131—2^b.

206. Pedigree showing the descent of the office of Earl Marshal, from William Mareschall Earl of Pembroke (ob. 1219), to George Earl of Shrewsbury, and from Thomas de Brotherton to Thomas Duke of Norfolk: by GLOVER. 733.

Neatly written on one side of an open sheet of paper. On the back is the draught of a—Letter from ROBERT GLOVER "To the Lord Talbot," on the subject of the foregoing pedigree. (Blore, 2 Aug. 1583.) 734.

207. "Wells pedigree, taken from y^e Lady Mounes* relacōn" by ASHMOLE. 735.

* Katherin, eldest dau. of Gilbert Wells, whose great-grandfather (of the same name) is the ancestor in this ped. and is said to have "sold the manor of Wells in com' Somerset." It is written with ink over the first pencilled notes, and thus indorsed.

208. Descents of John Seborne of Sutton, and Sibill Monyngton his wife, of Herefordshire: by ASHMOLE. 737.

Written on an open sheet, indorsed "The descent of Monyngton etc."

209. GLOVER's note that Richard Nevill esq. cousin of John last Lord Latymer, might after his death* bear his arms without a difference, as well as the baron's coheirs. 739.

* Without issue male, in 1577. Here is also a short explanatory pedigree.

210. Two descents from Thomas Ifley, and his wife Elizabeth daughter of Sir Rich. Guylforde K. G. 741.

By an old hand, in roundles.

211. Pedigree of Fossard and Gaunt united in Petrus de Malo-lacu; showing the coheirs of the seventh baron of this name: by GLOVER. 743.

Written on a long piece of paper torn off an open sheet on which a pedigree of the Howards had been written. On the lower part of the back is neatly tricked—

A coat of arms (quarterly or and gules, a bend gules) with helm and crest. 744.

212. GLOVER's pedigree of the Barons Grey of Wilton, to Lord Arthur Grey, K. G. 1572. 745.

213. "The eyers descended from Sir Wylliam Brandon knyght, grandfather unto Charlys the fyrst dewke of Suff. of that name." 747.

This pedigree is written vertically by an old hand on an open sheet, one corner of which is torn off. On the back are written—

Various descents of the family of Hussy, with arms blazoned. 748.

214. Fragment of a pedigree showing the bastard descent and bastard issue of bishop Bonner, with satirical verses. 749—50.

One leaf of a sheet: it seems to be the original draught. There is a ped. of this kind in the Cottonian MS. Tiberius E viii. f. 213^b.

215. Pedigree of Bostock of Kinderton (with Dutton, Venables, and Audeley) and the Burgundian family of Count de la Roche, Marques de la Vecr. 751.

Written on an open sheet by an old hand.

216. "Notes of y^e perdegre of y^e Gowldfordes of Kente." 753.

Of this narrative pedigree, written in a hand of the time of Q. Eliz., the lower corner is torn off.

217. Draught of a pedigree of Middelton (by Charles Middelton?) corrected by Glover. 755. Three coats of quartered arms; among which are named those of Martyndall, Crakenthorpe, Lancaster, and Hedlam; by GLOVER. 755.

On the back of this leaf are noted by GLOVER—

The names of the "4 wardas episcopatus Dunelmensis," and their bailifs. 756.

The arms of Blakeston blazoned, and of Surteys tricked. 756.

Note of the consecration (2 Mar. 3 Eliz.), parentage, and issue of James Pylkynton Bishop of Durham. 756.

218. "Notes for Stapleton;" collected from various records. 757—8.

An open sheet written on both sides, in an office-hand. The next is by the same hand, being a sheet folded across the middle into two long and narrow leaves. The titles are by an other hand.

219. Extracts from records relating to "Stapletones dessent." 759—60, 762.

220. "Lane's pedigree;" or the descent of Will. Lane of Glendon co. Northampt. (ob. 1637) from Sir Will. Parre, K. G. 763.

Fairly written on an open sheet of paper; indorsed by Ashmole; who wrote the next article.

221. Pedigree (with arms) certified by Richard Lane in 1618, at the Visitation of Northamptonshire. 765.

From the original MS. "C. 14. p. 84. b."

222. A noate of such speciall Bookes of Mr. Somersettes as were sould to Mr. Secretary" Walsingham. 767—8.

This (the last sheet in this large volume) is a copy by Ashmole, of a curious list of Glover's own MSS.; of which those marked ✕ are in this collection.

No. 837.

A folio volume, consisting of many MS. books and papers of various sizes, and written by different hands, bound together. The first consists of 99 leaves, including the first leaf which is unnumbered.

I. 1. Excerpta copiosa "Ex libro NICHOLAI UPTON de re militari, dedicato Humfrido Duci Glowc. et de insignibus et armis." f. 1—78^b.

Copied, and the arms tricked, from a MS. in the time of Elizabeth; before the publication of this author. The next art. is by the same hand.

2. "Observationes quædam ex CASSANEO desumptæ." 79—85.

Some Latin notes on heraldic subjects are written on the first page (1^a) and ff. 86^a, 89^a, among 11 blank pages at the end.

II. "Jura et debita et largitas appertinencia de antiqua consuetudine armorum officialibus secundum morem et consuetudinem Anglie. Et primo dum coronatur Rex." 91—4^b.

These four leaves of stout old paper were fairly written about the time of Henry VII. The last words are—"aut ex eo qui officium recepit. Nunc finem feci penitet me si male scripsi Nunc finem feci da michi quod merui." The following note is subscribed—"Bought of ould Mr Bettes amongst other things, 1603. N. C. Nich' Charles, Lancaster, 1609."

III. "De origine, antiquitate et differentiis Armorum sive Insigniorum, ROBERTI GLOVERI alias Somerset facialis regii, observationes aliquot." 96^a, (pp. 22) 97—107^b.

This MS. consists of 14 leaves cropt at the bottom; the first (f. 95) is dirty, and contains only some accounts of money; the last (f. 108) is blank. It seems to have been transcribed by Nich. Charles, Lancaster Herald, in a neat hand not unlike Glover's or Vincent's. The original MS. of this curious tract, containing also the illustrations fairly tricked and painted, is in the collection of Charles George Young, esq. York Herald.

IV. 1. The names and Arms of the Earles, Barons, and Gentry of the county palatine of Chester, copied by Ashmole from a MS. subscribed by "WYLLAM FLOWER alias Norrey Roy darmes" and "R. GLOVER Somersett." 110—124^b.

Probably the Visitation made in 1580. The two first pages are thus headed—"Comites Palatini Cestriæ post conquestum magni regis Will^mi Conquestoris," and "Baronagium Cestriæ tempore Hugonis primi" comitis. The arms are tricked.

2. Pedigree of the antient Earls of Cheshire, with their arms. 125—6.

Composed in 1605, as it appears from a note stating that Sir Will. Brereton, descended from one branch, was then living. It is in Ashmole's hand. Added to this MS. is a sheet (formerly loose) half of the first page of which was written by Ashmole, and the rest by the same hand as No. 826, art. 140.

3. Comitum Cestrensiu stemma, ab Herlewino diductum. 127^a.

"Copia concordia [sic] per me Henry Overton."

"The Pedegre of Normannus," showing the descent of the families of Arderne and Mounthalt: with notes from records about Hawarden in Flintshire. 128.

Chronological notes of the "Pedegre of the Earles of Chester."* 128^b.

* These words, written on the lower half of the fourth page, seem to be the indorsement of this sheet.

V. "The manner of the first cominge into the tilyard, of the most high and mighty prince Charles Prince of Wales, sonne and heir apparent of our sovereign lo. Kinge James, on friday the xxiiijth of March 1619; which was in the most princely and royall manner that had bene sene many yeares before." 129—132.

An original paper, with notes and corrections by one of the Heralds. This art. is recorded in the Heralds' MS. M. 3. f. 1—3^b: see No. 835, p. 59.

VI. 1. "The manner of ordering of every man at y^e setting forth of the cors, and how every man shall goe, after y^e estate and degree that they bee of, in dew order. First. The orders of Freres." 133.

"The manner att the offering att the interment of noble men. First in y^e morning betymes Masse of our Lady." 135.

"The nombre of morners after y^e degree of the defunct." 137^b.

"Sytyng of noblemen." 137^b.

"Liveryes for noblemen att interyments, every man accordyng to his eastat." 138.

"Feez appertayning to y^e officers att armys." 138^b—9.

2. "The orther of the creation of the Lordy Henry Fitz Roy to bee created Erle of Notingham." (18 June, 1525.) 141.

"The order and manner of the creation of the Earle of Nottingam to bee created Duke of Rychmond and Duke of Somcset." 144.

"Item for the creation of the Marquis of Excester the wych was Therle of Devonsh^r." 145^b.

"The creation of the Erle of Lyngcolne sonn and heyre of Charlys Duc of Suffolke." 146^b.

"The creation of the Lord Ros to be Erle of Rutland." 147^b.

"The creation of the Lo: Cleford to bee creatyd E: of Westm^rland." 147^b.

3. "The creacōns of the Duke of Suffolk, the Duke of Northumberland, the Marquesse of Winchester, and the Erle of Penbroke, on sonday being the xjth: of October att the Kings Mat^{es} manour of Hampton Court, A^o Dⁿⁱ MDli." 148—9^b.

4. Observations on the manner of "The creation of the Marquis of Exceter being before E. of Devonsh^r," Henry Brandon Duke of Suffolk, the Earl of Rutland, the Earl of Cumberland, and the Viscounts Egremond* and Rocheford. (18 June, 1525.) 153.

* A mistake for Fitzwalter: see the patent of creation in No. 841, p. 469.

5. "A breife for the order of every state att his creation." 154^b—7.

"The creation of a Prince." 155^b.

6. "Officers appoynted to give attendanee to the execution of him that shall give a blow within the Cort of y^e King." 158^a.

* Cutting off the hand.

This MS. consists of 52 pages numbered by Ashmole, many of which are blank: it is written in a large hand, the same as some of the documents in the three volumes of Creations of Peers, No. 841, 832, and 838.

VII. Arguments on a question of Precedency, in the case of Sir John Brooke, to whom the Barony of Cobham was restored. 160^a.

This article begins by stating that "G[eorge] B[rooke] Baron of C. 1^o Jac. was attaynted of treason;" which act was never reversed: but as that George was not Baron Cobham, the anomaly here supposed did not exist, and the patent was really a restoration, not a new creation (as is commonly supposed), Sir John being the only right heir male and second cousin of Henry the ninth and last Baron Cobham, and grandson of George the seventh Baron. The patent of restoration is in No. 832, art. 95. This sheet is paged 53 and 55, from the foregoing MS.

VIII. "The definition of an Esquire, and the severall sortes of them according to the custome and usage of England. An esquire called in Latine armiger." 162^a.

An older copy than that at p. 226.

IX. Excerpta de Thoma Montgomery milite, et aliis commissariis ad Maximilianum Archid. Austriae missis, etc. "Ex Rotulis Francie A^o. 2 Ric. iij^o." 164^a.

X. Abstract of an indenture of marriage* dated 12 Nov. 16 Edw. IV.; and copy of "an acquittance made by [Ric. Enderbie] the shirif of the countyes of Beddford and Buck. [proving] that the said marriage was hadd and solempnized;" in Latin. (10 Aug. 20 Edw. IV.) 166^a.

* "A note taken out of the indenture made betweene Thomas Hampden esquier and Elizabeth Sidney, in consideracōn of a marriage to be had between John Hampden sonne and heyre apparante of the said Thomas, and Elizabeth Sidney one of the daughters and coheires of Will^m Sidney esquier and the said Elizabeth beforenamed." Indorsement of this sheet (167^b) which is written in an old office-hand.

XI. "Inquisicio capta in plena curia de Knaresbroughe die mercurij in festo s^ci Edmundi regis, anno regni regis Edwardi filij Henrici, secundo, coram D^{no} Will^{mo} de Vaus tunc seneschallo cur^e de Knaresbroughe, de ballivia et custodia Henrici de Screvin* de forestaria foreste et parcorum de Knaresbroughe." (20 Nov. 1273.) 168^a.

* Filii et hæredis Thomæ de Screvin, fratris Baldwini, filii Henrici, filii Baldwini, filii Gamelli qui "habuit balliviam et custodiam foreste et parcorum de K. tempore a quo non extat memoria."

XII. "What be the evidences whearof I have sent upp coppies." 170^a.

The sheet thus indorsed contains only the titles of (1) a charter of W. de Stutevill to the third person in the foregoing descents, (2) the foregoing article, (3) a pleading in the Exch. 30 Edw. 1., and this note—"Slingeshie married the heyre of Screven tempore Edw: 3."

*XIII. "The case of y^e Ladie Anne Clifford concerninge the hono^{rs} of Clifford, Westmerland, and Vesey. 1606." 172^b, 173^a.

This fairly written sheet is indorsed on 172^a: part of the blank paper of the first leaf is torn off.

XIV. Note of "The petigree* of dame Isabell de Fortibus," and of her selling of her inheritance to Edw. I.; also that the charter of the town of Newport was first confirmed (after her) by Edw. III. 174^a.

* In the indorsement of this sheet the words and armes are here added, but improperly so.

*XV. 1. An account of the issue of Margaret, Elyenor, and Elizabeth, daughters of Richard Beauchamp Earl of Warwick, by his first wife Eliz. Berkeley. 176^a.

2. A statement of the descent and kindred of the said Earl; showing "the seid fyrst iij doughters to sir Rych^d Becham and the seid Anne to be holle heyres to the said Rych^d Becham." 176^b—177.

3. "Here foloweth the tyme of the byrthe of the [fifteen] chyldren of Rych^d Nevell knight Lord Latymer." 177^b.

This sheet is closely written in a hand of the time of Q. Elizabeth. Over the top is the signature of "Rychemond Herolde." (176^a.) The third article has been published by Dr. Baudinell, in the Collectanea Topographica, (June, 1834,) II. 174.

*XVI. Historiola foundationis monasterii beatae Mariae Vallis Dore, per dominum Robertum le Ewyas, qui dedit terram Blanckebarlesalle vocatam, etc. Anno Domini Millesimo centesimo quadragesimo nono. 178^a.

A narrow leaf written downward, in a good hand of the time of Henry VII. or VIII. Unknown to Dugdale and Tanner.

*XVII. "Ce sont les noms des princes, prellatz, et grans seigneurs de France, qui estoient en la compaignie de Roy de France quant le Roy [Henry VIII.] Dengleterre et led' s^r le Roy [Francois] sentrevyrent et ordonnerent les Joustes et Tournoyz qui sensuyvent." 179^{ba}.

This fragment is one leaf written in a French hand of the time: the second page is put first. Prefixed to the title is one stanza of 5 lines, inviting to the jousts.

XVIII. "The names of all soche noble men as comethe in w^t the prince. The Duke of Atva," and thirteen others. 180^a.

Ending thus—"Princes iij, m^rquesces iij, erles vj, lordes ij." Written in the time of Q. Mary?

XIX. "2^o Re Marie. A note of graunte of the honors of Heref^e and Glouc^e unto the L. Stafford." 181^a.

The sheet thus indorsed (182^b) contains a contemporary extract (fairly written) from a survey recorded "Termino Hillarij anno xiiij^{to} d^{ne} E. Regine."

XX. A list of certain Ministers of state, Noblemen, Knights, Gentlemen, and Officers of arms, with the number of their attendants; in the time of Edw. VI. 183^{ab}.

The first is—"Mons^r le Marquis [de Northampton?]-gentilzhomes xxiiij, serviteurs xxxij. The occasion was most probably the same as that mentioned in art. xxix.

XXI. "These persones here underwrytten beinge one the Kinges part the playntyff, and the other w^t therle of Rutland defendant, dyd run at y^e ryngc iijj course every man, at w^{ch} tyme none toke the ryng but only M^r Hayward and M^r Constable beinge w^t the defendant," etc. 185^a.

* The Marquis of Northampton and others, 14 on each side. This sheet seems to have been written by Sir GILBERT DETHICK Garter King of arms. On the second page is a—

Note of the election of Lord Darcy of Chiche, K. G. at a chapter holden at Hampton court, "A^o rr^e E. vj^{ti} quinto." And of his installation 9 Oct. 185^b.

XXII. Copious abstracts of antient Charters and Evidences of the family of SYDNEY; in Latin. 187—191.

These three sheets contain the original draught, closely written (except the 3 last pages which are blank) in the time of Q. Eliz. evidently for a genealogical purpose. At the foot of 190^a is this note—"Hitherto y^e same evydence and more then ys here abridged."

XXIII. Bill and answer, extracted from the rolls of Parliament, for "The restoringe of the Erle of Oxford, anno 3^o regis Edwardi 4ⁱ." 193^a.

To the indorsement of this sheet Lord Burleigh added—"Except old Rumney et Longport." (194^b.)

XXIV. "Nomina Regum, Principum, et Nobilium qui floruerunt cum Rex Henricus tertius an^o. 1220. ecclesiam Westmonasteriensem restauraret, et quorum Arma ex utraque parte navis eccl[esi]e suis coloribus depinguntur."

In ASHMOLE'S hand, as also the note on following sheet.

XXV. Note of the King's going to the House of Lords, and passing certain bills there, etc. 20 Dec. 1660. 196^a.

XXVI. "The Office of y^e Marshall. The maner, and usage of Gilbert de Strogile, Marshall of England, in what manner he occupied and used the s^d rome and office in all his tyme, and how he was admitted holden taken and regarded in executing of his office at y^e Coronæon of King Henry y^e second," etc. 198^{ab}.

The first leaf of an unfinished transcript by Ashmole.

*XXVII. Petition to King Charles II. for the creation of an order of Esquires, by Patent. 199^a.

The petitioner (whose name is not set down) requested the sole privilege of ingrossing, suing forth, and issuing the creations, and of getting them recorded in the Office of Arms. This article is written by Ashmole's hand, but not the next, the design of which is somewhat different.

*XXVIII. Petition to King Charles II. requesting him "to create an order of Esq^{rs} of England to be styled Esq^{rs} of the Marter'd Kinge:" with the King's answer thereunto, and the proposed "Mottos" of the order. 201^{ab}.

"The Order of the Nobility, and other degrees of states in England, as they were sett, distinguished, and raneke in the tyme and raigne of Kinge Henry eight." 202^a.

This sheet is indorsed by the same hand, thus—"JOHN EGERTON'S paper to be considered off." A transcript of the whole by Ashmole, is in No. 840, art. 27.

XXIX. Petition of Sir GILBERT DETHICK, Garter, "To the right honorable lordes and others of the Quenes Ma^{tes} pryvie Counsell," for the full payment of his expenses in going with the Marq. of Northampton to take the order of the garter to the French King, three years before. 203^a.

The original draught; compare art. xx.

*XXX. "The Quenes Ma^{tes} progresse from her manoir of Rychemonde to Wynchestre to her maryage, anno primo 1554." 205—6.

This sheet is a rough draught seemingly by the hand of Sir GILB. DETHICK: it is much torn, and is indorsed thus—"Mar[ya]ge and prog[re]sse of qu[en]e Marye [15]54."

XXXI. Description of the order of estates present at a Coronation-feast. 207^a.

Probably that of Henry VIII.; this half-page being written in a contemporary hand. The leaf is torn and scribbled on.

XXXII. "Modus attinetur' Edwardi nuper Ducis Bukk." [1521.] 208^{ab}.

The sheet so indorsed (by the same hand) is a fragment of a narrative of the trial, containing the sentence, etc.: on the second page is a note that the same forms were used in the trial of William Lord Dacre of the north, 26 Hen. VIII. (1534) which shows that this paper was written many years after the former event, though the writer says that he set down these particulars from memory. It is written in a large old hand.

*XXXIII. Literæ ad Thes. et Barones Scaccarii, quod feoda Marescalli ad coronam spectantia per mortem Thomæ Comitis Norf. ex eis capiantur qui per baroniam tenent, juxta statutum Westm. secundum. (9 Majj 1347.) 210^{ab}.

An office-copy headed thus—"In Rotulo Clausorum de anno xxj^o R. Edov. Tercij:" and shortly indorsed by Lord Burleigh.

XXXIV. A short account of the "Barons in Cheshire" from the conquest, and the constitution and jurisdiction of that Earldom. 212^{ab}.

This sheet is written and indorsed by ASHMOLE: it seems to have been translated from Camden.

XXXV. ASHMOLE's narrative of the marriage of Lord Darcy and the daughter of the Dutchess of Cleveland, at "Hampton Court, 11 Aug. 1674." 214^a.

* And of Charles II. who took a leading part herein.

XXXVI. "The draught of the opinion of the Kings Herald's etc. for the place of the Barbarurgeons." 216^a.

The sheet thus indorsed contains their decision of a controversy with the company of Tallow-chandlers, about the right of being the seventeenth company of the city of London.

XXXVII. "The placinge of the Ladies accordinge to their auncenty* T'attende uppon the Quene's Ma^{ty} after thorse of estate." 218—9.

* Thus far the indorsement, the rest of this title is the heading of this original draught.

XXXVIII. Curious extracts "Transcribed from a MS: in 4to: in the hands of the Earle of Anlesey: Apr. 1673:" namely—

Fol. 62^b. "A draught of Sr W^m DETHICK's alias Garter King of arms, touching preceedence." 220.

Fol. 117^b. "A warrant for dyets to be allowed to such Officers of armes* as are appointed to attend the person of the King in his Progresse." Dated .. July, anno 6. [1552.] 221^b.

* Garter (Sir Gilb. Dethick), Clarencieux, Ulster, Somerset herald, and Rouge-dragon poursuivant.

— 21^a. "Wages in the time of warre, to the Officers of armes." 222.

— 29^a. "The sises of banners of the Knights of the Garter at Windsore." 222.

— 52^b. "The signification and meaning of every peec of Armory that belongeth to a Knight, and the cause of bearing the same, and wherefore he doth it." 222^b.

— 55^b. "Att a Chapter holden at Bratherers hall in London, the forthe yeere of queene Elizabeth, yt was agreed uppon as followeth," concerning the arms of women, and "A baron by wryte" not being a Lord of Parliament. 224.

See also No. 858, p. 297.

— 57^b. Four "Question[s] of the priviledges of estates:" with answers. 224^b.

— 59^b. "The challenge for beringe another gentlemans coat of armes;" when lawfully made. 226.

— 108^a. "The definition of an Esq^r: and the severall sortes of them according to the custome and yeuse of England." 226.

Same as art. viii.

— 61^b. "Rewards accustomed to bee geven out of the chamber of London at every solemne proclamation." 227.

Printed in the Retrospective Review, (Dec. 1827) N. S. vol. I. p. 341—2.

— 61^b. "Question" and "Aunswear" about the descent of a baron's title to his coheirs. 227^b.

These 8 leaves are fairly written (within ruled margins) by the same hand as No. 836. art. 76—7, corrected in some places by Ashmole, who has noted the references. A large account of the contents of the MS. whence these extracts were made, is in No. 835, iii.

XXXIX. Letter from EDMUND BOLTON to Garter and the other Officers of arms, concerning his own literary works and designs for the advancement of honor and heraldry. (26 Mar. 1631.) 228—9^b.

Very neatly written. Communicated unto Mr. Urban, 17 May, 1832, and printed in the Gentleman's Magazine, vol. CII. part i. p. 499—501.

XL. Description of various kinds of crosses, "Collected from Mr: GIBBON's* Introduction to Latine Blason." 230—8.

* "In wch he hath endeavoured a more correct Latine Blason, then any of our ancient English M^{rs} hath afforded us." These 15 pages are fairly written by Ashmole.

XLI. Farther extracts from the same book, written by ASHMOLE. 239—240.

The first leaf of one sheet, and the first page of another.

XLII. Indenture tripartite between Lancelot Bishop of Chichester (late Dean), and Dr. Richard Neile, Dean of Westminster, concerning the delivery of the Regalia; with a list thereof, and an account of their defects. (17 Dec. 3 Jac. I.) 243^{ab}.

Fairly transcribed, by Ashmole? (on a sheet of paper with ruled margins.) "Ex ipso autogr: penes Edwardum Walker eq: aur: Garter Regem armorum 7^o: Junij a^o: 1661." Another copy is in No. 863, art. 28.

XLIII. The Challenge of four Knights errant*, against all comers, at the tilt, tourney, and barriours; addressed unto the Queen for permission to perform the same. 245.

* The Earl of Oxford, Charles Howard, Sir Henry Lee, and Sir Chr. Hatton; as it appears on the back of this paper (which is written by GLOVER) in a—

Note that the said challenge was proclaimed by Clarendieux, on twelfth-night, 1570; and that the exercises were performed on 1, 2, and 6 May. 245^b.

Written invertedly by another hand. Other papers relating to the same affair are in No. 845, artt. 37, 39.

XLIV. "The order and manner of service to be performed in the chappell at the Christning of the high and mighty Prince of Wales."* 246—247.

* Afterward King Charles II. This is an original paper. Another copy is in Wood's MS. 33, art. 11, f. 54.

XLV. "A relacōn of the particularities of the Cristeninge of the Prince of Spayne, [29 May,] borne in Valadolid upon good fryday 8 of Aprill, at 49 mynutes of the eveninge, Anno 1605. Translated out of the Spanishe coppie." 248^{ab}, 260^{ab}.

Written by a contemporary hand. F. 249 is the blank leaf of the inner sheet wrongly put first.

XLVI. "A list of the Emb^{rs}: and publicq Ministers that were present at the Kings Coronation in a place prepared for them." 252^a.

An original paper subscribed with this note by ASHMOLÉ—"Received from Sr CHARLES COTTRILL Mr: of the ceremonies, in Dec: 1661." The next sheet is written by the same hand.

XLVII. "Gent' of the Privy Chamber ranked by the Lo: Chamberlayn, and appointed to attend at the Coronacōn of King Charles the second." 254^{ab}.

The sheet thus indorsed by Ashmole, contains a list of the gentlemen in waiting for the four quarters of the year, and a copy of an order by the Earl of Manchester that they should so ride next to the King; dated Whitehall, 20 Apr. 1661.

XLVIII. "Tables to be prepared in Westm' hall for the day of his Mat^{ies}: Inauguracōn." 256^a.
"Dyetts served to the Kings Mat^{ie}. at his Coronacōn Apr: y^e 23: at Westm' hall dinner Anno 1661." 256^b.

This sheet is written by ASHMOLÉ, as also the next article.

XLIX. "The manner of making those Knights of the Bath as are to be honoured with that dignity, the ceremony whereof is to begin the 18th day of Aprill 1661, preceding the Coronacōn of King Charles the 2^d, which is to bee solemnized on the 23^d of the same moneth of Aprill Anno 1661." 258—260^b.

L. "A Catalogue of the principall Gentry now living in the County of BERKS. An^o: 1665," made by ELIAS ASHMOLÉ, esq. Windsor Herald, at the time of his Visitation thereof. 262^b, 263—272^b.

"The first colūme shewes the Places where they dwell. The 2^d: the names of the Gentlemen themselves. The 3^d: of their Wives. The 4th of their Heires." This is a thin book consisting of 12 leaves in large quarto, whereof the first and two last are blank. The record of the Visitation is in No. 851.

No. 838.

A folio volume of fair paper, with ruled margins; the first 8 leaves, and the latter half of which, are blank. It is more fairly and uniformly written than the two other volumes of this collection, No. 841, and 832.

Creations of Peers, "Tempore Regis CAROLI secundi;" being the third volume of Peers' Patents, collected by ELIAS ASHMOLÉ esq. Windsor Herald. (pp. 202.)

82 blank leaves follow, all ruled with red lines as the foregoing.

No. 839.

Of the two MSS. forming this folio volume, the former consisted of 86 leaves (numbered by the writer) whereof the first is lost, the second (which is dated "1572") and the three following leaves are vacant, as are some others in this book. The writing and drawing is, as may be expected from Glover, remarkably neat.

- I. I. GLOVER's transcript of the historical, genealogical, and heraldic Roll of the Earls of Warwick, containing the arms and descents of various British and English kings and nobles (down to Edward Prince of Wales, son of Richard III.) compiled by JOHN ROUS of Warwick. f. 8-31.

On the first page is drawn a large shield of the "Arma Warwici" hanging on the stock of a tree supported by a bear; and it thus headed—"This roll was laboured and finished by Mr John Rows of Warrewyke." The three last pages contain 55 shields of arms, real and fictitious; with this subscription—"The resydue of the Armes contyned in the roll of the Erles of Warwyke, do follow after the Latyne story of the said Erles, here next ensuege this leaf." But Glover's purpose of completing this, was never fulfilled.

2. "Genealogia Comitum Warwici fidedigna: quæ fuit "Additio Cronicæ Winton' per fratrem THOMAM REDBURN monachum sancti Swithini Winton:" 31^b-2^b.

Inc. Guitelinus in totius Britannia majoris. Exp. Willielmi Poole Ducis Suffolcia.

3. Pedigree showing various descents from "William Longespe Erle of Salisbury" through Sir W. Beauchamp: and a note of the heirs of the latter person, from the "Claus. anno 6 E. primi." 35^b.
4. Stemma vetustum, Comitum Warwicensium genealogiam et historiam docens, ab Arehegallo Consule Warwici sub rege Arthuro, ad Ricardum Nevill tempore Edw. IV. 36-8.
5. Descent of eleven Earls of Warwick from Walter Beauchamp to Henry Beauchamp (ob. 1446,) "Ex rotulo antiquo in pargameno." 38^b-9.
6. The names of various Monasteries in England, and of their Founders. 44-53.

Here originally began a different book, this article being foliated 1-10.

7. Notes of three "Charter howses" and their Founders. 54^a.
8. Notes of the Founders of the monasteries of Meuse (or Melsa) and Pontfret; with their arms. 54^b.
9. Historiola Edmundi, Thomæ, atque Henrici, successive Comitum Lancastriæ, e quodam chronico sub anno 1229. 54^b.
10. "De duello inter Johannem Anneslee militem et Thomam Katryngton armigerum, anno 1380: ex Historia THOMÆ WALSHINGHAM." 55^{ab}.
11. ROBERTI GLOVERI liber collectaneorum "De fundatione Cœnobiorum diversorum in Anglia." 58-63, 64-71^b.

These collectanea were written at different times: the first 3 leaves are best written, and are said (in a very short preface) to have been compiled out of Beda and William of Malmesbury.

12. "The names of the Abbayes and Pryories of England, Walles, and Cornwall:" in three alphabetical catalogues, showing their founders and counties. 72—8^b.

13. Notes of the Founders of some English Monasteries and Colleges. 79^{ab}.
14. A catalogue of "All the Abbayes of the Regular Channons in England;" according to the dioceses in which they were. 80—2^b.
15. Nomina Monasteriorum in com. Lincoln. Derb. et Nott. 82^b.

The following article was written by another old hand, on one of the vacant leaves at the end of this MS.

16. "Names of the Cheife Justices of the Kinges Bench ab an. 22^o Ed. 3. usque ad 16. Eliz. and of the Cheife Justices of y^e Comon Pleas from ultim' Ric. 2^d. unto 24 Eliz." 85^a.

The foliation of this MS. has been continued through the second MS. of which the first four leaves (after 4 others inserted by the binder) are blank, f. 95 contains the title and contents, and f. 96 a short apology for the work, which consists of 97 leaves. Its old foliation is referred to below. At the end are 20 blank leaves (ff. 198—219) beside those added by the binder.

No. 840.

A large and thick folio volume, consisting of a multitude of MS. tracts and papers, (both original and transcribed,) bound together to the amount of 815 pages as numbered by ASHMOLE, by whom such articles were written as are here marked with †.

* This part of the work is an abridged transcript of the Rotulus Scotiae de anno 10 Edw. III.: but it is omitted in the other copy, No. 861, art. 3.

1. The places and names of the Officers of arms in the time of the vacancy of Garter; written by GLOVER, Somerset Herald. p. 1.

A sheet thus headed—"¶ The societie and incorporation of the Officers of Armes, consisteth of 13 persons. Whereof three" etc. Of Rougecroix it is noted, "Rauf Brooke, entyled of felony and burnt in y^e hand." The 3 other pages are blank.

2. "A Project of y^e present estate of the Office of Armes consisting of 3 Kings, 6 Heraulds, 4 Pursuyvants." Or a statement of the duties of the officers respectively, and of Garter's usurpations. 5—24.
3. "A consideracōn of the office and dutye of the Herauldes in Englande, drawne out of sundry observations." 29—34.

Ashmole has noted in the margin of this fair transcript, that it was composed "by JOHN DODRIDGE the kings solicitor general, at ye instance of Hen. E: of Northampton, in Aug. 1600." An other copy is in Dugdale's MS. 28, ix. (b), art. 1, f. 333—4^b, and it is printed in Hearne's Collection of Curious Discourses, No. xlvi. p. 163—7, vol. i. ed. 1775, 8vo.

4. A statement of the causes whence "The decay of the Officers of Armes (whereby the whole frame of Herroldry is disjoynted) arriseth." 37—44.

This transcript seems to be in the handwriting of Sir W. Le Neve, Clarencieux. It is a curious and important document, not less applicable to the present times, than to the past.

5. Another copy of the same tract. 45—52.
6. Reasons showing "What benefit to the King, good to the subjects, or contentment to those gentlemen that have had Armes graunted by the Provinciaill Kings of Armes, [would ensue if the same were] to bee revoked, and the power hereafter to graunt Armes under y^e great seale of England, resumed in the King." 53—6.
7. Ordinance of Richard Duke of Gloucester, set forth "For a reformatiōn of abusions used and for a good rule to be had among all the Officers of Armes." 57—9.

"Copied out of a booke of Sr Tho: Cotton's, written in a very ancient hand: where ye words are left out heere, ye leaves are torne." Probably Tiberius E. viii. art. 46, or Faustina E. i. art. 4. These regulations were made by him as High Constable, before his incorporation of the Officers in 1484, when he had become King Richard III.

8. "The greves of the whole Office of Armes ageynst Garter principall Kinge of Armes;" subscribed by Clarencieux and Norroy, and by Richmond, Lancaster, and Carlisle Heralds. 61—68.

In the margin is this note pencilled by Ashmole:—"ex originali in manu HENRICI ST: GEORGE NORROY. Roll [of] paper."

9. "To the hon^{ble}. assembly of the House of Commons, the humble Peticōn of the Kings, Heraulds, and Pursivants of armes;" in favor of their office and corporation; subscribed "JOHN BURROW, Norry." 69—71.

A fair transcript.

10. A discourse on the antient estate and duties of Heralds, in a letter to Lord by FRANCIS THYNNE, Lancaster Herald. 79—92.

Dated "Clarkenwell greene the 3 of Marche 1605. vet[e]ri stilo." See No. 835, iv. Of this very neat transcript, written by Ralph Starkey, one leaf (or more) has been lost at the beginning, and after the first leaf (p. 79—80); and the three leaves which stand first now, ought to follow, (as the catchwords show,) containing—

11. "Reasons to induce your matie: to revoke all those coates of arnes unjustly given by the Officers of Armes since the 10th. yeare of the late Queene Eliz." 73—8.

There is another copy of this article in the Cottonian MS. Faust. C. viii. art. 2. The catchwords which follow ("Causes to be obser-") have no corresponding leaf in this volume.

12. The ceremony of "the creation of [Connake] Oneyle Erle"* of Tyrone, at Greenwich, 1 Oct. 34 Henr. VIII. 93—4.

* So indorsed. There is a similar article in the British MS. 6113, by the same hand, as it seems.

* 13. "The mariage celebrate at the cite of Lipsyck in Mysen, the 24 of August bytwene the Prynce of Orange and the dowght^r of Duke Morys. And also the dutie of the prynees." 95—8.

* 14. "A bref notte of my L. of Beddfords entertaynement into Skottland to the chrystening of theyr yong prynee." 99—101.

* 15. "Pencyons geven by the Kinge [Phillipe*] to the noblemen of England whoes names folowe." 103—5.

* Inserted from the indorsement.

16. Extrait "Ex Rotulo Parlamenti de anno xiiij^o Ricardi secundi" touchant la "Court de Connestable et Marshall." 107.

Directed on the back—"To my verie good frend Mr Somerset in the barbian."

† 17. Excerptum e Rotulis Vasconiae de armis Bernardo Angevin concessis, et de castris dominiis et terris in Basadoiz eidem concessis. (11 Mar. 1445.) 109.

The patent is printed in Rymer's Fœdera, xi. 81, where the words de auro are omitted after "leone" in the blazon of the arms, whereof a tricking is in this place. See also Sir Harris Nicolas's Journal of Bp. Beckington, notes, p. 106.

18. Precedents from the Journals of Parliament "About precedency of the principall Secretary of State:"* written by Sir EDWARD WALKER. 113—4.

* So indorsed on p. 116. The cases examined were those of Sir Rob. Cecil and Sir Edw. Conway.

19. Questions about inheritance in cases of attainer. 117—8.

The second page is written invertedly; it is of the age of Q. Eliz.

† 20. Styles and tytles of the Nobillity of England:" and tytles of their eldest sons. 119—122.

† 21. "Styles of Noble men and others:" and "Dates of lettres" royal. 123.

Same as No. 826, art. 99.

† 22. "Officers attending on noblemen" according to their dignity. 125.

† 23. "Cases of Precedency sentenced as followeth." 127.

† 24. "The placing of greate Officers according to ye acte of Parliament made A^o. 31. H. 8. cap: 10." and the order of "Knights of ye Privy Councell placed as they satt A^o: 1585." 129, 130.

25, 26. Two letters from HENRY BENNET to the Mayor of Bristol, conveying the King's decision as to the precedency of Sir Rob. Can and Sir Rob. Yeoman aldermen of that city. (Whitehall, 29 Feb. and 19 Mar. 166 $\frac{3}{4}$.) 131—2, 135—6.

Fair copies in separate sheets.

† 27. Petition to Charles II. for the institution of "an order of [120] Esquires of England, to be styled Esquires of the Marter'd King." 139—141.

"The order of the nobility and other degrees of states in England, as they were set, distinguished, and ranecked in the tyme and raigne of K. Henry ye eight." 141.

This sheet is a transcript of No. 837, xxviii. by Ashmole.

† 28. "The opinion of Garter and other K^s of armes and Heralds delivered a^o 10 Jac: a^o Dⁿⁱ 1612, touching K^{ts} Banerets ordained by or sov^r L^d K. James." 143.

Probably an extract from one of the Chapter books of the College, by Ashmole.

29. A short account of some families that bore arms or crests alluding to their names; namely, Bourgehier, Beaumont, Stourton, Boughton, and Feilding aliter Hapesburgh. 145—6.

Written in a large old hand.

30. "Extract des chroniques de Vitré chap: 1. et 2. pag: 3 et 4." Relating to the descent of the family of Vitré. 149.

† 31. Impression in wax from a ring given by the Company of Distillers, in 1667, to Mr. King of the Temple; with the blazon of their arms (thereon ingraved) and the inscription. 151.

Done by ASHMOLE; as also an other impression in No. 1138, f. 116.

32. A list of "Knightes made by our soveraign lady quene Elyzabethe" at her Coronation; and by the Duke of Norfolk at Berwick. 153.

This paper is indorsed with the names of Knights created at Fotheringay, Killyngworth, Mr. Lucyes, Rycot, and Bradman; a short account of Alwinns Earl of Warwick, and some heraldic notes. 154.

33. "Knightes made at Barwyke in A^o. 1560, by the highe and mightye prynee Thomas Duke of Norfolk, as folowethe:" also notes of the creation of Sir Owen Hopton, Sir Will. Harper Lord Mayor of London, and Sir Tho. Lodge. (1561—2.) 155.

Blazon of the arms of Layborne of Kent and of Yorkshire, and Farefax; the arms of Lodge and Aston tricked; and the supporters of Lord Ryche and Lord Northe, tricked. 156.

34. A list of "Knights made sithens the 5th of Maye A^o 1583;" to 14 Oct. 1585; with some additions by GLOVER*. 163.

* It had been directed to him as a letter, thus—"To my very [good] friend Mr. Somersett Harauld ye[ve] these." (p. 164.)

36. Names of Knights made at various times in the year 1587; and of six "Knights dubbed by the Erle of Leycester at his embarking at Flushing, on thursday the 7. of December. 1587." 159, 160.

The second page of this leaf was written by GLOVER, as also the title and some of the names in the next article.

36. "Knights dubbed by the Erle of Leycester 1586." 161.

37. "Knights made by Therle of Leccester his excellency in the Lowe Couteries 158" . . . and "Knights made 1587." 163.

By Glover's hand?

38. "Ordre to be taken for the Kinges Mates procedynges through the cite of London as herafter followeth." 165.

†39. "A catalogue of the Nobility of England." 167—170.

Probably made in order to the following procession-list, which is also a long narrow leaf.

†40. "Proceeding through London the day before his Maties: Coronacōn, thus settled by his Matie: 4th March 1660." 171—3.

41. Order of a royal procession through London, in the time of Q. Elizabeth: by GLOVER's hand. 175.

42. Draught of a royal procession, probably at the coronation of James I. 177—198.

The officers of arms named at the end, are—John Phillipott, Somerset; Aug. Vineat, Windsor; H. Chitting, Chester; Henry S. George, Richmond; W. Penson, Lancaster; and Sir Jo. Borough, Norroy. These eleven leaves are stained with dust and damp.

†43. Copy of a circular letter from the Earl of Manchester, Lord Chamberlain, to — "Fausshaw esq^r." requiring him to attend at Westminster on the 18th of April, to be created a Knight of the Bath, in order to the Coronation. (Whitehall, 1 Mar. 1660.) 199.

†44. The Kings order for the form of the creation of Barons and Earls. (20 Apr. 1661.) 201, 203.

†45. "Earles to be* created wth ceremony in the banketting house at White hall upon saterday Apr: 20. 1661. in the afternoone." 205.

* These words are struck through. Ashmole has added that Clarencieux Bissehe was then knighted, and has preserved the names of the noblemen who attended the new peers, p. 206.

†46. The royal orders for fees to be paid by the Knights of the Bath to the officers and servants in waiting; dated 12 Apr. 1661. 207—8.

The original was signed by the Earl of Manchester; and the copy from which this was taken was signed by E. Walker, Garter, and G. Owen, York.

47. A short extract by Sir W. DUGDALE "Out of a discourse in French concerning the autient manner of Combates." 211.

"Ex vet. cod. MS. (temp. R^o II, 6^{tu} ut videtur exarato) penes Senerum Shirley de Staunton-Harold in com' Leic: Baronetum ult: Martij 1663." This passage is not found in No. 764.

48. Certificate that Sir Fred. Cornwalleys was knighted at Whitehall, 2 Dec. 1630, signed by Lord HOLLANDE. 213.

Addressed unto the Earl of Arundel, Earl Marshal, for the purpose of registration.

†49. "Mar. 4. 166 $\frac{2}{3}$. The Kings declaracōn and proclaiming of Warr wth the Dutch, was proclaimed in order foll." 217.

†50. Order of "The Kings proceeding to the chappell in state." 219.

51. Badges of the Dukes of Clarence and Gloucester (afterward Richard III.), and of many of the antient nobility and gentry. 221—4.

A small quarto sheet, written in the time of Henry VIII.; torn and dirty.

52. A Catalogue of the names of many antient English Princes and Nobles, by GLOVER. 225—228.

A corrected draught, seemingly composed with a view to the display of their coat-armor.

53. "The manner of creatinge an Earle:" a short ceremonial. 229.

Neatly written in the time of James or Charles, and thus indorsed on p. 232.

54. "Things fitt to be provided for the creating of the Prince of Wales." 233.

Proposed unto a lord, by one to whom the King had appointed "the following of my Lo: the Prince his affayres;" and indorsed on p. 236.

55. "Thordre of proceeding from the Quenes* Maties palaice at Westm^r to the Cathedrall Church and to the masse of the holly ghoste, the lordes spiruall and temporall in theirⁿ robes?" p. 238—7.

* Mary: the youngest barons being the "Lorde [Williams] of Tame" and "Lorde Northe," who were created in 1554.

†56. The names and blazon of the crest and supporters of 63 Peers; beginning with the "Marques of Winchester," and ending with "Lord Norres." 239—45.

†57. "The blason of severall Kingdomes armes, out of Heylyn's Cosmography, Print: 1658." 247.

58. "Le blason des Armore[s] que des grand seigniores les Countes et Barons del Roialme de Escoce. Le Roy de Escoce, Gould a loyon rampant wth a duple tressure gules flurtey." 251—252.

Ending—Sr de Turtehill gules a plaine crosse ar.

†59. ASHMOLE's references to historical and other curious articles contained in MSS. "In the Office of Armes." 253—7.

†60. Notulæ de quibusdam literis in rotulis Clausarum, temp. Hen. III. et Edw. III. 259.

†61. ASHMOLE'S short narrative of a "Convocacōn called at the Savoy, and [which] in the following order went to Worcester house," to install the Chancellor* of the University of Oxford, 16 Nov. 1660. p. 261.

* Edward Earl of Clarendon: see Wood's Fasti.

62. "The order of the receiving of the Q. Matie into the colledgiat church of Westm' the first day of the Parliament." 263.

This paper of directions was fairly written in the time of Q. Elizabeth.

†63. "The order and manner of furnishing the chapell at the Quenes Palays of Westminster, agaynst thursday the 24th: of January 1565. A^o: 9^o. Eliz: Reginae, that the Duke of Norff: and Erl of Lester received th' ordre of Saint Myghell there." Also "The receiving of the said order of S^r: Mighell, thursday the 24th. of January." 267—8—270.

Copied from an unnamed "MS: fol: 27."

64. "The order for the chappell service at the Coronation." 271.

A short directory written in the time of Charles I.

65. Writ of privy seal, for the passing of a patent writ, to call Thomas Howard of Walden to Parliament. (5 Dec. 40 Eliz.) 275.

A contemporary copy.

†66. Names of 34 "Persons to be invited on the grand day [at the 'Midle Temple'] being tuesday 9 Aug: 1664:" with the names of the four "Stewards* for this occasion." 279—80.

* One was ASHMOLE, by whom this paper was written; and a short notice of the occurrence is in his Diary, p. 40.

†67. Dates of the creation of the Dutchess of Portsmouth, Visc. Latimer, and Visc. Yarmouth, 1673; and blazon of the crest, supporters, and coat of "Ch: Howard Visc: Andover," with a tricking of the last. 281.

Blazon of the coats, crests, and supporters of the Earl of Carlisle, the Earl Marshal, and the Earls of Suffolk and Berkshire; with remarks on the plate of the last named, at Windsor. 283.

†68. Dates of the creation of the Duke of Newcastle and five other Peers, created in March, and of the Earl of Denbigh created baron of St. Liz, 2 Feb. 17 Car. II. 285.

69. "The yeares of the creacōns of the Dukes Marquesses Earles and Viscounts, Charles the first included:" being a paper of the precedency of 79 Peers higher than the rank of baron. 287—290.

70. "The names and titles of his Mat^{es} naturall Sonnes, according to their creations;" also of the daughters of Charles II.; written by Sir EDWARD WALKER. 291.

*71. A short Elogium of Nicholas Wotton in Latin, and another in English; seemingly prepared to be spoken at his funeral. (Ob. 26 Jan. 1566.) 293—4, 299.

An original paper written in a large and free hand: compare art. 73. Indorsed on the fold is a tricking by GLOVER, of the—Arms of the "Daughter to S^r Jeames Leybourn knyght, and wydow of Thomas Lord Dacres of the North, third wyfe to Thomas Duke of Norfolk." 300.

Between the two leaves of this sheet are fixed two small papers, containing the following articles by GLOVER'S hand.

72. 'Bill' of acknowledgement of plate borrowed of the Queen, by Nich. Wotton, Dean of Canterbury and York, to furnish his table when sent into Flanders. (7 Mar. 7 Eliz.) 295.

73. Nich. Wottoni elogium, a Glovero correctum. 297.

An improved copy of art. 71. On the other side are—

Epigramma in Lugduni laudem. Inclyta Lugduni. (4 v.) 298.

Justing-cheque, showing how the spears were broken. ib.

†74. Style and titles "Painted under a lodging scocheon of the D: of Ormond." 1662. p. 301.

†75. Jacobi Ducis de Monmouth titulus. 303.

†76. "S^r Rich: Fanshaw's title set under his coate of armes, for lodging escocheons, upon his journey towards Portugall, Aug. 1662." 305.

†77. "The Inscriptōn at the foote of S^r Rich: Fanshawes lodging scutcheons when he went Ambassador into Spaine." 1663—4. p. 307.

78. "The titles of Charles King of Spaine. 1670." 309.

Written in Spanish: thus indorsed by Ashmole on p. 312.

79. Names of 27 Gentlemen, written by GLOVER on "Fryday the xxixth. of July." 313.

Against those of John Vasy and Robert Claxton is written apparuit; against the latter also, attinct. It seems to relate unto a Visitation. On the other side are—

GLOVERI excerpta e chartis ad familiam de Bowes, ut videtur, spectantibus; cum armis e sigillis calamo depictis. 314.

80. "This byn the charges belongyng to thaym that be made Knyghtes of the Bathe. Furst all the reyment." 316—5.

One leaf, written in the time of Henry VIII., and bound the wrong way.

81. (I.) "Puis que le Roy E. tierce au' purchase de mons' Henr' de Pynkeney le maner de Wedone Pynkeney oue lez feez de Pynkeney et Chokes, le dit Roy E. le tierce par sa chartre dona et graunta to^z lez ditz &c.' a Mons^r Joh'n de Molens et a sez hers a to^z iourz en la fourme que ensuit." 317.

The patent is dated 5 March, anno 14 Edw. III.; and a note is subscribed stating that Edward I. had acquired those manors and fees, by divers writings, ut patet adhuc in Canc.

(2.) "Le Fees D'ni Molens, appell' Pynkeney. Ceux sont lez fedz de Pynkeney en diversez counteez* que[u]x nostre seigneur le Roy a le Roi E. tiercz—purchacea de mons' Henr' de Pynkeney et queux nostre dit seigneur—ad done a mons' Johan de Molyns," etc. 319—320.

* Berks, Northampton, Bedford, Oxon., Somerset, Warwick, Essex, Hertf. The following title is also added.

"Ceux sont lez feez de Dachett en counte souz escriptz." (Berks.) 320.

82. "Excerpta duo ex ordinationibus "Thome Ducis Clarencie Constabularii Angliae," de concessione armorum, etc. 321.

This superscribed by the same old hand, (about the time of Q. Elizabeth)—"In the litell blacke boke wherein ther is conteyned creasons and the statutes of thorder of ye garter."

83. Letter from [Sir JOSEPH] WILLIAMSON to Ashmole, asking his opinion on the subject of the next article. (10 Aug. 1670.) 323, 326.

Original, signed 'Williamson.'

†84. Old precedents collected by ASHMOLÉ "To prove that the Treasurer and Controller of the King's House, not being Barons, have place above Barons' eldest sons." 327—8.

Subscribed with these notes:—"Drawne up 12 Aug: 1670. at Mr. Williamson's request by E. A."—"I sent a copy of this to Sr Edw: Walker 26 Sept. 1670."

†85. The same precedents, unarranged. 331—3.

†86. (1) "Warrant from E. Marsh. to [Sir Edward Walker] Garter, to grant supp." to Anne Vice-countess Bayning of Foxley, (16 April, 1674.) 335.

(2) ASHMOLÉ's severe "Observations upon the Earle Marshalls warrants for granting of supporters." 336—7.

†87. "Parte of King James his decree, for the precedency of the younger sons of Viscounts and Barons, before Baronets." 339—40.

A fair copy, thus headed, by Ashmole.

†88. "Genealogia de Molineux:" Præfatiuncula tantum stemmatis exemplificati 20 Julii 1589, per WILL. DETHICK, Garterium. 343.

To this copy, by Ashmole, are subjoined two notes showing that the same pedigree had been continued by John Phillips, gent., and to the year 1665 by Dugdale, Norroy.

*89. Letter from BASIL Earl of DENBIGH, to Ashmole, discoursing on his own descent from the Hapsburgs and from the family of Saint-Liz; Mr. Ogilby having done him wrong in his description of Denbighshire. (17 Dec. 1671.) 347—8, 350.

Original in quarto (as also are artt. 92—4) with a small seal: the two following articles were inclosed with it.

90, 91. Extracts from the letters patent of Charles II., whereby Elizabeth, daughter of William Earl of Denbigh, was created Countess of Guildford (14 July, an. 12), and Basil Earl of Denbigh was created Baron Saint-Liz (2 Feb. an. 17). 351, 355.

Each is attested as "A true copy taken out of ye originall, and examined by us, Tho: Wagstaffe, Sam: Leigh."

*92, 93, 94. Three letters from BASIL Earl of DENBIGH, to Ashmole;—the first (31 Mar. 1672) commending Ogilby's America (dedicated to him), and adverting to the state of affairs with the Dutch; the second (28 Apr. 1672) promising to subscribe toward rebuilding the Herald's College, rejoicing to hear of Mrs. Ashmole's recovery, and inclosing five guineas for Ogilby; and the third (Newnham, 10 May, 1672) reckoning up the subscriptions to 334*l.*, sending 30*l.* as his own gift, asking for the return of a letter of the Prince Thomas of Savoy*, and desiring his book [of the Garter] to come out. 359—60, 363, 367.

* The last is indorsed, by Ashmole, with a note that he delivered the letter to Mr. Steane, for his Lordship. (p. 370.)

†95. ASHMOLÉ's notes of the family of Bowyer, from the Visitation-books of Surrey and Sussex; with two coats of arms "In Casalton church windowes in the north isle." 371.

†96. Semicircular pedigree setting forth the ancestry of Henry Earl of Huntingdon, 1611.

The Earl and three descents are placed in the centre, and the remote ancestors occupy the outermost arch. This pedigree was probably designed to illustrate the quarterings of their arms: it is a transcript by Ashmole, marked "fo. 133" and was inverted by the binder.

†97. (1) Grant of arms* by CRISTOFER CARLYLE, Norroy, to Mighell Poynant of London, a clerk of the chancery, descended of the Richendens of Bucks. (14 March, 1508—9.) 377—8.

* "Azur, a feece dauncey gold, three flours de liees in ye chief, billittie of the same: in ye poynte of the feld an hartes hedde cowpey of the feece; upon ye same a skaloppe azur, for his difference."

A transcript by Ashmole, with the arms and the seal tricked, and the signature imitated. On the same sheet he has drawn and written—

(2) The arms of Sir John Yates and Richard Aldworth, as certified by Philpot, Rouge-dragon, at the Visitation of Berkshire in 1623. p. 379.

98. Grant of a crest to Sir Hugh Cholmeley, by THOMAS HAWLEY, Clarencieux, in French (20 Dec. 1547); with a note of the confirmation thereof at the Visitation of Cheshire in 1566, by William Flower, Norroy. 381.

Copied by Dugdale, who has tricked the arms and the first seal: the place of the seal is noted by Ashmole.

99. "A cople of a confirmacōn" of arms with grant of a crest, to William Hunston of Wallpoll in Norfolk, by Sir GILBERT DETHICK, Garter. (6 Feb. 1557.) 383—4.

This copy (indorsed as above) seems to be by Dethick's own hand, and is superscribed as entered.

†100. Ashmole's abstract of an assignment of arms and crest, by Sir Gilbert Dethick, to George Stonehouse of Little Peckham in Kent. (5 Feb. 1556.) 387.

101. "This is the trew copy of the letters patentes graunted unto the right worshipfull Sr 'Thom' Venables knighte, baron of Kynderton, by LA[U]RANCE DALTON esquier, alias Norry" etc. (30 Oct. 1560), "throughly examyned by the recorde thereof remaynyng in o^r offyce of Armes. By me Rychemond * Herauld." 388, 389.

* Richard Lea? The above title is a note on the back of the open sheet on which this copy is written.

102. Form of a deed of Richard Gascoigne of Sutill-hall in Yorkshire, esq. and Dame Elizabeth Savell his wife, utterly disowning a bill exhibited partly in their names to Thomas Duke of Norfolk, Earl Marshal, wherein William Harvy late Clarencieux was accused of having forged a pedigree relative to her inheritance from the Fitzwilliams. (. 1568.) 391—2.

Seemingly the draught of this very curious document.

†103. Certificate of arms and quarterings, by ROBERT COOKE, Clarencieux, to Thomas Belamy of Dachet in Bucks. (17 Sept. 1571.) 395—6.

A transcript by Ashmole; with the coats tricked, and the signature imitated. On the lower part of this leaf he has impressed in red wax—

The seal of arms of "Smalebone of Bockhampton," and a small antient gem. 396.

†104. Grant of an augmentation of arms, by WILLIAM FLOWER, Norroy, to Sir Piers Legh, of Bradley in Lanc. and Hanley in Cheshire, in token of his descent from Piers Legh, a hero of Cressy. (11 June, 1575.) 397—8.

Copy by Ashmole, with the arms and quarterings tricked; also a note subjoined, of a document entered in the Visitation-book of Cheshire, 1613, f. 55^b.

†105. Exemplification of arms to Nicholas Haynes of Hackney, fourth son of Richard Haynes of Reading, by ROBERT COOKE, Clarencieux. (1578, an. 20 Eliz.) 399.

Transcript by Ashmole; the arms are tricked with pencil. On the back the arms of "Maulhouse of Benfield" are drawn with pencil; also of Smith, Bishop of Killaloe: but the latter does not seem to have been drawn by Ashmole.

†106. Grant of a crest, by Sir EDWARD WALKER, Garter, to Sir Richard Braham, knight. (10 June, 1646.) 401—2.

Ashmole's transcript, without drawing.

†107. (1.) Exemplificatio armorum, pro Georgio Baker, Londinensi, per ROBERTUM COOKE, Clarencium, facta. (1 Apr. 1579.) 403.

A transcript by Ashmole, with the arms tricked: on the other side he has copied (but without a drawing) the—

(2.) Grant of arms to William Baker of New Windsor, by EDWARD BYSSHE, Garter, (14 July, 1655.) 404.

108. (1.) Certificate of the arms of Nicholas Backhouse, alderman of London, by Sir GILB. DE-THICK, Garter. (26 Feb. 1579—80.) 405.

(2.) Insignia Johannis Southby de Carswell in com. Berk. per GUIL. SEGAR Garterium certificata. (10 Feb. 1631.) 406.

(3.) Grant of a new crest, by WILLIAM CAMDEN, Clarencieux, to George Kemble of Wydell in Wilts. (21 Nov. 1602.) 407.

(4.) Certificate of the arms of Nelston, of Mawdisley in Lancashire, by "R. GLOVER, Somersett, 1587." 408.

Ashmole's transcripts on one sheet; the third has no drawing.

†109. Exemplification of arms to John Dancastle of Wellhouse in Berks., by ROBERT COOKE, Clarencieux. (25 Feb. 1586—7.) 409.

A transcript by Ashmole, without drawing.

†110. (1.) Exemplification of a crest, by WILLIAM CAMDEN, Clarencieux, to George Hyde of South Denchworth in Berks. (20 Nov. 1600.) 411.

(2.) Exemplification of the arms of Margerye Cater, daughter and heir of John Cater of Letcomb-Regis in Berks., by WILLIAM HERVYE, Clarencieux. (20 Apr. 1559.) 412—3.

Ashmole's transcripts, with trickings, and imitations of the signatures.

†111. GUIL. SEGARI principalis Regis armorum, certificatio de nobili stirpe et de insigniis Jacobi Hill. (2 Sept. 1618.) 415—6.

A fair transcript by Ashmole, but without the coat of arms.

†112. Exemplification of arms to George Wilmote of Letcombe in Berks., by Sir WILLIAM SEGAR, Garter. (10 Feb. 1627.) 419—20.

Copy by Ashmole, without the arms.

†113. Grant of supporters to Robert Viscount Cholmondley, by Sir EDWARD WALKER, Garter. (10 June, 1661.) 421—2.

Copy by Ashmole, with the arms and crest, but without the supporters.

†114. (1.) Grant of an augmentation of arms to Sir William Armorer, knight, by Sir EDWARD WALKER. (8 July, 1662.) 423—4.

Ashmole's transcript, with the arms tricked; but in the document on the next page he has omitted the arms.

(2.) Exemplification of arms to George Baker of London, son of Chr. Baker of Tenterden, by ROBERT COOKE, Clarencieux. (10 May, 1573.) 424—5.

115. DUGDALE'S "Draught of a certificate to be signed by M^r Warde of * in the behalfe of M^r Alexander Warde of Freford in Staffordshire," declaring his kindred, and allowing him to bear the same arms. (1663.) 427.

* "Ward of Coton in Shropshire" is subscribed by Ashmole, who accompanied Dugdale in his visitation of those counties, in 1663. The above title was indorsed by Dugdale.

†116. Exemplification of arms by Sir EDWARD BYSSHE, Clarencieux, to Richard Palmer of Wokingham in Berks. esq. (20 Feb. 1664.) 429.

Copied, and the arms tricked, by Ashmole.

†117. Grant or confirmation of arms, by Sir EDWARD BYSSHE, Clarencieux, to Peregrine Hoby of Bysham in Berks., natural son of Sir William Hoby. (17 Nov. 1664.) 433—5.

Draught, folded up and directed as a letter to Clarencieux, by ASHMOLE.

118. Letters patent of Edward VI., exempting the Officers of Arms from the payment of subsidies and impositions. 437—440.

The conclusion of this grant is omitted: but a complete copy may be found in No. 857, art. 8. See also art. 126.

119. Warrant of Tho. Fanshawe, Remembrancer of the Exchequer, directing the collectors of the subsidy to forbear demanding of the Officers of Arms, by virtue of the Queen's writ* dated 6 Oct. (26 Oct. 1571.) 443.

* Of which art. 127 and 128 are copies.

120. A like warrant of forbearance, in favor of Sir Gilbert Dethick, Garter. (9 Feb. 1577—8.) 445.

Both these articles are copies made by Glover; who, on the back of this sheet, has written (invertedly) a—

Pedigree of Burnell, to the year 1315; also the form of certificate annexed to a pedigree. 448.

121. Form of a letter [from the Lords of the Council?] to [the Mayor of London], deprecating the suing or arresting of the Officers of Arms except before the Earl Marshal. (Court at Westm., ... May, 1579.) 449.

A contemporary copy or draught; as is also the next article.

122. Citation of, of Spurstow, esq. to appear before the Earl Marshal, to answer for his contempt, having refused to appear at the Visitation of Cheshire. (Torporley, 16 . . . 1580.) 451.

123. Original warrant of forbearance in favor of Hugh Cotgrave, Richmond, signed by Tho. FANSHAWE. (1 July, 1581.) 453.

124. GLOVER'S draught of a letter from the Earl Marshal, in favor of Windsor Herald, who had been arrested in London. (Otelands, 28 Sept. 1584.) 455.

*125. Acknowledgement by RYCHARD REED and ROBERT BROWNE, of having received 3*s.* 4*d.* as a free gift from Hugh Couthgrave †, Rouge-Croix, toward the raising of money for a customary present to the Queen at her coronation. (1558.) 457.

† Or Cotgrave: this paper seems to have been written by him for their signature.

126. Glover's copy of a clause "In the charter of privileges granted by Kinge Edward the Sixt, in the fourth yere of his reigne, to the Kinges Herauldes and Poursuyvantes of Armes." 459.

127. Writ of Q. Elizabeth, to the Treasurer and Barons of the Exchequer, exempting the Officers of Arms, by name, from the payment of a subsidy. (6 Oct. 1571.)

A contemporary transcript. See art. 119.

128. Copies of two writs of Q. Elizabeth, for the same purpose, dated 4 July and 6 Oct. anno 13 (1571), subscribed "Vera copia ex^{ta} per me Tho. Fanshawe." 465—8.

Written by Glover, and by him superscribed, with notes of their inrolment in the Memoranda of the Exchequer, 13 Eliz. term. Mich.

†129. Like writ of Charles II., in favor of the Officers of Arms by name. (26 Feb. 1664.) 469—71.

Ashmole's transcript; who has added the superscription (as in the record) from "The coppyes of this writ signed by Mr: Payne."

†130. "Heere follow the rights and largesses, liberties and franchises, auciently due and accustomed to the Kings of Armes and Herald, according to the usage of the most noble realme of England; made and given by the most victorious Kings, and confirmed and approved by the Constables and Marescalls of the same realme." 473—6.

A translation by ASHMOLE, with this note:—"See the orig: in old French, the last quatern: of Sr E. W [alcker's] Collect: joyned to Mr Owens. fol. 43"—45.

131. "Fees due to the Kings servantes for the creation of the Earle of Holland." 477.

A contemporary paper.

132. Bill of "The charges and fees for the l'pres patentees graunted by the Kynges majestie [Edward VI.] unto the Kynges of Armes and the harroldes and purcevauntes at armes;" subscribed "Rec' per me D. Croke." 479.

Original: the whole amount was 10*l.* 15*s.* 8*d.*

133. Bill, showing how "The ordynaryc profyttes arysinge by the gevinge of Armes" were distributed. 481.

By the first item ("To the Kinge xli") it appears that this paper was written in the time of James I.

134. "Duties to be p^d at the creation of an Erle" to the officers of arms and of the royal household. 483.

On the back of this paper is a note, that the Earls of Oxford and Westmoreland were "to led therle" (against whose creation it seems to have been prepared), and the Earls of Derby and Worcester to bear his cape and sword.

135. "Dewties to be payde to thofficers of armes and gentellmen usshers and others, for the making of a Knight in the Kinge and Quenes* howsse." 485.

* Philip and Mary. The paper is of that age.

136. "Knightes fees due to his Maties servauntes for a Knighthoode." (1617.) 487.

The date is added from the indorsement.

137. "Fees, Novemb^r 1613, for a Knight." 490.

The three last words of this title were added by Ashmole.

139. "HENRY BATTEN esq^r one of his Maties servauntes att armes, his bande* to disch: fees due for Sr W^{am} Bowyer his knighthood. 1617." (6 Nov.) 493.

* Or bond, (indorsed as above) covenanting with Christopher brother of Sir W. Bowyer, to acquit Sir William for his fees; signed and sealed by Batten, and attested by the signatures of "Ri. Battell, Tho. Deane, Will'm Glegge, Chr. Bowyer, and Roger Bolton."

139. Minutes of the partition of fees for the creation of the Earls of Wiltshire and Bedford, made "A^o R. R. E^{di} vj. ijth the 19 day of Jenyer 1549, at M^r Clarencieux howse." 497.

On the back was written (invertedly) at the same time—

The resolution of the Officers of Arms to appraise the robes received on the creation of nobles, and to share the value. 498.

140. GLOVER's minutes of partitions of largesses, on new-year's day 1570, "twelf-day" 1570, and "Christmas-day 1570." 499—502.

141. GLOVER's minutes of the "Partitions of v^{li} the Queenes Ma^{ties} largesse on Alhallowes day at Wyndesor;" also of Knights' fees, with a coat of arms tricked. 503—4.

142. GLOVER's minutes of the "Partieion made of v^{li} for our attendanee at the creation of the Baron of Burley, and of—the Queenes Ma^{ties} largesse that day" (25 Feb. 1570) at Whitehall. 505.

On the back is written part of a—

Pedigree of Laey. 506.

143. GLOVER's minutes of partitions of fees for Sir . . . Whittney "dubbed at Wyndesore 1570," and Sir Thomas Scott "dubbed at Somersett place 1571;" also of the Queen's largess on whitsunday. (3 June, 1571.) 508, 509.

144. GLOVER's minutes of partitions of the Queen's largesses on S. George's day and feast, and at easter, 1571. p. 512, 513, 514.

145. GLOVER's minutes of partitions of royal largesses, 'benevolences' of noblemen, and fees, on sundry occasions; with other notes: viz.—

Largess on easter-day, 1572. p. 515.

"The Brewers' Armes" and crest, tricked. 516.

As granted in 1544: see Maitland's History of London (ed. 1775, fol.), II 1242. The original grant, and one of a more antient date, are still preserved at the Hall of this Company.

Moneys "Gyven * in rewarde to certeyn offices of the Queenes house on newyeres day in anno 1572." 517.

* By the Officers of Arms; see p. 524. "Summa totalis xxxijs. vjd."

"Partition made at the Office of Armes on tuesday the vijth. day of Aprill 1573, of vj^{li}. the Knightes fees of these six Knightes followinge. vidzt. S^r Edward Hastings, S^r George Calverley, S^r Robert Stapleton, S^r Simond Musgrave, S^r Thomas Lucas, S^r Will'm Allen." 549.

"Largesse on S^r Georges day" at Greenwich, 23 Apr. 1572; and a list of the Knights of the Garter, in the order of their stalls, at that feast. 550, 552.

All these foregoing papers (pp. 515—552) are in small quarto, and have the uniform appearance of a book.

146. GLOVER's minutes of partitions made of the Queen's largess on S. George's day and on easter-day, and "for attendanee at the installation of the Erles of Derby and Penbroke at Wyndesor on ascension day the xx. of May 1574," also of the fees of the same Earls. 553, 559; 555; 556; 557.

Two crests sketched; and a list of quarterings with the coat of "Souch." 558.

Note of the knight's fee of "Ryvers lord maior of London." (20 May, 1574.) 560.

Arms of "Comes Huntingdoniæ" tricked. 560.

Four leaves in small 8vo. The two next articles are in folio.

147. GLOVER's minutes of the "Partition made at Wyndsor, on saturday the first day of Novembre being Alhallowes day, of vli. the Queenes Maties largesse." 561.
148. GLOVER's lists of "The benevolences and rewardes of the noble men gyven to the Officers of Armes, at Hampton Court, on newyeres day 1576" (1577); and on the same occasion in 1577-8. p. 563.
149. "Allowaunces for the Kinges at Armes, Herauldes, and Pursuyvauntes at Armes, for their attendance uppon [Mary] the Queenes Matie in her highnes progresse from Richemonde to Winchester in the first yeare of her graces reigne; begynnyng the xijth daye of June, and ending the xvijth of August next ensuing; w^c amount to lxxj dayes." 567.

This draught of the bill (amounting to 21*l.* 16*s.*) is indorsed, "The summes dew to the Kinges at armes—for the progresse of the Queene to Wincestr. the first yeare of her rayne. w^t the nombre of the dayes."

150. Bill of "Largesses dew unto thofficers of Armes in the tyme of the late Quene Mary in A^o 1556," 1557, and 1558; also for the creations of Lord Percy and Earl of Northumberland, and of Lord Hastings. 569.
151. Clarencieux' bill for "heinge forthe" from 12 Nov. to 14 Jan., and for horse-hire from London to Doneaster; with an order subscribed for Mr. Tuke to pay the same. (12 Jan., 28 Hen. VIII.) 571.

A copy, seemingly by Clarencieux himself.

- 152. "RICHARD BUTIER's bill for repairing and amending of severall armes in glasse, for the Herrolds Office, and in the Hall thier unto belonging, at the apoyntment of the right worshipfull Sr John Bowerroues and Sr Henric St George." 573.

With his receipt (30 May, 1635) subscribed: the arms are all named in this very curious bill.

* Borough, Garter. See art. 172.

153. Receipt by WILLIAM PENSON, Lancaster Herald, for his part of the fee for the funeral of Sir George Stonehouse; with a note below requesting payment. (31 Oct. 1632.) 575.
154. "A collection of all the Droyts and Fees, as heretofore have bene paid to the Officers of Armes, taken out of severall bookes of receipts and partitions, and remayning in the Office of Armes:" in the form of a Table, by GEORGE OWEN, York Herald. 579-8.

This indorsed on p. 577, "Severall fees due to the Officers of Armes, collected per G: O: Yorke. Peruse this colection."

- †155. Sir Edward Walker's note of the distribution of 200*l.* received of Sir William Juxon for conducting the funeral of Archbishop Juxon to Oxford, dated 6 Sept. 1663; "A bill of the silkeworke with some other atcheivm^{tes} provided for the funerall of his grace;" and "Coppoy of presid^{tes} from Sr Hen. St George, under his owne hand." 581-2.

Written by Ashmole; as is also the next.

- †156. "A particuler of fees paid to the Kings servants at such tyme as his Matie: came through the towne of Stafford. 28 Aug: 1617." 583.

"Transcribed out of Mr: Worswicks Booke of Stafford, fol: 131. b." On the other side of this paper are six titles noted, and struck through with pencil: viz.

"Heads of some things in Mr, Wors[w]icks large booke wth a parchm^t cover." 584.

157. Letter of recommendation in favor of "Mr. Somersett"* addressed by THO. RANDOLPH, "To my verie freindes the Post of London and all other her Maties Postes whersoever, and to every of them;" with a postscript signed "THO: MILLES." 585.

* Glover; it seems to be all in the handwriting of Milles. Randolph's seal of arms is set below his signature.

158. Warrant for John Fortescue, master of the wardrobe, to deliver coats of arms to Clarencieux and to Norroy, and to the other officers of Armes. 589.

A copy; of the time of Q. Elizabeth, but not dated.

- †159. (1.) "Warrant for a crowne, chaine, medall and rod for [Sir Edward Walker] Garter," directed to Sir Gilbert Talbot, master of the jewel-house. (3 Oct. 1660.) 591.

Copy by Ashmole: on the other leaf of this sheet is written in a hand resembling Sir Edward Walker's—

- (2.) "A bill of fees due to y^e Kings servants from all persons that receive y^e hono^r of knighthood." (81*l.* 13*s.* 4*d.*) 593.

- †160. Ashmole's copy of the Earl of Southampton "Lord Tre's warr^t: to Sr Rob't Pye [auditor of the receipt of the exchequer] to pay my pencōn as Windsor Herald." (21 Feb. 1660—1.) 595.

Fairly written, and thus indorsed by him.

161. Letter from the provincial Kings of Arms, to Lord, thanking him for his care in appointing a fit person to one of their places lately vacant, and desiring him to 'require the Earl of Leicester to prohibit Mr. Garter' from meddling with the "offices and charge of us Clarencieux and Norroy." (London, . . . Nov. 1581.) 597.

A fair copy or draught, neither signed nor directed.

162. Letter to his 'grace'* from Lancaster, Rychemond, Chester, and Yorke Heralds, complaining of a book of orders procured, by the Kings of Arms, under his graces "hand and broad scale," contrary to the form accustomed in the office; and requesting him to stay the same. (3 Aug. 1568.) With a postscript showing from their charter, that such orders ought to be made at a meeting of the officers of arms. 601, 602.

A contemporary copy.

163. The petition of WILLIAM FLOWER, Norroy King of Arms, to Thomas Duke of Norfolk and Earl Marshal, stating that he had served the Kings and Queens of England 30 years, with only his usual pension, and for the most part abroad; that he had therefore been unable "to come by any store of bokes of armes at the death of any of the kinges of armes or herauldes," and so was "destytute for the supplye of his vysytacōn;" that his patent restrained him more than the other kings; and that Clarencieux had wronged him in drawing up the decree for the burials of noble persons. 603.

Written vertically, and imperfect; the other half of the sheet being lost.

164. Regis HENRICI VIII. literæ patentis, quibus Thomas Wall, alias dictus Windesor, Garterius Rex Armorum constitutus est. 606—5.

A fair copy from the inrolment; altered in several places to serve as the draught of another patent.

165. Reginae ELIZABETHÆ literæ patentis, quibus Robertus Cooke, alias dictus Clarencieux, Garterius Rex Armorum constitutus est. 607.

Copy by Glover, without date: superscribed "Garter's patent."

166. GLOVER's two draughts of a deputation for himself and Cotgrave to perform the business of Clarencieux in his absence. (27 June, 1573.) 609, 610.

GLOVER's draught of the certificate of the funeral and issue of Sir Francis Jobson, who died "at his house called Westdonyland in com. Essex. on thursday the xjth day of June," 1573. 609. The following stanza. 610.

"Since thought hath leve to think at lest,
And tongue untyed may ofte offend;
Tongue hold thy peace! (for that is best)
And thought is free, and there an ende."

The Herald's cry at Sir F. Jobson's funeral. 610. Draught of a letter from Clarencieux, excusing himself from personally taking order for the said funeral, being called by the Lords of the Council to view the banners at the wardrobe; and appointing Richmond and Somerset to attend for him. 611.

"Droictes and fees due unto the Officers of Armes at the funerall of Sr Franey's Jobson knight." 612.

All written on one sheet by GLOVER.

167. Deputation of Richard Turpin, Windsor Herald, to act as deputy in the absence of Sir GILBERT DETHICKE, Garter. (14 July, 1566.) 613.

Original, with his signature.

168. (1.) Petition of the Officers of Arms to Queen Mary, for the hearse used at the funeral of Edward VI. in Westminster Abbey, which (though their right) had been pulled down by Dean Weston. 615.

(2.) Sir GILBERT DETHICK's petition "To the right honorable lordes and others of the Quenes Mates pryvie Counsell," for payment of the expenses of his journey made "thre yeres sithen" with the Marquis of Northampton, to take the order of the Garter to the French king at Cha-teaubriand. 616.

Written by different (contemporary) hands on one leaf: one page is vertical, the other inverted.

*169. Petition "To the — Lordes and others of the Kinges Mates most honourable pryvie Counsell," from FOWLQUE AP HOELL, Lancaster Herald, setting forth his deprivation from his office by the Duke of Norfolk, his restoration by Henry VIII., and his suits to Sir William Paget and to the Duke of Somerset, Earl Marshal, for seven years' arrears of his wages, and asking relief in the premises. 617.

A contemporary copy or draught, on one side of an open sheet.

170. (1.) Petition of MARTYN MAROF, Rouge-dragon, to the Duke of Northumberland, Earl Marshal, praying to be promoted unto the place vacated by the promotion of York Herald to be Ulster King of Arms. 619.

(2.) Draught of a letter from . . . King of Arms, showing cause why he had granted "unto one Richard Legh the lyon gewles for his armes;" in consequence of a letter from Sir Gilbert Talbot. 620.

Written invertedly on the back, in a different hand.

*171. Letter or petition from Sir WILLIAM DETHICK, Garter, to Sir Robert Cecil, her Majesty's principal Secretary, on behalf of his son, a graduate of Cambridge, desiring him to have one of the vacant places in the Office of Arms. 621.

Directed on p. 622, but not dated.

172. "Garter's exceptions to the Patent of Fees," the draught of which had been lately exhibited to the Attorney General, without his knowledge; addressed unto Thomas Earl of Arundel and Surrey, Earl Marshal, by "JOHN BOROUGH, Garter." 623—4.

Seemingly his own copy, thus indorsed on p. 626.

173. Deputation granted "By the King of Hearolds of this province from the river of Trent, north east and westward," to Peter Proby of the city of West-Chester; with regulations about funerals of 'personages.' (21 June, 1578.) 627.

A printed copy, in black letter, on a broadside; headed as above, and subscribed thus—"By me William Fovvler alions [Flower alias] Noroy, principall Herolde and King of armes of this my province."

174. Precept of "WILL: HERVY al's Clarencieux King of Armes," addressed "To Wyllyam Teng-com baylye of the hondrythe off Woudforde" in Devonshire, commanding him to disclaim the eleven persons undernamed as not gentlemen. (3 Aug. 1564.) 629.

Original, written on one side of an open sheet, and signed; but not sealed with "the seale of myne armes." One of the names, "Robert Dowryshe of Whitston," has been struck through.

175. Two precepts, subscribed "par moy WYLL'AM FLOWER alias Norroy Roy darmes," addressed unto Charles Shaw baylif of Chester ward, and John Robynson baylif of Essington ward, in the county palatine of Durham, commanding him to summon the undernamed gentlemen to appear before him at Durham on the third and fifth of November, with their pedigrees and evidences. (Newcastle on Tyne, 31 Aug. 1575.) 631, 633.

Originals, bearing Norroy's official seal; and written by Glover his attendant, who, on their return, has noted apparuit, or alibi, or entred, against most of the names.

176. Summons subscribed by "R. GLOVER, Somerset, Marschal to Norroy Kinge of Armes," requiring Mr. Roger Wilberfosse to appear before the Earl Marshal on 5 Oct. following, to answer for his refusal to appear at the Visitation of Lancashire. (Wighton, 18 Aug. 1584.) 637.

Original, seemingly not delivered, though directed on the back; where also are tricked by Glover—

Two different coats of arms of Lutton, and the coat of Burd. 640.

177. Copy of a "Deputation passed by Mr Clarenceiulx [COOKE] and me [ROBERT GLOVER,] to Lewes ap Rhis [ap Owen, alias Dun, of Butus in the cantred of Kadewen within the countie of Montgomery,] for the Visitation of Wales. 1585." (3 Feb.) 641.

Fairly written on one side of an open sheet, and thus indorsed.

178. Precept for the summoning of the underwritten gentlemen of the hundred of Stoke in Bucks. to appear before Jo: Philipott, Somerset Herald, and William Reyley, Bluemantle Pursuivant, at the Saracen's head in Agmondsham. (8 July, 1634.) 643.

A printed form, signed and sealed by them; but not directed, and therefore not actually used in the Visitation.

179. Form of a precept for summoning gentlemen to appear before Norroy, at Lancaster, on 12 Aug. 1567. p. 645.

180. Form of the disclaiming of non-gentlemen, by WILLIAM FLOWER, NORROY, at the Visitation of Lancashire. 647.

These two papers seem to have been written by his hand.

181, 182. DUGDALE's printed forms, for the second summoning of persons not having appeared at a Visitation; and of the disclaiming of non-gentlemen. 649, 653.

Fairly printed (with blanks) on foolscap sheets.

†183. DUGDALE's precept "To the constables of the city of Litchfeild" for the summoning of the gentlemen of that city before him, at his Visitation of Staffordshire. (London, 4 March, 15 Car. II.) 657.

Not in a printed form, but in Ashmole's handwriting; sealed with Dugdale's official seal above, and subscribed "By me Norroy King of Armes."

184. Schedule annexed unto the same; or a list of the names of the gentlemen of "The city of Litchfeild [who appeared] at the signe of the George in Litchfeild, on munday the 30th March 1663;" with notes of their styles or disclaimers. 659.

Written partly by Dugdale, and partly by Ashmole.

†185. Copies of (1.) a letter from the Earls of Northampton, Suffolk, and Worcester, in favor of Norroy about to visit his province, to the gentry of the same, dated at Whitehall, 15 July, 1612; (2.) a letter to the Justices of assize, of the same effect and date; (3, 4.) forms of precepts to the bailifs of the hundreds, for the summoning of the gentry before him, and of defaulters before the Earl Marshal; and (5.) of disclaiming non-gentlemen. 665—8.

Copied by Ashmole as "Entred at the beginning of Sr: Rich: St George his Visitacōn of Yorkeshire ano. 1612. Lib: C. 13."

186. DUGDALE's calendar of appointments for sittings in the hundreds and liberties of "Shropshire, A. D. 1663," at his Visitation of that county. 669.

This is by his own hand, the two next are by Ashmole's.

†187. "Mr: Dugdales places of sitts in his Visitacōn of Westmerland and Cumberland a^o 1665." 671.

†188. Calendar and list of "Places where Mr Dugdale sitts in his Visitacōn this yeare in the North." (1666.) 673.

189, 190, 191. ASHMOLE's printed forms of the warrant for attending on him in his Visitation; precept to summon the gentry (filled up for the hundred of Bray in Berkshire, dated 21 Feb. 7 Car. II., signed and sealed, with the names annexed); and personal summons to the gentry, (filled up for Mr. George Sanders.) 675; 677, 679; 681.

See the papers also at the end of No. 851.

†192. Certificate of the disclaimers in the county of Berkshire, directed "To the Register of the Byshopp of Salisbury," by ELIAS ASHMOLE, Windsor Herald. (Abingdon, 17 July, 18 Car. II.) 683—8.

Thus subscribed by him, "These are the names of such persons as were disclaim'd at Abingdon, the 18th of July 1666." It is sealed at the top with a seal of arms, and was all written fairly by him.

193. DUGDALE's draught of a petition from the Officers of Arms to the King, praying him to appoint Lords of the Privy Council to hear their complaints of abuses committed by Sir Edward Bishe, Clarencieux. 691.

194. "Aetes, statutes, orders, and ordinances made and established by the hole consent of the 3. Kinges of Armes and 6. Herauldes [and Pour-

- suivant^{*}] in ther full chapitre holden at the Office of Armes in the house commonly called Derby Place in London, the day of and in the 14. yere of the reigne of our sovereigne lady Elizabeth [etc.] to be from hencefoorth by the sayd Kinges Herauldes and Poursuyvantes firmly surely and inviolably observid kept performed and obeyd." 693—5.
- * Struck through. This is GLOVER's corrected draught.
195. Writing whereby WILLIAM BRERETON, of Brereton in Cheshire, promised unto William Flower, Norroy, and unto R. Glover, Somerset, to permit an alteration of one point in his pedigree, if the contrary should ever be proved by good evidence. (1 May, 1579.) 697.
- Signed and sealed by W. Brereton, and witnessed by Tho. Smithé.
196. List of "Bokes and rolles of armes taken out of the Offes of armes in A° D'ni 1571, by me Clarencieux Kyng of armes, to be used in my visetacion." 701.
- Signed "Clarencieux."
197. List of "sondrey parcelles of apparrell" stolen out of the house of "Mr. Sommersett [Glover,] dwelling in the middest of the barbican streate," on 14 Jan. 15 . . ; with a promise of reward for their recovery. 703.
198. GLOVER's letter, requesting a gentleman to make up his mind about the passing of a patent of arms, which he stayed. (Barbican street, 28 June, 1581.) 705.
- Fairly written, but perhaps not sent. On the other side (beside some memoranda) he has largely tricked the—
- Arms and quarterings of Flower. 706.
- *199. GLOVER's draught of a letter to "Mrs Gyles" about a debt claimed by her as due to her mother "Maistris Powlter" for his board when he was young. (London, 8 Feb. 1572.) 707.
- On the other side is the outline of a large—
- Pedigree of Lisle, Mowbray, and Betishorn.
200. Index to a large book of Heraldry. 709—711.
- Written in the time of Q. Elizabeth.
201. GLOVER's draught of a friendly letter relating to the sickness of his father-in-law Norroy, at Lichfield, and other matters. (London, 6 Jan. 15...) 713.
- On the back is written the title of a book of "The names and armes of certeyn noblemen and gentlemen that had the government of such cities" etc. in France, under Henry V.
202. Letter from THOMAS MILLES to his uncle Glover, about his "master's" intention of sending him into France. (Dover, 3 Oct. 1574.) 715—6, 717.
- Invertedly on the third page is written the draught of—
- GLOVERI ad eum epistola responsoria. 717.
203. Forms of coronets drawn. 719.
204. (1.) THOMAS [CRANMER] Cantuar. Archiepiscopi facultas carnes edendi, Gilberto Dethyke alias Norroy concessa. (Lambeth, 26 Feb. 1546, anno consec. 14.) 721.
- Subscribed also "Approbatum per me Matthæum [Parker] Cantuar." This is a copy in GLOVER's hand; who on the back has written—
- (2.) "This article followed * decreed at a chapter [of the Officers of Armes] holden at Derby place the 20 of February 1564," relating to the use of armorial ensigns at funerals. 722.
- * So, for following was.
- (3.) Remedy "For deffeness." 722.
205. Note to desire Lord Maltravers to recommend a book of fees to the Earl Marshall to pass the King's hand without Garter's knowledge. 723.
- By an old hand.
206. "A copy of a letter to Mr Burton of Le[ice]stershire, touching the printing [of] his book of the survey of Lecestershire;" being the draught of a testimonial of his "loving frends," dated "At the Office of Armes, 23 July 1622." 725.
207. "The forme of a cornett for 100 lances." 727.
- Bearing a porcupine, and noted "2 foote square;" drawn by Glover.

105. "Carolus Brandon in Viccomitem Lisle creatus sibi et hæ: masculis de corpore Elizabethæ Grey procreandis." (15 Maji 1513.) 441—2.
In a note at the end it is said that this "patent was called in and cancelled, because he did not marry her."

106. "Creatio Abbatis de Tavistoke* in unum spiritualium Dominorum in Parlamento." (23 Jan. 1514.) 443.

* Richardus Banham, et ejus successores. "Pat. 5 H. 8. parte 2 m' 22."

107. Thomas Comes Surriæ et Marescallus, Dux Norfolk. factus. (1 Feb. 1514.) 445—51.

Immediately on this creation he surrendered his Earldom to the King, who bestowed it on his son and heir; both these honors being rewards for the victory at Flodden.

108. Thomas filius Thomæ Ducis Norf. creatus Comes Surriæ, ad vitam. (Eod. die.) 453—9.

109. "Creatio Caroli Somerset in Comitem Wigorn." (Eod. die.) 461—2.

"Pat. a°. 5 H. 8. m' 13."

110. "Creatio Gulielmi Parr in Comitem Essex." (23 Dec. 1543.) 463.

111. Creatio Thomæ Howard Comitis Surriæ ratificata per regem HENRICUM VII. (3 Nov. 1492.) 465—8.

This is a very curious document. The earldom requiring ratification (as having been created by Richard III. 28 June, 1483,) it was needful that the charter of creation should be surrendered; but the original being lost, the Earl made oath in Chancery that it was so, and should be restored if ever found; whereupon an exemplification by constat was granted from the rolls, (25 Oct. 1492,) and surrendered in its stead; of which patent this article is an exemplification by inspeximus, with approbation thereof.

112. Robertus Radcliffe "Dominus Fitzwalter et Egremond" creatus Viccomes Fitzwalter. (18 Junij 1525.) 469—73.

"Inter memoranda Scaccarij" 17 Hen. VIII. de term. Ill. rot. 18, ex parte Thes.

113. Idem Viccomes factus Comes Sussex. (8 Dec. 1529.) 477—9.

"2 pars Pat: 21 Hen: octavi regis."

114. Anna Rochford* creata Marchionissa Pembrochiæ. (1 Sept. 1532.) 481—2.

* Afterward Queen Anne Boleyn.

115. Edwardus Sainctmayr factus Viccomes Beauchamp. (5 Junij 1536.) 485—7.

116. "Gulielmus Parr creatus Baro Parr." 489.

"Pat. de a°. 30° H. 8. m' 23."

117. "Thomas Botiler creatus Baro de Cahir in regno Hiberniæ." (10 Nov. 1542.) 491—4.

"Per billam ipsius Regis ab Anglia missivam et manu sua propria signatam, ac Cancellario sive Custodi magni sigilli nostri Hiberniæ immediate directam, de data prædicta, autoritate Parliamenti."

118. "Creatio Johannis Dudley in Viccom: Lisle, 34 Hen: 8^{vi}." (12 Mar. 1543.) 495—6.

119. "Maurus Obrien creatus Comes Tomon pro termino vitæ, 35 H. 8." (7 Jan. 1544.) 497—8.

With a large docket at the end. See art. 122.

120. "Creatio Gulielmi Parr in Baronem de Hor-ton." (23 Dec. 1543.) 499—500.

"Pat. de a°. 35 H. 8. m' 24."

121. Williclmus Dominus Parr creatus Comes Essex. (30 Dec. 1543.) 501.

"15 pars Paten' 35 Hen: 8."

122. "Donatus Obrien creatus Baro de Obrickaine post mortem Mauri Obrien qui tunc fuit Comes Tomon pro termino vitæ. 35 H. 8." 505—7.

No. 842.

A folio volume, containing MS. tracts and papers, fairly written by different hands, and at different times.

I. "The severall prayers and ceremonyes used by the Queene in the Consecration of the Cramp-Ringe. As also the ceremony and prayers used by the King, for the healing of the Kings-evill." f. 1—6.

They are in Latin. The title is on the first page, and on f. 6^b is an indorsement by Ashmole: this transcript is by the same hand as the next article. See the Northumberland Household Book, edited by Bishop Percy (London, 1770, 8vo.), p. 436—7; also the Gentleman's Magazine for 1774, xlv. 247, and for 1829, xcix. (ii.) 499—501.

II. "These are some of the Observacōns of King CHARLES 2^d. wch he pen'd when he was in exile: and wch was coppied from his owne hand writing 1660, by my servant Symon Martyn. E. A." (pp. 56.) 9—22^b.

They relate to the morals of history and to politics.

III. A treatise "Of Knightes and matters incident to the degree of Knighthood, accordinge to the laws of Englande." 25—34.

A fair transcript. At the end is an Appendix of passages on the same subject—

"Excerpted out of M^r ROBERT BOWYERS broken notes, intituled Honour and Armes." 34^b—6^b.

The 3 last pages contain (from f. 122) "Motives to induce the knights citizens and burgeses of the Comons house of Parliament, to petiōn his Matie for the revoking and abolishing of the degrees of Baronetts lately erected by his highnes l^res patents." A copy of this paper is in the Cottonian MS. Faustina, C. VIII. art. 12.

IV. "A treatise of Acts of Resumption: wherein is discoursed the just interest of ye Kings of England in ye free disposing power of all ye manors landes etc. and ye validity of ye grants made thereof to any of ye subjects; the history of the Acts of Resumption, the meanes how and ye pretences upon wch they have been gained, and how unpracticable they have been found when made; the rareness of such acts wth ye great inconveniencies and little profit y^t will arise by following such presidents. Written att ye request of a person of honor in ye yeare 1657, by a person learned in the lawes, and since found in his study." 39—60.

V. I. "Ordo novum Regem in regno constituendi;" (inc. Die quo consecrandus est novus Rex. summo mane) seu Liber Consuetudinarium orationum, psalmodiarum, et benedictionum, in Coronatione Regum Angliæ, cum notis musicis. 64—73.

It begins with a large rubric, and ends thus—"ad eternam perveniat tranquillitatem per {Dominum nostrum, etc.} Finit consecratio Regis." This is different from the celebrated Liber Re- galis of Westminster (of which a transcript is the Lansdown MS. 278,) and from the tract resembling this and the following art., which is in the Harleian MS. 3504, f. 252.

2. "Ad benedictionem sive consecrationem Reginae dicetur ab Episcopo ad ingressum ecclesie. Oremus. Omnipotens sempiterna Deus," etc. 73—4.

In fine—bonis operibus corroborare gloriam per Dominum nostrum.

3. Brevis ordo servitiorum in Coronatione Regis: inc. Dic quo novus Rex est consecrandus erunt presentes. 74^b.

In fine—debeatur ecclesie Westmonasterij. All this article is written in red letters. There is another copy in the Harleian MS. 3504, f. 238^{ab}. It is of the same age as No. 770, ii. art. 2.

4. "Coronatio Regis Francie. Hic est ordo ad iungendum et coronandum Regem." 75—9.

Ending with the same short prayer as art. 2.

5. "Modus et forma Coronationis Reginae. Dic quo Regina sola coronanda est conveniant in palacio regali apud Westmonasterium prelati et nobiles regni." 79—80.

The last words are—eos cum summo honore sequentibus.

In the margin of this exact transcript, at the beginning, Ashmole has noted that it was "Transcribed from an old vell: MS: wch the D: of York delivered to Sr. Ed: Walker 23 Oct. 1660." It seems to have been of the time of Edward I. or earlier; and, from the following article, may be judged with certainty to have belonged to Westminster Abbey.

- 6. Quomodo Rex Henricus III. discalceatus ivit, cum magna comitiva, a Tothulle ad ecclesiam Westmonasterij, propter miraculum resuscitationis pueri submersi. 86^b.

* William son of Tho. le Brown, who was drowned in Hyde-park, his father's warren.

The first and two last leaves of this MS. are blank. Another transcript of the whole, by Ashmole's own hand, is in No. 863, art. 32: see also art. 34, §. 1—3.

- VI. "A catalogue of the auncient Families of Normandy, excerpted from out of a booke of Sr: George Cartret's, Vicechamberlayne, wherein their coates were drawn, and a short account of the first of the family" was written. 84—103.

The first name is "Le Roy de France," and the last "La Pucelle d' Orleans," with her coat of arms. At the end are notes (by Ashmole's hand) of MM. Geffray and Ranauld de Cartret, with their arms. On each page of this MS. (except the last 7 which are blank) is written one column of names: f. 83 is only a slip containing 7 names omitted in the first page.

- VII. Warrant by sign manual of CHARLES II., giving "license and priviledge unto John Lilly for the sole use and exercise of china-varnish or laere-worke, upon paper parchmt vellom leather and metalls for y^e terme of tenn yeares." (9 Nov. 1660.) 107—8.

A transcript on one sheet of paper.

- VIII. "An exact narrative of y^e state of Guyana and of y^e English colony in Surynam, in y^e beginning of y^e warre with y^e Dutch, and of its actions during the warre, and the taking thereof by a fleet from Zealand:" by WILLIAM BYAM. 109—121.

* This name is subscribed to this interesting tract. Two pages follow, written by Ashmole, containing—

The declaration of Abraham Crynsens, commander of the Dutch fleet, on demanding the surrender of the colony of Surinam. ($\frac{2}{3}$ April, 1668.) 121^b—2.

- IX. Aulæ Pembrochianæ Cantabrigiensis epistola, ne in ruinas tota caderet, a claris viris opem sollicitans. 125—6.

Printed, and sealed with an impression of the College-seal; but neither dated, directed, nor indorsed.

- X. Acta Convocationis Cleri Anglicani:—(1.) "Ut beneficiati in suis beneficijs curatis hospitalitatem exerceant." (2.) "De recusantibus et alijs excommunicatis publice denunciandis." (3.) "De registris in ecclesijs, salvæ custodiæ committendis." 127—9^b—130^b—2.

These three sheets (indorsed, "13—Articles of the Convocation.—37.") are fairly written, and seem to be original, having been corrected by an other hand. They are parts of the acts of the Synod of London in 1597, printed wholly in the Concilia by Wilkins, II. 352—6; and the third article here (which is there the twelfth and last) may be found also in J. S. Burn's History of Parish Registers, 1829, 8vo. p. 23—4.

- XI. "A discourse of Governement wth a comparison of the tymes and reignes of former Kings of England since the conquest. store of riches." 133^a, 134—146.

* Thus. A transcript of an interesting tract addressed to Q. Elizabeth: it contains many good suggestions.

- XII. 1. Accounts of the foundation, habits, &c. of many Religious Orders, "Extracted out of Sylvestro Maurolico his history intituled Mare Oceano di tutte le Religioni del Mundo." 147—169^b.

2. Copies of monumental and other Inscriptions, verses, &c. extracted from the same work. 171—182^b.

3. Notes of Bulls printed in the same work. 183^{ab}.

These valuable translated extracts are fairly written by the hand of Edw. Philipps; see No. 1128, f. 17.

No. 843.

A folio MS. closely and not well written, on 226 leaves of paper, being the author's draught. The title at f. 1^a has been corrected and shortened, and thus rewritten on the first of 6 pages preceding it.

- "A Display of Honour, contayninge a proper and perfect discovery of the nature of Honour and of the proper grounds and principles thereof, and of the Lawes of Honour, for the erectinge and establisshinge of their proper Court under the jurisdiction of the Lord Highe Constable in England, for the preservation and perfection of Monarchy and for the generall reformation of many grosse er[r]ors detected in the practises of Heraldry and of common and civill lawes prejudiciall to Monarchie. Cicero 3 Officiorum. Justitia vacillat," etc. By JOHN CUSACKE. ff. 1—222^b.

His name is subjoined to the draught of a dedication "To the right honorable and noble the Lords Spirituall and Temporall and Gentry of his majesties realmes of England Ireland and Scotland etc." (p. 5—6.) but the book is addressed unto Charles I. On the second page are some notes thus headed—"For the chiefe and creasts of all the English orders of Knighthood." At the end is one page about "The signification of the word Honnestum." f. 223^a. Some blank leaves follow.

No. 844.

The former of the two MSS. on paper composing this folio volume, consists of 161 leaves (beside one at the beginning, bearing only the name of Thomas Brok) many of which have been folded and inserted into the book. Between ff. 78—80, are one tattered leaf and many small fragments, some of which are corners of leaves. It is neatly and closely written in a small hand, at different times.

I. ROBERTI GLOVERI Feclialis eruditi Miscellaneorum liber, seu Collectanea ad genealogiam et res heraldicas valde idonea. ff. 1—161.

The principal articles contained in this curious mass of useful matter, are the following.

1. Willelmi Avenel literæ ad Robertum episcopum et canonicos Exonienses, et Baldwinum Comitem Devonæ ejusque filium Ricardum, quod confirmavit ecclesias de Castello Exon. de Alfington et Chen, quas ecclesiæ de Plymton pater ejus et amita Adelis dederant. 2.
 2. Excerpta "ex Cronicis Dunstapulæ." 2.
 3. Historiola ortûs et posteriorum Willicelmi filii Ducani, cujus uxor Comitibus Cestriæ consanguinea fuit. 5.
 4. Willicelmi Comitis de Suffolk. literæ, testantes quod Johanna Domina de Cobham quæ fuit uxor Thomæ Brooke, homagium ei fecit pro terris suis, etc. (8 Mar. 20 Hen. VI.) 7^b.
Written down the page by a different hand.
 5. "Hic sequuntur nomina tenentium de Rege Willmo Conquestore per singulos regni comitatus, quemadmodum habentur in libro vocato Domesday in Scaccario remanente qui pro recordo tenetur, composito anno 20 ejusdem regis." 9^b—16, 18—21^b, vide et 23^b, 24^b.
 6. Excerpta "Ex Rubio Libro penes Scaccarium D'ni Regis residente qui pro recordo habetur." 26^a, 27—9^b.
 7. Excerpta "Ex historia Rogeri Hovedeni." 30^a.

 10. Cartæ quædam excerptæ "Ex Registro de Lewes." 34^a.
 11. "Nomina Comitissarum Surregiæ vel vulgariter Warenn' ex Registro Prioratus Lewensis." 34^b—35.
- II. GLOVER'S copies and draughts of Grants and Exemplifications of Arms and Crests, made by ROBERT COOKE Clarencieux, and WILLIAM FLOWER Norroy King of arms. (ff. "76.") 171^a, 177^b—259.

This book consists of sheets and lots of paper written at different times, some of which are blank, as f. 170, 171^b—7, 259^b—79^b. The following Index of the names of the Grantees requires the same remark as the other volume of these Grants, No. 834, i.

A pedigree, that lay loose in this volume, is now fixed in No. 1763, letter C.

No. 845.

A large folio volume, containing one large MS. of genealogy and heraldry, well written (both in text and roundlets) and painted about the end of the reign of Henry VIII., consisting of 119 leaves of stout paper; also several papers both MS. and printed, three antient MSS. on vellum, and two leaves of the same.

- I. 1. A historical genealogy of the Kings of England, from Edward I. to Henry VII., illustrated with the lines of succession of the Popes and Emperors, and the royal line of Scotland, the genealogies of some English nobles, and various coats of arms painted. ff. 1—24^b.

The historical part of this large work is only complete in the reign of Edward IV. (ff. 19^b—22^b); much space being left in the other reigns for a like valuable accompaniment.

2. Regnorum et Principatum insignia xlv depicta. 26^b—8^b.
3. "Comitum Alburgensium origo;" et "Linea Ducum Austriæ;" cum historiis amplis usque ad mortem Philippi (patris Caroli imperatoris) anno 1506. 29^b—31—5^b.

On f. 34^b is painted a large shield of his quarterings.

4. "Saxonie et Baviæ Ducum origo;" et stemma, seu "Linea Ducum Baviæ." 36^b—7, 38—40.

* The five entries thus marked are accompanied by Pedigrees in the MS.

5. "Flandrie Comitum origo" et genealogia, cum historiis et armis. 41—6^b.
6. Ducum Mediolanensium genealogia, cum historiis usque ad annum 1508. f. 47^b—50.
7. Nobilium quarundam familiarum Italicarum insignia picta. 51^b.
Only 13 out of 30 shields are filled up.
8. "Domini Ferrarienses:" their arms and descent; with some English text. 52^b—4.
9. "Linea Castille et Leone Regum:" their genealogy in Latin, with histories in English, and the English line from John Duke of Lancaster to Henry VIII. 54^b—62.
10. "Linea Regum Francie:" cum ampla genealogia. 63—72.
11. Insignia prosapiæ Valesianæ, picta per modum stemmatis. 73^b—4.
12. "Reges Navarre:" eorum linea cum armis. 75—8^b.
13. "Marchiones Montis-ferrati:" eorum linea cum armis. 80^b—3^b.
14. "Mantvani Principes:" eodem modo. 84^b—86.
15. "Gbelrie ac Zutphen. Duces." 86^b—9.
16. "Regum Ungarie prosapia," cum armis et historiola. 89^b—92^b.
17. "Boemorum initium" et genealogia. 93^b—8^b.
18. "Alobrogorum principum origo" et genealogia: cum armis Sabaudicæ. 99—100^b.
The title, "Clivensium principes," on f. 101, has only some blank roundles.
19. "Armorice sive Britannicæ Ducum origo," et linea ab anno 386 ad 1514. 102^b—7^b.
20. "Reges Portugalie:" eorum linea et genealogia. 109^b—112.
The last 8 leaves of this MS. are of a different old paper, and are blank.
* * The second part of this volume consists of a collection of papers, whereof such as are printed are here marked with †.
- II. † 1. Ducum Sabaudicæ genealogia, a Sigueardo rege Saxonie (A. D. 636) originem trahens. ff. 121—3.
These are folded prints from neat engravings: at the end of the last is this subscription:—"Stefano Scolari Forma in Venetia as Zulian."
- ‡ 2. Ordinance set forth "By the right honorable the Lords, Commissioners for the office of Earle Marshall of England," against the abuses of painters and others, in the Funerals of the Nobility. (10 Nov. 1618.) 124^a.
A printed broad sheet: there is a duplicate in No. 820, ii.
3. "The abuses of Clarent' and the office of Garter declared and proved." 125—6.
The large sheet so indorsed, is the draught of two analytical statements addressed unto the Commissioners; the second of which is written vertically on the two inner pages.
4. Analytical statement of "The severall functions of the Officers of Armes: warrauntid by Princes auctoritie, and the beste allowed orders, emonge them." 127^b—8.
A large sheet fairly written on the inner pages, by Glover's or Brooke's hand: it seems to be a statement of Garter's usurpations, designed for the Commissioners.
5. "Genealogiæ successio dominorum de Ridware-Hampstall in agro Staffordiensis." 129^a.
This is a pedigree of Venables, Ridware, Cotton, and Fitzherbert, terminating in Sir Tho. Leigh de Hamstall. 1656. On the other side of this folded leaf is another also written by Ashmole: viz.—
Genealogia de Leigh de Stoneley. 129^b.
6. "Venables Pedigree." 130.
This descent of Venables and Leigh is written on a folded leaf so indorsed.
7. "Titles of bookes given by Mr. Povey to the Office of Armes." 131.
A leaf written and so indorsed by Ashmole: it contains references to transcripts from the rolls of Gascony, Wales, Scotland, Rome, Germany, France, and Normandy, in one or more of Povey's MSS. not noticed in Dugdale's list in MS. Dugd. 48, (art. 12.) f. 67.
8. The descent of Simon de St. Liz, Earl of Huntingdon and Northampton. 132.
A pedigree in Latin, drawn from antient historians.
- † 9. "By the King. A Proclamation for registering Knights." (16 June, 1673.) 133.
A broad sheet printed in black letter.
10. Translation of "Mr. Clarencieux [Cooke's] patent in[to] English," by GLOVER.* (21 May, 9 Eliz.) 134^{ab}.
* His original draught.
11. The pedigrees alleged by several descendants of Sir Benet de Cokefeld, lord of Lalleford in Suffolk, severally claimants to the said manor. 135^{ab}.
This is a sheet written as a roll, in a close hand of the time of Henry VI. or Edw. IV.: indorsed in one place, "The pe degree of Mortymer," and in another, "To my maister Saye squyer." The claimants were Elizabeth Boreward, "my lorde of Glouc.," Griffyng, and Cristiane Stalleworth.
12. Descents of Henry VI., the Earls of Lincoln and of Salisbury, the De-Cadurcis, and the Earls of Essex and Hereford. 136^a.
In Latin on a folded sheet.
13. Inscriptio sepulchralis Johannis Atte Hene (qui ob. 17 cal. Apr. 1432) ex ænea lamina accuratissime descripta per ELIAM ASHMOLE. 137^a.
To this fac-simile is subscribed the draught of a certificate, stating that the brazen plate (formerly in Abergavenny church) was in the hands of Henry Hene of Winkfield in Berks. 15 cal. Dec. 1664.
14. Stemma amplum prosapiæ de Zouch: manu HENRICI DE S. GEORGIO. 138^{ab}.
A large folded sheet. A pedigree of the Pitton branch, by the same hand, is in No. 831, xiii.

15. "An extraet taken out of the Earle of Denbigh's pedegree drawne by WILL^m DUGDALE esq." 139.

Fairly written by Ashmole, on a large folded sheet of stout paper. It contains the descents to the union of the families of Fielding and Seyton, in the time of Hen. VI.

16. "Quest' and answers for precedency of place betweene Doctors of the civill-law and Serjants of comon law." 140^a.

The arguments are written in two columns on a large leaf, thus indorsed by Ashmole. See also the Cottonian MS. Julius F. X. art. 15, 16.

17. Patent granted to the Corporation of Heralds, for collecting money toward the rebuilding of their Office and College, after the great fire of London. (6 Dec. 23 Car. II.) 141.

A fair copy, by the same hand as No. 1097. A printed abstract is in No. 836. art. 184.

18. Stemma ostendens quomodo descendebat Comitatus Northumbriæ per Ælfredam hæredem natu majorem Aldredi, ad Waltheof Comitum; eum excerptis ex Hovedeno; per GLOVERUM. 142.

This pedigree is neatly done, like the descents in No. 825, ii. art. 2; and though a precedent of the same kind, it does not appear in that MS. It is a folded sheet thus indorsed—"Mr. Somersets note."

† 19. "The form of his Majesties Coronation-feast to be solemuized and kept at Westminster-hall, upon the 23 of April, 1661." 143.

A broadside printed for R. Crofts, 1661.

† 20. "A true copie of the list or roll of the King's Majesties most royall proceedings from the Tower, through London, to White-Hall, as it will be marshalled by the Lords deputed for the office of Earl Marshall." 144.

A broadside printed for Richard Williams, 1661.

† 21. "Preparations for each Knight of the Bath" to be created against the Coronation of Charles II. 145.

A printed broadside (seemingly a proof copy) with Ashmole's corrections and notes.

† 22. "A perfect catalogue of all the Archbishops and Bishops in England and Wales, established by his majesty King Charles the second, ranked in ther order, whereof the five first take place by act of Parliament, the rest according to their consecration." 146.

On this broadside (printed for R. Pawley 1660[-1]) are shown "The time of their consecration," the "Counties under their severall jurisdictions," and the number of "Parishes in each dioc."

† 23. "A brief Cronology of Great Britain, from the first discoveries of this isle, through the severall conquests of the Romans, Saxons, Danes, and Normans." 147.

This broadside (printed for T. Crosse, 1656,) is a short abstract from Speed's history, as it seems from the plate of costumes along the top, evidently copied from that work.

† 24. "A catalogue of the Prelates and Clergie of the province of Canterbury, in the lower house of Convocation now sitting at Westminster." 148.

A broadside printed for Nath. Brooke, 1661.

† 25. "A catalogue of all the Peers of the kingdom of England, according to their birth and creation, in the raign of Charles the second, King of England, Scotland, France, and Ireland." 149.

"Collected by E. A." (probably ASHMOLE,) as it appears at the end of this broadside "printed for William Gilbertson 1661." At the top is a fine portrait of Charles II. engraved by P. S.

26. Clause of the Charter of incorporation of the Royal Society, conveying the grant of Arms and Supporters. 150^{ab}.

This is a translated extract by Ashmole. A fair draught of the arms may be seen in No. 836, p. 723.

27. Pedigree of the Howard family, in narrative, down to the issue of Thomas Duke of Norfolk. 151^{ab}.

An old corrected draught, on a large sheet; the second leaf of which is blank.

† 28. Thomæ Comitæ Arundeliæ tituli cum legatus erat ad Germaniæ Electores anno 1636. 153.

A large folding sheet, printed in a very large type.

29. "The Arms whiche be on thes three shets of paper, were taken owt of the wyndows aud tombs that be remaynyng in the Abbay of Tewksberye." 154—6.

Thns are indorsed these trickings and notes, done by a hand of the time of Queen Elizabeth.

30. Letters of WILLIAM DAKINS Norroy King of arms, authorizing Henry Overton to exercise the trade of an Arms-painter, and appointing him his Deputy for the counties of Chester and Lancaster: with a statement of the fees due at "The funerall of a Knight," and "of an Esquire." (2 Nov. 1579.) 157.

Signed by him at the foot, over the label of the seal (which is lost), and attested by the signatures of Sir Geo. Calveley, Hugh Calveley, John Johnson, and Randolph Massy. It is written on parchment.

31. Like deputation of WILLIAM FLOWER Norroy King of arms, granted to Peter Proby, for the city of Chester. (21 June, 1578.) 158.

A wide (and folded) document on vellum, more neatly written than the foregoing, and signed in like manner: the seal has been cut off.

32. Certificate of the funeral and issue of Sir George Colt of Colteshale in Suffolk; who died 23 March, 1578, aged 93: with his standard and quarterings drawn, and the signatures of George and John Colt, and John le Huntte. 159.

This large sheet is the original draught in GLOVER'S hand. Henceforth the foliation is altered since f. 160 was removed into No. 1763, letter D.

33. Warrant under the signs manual of EDWARD VI. and his Councillors, appointing RICHARD TOURPYNE to the office of Hampnes Pursuivant (at Calais), in the stead of Nich. Tubman made Rougecrosse Pursuivant. 160.

This fine original document is written on vellum in the form of a petition. The signatures are—"T. Cant., T. Ely., R. Ryche Cam., W. Wilteshr., W. Northt., T. Wentworth, T. Cheyne, A. Wyngfeld, W. Herbert, N. Wotton, R. Sadleyr, E. Wotton."

34. Two large escutcheons, the latter, party per chevron gules, argent and sable, 3 casting collars or nooses: the former, quarterly of the same coat, and of argent a bend gules between six martlets sable. 161.

Rudely painted on paper.

35. An exemplification of the arms of, and grant of a crest to, Thomas Rudiarde of Rudiarde co. Staff. by WILLIAM DAKINS Norroy. (3 Oct. 1579.) 163.

This original patent is rudely ornamented round the margins: the signature is below, but both the seals are lost.

36. Tilting list and cheque, at a tourney between the Earl of Oxford, Charles Howard, Sir Hen. Lea, and Chr. Hatton, challengers, and seven sets of comers: with their arms tricked. 164.

See art. 38, and No. 837, art. xliii.

37. "These be the names of the noblemen and gentlemen, that for the honor of the Queene Ma^{tie} did their endeavor at the Tylt at Westminster on the xvijth day of November, beinge the first day of the xxiiijth yere of the reigne of queene Elizabeth," etc. (1581.) 165.

This title is subscribed by Glover to a list written on the outside of a sheet which contains an other tilting-list thus headed by him—

- "The Tournay holden at Westminster, on monday the 15. of May 1581, when the prince Delphine of Auvergne and other the Frenshe commissioners were here." 166^a—5^b.

38. A Tilting-list, showing the antagonists of the Earl of Oxford and three others. 167^a.

The list used on that occasion was art. 38, which is constructed differently: it is also in GLOVER'S hand, as is the following article, written on half of a leaf, inserted within this sheet.

39. "Hastiludium apud Westm' die Solis 6. Decembris 1584. coram Regina, inter nuptos decem et tot cœlibes." 168.

40. Proclamation (in French) of the adjudged conduct of combatants, and award of the prize, at a justing before Queen Elizabeth. 171^b.

41. Proclamation (in English) of the adjudgement of prizes to Don Fredericque de Toledo, and other foreign nobles, on an other occasion. 171^a.

Draught of an other proclamation (in English) concerning the conduct of gentlemen at the tilt and tourney, not named. 170^a.

These are written by GLOVER'S hand, on a sheet of paper formerly folded in quarto, but now bound up as a folio.

- III. "Visitacio facta in Thesauraria sancti Pauli London' per magistrum RADULFUM DE BAUDAK' ejusdem loci Decanum. Mense Aprilis. Anno gratie Millesimo, ducentesimo nonagesimo quinto. in presentia dominorum Roberti de Draytone Thesaurarij. Thome de Aswelle et Ricardi de Boclande. In quorum custodia inveniebantur subscripta. vidz. Morsus," etc. 172—187^b.

This very curious antient MS. on vellum, is an original duplicate of that in the possession of the Dean and Chapter of St. Paul's (B. f. 42^b—), from which this inventory was published by Dugdale in the third volume of the Monasticon, p. 309—332: but in the latter part these copies do not agree; for the original record of the visitation ends at Item unus pannus de Arest, (p. 326^b, line 19, and the sixth line from the foot of f. 185^a in MS.), and the rest in both copies consists of additions made at subsequent times. F. 186^b contains a curious list of precious cloths given by the King and others, from 1300 to 1311; and the other pages contain lists of albes, copes, and other vestments, to the year 1336.

- *IV. 1. Processus concordie facte inter Robertum Episcopum Londinensem, et Decanum et Capitulum S. Pauli, qua "super oblationibus quibuscunque ad ymaginem beate Marie virginis affixam cuidam columpne in navi dicte ecclesie London. ex parte australi ejusdem, et super jure percipiendi eadem," magister Ricardus Brynkele commissarius factus est ad examinandos testes; processus item examinationum inde factarum; coram ROBERTO NORTHLODE notario publico, anno 1402. ff. 189—201.

These very curious acts end in the examination of the twelfth witness, with these words—nescit iste juratus deponere nec ad cujus usum ut dicit. The copy seems to be unfinished: it is contemporary, and written on vellum, with wide margins. The first leaf is vacant (188), and the last page contains the following document of the same date as the beginning of this, and about the same matter.

2. Acta coram JOHANNE COUMBE*, 9 Dec. anno 1402, de concordia inter Robertum Episc. Lond. et Decanum Capitulumque S. Pauli, quod attestationibus testium acquiescere vellent, super eisdem oblationibus. 201^b.

* A notary public and clerk, of the diocese of Rochester: he was probably the same person as the writer of No. 754.

- V. Fragmentum Libri Redditalis antiqui, nomina tenentium multorum qui sequelam ad curias de Hereford et Prestone debebant, exhibens, cum notitia reddituum et servitorum. (ff. xij—xxxiiij.) 202—23^b.

The first heading is this:—"Isti sunt tenentes tenementi Johannis filij Johannis de Kynleye qui tenent nnum mesuagium et viginti duas acras terre arabilis. prati. pasture. et hosci. videlicet." The following are the names of places, as noted by antient hands: the MS. itself is written in a large hand of the time of Edward I.

Blakmare 202	Carewardyn 211 ^b	Swynemor 216
Tylbertone 202 ^b	Lulham 212	Brugge 216
Coblyntone 208	Bache 214	Maddeley 219
Abbrugge 211	Heynfrestone 215, 223	Welbetone 222 ^b

- VI. "Kalendare:" seu nomenclatura satyrica principum et gentium Europicarum, de rebus politicis et ecclesiasticis circa annum 1417, post Concilium Constantiense, scripta. 225^{ab}.

* One leaf of vellum that has been twice folded lengthwise, and then twice across, is thus indorsed. It contains three double columns, neatly written in the XVth century. The two first lines are, "Bisacutus—Papa: Collegium—Grea." The 108th line is, Rex Anglie—Justicia: the 130th, Duc Gloucestric—potestas: the 147th, Reformatio—Vita. The two last lines are—"T. POLTON—Sollicitudo. HENRICUS SURYNG—Pauper:" which are probably the names of the authors.

VII. Fragmentum indicis capitulorum totius Bibliæ, de rebus in quoque memorabilium. 225^{ba}.

One leaf of vellum written in columns in the XIVth century. It begins in the second book of Chronicles, thus, ij. virum—prudentissimum mittit gran in fabr. The last line is in the book of Wisdom, "xix—Ira—impis sine misericordia." This rubric follows—"Quere residuum hujus Kalendar' post finem libri ad tale signum ✠." The two pages are transposed.

No. 846.

A tall folio volume, consisting of twenty-three MSS. and papers, amounting to 221 leaves; of which the two first are a sheet (until lately, loose,) containing on its two first pages, the beginning of an old transcript of the first article.

I. "This [book] containeth the lively picture of that famous philosopher Philippus Theophrastus Paracelsus, so renowned above all others for his excellence in that divine art of healing, together with an explanation of certaine characters by him and other learned Chymists devised. Whereby as under a clowde they have covered their chiefe secrets of preparing true medicines from the vulgar sorte.

"Wherefore I deemed it not lost labor to present them to publique veive for the benefit of younge practitioners, including alsoe therby a familiar true and easie method to extracte the soll, sulphur, and mercurie from medicines animall vegetable and minerall by one example of each, reciting in those prepa[r]a[ti]o[n]s onely such characters as are demonstrated in open veive. Accept as a small token of love from a Well-wisher of Arte. Dat pyra et dat poma qui non habet alia dona." ff. 3—6.

This article consists of an alphabet of terms with their corresponding hieroglyphic figures; written on 4 large leaves of thick paper, in the XVIIth century.

II. "ISAAC HOLLAND his characters," copied by Ashmole, with explanations. 7^a.

A sheet spread open as one leaf.

III. "A Certificate of the severall and respective yearly Rents reserved out of the lands and possessions of the late Deanes and Chapters, Cannons, Prebends, and other persons in the severall acts of this present Parliamt mencōned to bee abolished, together wth the improved yearelie values thereof as they are respectively certified unto the Register by the severall and respective Surveyors of the premisses, and as by the Surveys thereof remayning in his custody may appear." 10—16^b.

This MS. (consisting of 10 large leaves, ff. 8—17) is an original book, fairly written, subscribed by "Ra. Hall Regist' dep.," directed "For the Comptroller this 6 March 1649," and noted "rec' eod' die." It contains full particulars of the tenants and tenements mentioned, belonging to the following Deaneries:

Windsor. 10^{ab}, 14^b—15.

S. Paul's. 10^b, 11^{ab}, 12^a, 13—14^b, 15—16.

York. 11^a, 14^b.

Lincoln. 11^b—12.

Westminster. 12^b—13.

Bristol. 13^a.

Rochester. 16^{ab}.

The four following leaves (18—21) are blank, inserted by the binder, and are of the same large size and fine quality as that of the two next MSS.

IV. "1595. A Catalogue shewing w^t Kings of Arms were in former age and now out of use in this realme, as also describing in manner of a descent, how the Kings Heralds and Pursuivants of Arms, have from ancient tyme succeeded one another; w^{ch} worke is contrived into severall Tables, for every Kings tyme one, beginning with King H: 5. shewing first when he entred, how long he reigned, and then how many Officers he created:

"Which Tables are divided into three heads or colum[n]s, the first and smallest rundells containeth all the Pursuivants names, how they were first admitted extraordinary, and secondly to be in ordinary, w^{ch} is written in red letters; from whence you are directed by a lyne unto the second collumne, w^{ch} sheweth how they were preferd from Pursuivants to be Heralds, from whence also by the same lyne unto the third collumne you shall find who were advanced to be Kings of Arms, and how sometymes they removed from one Kings place to another, w^{ch} order hath been observed and kept since the begining of H: 5. as by sundry presidents is confirmed: Gathered and collected (being in a manner obscured) and brought into this forme, by THOMAS LANT Portcuillis [Pursuivant] of arms, for a perpetuall memory thereof." 22—30^b.

This is a very fair transcript of Lant's Roll, which is preserved in the archives of the Office of Arms; another copy of it, by the author's own hand, in the Arundel MS. (in the same library,) No. 40, containing his "Observations," is described in the Catalogue by W. H. B. ASHMOLE hath continued this copy in the same elegant manner, to the end of the reign of Charles I.; and beautifully tricked the arms. There is an imperfect copy in No. 763, iii. art. 15.

V. I. Six descents of the Earls of Chester and their sisters, from "Richard Viscount of Auranches," with the arms of each; also the names and arms of the eight antient Barons of Cheshire, and "the Badge of the Prince Earle of Chester, 1397, 21 Ric. 2." 32^{ab}.

One hundred and thirty-two coats of Arms of the Knights and Gentlemen of Cheshire. 33—4.

This whole article was "Copied from an old roll in the hands of Sr: John Bowyer of Knipersley in the county of Staff: Knt: and Barr^t: 6: Mar: 1663." It is very neatly drawn and tricked by Ashmole, and the next article is exactly uniform.

2. One hundred and eight coats of Arms of the Knights and Gentlemen of Staffordshire. 34^b—35^b.

"Copied out of a booke, having the armes of the gentry of Staffordshire in collours, now in the hands of Sr: John Bowyer of Knipersley in the said county Knight and Barr^t: 7: Mar: 1663." Of the two last leaves of these three sheets, the former has been torn out: it was probably blank as the other one is, f. 36.

*VI. Proceedings at "A Court of Chivalry held in the painted chamber by the Parliament chamber within y^e city of Westminster the 24th: day of November, anno D'ni 1623. by Thomas Earle of Arundell and Surrey, Earle Marshall of England," etc. in the matters of Sir Thomas Harris about false arms, and Ralph Brooke, York Herald, about fees detained by Norroy and Richmond. 37—8^b.

The Earl Marshal revived his court on this occasion, and adjourned to the first of December. This is a fair transcript of a curious narrative by an eye-witness.

*VII. Letter from FRANCIS SEGAR to the Earl of Salisbury, sending to him the heads of the rein-deer and "Elend" deer, and communicating to him the continental news. (Cassell, 3 Nov. 1605.) 38^{ab}, 39^b.

The "abstract of a prognostication" written by a Helvetian, which was inclosed (and is mentioned on the indorsement) is not here preserved.

VIII. 1—3. Three pedigrees of the Mainwarings of Cheshire:—(1.) showing eight descents from Randall M. of Pever, to Charles M. (2.) certified by George M. in 1663; (3.) recorded at "Midlewich 14: Sept: 1663." 41^a, 41^b—2, 42^b—43.

Compare No. 836, artt. 196—7. These pedigrees have no arms, nor those which follow.

4. Pedigree of White, the three first descents of which are Poynant, Byrche, and a-Deane. 43^b.

5. Descents of Maynwarding and Brereton, from "Peter Clotton of Arclude in com: Cestr. 14: Hen: 7." 44^a.

"Ex evidencijs penes Georgium Maynwarding de Arclude gen."

6. Pedigree of Carteret of Jersey, descending to the children of Sir Philip Carteret, who died in 1662. f. 44^b—5.

"Ano: 1662. The following descent I collected from an old historical account of the Affaires of the Isle of Jersie, now in the hands of Sr: George Carteret Vicechamberlaine to the King. It being a litle MS: found in Sr: Thomas Aylesburies study, and given [to] Sr: Geo: Carteret by the Lord Chancellor Hyde." Note by ASHMOLE, (44^b.) who has written this pedigree vertically.

7, 8. Descents of William, James, and Charles Perrot, (three lawyers, the first of whom died in 1664,) and Tho. White of Fifield in Berks. (aged 15 in 1623,) from a common ancestor, the father of Sir Tho. White. 45^b—6.

9. Descents of Tempier and Perrin, and Weston. 46^b.

"Collected from out of the before mencōned litle MS: touch- ing some affaires of the isle of Jersie."

10. Pedigree of Kete of Berkshire, from 1524 to 1627. f. 48^a—7^b.

Written invertelly.

11. Successive descents of Roos of Helmesley, and Manners Earls of Rutland. 48^b—9.

Copied (vertically) from "Lib: E. 8. pag: 55 in Off: Arm." The foregoing pedigrees are fairly written by ASHMOLE, on 5 sheets of large paper, the 3 last pages of which are blank.

IX. "The answeres of Garter and Clarencieux Kings of arms, to the scrowle of arms exhibited by Raffe Brookesmouth caled York Herald." 50^{ab}.

After a preliminary statement, on the left hand of the paragraphs are painted the arms that 'foul mouthed Brooke' (as he was called) had complained of to the Earl Marshal, and on the right-hand margin the real coats that they were said to be like unto: one of the grants was to "Shakespere." This sheet bears the following indorsement:—"xxj^{mo}: Mar: 1601. The aunswere of Mr Garter and Mr Clarencieux to y^e informacōn preferred by the rest of the Herrawides against them for giving armes."

X. "A Ceremoniall of his Maties: proceeding to Chappell at such times as the sword of state is to be carried before his Matie:" drawn up by the Kings and Heralds in chapter, 12 June 1673. 52^{ab}.

This sheet is elegantly written, by the same hand as No. 1097.

XI. "The funerall solemnities at the interm^t: of Mr: W^m: Lovelace, at New Yorke in America, 1671." 54^{ab}.

This sheet was hastily written by the same hand as the foregoing.

XII. Descent of George Lord Berkley (living in 1660.) from Harding. 56^b.

Descent of Charles West, Lord De la Warre. (1660.) 57^a.

This printed sheet is printed in the form of the pedigrees in Dugdale's Baronage; but it does not appear therein, though probably designed for that work.

XIII. XIV. "The humble representation and petition of Sr. EDWARD WALKER K^t. Garter Principall King of Armes," to the House of Peers, praying for an order of the House to impower him to take certificates of the death, marriage, and issue of deceased Peers. 58^{ab}, 60^a.

Two successive draughts fairly written, and corrected by Garter: the former is dated 1 Oct. 1666. This petition was caused by the rejection of a bill proposed in the foregoing session, for the revival of the Earl Marshal's order for the recording of the burials of the nobility. The following article is a schedule belonging hereunto.

XV. "A Rolle of y^e Nobility of England that have dyed since y^e yeare 1642, and have had no certificates taken, or entred in the Office of Armes, of the times of their death, matches, issues, and armes." 62^{ab}.

Beside the 88 names under this title, there is a short list of noblemen and bishops, of whom certificates had been taken since the restoration.

XVI. "Divers Scotch wordes alphabetically disposed (w^{ch} were collected out of the translation of Hector Boetius set forth by Jo: Bellendine Archdeacon of Murray, and out of the translation of Virgill by G. Douglas BPP of Dunkelden) wth the English interpretation of them per me W. DUGDALE. A^o. 1646." 64—9.

This copious Glossary is neatly written by himself, in three double columns on each page, ruled with red lines.

XVII. "VENCESLAI CLEMENTIS a Lybeo-Monte, Garteriados sive aureæ periscelidis libri duo.

"Quibus illustriss. et antiquiss. dignitatis Equitum Garteri-orum origo, incrementa, progressus, velut in sciographia delineantur. Ad sereniss. reg. majest. supremum ordinis Principem, et inclytissimos augustissimi collegij Socios ac Equites." etc. (Lugduni Bat. ex off. W. Christiani, 1634.) 71—99^b.

This poem is dedicated to Charles I. and has an epistle from G. J. Vossius, and verses by Dan. Heinsius and M. Z. Boxhornius prefixed. It consists of 3 leaves and 52 pages, beautifully printed in folio, and 2 blank leaves. (f. 70 and 100.)

XVIII. 1. "The auncient manner and order of the Officers at Armes, to be trulie by them observed in tymes both of peace and warre, for services to their prince and countrey, therein shewing, what is to be observed at Coronacōns, Creations, Funeralls, and all other solemnities and orders of the feyld, made and confirmed in the yere of our Lord God 1568:" by THOMAS Duke of NORFOLK, Earl Marshal of England. 102—5.

See the other copy in No. 857, art. 5.

2. "The aunciente authoritie of a Kinge of Armes in his province." 105^b—6.

This article consists of 12 points of his duty and authority, and seems to have been compiled in or before the time of Henry VIII. It begins thus—Firste as neere as he can he shall knowe the armes. Another copy of this, and of the three next articles, is in No. 857, art. 1.

3. "The othe of a Pursyvaunte." 106^b.

4. "The othe of a Heralde w^{ch} heretofore in olde tyme hath bin observed." 106^b—7^b.

5. "The othe of a Kinge of Armes." 108^{ab}.

6. "The order given to a Knight newe made, "Great worshipp be this noble order unto you." 109.

7. "The othe of a Knighte of the Garter beinge a straunger:" and the form of investiture. 109^{ab}.

8. Ordinances said to have been made by Julius Cæsar, Octavian, Hannibal, and Carolus Magnus, "For the honor and mayntenance of Heraldrerie." 110^{ab}.

Compare No. 764, art. 3.

9. Verses about Alexander and Porus: beg. What tyme the worthie Alexander at whose triumphant fame. (12. 1.) 111^a.

10. "The firste foundacōn of the office of Armes. Eneas by the grace of God." 112—5^b.

Ending thus—much honored and susteyned. It is the same tract or epistle as No. 764, art. 1.

This MS. consists of 18 leaves of large paper, (the first and 3 last of which are blank) written in secretary-hand in the time of Q. Elizabeth, with ingrossed headings, etc. and within wide margins.

XIX. 1. Inquisitio capta per sacramentum liberorum hominum et fratrum Hospitalis S. Leonardi (olim S. Petri) Eboracensis, de fundatione ejusdem, et de terris ejus per Decanum et alios subtractis. 119.

The first leaf or leaves of this MS. (which is written in a small secretary-hand of the time of Q. Eliz. or James I.) having been lost, the beginning of this document is wanting: it is recited in letters patent of dated at Wyndesore, 8 Maij anno 10.

2. RICARDI COV. et Liel. episcopi, literæ de cantaria et collegio institutis in ecclesia de Bunbury, per dominum Hug. de Calveley. (12 Junij 1388.) 119^{ab}.

The middle part of this document is omitted.

3. Charta RICHARDI Comitis Cornubiæ, de capella terrisque quas concedit fratribus ordinis S. Trinitatis et captivorum de Kuayresburgh. 119^b.

Much abridged. See it in Dugdale's Monasticon, ii. 834.

4. Regis Edwardi I. charta de multis privilegiis concessis Abbatia de Dernhall, per eundem regem nuper fundatæ, et de Valle Regali nuncupatæ. (15 Maij, anno 27.) 120—1^b.

Printed in the Monasticon, i. 936—9.

5. Fundatio "Cantariæ in Monasterio de Campeshe in diocesi Norwicensi." 121^b.

Only the beginning of a patent of Edw. III., (printed in the Monasticon, i. 490,) the leaf that followed having been lost. The beginning of the next article is wanting.

6. R. Edwardi II. literæ patentis de inspeccionis, in quibus chartæ regie Monasterio de Bardestapla factæ recitantur. (25 Dec. anno 10.) 122^{ab}.

The recitals are in the Monasticon, i. 684.

7. "Notley Monasterium canonicorum:" scil. charta qua "Walterus Giff. Comes Buckingham, et Eringandis Comitissa uxor" ejus, concesserunt eidem parcum, etc. 122^b.

Monasticon, ii. 154.

8. "In cronicis Abbatia de Tynterne in Wallia, reperitur sic"* de genealogia fundatorum ejus, Comitum Pembrochiæ. 123—6.

* Anno D'ni millesimo sexagesimo sexto obiit sanctus Eduardus rex Angliæ, etc. Printed in the Monasticon, i. 724—7, from the Cottonian MS. Cleopatra, C. III. f. 303^b. At this article begins an old paging which extends to the end of this MS. (p. 38.)

9. "In cronicis Prioratus Lanthoniæ in Wallia reperitur sic"* de genealogia Laciurum. 126^{ab}.

* Anno D'ni 1066. Willihelmus dictus Bastard, etc. See the Monasticon, ii. 69.

10. "Extractum ex Abbatia de Wigmore," de conquestu Angliæ ac fundatione ejusdem Abbatia. 126—7.

Inc. Sanctus Edwardus Rex. Compare this and the next art. with the Monasticon, ii. 220—9.

11. "Genealogia fundatorum supradictæ Abbatia sancti Jacobi de Wigmore. Rogerus de Mortuomari hæres futurus obiit"—(8 cal. Jul. 1215.) 127—9.

12. "In chronicis Prioratus Lanthoniæ juxta Gloucest' reperitur sic"* de genealogia Bohunorum. —131^b.

* Memorandum quod in tempore regis Henrici filij Willihelmi Conquestoris. Ashmole has made this reference—"Vide MS. (Glov[er] lib: 2. fo: 123. b.)" and added a paragraph at the end. That MS. is the same from which this art. was printed in the Monasticon, ii. 66—9. From the old paging it seems that one leaf is wanting between this and the next article.

13. Genealogia historica Regum Angliæ, a conquestu ad nativitatem Edwardi principis, anno 1454: inc. Anno gratiæ 1066 Willielmus Dux Normanniæ dictus Nothus. 132—6.

The second leaf is wanting (pp. 23—4) between ff. 132—3. The last words are—“Teste Episcopo Winton' qui eum baptizavit et tenuit sub manibus d'ni Cardinalis confirmantis. Finis hujus Rotule in hac genealogia.”

14. Regum Scotiæ genealogia, ad Jacobum II. inc. Malcolmus rex Scotorum desponsavit sanctam Margaretam. 136^b—7.

15. Genealogia historica Perciorum, a conquæstu Angliæ ad Henricum Percy nonum, tertium Comitem Northumbriæ: inc. Fuit igitur sceundum seculi fratrum clarissimis exortus natalibus. 137—8^b.

16. Genealogia Tysonorum et Vesciorum; inc. Gisbrightus Tyson fuit dominus de Brillinton. 139^{ab}.

In fine sic—“Iste RADULPHUS EURE filius et hæres Will'mi Eure militis istam Rotulam scribi fecit, quæ scripta erat in die sancti Paulini archiepiscopi A° D'ni 1458 per manus fratris THOMÆ PICKERINGE tunc precentoris Monasterij sanctorum Petri et Hildæ de Whitby.” Compare the four foregoing articles with Tanner's Bibliotheca, p. 599.

XX. Collectanea e diversis instrumentis chartisque, de familia Blount (unde Dominus Mountjoy) ad stemma conficiendum idonea. 140—150.

The margins of this MS. are ruled off, with pencil to the same size as the foregoing; but it is differently written, with pale ink, and in a very coarse old hand. The third leaf (f. 142) has been torn out.

*XXI. “A remembrance of the see loste from Dover to Winche[ly]sey:” by Captain * “J. GORING.” 151—2.

* In an old indorsement (the rest of which cannot be read) the writer of this sheet is so called, which though headed with a title, is subscribed in the form of a letter.

XXII. Articles of inquiry “Touchinge Thexchequer,” with “The names of the officers unto whom this charge is to be given,” for the discovery and reformation of abuses therein. 153—154.

This sheet seems to have been written in the time of Charles I.

XXIII. “Memorandum” that the “Shipe Loyalty sett sayle from Carwar 18 Aprill 1646;” and the names of six men who died in the voyage. 155.

An account of the voyage and state of the ship “Loyonesse,” by “Jov: BROOKHOORN” the captain: dated “Soldaina bay p^{ro}: October An^o. 1646.” 155^b—6.

A fair “Copia.”

XXIV. Consilia “De conservanda sanitate, et retardanda senectute,” et aliis rebus medicis, Gallice pleraque: simul et Medicamentorum insignium a diversis medicis acceptæ compositiones: (pp. 126.) cum Indice. 157—220^b.

The alphabetical Index of matters occupies the last leaf of this closely and fairly written MS., which is of the middle of the XVIIth century.

No. 847.

A tall folio MS. consisting of 134 leaves of paper, very neatly written (with wide margins) by ROBERT GLOVER Somerset Herald: it is noticed in the list of his books, in No. 836, p. 767.

Prefixed is a fly-leaf of vellum, finely written in columns in the XIIth century, containing—

JOSEPHI de bello Judaico libri vii. (capp. 18—20), fragmentum, Latine: inc. Egyptiorum quidem rex Asocheus, et fin. sed sua sponte ad supplicium

At the foot of the third column is this note by Glover's hand—“This booke was gyven to Mr J D[ee] of Mortlake by his cousyn Mr Olyver Lloyd of the Welsh Pole. 1575. Mense Novembris. die. 12. At Mortlake.”

1. “An exposition of certeyn Welshe wordes, taken out of a Dictionary in Englishe and Welshe made by WILLIAM SALESBURY, and prynted by Robert Crowley dwellinge in Elye rentes in Holburne. Anno D'ni 1550.” (From letter A to T.) f. 1—5^b.

2. “The acts and successions of the British Princes, from Cadwalader to the yeare of Christ 1156. Collected by CARADOC of Lancarvan; augmented by HUMFRY LLOYD to the yeare 1270.” 6—118.

This title is neatly written by E. ASHMOLE, whose autograph is in the margin. The transcript begins—After that Cadwallader the last kinge of the Britons, and ends thus:—“After this ther was nothinge don in Wales worthie memory: but that it is to be read in the English Cronicle, etc. At London 17 Julij 1559. By Humfry Lloyd.” This MS. considerably differs from the editions published by Dr. David Powell in 1582 and 1584, especially at and after the end of the ‘Brytish copie:’ compare p. 327 of the second edition (Bodl. Gough, Wales, 29,) with f. 113 of the MS.

3. “Spiritus Grono ap Ednyvet apparuit super mortem Principis, et ita affatur:”—(verses in Welsh and in English.) 118^b.

4. Two stanzas in Welsh, about the three sons of Rodry; with an English version in metre. 118^b.

“MORICE KYPHIN did thus translate them 12 Februarij 1578. after Thomas Griffith had given them to Mr. J. Dee of Mortlake, his cousin.” Glover's note.

5. Forty-eight short Welsh descents of Mothers, the first of which is—“Mam Susanna oedd Yngharad verch Ywain ap Edwin Brenhin Tegeingil.” 120—2.

“This much was written owt of the Britische booke, where the history of Humfry Lloyd is in Welshe written.” Glover's note at the end.

6. Eleven Welsh words of kindred expressed in Latin. 122^b.

7. A hundred and ninety-seven Coats of Arms: the first 162 of which, are those of Welsh Progenitors, with notices of their descendants; and the rest are those of “Anglici possidentes terras in Cambria.” 124—133—4^b.

Very neatly tricked by Glover; who on the margin of f. 128 has noted and explained the usual abbreviations of Welsh names.

No. 848.

A tall folio volume bound in rough calf, containing 115 leaves, very fairly written by the same hand as the MS. last described. This is the MS. referred to by Ashmole as Glover's book "D," in his extracts from it in No. 860, p. 112—5, and No. 1121, p. 223, 237.

ROBERTI GLOVERI Feclialis eruditi Miscellancorum liber, seu Collectanea atque transcripta ad genealogiam et historiam familiarum Angliearum valde idonea. Scilicet—

1. "Collectanea ex Collectancis JOHANNIS LEYLANDI Antiquarij." f. 1—6.

In the margin is written "J. Stow," whence it appears that Glover copied Stowe's extracts from Leland's MSS. The passages are—

- "Ejusdem [sc. Lelandi excerpta] ex libro Veri Canonici s'cae Osithæ in Essex, de miraculis S. Osithæ." 1.
- De obitibus nobilium sepulcorum "In parochia ecclesie de Gynesburgh." 1.
- De fundamento ecclesie S. Petri Ebor. anno 1290 jacto. 1^b.
- "Ex antiquo codice monasterij de Bello-riso" (seu Beauvoir) de nobilibus ibidem sepultis, etc. 1^b.
- De morte d'ni Gualtheri de Cantilupo, anno 1265: una cum Gloveri stemmate, progeniem ejus monstrans. 2.
- "Fundatio monasteriorum de Kirkham, Rivaulx et Wardon, et successio Dominorum de Roos," ad annum 1513. 2^b—3^b.
- "Patronatus [xiv] abbatiarum et prioratum Thomæ Comitis de Rutheland." 3^b.
- Short history of the castles of Montferrant and Mulgreve, built by the Lords Mauley. 3^b—4.
- Stemma Perciorum, sex gradus a conquestu ostendens. 4^b.
- Account of the families of D'Oilli and Gournay; with the monumental inscription of Maheu de Gournay. (Ob. 26 Sept. 1406, æt. 96.) 5^{ab}.
- De quorundam monasteriorum fundatoribus notulæ. 5^b.
- Account of the families of Beauchamp and Basset, and the death of Sir Richard Vaughan. 5^b—6.

2. Alia ex JOHANNIS STOWI Collectancis excerpta, scilicet—

- "Ex libro incerti authoris de Episcopis Lindisfarnensibus" seu Dunelmensibus: "per J. Stow." 6^b.
- "Ex statuto de prærogativa regis edito anno 17 Ed. 2:" de hæreditate baroniæ Monemuthensis, et Gulielmi Marescalli. 6^b.
- "Ex cronicon Magistri de Peter Colege." 7.

Probably also the following article—

3. Abstracts of a grant of the wardship of Rich. Conquest to Will. Mordaunt of Hempsted, by Richard Earl of Kent (2 Dec. 22 Hen. VII.); and a partition of the lands of Edward Earl of Worcester, between his heirs. (12 Feb. 3 Hen. VII.) 7.

4. Tres chartæ abbreviatæ, cum sigillis calamo depictis; scil.

- De partitione terrarum inter Beatricem uxorem Reg. Cokayn et tres alias hæredes Johannis Waleys. (9 Julij, 8 Hen. VI.) 7^b.
- Thomæ Iloo arm. de Will'o Cheyne. (13 Edw. IV.) 7^b. Vide No. 1121, p. 223.
- Grant of the ward of Thomas son of John atte Lathe, by Thomas Earl of Norfolk, to his brother-in-law John Jeremay: in French. (3 Jan. . . . Edw. III.) 8a.

5. Excerpta notabilia, in quorum fine notatur— "Huc usque ex minore Registro ecclesie sancti Petri de Burgh' quondam fratris WALTERI DE WYTLESEY." 10—18^b.

At the beginning is this distich—

"Witlissey natus Walter Burg jam monachus Hunc recolens Christum, librum Petro dedit istum."

- (1) "Fundatio quarundam abbatiarum prioratum et cenobiorum de ordine monachorum in Anglia." 10.
 - (2) "Nomina feodorum militum sancti Petri de Burgo." Cum armis eorum a Glovero delineatis. 11^b.
 - (3) De abbate Thoroldo, qui feoda illa alienavit; et de militibus quibusdam post mortem ejus. 15^b.
 - (4) De conspiratione baronum post mortem regis Johannis, et quomodo tandem rex factus est filius ejus Henricus: cum aliis rebus historicis. 16.
 - (5) Chartæ quamplurimæ, vel excerptæ vel transcriptæ. 16^b—18^b.
6. Inquisitio post mortem Galfridi Kidwelly (qui ob. 8 Mar. 1 Ric. III.) de manerio de Upton Moyles in com. Berks. et aliis terris, et de hæredibus ejus et assignatis. 19^a.

An abridged copy.

7. "Ex minore Historia fratris MATHEI PARISIENSIS" * quamplurima de magnatibus Angliæ (cujus in margine delineata sunt arma) excerpta historica et genealogica. 20—33^b.

* —"in bibliotheca Comitis Arundeliæ custodita," as it appears by the note at the end. The last seven pages are from the continuation; see the verses and note at f. 30^b.

8. A short history of the foundation of "Worsoppe Abbey," (3 Mar. 3 Hen. I.) and the genealogy of its founders, in English verse (29 st. of 7.), with Latin epitaphs inserted, and records of the birth of John Talbot Earl of Shrewsbury (vig. S. Lucie 1448) and the deaths of Will. de Lovetoft the founder (7 id. Apr. . . .) and Thomas de Fournivall (4 id. Majj), at the end. 34^b—8.

Copied "Out of an old parchemin lent me by Mr Talbot of Grafton in October. Anno D'ni. 1587." It seems imperfect at the beginning, the first line being—Which had that affiaunce and inspiration. The last stanza but one begins thus—"This processe one PICOTE brevely thus saith:" which probably gives the name of the original historian of these matters, rather than that of the rhymet. The poem was unknown to Dugdale and Tanner.

9. "In fine historie ROGERI DE HOVEDON quæ sequuntur scripta reperiuntur."—

- (1) "Littera ejusdam Magnatis scribentis ad quendam magnatem amicum suum in principio werræ inter regem Johannem Angliæ et barones." 38^b.
- (2) "Hæc sunt nomina baronum qui capti sunt in civitate Lincolniæ in werra prædicta." 39^a.
- (3) "Ibidem" de numero scyrarum Angliæ, et quot cuique legi sive dominio Saxonum pertinebant: etiam quot hide in unoquoque xiiij Angliæ comitatum continentur. 39^b.

10. Lodovici filii Philippi regis Franciæ, epistola ad Abbatem et conventum Cantuariæ, de jure suo in regnum Angliæ prætenso: et quomodo Abbas erga eum se gessit. (Anno 1216.) "Ex Cronicon WILL'MI THORN." 40—1^b.

11. Excerpta historica "Ex Registris Archiepiscopi Cantuar. JOH'Æ STOW collectore:" scilicet—

Recognitio consuetudinum et libertatum facta per episcopos, coram rege et magnatibus, anno 1164. f. 42—3.

"Consuetudinum recognitarum quedam pars presenti scripto continetur: cuius partis capitula hæc sunt quæ sequuntur." 43.

"Hæ sunt constitutiones quas constituit Henricus Rex in Normannia." 44^b—5^b.

An English note about these articles. 45^b.

12. "Adhuc ex Registro WILLMI THORN:" de manerio de Newynton, et quibusdam chartis, pactis, etc. 46—7.

In fine—"Huc usque ex Cronicon Willmi Thorn monachi sancti Augustini Cant." These extracts from Thorne's MS. in artt. 10 and 12, were probably made by Stowe, while it was in Abp. Parker's possession (who died in 1575): it is now among his MSS. at Cambridge, No. 189, and has been inaccurately printed in Twysden's collection of historians, 1652, fol.

13. Covenant between Mons. Paen Tybetot and Sampsoun de Stretleye, about lands in Eperreston: in French. (27 Dec. 7 Edw. II.) 47^b.

With a tricking of the seal of Paganus de Tivetot.

14. Chartæ antiquæ quamplurimæ transcriptæ "Ex magno Registro evidentiariarum spectant' DUCATUI LANCASTRIÆ." 48—60^b.

"Cartæ Regum et confirmationes." 48	"Comitatus Ebor." 56 ^b

———— Suth. 66 ^b	"Honor sive soka de Bolingbrok." 70—2.

16. "Tractatus cum exteris, ex archivis regijs in Turri London." 73—95^b.

These notes are chiefly taken from the French and Gascon rolls: they are not exclusively relating to treaties.

17. Amplum familiæ de Latymer stemma historicum, a quodam Comite Lincolnensi deductum. 96^a.

"Iste pes-gradus scribitur secundum copiam manu JOHANNIS MORDAUNT militis scriptam 21. die Julij anno 22. H. 7. et prædictus Johannes scripsit eandem copiam [mense?] Julij. anno D'ni. 1497. ut patet per eandem copiam." This note is written by Glover in the upper corner. Sir John Mordaunt was the second husband of Editha, one of the coheirs of Sir Nicholas Latymer.

18. Chartæ Simonis de Esshe, Emmæ filiæ Ismania Mortimer de Esche, et Will. de Esshe, abbreviatæ. 96^b.

Dated 1346, 1330, and 1358. The seals are hastily tricked.

19. "Relectiones Registri evidentiariarum Prioratus de Alvingham monialium in com' Lincoln. Anno 1588." 98—102^b.

Among these charters are tricked by Glover the Descents of—(1.) "Alicia filia et hæres Willmi de Redburne" from Rob. de

Prendergest senior. 98^b; (2.) "Philippus de Chauncy, d'ns totius villæ de Swynehop, superstes. 19 Ed. primi" from Simon de C. 99^b; (3.) "Robertus filius Thomæ de Kaburna" from Galfridus de Thurs de K. 102^b. At f. 101^b is a narrative pedigree of the D'Arcy family, written in 1334. At the end is this note:—"Huc usque ex præfato Registro de Alvingham: reliqua reperies scripta in libro Miscellaneorum tertio."

20. "Placita coram Rege et concilio suo ad Parliamenta sua, post festum sancti Hillarij, et etiam post pascha, anno 18. Ed. filij R. Henrici." et aliis annis. (1290—1307.) 103—110^b, 115^a.

At the end is this note, "Huc usque ex dicto Libro Parliamentari spectanti olim Willmo Roper ar', postea Roberto Hare, et nunc W. Fletewod Recordario London' anno 1588. Reliqua inde desumpta inveniuntur in tertio Miscellaneorum libro." The last page has been transposed to the end of the book.

21. Excerpta et annotationes ex Originalibus, et alijs Scaccarii recordis, diversorum annorum, ab Edw. I. ad 17 Edw. IV. f. 115^b, 111—4.

Copied from the collections of "STRANGMAN," whose name is written on the corner of the first page of this article, which is at the end of the volume.

No. 849.

A thick folio volume, bound in old stamped calf, containing above 800 pages very neatly written within wide ruled margins, on thin fair paper.

"Britannia, or a Chorographical Description of the most flourishing Kingdoms of England, Scotland, and Ireland, and of the Ilands adjacent: drawne out of the most inward secrets of antiquitie. Written in Latin by WILLIAM CAMDEN, and translated into English by RICHARD KNOLLES."

At the foot of this elegantly written title, is the following note, written by "Pe: Fanwood," (whose autograph is at the end of "Northumberland" and "Ireland.")—"This being Mr William Camden's manuscript found in his owne library lock't in a cupboard as a treasurer he much esteemed, and sinc[e] his death suffered to se light."

After this first leaf, the preface "To the reader" occupieth 6 pages: on the seventh are some verses in Latin and English; and on the 17th begins "Britannia," where a new paging begins, which has been for the most part cut off by the original binder. Northumberland is subscribed "1598 sext. Cal. Jul." This volume also comprehends "Scotland" and "Ireland and the lesser Ilands in the British ocean." After the last page of the text—"Heare followeth an Alphabetical Index to give notice to the laborious reder in what folio to find any sheare:" which is rudely written, and occupieth the rest of the volume. Within the second cover is written "Rich. Champion his booke 1657:" whose name also occurs on the fly-leaf before the title.

Between pages 98 and 99 are inserted eight plates of coins; and the wood-cuts of the printed book are pasted in their proper places.

Dr. Bliss hath given a notice of this MS. in his edition of Wood's Ath. Oxon. II. col. 82; see also col. 344.

No. 850.

* * No. 850, 851, 852, are large folio volumes, uniformly bound in mottled calf, with clasps, and stamped with Ashmole's arms on each cover: they are well written by his own hand, and relate to the topography and family-history of Wiltshire.

VOL. I. "Verum exemplar Insignium, Epitaphiorum, venerandaque antiquitatis Inscriptionum aliquot, necnon paucae clarioresque Tumulorum Icones, in omnibus Ecclesijs et alijs locis BERCHERIENSIS Comitatus, ibidem existentes, posteritatisque consecratae per ELIAM ASHMOLE armigerum, Windsorij Heraldum ad arma, Deputatum Marescallumque ab Edovardo Bysshe milite, Armorum Rege Clarenceux, pro comitatu predicto." (pp. 1—367.)

This very valuable and curious volume contains Ashmole's fair copies of his Church-notes taken in his favorite county, Berkshire, chiefly in 1664, 1665, and 1666, during his Visitation thereof. The inscriptions are carefully copied, and the arms are very well tricked. At the end (after 5 blank pages) is "The Table" or Index of Surnames, (p. 11, and followed by 24 blank leaves), but there not being any Index of Places, a list of the Hundreds is here subjoined.

This MS. furnished nearly all the matter of the three octavo volumes intitled "The Antiquities of Berkshire," published in 1719, at London, under the name of Elias Ashmole esq.; which contain little more than these monumental inscriptions without the arms. It is remarkable that though the title of this MS. is copied there, at page 1, the addition to the first page of the MS. written opposite, is not given in that work. It was reprinted at London in 1723, in the same form, and at Reading in 1736 in folio: a copy of the first edition is in this Library; and copies of all the editions are in the Bodleian, some with MS. notes.

Small papers are inserted at pages 50 and 293. Pages 196—7, are a print of an engraved figure of the monument of Jane Robinson, with the inscription in letter-press in the middle. At p. 337 and 347, are inserted the two halves of another print; and at p. 350 is another print, representing the tomb of Edw. Somerset Earl of Worcester, from Ashmole's Order of the Garter. Within the second cover is fixed a—Letter to Ashmole from THOMAS WILKINSON of Lawrance Waltham, describing a tombstone with a brass escutcheon* (dug up in the church at that place) and a coat of arms in a window at Woburn church; dated 4 Feb. 1673.

* "On a bend, 3 mascles, within each mascle a garb; over all a file of 5." No such coat appears at p. 252—6 of this MS.

VOL. II. "Visitatio BERCHERIENSIS Comitatus incepit Anno Domini 1664*, et desijt Anno Domini 1666. per ELIAM ASHMOLE armig. Windsorij Heraldum ad arma, Deputatum Marescallumque ab Edovardo Bysshe milite, Armorum Rege Clarenceux, pro comitatu predicto." (pp. 1—288.)

This title is written on the seventh of 18 leaves which precede the paging of the pedigrees; and on f. 9^a, 10^a, 11^a, 12^a, 13^a, are tricked the seals of the towns of Wallingford, Abendon, New Windsor, Reading, and Newbury, with statements about their corporations. Ff. 14—15^b contain the following Index of the Pedigrees.

* In his Diary, he says that his Deputation was sealed by Sir Edw. Walker, 17 Feb. 1665, that he began his Visitation 11 March following, and ended it at Windsor 30 March [1666].

* The inscription of the Pusey horn is inserted at p. 82.

This is a most authentic and valuable copy, being a duplicate of the original, except that it has no signatures. Ashmole carefully noted the very day on which each pedigree was certified; and set down, on the corner of each page, the hundred in which the family lived.

Sixteen leaves at the end contain the—List of Disclaimers of the style of esquire or gentleman. f. 12—16.

"Copy of the warrant to the high Sheriff of the county of Berks, to the Clarke of the peace of the said county, and to the Register* of the BP: of Salisbury; to each of which was annexed a catalogue of the names of such persons as disclaimed title to armes." 15^b—16.

* This warrant is in No. 840, art. 192.

Farther at the end are inserted two sheets and a leaf of smaller paper, containing printed forms of documents used in this visitation, and thus intided by Ashmole's hand—

- "First warrant to the high Constables of the several hundreds." 17^a.
 "Second warrant to the hig[h] Constables of the several hundreds." 18^a.
 "The high Sheriffs warrant to the Bayliffs of the hundreds." 19^a.

See also N^o. 840, artt. 189, 190, 191.

No. 837, art. I. contains a list of the Gentlemen of this county, made at the time of this visitation, with the names of their wives and heirs; and impressions of the seals of arms of all or nearly all, are in No. 1138, ff. 105^a—114^a.

No. 852.

VOL. III. 1. Pedigrees taken at sundry Visitations of Berkshire, reduced into one alphabetical series by ELIAS ASHMOLE Windsor Herald; with most of the Arms tricked. pp. 1—202.

This book was probably compiled in order to his Visitation of the same county in 1665: it seems to have been written later than the following MS. which is bound up with it; both forming a volume which contains 386 pages.

2. The Visitation of Berkshire, recorded by HENRY CHITTING Chester Herald, in 1623; transcribed by Ashmole, with the Arms in trick, and the Signatures in fac-simile. pp. 235—385.

The Pedigrees of this book are foliated ff. 19—85, and by those numbers are the references made to them in the Index at pp. 392—393; which is here given, with additional references (included in parentheses) to the pages of the former part of this volume where the same families occur: such as are in the former part only, are here inserted in Italics.

* * This MS. and that which follows, are folio volumes of a smaller size than the three foregoing, and bound in the same manner: they consist of good paper, of which the former contains 146 leaves (including those afterward inserted) beside 10 blank leaves at the beginning; and the latter, 360 pages, beside 11 blank leaves at the beginning, and 16 at the end.

VOL. I. The Sepulchral Inscriptions and armorial bearings in the churches, etc. of Staffordshire, collected * and written by ELIAS ASHMOLE esq. with drawings of the Arms and principal Monuments. (ff. 1—80.)

* Chiefly in 1658 and 1663. It should be observed, that in August 1662, Dugdale, then Norroy King of Arms, went to perform his Visitation of the counties of Derby and Nottingham, accompanied with Ashmole; in March following (1663), they went together to the Visitation of Staffordshire and Derbyshire; and on 3 Aug. in the same year, they set out to visit Shropshire and Cheshire. (Ashmole's Diary, p. 38, 39.) The Church notes, etc. gleaned in these travels were afterward fairly copied into these two volumes: and the dates that they contain may be important, as fixing a day in which such monuments were existing. The names of the places and other particulars follow.

The rest of this book is vacant, to the extent of 60 leaves.

Three loose leaves have been found containing original draught-notes of this work, the first of which is in pencil: this having been marked 85, and the second 87, by Ashmole, the third is now marked 89, and they are inserted between the first blank leaves.

(1.) Inscriptions "In the chancell [and other parts] of St Mary's Lichf." and in "Chappell church in Lichf." 85^{ab}.

(2.) Inscriptions "In the chancell [and church-yard] of St. Mich: Lichf." 87^{ab}.

These are not entered at f. 68—70^b. One of them is for Ashmole's grandfather Thomas.

(3.) Notes of arms, and inscriptions "In the greate west window of Lichfeild cathedrall," and in other parts thereof. 89^{ab}.

35. "The duty of the Belman concerning payyng etc." 233.

36. Ordinances of the Guild of our Lady and S. John Baptist, in Lichfield (founded in 1387), "taken out of Latyn into English, the 13 day of Jan: the 39 yeare of — Hen: the 8, by RICHARD WATWOOD then being M^r." 243—9.

The rest of this volume is vacant, namely pp. 250—450. Between the two last leaves, many have been cut out; and on p. 448 is fixed a quarto sheet, the first page of which contains the original draught of the—

Epitaph of John, second son of John Gookin of Kent, esq., scholar of Corpus Christi College, who died 11 Aug. 1635, aged 20.

No. 856.

VOL. II.—A collection of Tracts and Documents chiefly relating to the office of Earl Marshal of England, and the Court of Chivalry.

1. "The names and armes of the Earles Marshall of England, collected by FRANCIS THYNN, in the yeare of our redemption 1601." etc. dedicated to Charles Howard, Earl of Nottingham. pp. 1, 3—13.

Noticed in the quarto edition of Wood's Athenæ, II. 109.

2. "A briefe discourse of the Earle of Nottingham:" or a narrative of his descent, in Latin. 14—15.

It seems to be only an extract, and begins thus—Prisquam de Carolo Howarde ejusdem familie Protho-Comite Nottinghamie aliquid dixerit, si ejusdem stemma etc.

3. "Collections of English matters of England's Marshall's:" viz.

(1) "Ces sont les usages que Thomas de Brotherton fitz au Edward le premier claymoit a user par loffice de Mariscalcy. Marescalcia autem est quedam seriantia regis." 16—21.

Part of this is in French: it is noted in the margin, that the Latin parts agree almost word for word with Fleta, lib. 2. cap. 4 et 5.

(2) "In Rubro Libro de Scaccario regis fol. xxx^o. sic continetur de Mariscallo. Et preter hoc debet Magister Mariscalcia." 21—8.

Only the beginning is in Latin. It ends thus—"et eovenantes de chascune temps. Cy fyne l'office de Counte Marshall et de ces serviteurs." See also No. 863, p. 47—52.

(3) Remarks on the two foregoing documents, introducing those which follow. 28—9.

(4) "Ces sont les estatutes et ordinaances et eustomes a tenir in le Host, ordeynes et faitz par boone advisement [et] deliberacion de nostre tres-excellent souveraigne seigneur le Roy Richarde et Joh'ne Duc de Lancaster Senescall Dangleterre Thomas Counte de Essex et de Buckingham Conestable d'Angleterre, et Thomas de Moubray Counte de Nottingham, Marescall d'Angleterre, et autres seigneurs countes barons et bannerettes, et sages chivaliers, queux ils voillent appeller a eux, lors esteante a Duresme le xvij jour de moys de Juill lane du regne n're seigneure le Roy Richarde le second, le noefisme." 30—8.

The former part is thus subscribed at p. 35—"These be the orders set downe at Durham for the army to performe; which consisted of theis noblemen of armes wth archers, as here ensueth."

(5) Extract from "The record called the Black Booke of the Exchequer, remayneing in the receipt of that court, written 23 H. 2. Marescalli cura est talleas debitorum." 39.

(6) "Out of the booke intituled Domus Regni Angliæ,* contayning the orders for the King's house, written in Latyne and English, being made in the tyme of King Ed. 4th." 40—2.

* Published by the Society of Antiquaries, in a Collection of Ordinances etc. 1799, 4^o. pp. 15—95.

(7) "Certaine collections out of the Chancery Records* remayneing in the Tower." 42—8.

* Charter-rolls, Patent-rolls, and Close-rolls.

(8) "Out of the Parliament Roles remayneing in the Tower." (13 Ric. II.) 49—50.

(9) "Statute of Westm^r 2." (13 Edw. I. cap. 42.) 51—2.

(10) "Out of a Close Role of H. 3. remayneing in the Tower." 52.

(11) Appointments of Earls Marshals, "Out of the records of the Chancery remayneing in the Roles in Chancery lane." 52—67.

(12) An inquisition concerning the fees of John Mowbray, Duke of Norfolk and Earl Marshal (2 Edw. IV.), and other collections, "Out of the Records in the Tower." 67—70.

(13) "Out of Lieger Bookes* and Historyes." † 71—6.

* Only the "Liber monasterij de Glasenbury" is cited.

† Thomas de Walsingham, p. 147.

(14) "Landes holden of the Marshalsy:" from two inquisitions*. 77.

* Post mortem Hen. Scroop, 37 H. VI. et Will. Bosune, 2 H. VI.

(15) "Matters collected concerning the Marshalls

- office out of the Bookes of the Law" or Year-books. 78—80.
- (16) "The names and armes of the Marshalls of England." 81—2.
- *4. A book "Of the manner and order of combatting within listes, delivered by THOMAS DUKE of GLOUCESTER unto King Richard the second." 83—93.
Transcribed "Ex MS. in Bibl' Hatton." The first words are—To his right high and mighty lord and leige Richard: and the last—with the listes, scaffold, and tymler used at the said bataille. This treatise is not mentioned in Tanner's Bibliotheca. Compare art. 23.
- *5. A narrative, by an eye-witness, of the marriage of Richard Duke of York, and Ann daughter of the Duke of Norfolk, and of the grand justing then celebrated,—In the yeare of our Lord God 1477, and the 17th yeare of King Edward the fourth. 94—104.
Transcribed "Ex MS. in præfat' Bibl' Hatton." This article is as curious as (if not more curious than) the narrative of the justing of Anthony Lord Seales, which was published by W. H. B. in the Excerpta Historica, in June 1830.
- *6. "The Earle Marshall's order in the quarrell betwixt Anthony Felton and Edmond Withepole esquires, xxij May 1598." 105—7.
"Ex autogr. in Bibl' Hatton."
7. "The manner of the challenge made by the Earle of Northumberland against Sr Francis Veare," both by letter dated 24 Apr. 1602, and by inter-messages, until forbidden by the Queen's commandment. 107—111.
"Ex MS. in Bibl' Hatton."
- *8. A statement of "The French King's edict constituting duellos to be punished in the nature of treason, within his dominions." 112—4.
"Ex MS. in Bibl' Hatton."
9. A Discourse "Of the antiquity, use, and ceremony of lawfull combates in England." 115—125.
"Ex MS. in Bibl' Hatton."
10. "Duello foild. The whole proceedings in the orderly dissolving of a designe for single fight betwene two valient gentlemen; by occasion whereof the unlawfulness of a duello is preparatorily disputed, according to the rules of honour and right reason; written by the Lord HENRY HOWARD Earle of NORTHAMPTON Anno" 126—145.
"Ex MS. in Bibl' Hatton." Ascribed unto Sir EDWARD COOK in Hearne's Collection of Curious Discourses (ed. 1775), II. 225—242; and not known to be the Earl's production by either Walpole or Park.
11. "A Discourse touching the unlawfulness of private combates, written by Sr EDWARD COOKE Lord Chiefe Justice of England, at the request of the Lord Henry Howard Earle of Northampton." (3 Oct. 1609.) 146—8.
"Ex MS. in Bibl' Hatton."
12. A Discourse "Of the antiquitic, use, and ceremony of lawfull combates in England, written by Mr: JAMES WHITELOCK of the Middle Temple." 149—153.

"Ex MS. in Bibl' Hatton." Printed in the "Curious Discourses," II. 190.

13. "The antiquity, use, and ceremonies of lawfull Combates in England, written by Mr. FRANCIS TATE of the Middle Temple, London, 13 Februarij Anno 1600." 154—6.

"Ex MS. in Bibl' Hatton." Not printed among the "Curious Discourses."

14. "The antiquity, use, and ceremony of lawfull combates in England." 157—172.

"Ex collect' Guil: Dugdale."

15. "His "Ma^{ts}: declaration against duells, published at his Ma^{ts}: chappell at Bruxells upon sonday the 24th: of November 1658." 172.

16. "The manner of Donnalld L^d Rey, and David Ramsey esq. their coming and carriage at their tryall, upon monday, the 28 of November 1631, before the L^d of Lynsey, Lord High Constable of England, Tho: E. of Arundell, Earle Marshall, Phillip Earle of Penbroke and of Montgomery L^d High Chamberlaime, and diverse others the Lords of his Matie most honorable Privie Counsell, and Sr Henry Martin joynd in commission for an assistant in the court." 175—227.

This is a very full and well drawn up Report of the Trial, and is more complete than No. 824, v. It ends with "Saturday the 18th of February 1631."

17. The collections and opinions of the old Society of Antiquaries, on "The question—Of the antiquity and signification of the word Sterling or Sterlingorum." 239—257.

Compare the "Curious Discourses," II. 316—321. At the end are—Collections on the same subject from antient records; "Transcribed from Mr. Dugdale's hand." 257—9.

18. "A short compendium poyntinge out what every of the Officers of the Exchequer may, and usually doe, by vertue of their office, in England." 271—342.

The first chapter, relating to "The Lord Treasurer," is thus headed: "Questions concerning the Lord Treasurers office, with severall answeres to every question, made by Mr. FANSHAW; or rather a declaration of his opinion touching the same, made at the request of the Lord Buckhurst." At the end of this valuable discourse, is "The table" of chapters (pp. 344—5): the two last of which contain the "articles" of the Courts of Augmentations and First-fruits, annexed to the Exchequer (p. 333, 339).

19. "Rules, orders, and directions, as are necessary to be presented to his highness Farmers of the Customes, for the managing thereof to the best advantage; with the duties of the respective Officers attending the customes in the port of London, together with the nature and qualities of the respective officers." 347—370.

20. "Office of Srjant Trumpeter granted to Ger-vase Price esq^r:" by letters patent dated 24 Jan. 13 Charles II. 371—2.

See No. 863, art. 33.

21. "A perticuler of y^e fees aunciently due, belonging, and payd to y^e Serjeant Trumpetor and the rest of y^e office of Trumpetors." 373—5.

Beginning—"Thees ben in partie the pointes." "Ex eodem MS."

25. "Thadvis of HUMFREY Duc of GLOUCESTR^r veven to the Kyng and his counsaile ayeinst the deliverance or enlargissement of the Duc of Orliance." 405—413.

"Ex eodem MS." Beginning—"For asmuche as it liked my lord to committe certaine lords of his counsaile. At the end is a note that these articles were exemplified under the great seal, and inrolled in Chancery, 18 Hen. VI. part. 3. The latter is printed, from the record, in Rymer's Fœdera, X. 764—7.

26. "And here bigynneth a playne declaration made by the Lordes of the Kynges Counsaile, of the causes that the Kyng was moeved by, for to entende to the deliveraynce or enlargissement of Charles Duc of Orliance late prisonnier in England, as is afore declared." 413—423.

Beginning thus—"Forasmuche as it is comen to y^e Kynges knowleche: and thus ending—the welche lettres patents shal be delivered unto the Kyng, or the saide Duc be enlargissed etc. These articles are fairly and uniformly transcribed ("Ex eodem MS.") from a MS. belonging to Mr. Keek: they are barely noticed by Tanner (Bibl. p. 421), as contained in this volume.

27. Copy of the preface or dedication, by the Archbishops, Bishops, and other clergy, of the book intituled "The Institution of a Christen man;"* with an account of the King's edition of it, and of other ecclesiastical books published by authority of Henry VIII.; by ASHMOLE. 424—7—9.

* Printed at London in 1537, by Berthelet; of which a copy was "in the hands of Mr. Cramer one of the esquieries to the Dutches of Yorke, 1674." (p. 427.)

28. "The Earle Marshall his office both in peace and warre: sett downe by y^e speciall comandm^t: from the Kings Maties owne mouth given to me, and faythfully performed as farr forth as I can find by my bookes and my owne observations. Sic subscribitur WILLIAM SEGAR Garter." 431—443.

This tract consists of 22 articles relating to peace, and 33 relating to war: each part is subscribed by the author, and the title and the end are subscribed by the copyist thus—"All this is the true copy taken of the principall."

29. ASHMOLE'S abstract of a commission under the great seal, appointing the Abp. of Canterbury, the Lords Chancellor, Treasurer, and President, the Bps. of Durham and Rochester, and Chief Justice Herbert, "To exercise under the King all manner of jurisdiction concerning any spirituall and ecclesiasticall jurisdiction in England and Wales." 444—5.

No. 857.

VOL. III.—A Collection of Letters Patent, Warrants, Ordinances, Ceremonials, and other Precedents, relating to the Office of Arms, and the privileges and duties of the Kings, M^ralds, and Pursuivants; by ELIAS ASHMOLE esq. Windsor Herald. pp. 563.

The Index at the end refers only to the principal subjects contained in this valuable collection, the particular articles of which are here fully described.

1. "The order of createinge of a King of armes." p. 1.

"The oathe of Garter King of armes." 1.

"The oathe of a principall King of armes." 2.
Instructions "For a King of armes to execute in his office [and] province." 4.

"The oath of a Harauld of armes." 6.
"The oathe of a Pursuivant of armes." 7.

Transcribed "Ex autogr' in Biblioth. Hatton." The second and third are noted as also contained in "Mr. Owen's old black booke fol. 71" and 45. See No. 846, xviii. 2-5.

2. "Certaine articles concerning the offices of the King of arms of the most honourable order of the Garter." 8.

At the end is a note by Ralph Brooke, York Herald (dated 1594), throwing suspicion of spuriousness on these articles, which he says were "forged and thrust into a booke by Garter."
(p. 10.)

3. Articles accorded unto in a chapter of the Kings and Heralds, for the rule and government of the Office of Arms, on "The fryday vth day of January, the yeare M. cccc. and xx."—within the "noble citty of Roan in the dutchie of Normandie." 11-19.

"Ex collect Nich. Charles penes Will: Ryley Clarencieux, fo: 86. These statutes are in French, and in the s^d booke fol: 76."

4. "An order made by THOMAS of LANCASTER,
Constable of England, for the placeing of the Kings, Heralds, and Sergeants at armes." (Caen,
3 Sept. 1417.) 19-21.

From "fol. 73" of the same MS. The original French text is in No. 764, art. 10."

5. "Orders to be observed and kept by the officers of armes, made by the high and mighty prince THOMAS Duke of NORFFOLKE, Earle Marshall of England, anno 1568, the xviiith day of July in the tenth yeare of the reigne of Queene Elizabeth." 22-30.

From the same MS. "fol. 117." At the end is the following note:—"This copy agreeth wth the originall, being faire[ly] written in parchment under the hand and seale of armes of Tho:
Duke of Norff: before named, and remayneth in the hands of the right honorable Henry now Earle of Northampton. Examined the 18 of May, anno 1611. Nich. Charles, Lancaster." It is now in the Office of Arms: see Grimaldi's Origines Genealogicæ, p. 264.
Another copy is in No. 846, xviii. 1.

6. "Les ordonnances et estatutz que furent faictes de par le treshaul et puissant prince THOMAS DE LANCASTRE filz et frere au tres nobles Roys d'Angl[er]re et de France, Duc de Clarence, Comte d'Aumerle, grant Seneschall d'Angl[er]- terre, et Connestable etc. pour reformacõn et bonne gouvernement en l'office d'Armes." 31-4.

From the same MS. "fol. 70." In the margin Ashmole has written the following note:—"Hic notandum quod Tho: iste Dux Clarencie nunquam fuit Constabularius Angliæ. Igitur dubitari potest de veritate horum Statutorum, quia Johannes Dux Bedford fuit regni Constabularius ab a^o. 4. H. 4. usque ad annum 14. H. 6.
quo tempore obiit."

7. Regis RICHARDI III. literæ patentis, per quas Reges, Heraldii et Prosecutores ad arma, in unum corpus incorporati sunt. (2 Mar. anno 1.) 34-7.

Ibid. "fol. 99." This charter has been printed in Rymer's Fœdera, XII. 215-6, and in the Appendix to Noble's History of the Heralds' College. The original instrument, on vellum (but without the seal), is in the Cottonian Library, among some of Camden's papers etc. in the volume marked Faustina E. I. f. 23:

but it is absurdly described in the printed Catalogue as "Diploma originale R. Ricardi II. — auctoritate Parliamenti. Westm.
March 2. 1378," whereas the true date is 1484!

8. "The true copy of the patent granted by King
Edw: 6. to the Kings, Heralds, and Pursuivants of armes, whereby they are discharged of all subsides and fifteenes, and all other taxes, tolles, and such like, for ever." (4 Junij, anno 3.) 37
-43.

See also No. 840, art. 118, 126.

9. "The true copy of the corporation, and grant of Derby-house, to the Kings Heralds and Pursuivants of armes." (18 Jul. annis 1 & 3 Ph.
& Mar.) 44-7.

Ib. "fol. 113." Printed in Rymer's Fœdera, XV. 423-5.

10. "Transportation-money and dyett allowed to Heralds attending an Ambassador." 48.

The precedent thus headed is a warrant or letter to Mr.
Tuke, to pay Clarencieux for going into Scotland with Lord W.
Howard and the Bp. of S. David's, dated 12 June, 1536: from the same MS. "fo: 218."

11. Munera regibus et heraldis allocata "Anno primo Edw: 4^{ti} pro creatione Georgii Ducis Cla-rencie fratris Regis." 49.

Ib. "fol. 10."

12. "Coppie des l'res qui furent garanties aux officers d'armes, par Thomas de Lancastre Duc de Clarans." (Caen, 13 Sept. 1417.) 49-50.

Ib. "fol. 13."

13. "An order made [by the Kings of arms and Heralds] for Henry Duke of Buckingham to beare the armes of Tho: of Woodstock* alone, without any other armes to be quartered therewith. Anno 13 E. 4." (18 Febr. 1474.) 50-1.

* Here tricked. Ib. "fol. 14."

14. "Allowances made to Sr Gilbert Dethick, Garter,* attending upon the Marques of Northampton, in his embassage;" by warrant dated 11 May, 5 Eliz. p. 51-2.

* William Bruges, Garter; William Horselay, Clar.; and John Kyrkeby, Ireland, Kings; Nich. Serby, Leopard; John Haschewel, Clarence; William Boys, Exeter; and Giles Woster, Mowbray, Heralds. From "fo: 76" of the same MS.
26. Ten "Articles for the [privileges of the] office of Garter principall King of Armes," against the usurpations of the Provincial Kings. 66—7.
"Out of Mr. Owen's MS: of Presidentes, fol. 290."
27. Notes showing the inferiority of Clarencieux: beg. Now touching the name and office of Clarencieux; [it] was not of the King's s^{er}vant nor of the K^{ing}'s coate. 68.
Ibid. "fol. 59. b." Herein is cited "Liber Tho: Wall, Wyndson, a^o 3. II. 7. fol. 173."
28. Notes concerning the allotment of chambers in Derby Place, and the foul character of Ralph Brookesmouth. 68.
Ibid. "fol. 120."
29. Garter's defence of his privileges against Clarencieux: beg. Whereas the s^d Clarencieux surmiseth. 69—70.
Ibid. "fol. 151. b."
30. R. Henric VIII. literæ patentis, quibus officium Garterii Regis armorum Thomæ Writh, alias dicto Walingford, filio Johannis Writh, concessum fuit. (26 Jan. an. 20.) 70—1.
A copy of the inrolment, from "fol. 222." of the same MS.
31. A fabulous tract on "The first institution of Officers of Armes called Heraldes. Dionisius first institutor of Heraldes and the which with his commilitant knights.*" 72—80.
* Bacchus: Hercules, Porus, Saul, David, and Solomon follow. The last sentence is—Item when hec shalbe crowned King of Armes hee should have a crowne of silver and guilt, with a guilte cuppe covered, of the guilte of the Emperour or King. It does not appear whence this was transcribed.
32. Note that on "9 Julij a^o: 28 II. 8. at Westm.—
"Christopher Barker al's Norroy [was] created Garter principall King of Armes of England; and Wm Fellow created, al's Lancaster, Norroy King of Armes of the North; and Tho: Miller al's Rougeross made Lancaster Herald." 80.
33. "Series ordinum omnium procerum magnatum et nobilium, et aliorum quorumcunque infra hoc regnum tam virorum quam foeminarum, posita et distincta per nobilissimum JASPERUM DUCEM BEDFORTH et alios nobiles, appunctuatione domini Regis HENRICI [VII.] &c." 81—6.
Only the table of ranks in the first page is in Latin: the rest is in English. This curious article was "Transcribed from Sr Edw: Walkers large vellom booke," and the signatures following are imitated,—"E. Somerset, J. Bedford, W. Wilteshr, J. Warwyk, Will'm Paget." See art. 69.
34. Warrant of the Commissioners for executing the office of Earl Marshal, requiring the Officers of Arms to produce their ancient books and precedents, for the settlement of disputed points of precedence. (Greenwich, 15 Jan. 36 Eliz.) 87.
The signatures of "W: Burghley, C. Howard, J. Hunsdon," are imitated. This and the three following articles appear to have been copied from the last mentioned MS.
35. Table of the precedence of noble persons, set forth under the hands of the same Commissioners. 88.
36. "Charges to the Office of Armes apperteyninge, at the creation of great astates, according to the ancient custome of England." 89.

As allowed by DUGDALE, in his Visitation, at Bankewell, 14 Aug. 1662.

- ¶177. Exemplification of arms, with an augmentation thereof, and the grant of a crest, unto Sir Thomas Venables, baron of Kynderton in Cheshire, by LAURENCE DALTON, including a legendary account of his ancestors. (2 Nov. 1560.) 169—172.
 "Exhibited at Midlewich by Peter Venables esqr: Baron of Kinderton, 14 Sept: 1663." Articles 177—182 are very fair copies, corrected by Ashmole.
178. Grant of supporters* to the arms of Robert Viscount Cholmondley, by Sir EDWARD WALKER, Garter. (10 June, 1661.) 173—4.
 * They are omitted in the tricking of the arms. "Exhibited by Rob't Lo: Visc: Cholmondley of Kelles, 10 Sept: 1663." See also art. 180.
179. Augmentation of arms, granted by Norroy FLOWER, to Sir Piers Legh of Bradley in Cheshire. (11 June, 1575.) 175—7.
 "Exhibited by Peter Legh of Lyme esqr: 18 Sept: 1663." Annexed are an abstract of a document, entered in the Visitation of Cheshire, in 1613, (f. 55^b) and a short narrative in Latin, declaring—
 How Piers Legh, who married Margaret daughter and heir of Thomas Daniers, obtained a grant of land at Hawley, for service done by the said Thomas, in taking prisoner the Chamberlain of Tankerville at the battle of Cressy. 177, 178.
 The latter was "Entred in a pedigree of the family of Legh of Lyme, drawne by R. Glover, Somerset Herald."
180. Grant d'un tymbre pour les armes de messire Hew Cholmeley, chevalier, par THOMAS HAWLEY, Clarentieux Herval et Roy d'armes. (5 Dec. 1 Edw. VI.) 179—180.
 With a subscription also by Norroy FLOWER, at his visitation in 1566. "Exhibited by Rob't Lord Visc: Cholmondley of Kelles, 10 Sept: 1663." See also art. 178.
181. Corrected exemplification, by WILLIAM DETHIKE, Garter, of arms formerly exemplified by Norroy Flower, (28 July, 1587,) for Thomas Wyche of Davenham in Cheshire. (15 Aug. 1590.) 181—2.
 With a subscription by Ric. S. GEORGE, at his visitation in 1613. "Exhibited at Knotsford, 16 Sept: 1663."
182. Exemplification of the arms of Edward Thornecroft of Thornecroft in Cheshire, by WILLIAM RYLEY, Norroy. (10 Sept. 1651.) 183.
 "Exhibited at Maxfield by John Kinsey, on the behalfe of Ed: Thornecroft, 17 Sept: 1663."
- ¶183. Confirmation of arms, and grant of a crest, to Nicholas Backhouse of London, grocer, son of Thomas Backhouse of Whitrige in Cumberland, by ROBERT COOKE, Clarentieux. (27 March, 1574, 16 Eliz.) 185—6.
184. Certificate of the arms of Nicholas Backhouse, alderman of London, by Sir G. DETHICK, Garter. (27 Feb. 1579, 22 Eliz.) 187.
 ¶185—201 (?). "Patentes of Armes exhibited to me [Elias Ashmole] in my Visitacōn of Berks. An^o: 1665."
- Other copies of many of these, and other grants in this volume, may be found in No. 840, art. 97—117. See also the Visitation-book, in No. 851.
185. Grant of arms, by Sir EDWARD WALKER, Garter, to William Trumbull of Easthampstead in Berkshire. (10 Oct. 1662.) 189—90.
186. Augmentation of the arms of Sir Richard Braham, by Sir EDWARD WALKER, Garter. (10 June, 1646.) 191—2.
187. Exemplification of the arms of George Wilmore of Letcombe in Berkshire, by Sir WILLIAM SEGAR, Garter. (10 Feb. 1627.) 193—5.
188. Abstract of a grant of arms to George Stonehouse, of Little Peckham in Kent, by Sir GILBERT DETHICK, Garter. (5 Feb. 2 and 3 Ph. and Mar.) 195.
189. Confirmation of arms to George Baker of London, by ROBERT COOKE, Clarentieux. (10 May, 1578, 15 Eliz.*) 196—7.
 * A mistake for either '1573' or '20 Eliz.' See the next article.
190. Alia confirmatio insignium Georgii Baker, Londinensis, per ROB. COOKE, Clarentium. (1 Apr. 1579, 21 Eliz.) 198—9.
191. Exemplification of arms, and grant of a crest, unto Thomas Belamy of Dacklett* in Bucks., by ROBERT COOKE, Clarentieux. (17 Sept. 1571, 13 Eliz.) 199—201.
 * Read Datchett.
192. Exemplification of arms, and grant of a crest, unto George Kemble of Wydell in Wiltshire, by WILLIAM CAMDEN, Clarentieux. (21 Nov. 45 Eliz.) 202—3.
193. Confirmation of the arms of Nicholas Haynes of Hackney in Middlesex, by ROBERT COOKE, Clarentieux. (1578, 20 Eliz.) 204—6.
194. Grant of arms, by EDWARD BYSSH, Garter, to William Baker of New Windsor. (14 July, 1655.) 206—7.
 The arms of this and the eight following articles are not tricked.
195. Confirmation of the crest of George Hyde of South Denchworth in Berkshire, by WILLIAM CAMDEN, Clarentieux. (22 Nov. 43 Eliz. 1600.) 208.
196. Confirmation of arms to Margery, daughter and heir to John Cater of Letcombe Regis in Berkshire, wife of William Hyde of South Denchworth, by WILLIAM HERVYE, Clarentieux. (20 Apr. 1559. 1 Eliz.) 209—10.
197. Confirmation of arms, by ROBERT COOKE, Clarentieux, to John Dancastle of Wellhouse in Berkshire. (25 Feb. 1586—7, 29 Eliz.) 211—2.
198. Grant of arms to Richard Palmer of Wokingham in Berkshire, by Sir EDWARD BYSSHE, Clarentieux. (20 Feb. 16 Car. II. 1664—5.) 212—3.
199. Certificatio insignium, Gallice descriptorum, Johannis Southby de Carswell in com. Berk. per GUIL. SEGAR, Garterium. (10 Feb. 7 Car. I. 1631—2.) 214.

200. "The auncient armes of Nelston of Mawdisley in the county palatyne of Lancaster." 215. Abstract of the grant of arms, by Sir GILBERT DETHICK, Garter, Clarencieux COOKE, and NORROY FLOWER, to Thomas Powle, clerk of the crown in Chancery etc. (7 May, 1569.) 215.

Neither has the arms tricked: the former is only a facsimile of Glover's signature (with the date 1587), almost all the signatures in this volume being so exactly represented. This article seems not to belong to the Berkshire collection, being entered here by Ashmole in a different manner from the rest, and (as also art. 202) at a later time.

201. Clarencieux COOKE's confirmation of arms, and grant of a crest, to Richard Choke of Avington in Berkshire. (4 July, 1576, 18 Eliz.) 216—218.

202. Grant of a crest, by Clarencieux COOKE, to John eldest son of John Quarles, late draper of London. (15 Feb. 1577—8, 20 Eliz.) 218—9.

Entered later than the rest, (see art. 200,) but having the arms tricked, as also have the following articles.

¶ 203. Exemplification or grant of arms, by CHRISTOPHER CARLYLE, Norroy, to Michael Poynant of London. (14 March, 1508—9, 24 Hen. VII.) 221—2.

See No. 840, art. 97.

204. Exemplification of the arms of John Tenant of Scotton, near Richmond in Yorkshire, by RICHARD SAINT-GEORGE, Norroy. (1 Apr. 1 Jac. I. 1613.) 223—5.

205. Augmentation of the arms of Sir William Armorer, first equerry of the great horse to the King, by Sir EDWARD WALKER, Garter. (8 July, 1662.) 226—7.

206. Grant of arms to James Smith of Bray in Berkshire, by EDWARD BYSSHE, Garter. (23 Jan. 1653.) 228—9.

207. Insignium exemplificatio, in gratiam Edwardi Hoby filii primogeniti D. Thomæ Hoby, per GILB. DETHYCK, Garterium. (10 Junii, 1570.) 270—2.

208. Grant of arms, by THOMAS HAWLEY, Clarencieux, to Thomas Bertie of Berested in Kent, captain of Hurst castle. (10 July, 4 Edw. VI.) 232—3.

"Ex Collectan: Rob: Glover Somers^t p. 41."

209. "The copie of the restitution of the armes of Mildmay," or an exemplification thereof by ROBERT COOKE, Clarencieux, for Sir Walter Mildmay, chancellor of the Exchequer, declaring his descent from the time of King Stephen. (20 Aug. 1583.) 234—6.

"Ib: p: 116."

210. Exemplificatio insignium Matthæi Hutton, S. T. P. Decani Ebor., per GUIL. FLOWER, Norroy facta. (1 Maii, 1584, 26 Eliz.) 237—8.

Ibid. "p: 198."

211. Warrant of James Earl of SUFFOLK, Deputy Earl Marshal, requiring Norroy Dugdale to devise colors for the antient arms of Humphrey

Smith of Farmington in Gloucestershire, and William Smith of London, grandsons of Humphry Smith, rector of Castle Eaton in Wiltshire, and to register them among the Benefactors to the Heralds' College (7 Oct. 1674); together with DUGDALE's certificate thereupon made, and the coat of arms. 239—40.

This article is by the same hand as the MS. No. 1097.

The latter half of this book is vacant, namely pp. 241—450, except 26 pages occupied by the following articles, which form a Supplement to the foregoing volume, No. 857.

(1.) Immediate warrant for letters patent of CHARLES II. granting to Sir Edw. Walker, Garter, an increase of fees on creations of Knights, Baronets, and Knights of the Bath. (7 Sept. 1660.) 275—9.

With the docquet and indorsements of entry at the Signet Office and Privy Seal Office. This document is not in Ashmole's handwriting, (as the following one is,) but seems to be by Walker himself.

(2.) "A cobby of [articles agreed on at] a chapter a^o. 31. H. 8. for setting the rights of Garter, Clarenceux, and Norroy." (20 June, 1539.) 280—2.

"Ex autogr' penes Ed: Walker Garter." The three following articles are likewise noted.

(3.) "Declaracōn of the Officers of Arms, touching the rights of the Kings of Arms. a^o. 4. Eliz." in a chapter holden before Tho. Duke of Norfolk, Earl Marshal, 29 Jan. 1562. 286—90.

(4.) "To the right hoble: the Earle of Shrewsbury, Earle Marshall of England. A briefe rehearsall of the causes of the present disorder in the Office of Arms, and how the same may be remedied." 291—9.

At the end are these notes:—"This delivered to the Earle Marshall at Sheffield Lodge on sunday the 3 of July 1580." "This is a true cobby of the fores^d Petition written under the hand of ROBERT GLOVER, Somerset Herald, an originall whereof now remaineth in the bandes of Sr: Thomas Cotton Baronet, and this 3 of December 1634. was examined by us Willm Le Neve, Norroy. Wm: Penson, Lancaster. Edward Whitley." (See the Cottonian MS. Faustina E. I. f. 192 and f. 239.) Another copy is in No. 857, art. 207.

(5.) "The auncient customes of the Office of Arms:" or "Proofoes that noe Officer[s] of Arms have right to any fees before their creacōn*." 295—6.

* So noted in the margin by Ashmole.

(6.) Resolution of the House of Lords, whereby "The Lady Dacres priviledge and peerage [was] not allowed, she having married a commoner." (4 July, 1661.) 296.

(7.) Orders concerning the arms of women, made "At a chapter holden by the Officers of Arms at Embroiderers Hall in London, A^o. 4. Eliz." 297.

"MS. penes Wm. Dugdale mil' Garter, fo. 13." See also No. 837, f. 224.

(8.) Explanations of the terms—Filius naturalis, legitimus, spurius, nothus. 297.

"Ibid."

(9.) "Cobby of the comission for the Office of E: Marshall of England to the Lord Treasurer and others*. 14 Car. 2^{di}. 298—300.

* Thomas Earl of Southampton (lord Treasurer), George Duke of Albemarle, Henry Marquess of Dorchester, Mountagu E. of Lindsey, Edward E. of Manchester, and Algernon E. of Northumberland; on the death of Henry Earl of Arundel. The date of this patent is not filled up.

The smaller extracts consist of notes relative to the descents and inheritances of eminent families (among which that of Chaucer may be named),—to great offices of state, knighthood, seals both royal and private,—instances of curious old words, especially all terms describing measures of land (as hida, bovata, carrucata, etc.),—and facts relative to the town, cathedral, and ecclesiastics of Lichfield, and the castle and town of Windsor.

The following is a list of the principal sources of these collections, beside what have been already quoted. Those between pages 35—103 seem to have been made from the records by Ashmole himself, and are chiefly from the Patent Rolls and Close Rolls: but what follow p. 104 bears constant references to letters and double numbers, as "F. 89," "AA. 225," which seem to relate to papers in Lord Hatton's collection.

II. Collectanea e rotulis publicis, de moneta Anglica, de cambiis regis eorumque custodibus, deque monetariis; de jocalibus regis; et de mineris in Anglia. 211—272, 275.

Among these are the following articles:—

1. "Epitome successionum regum Westsaxoniar, ex antiquo scripto in pergamento, scripto tempore Regis R. I. Insulam Brithannia lx. annis ante nativitatem Domini Gaius Julius Cesar cum magna classe." 211—4.

"Ex codice MS. Miscell. ROBERTI GLOVERI, lib: 2. fo: 153." Ending—et Rex eum hac carta confirmavit.

2. Extracts from a Chronicle of London (MS. Cott. Vitell. A. XVI.) relating to the value of foreign money. 243—4.

3. Excerpta e Rotulis Pat. de arte alchimica exercenda. 245—6.

4. Commendatio regia in gratiam Rogeri de Bake-ton, ord. præd. in facultate theol. incepturi. (28 Mar. 5 Edw. II.) 247.

From the Close Roll, m. 8. Ashmole supposed that this document related to "Frier Bacon." Pages 241—8 are 2 sheets of smaller paper, misplaced where they now stand.

- III. 1. "A new ballad made of a high and mighty controversy betweene two Cheshire Knights. 1673." 273—4.

The same as No. 836, art. 183, which see. This copy is by Ashmole's hand.

2. "Hec lectio, Adest tempus o vncrande, legenda est extra hostium ecclesie Christi Cant: ab Archidiacono eiusdem ecclesie, capa serica induto, videlicet feria 5^{ta} in cena Domini post horam 9^{am} in reconciliacione penitencium." 277—278.

"Transcribed out of an old vell: MS: belongs to the Archdeacon of Cant: and lent me by his grace the Archbp: of Cant: 1° Ap. 1682."

3. P. Gregorii ... "Bulla de denarijs sancti Petri," ad archiepiscopos et clerum Angliæ, quantum pecuniæ ab unaquaque diocesi colligi debuit ostendens. (Urb. vet., 10 cal. Maij, anno 2.) 278—279.

"Ibid: fo: 20. a." See the next article.

4. "De denarijs sancti Petri sic reperitur in Cronicis scriptum:—

"Anno gratie dccclvij^{mo} Adelphus pater Aluredi regis primi monarcha concessit solvi singulis annis Rome trescentas mancussas que taliter dividerentur ibidem. videlicet centum mancusse in honorem sancti Petri specialiter ad luminare ecclesie sue Romane: et centum mancusse in honorem sancti Pauli eadem de causa. Preterea centum mancussas universali pape precepit annis singulis exhiberi ad snas elemosinas ampliandas, presidente tunc temporis Leone papa iij^{to}.

"Et sciendum est quod mancussa et marca accipiebantur tunc temporis pro eodem. Et sit [leg. sic] singulis annis de denarijs beati Patri solvebantur ab Anglis ccc. marce.

"Item de quantitate summe predictæ a singulis dioc: regni Angliæ particulariter colligende constat per Bullam superius annotatam, que fuisse creditur Gregorij pape Quarti. Et continet summe scripte in dicta Bulla ccc. mar. vjs. viij^d." p. 279.

5. "Denarij sancti Petri in dioc. Cant. singulis annis colligendi." 280—5.

6. Excerpta e Rotulis Scotiæ (uti vocantur), annorum 8 et 9 Edwardi III. in Turri London. 291—326.

These Rolls have been published, in two volumes folio.

7. "The customes of Crendon manor in com. Buck." in the form of "Articles of agrement quadripartite indentyd," (7 March, 5 and 6 Ph. and Mary,) between the three joint lords of that manor. 327—8.

Published hence in the fifth volume of the Collectanea Topographica, 1837, 8vo.

8. Warrant for the Lord Keeper Bridgeman to seal a writ for the removal of the rolls of the court of Common Pleas into the Exchequer (5 Dec. 1667); and the writ thereupon issued. (. . . * Dec. 19 Car. II.) 329—330.

* Dated on the 16th, in the copy printed in App. F. to the Report of the Select Committee appointed to view the Cottonian Library, in 1732. See also Supplement xxiii. subjoined to Mr. Cooper's "Papers and Documents relating to the evidence of certain witnesses examined before the Select Committee" on the Record Commission (1837, 8vo.), p. 418—9. This article is written by the same hand as No. 1097.

9. Excerpta e prima parte Rotuli Patentium, anno 2 Ric. II. scilicet—

- 331.] "Pro Johanne Cray," m. 24.
 "Pro Thoma de Percy, de confirmatione," m. 27.
 332.] "Pro Willielmo Comite Sarnm," m. 36.
 334.] "Pro Johanne Duce Lanc." m. 42.
 336.] "Pro Nicholao de Audley," m. 44.
 338.] "Pro Philippa uxore Roberti de Veere filii Thome de Veer nuper Comitis Oxon." m. 45.
 339.] "Pro Guichardo Dangle, Comite Huintyngdon." m. 46.

- Excerpta e prima parte Rotuli Patentium, anno 17 Ric. II. scilicet—

- 341.] "Pro Otone Maundell chivaler," m. 15.
 342.] "Pro Petro de Courtenay chivaler." m. 16.
 343.] "De controfactoribus monete Regis arestandis," m. 13 d.
 344.] "De maeremio Regis cariendo," m. 24 d.
 345.] "De apostata capiendo," m. 20 d.

- Excerpta e prima parte Rotuli Patentium, anno 7 Henr. VI. scilicet—

- 345.] "Pro Duce Glouc." custode Novæ Forestæ constituto." m. 16.
 346.] "De contrarotulatore parvæ custumæ constituto." m. 17.

- Excerpta e Rotulo Clausarum, anno 8 Edw. II. scilicet—

- 347.] "Pro Nicholao de Andelee," m. 6.
 "Pro Rogero de Chaundos et Matill. uxore eius, de dote," m. 10.
 348—9.] "Pro Rogero de Mortuo Mari de Chirk." m. 14.

10. Stemma, competitorum cognationem exhibens post mortem Davidis Regis Scotiæ, secundum Polydorum; et alterum secundum Buchananum. 350.

11. "Literæ quas Comites et Barones Angliæ miserunt Papæ, super negotia Scotorum." (Lincolniæ, 12 Feb. 1300.) 351—7.

Copied, and the arms of their seals tricked, "Ex codice MS. Miscellaniorum R: Gloveri, Li: 2. f: 113. b. Vide exempl: eiusd: penes Camer: Scacc." This is the well known document printed in the Fœdera, etc.

12. "Articuli extracti a litera Regis Angliæ [EDWARDI I.] directa Papæ prædicto ad sustinend.

hujus judicium latum secundum dictas leges Angliæ super forisfactura terræ Scotiæ prædictæ. Postmodum autem." 358.

In fine, "Hic multa desunt dilacerata, et multum mutilata [in] originali." Seemingly copied from the same MS.: it may be also found in the Fœdera.

13. "Pro Mariscallatu:" scil. R. RICARDI II. charta de officio Marescalli Angliæ et honore Comitibus Marescalli concessis Thomæ Comiti Nottingham et hæredibus masculis. (12 Jan. anno 9.) 359.

"Ex codice MS. Miscel: R: Gloveri Li: 1. fo: 11. b." Also the next article.

14. "Pro loco in Parlamento" proximo post Ducem Exoniæ, Johanni Duci Norfolciæ concessio, in fine confirmationis literarum patentium R. Ricardi II. (11 Mar. 23 Edw. IV. *) 259.

* The first word "Henricus" must be a mistake for Edwardus; for John Howard was not a Duke in the reign of Henry VI. and he was slain at Bosworth field, before the accession of Henry VII.

15. "Pro officio Pincernæ," historiola de progenie et hæreditate Willelmi de Albeney, inc. Nota quod diu antequam ullus Comes Arundell in Anglia fuit; et alia, quod vera hæreditas ejusdem officii non fuit in Johanne Comite Arundeliæ, qui obiit anno 6 Hen. III. inc. Item quasi omnes hærcdes. 360—1.

From "fo: 18 b." of the same MS.

16. Charta qua Walterus de Lasey, Hugo de Mortuomari, Joh. de Munem', et Walterus de Clifford, plegios erga R. Henricum se constituerunt, pro fideli servitio Walteri de Bello Campo. [1 Hen. III. ?] 361.

17. Charta qua Walterus de Clifford pater, et Walterus filius, dederunt molendinum de Frantona, cum terra, et salinam in Wichia, ecclesiæ et sanctimonialibus de Godestowe. 362.

Both these charters are dateless; and were copied from "fo: 143. b." of the same MS., with the seals tricked.

18. "Linea progenialis de Moubray, Comitibus Nottingham et Mareschallis, ex Registro abbatiæ de Furnes in com: Lancast. Memorandum quod tempore Willielmi Conquestoris erat quidem miles in Anglia." 363—5.

"Lib: ibidem fo: 26. b."

19. "Tangentia Parliament. Cestriæ, ex libro antiquo." A petition to the King, from the prelates, barons, and other inhabitants of Cheshire, against the invasion of their privileges, as a county palatine, by the levying of a subsidy therein without the consent of their own Parliament. 366—8.

"Ex codice MS: R: Gloveri, Li. 2. f: 33. b."

20. Account of the castles and lordships annexed unto the principality of Chester, "Anno 21 R: 2. in Parl. Westm." 368—9.

"Ex codice MS: Gloveri, Lib. 1. fo. 91."

21. Genealogical extracts out of a petition of the coheirs of Edmund Earl of Kent, "Anno 9 | 30

H: 6." 369.

Ibid. "fo: 91. b."

22. "Hic sequitur* nomina dominorum et generosorum existentium cum Johanne rege Angliæ in patria Pictaviæ et habuerunt scutagium ibidem, videlicet a^o: 16 regni sui, prout patet inter evidencias regis Rotho.* 16 aⁱ regis qui remanet in Turri Londoniarum custodiend. Et nota quod per declaracionem istorum cognominorum* potest haberi certa notitia de antiquis generosis Angliæ cum rege euntibus." 370—2.

 Sic pro sequuntur, rotulo, cognominum. This article is also headed "Memorand: de scutagio Pictavia. i. Vasconia;" and was copied from "fo: 6. b." of the same MS.: another copy by Glover is in No. 825, f. 49—50. It has been taken from the Close Roll of the 16th year of King John: see the printed volume, (fol. 1833,) pp. 200—1.

23. "Nomina occisorum in bello commisso apud Stryvelin, per Scotos, a^o: 1314, regni regis E: 2: 14." Et "Nomina valencium nobilium Angliæ [qui fuerunt] capti ibidem apud Stryvelyn a^o: 1314, et incarcerati sub custodia Roberti Le Bruse regis Scotiæ, an^o: regni regis E. 2. 14." 372—3.

Ibid. "fo: 7."

24. "Nomina comitum baronum et banerretorum adhuc* in Anglia scribentium epistolam Papæ super donacionibus ecclesiarum per antecessores eorundem dominorum, anno Christi 1309, et anno 3 r. r. Ed: secundi." 373—4.

* Leg. adtune? Ibid. "fo: 7. b."

25. Nomina eorum quos occisit, "Anno 15 r. r. Ed: secundi, die 8^{is} 17 calend. Aprilis, ad pontem de Borebryg, dominus Andreas de Harkele miles cum sua potentia, tenens partem Hugonis domini de Le Spencer," etc. 374—5.

Ibid. "fo: 8." Compare No. 831, ii. 2.

26. "De exilio extra regnum Angliæ Hugonis Spenser patris et Hugonis filij sui. Memorand. a^o: r. r. Ed: 2: 14. apud Shyrburn factum fuit juramentum dominorum infrascriptorum in causa et querela Comitum Herefordiæ" etc. 375—376.

27. "Nomina ambassiatorum Angliæ miss: domino Papæ a^o: Domini 1245. r. r. H: 3. [29] de gravaminibus et exactionibus pecuniæ per procuratores Romæ in Anglia, ultra modum seu mensuram." 376.

28. "Nomina valentium dominorum et militum viventium an^o: 21. r. r. Henrici filij regis Johannis in com' Sussex." et "a^o: 20 r. r. Ed: primi." 277.

Ibid. "fo: 9."

29. R. HENRICI VI. literæ patentes, per quas insignia nobilitatis concessit Collegio suo Regio Cantabrigiensi. (1 Jan. anno 27.) 377—8.

With the arms tricked. Ibid. "fo: 25. b."

30. "Carta regis STEPHANI de libertate totius ecclesiæ Anglicanæ, quæ ostendi non debet nisi fratribus et benevolentibus propter quædam infrascripta." (Oxon. A. D. 1136, anno regni I.) 379—80.

The above title (from "fo: 12" of the same MS.) was indorsed on an original of this charter, "Sub magno sigillo dicti regis in cera alba cum appendicijs ex pergamea, quæ iam custoditur penes Magistrum Brooke de Madley in com' Salop' armigerum: qui accom[m]odavit mihi ut transcriberem, 22 Jan: 1576. apud Tonge in dicto com." It is printed among the other Charters of Liberties, in the authentic edition of the Statutes of the Realm, (vol. I. p. 3.) from an original in Exeter Cathedral.

31. "Nomina dominorum banerretorum et militum de com' Norff. et Suffolciæ qui obierunt sine herede masculo, viventibus temporibus* E. 3. R: 2. et H: 4. per relacionem Thomæ Erpingham militis." 381.

* Sic.

32. "Nomina aliorum militum qui obierunt in Norfolcia sine hærede masculo, a temporibus regum R: 2. H: 4. H: 5. et H. 6." 382.

33. "Nomina generosorum virorum manentium iuxta villam Bristoll, videlicet in comitatibus de Somerset et Gloucestriæ, temporibus regum Edwardi tertij et Ricardi secundi, quorum arma sunt picta in claustro fratrum Augustinorum Bristollia." 382.

These three articles are from f. 39 of the same MS., and seem to have been taken by Glover from some MS. of William de Worcester's not now extant: they are not contained in the MS. published by Nasmyth under the title of Worcester's Itinerarium, (Cantabr. 1778, 8vo.) nor are they noticed in his Catalogue of Abp. Parker's MSS., among which that one is preserved.

34. "Licentia data per [Robertum] dominum de Tateshale, pro remocione abbatiæ de Kirkstede." 383.

From Glover's MS. "Lib: 2. fo: 160."

35. "Carta H: 2. antequam in regem sublimaretur, facta Ranulpho Comiti Cestriæ ejus nominis secundo." 384—5.

From Glover's MS. "Lib: 1. fo: 121." This charter is published in Rymer's Fœdera, I. 12.

36. Charta RANULPHI Comitum Cestriæ, donationes antecessorum suorum ecclesiæ S. Werburgæ Cestrensi confirmans, "in anniversario die Hugonis Comitum patris mei." 385.

Ibid. "fo: 121. b." also the following article.

37. "Hugo Comes Cestriæ et uxor eius fundaverunt monasterium sanctæ Werburgæ Cestriæ, et hij fuerunt testes cartæ dictæ fundacionis." 386.

38. Curious extracts, chiefly relating to the antiquities of families and places in Herefordshire, including a pedigree of Toenia or Todeney, "Ex Collect: [SILÆ*] TAYLOR gen' in Lib: D." (ff. 18—176.) 386—9.

* The name is here omitted by Ashmole: but see the note on No. 43.

of the inscription found on a leaden plate, recording the fire in 1188, and the depositing of his relics in 1197. p. 398.

43. "Figure of a seale ring weighing about an ounce and half, said to be St Jo: of Beverlies:
but I see not upon what ground." 401.

This is an impression in red wax on a small paper inserted opposite to the foregoing article; on which Ashmole has farther noted, "No ring found in his grave 1664."

44. Notes of the "Archbp: of Cant: death and buriall" (9 and 16 Nov. 1677), and the entrance of the French ambassador into London. (27 Nov.

tur ii. [kal.] Novemb. obiit." 443.

It is in large capital letters, of the eleventh or twelfth century.

61. Charta Willelmi de Albineia pincernæ regis, deciman villæ suæ de Elham etc. concedens ecclesiæ Roffensi. 445.

"Ex Registro Roffensi cap. 52." See Hearne's Textus Rof-fensis, (1720, 8vo.) p. 173.

62. Charta regis Henrici [I.] confirmans donationes Willelmi [de Albineio] pincernæ suæ monasterio de Wymondham, ratificata per R. Henricum VI. (5 Feb. anno 16.) 445.

"Patent. de anno 16^o H. 6. p^s 1^a m^o 8." In a note is added the following epitaph of the founder at Wymondham:—

"Hunc Pincerna locum fundavit, et hic jacet ille Quæ dedit huic domui, jam sine fine tenet."

63. Excerpta "Ex Libro Rubeo in Scaccario ex parte Rememoratoris Regis," (ff. 53, 84—5, et 115,) de Willelmo de Albinea, Comite Arundellie, regis pincerna. 446—7.

E "Rotulo Raggemannorum de com: Sussex tempore Regis E. I. anno incerto." This entry may be found in the printed Rotuli Hundredorum, II. 212, with the same blank for a word as in this MS.

69. Narratio de coronatione R. Edwardi II. (ubi de servitio Comitis Arundellie); inc. Memorandum quod die dominica prox. post festum sancti Petri in cathedra, anno Domini 1307, anno videlicet bis[s]extili, concurrente litera dominicali ð. 455.

E Rot. "Claus. de anno 10 E. 2di."

70. "Some observacõs and rules collected out of the Journalls of the House of Commons in the reignes of E: 6. Q. Mary, Q. Eliz: and King James," touching the privileges and authority of the House. 456—8.

71. Historiola de proceribus et militibus qui ad insulam Eliensem confugerunt, tempore Guilelmi Conquistoris; inc. Tempore Thristani abbat Elensis qui satus fuit ex satis claris parentibus in villa de Wichford juxta Elye. 463—4.

"This monument was copyed out of an auncient record fownd in the late monastarye of Elye ye names and armes of the which fortye Knights wth a note of their offices which they beare under the Conqueror at the conquest of this iland, as they were set forth in the same record, here followeth."

Nomina quadraginta militum, totque monachorum cum quibus vivebant, una cum scuto armorum cujusque milius. 465—7.

*72. Literæ sub testimonio sigilli communis Collegij Fecialium, curante JOHANNE PHILIPOT, Somerset, collegij registrario, genealogiam familiæ de Seckford, ab anno 34 Henr. II. usque ad Gibbon Seckford tunc viventem. (1 Maii, 16 Car. I.) 469—473.

The latter part only is by Ashmole's hand, who remarks that "the ingrossm^t: from wch this was transcribed had noe seale affixed thereunto."

73. Old English receipt "To brew beer." 473.

From the description of the book from which Ashmole extracted this, it appears to have been Arnold's Chronicle of London, in folio.

*74. Affidavit made in Chancery, before John Page, by ROGER DONSWORTH, declaring the genealogy of the Seckfords, therein set forth, to be truly drawn, and to have been proved by John Philipot, Somerset Herald. (3 May, 1642.) 474.

"Intratur in Officio Affidationum Cancellariæ dom. Regis de die et a^o: juram^ti: assumpti infra-scriptis."

75. Matters "Excerpted out of a Booke of the Scotch Nobility, wherein was drawne their armes with crests supporters and motto; together wth a short account of the original of their families, matches and allyes. Collected shortly after the yeare 1581." To wit—

"The style proclaimed at the christning of K^s James the 6." 477.

"The order as the nobility are placed in the s^d booke." 477—9.

"In this booke are the names and scales* of all those noblemen who subscribed to the accord made at Berwick the 27th of Febr: 1559, wth Q: Eliz: for the expelling of the French out of the kingdome of Scotland." 480.

* The seals are not copied here.

"The armes of the earledome of Marre," tricked. 480.

"The MS. was "Penes . . . Hilliard gen' 7 Oct: 1661," when Ashmole used it.

76. The testament of WILLIAM BRUGES, Garter King of Arms, curiously describing his plate and jewels (26 Feb. 1449, 28 Hen. VI.); with the probate thereof by the Abp. of Canterbury. (Lambeth, 12 Mar. 1449.) 481—5.

77. "Transcripta et collectanea ex libris MS: in Biblioth: Cotton:" scilicet—

Extracts relating to English history, from 1420 to 1441, out of 'Cleopatra C. IV. 4.' 493—7.

Like extracts, from 5 Hen. III. to 22 Hen. VII., out of Viellius A. XVI. 498—506.

78. Entries of "Baptismes" from 1541 to 1667, "Marriages" from 1550 to 1660, and "Burialls" from 1540 to 1666, "Excerpted out of the Register Booke of the parish of Lambeth in com' Surr' begun 10 March 1539." 508—514.

The entry of the burial of Dr. Thomas Thirleby, Bishop of Norwich (p. 512), is printed hence in Tanner's Bibliotheca, p. 709. A sheet is here inserted, which was found loose in one of these MSS., containing—

79. ASHMOLÉ'S farther extracts, from 1653 to 1657, "Out of the Register of Lambeth in com' Surrey." 515*.

The remainder of this volume, being nearly one third, is blank. A paper, formerly loose in it, is now fixed in No. 1763, letter E.

No. 861.

VOL. VII.—Miscellaneous historical and antiquarian Collections, by ASHMOLE.

1. Collectanea e diversis rotulis et recordis publicis, de Tenuris antiquis terrarum in Capite, et aliis rebus curiosis. p. 1—27.

Probably extracted from some of Lord Hatton's MSS., having the same kind of marginal references as some parts of No. 860, i. Pages 28—80 are vacant.

2. Notes of the quantity of "Service done to the King by noble men and woemen that holde their landes by knight's service." 81—101.

The counties are all along noted in the margin. These notes are all in English: they seem to have been extracted from feodary records of the time of Edw. III. The latter part relates to "licenses of custome," and is headed "Customes" at p. 96.

3. "A collection of notes out of the Records in the Tower" *etc. 110—1, 113—213.

* This long title is the same as that of No. 839, ii. except the omission there noted in this Catalogue, and the following additions between the two last paragraphs:—

"The nature and number of the King's rich jewells and of the Treasurer of the chamber, and his office, having the charge thereof." "The King's rewards and extraordinary expences."

This copy is not so clearly written as the other, and differs considerably from it, both in additions which appear by collating the two first pages, and in omissions, as may be seen by comparing the bulk of both MSS.

4. Collectanea e Rotulis Patentium, et e Rotulis Cancellariæ qui ad Vasconiam et alias partes transmarinas spectant, de rebus variis curiosis. 214*, 217—8, 219—226.

* This page contains only one note, "Ex Collect: R: Glover Somerst." Probably all the rest of this article was copied from some volume of his Miscellanea.

5. "Quidam Rotuli Parlamenti, Cartarum, et aliorum generum, ac quidam bundelli Esca[e]trie remanentes inter alia in officio recordorum dominæ reginæ in Turre London. tricesimo die Dec: anno regni reginæ Elizabethæ decimo quinto." (1572.) 227—30.

At the end is this note—"Summa totalis recordorum et bundellorum 2365." Compare a like list of the number of rolls for every reign, printed in Powell's Repertorie of Records, (1631, 4to.) pp. 145—210, No. 489 in Wood's Collection.

6. ASHMOLII memoranda de variis documentis in Rotulis Cancellariæ qui in Turri Londinensi asservantur, atque inde excerpta de rebus miscellis. 237—84.

See also art. 8.

7. "Things excerpted out of a booke written in vellome, wherein is an account of the fees paid to the Serjant Trumpeter and Trumpetts, since an^o. 1 E: 4." 285—7.

* Historical notes from 3 Edw. IV. to 1542, chiefly relating to creations of peers, and royal festivities. Other extracts are in No. 857, art. 155, No. 863, art. 33, and No. 1112, viii. art. 1.

8. ASHMOLII annotationes e Rotulis Cancellariæ in Turri Londinensi. 298—317.

The nature of the collections in art. 6 and 8, is that of short notices and references roughly made (as it seems) from the records themselves, for the purpose of future transcription or extraction. Page 315 contains only notes of the style of Edward III. when prince.

9. "Divers things excerpted out of a booke of Collections made by M^r: ANTHONY ANTHONY, Surveyor of the Ordinance to Hen: 8: Ed: 6: and Q: Mary." 330—350.

* Copious historical notes from 1522 to 1558. On the first page, below the title, is a Pedigree of the parentage, marriage, and issue of the author, drawn out by Ashmole, who wrote this article "16 Nov. 1659," and the two next articles "8 Oct. 1659." Other extracts from the same MS. are in No. 863, artt. 22, 23.

10. "Severall things excerpted out of JOHN LE- LAND'S Itinerary; otherwise* called his Collec- tanea." 354—400.

* Mistakenly so. This article contains copious extracts from all the seven books in order, and some supplemental extracts on the last 8 pages.

11. "JOHN LEILAND'S journies through England, extracted out of his Itinerary:" being a topo- graphical analysis thereof, by ASHMOLE. 402—407.

12. Catalogus quorundam librorum MSS. Guilelmi Dugdali, qui literis A, B, C, D, E, F, G, H, notati sunt. 410—5.

See art. 14.

13. Selecta e Calendario Rotulorum Patentium de regnis Edw. V. Ric. III. Hen. VII. et Hen. VIII. (usque ad annum 38) præcipue de officiis concessis. 417—499.

14. Cæterorum quos Dugdalius scripsit librorum catalogus. 502—17.

Affixed to p. 501 is a half sheet of paper (found loose in this volume) containing a draught of the following note by ASHMOLE.

"Whereas about 30 yeares past I transcribed part of the Catalogue of Sr: Wm Dugdales MS. (wch I entred before in this hooke p. 410) and he having since bequeathed them by his will to my Museum in Oxford, to wch place they were brought [in] 1686. I thought fit to add the rest of the Catalogue heere. And whereas the right hoble; Hen: E: of Clarendon now L^d Livett: of Ireland, wrot to me for a copy of the sd Catalogue, I caused the same to be writ out, and sent me by Dr Plot Keeper (under me) of the sd Museum, to wch he affixed this title—

"Catalogus Librorum MSS. Museo Ashmoleano legatorum, a consultissimo antiquario D^{no} Guilielmo Dugdale milite Gartero Rege Armorum Anglicorum, A^o. Dⁿⁱ 1683 et regni sereniss: regis Jacobi secundi primo."

Pages 518—571 are blank.

No. 862.

VOL. VIII.—Various Tracts and Documents, chiefly relating to the Origin, Descent, and Privileges of English Dignities; collected by ELIAS ASHMOLÉ esq.

1. "Presidents of Baronies by Writ descending with the lands to the heirs males, and not to y^e heirs females." p. *1, 1—14.

This article contains descents of the following dignities, with annotations.

Bewdesert, p. 1	Gillesland 5	Earldom of Oxford 11
Bothall 2	Blankney 6—7	Warwick 12
Barkley 3	La Ware 8—9	Kilpeck 13
Latimer 4	Holgate 10	Grobye 14.

2. "The tittle of Henry Vernon of Stoke-Say in the countie of Salop, esquier, to the name and style of Lord Powis, in the right of Anne his grandmother, cousin and coheire of Edward the last Lord Powys." 17—27.

The following article is an appendix of proofs.

3. "Examples of such as after the decease of a Baron or Peere of this realme without yssue male, in the right of their wives, mothers, grandmothers, or greate grandmothers, having been the eldest daughters or coheires to the s^d: Baron, have enjoy'd the names style and dignity of the said Barony, according to the most auncient usage and lawdable custome of this realme of England." 28—46.

Subscribed thus at the end:—"This booke is the true copy of a booke set downe and penned by that worthy and learned gent' ROBERT GLOVER alias Somerset Herald of armes, for Mr: Henry Vernon of Stoke-Say, in whose handes the original hereof doth remaine at the writing hereof, 1590." After Ashmole had taken the pains of transcribing from a transcript, he obtained Glover's own duplicate original, which is now in No. 825, ii. See the note on that MS.; which has been published, but not very exactly, by Collins.

4. "Presidents collected out a number of others, proving Baronies and Titles of honour (created by writt) to descend in the direct lyne to the sole daughter and heire, or to the next cosen and beire female and their heires, and that the issues in that direct lyne aswell of females as males, have enjoyed the name, stile, tittle, and dignities of the same Baronies, according to the auncient usage and custome of the realme, notwithstanding that caput baroniae hath been separate from the blood by gift, sale, or conveyance to the collaterall lynes of such families. 1598. Made for Sr: Tho: Fane knight an^o: 1598." 49—62.

The names of the baronies herein described, (in the same manner as in art. 1.) are—

Abergavenny 50—2	Cobham 58	Morley 59
Eresbie 53	Fitzwarin 57	Audeley 59
Dacres 54	Furnivale 58	Dacres 60
Dunster 56	Mulgrave 58	Fitzwalter 61.

Many others are shortly noticed on the last page. This article is wholly different from a similar collection subjoined unto Sir Thomas Fane's claim to the barony of Bergavenny, published in Collins on Baronies by Writ, pp. 83—95.

5. "The summary pointes of all that I and all others found concerning the Office of Earle Marshall, when we were comanded by the E: of Essex Earle Marshall, to make search into the records for y^e same. 1597." 63—6.

Subscribed, "This I delivered to the E: of Arundell 1617." Transcribed by Ashmole, "Ex MS: penes Jo: Vincent g."

6. Order of the Lords Commissioners made "At a Marshall's Court holden at his Ma^{ty}: pallace at Whitehall," 29 Mar. 1609, that Sir Thomas Smith (late Ambassador to Russia) should take precedence of senior Knights. 67.

"Ex præfato MS:" as also the four following articles.

7. Arguments to prove "That Sr: Dudley Digges is to have the priviledge of a Knight Ambassador." 68—9.

8. Note of the arguments and proceedings relating to the precedency of the younger sons of Earls, above Knights Councillors, decided by the King, 29 June, 1620. p. 70.

9. "The grant of precedency to the Earle of Nottingham* late lord Admirall, an^o: 1618." Also the answer of the Kings of arms (W. SEGAR, W. CAMBDEN, and RICH. SAINT-GEORGE) to the Earl's letter on the same subject; and arguments on this case, and on other dignities granted for life only. 71—9.

* Charles Lord Howard of Effingham, in letters patent of JAMES I. the date of which is omitted.

10. "The names of the high Officers Royall;" and some old notes of the precedency of the blood royal and ambassadors. 80.

Thus far (art. 5—10) is copied from Vincent's MS.

11. Grant of a canton of his own arms by Thomas Percy son and heir* of Sir Tho. Percy, to Tho. Perse of Islington. (12 Apr. 3 Edw. VI.) 81.

* Restored in blood as such. "Ex autogr. in Offic. Armorum."

12. "Cases of law concerning [the trial of] Barons and Peeres of the realme." 82.

"Ex collect: Nich: Charles pen: W. Ryley Lanc: p: 24."

13. Extracts from the Journals of the House of Lords, containing their address to the King, adjudging the Earldom of Oxford to Robert de Vere, and the Office of great Chamberlain to Lord Willoughby of Eresby. (4 and 5 Apr. 1626.) 83—4.

"Out of Mr. Owen's fol. MS: of old presidentes. fo. 328." The former part is omitted, but the latter is contained, in Collins on Baronies by Writ, p. 194.

14. Certificate by Robert Earl of Leicester, to the Court of Wards, that he had knighted Robert Earl of Essex in the Low Countries. (10 Feb. 29 Eliz.) 85.

Bill presented to the same court by the said Earl of Essex, suing for the delivery of his estates by reason of his full age and his knighthood. 86—87.

“Ex MS. penes Com’ de Salisbur.”

15. Arguments against the precedency of the “Knights of the Bath” above Knights Bachelors: also concerning “Knights not gentlemen.” 88—99.

Copied from a “MS. penes Job: Vincent gen.”

16. “Private advertisements concerning a sute to be framed of particuler honour which (besides the inestimable benefitt to the publique) will accrewe by meanes of my refined Militia, yf the same may be established: not to be neglected; but worthy to be imbraced, and intended as a right and duty w^{ch} all greate commandes els have annexed unto them.” 100—4.

“Ex MS. in Bibl: Cott: sub effig: Julij C. 9.” f. 131; art. 28 in Planta’s Catalogue. This was a money-project in the time of James I. for creating an order of Knights of the Crown, to the number of 45 in each shire, at the rate of 25 pounds each; where- by 61340*l.* might be got in one year.

17. Notes of three manners in which the title of Viscount has been conferred, and of two “Creations [of peerages] intailing the honor to col- lateralls.” 105.

“Ex MS. penes W^m Le Neve mil: Clarenceux. fol. 46.”

18. The manner of the “Creation of Thomas Percy Lord Percy,” (5 Apr.) and Earl of Northum- berland. (5 May, 1557.) 111.

Note of “Creations at Greenwich the 4th: of May a^o. 14 Eliz: 1572, being sunday.” 111.

“Lordes* by writt at the Parliam^t: the 8: day of May in the 14th: yeare of Q: Eliz: a^o. 1572.” 112.

* Compton, Cheny, and Norris: this is a short account of the manner of their introduction. Each of these three pieces is noted as copied “Ex autogr’ penes præfat’ Joh’em Vincent.”

19. The ceremony of “The creation of W^m West Lord De la Ware a^o. 1569.” (5 Feb.) 113—4.

“Ex MS: penes præf: Jo: Vincent.”

20. “The creation of S^r Robert Carr Viscount Ro- chester.” (25 Mar. 1611.) 115.

“Ex eodem MS.”

21. The notes of a King of arms*, “Natali Christi, 1618,” concerning his conference with the Lord Chancellor about privately making the Earl of Buckingham a Marquis; the precedents of former creations then given by him; and a note of the creation on new-year’s day following. 116—7.

* Probably Sir William Segar, Garter.

22. Ceremony of “The creation of Sir Henry Mar- ney Lord Marney, at Richmond.” (12 Apr. 14 Hen. VIII.) 118.

“See also Mr. Owens black booke, fo: 56.” It does not appear whence this article and the next were copied.

23. Ceremony of “The creation of S^r: Arthure Plantagenett Viscont Lisle, anno r’r’ Henr. viij^{vi} xv^{to}.” (26 Apr. 1523.) 119.

24. “The creation of a Duke:” or the ceremony at the creation of Edward Se[y]mor Duke of Somerset. (17 Feb. 1 Edw. VI.) 120.

Copied from a “MS. in Bibl’ Cotton: sub effig: Julij F. 11.” f. 274; art. 15 in Planta’s Catalogue.

25. “The creacōn of Edward Stanley Lord Mount- eagle.” (21 May, 6 Hen. VIII.) 121.

“From Mr: Owen’s black booke, fo. 55^b.” The following is from “fol’ 56. b.”

“The creacōn of S^r: William Paulet, treasurer of ye King’s howshold, Lord S^t: John; and of S^r John Russell, comptroller of the King’s hows- hold, Lord Russell; and of Mr: W^m Parr Lord Parr; the 9th: day of March in the 30: yeare of the raigne of King Hen: the 8: at Westm.” 121—2.

Note that “In this old Black Booke now belong- ing to Mr. Owen, are conteyned also these crea- cōns following”— (122.)

Earl of Essex. (18 Apr. an. 31 Hen. VIII.)

57^b.

“Transcribed from out a large MS: of ye Kings, written in a moderne hand.”

27. “The generall forme of Writts of the Parliam^t: whereby Barons of y^t institucōn are created:” with observations on the inheritance of a dignity so created. 131—2.

A copy of the writ of summons to Sir John Sutton de Dud- ley, from “Claus. 18 H. 6. m’ 24 dorso.”

“The state of the controversie as touching the descent of the dignity and name of the Barony of Dudley.” 133.

“Inconveniencies by descent of hon^{rs}: unto fe- males not having the land of their auncestours.” 137.

“A few out of many presidents collected to prove that a Barony invested into a family meere by Writt, without limitaōn or uses (as was Brom- flet’s) is descendable to the heires generall, as in this case of Dudley.” 138—9.

“Ex autogr’ penes Joh’em Vincent gen.” None of these articles relating to the barony of Dudley can be found in Collins.

28. "Reasons [and documents*] to prove that the sisters of Thomas late Lord Laware did as well participate in blood, and ought in all equity to enjoy the auncient place and honour disceded unto them from their originall auncestor, as their brother, wch by a judgment in Parliament was settled and established in the same." With a pedigree prefixed, showing their descent from "Richard West Lord La Ware." 140—150.

* Among which are—"The Petition of Thomas Lo: La Warre to be restored to his auncient place in Parliament." (144—5.) "The opinions of her Mattes Attorney generall and Solicitor" Edw. Coke and Th. Fleming; also that of Judges Popham and Periam, on this case of precedency.

29. Styles and titles of Sir Philip Sydney, 1577 (with his motto), and Roger Earl of Rutland, 1595, in Latin; also the mottos of Bowyer of Staffordshire, Lord Grey of Codnor, and Gibson. 150.

"Ex autogr' penes Jo: Vincent g:"

30. "Imperfections in Mr: Lenards presidents" touching the inheritance of dignities. 151—5.

Beg. To the first, that in all other cases of inheritance. The case itself is art. 69 of this MS.

31. "The judgm^t: of the House of Peeres concerning the Lady O'Briens claime to the Barony of Clyfton, 7 Febr: 167 $\frac{3}{4}$." 156.

From a copy certified by "Jo: Browne, Cleric: Parliamentorum."

32. "Primæ appellationes Baronum, ex summationibus Parliamenti," annis 49 Hen. III. et 23, 24, 25, 27, 28 Edw. I. p. 159.

See also No. 860, iii. art. 39.

33. "Degrees of men in England," chiefly in the time of the Saxons, described, from 'Duke' to 'Coppymasters.' 161—2.

"Ex libro Collect. per Fleetewood."

*34. R. CAROLI II. literæ patentis, per quas Henricus Finch, Comes de Winchelsea, nuntium seu legatum suum constituit ad Sultanum Mahomet Han, Turcici regni dominatorem, pacis et commercii causa. (Westm. 23 Aug. anno 12, A.D. 1660.) 163—5.

Probably copied from the original.

35. Act of attainder against King Henry VI. and his party, passed 1 Edw. IV. p. 171—186.

Beg. Forasmuch as Henry late King Henry the sext. "Transcribed from the roll remaining wth the Lord Bruse an^o: 1659:" but unfinished. That roll is now No. 21 in this collection.

36. "An Act for the attainder of Thomas Lord Cromwell," Earl of Essex. 187—194.

From a copy subscribed thus, "Convenit cum recordo. Exr per Ricardum Garth." It is among the Private Acts of 32 Hen. VIII. num. 5.

37. Proclamation, by King Philip and Queen Mary, setting forth the injuries done to them by the French King, declaring him to be an enemy, and commanding all his merchants and subjects to leave England within forty days. (Westm. 7 June, annis 3 & 4.) 195—7.

From a copy printed at London, by John Cawood, 1557. Not published in the Fœdera.

38. Injunctions of Queen Elizabeth, called "The Statute of Ipswich, prohibi^t the clergie to have their wives children or nurses to dwell in the houses of any colledge, collegiate or cathedrall churches. 3^o Eliz." With a record of the joining thereof, by Thomas Archbishop of York, in his visitation of the cathedral church of York, 2 Aug. 1563. p. 198—9.

"Out of an old Act Booke of the Church of Yorke, from a^o 1543 to 1572." Dated at Ipswich, 9 Aug. 1561, in Wilkins, Concilia, IV. 226—7.

39. "A proclamation sett forth by the state and body of the Kings Ma^ts: Counsell now assembled at London, conteyning the very trouth of the Duke of Somersetts evill government and false and detestable proceedings." 203—8.

Subscribed by "The Lord Rich, Lord Chancellor," and others.

40. "The proclamation for proclaiming Queene Jane," in the form of letters patent, dated at the Tower of London, 10 July, anno 1. (1553.) 209—213.

41. "Proclama^cõn for proclaiming Queene Mary," in like form, dated at London, 19 July, anno 1. (1553.) 214.

42. "The trewe coppie of [PHILIP] Therle of ARROUNDELL his l'ers to [Elizabeth] the Queenes moste exilente Matⁱ," when he was about to leave England. 215—224.

In 1584: see Dugdale's Baronage, II. 276—7. Beg. Maye yt please yor exelente Matⁱ as the displeasure of a prince is a heavier burthen to beare. This is a contemporary copy, on three sheets of paper, inserted. See also No. 829, viii. art. 3.

43. The humble and thankful submission of the inhabitants of Yorkshire, to King Henry VIII. on his free pardon to them granted after their rebellion. 231—2.

Beg. To the Kingis [etc.] Mooste excellent triumphant and victoriorus prynce. A contemporary copy, on one leaf, inserted in the volume, but at some later time transposed after the next article.

44. The "Earle of Essex rysinge." 229.

The paper thus indorsed (on p. 230) is written in a hand of the time of Queen Elizabeth; and the following is a copy of it.

- *45. "ROBERTI GLOVERI Portcullis ad candidum lectorem" Genealogiarum Regiarum a se conscriptarum priefatio. 231—3.

This is a draught, fairly written, but corrected, of a preface to a work, which contained the pedigrees of the Welch princes from Cadwallader, the Kings of France and Scotland, the Dukes of Lorraine, the Earls of Anjou, and the Dukes of Normandy. These last occupied the middle of the Roll, for such its shape appears to have been from the following words:—"Normannia ducibus in ipso membrana medio, Anglorum reges omnes, et eorum liberi, ab Egberto rege (qui primus post Anglo-Saxonum Eptarchiam totius fere Britannia monarchiam adeptus est), ad sermam Elizabetham modo Angliae Franciae et Hiberniae reginam, bona serie adproximavi." The English royal line was followed by the pedigrees of the noble and royal houses of Guienne, Blois, Arragon, Castile, Leon, Navarre, Portugal, Flanders, Brabant, Burgundy, Austria, Chester, Lincoln, Hereford, Gloucester, March, Salisbury, Provence, Holland, and Hainault. This preface occupies one sheet inserted in the volume: it is mentioned by Bishop Tanner (Bibliotheca, p. 327); but whether the work to which it relates be extant, is not known. Its title was "Anglorum Regum genealogiarum stemmatum consanguinitatum affinitatumque vera Declinatio;" for so the draught of Glover's dedication to Q. Elizabeth is superscribed, in No. 825, f. 101—2; which ought to have been noticed in the description of that volume.

46. "28 Martij 1587. The proceedinge against Mr Davison, in the Starre Chamber, by commission not read but directed to these xiiij following,—1. The L^d Chief Justice of Eng: as L^d Privie Seale for y^t day," etc. containing the substance of the charge brought against him, of Davison's answer, and of the several opinions of the Commissioners; by WILLIAM NUTT. 235—245.

A transcript, much like Stansby's handwriting, "Ex MS: penes Rob't. Sterrell," subscribed thus, "Ex autographo Guilielmi Nutti qui oculatus testis adfuit." This narrative is published, from the present MS. (but with an inaccurate reference), in the Life of William Davison, by Sir Harris Nicolas, London, 1823, 8vo. pp. 330—349.

47. The antient ballad of the battle of Otterbourn, or Chevy Chace; beg. Yt fell abought the lamasse tyde. 247—254.

Transcribed by Ashmole from the MS. "In Bibl: Cotton. sub effigie Cleopat: C. 4. tract: 6." (f. 64.) It has been published by Bp. Percy, from the Harl. MS. 293, in his Reliques, (1765, 8vo.) pp. 21—31.

- *48. Translation of a letter from Olexeye Michaylowiche, Emperor of Russia, congratulating King Charles II. on his restoration, and desiring to enter into a league, offensive and defensive, with him. (Moscow, 31 July, A. M. 7170, A. D. 1662.) 255—260.

"Translated the 20th of January 1662[-3], per James Frese."

- *49. Representation made by Evan Offonasyeve and Ivan Davidowe, the Russian ambassadors, stating the former negotiations between their master and Charles II. in 1658, (through Lord Culpepper,) and desiring that an impostor in London, calling himself Prince of Belarussia, might be banished. 263—8.

Likewise "Translated by James Frese, January 8th, 1662." These two articles are very fairly written, but not by Ashmole's hand.

50. "The forme in w^{ch} the suspension of armes is declared by his Catholique Ma^{tie}: Englished out of Spanish." (Madrid, [20*] July, 1660.) 271.

* See the next document.

- Order in Council, "At the court at Whitehall, the third of August 1660," upon the reading thereof. 272—3.

Letter from Sir EDWARD NICHOLAS to the Attorney General, communicating the foregoing documents, and instructing him to prepare a proclamation for the cessation of arms on the part of England. (Whitehall, 28 Aug. 1660.) 273—274.

51. "Certaine prayors [benedictions and ceremonies] to be used by the Quenes heighnes in the consecration of the crampe-ringe. Deus misc-reatur nostri" etc. 277—282.

52. "The cremonyne for the helinge of them that be diseased with the Kings evill. First the King kneeling upon his knees shall begin and say In nomine Patris" etc. 285—290.

These two articles are a duplicate, by Ashmole's own hand, of the transcript contained in No. 842, i.: but it does not appear from what source they were derived.

53. "The maner of makeinge of Knights after the custume of Englonde in time of pease and at the coronacion that are Knights of the Bath. Whane a squyre commmyth into the court for to receive the ordre of knight[h]ode." 291—8.

Ending—convenable to the Kings squiers fellows to knights of other landes &c. A translation of No. 764, art. 13.

- *54. "The order of the makeinge of Knights of the Bath for the coronacion of Queene Elizabeth the xiiijth of January." [1559.] 299—300.

"Transcribed from Mr: Anthony Anthony's Collect." It ends thus,—And at her Mates going out of the Tower of London there was a great shott of gunnes and chambres to the nombre of i.v. shott. No. 863, art. 23, may be considered as a part of this article.

55. "Creations of Dukes, Earles, &c." viz.—
Narrative of the "Creation of Henry Duke of Yorke. First upon alhalow day the vth* yeare of the raigne of King Henry the vij." 301—3.

* Ashmole has noted that this is a mistake for the tenth year, 1494.

Narrative of the creation of Thomas Duke of Norfolk, Charles Duke of Suffolk, Thomas Earl of Surrey, and Charles Earl of Worcester,—On Candlemas day the purificacōn of our lady the vth yeare of [etc.] Kinge Henry the vijth at Lamcheth. 304—6.

An addition to the foregoing, from an other copy*, together with "The charges to the Office of Armes apperteyning at the creacōn of greate estates." 306.

* "This I found added in Mr Owens Black Booke fo: 53."
to ff. 48 and 51 of which, marginal references are made at the beginning of the two narratives, which were copied by Ashmole
"Ex MS: pergami' penes Joh'em Maynard Serv. ad Legem."

56. "Capita fœderis inter Regem Angliæ Jacobum primum et Regem Hispan: Philippum tertium et Archiduces Albertum et Isabellam Eugeniam Claram, 18^o Augusti 1604." O. S. 307—319.

This is a copy of the treaty, as signed by the Commissioners on both sides, 28 Aug. 1604, N. S. It is contained in the exemplification, dated the next day, in the Fœdera, XVI. 585—596.

57. "The decree in the Starr Chamb^r for orders in printeing," made 23 June, 1586, 28 Eliz.
323—331.

58. Letters patent of King JAMES I. granting, to the Company of Stationers of London, sole license to print primers, psalters, and certain other books, for ever. (Hatfield, 29 Oct. anno 1, 1603.) 332—7.

59. Letters patent of JAMES I. granting to the same Company license to print school-books,
Cato, Terence, Esop, Virgil, Cicero, Ovid, and Corder's Colloquies, for 21 years. (Westm.
2 Apr. anno 12, 1614.) 338—341.

*60. Indenture under the great seal, between King James I. and John Rovinzon, esquire, setting forth the purport of a like indenture formerly made (29 Feb. anno 9, 1612) between the King and Simon Sturtevant, for the melting and working of iron and other metals with pit-coal; stating that the license thereby granted to Sturtevant had been forfeited by reason of his outlawry; and granting like licensē to the said Rovinzon, for 31 years. (3 Apr. 11 Jac. I., 1613.) 341—362.

"The Schedule annexed to the Indenture aforesaid is as followeth;" to wit, "The manuscript treatise of Metallica," written by SIMON STURTEVANT, being in the nature of a specification of his invention, and inrolled in Chancery. 362—370.

Ending thus—"Where note the materialls made by this me-chanick arte are called Woodpleits, and so forth, as it shalbe further mencōned and enlarged in the printed treatise of Metallica.
Et memorand. &c. Irr. 6^{to} die Maij. 21 pars" [Rot. Claus. 11
Jac. I.] Sturtevant printed his treatise in a small quarto volume, together with a copy of his own Indenture with the King; but he seems to have been unable to carry out his plans fully, and, having laid out all his patrimony on his potteries and founderies at High-bury in Middlesex, to have been ruined by the almost total reservation of the profits of his speculations, to the King, the Princes, and the Duke of Buckingham, by the terms of his patent. A copy of that curious tract is in possession of his descendant, Mr. Sturtevant of Hackney, and another is in Wood's Collection in this Library, No. 316, iv. It is intitled "Metallica. Or the Treatise of Metallica. Briefly comprehending the doctrine of diuerse new metallieall inuentions, but especially, how to neale, melt, and worke all kinde of mettle-oares, irons and steeles with sea-coale, pit-coale, earth-coale and brush-fewell. Also a transcript of his Maiesties Letters Pattents of priuiledge, granted vnto Simon Sturteuant for the said metallieall businesses, for one and thirty yeares. Published in print before the last day of this present Easter terme, as the said Simon Sturteuant was by his Highnesse inioyned. Imprinted at London by George Eld. Cum priuilegio. Anno. 1612. May. 22." (pp. 112.) The Indenture is contained in the first chapter (pp. 5 —32), and the second chapter (pp. 33—47) is a copy of the Schedule above mentioned.

61. R. CAROLI II. literæ patentis, per quas Præ-sidem Consilium et Sodales Regalis Societatis, Londini, pro scientia naturali promovenda, in unum corpus constituit, atque privilegiis ornauit.
(Westm. 22 Apr. anno 15, 1663.) 373—397.

A fair copy, partly written by Ashmole, and with the arms tricked by him at p. 376. See also No. 836, art. 204.

62. Commission, under the great seal and sign manual of King EDWARD VI., and signed by the lords of the Council, authorizing Sir John Yorke and other officers of the Mint to coin sovereigns, angels, and angelets of fine gold; sovereigns, half-sovereigns, crowns, and half-crowns of crown gold; and crowns, half-crowns, shillings, and sixpences of silver. (Hampton-court, 5 Oct. anno 5, 1551.) 399—408.

A fair copy, corrected by Ashmole, who has preserved facsimiles of the signatures of Edward, and of "T. Cant. W. Wilteshir, J. Warwyk, W. Northt., W: Herbert, John Gate, W. Ceyll, E. Clynton, Jo. Masone, T. Darcy, Robert Bownes;" also of the examiners, "Wa. Mildmay, John Yorke, John Godsalue."

*63. Proclamation, signed by the lords of the Council, declaring the succession of King James V. of Scotland to the crown of England, after the death of Queen Elizabeth. 409—411.

A fair copy by Ashmole, with facsimiles of the signatures of "Robert Lee maior [of London], Jo. Cant., Tho. Egerton C. S., T. Buchurst, Nottingham, Northumberland, Will: Derby, George
Cumbreland, Gilb: Shrewsbury, E: Worcester, Ro. Sussex, H.
Lyncoln, Pembroke, Howard, Ric: London, Clanricard, G. Huns-don, Ro: Hereford, Jo: Norwich, Tho: Laware, F. Morley, Henry Cobham, Grey, Ed: Crumwell, Ro. Riche, Lumley, G. Chandois, W. Knollys, William Compton, Fortescu, J. Popham, Ed: Wotton."
A more important document than those in the Fœdera, XVI. 493—5.

64. "Mr: ROLLS his argument" against the claim of Charles Longvile, esquire, to the barony of Grey of Ruthyn,— "Whilher a baronye by writt, beinge once involved into an earldome, may be afterwards transferred into another familie, by a daughter and heire, and the earldome continue in the male heire;" including precedents of the descent of sundry peerages. 412—427.

"Camera depicta, before the Lords Committees
7^o Dec: 1640." In the same case, "The Plaintiff's petiōn," with the answer on the part of the defendant, Anthony Earl of Kent. 428—431.

Arguments and precedents "To prove that a call by writt is not a state in fee, as is pretended, and that must as well be proved by reason as by president." 433—444.

Thus far printed (with a reference to this MS., but not from it) in Collins on Baronies by Writ, pp. 209—230.

Summary of the Plaintiff's case, and of the arguments used on both sides "Concerning the dignities of Lord Hastings and Lord Grey of Ruthyn," 7 Dec. 1640, tuesday 19 Jan. and monday 1 Feb. 1640—1, including a pedigree showing the descent of the dignities in question. 445—454.

Compare Collins, p. 241 et seq.

Resolution of the Lords, adjudging the title and dignity of Lord De Grey to Mr. Longvile, "Die Veneris, 5^o Febr: 1640[1]." 454.

See Collins, p. 157.

65. Questions arising upon the calling of an Earl's son to Parliament, by the title of his father's barony. 455.

Seemingly by Ashmole. Beg. If a barony wch hath its foundacōn.

66. Stemma descensum ostendens baroniæ de Clifford, ad Henricum filium Francisci Comitis Cumbriæ, junioris filii Henrici Comitis Cumbriæ, et non ad filiam et hæredem Georgii Comitis Cumbriæ senioris filii. 456.

67. Letters patent of King JAMES I., adjudging the dignity of Lord Roos of Hamlake to "William Cecil, sonne of the Lord Burleigh, grandchild to y^e Earle of Exeter, claiming the same as heire generall." (Westm. 22 July, anno 14, 1616.) 457—8.

Copied from the Patent Roll, "13^a pars 14^o Jac: num: 3^o." Published in Collins on Baronies by Writ, p. 174.

68. "The Earle of Rutld. his peticōn to his Matie: a^o: 1615," claiming the barony of Roos of Hamlake. 458—9.

"The state and title of Fran: Earle of Rutland to y^e tytle and dignity of Lord Roos of Hamlake Tresboote and Belvoir, being heire male to Thomas late Earle of Rutland, against W^m Cecil the sonne of the Lord Burleigh clayming it as heire generall to the sayd Earle Thomas." 459—461.

Printed (from an other MS.) in Collins, pp. 162—4. (line 2).

69. "A Declaration how y^e estate and dignity of a baron of this realme, which Gregory Lo: Dacre, late deceased without yssue, held and enjoyed, is now discended to Margaret the wife of Sampson Lennard his sister and next heire, and y^t in right she is to be allowed and admitted to the same." 462—4.

Ashmole hath noted in the margin, "The imperfecōns in stating this case are noted before, p. 152, 153." (See art. 30.) The present article may be found printed in Collins, pp. 34—35, and other papers on the same case are in No. 1147, ii.

"Certaine other presidents among many other, setting forth that y^e heires females of Barons have enjoyed the dignity of their ancestors, and being married, y^t their husbands in regard thereof have beene summoned and called likewise to Parliam^t: and to have continued that dignity to their next heires." 465—6.

"The case of the Earle of Devon." 467.

Two paragraphs only seeming to be part of the foregoing article: ending—more ceremonys and solemnities about it.

70. "Certayne notes taken out of Lawe Cases and other authors," relative to the possession and inheritance of titles, honors, and arms. 469—474.

Beg. "It apperteyneth to the office of the Constable and Marshall of England to have conuzance of deedes of armes, and of contracts touching deedes of armes as well out of the realme as within, which cannot be determined by the common law, as appeareth by the statute made in the 13 R. 2. cap: 2."

71. "Mr: SELDEN's argument concerning the baronies of Hastings and Ruthin." 475—504.

Printed in the third volume of his Works, col. 1712—1727; also in Collins on Baronies by Writ, pp. 197—208, next before art. 64.

72. Arguments proving "That, by the lawes of the realme, dignities conferred by the K^{es} writt of summons to Parliam^t: descend to females, where there is a sole heire, and not coheires, and that y^e alienacōn of possessions cannot alter the law." 509—511.

Printed hence in Collins on Baronies by Writ, pp. 409—411.

73. "Reasons to prove that the dignities of honour, not otherwise restrained by the Princes' res patentes, be descendible to females as well as to males." 511—3.

The following precedents seem to belong to this article, though the two last pedigrees are written on a sheet of paper of different size.

"How the barony of Hastings and Aburgaveney did descend by an heire generall to Renold Lord Grey of Ruthin." (1591.) 514.

"How the barony of the Lord Strange of Knocking did descend by an heire generall to George Lord Strange." 515.

"How the barony of Belvoir did descend by an heire generall to William Dabigney." 519.

"How the barony of Trusbut did descend by an heire generall to W^m: Lord Dabigney of Belvoir, and how the barony of Dabigney did descend to Robert Lord Roos of Hamlacke." 521.

74. Pedigree of the Barons Fitzwalter, showing "Benjamin Mildemay now living, 1667," to be heir general to the dignity. 523.

A printed broadside, probably used in making his claim to that peerage, which he obtained in 1670.

75. "Sundry errors relating to the English nobility, whereof notice ought to be taken, and significacōn made to the Earle Marshall of England, to the end that, as well the like may for the future be prevented, as what is at present amiss reformed." 525—9.

"Certaine particulars to be considered in order to stating the point touching the precedencie of the eldest sons of Earles younger sons, and the daughters of Earles younger sons, w^{ch} is not yet determined." 530—1.

"The foremenconed Errours &c: were drawne up by Sr: W^m DUGDALE Garter, and presented to the E: Marshall, and the Lord Keeper, some tyme after the coronacōn of K^e James the 2^d." They bear internal evidence of having been drawn up in the reign of Charles II., and were copied by Ashmole upon the fly-leaves at the end of this volume.

No. 863.

VOL. IX.—A Collection of Records, Ceremonials, and other documents relating to "Serjanties of sundry kindes, [or] personall services apperteyning to the Crowne and Kings of this Realme, aswell in tymes of warr as of peace and pastime, especially at their Coronacōn;" including transcripts of some of the Coronation-Rolls, and narratives of Coronations: by ELIAS ASHMOLE esq.

On the second of 5 blank leaves at the beginning of this valuable volume, he has noted references to Hoveden's Annals, p. 374 and 420, for accounts of the two coronations of Richard I.

1. "Processus factus ad coronacionem domini Regis Anglie RICARDI SECUNDI post conquestum, anno regni sui" primo. p. 1—22.

The Coronation-Roll of claims and services, copied from "Claus. 1 R. 2. m' 45," and printed in the Federa, VII. 157—160. See art. 8.

2. Processus factus de servitiis et officiis postulatis in Curia Clamiorum, "In Coronatione Regis HENRICI QUARTI." 22—39.

3. "Sequitur forma juramenti soliti et consueti prestari per Reges Angliæ in eorum coronacione" etc. 40.

"Parla. 1 H. 4. m' 20. n^o 17."

4. Breve de certiorari super tenura et tenentibus maneriorum de Keninghall etc. in com. Norf. (20 Jan. 1 Edw. III.) cum responsione Thesaurarii et Baronum Seaccarii super eo. 41—2.

This was to try the right of Robert de Montalt (asserted in a petition to Parliament) to be chief Butler at the coronation. The answer recites an account of that office at the coronation of Queen Eleanor, from the Memoranda of the Exchequer, when the Earl of Arundel could not perform it, being under sentence of excommunication.

5. Excerpta e Rotulo Petitionum pro servitiis "In coronatione Regis HENRICI QUINTI," Gallice: scilicet—

Lord Fitz-Hugh, constable. 42.

Earl of Nottingham, marshal. 44.

With this appendix—"In Rubro Libro de Scaccario regis fol. xxx^o. sic continetur de Marescall. Et propter hoc debet Magister Marescallie habere dicas de bonis et liberacionibus." 47—52. See also No. 856, p. 21—8.

Lord Furnivall. 52.

Sir John le Moigne. 52.

With three inquisitions on the death of his mother Johanna (14 Edw. III.) concerning the tenure of his lands. (53—5.) Also—"In Libro Feodorum compilato tempore regis E: fil: regis Henr: sub titulis sequent: inter alia continetur. Hundredum de Wynford." etc. Scil. Testa de Nevill, p. 164, etc.

Drue Barantyn, John and Tho. Harewell,

John Selman, and John Clifton, tenants of the manor of Liston. 56.

"Feoda eidem officio consueta." 57.

Sir Tho. Dymock. 57.

John de Clifford. 58.

Earl of Nottingham and Lord Latymer, for the office of Almoner. 59.

Burgesses of Oxford. 60.

Earl of Arundel, butler. 61.

Gilbert Lord Talbot; three claims. 62—3.

6. Excerpta e diversis inquisitionibus de tenentibus in capite per servitia regi in die coronationis et aliis temporibus præstanda. 64—87.

7. Literæ patentes quibus villæ de Berkinge, Ilford, et Dagenham, assignatæ sunt Ricardo Grey, Camerario, pro herbagio et hospitacione sua, ut solitum est. (11 Jan. 6 Hen. VI.) 88.

Aliæ, quibus officium Barbitonsoris concessum est Roberto Bolley. 88.

8. "The proces done or made at the coronation of King RICHARD the 2^d: after the death of King Edward the third after y^e conquest. The most fortunate or blessed stronge and mightie Edward." 89—102, 109—111, 103—5.

This is an old translation of the Coronation-Roll (art. 1 in this MS.), but not complete. An other copy is in the Harleian MS. 1309, ff. 4—24. This has been irregularly copied, from ff. 1—7 of a MS. belonging to Serjeant Maynard; and some intervening pages contain translations of—Three patents of Edward III. relating to the peace with France. (24 Oct. 1360.) 106—8.

The last is unfinished at the foot of the page. They are copied from ff. 83, 78, 91, of the same MS. as the foregoing article (which occupied ff. 1—7), and may be found also in the transcript contained in No. 865, art. 1, which see.

9. "The office of the Earle of Oxforde the cheife Chamberlayne, [on] the day of the coronacōn." 112.

"Ex MS: penes Anth: Dyott ar: 17 Febr. 1661." Written before the reformation.

10. A short account of the marriage of Henry V. and the Princess Katharine, with a translation of the treaty of Troyes then solemnized. (20 May, 1420.) 113—122.

Probably copied from Serjeant Maynard's MS. as art. 8.

11. "Coronacio Regis [EDWARDI II.] et forma ejus juramenti. Memorandum quod die dominica." 123—4.

"Rot. Claus: 1 E: 2: m' . . ." The oath at p. 40 is here referred to, as "the same in substance, but differiog in forme."

12. Historiola coronationis Regis EDWARDI III. inc. Memorandum quod die dominica. 124—5.

"Rot Claus.—in dorso."

13. Petition to the King from Margaret widow of Sir John Dimock, Champion, for the fees due to her husband, who died owing 200 marks, on account of his expenses at the coronation: with the King's answer. (French.) 125.

This and the next article are noted as copied "Ex ipso autogr: in Bibl: Cottoniana, A^o: 1661." namely—Vespasianus, C. XIV.

f. 119, artt. 49, 50: the former of which is described in Planta's Catalogue, as a "warrant of Rich. II. on a petition," etc.

14. Warrant of Henry VI. to Rob. Rolleston, keeper of the wardrobe, to prepare "trappures" for Philip Dimock against the coronation; (4 Nov. an. 8.) also the docquet of other warrants for a "dextrer" and "armurie" for the same; signed by "H. Gloucestre" and six other counsellors. 125—6.

15. A narrative of "The coronation of Queene KATHERIN, daughter of King Charles of France, wife unto the most noble and victorious prince King HENRY the vth. heire and regent of Fraunce." (21 Feb. 1421.) 129—133.

Beginning thus—On candlemas day in the morning the King came into England; and ending—And thus many goodly bankettes and triumphes were then done.

*16. A curious narrative of "The coronation of King HENRY the vjth." 135—140.

Beg. The vijth day of November the King of England was crowned. Ending thus in a stanza of 8 lines—Justly to reigne in England and [in] France.

17. Short abstract of the "Claymes at the coronacōn of HEN: 4." 141—2.

*18. "Here followeth thordour of the coronatioun of the most high mightie and cristenne prince HENRY THE SEVENTH rightfull and undoubted enheritour to the crowne of England and Fraunce w^t their appurtenaunces, and by th'ole assent of all the lords spirituall and temporall and the commons of the same, elect, choisen, and required the xxxth. day of October, the yeare of our Lord Godde a Thouzand foure hundrithe fourescore and five, to be King of the same realmes. Also of the most noble princes dame ELIZABETH his wief Quene of Englounde and of Fraunce etc. to be solempnized at Westminster." 146—163.

This is an ample directory for all the preparations for, and ceremonies of, the coronation, probably drawn up for the King's use. It begins thus—First it requireth manyfold; and ends—these royally to be served as is accordyng to the feeste of his coronacion etc.

*19. "The coronatioun of the most excellent princes Queene ELIZABETH the third of that name, and wife unto the moost excellent prince King Henry the seventh, and eldest daughter and heire of the right famous prince of excellent memory King Edward the fourth." (25 Nov. 1487.) 165—182.

Beginning thus—The Kings highnes for the determinacōn and good accomplishment. This narrative contains a curious account of her procession through the city of London, and of the feast. It ends with a long list of all the Prelates, Lords, Ladies, and Knights that were present.

20. "The charges belonging to them that be made K^{ts} of the Bath, with the charges of y^e officers of the Kings houshold:"* with the exhortation given to each new knight. 182—4.

* Beg. First all the habilimts that shalbe upon him.

21. "The names of those persons that have put in their claimes to doe service at the coronation of our souveraign lord King EDWARD THE SIXTE." 185—196.

"The originall of theis claymes remayneth in the paper chamber at Whitehall in the custody of Sr Thomas Wilson." This is a transcript of copious old abstracts thereof. A narrative of the procession and coronation is in No. 817.

22. Articuli "De coronatione" Regis more debito exequenda. 201—8.

This article begins imperfectly thus—Item crux, patina; and, with the following one, is a copy of all of the second MS. in No. 770, except the outermost pair of leaves.

"Officiarii principales in die coronationis Regis." 208—9.

"Officium Comitis Oxon: magni Camerarij Angliæ. Fait a rem[em]brer que le Count Doacnford qest le graunt Chamberleyn de Roy." 210.

Ending thus—serra tout acomply et finy. These three pieces were "Transcribed out of M^r: Anthony Anthony's booke of Observacōns;" the same MS. as is cited in No. 861, art. 9.

*23. "The cerymonies of the coronacōn of the moost excellent Queene ELYZABETH, the xv. of January A^o. 1558." (1559.) 211—2.

This short narrative by an eye-witness was also "Transcribed from M^r. ANTHONY ANTHONY'S co[l]lect." It begins thus—Item fyrst her grace satt; and ends—and there dyed. See No. 862, art. 54.

24. "De forma et modo Reginae sole* coronande. Dic quo Regina sola coronanda est convenient." 213—5.

* Sic pro solius. In fine—Ordinata processione si commode fieri potest. Probably copied from No. 1119, vi.

25. "Rotuli Clameorum ad coronacionem Regis irr: de anno 3^o JACOBI Regis." 217—242.

After the commission for the Court of Claims, this Coronation-Roll has the following more complete title on the second page:—"Processus coram commissionar: dⁿⁱ Regis ad audiendum et terminandum clamea et servicia in die coronationum dⁿⁱ regis Jacobi et Annæ consortis ejus, xvij die Julij. 1603. vj^{to} die ante coronationem predictam." The claims are (as usually) in French.

26. "The maner and the forme of the coronation of a King and a Queene within Yngland. Fyrst before the Prince that is new to be crowned, the day before his coronation shalbe apparellled." 245—260.

These titles—"The coronation of the Queene," and "The principall Officers in the day of coronation," are at pp. 253 and 256. The last paragraph is—Also he shalbe nygh unto the King awy till the service of coronation be fully ended and fulfilled.

27. "A brief aswell out of the Rites of the Coronation called Liber Regalis, as also other bookes of good record.

"The person that is to annointe and crowne the King, is the lord Archbischopp of Canterbury. The place is the church of Westminster, to which it is by divers charters graunted to bee Locus constitutionis et coronationis regie, et repositorium regalium. The time (if it may well bee) some sonday or holy day. 1603." 261—289.

At the foot of this title-page is the following note by Ashmole:—"I caused the following account of the coronacōn to be transcribed from a faire 4^{to}: MS: bound up in crimson velvet and gilt on the leaves, wch I borrowed out of the King's private closet in Whitehall, October 16. 1660. E. A."

This tract is much more complete than one that was soon after printed on a sheet and a half in quarto, in 1661, intitled

"A collection out of the book intituled Liber Regalis" (etc.) of which there is a copy in No. 677, vii.

Though the usual word of termination in these transcripts, "Exr" is at the end, and a blank page follows, yet the next 5 pages evidently contain a part of this article; namely—

"The consecration of the Queene." 291—5.

28. Indenture between Lancelot Bishop of Chester, and Dr. Richard Neile Dean of Westminster, concerning the delivery of the Regalia; with a list, etc. 297—9.

A fair transcript of the same document as No. 837, xlii., and in the same hand-writing.

29. "The manner of the coronation of the Kings of England." 301—342.

Ashmole has noted on this title page, that it was "Transcribed from the MS: w^{ch} King CHARLES the 2^d: used at the tyme of his coronacōn." On the second page are two passages, "Ex libro Regali," about the day of the ceremony, and the King's prompter or instructor; and on the following page is the prescription for composing the anointing oil, with the form of blessing it: the fourth contains a list of the duties of the Bishops. On the last page is a short version of Veni Creator, (beginning—Come Holy Ghost our souls inspire, 18 lines,) of which the old version, by Sternhold, is inserted in the book, at p. 316—8.

30. "Necessaries to be provided by the Mr: of the Robes for the day of the coronacōn of King CHARLES ye 2^d." 344—5.

"The office of chiefe Chamberlayn of England for the tyme being." 345—6.

"Extraordinary expenses 1660." (4214l. 7s.) 346.

"Coppied from papers in the hands of Mr Rustat yeoman of ye robes, 1662." Other papers about this coronation are in No. 837, xlvi—xlix; and Ashmole's own ceremonial of it in No. 819.

31. Rotulus petitionum et inde processuum pro scriptiis exequendis in coronatione Regis CAROLI II. 347—398.

A valuable transcript of the Coronation-Roll.

32. (1.) "Ordo novum Regem in regno constituendi." 401.

(2.) "Ad benedictionem sive consecrationem Reginae dicitur ab episcopo ad ingressum ecclesie. Oremus." etc. 420.

(3.) Brevis ordo servitorum in coronatione Regis." 423.

(4.) "Coronatio Regis Franciæ." 424.

(5.) "Modus et forma coronationis Reginae." 433.

(6.) Narratio de puero submerso qui resuscitatus fuit ad vitam. 436.

These six articles were copied either from No. 842, v., or from the same original MS. as that valuable transcript: the music is omitted here. See also art. 34, §. 1—3.

33. "The coronation of King RICH: THE THIRD." 437—442.

"Out of a vellome MS: wherein are entred the Sergiant Trumpetts fees from the 1st: of Ed: 4th. penes Gervas: Price Stjant Trumpeter:" p. 39—46. (See No. 856, art. 20, and No. 861, art. 7.) It is a different narrative, though in substance the same, as that published (partly from a roll and partly from the Harleian MS. 2115) in the Excerpta Historica, p. 380—4; London, 1831, 8vo.

All the remaining pages of this volume that were ruled with red lines, (443—544,) are left vacant. The MS. that follows the last of these pages, and is numbered p. 553—572, was formerly laid loose after three fly-leaves; the last of which is now pasted on the cover, and the MS. is therefore inserted between pp. 544—5. It contains the following articles, "Coppied from an old roll w^{ch} the Duke of York d[elivere]d to Sr Ed: Walker 23 Oct: 1660."

34. (1.) "Coronatio Regis. Dic quo novus rex est consecrandus erunt presentes in palacio." 553.

The same as art. 32, §. 1.

(2.) "Ordo novum Regem in regno constituendi." 553.

The same as art. 32, §. 2, except the musical notes and pp. 418—20; the last prayer being the "Secretum. Munera Domine quesumus."

(3.) "Ad benedictionem sive consecrationem Reginae dicitur ab episcopo ad ingressum ecclesie. Omnipotens" etc. 567—9.

This was written "In dorso rotuli:" it is the same as art. 32, §. 3.

(4.) Brevis narratio de servitiis a quibusdam proceribus factis "In coronatione Regis EDWARDI [SECUNDI] filii regis Edwardi." 570.

"M' 3. in dorso." The last words of this half-page are—set ealeem Comes Cornubie.

No. 864.

88.] Ricardi Cov. Ep. scriptum "De augmentand. comuniam Lich. et fructibus prebende annalibus post mortem canonici sub modo communie applicandis." (s. a.) 70.

Six only of these charters are contained in the unfinished transcript of the White Book of Lichfield, in No. 827. See art. 28 below.

13. Tres chartæ "Ex Libro Albo" Lichefeldensi excerptæ. 71—2.

Two of these are the same as are described in the foregoing article, from ff 92^b and 195^b. The third is inscribed "Carta pro lampade" (from f. 25^b), being the grant of a house in Culstubbestrete, by Stephen de Chesterfelde, without date. (p. 73: see also p. 284.) These are written on a separate sheet, which contains also the two following articles.

14. Ashmole's description of an ancient sepulture discovered under the western arch of the great steeple of Lichfield cathedral, in 1668. 73.

15. "A catalogue of the Sub-Chanters of the cathedrall church of Lichfeld," from 1330 to 1640. 74^b.

16. Chartæ aliæ quædam "Ex Libro Albo excerptæ:" scilicet—

Fol. 204^a.] "Carta Henrici Ducis [Norm. et Aquit. et Com.

- And.] de cuneo monete Lich." Waltero Ep. concessio, post R. Steph. (s. a.) 75.
 Fol. 204^a.] "Carta Regis Stephani de cuneo monete Lich." eidem Episcopo. (s. a.) 75.
 — "Carta Regis Ricardi [L.] de cuneo monete ecclesie Lich." (12 Nov. anno r.) 75.
 — "Carta Regis pro foro" (etc. ut p. 68.) 76.
 203^b] "Carta unius cerei sex denariorum ecclesie Lich." concessa per Petrum de Brewood. (s. a.) 76.
 204^a.] Eiusdem "Carta unius cerei duorum den. luminari capell: sancte Mariæ Lich." (s. a.) 77.
 232^b] "Carta quarere apud Hoppele pro fabrica ecclesie Lich." concessa per Margaretam de Coleshull. (s. a.) 77.
 — "Carta pro sabulo fodendo et abducendo ad fabricam ecclesie Lich." per Tho. de Luceby concessa. (s. a.) 78.

These are on an other separate sheet.

17. Excerpta e Registro actorum in Capitulo Lichfeldensi. 83—98.

The original MS. from which these extracts were made, is No. 794, i.; to the leaves of which constant references are made. The chief article here, is an inquisition "De Cantarijs in ecclesia cath. Lich." made in 1335, from f. 48 of the register.

18. Notulæ e diversis rotulis publicis, de episcopis, ecclesia, et clero Lichfeldiæ. 100—2.

19. Collectanea e diversis rotulis librisque antiquis, de Lichfeld etc. 103—111.

The most remarkable contents are—an inquest on the advowson of the church of Bankwell (4 Edw. IV.); and the monumental inscriptions of Will. Smith Bishop of Cov. and Lichf. (ob. 2 Jan. 1553 at Lincoln, "Out of Mr. Dugdale's collection of Monumental Inscriptiōns." As the inscription does not appear among those contained in Dugdale's MS. F. 1, the "collection" referred to must have been in a volume that never reached this Museum.

20. Titulus de "Terra Ep'i de Cestre" in comitatu Salopiensi, "Ex libro MS: vocato Domesday." 112—3.

A careful transcript, partly in fac-simile.

21. REGISTRUM omnium Chartarum ac aliarum evidentiarium super "Cantaria Sancti Blasij" in ecclesia cathedrali Lichfeldensi, per magistrum THOMAM HEYWOOD olim Decanum fundata. 135—246.

The documents contained in this register are long, and the titles (though not very numerous) are too prolix to be given here. The following are the first and the last of them:

"Transumptum [pro M. Tho. Heywood, per Joh. Fox, officialem consistorii episcopalis Lich.] super subsequentibus literis concernentibus solutionem ix. marcarum per Abbatem et conventum de Hales-Owen pro cantaria sancti Blasij in ecclesia cath: Lich: et alijs usibus ut sequitur." (9 Feb. 1467, indict. 1.) 135—151.

"Donata [?] et collata terrarum pratorum pascharum et possessionum ac pensione[s] summarum pecuniarum per venerabilem virum magistrum Thomam Heywode, Decanum ecclesie cath: Lich: Succentori et cetui Vicariorum predict: ecclesie ut sequitur." 239—246.

This curious list contains also an account of the ornaments which he bestowed on the Vicars Choral for the use of his chantry.

22. The following note:—

"About 2 or 3 years before the Long Parliamt: began, an eagle peicht upon the top of St: Marys steeple in Lichfeld, and one Shorthose shot at her and kild her." 254.

*23. Terrarium Vicariorum (?) Lichfeldensis Ecclesie: seu Registrum terrarum ac tenementorum, cum descriptionibus, et donatorum nominibus, (quorum etiam chartæ quædam locis propriis inseruntur,) in tribus libris. 255—306, 309—339. 341—74.

The titles of the lands are distinctly written; and the first book seems to contain the lands and tenements within Lichfield, and the two others those lying out of the town. The first titles are:—

- "Gaya lane," 255.
 "Iacone strete," 257.
 "Cardones lane," 267.
 "Pipe lane," 268.
 "Brygge strete," 269.
 "Wroo lane," 277.
 "Sandeforde streete," 277.
 "Ultra aquam," 280.
 "Culstubbe streete, 283, etc.

This curious Survey was transcribed by Ashmole between "26 Aug: 1658, 8^h a: m:" and 1 Sept. following.

24. "Rentale Vicariorum ecclesie cath: Lich: tempore Edmundi Worsley ballivi et collectoris reddituum eorundem, per Ba. et Byg. a festo sancti Michaelis archangeli anno Domini Millesimo CCCC. nonogessimo septimo, usque ad idem festum anno revoluto." 377—406.

The lands are arranged under almost the same titles as in the foregoing Survey.

25. Decree of the Court of Augmentations of the Crown's Revenues, relative to the houses, lands, and tenements of the Vicars Choral of Lichfield. (7 July, 3 Edw. VI.) 407—8.

From an authentic copy signed "per Boulton." See artt. 29, 30.

26. Notes of documents relating to the "Vicars landes." 409.

By Ashmole on a small paper here inserted. The following article is on two sheets of differently sized paper inserted.

27. "These folowing figures were copied from out of an old Saxon MS: of the Gospels, said to be St Chaddes booke" (411):—

- Frontispiece representing S. Mark. 414.
 S. Luke. 415.
 Symbols of the four gossellers. 417.

They are drawn partly with pencil and partly with ink.

28. Calendarium seu Index documentorum quæ in tribus antiquis Registris Ecclesie Cath. Lichfeldensis comprehensa sunt, per R. PEVERELL olim confectum. Scilicet—

(i.) "Tabula Magni Regestri albo coopert." (ff. 298.) 419—443.

This is the Liber Albus, great part of which is transcribed in No. 827, and many other documents are in artt. 12, 13, 16 of this MS. It appears that the first 25 leaves contained "Diversa chronica et gesta Angliæ [et] Romæ."

(ii.) "Registrum Parvi Regestri." (ff. 43.) 444—5.
 "Nunc dicitur Liber cum tagges." (Marginal note.)

(iii.) "Registrum Tertij Regestri." 446—451.

In fine:—"Est liber hic scriptus, et scriptor sit benedictus. Amen: R: Peverell."

29. Special commission of King Edward VI. directing Sir George Blunt, Edward Leveson, William Uvedale, Richard Forssett, Robert Harecote and Hugh Lee, to make a new survey of colleges, chantries, and guilds in Staffordshire, and the lands thereto belonging, for the discovery of such as were omitted by former commissioners. (15 Mar. anno 3.) 466.

The next article is the return thereupon.

30. "The Certificat of Edward Leveson esquier, Richard Forssett and Hughe Lee gent. made in the quindesme of the holy trinity," 3 Edw. VI. [etc.]—into the Court—of Thaugmentacōns and Revenues of his graces crowne by vertu of a comysson of y^e s^d: Court" (etc.) comprehending the lands of the Vicars Choral of Lichfield. 467—471.

The signatures are copied in facsimile. This document contains a list of all the persons whose obits were celebrated by the said Vicars.

No. 865.

VOL. XI.—Various Historical Transcripts, collected by ASHMOLÉ.

1. A numerous collection of Treaties and other Letters Patent of EDWARD III. relating to affairs martial and political in France, also of JOHN King of France on the same matters; letters between the English and Spanish governments, relating to Guienne; and an indenture of truce with Scotland, made at Berwick in 1357;—translated into English. pp. 1—124, 135—193—206; 207—218.

2. A treatise of "The forme and manner of [the] keepinge or holdeing of the Parliament of England;" in 25 chapters. 221—239.

A translation of the antient tract called 'Modus tenendi Parliamentum;' transcribed "Ex amplo codice MS: penes Joh'em Maynard servient' ad legem. May 1660." (ff. 11—16.) The first words are—How that the Parliament of King Edward: the last—Wheresoever it will please the King. Thus endeth the manner and forme of the Parleament."

3. "Concerning the Earle Marshall:" his fees at the coronation, etc. 240—4.

Beg. The Erle Marshall ought to have the King's horse: ending—and convenautes of all tymes. (From "fol. 22" of the same MS.)

4. "A new reformation made for the Knight Marshall, made by the right noble and virtuous prince King Henry the eight, defender of the faith and lord of Ireland etc. as henceforth followeth. It is provided." etc. 245.

Ibid. "fol. 24. h."

5. "The Marshall's office in the tyme of warre. Also it is right that the Constable and Marshall." 246—9.

Ibid. "fol. 25."

6. "The office of the Marshallys Clerke:)* and "The office of the Marshall of y^e Hall." 249.

* Only one line follows this title, viz. The Marshallis clerke must buy hay littur and shoyng. It seems to belong to the foregoing article, which nevertheless is subscribed Err.

7. "Estatutes and Ordinaeces for Warre. Thes ben the Statutes ordayned and made by—King Richard and John Duke of Lancastre" etc. at Durham, 17 June, 9 Rich. II. 251—5.

Ibid. "fol. 27." It is a translation of the French contained in No. 856, art. 3, §. 4; which see, also No. 1105, art. 3. The following article belongs to it.

8. "These ben the ordaunances of the iij battailis and the too winges of the Kinges Battaill at the first viage into Scotland, the ixth. yeare of his raigne." 252—4.

Ibid. "fol. 29. b." Printed in the Archæologia, XXII. num. ii. (p. 16—9), from this MS. and has been printed in the same work, vol. XXI. num. xxx. p. 493—98, from this MS. and others in the British Museum. Compare the French copy in No. 1105, art. 2.

9. A short narrative of the expedition into Scotland, made—In the xxiiij. yeare of the raigne of King Edward the third.* 254—7.

* These are the first words. It was transcribed from "fol. 30. b." of the same MS., and has been printed in the same work, vol. XXI. num. xxx. p. 493—98, from this MS. and others in the British Museum. Compare the French copy in No. 1105, art. 2.

- *10. A treatise of "The wageing of Bataill betweene two partyes. First. The quarrell and bills of the appelland and defendand must be pleaded in the court." 258—76.

From "fol. 32" of the same MS. The last words are—The fee of the Constable is the lystes, the barris, and stagis belonging to the same. Thus endeth the wageing of bataill before the King."

11. "Chronicon Lichfeldensis Ecclesiæ," quod e vetustis monumentis ac libris congegissit GUIL. WHITLOCK. 277—347.

Noted by Ashmole as having been transcribed "Ex MS: in Bibliotheca Arundeliana." That MS. is now No. 770, i. in this collection.

12. "Incipit quedam brevis relatio de Willelmo nobilissimo Comite Normannorum, quis fuit, et unde originem duxit, et quis erat. sibi armis adquisivit. Pater hujus Willelmi fuit Rodbertus." 355—70.

The paragraphs of this historical tract are marked with a whole alphabet, A—Z, and then with numbers 1—XI.

13. "In calce hujus libri adjicitur catalogus, de ijs qui suppeditaverunt naves ad iter Willielmi Comitis in Angliam. Willelmus Dux." 370.

This is the document on which, under the title De Navibus, Dr. Adam Clarke has written a dissertation annexed to his General Introduction to the Fœdera, in the Reports of the Commissioners on Public Records, 1819; a copy is there printed, I. 488—9.

14. Fœdus inter Lodovicum VII. Galliæ et Henricum II. Angliæ reges, "quod simul ibimus in servicium Christianitatis, et crucem suscipiemus causa Jerusalem." 371—2.

"Ex eodem libro in differenti caractere, de pacto inter Reges Franciæ et Angliæ exhibetur." This note is at the beginning, the following at the end:—"Finis totius libri quem dedi Bibliothecæ Bodeleianæ in celeberrima Academia Oxon: Octob. 17.

1658." The MS. was placed in Hyperoo Bodeiano, 166, and is described in the general Catalogue, No. 3632. This document is printed in Rymer's Fœdera, l. 50—1, and in the new edition, l. 35, from a copy in Brompton's chronicle.

15. Drawings of the costume and insignia of the Knights of the Passion of Jesus Christ. 377—387.

Drawn with pen and ink, by Ashmole, on alternate pages, from the original MS., No. 813.

16. "La sustance [et statutes] de la Chevalerie de la passion de Jh'u Crist, en Francois." 389—465.

A fair and complete transcript of all the text of the same MS. (No. 813); written by Edward Philipps: compare No. 826, f. 200.

17. Short account of Sforza, son of John Attendolo, (born 10 June 1369) from "Mr: MORRIS his lyfe of Sr: John Hawkwood, pag: 108." 467.

An extract by Ashmole, from No. 823.

18. 'Orders and directions' of TOBIAS RUSTATT, concerning the use and bestowment of an annuity in lands to be purchased, by the President and scholars of S. John's College, Oxford, with a thousand pounds given by him to the said College. (14 Dec. 1665.) 468—70.

19. Acknowledgement of the receipt of the said money and obligations, by the said President and scholars. (16 Dec. 1665.) 471.

20. TOBIAS RUSTATT's deed of gift of a thousand pounds to the University of Cambridge, for buying books for the public Library of that University, with a perpetual annuity arising from lands to be bought therewith. (1 Jan. 1666.) 472—4.

21. Acknowledgement of the same, by the Chancellor, Masters, and Scholars of the said University. (3 Jan. 1666.) 475.

With a drawing of their seal.

22. Procancellarii reliquique Senatus Academiae Cantabrigiensis, ad Tobiam Rustatt arm. epistola, gratias agens pro tanto beneficio. (6. non. Julij 1666.) 476.

With a beautiful drawing of the signet.

23. Alia ad eundem, gratulatoria, magnam spem de 'Bibliotheca Rustattiana' gerens. (7 cal. Jan. 1667.) 477.

These six articles were neatly copied by Ashmole, from the originals in the possession of the benefactor. See also No. 863, art. 30; and No. 1137, art. 56. In Peck's Desiderata Curiosa, lib. xiv. num. ix. (ed. 1779, 4to. pp. 553—4) is an account of his various benefactions, amounting to 11695*l.* 4*s.*

At the end of this volume are 34 blank leaves.

* * * At the end of this volume are the following articles relating to one of the Norman Islands.

- (1.) “The Patent which was for the assizes held in the castle of Jersie.” 611—22.

Beginning thus—“Peter de Bresse, Earle of Maulevrier, Lord of Briehessac, and the isles of Jersey, Guernsey, Aurenye, and other islands about these, Councillor and Chamberlayne of the King of France our soveraigne lord.” It is dated 3 Nov. 1462. This fair copy was begun by Ashmole, (and completed by another hand,) who has noted that it was “Transcribed from a MS. in the hands of Sr: George Carteret his Maties: Vicechamberlayne.”

- *(2.) Ordinances of Hen. VII., by letters under the privy seal, for the settlement of the government and privileges of Jersey, in consequence of complaints against Mathew Baker, esq. Governor of the island. (3 Nov. 1494.) 623—7.

From the same MS.

- (3.) “Some of the Governors of Jersey” } 628.
Bailiffs }

“Collected from out of a litle MS: in English found among Sr: Thomas Aylesburies bookes, and given by ye Lord Chancellor Hyde to Sr: Edw: Carteret Vicechamberleyn to King Ch: the 2d.” Many blank leaves follow.

It should be observed, that the contents of this volume seem not to have been collected by Ashmole himself, but to have been transcribed from collections probably among the MSS. of Lord Hatton, as the reference under the head of ‘Garnsey’ affords reason to conjecture.

No. 970.

A small 8vo. volume covered with a single piece of parchment, containing 90 leaves of paper and 1 of vellum, fairly written in a mingled Roman and Gothic hand of the end of the XVth or beginning of the XVIth century, with much rubric interspersed. It seems to have been a School-book of Grammar. The title of the first part is thus written on the second page—

1. “In Grecismo iste sunt figure principales. Isto ordine. 1^a. Methaplasmus. 2^a. Scema. 3^a. Tropus. 4^a. Siloeismus et barbarismus. simul. 5^a. Scema verborum rethoricorum.” 1^b, 2—10.

“Finis figurarum secundum grecismum.” 10^a.

2. “Tabula figurarum Grecismi” alphabetica: inc. Auferisis. 10^b—12.

3. “Figure Doctrinalis principales sunt eedem que in grecismo, scilicet Methaplasmus Scema &c’ sed figure speciales (quas non habet grecismus) contente in doctrinali: et ille quibus doctrinale differt a grecismo: sunt he. Barbaralexis” etc. 12^b—17.

4. Tractatus Prosodiacus, de quantitate syllabarum: inc. Carmen a nonnullis metrum ab alijs versus appellatur vel numerus. 19—68.

In fine—“Sic eciam et Panthus. thi pro Panthous. thoi. Finis.”

5. De generibus pedum metricorum: inc. “Pedes dissilabi. Spondeus constat ex duabus longis ut Cantant.” 68^b—9^a.

6. Tractatus de natura et generibus metrorum ecclesiasticorum, cum regulis pro ‘dictamine’ seu confectioe versuum: inc. Qui noticiam artis metricæ hymnarij scire desiderant. 70—83^b.

In fine—verbi gratia. Surrexit non est hic.

7. Versus xxix. de generibus pedum: inc. Spondeum faciet dissilaba dictio longa. 84^{ab}.

Thus far the text of the MS. On the vacant leaves that follow (beside three that have been cut out between ff. 90—1.) are written by hands almost contemporary—

Idle verses and other notes. 85^a, 91^a.

Concerning Adam and Jesus Christ. Adam that ys owcr father be kynde etc. 85^b—6^b.

A school-boy’s (nameless) letter. 87^a.

The following is by a hand of the time of James I.

Names of 40 persons, perhaps boys. 88^a.

On f. 90^b is neatly written—“Hic liber est Franciscus Webbus.”

No. 971, 972.

Two quarto volumes, containing 328 leaves of paper, interleaving more than 486 printed pages; of which 170 leaves and 256 pages are in the first volume.

ASHMOLE’S MSS. Notes on his Theatrum Chemicum Britannicum (London, 1652.), Collations of some of the pieces of English Poetry contained therein, and Additions to sundry parts of the work.

The principal MS. contents are here described.

9. "A third Letter from Mr: PASCAL to Mr Aubrey, the two former being entred after pag: 476." ("Ch: July 19. 1681.") 190^b, 191^{ab}.
The first and second letters are artt. 27—28; see also art. 29. The originals are among Aubrey's MSS. in this Library, No. 12, which volume contains many letters of this writer, dated from Chedsey in Somersetshire.
10. "A copy of what Mr: Pascal inclose[d] in ye fors^d Letter:" namely—"THOMAS CHARNOCK his pose, Upon the white and red rose," and other scraps of alchemical poetry. 191^b—3^a.
11. "The following account [of the chief events in Charnock's life and history,] was added, being collected by Mr PASCAL out of the s^d Roll, the Register [of Stokland], and Theat: Chemicum." (1526—1587.) 193^{ab}.
12. "This is a draught of what was painted in the hitle dore of Mr Charnocks Athanor roome." 194^{ab}.
The emblems described in the next article.
13. Farther account of Charnock, "Excerpted out of another l're sent from Mr PASCAL to Mr: Aubrey, dated 18 July 1684." 195—6.
14. "Aquila et Serpens. Accede ad montem." (4 vv.) pag. 343.
Written below the initials 'W. B.' which are explained by Ashmole as those of "W. Backhouse," who also was the 'acquaintance' mentioned at p. 458.
15. Eight additional couplets to be inserted in
- "The Dialogue betwixt the Father and the Sonne." (p. 365.) 237^b.
16. Verses "Written at the bottome of RIPLEY'S Scrowle, betweene the King and the Pilgrim. In the name of the Trentie." (33 lines.) 246^{ab}.
"At the end of the scrowle—Thomas Mundy wrought this scrowle Maye 10th. Anno 1578." It was, in Ashmole's time, "Penes Tho. Henshaw ar."
17. Two stanzas (of 7) seemingly from "DAVID RAMSEY:" beginning—Whosoever will make the Philors stone. 272^a.
18. "Other Fragments w^{ch} I mett wth since the publishing [of] this worke*, and copped by CHARNOCK's owne hand." (4 and 3 couplets.) 275^b.
* Pp. 424—6.
19. Additions to the account of Norton in Ashmole's Notes; about Samuell Norton, and Sir Sampson Norton's monument. (p. 438.) 286^a.
20. Notes (on p. 442) about Sir John Delves, with a copy of his monumental inscription, 1471, at Webbenbury in Cheshire. 288^a.
21. "Sepultura Georgii Ripley:" (1490) drawing of his tomb at Bridlington, bearing alchemical emblems; from the Cottonian MS. Vitell. E. X. (p. 459.) 300^b.
22. About projections made at the Hague in 1666, and by Wincelaus Seilerus. 302^b.
23. One stanza of 7 lines, beg. "Anonimus. Also this lesson Son I thee lere." 304^b.
24. Three coats of arms, containing a chevron im-battled, (see p. 466); namely, Tho. Whitlok 1509, Ashlyme, and Price of Heref. 305^a.
25. A fragment of CHARNOCK's, relating to the year when he learned alchemy. (see p. 475.) 310^b.
26. Story about a glass full of tincture found in pulling down some of the wall of Bath Abbey; related by Mr. Rich. Wakeman, 1651. (see p. 475—6.) 311^a.

* 7 June 1624. Out of No. 413, f. 214^b; in the description of which MS. this passage ought to have been noticed.

34. A note about a MS. written by Sir Robert Greene* in 1530—4. f. 320^a.

* Mentioned at p. 309 of the Theatrum. That MS. is now No. 1467.

35. Additional corrections of errata. 326.

36. Epistiuacula de Nich. von Viccen equite Livono, et alio nobili Germano, qui Ashmolium videre cupiebant. 327^a.

Written in a foreign hand, and dated by Ashmole "18 Oct. 70." The writer's signature has been torn away, while this paper lay loose; (this and some others having been but lately fixed in the book;) and no notice of the matter can be found in Ashmole's Diary.

No. 1007.

A quarto volume containing a well interleaved copy of—

Museum Tradescantianum, (Lond. 1656, 8vo.); with some few MS. notes by ELIAS ASHMOLE.

It appears from this copy that Tradescant's "two worthy friends" were "Dr. Wharton and Elias Ashmole esq." The death of the former (mentioned in the preface) happened 15 Nov. 1673; see Ashmole's Diary, p. 49. An engraving of Tradescant's arms is prefixed to this copy, which is not in the other, No. 1574. The original MS. of the verses in this book, is No. 826, art. 19.

No. 1021.

Prefixed unto the ninth tract in this volume, is a leaf of paper, on which (as a frontispiece) is fairly written—

"Anagrammaticum Acrostic[h]on in obitum serenissimi potentissimique monarchæ Caroli II. nomen Carolus Rex, αναγγελμ. Cesar Luxor." (vv. 10.) "Anno 1685, authore T. RAMSÆO."

Some particulars about the writer may be found at No. 1136, artt. 16—18.

No. 1089.

A thin folio volume, bound in vellum stamped with gold, and consisting of 46 leaves of fair paper.

Thirty-nine drawings of prophetic Emblems of European politics. f. 6—44.

They are circular, and are well drawn with Indian ink on the upper part of every alternate page. Some of them have short notes by Ashmole, who at the end has noted that—"Tis said these Hieroglyphicks were found at the demolishing [of] the Abbey of St Edmunds Bury." (44^b.) This book, however, is a copy, thus mentioned in one of Lilly's MSS.:—"And further to confirm what hath been yet delivered, I have seen many years since the transcript of an old book of Pictures and Heiroglyphicks representing the future state of England, wch book was copied from an original in the beginning of Queen Elizabeth, hear at London, by an heralld painter, and remained with a learned esq' and his father in Cumberland ever since, untill about twelve yeares since it was given mee, and now is in the custody of Elias Ashmole esq' that most ingenious lover of antiquity, and no less judicious in every kind of rare learning." (No. 1501, iv. p. 9.)

No. 1095.

In a folio volume, printed in the black letter, are—

Marginal Notes on the works of Geoffrey Chaucer, written by ASHMOLE* in Thomas Godfray's edition, London, 1532.

His autograph on the half-title of "The Cannterbury Tales," is dated 27 Oct. 1642. The leaves and papers that are inserted are now numbered with pencil: five are at the beginning.

Copy of the title-page of the edition printed by George Byshop in 1598. f. 1^a.

Note on And Palmers to seeken strange stronds. 6^b.

— And have a mantill royallyche ybore. 7^b.

— For he was grounded in Astronomic. ib.

— In howers by his Magick naturell. ib.

"Here beginneth the Cokes Tale. Lithen and Iest-nith and herkeneth aright." 8—21^b.

This is a fair transcript of the spurious tale, inserted between ff. xx. and xxi. Another, also by Ashmole, is in No. 45, art. 4.

Note on He eloped it Valerie and Theophrast. 24^a.

— Wariangles, or the butcher-birds. 25^a.

— A Goddes kitchell. 26^a.

Insertion of 4 stanzas omitted in this edition, after The country of Fairy. (f. lxxxiv^c.) 27^a.

Note on The Lordes son of Windsore. 28^a.

"The Lenvoy of Fortune" and "Lenvoy by Chaucer." 29^a.

Copied from No. 59, f. 38.

MS. supplement for the last leaf (f. ccc.lxxxiii.) which had been lost. 30—1.

The passages here mentioned will be easily remembered by critical readers of Chaucer, or may be found by Tyrwhitt's glossary. Ff. 31^b—42 are blank; as are also ff. 22—3, which are inserted after f. xxxii.

No. 1097—1135.

Collections for the History of the Origin and Laws of the most noble Order of the Garter, and the Lives of its illustrious Founder and Companions, by ELIAS ASHMOLÉ esq. Windsor Herald, and Historiographer of the Order; in Thirty-nine Volumes.

To each of these volumes was prefixed a fine Portrait of the Author, but most of them have been cut out, and they now remain only in Volumes IV. XVIII. XXV—XXIX. XXXI. XXXV—XXXVIII. In some of them, the plate seems to have been printed on the last page of the blank leaves prefixed to the MS. Ashmole has observed in his Diary (No. 1136.) that he first went to the Tower to make these Collections, 7 May 1658, and that he composed good part of his work in the winter of 1666.

They are bound alike in brown rough calf, with clasps, lettered with the number of each volume of the series, on the back, with Roman numerals, and bearing Ashmole's arms stamped in gold on the covers.

No. 1097.

VOLUME I. containing 10 unnumbered and 138 numbered leaves, very many of which (at intervals) are vacant.

Index Cognominum omnium eorum qui memorantur in sex* libris proxime sequentibus, seu voluminibus II. III. IV. V. VI. VII. horum Collectionum. ff. 2—115.

* Not seven, for volume VIII. is not included in this Index of Names. This Index is fairly written in columns, by the hand of the same amanuensis who wrote most of the Parliamentary Papers in No. 807. There is but one alphabet, yet each volume is separately indexed, in strict alphabetical order, under each letter.

There is an Index of all the Treaties contained in these same volumes, written by Ashmole, in Vol. XIX. No. 1115, f. 195—8b.

The following may serve as an Index to the various Records from which the contents of volumes II—VIII. have been copied.

- Rotuli Alemanniæ, vol. iii. p. 118—142; viii. 223—246.
- Rotulus Calisiæ (21 Edw. III.), ii. 154—163.
- Rotuli Chartarum, iii. 26—60.
- Rotuli Clausarum, ii. 285; iv. 89—92 (20 Edw. II.), 101, 312, passim; v. vi. vii. viii. passim.
- Extractæ Donationum, ii. 166—191, 197—209.
- Rotuli Finium, iv. 98—101, 120.
- Rotuli Franciæ, ii. 1—73, 81—151; iii. 115, 185—324; iv. 135—6 (12 Edw. II.); viii. 281—384.
- Rotuli Liberationum, ii. 191—215.

—Edw. III. 127^b—147, 150—2^b.

—Henr. VI. 148—150.

The first 3½ pages are by Ashmole's hand; also f. 149 (formerly a loose paper) which contains a document relating to W. Bruges, Garter, to whom the other three patents of the reign of Henry VI. also relate. Many of these documents relate to the Heralds, and to the Canons and Poor Knights of Windsor, as well as to the Knights of the Garter.

8. Abstracts and extracts from the Patent, Close, and Foreign Rolls, relating to various historic personages and matters, in the time of Richard II. and Edward III. 154^{ab}, 155—161^b.

Farther notes from the same records, of the time of Richard II. 163—5.

9. Miscellanea e Rotulis publicis, aliisque vetustis membranis et libris; seu ex inde collectancis selecta curiosa. 167—210^b.

This part of the volume is of the same kind and appearance as No. 860. The chief contents are the following.

"Ex codice MS: Collectaneorum Roberti Gloveri, scil: Miscellaniorum Lib: 1." 167.

10. "Allegations of King Ed: the 3^d for his right and title to the Crowne of France descended to him by his mother the heir generall of France."

211^a,

These five arguments were copied by Ashmole (as also in No. 1111, f. 24^b) from a "MS: penes Wm Dugdale mil' Gart' fo: 4. b." which is not among those preserved in this Library.

No. 1106.

VOLUME X. contains (beside some papers inserted) 670 pages, of which the last 144 (except 3 only) and others at intervals are blank; also 6 leaves at the beginning, on the second of which is written a list of the contents, from which that following this title is chiefly taken.

ASHMOLE'S Historical Collections from records, chronicles, and other authentic evidences, illustrative of the Lives and Actions of the Sovereign and Companions, first Founders of the most noble Order of the Garter: namely—

Edwardus Tertius, Rex Angliæ	p. 1—50

Jacobus Audeley miles	469—80
*Walterus de Paveley miles	481—97
*Hugo Courtney miles	505—26

Most of the matter of this volume seems to be selected and arranged from the foregoing volumes; and it is the basis of that part of the last chapter of Ashmole's great work which relates to these distinguished noblemen. Toward the end is an extract from "JOHANNIS GIBBON Introductio ad Latium Blasoniam," thus headed—

"Fundatores Ordinis Periscelidis (vulgo Garterij) eodem ordine quo Camdenus eos exhibuit, et eorum Symbola" seu insignia, descripta. p. 600—602.

Between the two last leaves is inserted a sheet hastily written by Ashmole, containing—

An appendix of miscellaneous collections relating to the Founders of the Order of the Garter; with the names and arms of the first eight Kings of arms named Garter.

No. 1107.

VOLUME XI. contains 322 pages written by ASHMOLE (except some that are blank) beside 6 blank leaves at the beginning and 98 at the end.

- Miscellanea de primariis Militibus de Ordine S. Georgii, seu e rotulis publicis etc. collectanea breviora. pp. 1—115.

These collections seem to have been extracted from GLOVER'S Miscellanea. Four blank leaves (unnumbered) follow.

- Transcripta et excerpta varia de eisdem Militibus primariis, e rotulis, placitis, inquisitionibus, registris, etc. pp. 117—158, 163—181, 195—7.
- Genealogiæ quorundam primariorum Militum ejusdem Ordinis, cum notis historicis et criticis: scilicet—

- Baronum de Stafford, a Rogero de Tonein usque ad Edw. Ducem Buck. 13 Hen. VIII. "Ex collectionibus Guili' Dugdale." 207.
- Montacutorum*, Nevillorum, et Browniorum, ad Antonium Browne Vic. Montis-acuti, 1593. "B. $\frac{3}{33}$." Collect. per Tho. Talbot." 209.
- Hollandiorum*, a Rob. Com. de Millent et de Leic. ad Edw. IV. Hen. VII. et Hen. et Geo. Comites Hunt "C. $\frac{2}{2}$." 211.
- Audeleiorum*, ab Hen. Audithley, ad Geo. Dominum Audley. 1580. "C. $\frac{3}{24}$." 213.
- Insulanorum*, a Ric. de Curceio ad Edm. de Insula. "E. $\frac{2}{102}$." 215.

§ Within a sheet containing supplemental notes relating to this person, (p. 416^{bc}), is a Letter from MICH. WRIGHTSON, requesting Ashmole to solve some genealogical questions about the Burghershes and Ferrers of Chartley, (416^d); on the back of which Ashmole has written notes from the will of Tho. son of Sir W. Lower, of S. Wynow in Cornwall, 416^e. Between pp. 418—9, is a sheet, on the inner pages of which are written (by Wrightson's hand) pedigrees of Ferrers (ending in Grey), Burghersh (to Nevil), Fournival (to Gray), and Cropshull (to Devereux). 418^{cd}.

(6.) Mohunorum a tempore conq. ad an. 1634: "Ex collectionibus W. Dugdale." 217.

Each of these pedigrees occupies the whole side of a large folding leaf. The following pedigrees occur about the end of the next article: the first is a large folding leaf written on both sides; the eighth and tenth are on pages of the book; the ninth is on a smaller leaf inserted, and the last is written vertically on one side of a sheet inserted.

(7.) Courtneiorum, a rege Lodovico VI. (1131) ad Edw. Con. Devon. tempore R. Mariae. 307—8.

(8.) Daubridgocourt, ab Eust. Dampredicourt ad Thomam D. de Langdon-hall in com. Warw. et filias ejus. 310.

"Out of a booke of armes &c. formerly belonging to Sr Henry St George Norroy King of Armes, & now in Bibl' Hattoniana." See art. 5.

(9.) Pedigree of Bray, from Sir Rob. B. to the daughters of John Lord Bray. 313.

"Out of Mr. Burton of Lindley his colleccōns."

(10.) Greiorum, a Joh. de G. (qui ob. anno 2 R. Joh.) ad Joh. de la Zouch 1584. 317.

"Out of a booke of Mr: Glovers colleccōns intituled Armes and Pedigrees of ye North." viz. No. 834, v. f. 30^b—2.

(11.) Pavelciorum, a Waltero de P. ad Chidiok, de Sancto Mauro, Stawell, Bamfeld et Cheyne. 320—1.

"Coppied out of a hooke of Mr: Morgans."

4. Genealogiæ pertinentes ad antiquissimos ejusdem ordinis Milites, e rotulis, inquisitionibus et registris primitus collectæ per ROB. GLOVERUM et HENRICUM FERRERS. 219—309.

These are pedigrees of various length, and single descents, with references to the records and evidences; gleaned chiefly from the genealogical collections of those two antiquaries, whose names are cited in several places.

5. "Inscriptiōns* upon plates of brass fixed on marble gravestones, lying in the south isle of the chancell in Stratfield-Say church; w^{ch} I coppied out 14 July 1665." 311.

* Relating to the family of Daubridgocourt, (dated 1400, 1466, and 1485), written on the page opposite to their pedigree. Ashmole observes—"For the rest of the inscrip^s: of this family see my booke of Monumentall Inscriptiōns." No. 850.

No. 1108.

VOLUME XII. containeth several quires of paper (chiefly written by ASHMOLE) to the amount of 186 leaves, also 8 blank leaves at the beginning and 18 at the end.

(4.) Yearly lists and notes of the Acts of the Order, from 1611 to 1630; with ASHMOLE's notes thereon. 168^b—179.

Subscribed by him "Thus far out of Mr Fauconbridges booke." The years 1614 and 1615 are vacant. (170^b—1.)

(5.) Acts of the Order in the celebration of "St Georges feast kept at Windsor the 4, 5 and 6 of Octob. 1631;" also 22—4 Apr. 1632, and 18—20 Apr. 1642 for 1641. f. 179^b—80^b.

Copied by Ashmole "Out of a litle MS: belonging to Sr: Hen: St: George, penes Silvanū Morgan: 24 Feb: 166^½."

(6.) Narrative of the ceremonies and acts of the Order, 13 Dec. 1625, at Windsor. 181—4^b.

The two pages 182^b—3 were inadvertently left vacant.

(7.) "The order of the stalls A^o. 1636," also in 1639 and 1640. f. 185^{ab}.

Copied by Ashmole "Ex autogr: penes Ed: Walker mil: Garter."

This MS. (ff. 163—186) is fairly written on smaller paper than the rest, by an old hand, except §. 2, 5, 7, written by Ashmole: the last leaf is vacant.

Between the title-leaf and the first page of art. 2 of this volume, are inserted (evidently by the binder's mistake) 8 leaves written by a hand of the time of James or Charles I., containing a foul corrected draught, or notes, of—

8. The constitution of the Order of the Garter, and the form of its ceremonies. 50—1, 52^a, 53^a, 54—7^b.

On f. 51^b are written several moral sentences or mottoes, in Latin, by a different old hand.

No. 1109.

VOLUME XIII. contains quires of paper to the number of 272 leaves, nearly all written by ASHMOLE, beside 8 blank leaves at the beginning, and 16 at the end. Prefixed is this general title (which belongs only to part of the volume)—

¶ "Divers Collections* made from out of M^t: JOHN VINCENTS papers. June 1. 1660." f. 1^a.

* Articles 1—75, with few exceptions.
